Mrs. Bishop Walden was introduced by President Hooper and took charge of the dedicatory exercises. A son of the late Dr. McDonald, now a teacher in the University, led the music. Rev. Dr. Haygood, of Oxford Georgia, agent of the Slater Fund, delivered the principal address. It was an interesting and eloquent discussion of general education, and the training essential to prepare girls for the practical duties of life. His words were listened to with profound attention as he described the needs and opportunities of this field of effort. Dr. Haygood is prepared by his intimate acquaintance with the South to speak with authority on the subject of education. He gave his unqualified endorsement to this movement of the Christian women of the country, and his approval of the plans of the Society. The address will be published in full, and should be read by all.

The Corresponding Secretary of the Society, Mrs. R. S. Rust, described the plans and methods of the association, and called attention to the opportunities that this "Model Home" would offer to young ladies to secure the benefits of a practical education, and appealed to the women of the conference for co-operation.

Bishop Mallalieu delivered an able address, which evinced a profound appreciation of the importance of this work. He stated that the Society is now one of the authorized agencies of our Church, and he paid a beautiful tribute to woman in her relation to the work of saving the world. Bishop Walden's address will also be published.

Dr. R. S. Rust followed with a spirited resume of the subject of industrial education, and showed its practical application in the solution of the great problem of elevating and saving a people. The audience then repaired to the new "Model Home," and the building was consecrated to its mission of usefulness by Bishop Walden in an impressive extemporaneous dedicatory service.

This department is arranged to provide for girls a pleasant home while they are obtaining an education, and will afford them an opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the industries and accomplishments that are essential to a well ordered home, and a useful and happy life. The Home will claim and be a special interest of the women of the Conference. The contributions of the auxiliary societies will be appropriated to its support, while the daughters of the Conference will be the recipients of its advantages.

A pleasant and very encouraging incident of the occasion was the presentation of an offering of $56.35 from the Auxiliaries of the Mississippi Conference which had been organized by Mrs. Corina Thomas. This money was placed in the hands of President Hooper, at the session of the Annual Conference, and then presented by Mrs. Thomas at the dedication of the Home to the W. H. M. S., to go to the General Treasury for the prosecution of this mission work in the Mississippi Conference. The auxiliaries in this conference have received this year, $345.50, which amount has been devoted to the support of schools within the various charges of the conference. No officer of the Woman's Home Missionary Society receives any salary for her services, but all the money contributed to this cause is expended in mission work.

Rev. John Qualls is making headway at First Street, and that old war horse Marcus Dale is pushing the battle inside the gates at Wesley.

Personal.

—Rev. John Fopp's post office is at Dixon Cross Roads, La.

—Rev. S. R. Mason's post office address is Benton, Bossier parish, Louisiana.

—Rev. Albert Freeman, Pittsburgh, Pa., is in the city, taking in the Exposition.

—J. H. Keeley, pastor, Edenburg Church, Erie Conference, will soon visit New Orleans; mail left with us will reach him.

—Rev. Stephen Duncan is earnestly at work in his new charge at Union Chapel, and we hear that the people are well pleased with him.

—Mr. and Mrs. Emerson and Joan Bentley, of our office are happy; it is a little girl, in good health and doing well; Friday 27, at home, 2:30 p. m.

—Rev. A. E. P. Albert has returned from meeting the Book Committee Meeting, looking well and is now on his district, to be absent eight weeks.

—Rev. Allen Allensworth has of late been visiting, preaching and speaking in Paducah, Kentucky. Wherever he goes he inspires the people and helps the cause he represents.

—Bishop Walden and Dr. R. S. Rust, accompanied by their ladies, arrived at New Orleans from Holly Springs, Wednesday, March 11 With all our heart we wish them a pleasant and protracted sojourn among us.

—Rev. P. F. Schreider, of the German Wallace College, at Berea, Ohio, was recently in the city, visiting the Exposition and representing the interests of the College as financial agent; stopping awhile here with Rev. John J. Kienle.

—In a note from our old presiding elder, Rev. W. L. Muir, we learn that his charge Jackson Street Church, Louisville, is closing a very prosperous year. Rev. W. W. Locke has been with them lately; the occasion of his visit was a very pleasant season.

—Mrs. M. H. Holloway and Mrs. E. Johnson, both of Greenville, South Carolina, and the former the wife of Rev. Michael K. Holloway, an honored member of the General Conference of 1872, arrived in New Orleans and domiciled with Mrs. [illegible] on Friday 17. They are enjoying a pleasant visit among old friends and in seeing the Exposition.

—Mr. Hinton, our agent at Wesley Chapel, has been pushing the SOUTHWESTERN'S interest with such energy, and determination as to secure on the largest list at that charge of any in the city. We commend Bro. Hale to the confidence of our friends there. He is deservedly popular and exceedingly energetic.

—We have heard with sincere sorrow of the recent death in Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, of Rev. John Newton Irvin of the Cincinnati Methodist Episcopal Conference. He was a young gentleman of great promise of usefulness in the Church, and one that we very highly esteemed for many excellencies of character. We shall never forget the distinguished courtesy paid by this gentleman of precious memory to the Hon. J. S. Payne of Liberia in 1880.

—Rev. John A. Salzer, of La Crosse, Wis., is at present in this city, guest of Rev. John J. Kienle, of the first German Methodist Episcopal Church. Bro. Salzer is a located preacher, and is engaged in the plant and seed business. He has a well established business with an area of 20,000 feet of ground under glass in hot houses. He is also connected with a like establishment in St. Louis, Missouri. He is here taking in the Exposition.

Calanthe Literary Club.

This Club gave its third readings and reception at Mrs. Louisa Griffith's, 68 Conquest street, on Friday evening, March 6th. It has been organized about six months, or since September 5, 1884. N. C. Mitchell, Esq., President; Miss M A. Craig, Vice President; Miss L. R. Gordon, Recording Secretary; Mr. T. W. DeLong, Financial Secretary; Miss M. L Robinson, Treasurer; W. B. Ritchie, Literary Manager. Their permanent meeting place is at Mrs. J. A. Craig's 25 South Roman street. The meetings are held weekly on Friday evenings, 25 cents admission, and 20 cents monthly are collected of all members for the support of the club in the entertainment of guests.

THE ORDER OF THE EVENING.

Mr. Craig recited the mummy in good style and with dramatic effect; Mrs. Nora Dale sang "What are the Wild Waves Saying;" Mrs. J. A. Yerrington presided at the piano; James D. Kennedy, on the "Freedmen's Case in Equity," which was suggested by Mr. Cable's article in the Century, of whom it was quite eulogistic. (We print it elsewhere.) This gentleman is a writer, reader, and even elocutionist of first rate ability. Lowrena Gordon recited and sang "The Bugle Call;" this was well rendered, but the large audience dazed the fair lady a little; she must pinch up courage, for she has the elements of fine elocution in her. Miss V. M. J. Ritchie recited "Virginia," and sang "The Election of Roman Tribunes." The rendition of this piece was excellent, the young lady bringing out the different characters with extraordinary delivery. Miss L. M. Davis an essay on the "Sorrows of Authors." Then followed an interlude with piano music, by Mrs. J. Yerrinton. Then came a simple but very appropriate repast of sandwiches, followed by a large bowl of white wine punch, cream cake and fruits of all descriptions. Among the guests we noticed the following well-known society people: R Henri Herbert, Trenton, N. J.; Geo G Johnson, New Orleans; Rev. G W Bothwell; Miss Olive Hope, Mobile; Miss Minnie Moore, N. O.; Henry S Baxter, N. O.; A H Edmonds, N. O.; Miss Mary White, N. O.; Miss Fanny A Campbell, N. O.; Mrs. Virginia Moore, N. O.; Geo Ricks, N. O.; D. S. P. Brown, Atlanta, Ga.; J G Ross, N. O.; Joseph A Craig, sr., N. O.; C. C. Crane, N. O.; Joseph A Craig, jr., N. O.; C T Pointer, Washington; E W Adams, Findlay, O.; Miss E T Allain, Iberville; Miss Maggie White, N. O. Mrs. J A Yerrinton, N. O.; J T Newman, M. D., N. O.; Shelley A Craig, N. O.; Miss Mamie Chatman, Mobile; D B Temple; Geo R Hampton, St. James; J W Ames, St. James; N W Nickerson, N. O. The members present were: Mrs. Charlotte Craig, James D Kennedy, Palmeston Landry, Frank Craig, L M Spriggins, Jeremiah Williams, M A Craig, W B Riche, N C Mitchell, T W Delong, H S Battiste, Miss V M J Riche, Miss L M Davis, Miss Marie Robinson, Miss E A Lewis, Miss Elenora Dale, Miss Izella Dale, Miss L R Gordon, Miss Eva Griffin, Mrs. S M Price, Prof. Geo W Walker, N A Jefferson, Charles W Dale.

Church Polity.

How shall I become an interested Sunday-school missionary?

Presuming that you are already converted and that your life is dedicated to the service of the Lord, as He may direct. Then you should:

1. Do everything you know how to do, in order to create and cultivate an interest in the Sunday-school work. Visit children and converse with them about the Sunday-school and its purpose. Get them to it and then talk to them about the Gospel and its object, always making a personal application of your teaching, to both the pupil and yourself.

2. Use our Sunday literature and no other except you can buy it from our publishing house.

3. Get a book called "Teachers, and Teaching," by Trumbull and read it. You can order it of Phillips & Hunt, 805 Broadway, New York, or Cranston & Stowe, Cincinatt..

4. When you have done all these things pray over it all and write us the result.

Schools and Colleges.

CLARK UNIVERSITY INDUSTRIAL HOME.

Clark University Industrial Home.

This home is one of a number of buildings erected, or to be erected, for the purpose of teaching girls the art of house-keeping, and as a home for female students who reside at the University. There are others similar to this at Holly Springs, Miss., Little Rock, Ark., nearly similar at Nashville, Tenn., and others to be erected in North Carolina, Louisiana and elsewhere.

Chautauqua University.

The Chautauqua University, in connection with its department of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, has organized a new enterprise designed to aid young people of town and country everywhere in the right acquisition of knowledge, in profitable ways of spending leisure hours, and in the formation of good character. It is to be known as "The Chautauqua Town and Country Club," and will be under the immediate supervision of specialists of reputation in their different occupations.

The central office, through which all enrollment of its membership must be effected, will be at Plainfield, N. J. The working headquarters of the Club will be at Honghton Farm, Mountainville, Orange county, N. Y., and its special Superintendent of Instruction, will be Mr. Charles Barnard, of New York city. The C. T. C. C. will aim to be to the young people of the land in practical and scientific lines what the C, L. S. C. is to its vast circle of readers. The whole support and influence of the Chautauqua officials will be given to insure its success, supplemented by the valuable experience of Mr. Barnard and his associates at Honghton Farm. For further particulars address, enclosing stamp, Miss K. F. Kimball, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Closing Exercises of the Meharry Medical Department.

The closing exercises of the above named institution took place Feb. 26, 1885, at Thompson's Chapel, Nashville, Tenn. The exercises commenced by singing the opening chorus. Then Mr. S. P. Brown was introduced as salutatorian of the class; his thesis being "cholera." Mr. H. S. Berry was next introduced as valedictorian; his thesis being "diseases of the brain." Dr. J. W. Nowlan delivered the address of the class, after which the Degree of Medicine was conferred by Dr. Braden on the following young men, who reside and will practice as below:

J. W. Anderson, Wyandotte, Kan.
J. B. Banks, Summit, Miss.
H. S. Berry, Nashville, Tenn.
S. P. Brown, Atlanta, Ga.
G. A. Henderson, Nashville, Tenn.
A. S. Jerry, Lake City, Fla.
H. M. Simkins, Washington, D. C.
T. A. Walker, New Orleans, La.

Will practice at:

J. W. Anderson, Nashville, Tenn.
J. P. Banks, Summit, Miss.
H. S. Berry, Memphis, Tenn.
S. P. Brown, New Orleans, La.
G. A. Henderson, Nashville, Tenn.
A. S. Jerry, Pulaski, Tenn.
H. M. Semkens, Macon, Ga.
T. A. Walker, New Orleans, La.

Rev. F. Harvey, pastor at Mansfield, La., writes: "We have organized the John Wesley School Board here for the purpose of holding a day school. There were 17 members present at our first meeting, and we raised $10 and about $45 in subscriptions. Steps were taken to put solicitors in the field in behalf of this enterprise. A building committee was appointed, and it looks like we are going to have a school here ere long."

New Orleans Preacher's Meeting.

Programme of Exercises for the New Orleans Weekly Methodist Episcopal Preacher's Meeting. Published by order of the undersigned:

The regular meeting of the New Orleans Prechers will be held at Wesley Chapel, on Liberty, between Perdido and Poydras streets, every Monday, at 10 o'clock a. m. The following subjects are assigned, each pastor, commencing March 23, and ending, June 29th:

T. J. Johnson—Revelation and the Christian faith, March 23d.

M. C. B. Mason—What is Temperance, March 30th.

A. J. Ford—Divorce as Methodists understand it; April 6th.

T. P. Jackson—How ought members to be received in the Methodist Church; April 13th.

H. Lyons—The Relation of Baptized children to the church; April 20th.

John Qualls—The way to conduct our classes and class meetings, April 27th.

Dr. Stalker—The Woman's Home Missionary Society and its relation to the church, May 4th.

Moses Farfax—How we can employ our time profitably when not engaged in public exercises, May 11th.

M. Dale—The better way of taking collections in the Church, May 18th.

W. P. Forrest—The Steward's duty, May 25th.

R. C. Barrow—The Duty of Preachers to God, themselves, and one another, June 1st.

S. Duncan—Three reasons why we ought to hold a District Conference, June 8th.

E. Clark—Free Will, June 15th.

Z. T. Gayden—The Lord's Supper, June 22d.

Graham Bell—Good Works, June 29th.

Visiting ministers while in the city will receive a cordial welcome to the meetings

JAMES W. HUDSON, Pres.
A. J. FORD, Secretary.

Sermon Sketches.

REV. W. D. GODMAN.

The Fruit of the Spirit.

Text—Gal. 5, 22-23: "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law."

I. Love.—This is the chosen attribute of God; 1 John 4, 8. It is made the highest element of Christian character; 1 Cor. 13. It denotes the soul's devotion to God and the heart's affection for mankind—not for individual men, but for humanity; Matt. 22: 37, 38, 39. Love makes God supreme, and every man our equal.

II. Joy.—This is a stable gladness of soul. It is not occasioned like earthly enjoyment, by some personal gain of ours, but it is "in the Holy Ghost." Rom. 14, 17. It is divinely inspired and sustained; Phil. 4, 4. It is, or may be, unutterally glorious; 1 Peter 1, 8.

III. Peace.—This is the opposite of war. The believer has laid down his weapons of rebellion, and is at peace with his God. This is conditioned on the reconciliation effected by Jesus Christ; Col. 1, 21; consequent on justification by faith; Rom. 5, 1. It is a part of Christian happiness, and is closely associated with joy; Rom. 14, 17. He that has peace with God will be at peace with his neighbor; Eph. 4:3; 1. Cor. 7, 15. It is, like joy, unutterable and even incomprehensible. Phil. 4, 7.

IV. Long-suffering.—This does not differ essentially from patience. Commended by the example of our Lord; Heb, 2, 10. The discipline of hope; Rom. 5, 4; 15, 4. Due, toward all men; 1 Thes. 5, 14. Should be perfect; James 1, 4.

Our Brother in Black.

REV. J. C. W. COXE, BROOKLYN, IOWA.

Third Paper.

The nation put the ballot in his hand. A perilous experiment; he reached at once for a spelling-book, that he might read his ballot, and vote understandingly. In schools established by private and churchly benevolence in the South 20,000 colored students are found, eager to learn, quick of apprehension, retentive of memory, indomitable in perseverance; and in the public schools there are 800,000, in every respect the peers of youth of lighter shade. They are outstripping their rivals. By the increase of population illitterate voters have increased in the late slave states within a decade more than 200,000; but two thirds of these illiterates are white. The increase of the illiteracy among the colored people was 11 per cent; among the whites it was 88 per cent; eight times as large a proportionate increase among those who have always been the dominant race on this continent. The increase of voters comes mainly from the boys who have attained their majority—entirely so among the black; and in view of this the facts recited are startlingly significant. Their true meaning is this: the brother in black is acquiring the requisite intelligence for citizenship eight times as rapidly as is his brother of lighter hue, and at this same rate will become the dominant race at the South within the present century, by virtue of brains as well as ballots. The hunger of this race for learning is something inexpressibly pathetic, yet full of hope. Do you remember the picture in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," of golden-haired Eva teaching the old man to read and write? Uncle Tom is in college today; he may be in Congress tomorrow. The darkness of his ignorance is fading in the light of advancing intelligence, as the hue of his skin has been bleached by the strains of the Saxon blood which mingle in his veins. Twenty years ago but an insignificant fraction of the colored race in the South read; to-day 35 per cent of the whole number read readily and intelligently.

Rev. W. R. Davis was installed pastor of Zion Baptist Church recently. Verily this gentleman is a model itinerant, this being his third installation within a year, viz.: at Paris, Ky., Terra Hante, Indiana, and now at Louisville, Kentucky. Viva la itinerancy with the Baptists.

Cuticura

A POSITIVE CURE for every form of SKIN and BLOOD DISEASE from PIMPLES TO SCROFULA.

ECZEMA, or Salt Rheum, with its agonizing itching and burning instantly relieved by a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP and a single application of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. This repeated daily, with two or three doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, to keep the blood cool, the perspiration pure and unirritating, the bowels open, the liver and kidneys active, will speedily cure Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Psoriasis, Lichen, Pruritus, Scald Head, Dandruff and every species of Itching, Scaly, and Pimply Humors of the skin and Scalp, with Loss of Hair, when the best physicians and all known remedies fail.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are absolutely pure and the only infallible Blood Purifiers and Skin Beautifiers free from poisonous ingredients.

Sold everywhere. Price, Cuticura, 50 cents; Soap, 25 cents; Resolvent, $1. Prepared by POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases."

Dr. Sterling P. Brown,

51 Austerlitz Street,

NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m

mar19 3m

'Itching Piles.'—Symptoms: Moisture.

Like perspiration, intense itching, worse by scratching, most at night, seems if pin-worms were crawling. "Swayne's Ointment" is a pleasant, sure cure.

nov13-1yr-eow

CHRISTIAN

MEN and WOMEN are Wanted

AS AGENTS

For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Names & Co., 154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended.

mar5-39t

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK BY J. H. Fillmore.

Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 25 cents; per dozen by express, $2 60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free

FILLMORE BROS.

No. 185 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.

GET A

BEAUTIFUL TIN-TYPE

Of Yourself for 25 Cents,

AT THE

World's Centennial Tin-Type Gallery,

No. 12 EXCHANGE PLACE,

(Three Doors from Canal)

GROTESQUE CARICATURES

A Feature in itself. 25 Cents Each.

[Patent Right secured for the city of New Orleans]

VIGNETTE CAMEOS,

For Lockets, Pins and Velvet Cases, $1.

jan22-3m

J. L. WIMBY & CO.,

GENERAL

Commission Merchants

—AND—

Cotton Factors.

120 Common Street, [Room 4 Kruger Block]

[P. O. Box 2415] New Orleans, La.

Particular attention paid to the Purchase of Supplies.

All orders will be filled to the exact amount of cash sent or produce assigned.

Remit money by Postal Order, Registered Letter or draft.

All letters of inquiry must enclose stamp for return postage. jan15-3m

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON,

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

sept25-6m

Plantation Melodies

—AND—

REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.

Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT, 82 Natchez street, New Orleans

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL MUSIC BOOKS.

HEAVENLY VOICES.

Just out! Entirely new! The very book you want for your Sunday-School. Contains the richest and most beautiful songs ever collected in one volume. Send for sample copy before buying.

SABBATH BELLS,

The finest collection of Sunday songs yet published. Thousands of copies have been sold during the past 12 mos. It is full of gems. Will mail to any part of the world a sample copy of either Heavenly Voices or Sabbath Bells, upon receipt of 30c. each or both for 35c.

FIRESIDE-FRIEND PUB. CO., NEW CARLISLE, O

1t

MADAME FOY'S CORSET AND Skirt Supporter.

Combines the most ELEGANT FITTING CORSET with a PERFECT SKIRT SUPPORTER and is one of the most popular and satisfactory corsets as regards HEALTH and COMFORT ever invented. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress.

For sale by all leading dealers. Price by mail $1.50. FOY, HARMON & CHADWICK, New Haven, Conn.

mar19-12teow

THEY WERE DIVINELY FITTED FOR THEIR WORK.

"Whether Heyder misjudged by erring priest,
In all her sons is clearly justified."
The creed and life accord, harmoniously agree;
The soil and clime are suited to the tree.
God visited a lukewarm nation to repent,
"He gave the word," and sons of thunder went.
What Luther was our predecessors were;
He scorned the two-faced hypocrite to spare;
To plain advice they showed a fiery law
And struck the daring reprobate with awe;
Who spares a rock requires a sledge to smit,
No man e'er thundered with a melting lute.
What if the present race more light possess,
Their need was greater and their leisure less;
They roused the wretch's hopes, alarmed his fears,
Five words are only music in his ears.
The critic's niceness all the scholar's mind,
All Davy's arts and Newton's science joined,
Whate'er the polished pastor may assert,
Did ne'er the dead in trespasses convert.
But they, with holy energy broke in,
And stormed the citadel of pride and sin.
Their fervent spirits no excuse allowed.
The stubborn glebe they resolutely ploughed;
And when the clouds had felt the parting skate
They sowed the truth, and watered all with prayer.
Others the palm of learning may secure,
Their seed was burning and their creed was pure.

Domestic Hygiene.

For the Southwestern.

What is a Cold, and How Can it be Cured?

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

Is there anybody who is not liable to a cold? If such a person can be found carry him or her around to be seen as a living curiosity. A cold is the result of an unusual lowering of the temperature in some part of the body, in which we live. This may occur in some partial part, or it may be a lowering of the temperature in the whole body. There are two ways of taking a cold. The first way is when temperature in the whole or some part of the body is reduced greatly below the natural standard without a previous condition of unusual heat. In this case the blood is driven from the surface of the system to the internal portions of the body. The greater portion, or about one-half, of the blood is in the arterioles and capillary vessels of the surface of the body. In a reduction of the temperature of the surface of the body the caliber of the capillaries and arterioles is greatly reduced, and the blood driven back upon the internal portions of the body. If this continues for some time a severe congestion of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, kidneys and bladder become inevitable. The most serious consequences follow upon the weakest of these organs. Should the reduction of temperature be temporary, and congestion relieved speedily, no serious results occur immediately.

The second mode of taking a cold is to first [illegible] i. e. become overheated, or perspire vigorously, or in some unusual manner, and then to suddenly reduce the temperature of the little life of the blood. Then a million of pores of the skin are wide open and panting for breath, like a man pants for air in a dog day, suddenly a cold draft of air passes over them, and before these million gaping lips can close the blood is driven from the surface back into the deeper parts of the system. The congestion of the internal organs occurs, and generally continues for some hours. [illegible] and diseases than the first kind. The chill is longer, and congestion more stubborn to relieve. Harder to produce, and the diseases following are more serious.

The phenomena following "taking cold" are [illegible] may be more than a feeling, an unpleasant sensation of dryness and roughness in the nose and throat; hot flashes at first, which [illegible] into shaking fever, stiffness of joints and muscles, a dull sensation as [illegible] strained; a slight [illegible] and muscles at first, [illegible] into a hard ache; the [illegible] hot, eyes [illegible] the head and body [illegible] to assume an individuality. One feels "mean all over."

A cold can be taken in summer as well as in mid winter, though possibly people are not quite so much subject to it in hot as in cold weather. I do not know that a summer cold is really any more dangerous than a winter cold, though it seems to be severer in its symptoms.

Some of the most serious consequences follow a cold. Indeed, all colds are dangerous, however so slight. Most of the diseases of the lungs, if not all, are directly or remotely caused by a cold. There may be latent disease from heredity in these organs, which only require some favoring cause to rouse into life and activity. Thus in a person where consumption is hereditary, a slight cold incurred fires up the system and warms these latent seeds of disease into activity. Such persons cannot endure much "taking of cold."

The kidneys are peculiarly susceptible to evil influence from cold. Bright's disease in all its forms, followed by the terrible effects of these diseases, flows largely, if not wholly from cold. When the congestion of a cold occurs, the kidneys, one or both, may become congested, to be followed by acute inflammation of the substance of the kidneys, extending to the inner lining membrane and uriniferous tubes. These are then incapacitated for eliminating the urea from the blood, which, as a poison, is thrown back into the system. The inflammation becomes aggravated. The blood poison increases, soon some of the membrane lining the kidney is sloughed off and passes away with the urine, and can be seen with the microscope. When this occurs the case is serious. This is only one form of the result of a cold in the kidneys.

All organs of the body are liable to the same grave results of a cold. A cold ought not to be neglected.

To overcome a cold we must reverse the operation of taking a cold. By heat, and the use of remedies such as will drive the blood away from congested parts to the surface, a cold may generally be "broken up." A hot bath, a vapor bath, and the putting of the person shut and surrounding them with hot bricks, cora or bags of hot salt, to produce an opening or relaxation of the capillary vessels so they may receive their wonted amount of blood, is an excellent mode of "breaking up a cold." When the work is well done the person will break out in a profuse perspiration, and grateful relief is felt. During the breaking up of a cold, hot tea drank in abundance is a great help. The best is a stimulant to the internal organs, and the fluid enters the blood and aids the process of perspiring. All alcoholic drinks at such a time are absolutely injurious and retard the work of ridding the system of a cold. In some cases a cold water pack is efficacious in breaking up a cold. Take two sheets and wring them out of cold water and wrap around the body next the skin, over the head with clothe wet in cold water and cover the person up in bed. Give cold water to drink. In the course of a few hours most colds can be broken up. The patient will be likely to sweat profusely, and while so doing be greatly relieved of the pressure of a cold.

After a cold is "broken up" great care must be taken lest a new cold be taken, and all the former good lost. After the severe sweating keep well protected from a cold draft or any great reduction of temperature. A bath in tepid water, followed by sponging off with cold water, is an admirable method of closing the pores of the skin to their normal condition and prevent further damage. On going out of doors it is well to wear an extra wrap for a time.

At another time we will tell how to prevent, in most cases, "taking cold."

A Deceived Woman.

is the lady who uses cosmetics, face lotions, white lead, bismuth, powders, arsenic, etc., in the belief of enriching and beautifying the complexion. It is but temporary and ultimately destroys the skin beyond the power of nature to restore. Stop it! Stop it now and use only Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, which imparts the vigor and loveliness of youth.

Important to You.

EVERY PERSON IS INTERESTED IN KNOWING THAT

Ayer's Pills Cure

Acidity of the stomach and Flatulence,
Yellow jaundiced skin,
Enervation and Languor,
Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains,
Sick Headaches and Nausea,

Chronic disposition to Costiveness,
Anæmia caused by Dyspepsia,
Torpidity of the obstructed liver,
Heart disease induced by Constipation,
Apoplectic tendencies similarly originated,
Relaxation of the nervous system,
Torturing sleeplessness from Indigestion,
Inflammation of the costive bowels,
Clogging and deterioration of the kidneys,

Pain in shoulders and back,
Indigestion and Constipation,
Liver Complaint and Biliousness,
Low vitality and Nervousness,
Skin Eruptions caused by Constipation,

Costiveness and Pain in the bowels,
Uric acid poison in the blood,
Rashes and Boils caused by Constipation,
Enfeebled sight and Nervous Tremors,

Mental and physical depression,
Aguish symptoms from Indigestion,
Nausea, Dizziness, and Foul Breath,
Youth and age troubles of women,

Inaction of the excretory organs,
Looseness of the bowels,
Loss of appetite and furred tongue,
Swellings symptomatic of Dropsy.

There is no form of disease, caused by Indigestion and Constipation, that does not yield to their beneficent power. They stimulate the digestive and assimilatory organs, strengthen the machinery of life, and have no drastic or weakening effects. Any one who chooses to enquire will find in his own community abundant willing witnesses to assure him that the best pills in the world for cure of the many ailments consequent upon derangement of the digestive functions are

Physicians and Patients say

"Ayer's Pills are one of the best remedies for billious derangements that we possess." DR. WM. PRESCOTT, Concord, N. H.

"Ayer's Pills are active, searching and effectual, but not griping or drastic." PROF. J. M. LOCKE, Cincinnati, O.

"Ayer's Pills are far superior to any which have fallen under my notice." DR. J. R. CHILTON, New York.

"Ayer's Pills are adapted to all the disorders which can be cured by the judicious use of a physic." DR. SAMUEL MCCONNELL, Montpelier, Vt.

"Ayer's Pills I am using in my practice and find them excellent." DR. J. W. BROWN, Oceana, W. Va.

"Ayer's Pills have entirely corrected the costive habit and vastly improved my general health." REV. F. B. HARLOWE, Atlanta, Ga.

"Ayer's Pills have cured Rheumatism and Kidney troubles among my crew, and they did away with my Dyspepsia." CAPT. C. MUELLER, Str. "Felicia."

"Ayer's Pills invariably cure me of headache." JOHN STELL, Germantown, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have cured me of Constipation of long standing." EDWARD O. EASTERLY, Rockford, Ill.

"Ayer's Pills gave me new life and vigor, and restored my health." JOHN LAMBROS, St. Johns, N. B.

Ayer's Pills cured of Indigestion, Constipation and Headaches, M. V. WATSON, 152 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Ayer's Pills cured of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and Neuralgia, P. H. ROGERS, Needmore, Brown Co., Ind.

"Ayer's Pills have cured me entirely." MRS. MARY A. SCOTT, Portland, Me.

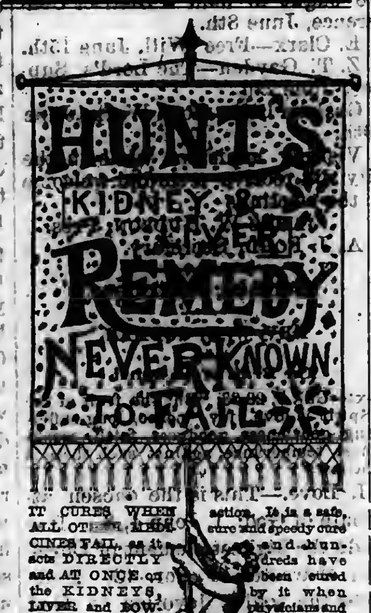
Ayer's Pills cured of Rheumatism, S. M. SPENCER, Syracuse, N. Y.

AYER'S PILLS,

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO., [Analytical Chemists] LOWELL, MASS.

Sold by all Druggists.



General Grant's Condition.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—Geo. W. Childs received a letter from General Grant this morning stating that his physician had positively declared that he could not leave New York until the weather became warmer, and that for that reason his visit to Mr. Childs must be postponed for the present. The General adds that he is now feeling quite well with the exception of a soreness at the root of the tongue and the tonsil over it. He says he suffers considerable pain from this source when eating, and especially in swallowing water. He has not, he states, smoked a cigar since November 26.

"General Grant," said Mr. Childs, "is no doubt a very sick man. He does not complain and bears his sufferings with the bravery and courage for which he is noted, but for all that I know he suffers a great deal."

HARTFORD, CONN., Nov. 25, 1884.
"I gratefully acknowledge Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy. Have suffered from severe kidney troubles and intense pain. Am entirely relieved by Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy."—Albert W. Handy, Superintendent Press & Whitney Company.

A bill repealing the black laws of Ohio was indefinitely postponed in the State Senate on the 19th inst.

IT CURES WHEN [illegible] action. It is a safe, ALL OTH[illegible] sure and speedy cure CINES FAIL, as it [illegible] and in sects DIRECTLY [illegible] dreds have and AT ONCE [illegible] been cured the KIDNEYS, [illegible] by it when LIVER and BOW[illegible] physicians and ELS, restoring [illegible] friends had them to a healthy [illegible] given them up to die.

IT IS BOTH A SAFE CURE and a SPECIFIC.

It CURES all Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Urinary Organs; Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Nervous Diseases, Excesses, Female Weaknesses, Jaundice, Biliousness, Headache, Sour Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Pains in the Back, Loins, or Side, Retention or Non-Retention of Urine.

PILLS AT DRUGGISTS.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet of Solid Testimonials of Absolute Cures.

HUNT'S REMEDY CO.,
Providence, R. I.

6 sept-11-1y

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them.

THE WEEKLY
National Republican.

The Best Newspaper Ever Published at the National Capital.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1885.

The Republican is the only weekly paper published at the National Capital which is an exponent of true republican principles, and it will be invaluable during the next four years, especially to every active adherent of the party of freedom and progress throughout the united land.

In it the course of legislation will be given in full as well as all news concerning the industrial interests of the country.

A faithful record will be furnished of all appointments and dismissals by the executive, together with the leading cases made by the several departments, including the army and navy, as well as those of the Indian service.

Especial attention will be paid to the agricultural and producing interests, and a complete epitome of the news of the week from all parts of the world, collated from our own telegraphic dispatches, will be found in our columns.

Sample copies mailed free on application.

The Weekly National Republican is now issued by the year at the following largely reduced rates, each copy to be separately addressed and forwarded by mail, free of postage:

One copy.....$1 00

As compensation for services in obtaining subscriptions at these rates agents and club organizers will be allowed to retain 15 per cent of the amount collected, the remainder to be sent to this office by draft, money order or registered letter. With the assurance that those present we ask our friends to help us to a large circulation, not only among Republicans, but also among fair-minded men holding different political opinions, but who at least desire to be well informed as to the views of their opponents as announced in their leading papers.

Address
The National Republican,
Washington, D. C.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.
Sixty Addresses by American Educators.
Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.
8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Pict. Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

feb19 13t

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.
Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1,45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 24 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.

No 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—
Cincinnati,
Louisville,
Washington,
Baltimore,
New York and the East,
In Connection with the
"Great Jackson" Route,
Makes the following
FAST TIME.

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:50 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	3:39 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Do ne Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves.	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	6:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and East ern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Kniskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M. Smith, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.

a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. Ry.
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Sheldon, Peoria, Ills. and Keokuk, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria, Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

Between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Rock Island, Ills., and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Conpon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav. Pass. Agt., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
Great Jackson Route.
Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3..9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5..8:10 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Merwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.
J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT. KENNEDY, Ticket Agent

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket, management and passenger rooms to No. 235 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago, and the Northwest.

The Direct Route to Eastern Kentucky, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.
Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 235 Fourth avenue, Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily
Leave Louisville	7 55 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 39 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Glendon Springs	10 [illegible] a m
" Litchfield	11 23 a m
" Centerville	2 [illegible] a m
" Owensboro	5 05 a m
" Nortonville	3 27 p m
" Hopkinsville	9 58 p m
" Madisonville	4 37 p m
" Henderson	6 10 p m
" Evansville	8 10 p m
" Tradewater	4 07 p m
" Princeton	4 47 p m
" Paducah	7 00 p m
" Mayfield	5 27 p m
" Fulton	9 29 p m
" Cairo	10 45 p m
" Rives	10 10 p m
" Memphis	3 20 a m
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or R. F. MITCHELL, Gen'l Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.
Or H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis Tenn.

ROSES, 16 for $1.00.
GERANIUMS, 16 for $1.

Also all other kinds of plants. Send for beautifully illustrated catalogue to Thos. McBeth, Springfield, Ohio.

mar12 4t

General News Items.

[illegible] of 1881 there were in the nearly 21,000,000 widows, and nearly 64,000 were under ten years of age.

The number of copies of daily, weekly, and monthly journals published each year in America is estimated, in round numbers, at 2,900,000,000, and in Europe, 7,800,000,000, a total of 10,100,000,000 copies.

Nearly every national bank in the United States, whose charter has expired during the past few months, has applied for [illegible] of circulating notes to the amount of one hundred and forty-four millions. Seventy-six banks have had their charters renewed, [illegible] to February 1st. Two hundred and forty-four have been renewed since November 1st, 1884. One hundred and nine expired in January, and nearly all [illegible] Sixty-eight expire in February, and [illegible] almost 250 in March.

A dispatch from Korti says that Gen. Buller, who began his retreat from Gubat several days ago, was compelled to halt at Abu Klea Wells and intrench his troops in a position there in order to safely defend himself against El Mahdi's [illegible] gathering in large [illegible] of retreat, and continually harassing the British forces. Special dispatches indicate that Gen. Wolseley will have to send strong reinforcements to Gen. Buller if the latter is to be rescued from his present position. Grave fears are entertained that Gen. Buller may meet the fate of Gordon unless speedily succored.

The second annual report of the civil service commission has been transmitted by the President to Congress. The comprehensive document says, among other things that the civil service law has been found practicable and effective. During the year persons have been examined from every State and Territory except Idaho. One hundred and sixty-two examinations have been held, and 6,337 persons examined, of whom 5,525 were males and 822 females. Of those examined 4,141 passed at a grade showing them competent for public service, and 2,306 failed.

"Died of ammonia, poor fellow," said the renowned Mrs. Partington, on learning of a friend's death from pneumonia. I believe I should have died, too, if it had not been for Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It stirred up my cough and drove it away." Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup she means, of course.

Words From Bishop Taylor.

Bishop William Taylor, writes to Christian Witness and Advocate from Madeira which he passed on the 4th ult. He expected to spend a month in Liberia and join the [illegible] missionary party that left New York, at Cape Palmas, on the 22d inst. Dr. Summers and Mr. Eli Chatelain precede him at Loanda to prepare the way. The Bishop says: "We are traveling with a number of commercial men who have been living on the West Coast for forty to fifteen years. They are healthy-looking men, and say that with care they have but little to fear from the climate. We learn from some of them that St. Paul de Loanda is the healthiest place on the coast. The probability is that we shall settle most, if not all, of our coming forces within the first six hundred miles of our inland travel—not much more than half-way to the Tschilange, Basonge and Beneki nations; but, by re-enforcements to push our way across the continent."

The Mason & Hamlin Company, long the most famous manufacturers of reed [illegible] world, have commenced the manufacture of Upright Pianos, having effected an improvement which they regard as the most important introduced in many years. An ingenious arrangement fastens the strings directly to the iron plate of the instrument, giving greater clearness and purity of tone, with absence of all metallic [illegible]. At the same time it renders the instrument more durable, less liable to get out of order. The Mason & Hamlin Pianos are certainly exquisite instruments, and, coming from thoroughly well-known makers, may be depended upon to be all they represent them.—Boston Journal.

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

TRADE MARK.

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no douching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours at a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces, from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Edw. Heath, DEALER IN Wall Paper,

Cocoa and Canton Matting, Rugs, Mats, Upholsterer's Materials, Window Shades, Cornices, and Curtain Goods,

Frames, Mouldings, Mirrors, Plates, Wire Screens, Etc.

75 Camp Street.....New Orleans.

Liberal discount to the trade. Samples of WALL PAPER sent on application. oct9-6m

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. B. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolsen, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Rowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. B. Lyman,	U. Marinoni,	Chas. H. Dolsen,	John Calder,	A. H. Steward
S. O. Coulon,	Harry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Louis Delery	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
E. F. W. Beahman,	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Fishe
Chas E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South. oct9 1y

Symposium of the Weeklies.

Colored men have nothing to expect from the Democratic party, since they have contributed nothing to its triumph.—New York Globe.

These words appear among the dying utterances of the Globe; in the struggle with death, when its reasoning powers must necessarily have been enfeebled, it uttered what it may have thought a prophecy. We are thankful that in no instance can it be so. It is obvious that we expect no offices at the hands of the Democrats, since the adage "to the victors belong the spoils" with them means just what it says.—Maryland Director.

The opportunity again offers for the pseudo-friend of the colored man and the immigrant agents to reap another harvest by playing upon the fears and credulity of the colored people of the South.—Africo American Presbyterian.

The colored papers of the country are a unity that the election of Governor Cleveland will not injure the Negro. These views are plausible if he does not cater to the whims of his party. There is a chance for the Democrtic party to make good its professions, that it will do the fair thing by the colored people. And this it is bound to do to get any support from the balance of power in this country.—Virginia Critic.

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez Street.

LA HARPE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah L. Clarke, pastor. Sunday Services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Franklin streets; Rev J. J. Kiesle pastor Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street; Rev. Charles Schuler, pastor. Services: Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E CHURCH—On Varuet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m Sunday-school at 1:30. R. O. Barrow, Pastor

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 3 p. m. 7 p. m. Sunday school at 1 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Dunoan, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a. m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve. 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

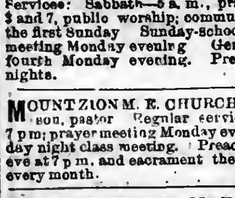
SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation. Rev. R. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-sch ol, 1 p m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Plum street. Rev. M. O. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. A. G. montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday Sunday-school 1 p m. Class meeting Monday evening General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.



MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W Hudson, pastor Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m. and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Poet street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3.30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a, m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W.P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

J. E. OGILVIE—Teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music. Also tunes and repairs pianos and organs at reasonable rates. Residence, 39 South Johnson Street

Pianos & Organs

Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before porchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address

JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.

feb19-1y

SEEDS PLANTS

OUR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FOR 1885, OF "EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN," full of valuable cultural directions, containing three colored plates, and embracing everything new and rare in Seeds and Plants, will be mailed on receipt of stamps to cover postage (4 cents). To customers of last season sent free without application.

PETER HENDERSON & CO.,
35 & 37 CORTLANDT STREET, NEW YORK.

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
26 inches	175 lbs.	325 lbs.	$45 00
28 "	225 lbs.	375 lbs.	55 00
32 "	350 lbs.	550 lbs.	80 00
36 "	550 lbs.	800 lbs.	120 00
40 "	750 lbs.	1050 lbs.	160 00
44 "	1000 lbs.	1350 lbs.	200 00
48 "	1300 lbs.	1800 lbs.	260 00
54 "	2100 lbs.	2900 lbs.	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	100 lbs.	$12 00
20 inches	130 lbs.	18 00
24 inches	190 lbs.	26 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
tf 32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade. Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,
TROY, N. Y.

nov24-1yr.

McShaneBellFoundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address

HENRY McSHANE & CO.
oct24-1y Baltimore, Md.

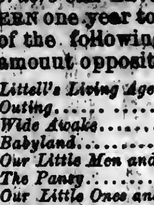
OUR CLUBBING LIST,

—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez street, New Orleans.



MASON & HAMLIN

Exhibited at ALL the important WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVE EXHIBITIONS FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS. Mason & Hamlin Organs have after most rigid examinations and comparisons, been ALWAYS FOUND BEST, and AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS; not from it is one such important comparison American ORGANS has any other Organ been found equal to them. ONE HUNDRED STYLES, adapted to all uses, from the smallest size, yet having the characteristic Mason & Hamlin excellence, at $22, to the best instrument which it is possible to construct, from reeds, at $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues, 48 pp. 4to, and price lists, free.

The Mason & Hamlin Company manufacture UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, adding to all the improvements been found valuable in such instruments, PIANOS which have one of peculiar practical value, tending to greatest purity and refinement in quality of tone and durability, especially diminished liability to get out of tune. Pronounced the greatest improvement made in upright pianos for half a century. The MASON & HAMLIN CO., pledge themselves that every piano of their make shall illustrate that VERY HIGHEST EXCELLENCE which has always characterized their organs. Send for circular with illustrations, full description and explanation.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
BOSTON, 154 Tremont St. CHICAGO, 149 Wabash Ave
NEW YORK, 46 East 14th St. (Union Square.)

oct23-26t

BARNES'

Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business. Lathes for Wood or Metal. Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.

W. F. & JOHN BARNES,
Rockford, Ill.
No. 187 Ruby St.

jan29 eow 2

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

Treated scientifically at home, at very small expense, with absolutely no pain, no caustics, no unnecessary examinations. Permanent cure guaranteed. Book and question blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CATARRH

Causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough and Consumption, cured in from one to three months, even though bones of nose are affected. No snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Book and blank free. Address with stamp, (Mention this paper.)

Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON,
309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

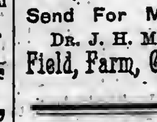
oct2-1yr

SEEDS PLANTS

OUR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FOR 1885, OF "EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN," full of valuable cultural directions, containing three colored plates, and embracing everything new and rare in Seeds and Plants, will be mailed on receipt of stamps to cover postage (4 cents). To customers of last season sent free without application.

PETER HENDERSON & CO.,
35 & 37 CORTLANDT STREET, NEW YORK.

BURPEE'S SEEDS ARE WARRANTED FARM ANNUAL FOR 1885



Will be sent FREE to all who write for it. It is a Handsome Book of 120 pages, hundreds of Engravings, and tells the best [illegible] and Garden Seeds, including [illegible] Novelties of real merit. Every Farmer who will have the BEST SEEDS that grow should send for it. PRICES and Catalogue on a postal to

W. ATLEE BURPEE & CO., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

feb5-36tow

The Great Church LIGHT.

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic

Liver & Kidney Balm,

The Most Wonderful

LIVER AND KIDNEY CURE

In the World.

Will relieve and cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, such as Inflammation, Feverish Irritation of the Bladder, Weakness & Pains in the Back, Catarrh of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Female Troubles, Bright's Disease, Melancholia, Impotency, Debility, Jaundice, or any derangement of the KIDNEYS, LIVER OR BLADDER.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT!

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's HOMŒOPATHIC LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM will cure you.

We have thousands of certificates, but add only two:

H. C. Harris, Lloyds, W. Va., says: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm cured me of Nervous Prostration of five years' standing."

Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Toronto, Canada, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier and Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm have completely cured me of derangement of the natural functions.

Price $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,
Cor. Broadway and Biddle, St., St. Louis, Mo.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Pillets.

They are little white pillets, size of a pin head, but they perform wonders in cleansing the Bowels. When the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys are in an unhealthy condition, there is generated Bacteria (Animalculæ), which if not destroyed, produce various forms of organic disease. Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets will destroy and remove these terrible parasites and cure all troubles of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs by effectually removing the cause of all derangement of their natural functions, and taken with Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Balm, has cured thousands of cases of Bright's Disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposit, Irritation of the Bowels, Costiveness, Colic, Gravel, Renal Stones, Thick, Turbid, Frothy Urine, Pains in the Region of the Liver and Kidneys, Piles, also loss of nervous power. One of these little pillets taken, every night before going to bed will produce an easy evacuation of the bowels and bring the natural functions into a healthy and regular condition.

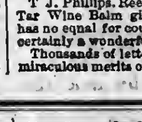
Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets cost 25 cents each vial, and can be sent by mail. One dozen for $2.00.



DR. J. H. M'LEAN,
Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Send For My Free Catalogue of

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S OWN SELECTED

Field, Farm, Garden & Flower Seeds.

jan1-6m

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG

DISEASES,

Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Pulmonary, and all such Throat Troubles yield instantly to its magical and soothing influence.

For Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Asthma and Consumption, Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only remedy that will give sure relief. It has cured Lung Diseases where all other remedies have failed. Why will you suffer from Throat and Lung Troubles when such a pleasant remedy is offered you? For Croup it is a positive specific. For singers and Speakers the TAR WINE BALM is an absolute necessity. Nothing has ever been discovered which will give such immediate relief, and it will positively cure Throat Troubles. DON'T DELAY.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

Those whose Lungs and Throats are sore, hard and dry, will realize the soothing effect of a single dose of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, and to give a doubting skeptic a chance to be cured of its wonderful soothing and miraculous virtues, I have put up Trial Bottles, costing only 25 cents per bottle. Every dealer in the United States should have them; if they have not, please ask them to send for a dozen as a favor. Every one trying that 25-cent size will be convinced of the miraculous benefits they will receive from taking

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

Cold in your Head, tickling in the nose, forehead and throat; you have Catarrh; get a box of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Catarrh Snuff and use it once a day, besides taking Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm to heal your Throat and Lungs.

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

I can send them only by Express. If you will send me $2.00 or that amount in postage-stamps, I will send you one dozen, freight paid.

Large Bottles, which contain six times as much as the 25-cent size Bottles - - - - - - $1 00
Or six Bottles for - - - - - - - - - 5 00

After using DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM, let me hear from you. Prepared by

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,
Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., ST. LOUIS, MO.
Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

WONDERFUL STRENGTHENING CORDIAL AND BLOOD PURIFIER, which has rescued thousands upon thousands from the grave, giving them nerve, vital life, strength and pure blood.

"I would not take $100 for the benefit one bottle has given me. L. COREY,
St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. Yowell, Dudley, Ill., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only medicine which gives me relief. I have had Bronchitis for many years."

T. J. Phillips, Reed, Miss., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm gives the greatest satisfaction here. It has no equal for coughs, colds, etc., and in croup it is certainly a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of letters come to me, all proclaiming the miraculous merits of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884

In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings;

One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,

E. A. BURKE, Director General,
New Orleans, La.

Sedgwick STEEL WIRE Fence

In the best general purpose wire fence in use. It is a strong net-work, without barbs. Don't injure stock. It will turn dogs, pigs, sheep, and poultry, as well as horses and cattle. The best fence for Farms, Gardens, Stock ranges, and Railroads. Very neat, pretty styles for Lawns, Parks, School-lots, and Cemeteries. Covered with rust-proof paint, or made of galvanized wire, as preferred. It will last a life-time. It is better than boards or barbed wire in every respect. Give it a fair trial; it will wear itself into favor. The Sedgwick Gates made of wrought iron pipe and steel wire, defy all competition in lightness, neatness, strength, and durability. We make the best, cheapest, and easiest working all-iron automatic or self-opening gate, and the neatest cheap iron fences now made. The Boss folding poultry coop is a late and useful invention. The best Wire Stretcher, Cutting Pliers, and Post Auger gotten. We also manufacture Kennedy's excellent Wind Engines for pumping, and Geared Engines for grinding, etc. Per prices and particulars ask Hardware Dealers, or address, mentioning paper,

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.

jan22-26t-eow

STEAM COOKED CEREALS.

Choicest Foods in the World, for Old and Young.

A. B. C. WHITE OATS. A. B. C. WHITE WHEAT.
A. B. C. Barley Food. A. B. C. Maize.

American Breakfast Cereals.

Selected grain, all hulls, cockle, and impurities removed. CRUSHED, STEAM COOKED AND DESICCATED. Patented. Prepared, as wanted, for the table, in ten minutes. Saving money. Saving fuel. Saving time. Saving waste. Saving health. Easy to digest, being already thoroughly cooked and dried (desiccated.)

Ask for A. B. C. only. (Registered Trade-Mark.) For sale by all Grocers. THE CEREALS M'F'G CO. Send for circulars. 83 MURRAY ST., NEW YORK.

ma-5-2t-eow

FERRY'S Seed ANNUAL FOR 1885

INVALUABLE TO ALL! Will be mailed FREE to all applicants and to customers of last year without ordering it. It contains illustrations, prices, descriptions and directions for planting all Vegetable and Flower SEEDS, BULBS, etc.

D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT Mich.

jan22-6teow

AGENTS WANTED FOR OUR NEW BOOK, THE COMING CREED

OF THE WORLD. "A Voice Crying in the Wilderness," by Frederic Gerhard. All thinking people want it. Everybody reads and quotes it. There has been nothing like it before in the history of book making. Authors, Teachers, Students, Business Men, Clergymen, Laymen, Atheists, and Agnostics acknowledge it the great literary work of the century. See press notices everywhere. Issued in one octavo volume of 526 pages, with portrait of the author. Price $2.00. Trade edition in paper at $1.25, helps to create demand for the handsome subscription edition. A copy post-paid, on receipt of price. Outfit for agents $1.00. Liberal terms. Circulars for stamp. Address W. H. THOMPSON, 404 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

feb19 4teow

ROSES SAMPLE with Catalogue, 25 c., 4 for 50c. Order now. WM. H. REED, Chambersburg, Pa.

feb12-4t eow

THE SOUTHERN WORLD A 16 page illustrated Journal. Sample copy sent free. Agents Wanted. ATLANTA, Georgia.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WOETH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.

jan22 26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS, BY JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30 52t

SEEDS FOR THE GARDEN, FARM & FIELD. Established 40 Yrs. 1885 RELIABLE

Vegetable Seeds,

Flower and Tree Seeds,

Grass Seed, Seed Potatoes, Onion Sets,

SEED DRILLS, GARDEN CULTIVATORS, &c.

Catalogue Mailed Free to all. Address

PLANT SEED COMPANY,
812 & 814 N. 4th St., St. Louis, Mo.
Name this Paper.

jan1-8t

FITS A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.

From AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

"Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York.

feb5-13

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WOETH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.

jan22 26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS, BY JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30 52t

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co.
106 Wall Street, N. Y.
feb26-1y

Sunday-School and Children.

FIRST QUARTER. STUDIES IN ACTS, A. D. 60. LESSON XII. March 22. Paul vindicated; Acts xxvi, 19-32. Golden Text, Acts 26, 22.

HOME READINGS.

M—Paul vindicated; Acts 26, 10-32.
Tu—Repentance and works; Matt. 3, 1-12.
W—Prophecy explained, Luke 24, 27-44.
Th—The great Prophet promised; Deut. 18, 15-22.
F—Wisdom considered madness; John 10, 1-21.
Sat—The source of help; Psa. 46, 1-11.
Sun—The everlasting light; Isa. 60, 1-22.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. Paul and his Work, v. 19-23.
How did Paul treat the heavenly vision?
How did he obey it?
What were the consequences to him?
How was he able to remain steadfast?
What was the burden of Paul's preaching?
2. Paul and Festus, v. 21-26.
By whom was Paul ineterrupted?
What charge did Festus make?
What did he say had crazed the Apostle?
How did Paul reply?
What did he say to Agrippa?
3. Paul and Agrippa, v. 27, 32.
What question did he ask the king?
How did Agrippa reply?
What did the royal party then do?
What was the result of their consultation?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

How does this lesson show—
1. The loyalty of Paul?
2. The wisdom of Paul?
3. Paul's advantages over his enemies?

Doctrinal Suggestions—The fulfillment of prophecy.

Marriages.

At the residence of Mrs. Annie Willoughby in Columbus, Miss., Feb. 14, 1885, Mr. S. E. Skipwith to Miss Bettie Morton, Rev. B. H. S. Ferguson officiating.

At the residence of Mr. C. H. Moore, in Forest, Miss., Feb. 26, 1885, Mr. Christil Illberger and Miss Amanda Champion.
J. L. GARRETT.

Thursday 26, 1885, Mr. Willis Green to Miss Jennie Goodby, in Marshall, Texas, Rev. A. H. Harbert officiating.

January 26, 1885, Mr. Lewis J. Lang and Miss Eliza Kendall, in Marshall, Texas, A. H. Harbert officiating.

Jan. 26, 1885, Mr. Wm. Jackson to Miss Mary Cumbery, Marshall, Texas, Rev. A. H. Harbert, officiating.

"Colds have dangerous ends," the inspired William doth declare. Have you a cold or cough, a hoarseness, or sore throat? Beware! Take Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup; don't delay, and all the cough and soreness will soon pass away. Get it at once! You may be worse another day.

Obituary.

Rev. John Seay, a veteran of the cross, the senior member of the Tennessee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, quietly fell asleep in Jesus, on the morning of the 19th of February, 1885, in the ninety-first year of his age. By his own request he was buried in his own orchard, the spot having been selected by himself. Revs. James Pickett, Calvin Pickett, Benjamin Anderson and the writer, and a large number of friends were present. A more extended notice will be given hereafter.
J. BRADEN.
Nashville, Tenn.

Sister Josie Rollins died Nov. 9, 1884. She was an active member of the M. E. Church and leaves a husband, one child and many friends to mourn her loss.

Brother Stokes Venable, a member of the Valley M. E. Church, died Feb. [illegible].
B. B. MANSON, Pastor.

In New Orleans, La., Feb. 18, 1885, Mrs Minerva Dixon. Sister Dixon was a faithful member of Haven Chapel M. E. Church, and though early afflicted, for many years she was at her post whenever she could get out. She died in the full triumph of faith, and leaves a large family to mourn her loss. God help them to follow her footsteps.
M. C. B. MASON.

Sister Amanda Heard died Jan. 11, 1885. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for twenty years, and died in full triumph of faith. Her departing words to her children were, "meet me in heaven."
B. B. MANSON.

Bro. Perry Ramsey, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Hattiesburg, Miss., died Feb. 28, 1885. He leaves a wife and two children.

Susie L. McCawd departed this life Feb. 26, 1885, at Pontotoc, Miss. She was the youngest daughter of Bro. Lewis McCawd.
B. FERGUSON.

Conference Notices.

Notice.

To the pastors, local preachers and exhorters of the Palestine District, about the presiding elder's home that was to be located in Tyler or Palestine:

Dear Brethren—Remember that the district conference will convene some time in August, and each one of us is expected to bring up what we promised. We know that we have the poorest district there is in the Texas Annual Conference, but let us show up something and then we will be seen. Now, I hope every brother will come up. I will mention the donations again; pastors, $5 each, local preachers $3 each, exhorters $2 each.
AARON TAYLOR, Sec'y.
Palestine, Texas, Feb. 19, 1885.

Columbus District—West Texas Conference.

Second Round.

LaGrange ct, by Henderson	Mar.	28-29
LaGrange	Apr.	4- 5
Columbus	"	11-12
Alleyton	"	18-19
Oakland	"	25-26
Wellersburg	May	2- 3
Flatonia	"	9-10
Waelder and Peach Creek	"	16-17
Luling	"	23-24
Lockhart	"	30-31
Weimar, by Cooper	June	6- 7
Ellenger and Industry	"	6- 7
Columbus circuit	"	13-14
Wharton and Caney	"	20-21

P. M. CARMICHAEL.

Marion District—Central Alabama Conference.

Second Round.

Choctaw	Mar.	7- 8
Mobile	"	14-15
Brewton	"	21 22
Newborno	"	28-29
Springfield	Apr.	4- 5
Clinton	"	8- 9
Gainesville	"	11-12
Tuscaloosa	"	15-16
Eutaw	"	18-19
Simpson	"	25-26
Selma	"	28-29
Marion	May	2- 3
Watshrall	"	9-10

The pastors will please give due and timely notice to their congregations from time to time so we will not be always filled up with excuses. We want every officer and all the committees to be more prompt, and be present with reports according to our Discipline.
E. B. McCAULEY.

Amount apportioned to each charge for 1885 for benevolent purposes:

Marion charge	$30 00
Eutaw charge	17 15
Gainesville	17 15
Tuscaloosa	14 00
Brewton	15 00
Mobile	12 00
Watshrall and Oak G	15 85
Clinton	10 00
Newborn	10 00
Choctaw	8 00
Simpson and Old Town	9 00
Springfield	10 00
Selma	2 00

The brethren will please see that each of the above charges raise the above amounts. We must push on our benevolences this year. I will set the time when you must take up your missionary money as follows:

Marion, for missions		$9 00
Eutaw,	"	7 00
Gainsville,	"	7 00
Tuscaloosa,	"	5 00
Brewton,	"	5 50
Mobile,	"	4 00
Watshrall,	"	5 00
Clinton,	"	2 50
Newborn,	"	2 50
Choctaw,	"	2 10
Simpson,	"	2 00
Springfield,	"	2 10
Selma,	"	2 00

Dear brethren, you must rally up to these figures. I will appoint the time when this collection must be taken up say on the 12th day of July. The town charges can take any night in the week as may suit the pastors best, just so the collection is raised any time up to the 12th. Let us have a grand missionary collection on that day from one end of the district to the other.
E. B. McCAULEY.

Marshall District—Texas Conf.

Second Round.

Queen City	Apr.	4- 5
Kildare	"	11-12
Jefferson	"	18-19
Hughs Springs	"	25-26
Cypress	May	2- 3
Paris	"	9 10
Paris circuit	"	16-17
Brenham	"	23-24
Blossom Prairie	"	30-31
Clarksville	June	6- 7
Marshall circuit	"	13-14
Marshall, Ebenezer	"	20 21
Red Oak and Zion	"	27 28

H. WEBB, P. E.

Pine Bluff District—Little Rock Conference.

First Round.

Locksburg	Mar.	21-22
Washington	"	28-29
Centre Point	Apr.	4- 5
Fulton	"	11-12
Texarkana, First Church	"	18-19
Texarkana, Second Church	"	25 26
Lewisville	May	2- 3
Red Fork	"	9-10
Pine Bluff circuit	"	16-17
Pine Bluff station	"	23-24
New Edinburgh	"	30-31
Monticello	June	6- 7

G. B. DONNELLY, P. E.
Little Rock, Feb. 26, 1885.

Van Buren District.

First Round.

Fayetteville	Mar.	21-22
Fayette circuit	"	28-29
Russellville	Apr.	4- 5
Morrilton	"	11-12
Conway	"	18-19
Batesville	"	25-26
Jacksonport	May	2- 3
Beebe	"	9-10
Little Rock circuit	"	16-17
Argenta circuit	"	23-24
Sweet Home	"	30 31
Alma	June	6- 7
Van Buren	"	13-14
Fort Smith	"	20-21

W. R. E. DUNCAN, P. E.
Little Rock, Feb. 24, 1885.

Huntsville District—Texas Conf.

First Quarter.

Montgomery	Mar.	21-22
Willis ct	"	28-29
Danville ct	"	28 29
Huntsville station	Apr.	4- 5
Huntsville ct	"	4- 5
Walker ct	"	11-12
Livingston ct	"	18-19
Swarton ct	"	21-22
Cold Springs ct	"	25-26
Lovelady ct	May	2- 3
Groveton ct	"	4- 5
Liberty ct	"	9-10
Wallisville ct	"	13-14
Orange	"	16-17
Harden ct	"	19-20
Town Bluff	"	21
Bevelport	"	22
Beaumont	"	23-24

E. LEE, P. E.

Jackson District—Mississippi Conference.

First Round.

Jackson	Mar.	7- 8
Jackson circuit	"	10
Clinton	"	12
Bolton	"	14-15
Edwards	"	14-15
Vicksburg circuit	"	17
Rolling Fork	"	18
Mayersville	"	20
Vicksburg station	"	21-23
Steens Creek	"	24
Madison	"	26
Canton circuit	"	27
Canton	"	28-29
Brandon	Apr.	4- 5
Brandon circuit	"	4- 5
Pelahatchie	"	7
Treaton	"	9
Forest	"	11-12
Lake	"	14
Hickory	"	18-19
Chunkey	"	18-19

J. M. SHUMPERT, P. E.

Navasota District Conference.

All members coming will be met at Brenham on Wednesday, March 11th, at 12:30 to 2:05 p. m. All failing to arrive this day will have to walk five Germao miles. Per order presiding elder.
WILLIE H. JACKSON, P. C.
Brenham Circuit.

Notice.

The Ladies Union Association of Wesley Chapel will give a grand concert on March 18 and 19, 1885, at Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, for the purpose of finishing the parsonage. The singers for the occasion will be Miss Emma Fisher, Mrs. Abbe Lyons, Mr. J. Dupuy, and others. Admission, 25 cents.
MRS. REV. M. S. DALE, Pres.
MISS I. DALE, Secretary.
Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, 132 South Liberty street, near Perdido.

West Tennessee District—Tenn. Conf.

The following amounts are estimated to be raised for the benevolent causes by each circuit and charge for the year 1885:

	Mission	Fd Aid	Ch. Ex	Episo
Brownsville	$17 65	$8 80	$4 10	$2 30
Bells circuit	20 00	8 80	4 10	2 30
Clifton	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 80
Clarksburg	12 50	8 80	4 10	2 30
Dyer circuit	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 30
Friendship	17 80	8 80	4 10	2 80
Henderson	18 00	8 80	4 10	2 80
Linden	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 30
Lawrenceburg	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 80
Mansfield	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 80
Mason	20 00	8 80	4 10	2 80
Martin	17 65	8 80	4 10	2 80
Memphis	21 00	8 80	4 10	2 80
Memphis circuit	20 00	8 80	4 10	2 30
Purdy circuit	12 50	8 80	4 10	2 30
Paris	19 45	8 80	4 10	2 80
Pleasant Grove	20 00	8 80	4 10	2 80
Waynesboro	20 00	8 80	4 10	2 80

JESSE PRICE, P. E.

Nashville District—Tennessee Conference.

Benevolent Assessments.

	Mis	Ch Ex.	Fd Aid	Bish.	Edmon	Epis.	Tract	Conf.
Brentwood	$10 00	$5 00	$10 00	$5 00	$10 00	$2 30	$2 50	$10 00
Cumberland	10 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Dixon	7 00	3 00	7 00	3 00	7 00	2 30	2 50	7 00
Dover	10 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Franklin	35 00	10 00	20 00	10 00	20 00	2 30	2 50	20 00
Gallatin	25 00	10 00	15 00	5 00	15 00	2 30	2 50	15 00
Gallatin circuit	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Hartsville	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Lebanon	35 00	10 00	20 00	10 00	20 00	2 30	2 50	20 00
Lebanon circuit	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Mitchellville	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville	100 00	25 00	50 00	25 00	50 00	2 30	2 50	50 00
Nashville, Broadway	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Capitol Hill	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Clark Chapel	100 00	25 00	50 00	25 00	50 00	2 30	2 50	50 00
Nashville, Edgefield	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Edgefield circuit	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Edgefield station	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Mission	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Wesley Chapel	100 00	25 00	50 00	25 00	50 00	2 30	2 50	50 00
Nashville, West End	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nashville, Woodland	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Nolensville	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Springfield	15 00	5 00	10 00	5 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
Springhill	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00
White Bluff	10 00	5 00	10 00	3 00	10 00	2 30	2 50	10 00

SAMES PICKETT, P. E.

Gulf District—Mississippi Conf.

First Round.

New Hope	Mar.	7- 8
Union Church	"	10-11
Fayette circuit	"	12
Fayette	"	14 15
Hamburg and Meadville	"	16
Liberty	"	17 18
Purvis	"	20
Hattiesburg and Vernal	"	21-23
Spring Chapel	"	23-24
Bay St. Louis and Pearlington	"	24-27
Pass Christian	"	28 29
Handsboro and Ocean Springs	"	30-31
Pascagoula	Apr.	1- 3
Brookhaven and Hazlehurst	"	4- 5
Columbia	"	9-10
China Grove	"	11-12
Summit and Magnolia	"	18-19
Georgetown	"	25 26

W. McDONALD, P. E.

San Antonio District—West Texas Conference.

Second Round.

Fredericksburg	Mar.	21-22
Pleasanton	"	28-29
San Antonio	Apr.	4- 5
Lavernia	"	11-12
Pegram	"	11-12
Riddleville	"	18-19
Goliad and Centerville	"	25 26
Quero and Mission Valley	May	2- 3
Victoria	"	9-10
Monroes and Edna	"	16 17
Hallettsville	"	23-24
Gonzales	"	30-31
Mr. Vernon	"	30-31
Belmont	June	6- 7
San Marcos	"	13-14

G. W. RICHARDSON, P. E.

Palestine District.

Second Round.

Palestine	Mar.	21-22
Rocky Mound	"	28-29
Butler circuit	Apr.	4- 5
Fairfield	"	11 12
Cotton Gin	"	18 19
Shiloh and Hopewell	"	25-26
Leona	May	2- 3
Madison	"	9-10
Crockett and Aimwell	"	16-17
Jacksonville	"	23-24
Hawkins and Center	"	30-31
Mineola and Quitman	June	6- 7
Sabine and Shelby	"	13 14
San Augustine	"	16-17

G. W. SMITH, P. E.

To Members of the Central Alabama Conference.

Dear Brethren—I can not send your minutes by express. Please send 20 cents in stamps and I will send them through the mail.
A. W. McKINNEY.
Huntsville, Ala., Mar. 2, 1885.

Notice.

The Central Alabama Conference Board of Church Extension will meet at Birmingham on the 3rd of April. In order to receive attention all applications for aid should be previously sent to the Secretary, Rev. I. Townsend. The Board will meet at 10 a. m., in the Methodist Episcopal Church.
O. NELSON, Pres.

Lexington Conference.

The sixteenth session will be held in Wiley Chapel M. E. Church, Springfield, Ohio, April 2, 1885

Wednesday night—Conference sermon, by Rev. A. Booker.

Thursday night—Sunday school Union Anniversary address, by Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., "The Story of our Minister."

Friday night—Missionary and Freedmen's Aid Anniversary; missionary sermon by Rev. W. C. Echols; Freedmen's Aid addresses, by Rev. A. Posey and G. W. Zeigler.

Saturday night—Church Extension anniversary, addresses by Revs. G. W. Thomas and M. S. Johnson.

Monday night—The Ministerial Relief Association will hold its annual meeting.

The preachers on the Ohio District will meet in the above named church Wednesday morning, April 1st, to perfect their statistical reports.

JOSEPH COURTNEY, P. E.
HENRY W. TATE, Pastor.

Temperance Campaign in New Orleans.

A series of Temperance meetings will be held under the auspices of the National Temperance Society, 58 Reade street, New York, at the following churches—

Wednesday, March 11, 7 p m—Sixth Street M. E. Church, Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Clinton Street M. E. Church, Carrollton, Rev. A. J. Ford, pastor.

Thursday, March 12, 7 p m—Wesley Chapel M. E. Church, Rev. M. Dale, pastor. Lusharpe Street M. E. Church, Rev. E. Clark, pastor. First Street M. E. Church, Rev. J. Qualls, pastor.

Friday, March 13, 7 p m—Amo Zion, near Barracks, Rev. Chas Williams, pastor. Simpson Chapel M. E. Church, Valence street, Rev. T. Jackson, pastor.

Sunday, March 15, 7 p m—Union Chapel M. E. Church, Bienville street, Rev. S. Duncan, pastor. Thomason Chapel M. E. Church, Poet street, Rev. Z. T. Gayden, pastor. Camp Parapet M. E. Church, Rev. T. J. Johnson, pastor. St. Matthew M. E. Church, Algiers, Rev. R. C. Barrow, pastor. Amer. M. E. Church, St. Charles street, Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Haven Chapel M. E. Church, Carrollton, Rev. M. C. B. Mason, pastor.

Monday, March 16, 7 p m—Pleasant Plain M. E. Church, Perdido street, Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor.

Wednesday, March 18, 7 p m—Mt. Zion M. E. Church, Rev. J. W. Hudson, pastor.

Navasota District—Texas Conference.

Second Round.

San Felipe	Mar.	21-22
Patterson	"	28-29
Hempstead	Apr.	4- 5
Courtney	"	8- 9
Plantersville	"	11-12
Franklin	"	18-19
Bryan	"	15-16
Hearn	"	25-26
Bryan circuit	"	18-19
Caldwell and Burleson	"	21-22
Millheon	"	25-26
Anderson	May	2- 3
Prairie Plain	"	9 10
Navasota	"	16-17
Brenham circuit	"	20-21
Brenham station	"	23 24
Belleville	"	30-31

W. B. PULLAM, P. E.

New Light on Rheumatism.

"I had been completely disabled from rheumatism. I used Parker's Tonic for kidney disease, when to my astonishment the rheumatism completely disappeared." So writes Mrs Henry Bogert, of No. 454 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Rheumatism arises from the failure of the kidneys to seperate the uric acid from the blood.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

WANTED Christian men and women to sell our "Child's Bible," with an introduction by Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D. One woman sold 51 in two weeks, one 90 in two small towns, one man 40 the first four days among strangers, one 65 in a town of 674 people, one 73 in a village of 794. Give previous business experience. CASSELL & CO., Limited.
mar19-2t 822 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE,
Mar. 14, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9@—; Middling 10¼@—; Good Middling, 10¾@—; Middling fair, 11 1-16.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5⅝; White clarified, 5¼@5¾; Common 4¼@4¾c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 26@33; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4¾ fair, 5¼@5⅝; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 20@22.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 4.65; Choice, 4.52; Family, 3.75.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7½.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, $1; Fine, $1 02½.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $1.65@1.80; sweet potatoes, $2.50 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. —@$4.25; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.50@$5.50; cabbages, $3.00@$3 25 per crate; sour kront, $4.00@5.00 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 18@—; coal, in bbl. 13@—; linseed, raw, 62@63; boiled, 63@65; cotton seed, 28@50.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $13.37.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 6; sides, short rib, 7½; sides, long clear, 7½; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6¾; clear sides, 6¾; shoulders, 4.7@4 8.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3.00@$3 50; ducks, $2.00@2.50; geese $4.@$5; turkeys $9.00@12.00.

Western Eggs —@15c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 13@14c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50@$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.00@3.50; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4 00@—— turkeys $15.00@17.00.

These desiring new music books for their Sunday-schools should not fail to notice the advertisements of "Heavenly Voices" and "Sabbath Bells." "Heavenly Voices" is a new book just ready. "Sabbath Bells" has been before the public one season, and thousands of them have been sold. See advertisement in this issue.

Constant consumers of RIDGE'S FOOD will find the $1.75 the most economical size to buy. Druggists should keep it, but if you cannot procure this size of your Druggist send the amount with full address to Woolrich & Co., Palmer, Mass., and they will forward a can, express paid.

HEADQUARTERS
—FOR—
Sunday-school Supplies
Consisting of
GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with or without music.
Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.
Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock
W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94..... Camp Street, ...94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

E. W. Scheffel,
GENERAL
Book-Binder,
Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.
37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.
Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books Re-bound, Plain or Ornamental jan22

WANTED A WOMAN
of tense, energy and respectability for our business in her locality, middle-aged preferred. SALARY $35 to $50. References exchanged. GAY BROS., 14 Barclay St., N. Y.
mar19-8t

NEW USES OF
DIAMOND DYES
New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.
They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.
Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo, as sample, or a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
THE DIAMOND PAINTS,
GOLD, SILVER,
COPPER and BRONZE,
For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
mar5l3t

Send for Price List and Circular!
AUTOMATIC
"NO TENSION" SEWING MACHINE.
NOISELESS—LIGHTEST RUNNING.
Most Beautiful and Durable Work,
AND DOES NOT INJURE HEALTH.
Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Broadway, N. Y.
nov6-16t eow

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS
Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured 11. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.
feb26-1 t

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jeffersoo, W
mar5-52t

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.
292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.
feb19-26t

JEWETT'S
Established 35 Years.
Largest Refrigerator Works in the World.

REFRIGERATORS.
feb19 26

An Offer
Never Equaled!
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The TIMES DEMOCRAT,
NEW ORLEANS,
—AND—
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The NEW YORK WORLD,
NEW YORK,
FOR ONE YEAR
Only $2.20.
OR
THE TWO WEEKLIES
—AND A—
Waterbury Watch and Chain
FOR $4.20.
Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a
First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the NEWS OF THE WORLD,
by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.
SUBSCRIPTIONS
Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY,
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov23-1y

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager,)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
20.....Toulouse Street.....20
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.
No transactions on Sundays. sept28-tf

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

MILLERS and FARMERS
Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and Cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro. Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga.
may22-1y

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta Ga.
mar20-52t

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20—NO 13. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MARCH 26, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 802.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,
28 Ratchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

ADVERTISING RATES.

Editorial Notes.

The membership are mainly—yet are one;
One body
To every Quickening
the whole.
What member owns no more its sweet control
Is dead—insensible to joy or smart;
Nor feels the permeating current roll
Which gave it union with the head and heart, Nor can in life's great task perform its filling part.

The North American Review for March is on hand, solid and sensible as usual.

The [illegible] advise anybody. North or South, who is alarmed about social equality to hang their equality higher up, and then to push on with the work of uplifting human[ity] by every means within the limits of their possibility.

Now we begin to see indications [illegible] fair dealing for which [illegible] are proverbial when they get down to heartfelt ex[illegible]. The Nashville, and [illegible] Advocates, and St Louis [illegible] Democrat have pronounced some sober and well becoming speeches on the war being now waged upon the Soudanese.

The so called Christain nations [illegible] tracking their path through heathen and Mohammedan lands in blood. These bloody foot prints do not lead in the direction of the [illegible] of the world. Christian [illegible] and nobly said, and it [illegible] our view of the case to the very last analysis.

We feel more like planting the old [illegible] Methodist Episcopal Church [illegible] ever before; it is because we have a colored Editor. But this has been said too often with [illegible] stating the cause. He can [illegible] not as a philanthropist but as a sufferer with us. We [illegible] it as an act of fraternity for which we must be thankful. We wish him success."—R. K. Whitney, Cotton Gin, Tex.

The Pittsburgh Ch. Advocate, has discovered and feels happy because it has found out some Philadelphia girls who propose to establish a gymnasium and skating rink especially for ladies. Well we see nothing wrong in it ourself, and we are decidedly in favor of plenty of good exercise for girls. But some how we had the old fogie notion that in every well regulated home there would be a kitchen, dining-room, laundry, and perhaps a little garden for flowers, or vegetables or both, and that therein the girls could have all needed exercise.

For the SOUTHWESTERN

Sermon by Bishop Walden in Ames Church, New Orleans.

REPORTED BY REV. W. GEORGE.

Ames Church was honored on Sunday morning by the presence and services of Bishop Walden, assisted by Dr. Rust, of the Freedman's Aid Society. The attendance, owing to the wet weather, was very small, but the Bishop preached an excellent and profitable ser non from Phil. 3, 10 11

Said the Bishop: The Apostle Paul was here stating what, having prized and prided himself on as a Jew he had given up in exchange for his faith and hope in Jesus Christ, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ and righteousness by faith in him. Everything we receive in this life we get by a process of barter and exchange, and in order to obtain the above priceless blessings the Apostle Paul gave up all that many hold dear. It was not a mere historic knowledge of Christ that he thus so ardently desired. He had this, of course, for he had listened to Stephen's dying sermon, and had had a higher revelation directly from the Savior himself both at the time of his conversion and afterwards, but it was a fuller knowledge. There were two leading elements which seem to enter [illegible] the conception of the Apostle. [illegible] resurrection, of his being alive after death, and having lead captivity captive. Paul desired to know him as a living man. He knew we are reconciled by his death, but we are saved by his continued life, and this knowledge of Christ as a living Savior constantly watching over and waiting to reward him was a fact in which Paul constantly rejoiced. Though eighteen centuries have passed we, too, like the Apostle, can rejoice and trust in the same living Redeemer. Another element was that Jesus Christ was to the Apostle God manifest in the flesh. He did not trust in any human Savior. He knew that Christ was a great teacher, and his epistles were largely devoted to elaborating the seed-thoughts Jesus had left behind him, but as being divine and human, as being the embodiment of all former wisdom and love, "God manifest in the flesh," he glorified and trusted him. We have the same thought for our comfort and rejoicing to-day. Our Christ is a living Savior sitting at the right hand of God, but there as our friend and elder brother, and when our hearts yearn for a comforting presence in the work, toils, trials and triumphs of life, there walking alongside of us is the living Christ, the mighty God, and yet our tender, loving, ever present brother. Then Paul goes further; he desires "to know the power of his resurrection." Not the fact of the resurrection itself; of that he was perfectly satisfied, and gives us the proofs in his first letter to the Corinthians; but Paul wanted to know the power by which Christ achieved that victory over the grave. He was conscious of the close relation between the kingdom of life and the kingdom of death. We are always walking through the valley of the shadow of death. That expression does not mean Jordan. We are in the shadow of death now. There is scarcely a thing upon our tables which is gratifying to our taste but has come to us through death. The flowers do not begin to shed their perfume in [illegible] sweetness till they are fully unfolded and about to die. The fruit is not ripe and luscious till its growth has ceased. The Apostle recognized the universal shadow, and rejoices in the application of Christ's resurrection power not only to animate nature but to his own soul which had hitherto been dead in trespasses and sins. He had felt the thrill of new life, and that experience is not confined to apostolic days. We pass through the same valley of the shadow, and when we take hold of Christ by living faith we find that the power which broke the seals and rolled the stone away and led captivity captive, touches our hearts and they leap into new life. What a wonderful community of spiritual experience is ours! The same power that thrills through the heart of the humble penitent to-day is that power which can cause the scales to fall from the eyes of the Apostle and enabled him to go forth from that time, "the love of Christ constraining him;" to do battle for the Lord. Then the fellowship of Christ's sufferings. To enable him to be our Savior and friend, he must needs lay his glory by and while tabernacle in human flesh, and stand alongside of us as our brother and helper, so that there may be fellowship between us and him. This fellowship therefore begins in suffering, and so continues. The Apostle rejoices [illegible] knowledge [illegible] of it, only suffering can properly develop Christian character. Then Paul entered into the meaning of the Savior's sufferings. The object of his humiliation, of his life and death was the salvation of men, and every time Paul preached the Gospel, every time he endured privation or trial in the prosecution of his life-work, he entered into the fellowship with Christ in suffering. Those who in war time stay at home and watch and pray and labor quickly for the success of their country's arms, enter into fellowship with the soldier on the battle-field, for the cause each has at heart is the same. Paul's sympathy and labors went beyond himself to bless and benefit the world, and there he came into sympathy and fellowship with Christ in his work for men. He rejoiced not for his own experience alone, but in the salvation of others, and it is that same joy which is felt in heaven over the sinner that repenteth, and that same theme which furnishes the substance of the everlasting joy of redemption, not personal redemption alone, but the redemption of the world. The special end of this experience and desire is "If by any means I may attain unto the resurrection from the dead." Paul knew of the valley of the shadow; he had, by Christ's spirit, been quickened into newness of life, but he looked for another resurrection. The general resurrection of the just and unjust at the last day is fixed in the order of God's providence and comes about in accordance with his own promise from the beginning, but Jesus undertook to save men fully, and when our faith takes hold of him and we feel the quickening power of his life, it is to us a pledge that this resurrection power shall touch and change the body. That is the first resurrection. Take Paul's own words in proof of this. "And if Christ be in you the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is life because of righteousness," and if our faith has touched the Spirit of Christ "He that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you."

That he might attain to this permanent resurrection, which is the result of the resurrection before mentioned, viz: that one from trespasses and sins to newness of life that Christ's Spirit might touch, change and transform his present mortal body into the likeness of Christ's glorious body, is the hope and intense desire of the Apostle. Glory be to God for the experience we too can carry into our own lives, and which is the pledge and highest hope of becoming ultimately and eternally like him. If we have experienced the first resurrection from sin we shall also experience the second resurrection into endless bliss, where we shall see the Savior as he is and know him even as also we are known.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Easter.

W. E. HARRIS.

During the period of even the briefest lives, many events are to be celebrated and many characters to be revered. The 15th day of April was that employed by the Jews on which to celebrate this glorious triumph, and we having employed a day so near it, are called Judaizing Christians. However, no difference what specific day is preferable, our obligations [illegible] sincere and divine [illegible] as prominently manifest. The burning sun has oft before lighted the dawn of the great historic days, but as the same sun fell beneath the western horizon many from a lack of interest held the commemoration of the occasion only in forgetfulness. But so mutual were the benefits of the sacrifice by the humble servant Christ that none can forget, nor few fail to do reverence. There once lived a great Cæsar, well introduced to the minds of a whole world, who wielded the arbitrary sceptre to the good will of himself, and to the sad grief and displeasure of a nation, yet he was honored, he lived, he died, was buried, and was never, never known to return. There lived in another time Martin Luther, an early sainted advocate of orthodox Christianity; he commanded the reverence of multitudes, was a formidable power in his advocacy, but eventually he became a slave to the infirmity of declining day, breathed his last and was likewise placed in the bosom of the earth; he has never been known to return. And in still more recent time, an honest, an able warm-hearted man, was chosen to the chief executive authority of our nation; as he was about to reach the goal of life, an ignominious, pernicious character cut down the source of his existence. A host of friends mourned, a nation grieved. He was torn from the bosom of us all; he was buried in the persistent prevalence of grief, and he has been never known to return. Say you that there was one who arose, who did return. He lived not in the favorable lordly surroundings that Cæsar, having a concourse of subjects to drive hither and thither at his will, with hordes of filthy lucre intended to be stored up for his domestic comfort. He was not generally received even among his own, like that of Luther. He knew not the hearty reception of universal reverence and sycophantical bestowals as the beloved Garfield, but in my estimation he was greater than them all. Such a one was a given Savior. Say what you will of him, he was but the Son of God, in earth's disguise. He was a man of men; he turned the grief and privation of many a desolate family into comfort and prosperity. He turned countless stains of guilt and honor in many a heart to cleanliness and purity, and placed in the hand of every one that would receive, without compensation, a gift that could neither be seen nor taken away; was it not reasonable that his Apostles, his Disciples should love him? Yes they loved him, they worshipped him, yet in defiance of all that love he suffered the subterfuge and insolence of the ungrateful Jews, was crucified, dead and buried, and placed in that voiceless solitude of final repose. Now the Apostles, those Disciples, those lovers are left alone, their leader having been maliciously stricken down. They can but lament, saying, life is dark and cold without Thee, sleep Thee there alone. But was that he who returned? Who arose? On the third day, the stone was rolled away. His anxious followers are once more revived, the whole world is left in profound astonishment, and even the very Jews who blasphemed, who consented to his death are compelled to cry out, "Who have I on earth beside Thee? Who in Heaven but Thee?" The last redeeming feature, he ascended into that region where they know not the sorrow of time, and even so intercedes, that the satanic dungeons of sin and degenerate proneness can be now lightness and purified by the sunlight of salvation; that the soul born in original depravity can now hold claim to the new birth of righteousness; that an entire unfortunate nation can now take refuge from the condition of eternal misery and praise a merciful God, the bountiful giver of all, for such an incalculable gift, that renders us in the preparedness to behold. The darkness all hath passed away; the morning just began.

Baltimore, Md.

Methodist Episcopal Churches And Pastors In New Orleans, La.

Ames Chappel, St Charles Street, Thos Stalker; pastor; Camp Parapet, Hollen street, T. J. Johnson, pastor; Clinton Street, Clinton street, A. J. Ford, pastor; First Street Church, First street, J. Qualls, pastor; Gretna, M. T. Failfax, pastor; Haven Chapel, Jefferson street, M, C. B. Mason, pastor; La Harpe Church, La Harpe street, E. Clark, pastor; Mount Zion, Jackson street, J. W Hudson, pastor; Pleasant Plains, Perdido street, W. P. Forest; pastor; Simpson Chapel, Valence street, T. P. Jackson, pastor; Sixth street Church, Sixth street, E. Lyon, pastor; St Matthews, Algiers, R. C. Barrow, pastor; Thomsou Chapel, Poet street, Z. T. Gayden, pastor; The Barracks J. Benn, pastor; Union Chapel Bienville street, S. Duncan, pastor; Wesley Chapel, Liberty street, M. Dale, pastor; First German, Franklin street, J. J. Kienle, pastor; Second German Eighth street, C. Schuler, pastor; Third German, N. Rampart street, H. Hofman, pastor.

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.,
W. F. MALLALIEU, Resident Bish.

Sunday-school week of the Methodist Episcopal Churches of New Orleans:

Sunday, March 22.—First German, 10:30 a. m.; Third German 3:30 p. m.; Second German, 7:30 p. m.

Monday, March 23.—Sixth Street 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, March 24.—Clinton Street, 4:00 p. m.; Mount Zion, 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday, March 25.—Union Chapel Children's Service, 4 p. m.: Wesley Chapel, sermon by T. Stalker, 7:30 p. m.

Tuesday, March 26.—Pleasant Plains, 4 p. m.; Ames Chapel, 7:30 p. m.

Friday, March 27.—Haven Chapel, 4 p. m.; Simpson Chapel, 7:30 p. m.

Saturday, March 28.—First Street Children's Service, 4 p. m.

Sunday, March 29.—Each pastor is requested to preach on some topic connected with Sunday school Work.

Rev. A. H. Gillett, and L. P. Cushman, M. W. Taylor, D. D., Bishop Mallalieu, and the pastors are expected to be present at these meetings.

Various matters of great practical importance will be discussed.

African Methodism in New Orleans.

There are five African Methodist Episcopal congregations in this city, viz.:

St. James, the oldest and largest, existed before the war, Rev. R. F. Hurly is pastor. It reports 275 members and is situated on Roman street between Custombouse and Bienville.

St. Peters, Rev. Franklin James, pastor, on Ballard street, has 85 members.

St. Johns', Algiers, J. F. Cox, pastor, 119 members.

Union Bethel, J. D. Haynes, pastor, corner Thalia and Liberty streets, 217 members.

Morris Brown No. 2, S. Parker, pastor, 95 members, between Bagatelle and Union, on Goodchilden streets. All are wooden structures except the first. The Rev. Johnson Reed is presiding elder and resides 227 Royal street. The total membership 791, churches 5.

Latest Books from Our Book Concern.

A Railroad Waif.—By Mrs. C. B. Sargent, author of "Glimpse of the Celestial Country," "The Mother and her Children," etc. Cincinnati: Cranston & Stowe; New York: Phillips & Hunt. Publishers price, 75 cents.

Here is something both attractive in mechanical style, useful in matter, and exceedingly pleasing in manner. It contains 191 pages, 24 chapters, is a handsome 16mo. volume, bound in cloth, and gold, plain type, and well calculated to be introduced and used instructively in every home. It illustrates the result of neglected childhood, and cannot fail to be useful to both parents and children. We can certainly commend it to all farmers keeping servants, especially in the [illegible]nth. The ideal Negro in this book is a rather docile sort of harmless creature, but it is nevertheless quite true to the character of the best class of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware Negroes who were house servants on farms owned by Christian people. Indeed, from this class sprung most of the older class of Negroes in useful prominence to-day. It is a first-rate book for Sunday school teachers to read, and it does not fail to point out the lack of interest with which many professing Christians view the outcasts around, and excuse themselves from the duty such instances involve. There is a seemingly incidental but really intended thrust at communism, and upon the whole a first-class story with a good moral for every class of readers.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. G. R. Smith, pastor, Alleyton, Texas, writes: "Young ladies and gentlemen, make few promises. Always speak the truth. Keep good company or none. Never speak evil of any one. Live up to your engagements. Be just before you are generous. Never play at any game of chance. Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors. Good character is above all things. Keep your own secrets, if you have any. Never borrow if you can help it. Never marry until you are able to support a wife Keep yourself innocent if you wish to be happy. When you speak to a person look them in the face. Make no haste to be rich, if you would be happy. Ever live within your income. Save when you are young to spend when you are old. Avoid temptation, through fear you may not stand it. Never run in debt unless you can see a way to get out. Small and steady gains give competency, with a tranquil mind. Good company and good conversation are the sinews of virtue. If necessary to refuse an invitation from any one, do so politely and respectfully. Your character can not be essentially injured, except by your own conduct. If any speak evil of you let your life be so that no one will believe them."

Rev. T. G. Montgomery, of Shreveport, La., writes: "I arrived at my appointment on the 15th. It was very cold and everything was covered with snow. On Sunday I met the Sunday-school and found fifteen scholars, and I had quite a nice time with them. I preached at 11 o'clock, Sunday, my text was: "I have come to send fire on earth." I preached again a night. Our collection was small, being but $6.34; but our people are poor, and the congregation is small. The people are very kind and good hearted here, and on the whole, I spent quite an enjoyable day."

Rev. George W. Norris, pastor, Queen City, Texas, writes: "I arrived at this place December 5th, found about 20 members. The weather was quite cold and we had a good deal of rain, so the people did not turn out so well. This little town is located in Cass county, Southeastern, Texas. It has a population of about 400 people. There has been a fair degree of business here, principally saw milling, but whiskey and ignorance neutralize the good effects of these business chances to a large measure. I have another appointment on the circuit, about 17 miles from here, at which there are about 17 members and a good Sunday-school. Our presiding elder, Rev. H. Webb, is leading his preachers and people on to righteousness more abundantly. He is sympathetic and kind and seems to be trying to do all the good he can. I think, when a preacher has a hard field and works hard, his elder ought to sympathize with him, and that is what our elder does. I said to one of my members the other Sunday that we had a colored editor for the SOUTHWESTERN and some of the Baptist people at once subscribed, so you see the world moves. This is an age of liberty, and progress and you can not keep it back."

Rev. Aaron Taylor, Palestine, writes: "I came here on the 5th of December and have had quite a pleasant time for everybody was looking for me and I was not a stranger to them. They had $21 ready collected to move my family, and on the 13th of December we were together in Palestine "praising God from whom all blessings flow." Since that time they have given me a suit of clothes from Wanamaker & Brown, Philadelphia, they said they wanted me to look like a preacher when I got up before them. Although times are very hard, still this is what has been done for me since I arrived here, besides my salary, which has averaged $25 per month, although we have but fifty-five full members. They also had a festival on the 13-14 of this month, which was raised $30.50 for the benefit of the Church. We are expecting to prepare the St Paul Church, of Palestine for the next conference, though we have a hard year for it we are yet determined to try, and if we get ready I hope the brethren will not fail to let us have it for the conference has never been held in this district, and the people of Palestine say they want it. We have on hand for missions $5. We expect our Centennial Jubilee the third Sunday in May, and are looking for a grand time. The work is moving along grandly, both spiritually and temporally. Sinners are being converted and all things are well. Pray for us, that the word of God may have free course."

Rev. J. H. Hargrave, of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, writes: "Dear brother, I thought you would like to hear from your old field of labor. So I send you the following: I have finished my second year, where you sent me to build a church, and have built a nice little chapel, and payed $450 on it, and I still owe $275.00. We have held our fourth quarterly meeting and are closing up our year's work in peace. There has been a vast increase at Marlu's Ferry, and all of your friends are living yet, and they often speak of you and wish to see you. My family are still at Oberlin, and my daughter is still attending school. I send you six subscribers, besides myself; and will send many more as soon as they see your paper."

Rev. A. Alexander, of Anderson circuit, writes: I "arrived at my Post December 1st, 1884. I found both the people and the church in a very bad condition, owing to the failure of the crops in this section. It has caused our Church to run in debt to the amount of $158 85. I found the church closed, and the weather has been so bad I have not seen all my people. I held my first quarterly conference the 14th of February. The presiding elder, preached, his text being "No discharge in this war." The weather being bad we only had 12 to administer the Lord's supper to. We have 20 charges in Navasota district, and according to the report of the annual conference, each pastor received $150 00 last year. The trouble here is, one preacher works hard to build up the Church, another comes and takes his place, who will sit down and do nothing and let the Church run in debt for some one else to pay."

Rev. M. Dale, pastor of Wesley Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, writes: "We had a splendid time at our Lord's supper last Sunday night. We administered the sacrament to 252; three of whom were converts. All were made to feel happy, and I was glad to see the spirit of God take such good effect in the Church. The Lord was with us all day, and I was glad to see the Spirit so truly manifested."

Rev. R. R. Whitney, pastor at Cotton Gin, Texas writes: "On my arrival here I found a wide awake set of members, who seem to be willing to take hold of most any thing that comes to hand, and yet there are some who have been to the grunter's school, who will do all in their power to accomplish much by grunting. We are here and here to "cry mightily for the Master." This is a beautiful country. This circuit lies East of the city of Mexia, about two miles on a direct line to Fairfield, beautifully situated with lively creeks and branches, what a good place for a camping? My first quarterly conference was conduoted by Elder P. G. Brown, who is to be a presiding elder, I trust before long. Elder Brown preached us a sermon which made everybody listed with profound attention. Thirty participated in taking the Lord's supper."

Rev. A. N. Jackson, pastor at Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I am making a short tour soliciting aid in behalf of our very pressing church debt at Gadsden, Ala. As far as I have visited our preachers and people in Tennessee, they seem to be progressing finely. At Chattanooga station, Rev. B. H. Johnson, pastor, and of its circuit, Rev John Crawford, pastor, I received a hearty welcome; both of them aided me in my object. The African Methodist Episcopal and African Methodist Episcopal Zion Churches in this city helped me also. Bro. Johnson seems to be holding his own here and marching on to victory. At Murfreesboro, Rev. C. L. Steward, pastor, I received aid also the African Methodist Episcopal Church here, helped me. Bro. Steward has has a history here which bespeaks for him quite a commendation, it is the place of his boyhood; he was raised, converted, joined the Church, licensed to preach, recommended to and received into the Annual Conference, received his first appointment, (from Bishop Scott) been an itinerant, this being the seventh year, and his third appointment; courted the wife he now has when she was hired to a white family, who then lived in the same house, which he now occupies as a parsonage of the Church here. He is a self-made man but demands the respect of all by his upright living. He has now become pastor of his boyhood playmates, his father and mother, and many relatives, which yet live here. He has a large membership and a congregation of not less than 1,000 refined people, many are well off in this world's goods, being worth from $10,000 down. While here I did desire that our Mississippi antagonist could be here and look at the improvement of this people. I remained with him a week, preaching every night to a crowded house. He was holding a protracted meeting, had 7 conversions. Their treatment of me was all heart cold desire. I am now at Bro. A. Phillips of Clark Chapel, Nashville, who gave me a cordial welcome. The trustees will publish my itemized report on my return. May God bless our brethren of Tennessee."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Progress of Protestantism Reviewed—III.

BY REV. MACK HENSON.

A COMPARATIVE VIEW.

In the year 1800 the English speaking population of the globe did not exceed twenty-four millions. Five and a half millions were Roman Catholics; four and a half millions were of no particular religion; and fourteen millions were Protestants. The Bible which in the year 1800 existed only in one fifth of the earth's population, has now been translated into the languages of nine-tenths of the inhabitants of the world. The Sunday schools one hundred years ago were just coming into being in 1830 had less than two millions of teachers and scholars; now have a world wide existence, and over fourteen millions of members. Of Evangelical Protestant faith, there are, in the world, over 1,504,613 officers and teachers, and 12,680,267 scholars; total 14,184,880; this does not include the increase of two years. The Sunday-school work has assumed large proportion within the hundred years of their existence. We have in the United States, according to last census, 98,303 Sunday schools; 7,668,833, scholars, officers and teachers 1,043,718; total 8,712,551, out of a population of 50,155,883, organized in 1,364 counties. In the Dominion of Canada there are 4,965 Sunday-schools, and 370,154 scholars, officers and teachers 43,730; total 413,884. In 1871 the population was 3,634,018, in New Fonndland, and Labrador, 248 Sunday-schools; scholars, 17,812; teachers, 1,772; total, 19,593; population 161,374, without the population of Labrador. Total for the United States and British American Provinces, Sunday-schools, 103,028; scholars, 8,056,799; teachers, 1,089,229; total, 9,146,028; population, 53,951,175; in Africa we have 158,745 scholars; teachers, 8,355; total, 167,100; by Rev. Geo. Thompson of Oberlin, Ohio.

ROMANI NFLUENCE ANNIHILATED.

In less than three hnndred and fifty years, the reformation has totally annihilated the influence of Rome, upon the laws and government of the civilized world. Once the slightest whisper of the Roman Pontiff upon political affairs caused every throne of Europe to nod their sanction; but now his utterances are little esteemed, and less obeyed. The Anglo Saxon race, now in the ascendency, has stretched its power over America, India, and Austria, has a history and temperament that will never allow itself to become the craven minion of Rome. Marvelous changes have taken place in China, innovation after innovation has been made, in 30 years accepting the Christian civilization, as a thing no longer to be resisted.

Japan is putting on the new civilization as a government; and Ethiopia stretches out her hands to God! and the purple streaks of early morning light are dispersing the blackness of the night, and the shadows of the world's great day dawn, and the fillets of its earliest rays appear. Christianity, with its civilizing, influence is felt throughout all quarters of the globe! And it is earnestly hoped that under the stentorian voice, and magic touch of our beloved Bishop William Taylor, there will be a mighty shaking in Africa's dark valley, among the "dry bones." He has laid plans to penetrate Central Africa, which has an area of two millions of square miles, occupied by seventy-five millions of people, who "sit in the region, and shadow of death."

BISHOP TAYLOR'S EMPIRE.

The good Bishop is perfecting and organizing his forces to concentrate and advance upon the enemy's works. The future must tell the ultimate results. This region is bounded on the North by Livingstone's river, East by the Great lakes, and on the West by the Atlantic Ocean, and South, by the tramping of Christian civilization, and the sound of the jubilee trumpet. Many new nations have been recently discovered, having remarkable characteristics, living in a well watered, and peculiarly fertile region. Bishop Taylor has decided to take this country for Jesus. His plan is to have a chain of from 15 to 20 stations established, from Loanda on the West coast to Tanganyik lake, in the East. Two parties enter the continent, one, from Loanda and the West, and the other from the Zambesi on the East coast. The Western under the direct personal supervision of the Bishop. The Eastern under Dr. Summers. Each party to consist of from 15 to 20 missionaries, and leaving two in each station, and the parties traveling until they meet each other at a certain central district, having completed the chain. The work is in harmony with the Methodist Episcopal Mission Board, but self-supporting. May God ever bless, and sustain these good men, who have consecrated themselves to this great work, and may men and women of our own race join them in the holy cause.

DAVID LIVINGSTONE.

Dr. David Livingstone had traversed this section in part. The Zambesi and Shire districts, in his efforts to finish his explorations of the watershed, and of the source of the Nile, Chitambo, and other contiguous villages were visited by that distinguished Christian explorer; and where on May 1st., 1873 on bended knees, he rendered up his Spirit to God. Resting his hands on his pillow, in which he buried his face, the emaciated frame nnstrnng by pain, the traveler passed into perfect rest. Susi, Chnma and Majwara, faithful natives, proved trne every particular to the sad end. Preparations were made by the natives to send his body to Zanzibar; special mourners sang and danced around the illnstrious dead "Englishman, who has different hair from ours; come round to see the Englishman." Shall sing "Redeeming love has been my theme and shall be till I die." The African has a large heart, and great capacity to love, and admire the great. That heart will be larger when warmed by the love of God; and then they will sing, "Thou dying lamb, thy precious blood, shall never lose its power, till the natives of the earth are saved, to sin more."

It required great leadership to plan and organize, for a march from Ilala to Zanzibar, a distance of over 3,000 miles; which required six months to accomplish it, to bring Dr. Livingstone's remains to his countrymen and friends. With marvelous and unprecedented courage, they pressed their way onward with their precious charge; it was indeed a feat without a parallell to be found anywhere on record during the nineteenth century! Thus, in his death, not less than in his life, does David Livingstone bear testimony to that good will and kindliness which exists in the heart of the African!

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Needs of the Negro.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

Third Paper.

There was still another class of our friends who established schools, gave of their means liberally for the education of the race, and some even came among us telling salvation's story, teaching our schools, administering to the sick, clothing the naked and helping the needy. These friends dared to be ostracised by Negro haters, ku-kluxed at night, insulted on the streets by the scum of the cities and towns, denied lodging and board in the hotels and public places, and some even sacrificed their lives in trying to educate and Christianize a race just from under the yoke of slavery, the most cruel in the world's history. I wish that I had the eloquence and beauty of language to enable me to pay a just tribute to the lives of the many true soldiers of Christ who fell in a work so noble and Christ-like, and to-day so very encouraging. If I were able I would erect a monument to their memory at the capital of this nation that would be more lasting than the pyramids or the pillars of Hercules. On this I would engrave their names so deep that time could never wear them away. These friends fought the battle of life so nobly, so well, that others now hasten their story to tell. They taught us that—

"The bravest man is he who owns,
Through good report and ill;
In sunshine, in the darkest hour,
A self reliant will.
Let come what may, no coward he,
For facing fate ere fearlessly,
He braved the most tempestuous sea.

Others may falter by the way,
Others may faint and fail,
But e'er he meets the worst,
And bravely conquers all.
He knows that far the clouds above
The stars e'er shine and grandly prove
The boundless measure of God's love.

Whoever in the ranks of truth,
Shall strive to reach the van,
And leads the right to victory,
Does honor to the man.
No laggard he, no slothful one,
For every day some good begun,
He toileth 'till his work is done.

Though fortune ill and cares oppress,
Though sorrow come and pain,
He knows there is in every grief
A victory to gain.
This warning precept on his mind
He points before, looks not behind.

Who would life's noblest battles win
Must struggle for the right,
And he when wrong and sin assail
A hero in the fight.
So that when earth and night are o'er,
His feet shall walk that shining shore
Where trouble cometh nevermore."

Though many of them did not live to see it, God blessed the work of his children and has so multiplied the friends of our race until every State in this Union has a system of public education for all of its children. And no man is a popular candidate for any position who does not advocate by the State, by the county, by the municipal government, and an appropriation from the general government sufficient to aid the future citizens of this country. The better classes of citizens all through the country are anxious to see ignorance banish and the glorious sunlight of education triumph. Men who once owned slaves are foremost among our Southern educators in advocating the education of all classes as the best means of bringing prosperity to the South. They now see that when educated the Negro will make a better citizen, a better neighbor, a better laborer and will contribute his share toward building up the South.

Wendell Phillips.

JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D.

Second Paper.

Wendell Phillips was born in Boston, Nov. 29th, 1811. His father and mother traced their ancestry back to the houses of William the Conqueror, and Alfred the Great. He was reared and educated amid the most refined, affluent and cultured society that the classic University of Harvard ever produced.

When he had grown to manhood high estate society held no secret, court no charmed circle which did not woo and court him to enter its enchanting precincts.

He graduated in 1831, from the Law Department of Cambridge with the most brilliant honors, and immediately thereafter he was admitted to the bar.

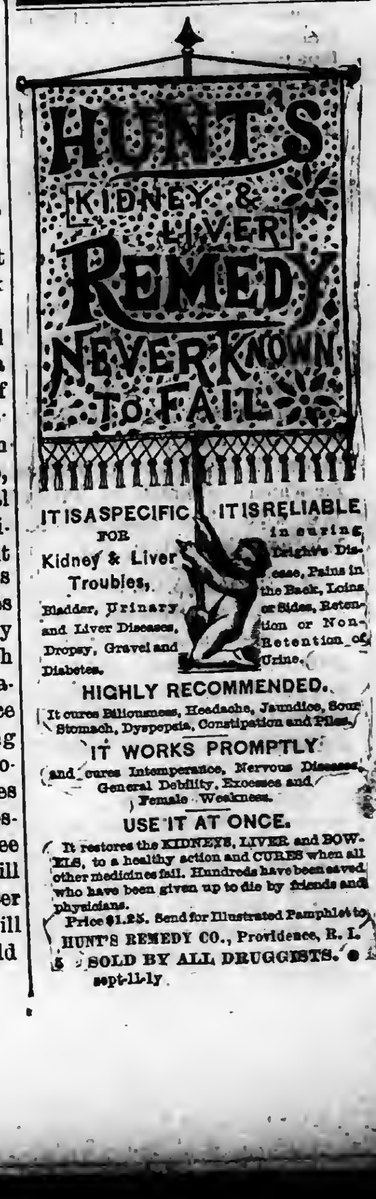
He thus entered upon active life, at a period full of political and moral activity, and he was a man already possessed of convictions on the great questions of the time.

William Lloyd Garrison had already made his declaration of principles on the slavery question, and the impeding conflict had already given more than one sign of its coming.

Young Philips had been admitted to the bar just one year when the great broadcloth mob occurred.

It was called the Broadcloth Mob, because men of wealth and intelligence inaugurated a cowardly and brutal assault upon a meeting of noble anti-slavery women whom Garrison was assisting to organize an anti-slavery society.

These Gallant Knights of the Broadcloth broke up this meeting, and chased, refined, delicate and well-bred ladies through the streets of Boston, like fiends broke loose from the wild orgies of Pandemonium.



They put rope around Mr. Garrison's neck, and dragged him through the streets with a pitiless cruelty, and by the merest accident he escaped with his life.

Tumultuous were these times in Boston, and men were indignant, and wrought themselves up to the white heat of passion when they beheld such scenes enacted in the city of the cradle of liberty, beneath the lofty shadows of Bunker Hill, which had already been baptized and consecrated in the best blood, both of Old and New England.

But nowhere in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, was a soul filled deeper with indignation than the soul of Wendell Phillips.

We can readily trace from these monstrous scenes, the beginning of Mr. Phillips anti-slavery enthusiasm.

One year from this time we find Mr. Phillips enrolled as one of the champions of the anti-slavery cause.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Sights and Insights in New Orleans.

JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D.

Third Paper.

THE UNITED STATES MINT.

This is a place which no stranger who visits New Orleans should fail to see. It is situated at the foot of Esplanade street, corner of Peter, and overlooks the Mississippi river. It is a magnificent three-story brick building, and its machinery is of the very finest material. The coiner's department will be found very interesting. You will here see the bullion in its crude state put into the hands of the melter and refiner and the assayer; it is then rolled into sheets of proper thickness and size, and then cut into the shape of the dollar; from thence it is placed in the place where it receives the stamp of the authority of the United States Government; from thence it passes into the hands of the adjusters, who weigh it to see if it is of full weight. The dollar is then polished and ready for circulation.

THE BARRACKS.

We will take the car at the corner of Esplanade and St. Peters streets and go down to the United States Barracks. The buildings are all built of brick, and are elegantly finished. The quarters for the soldiers are extremely clean and commodious, while those of the superior officers are handsome and exceedingly tasteful. The grounds comprise about forty acres, and front the Mississippi river. They present a most charming appearance at all times of the year. Groves of magnolias, with great, lovely white flowers greet the eye; look which way we may we behold the majestic live-oaks, like patriarchs hoar, standing sad and pensive, all covered with moss, while the murmuring breezes chant through their boughs a jubilant hymn to the sweet lullaby of the Great Father of Waters. All through the grounds are trees loaded with apples more beautiful than those of the Hesperides to charm the senses with incense as grateful as the spices of Araby or the aromas of Ceylon. Lilacs and fuchsias, oleanders, palm, sporum and the delicate flowers of classes innumerable, grace and adorn this beautiful spot.

THE BATTLE-FIELD OF CHALMETTE.

When we go down the river a few hundred yards and here we find the slaughter-house, the most gigantic amongst us in America. Here is where all the slaughtering in the city and parishes is done. It [illegible] south side. A half mile from here is the battle-field of Chalmette. On this grand old battle-ground, on the 8th of January, 1815, a foreign enemy was [illegible] to the fortunes of [illegible] river. [illegible] plain, which has drank the blood of two nations, may be truly termed the Golgotha of the South. The grim and hideous [illegible] colored king has [illegible] and has covered his kingdom in the beautiful green and flowering [illegible] of the plains of Chalmette. It is truly an historic [illegible] FORT AND [illegible] the Spanish Fort and [illegible] are [illegible] by the [illegible] Millaudon, is [illegible] was the Cape May of the South. Bayou St. John, West End and Spanish Fort were approached only through dense undergrowth and almost impenetrable marshes. Spanish Fort is truly an historical record. The Spaniards, in the year 1000, built a fort of solid masonry which is partly standing at this day, and if the stranger will inquire he will be shown cannon which was cast in the year 1500. The West End is a well built and very fashionable watering place and summer resort for all classes.

What will strike the stranger as very picturesque is our manner of burying the dead above ground. The reason of this is that our city is lower than the river bank, and in case of an overflow the remains would be washed out of their resting places. In these places, which are made sacred by the stillness of death, may be seen all manner of sculpturing. The chaste and elegant column of Phidias, the expressive carvings and delineations of Praxilitis are displayed amid the wilderness of Obelisks and magnificent mansoluems.

FOR THE SOUTHWESTERN

We May Take Courage and Go Forward.

REV. W. O. LYNCH.

EDITOR SOUTHWESTERN—The following article was taken from your paper of the 11th inst., It may do good to publish it again in connection with a few facts that have been realized in my years of observation and experience of seventeen years' labor among our people in the South and in the West and back to the South again. The following is the article:

"The colored people of Hancock, Ga., own 5,664 acres of land, valued at $25,793, and $5,118 worth of household and kitchen furniture, $44,728 worth of horses and mules, $3,207 worth of plantation tools. The aggregate value of the whole property given in for taxes by the colored people is $86,245."

If all our people could see their best interests as American citizens, they would follow the example of the colored people in Hancock, Georgia. The publication of such as this will encourage the colored people in this country. If the public presses over the country, both secular and religious, would publish more things praisworthy of the colored race the public sentiment would be more favorable toward them. Public educators of America, such as newspaper men and public speakers are largely responsible for the character of the public mind. Especially as it concerns humanity as men and brethren upon natural grounds of human equality. What may we say of the present condition of the colored people here in this portion of the South? They are certainly moving from plantation to plantation, and from house to house in towns, and cities. They can not do otherwise without a change. The majority of our people are better prepared to do farm work than any other kind of labor, and to do this with profit to themselves they must scatter out, and live on farms of their own, where they may have elbow room for the expansion of their manhood, and where they may train their children. We are too much crowded on rented farms and in rented houses in towns and cities, for our moral or temporal good. So long as this shall be the case, we may expect to be unsettled in mind. The improvement of the colored people make it absolutely necessary to change the old basis of operation in the South. In view of an increasing colored population, we must have more room for settlement, and more interest in the material advancement of the country, and to this end we must be more economical with the use of time, and money. The colored people are advancing intellectually, so much that they are thinking for themselves, and are more anxious concerning their future. There is no doubt but that the emigration movement will continue a long time to the North, West and to the Southwest. The colored people want land, and must have it some where. Many are going out blindly in search of it, but they are going all the same.

We find that there are three important agencies by which nations are benefited; viz.: Revolution, conquest, and emigration; of the three, the colored people may use the latter. I do not encourage emigration; only as it is necessary to get land. The majority of the colored people are in the South, and will remain doubtless to a time unknown and yet, we should remember that colored people live in every State, and Territory of this country and are there to live and prosper along in the march of this great American population. It is true that the odds and ends are against us as a race. We are poor and ignorant, having been outraged, and left trembling before public criticism. We shall make the best of our opportunities. Let us take courage and go forward with glad hearts, and busy hands, and with wise decisions; and let us be true to ourselves, and true to God, and we will have nothing to fear.

Atlanta, Ga.

For the SOUTHWESTERN

Spare Minute Paper.

D. W. HAYS.

I make it a rule, when writing for the press, to treat but seldom on those subjects known to have an almost exclusive bearing upon the weal of the colored people, not because of a lack of interest in such subjects, but for the reason that I deem it injudicious to give encouragement to the tendency toward narrowing the scope of one's thought and discussion within so limited a compass. To magnify whatever stands immediately related to my race, either morally, educationally or politically, and magnify whatever may occupy a more remote position though, perhaps, of equal importance when considered in its relation to general good of society, is certainly not the speediest way for me to arrive at a just view of things. I am ready at all times to advocate race improvement, and to lend my hand to every legitimate movement that may pertain thereto, and yet, at the same time, I feel bound to give time and thought to the consideration of those interests which are allied to the progress of mankind in general. I try to steer between blearing race depreciation, on the one hand, and morbid race preference on the other. While endeavoring to unfold my own individual possibilities I would, with equal industry, strive to assimilate whatever may be found to be of good report among my neighbors.

Symposium of the Weeklies.

It is a very easy matter to pierce the vulnerable points of our friend's armor and deliver cutting blows; the very intimacy enjoyed has disclosed the weak spots. —Golden Censor.

A temperance convention in Illinois says: In our warfare, we are sure that we will inflict injury upon no man or political power which does not come between us and the object at which we strike."

I hereby request that every letter written by me to the Republican Committee, or any member thereof, whether in charge of the bribery or theological department, be published. John P. St John, Dec. 31.

Luther acknowledged his obligation to his wife, and so did Bunyan, and Baxter and Edward Burke, and Buckland and Niebuhr, and Sir William Hamilton and Guizot and Carlyle and many others. Listen to Dr. Livingstone on the death of his noble wife: 'I shall do my duty still, but it is with a darkened horizon.' Tom Hood said to his wife: 'I never was anything till I knew you, and I have been a better, happier and more prosperous man ever since."

Spelling Match.

Can you spell? Well, yes, almost anybody can spell. Then open eyes, and make out what is written, and if you can't then pass it on to your next neighbor.

B-R-E-E-I-I-N-G-O-F-R-E-S-T-W-

Don't say it out loud, but just whisper in your pretty ear, and tell her that if she will place herself in proper position she will have the world's greatest tonic, which will enrich her blood, put roses on her pale cheeks and make her strong and happy. Go to the nearest drug store with a dollar in your hand, and ask for Brown's Iron Bitters.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

The M. E. Church.

A Million For Missions.

Responses to the circular and letter recently sent from the Mission Rooms, are fast coming in. Rev. C. A. Plumer, writes: "I hereby second the plan to raise $1,000,000 for the missionary work of the Methodist Episcopal Church. It ought to be done, the Church is able to do it, the world demands that it should be done. The apportionments to Rockland district, East Maine Conference are made on the basis of $1,000,000." Rev. Theron Cooper, writes: "That his hearty efforts will all go in the direction of the plan indicated and says "Dr. Reid two years ago spent a week with us, in the Ambrose district, Central New York Conference, and his influence was of great value." Rev. J. D. McKesson, says. "I will gladly do what I can to help on with this grand advance. The Spirit of the Lord is calling 'go forward.' The Philadelphia Conference will, I believe, do her full share towards raising the million. She has always followed the missionary banner right joyfully, and loyally, and will not fall back just now." Rev. E. A. Simons, of East Maine Conference responds: "Your circular and letter just read, I had already asked my district for a greater advance than you indicate, and believe we can make it, if iron industries brighten at all. I heartily indorse your plan and believe it to be feasible." From Toledo, Rev. E. D. Whitlock writes: "I think your plans are perfectly practicable. There ought to be a large advance on our missionary contributions. The money is in the Church, what is needed is such an awakening of the thought and conscience of the Church on this subject as will insure a large increase in our collections for this holy cause. I have already done what you ask." Such responses made unniversal from our presiding elders will bring the $1,000,000.

An improvement in Upright Pianos has been introduced by the Mason & Hamlin Company, long famous as organ makers, which is regarded as very important, adding to the beauty of tone of this instrument and rendering it much more durable. —Boston Journal.

Temperance at the World's Exposition.

The National Temperance Society completed arrangements for mass temperance meetings in Music Hall, Exposition Building, Thursday and Friday, March 12 and 13, to be addressed by Rev. Dr. T. L. Cuyler, of Brooklyn; Geo. W. Bain, Esq., of Kentucky; Gen. C. B. Fisk, Rev. C. H. Mead, J. N. Stearns, of New York, and others. These are among the ablest speakers in the nation, and the friends of temperance throughout the country should appear in New Orleans at this time in large numbers. The meetings in the Exposition Building were held during the day, and at night in various churches in the city. A week of meetings is in contemplation in and around the city.

This Society, thoroughly non-partisan and non-sectarian, with Vice Presidents in every State, covers the nation with its work and its literature. Its missionary work among the colored people of the South is worthy of all commendation. It has reached directly over five thousands of colored people. Meetings will be held in the colored churches and institutes at New Orleans. Over fifty thousand tracts and papers have already been sent for free distribution during the Exposition, and money is solicited to send many more, which are greatly needed.

What You Say.

"There are so many frauds advertised for the hair," you say. So there are, but Parker's Hair Balsam is not one of them. It will not work miracles, but it will do better service for your hair than anything else you can find. Restores original color, cures dandruff, gives new growth. Elegantly perfumed. Not a dye.

"Itching Piles."—Symptoms: Moisture. Like perspiration, intense itching, worse by scratching, most at night, seems if pin-worms were crawling. "Swayne's Ointment" is a pleasant, sure cure.

nov13-1yr-eow

Troubles between the English Freemasons and the Grand Orient of France continue. The Prince of Wales, replying to a recent letter of the French grand master, says: "English Masons have always held to the belief that God is the first grand landmark of genuine Freemasonary; without such belief nobody can rightly claim to inherit the traditions of true Freemasonry."

"The moon of Mahomet arose, and it shall set," says Shelly; but if you will set a bottle of Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup in some handy place you will have a quick cure for croup, cough and colds, when your children are troubled with them.

It is believed in Japanese Government circles that the indemnity Corea has agreed to pay Japan for the attack made by Chinese soldiers on the Japanese minister and troops will lead to war between China and Japan.

A Husband's Greatest Blessing is a strong, healthful, vigorous wife with a clear, handsome complexion. These can all be acquired by using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

The Mexican Government has caused inquiry to be made into the rumors of Mormon removal from Salt Lake to the State of Sonora. The Mormons are not welcome.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.

For Teachers and Young People.

To clubs of six or more, one address 55 cents each. 65 cents a year.

The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.

For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.

50 Cents a Year.

It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.

For Bible Classes and the Adult Department.

20 Cents a Year.

The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.

For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.

6 Cents a Year.

The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Songs (with music in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.

For the Younger Scholars.

3 Cents a Year.

The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.

For the Little Folks.

$1 a Year; 31 a Quarter.

The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.

For Infant Classes.

25 Cents a Year.

The Picture Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.

For the Children.

Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.

For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.

Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.

This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

QUALITY P PURITY NOT QUANTITY. On Every Bottle.

Trade Mark

THE BEST TONIC.

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.

This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.

It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to women, and all who lead sedentary lives.

It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.

It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.

For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.

☞ The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other.

Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

New Course of Study.

The Bishops, at their meeting held immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, arranged the following course of study to be pursued by candidates for the Methodist ministry. (All examinations made after May 1, 1885, will be upon this new course of study:

For Traveling Preachers.

FOR ADMISSION ON TRIAL.

Common English Branches.
History of the U. S.—Ridpath	$3 00
Scripture History.—Smith. (Abridged edition in one volume.) Net	60
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 2.) Net	5
History of Methodism.—Stevens. (Abridged edition.)	2 0
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Edition of 1884
Compendium of Methodism.—Porter	1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. 1) sett	5 00
Books of reference:
Whitney's Hand-book of Bible Geography	2 25
Freeman's Hand-book of Bible Manners and Customs	2 25

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures (chapters I-XXX—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol I) sett	7 50
Plain Account of Christian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. Net	1 60
Rhetoric.—Hill, Net	1 00
Written Sermons.
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons (Vol II.)
Christian Purity.—Foster	1 50
Introduction to the Gospel Records.—Nast	1 75
Ecclesiastical Law and Rules of Evidence.—Henry and Harris	3 00
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol I.—Reid	3 00

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. (Chapters XXI-LII)—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology. Vol. II.—Pope	1 75
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 60
Lessons in Logic. Net	40
To be read:
Objects to Antinomianism—Fletcher	5 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged). Stevens	3 00
Defense of our Fathers.—Emory	85
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol. II.—Reid	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XLIII-L.—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol. III	7 50
Atonement in Christ.—Miley	1 25
History of the Church.—Blackburn	2 50
Intellectual Science.—Porter	3 00
Homiletics.—Kidder	1 50
Written Sermon.
To be read:
Theological Encyclopædia and Methodology.—Nast and Hurst	3 50
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XLV-XLIV.—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Theological Institutes. Part II.—Watson	6 00
Analogy of Natural and Revealed Theology.—Butler	1 50
Written Exegesis.
To be read:
Life and Epistles of St Paul.—Conybeare and Howson. (Abridged Edition)	1 00
Biblical Hermeneutics.—Terry
History of Rationalism.—Hurst	3 00

For Local Preachers.

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: History. Outlines of Bible History.—Hurst	$ 50
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3)	05
Christian Theology. Introduction and Book I.—Wakefield	2 50
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (Edition of 1884)
Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation.—Walker	1 25
To be read:
Helps to Self-educated Ministers.—Porter	1 25
A Hundred Years of Methodism.—Simpson	1 50
Portrait of St. Paul.—Fletcher	75

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: Doctrines
Christian Theology. Books II and III.—Wakefield	2 50
Christian Baptism.—Merrill	1 00
Church History: Outlines of Church History.—Hurst	50
Ancient History.—Thalheimer.
To be read:
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25
History of the United States.—Ridpath	3 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged Edition).—Stevens	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible. Sacraments
Christian Theology. Books IV and V.—Wakefield	2 50
Plain Account of christian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Aspects of Christian Experience.—Merrill	1 00
Rhetoric.—Haven	90
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 60
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I.) Introduction to the Gospel Records.—Nast	5 00
Era of the Protestant Revolution.—Seebohm.	1 25
	75

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Christian Theology. Books VI and VII.—Wakefield	2 50
Logic.—Jevons. (Science Primer Edition.)	45
Elements of Intellectual Science.—Porter	3 00
Review of the course for the three preceding years.
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. Vol. II. Checks to Antinomianism.—Fletcher	5 00
History of the Reformation.—Fisher	2 00
Protestant Foreign Missions.—Christlieb	1 00

Terms, cash with order. Address

PHILLIPS & HUNT.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1885.

Eight new names from Rev. P. Landry have been received. Now is the time brethren, one dollar at this season of the year is worth two at any other. Therefore are we especially grateful to Bro. Landry for his earnest work in our behalf. Next.

No plan employed for arousing an interest in arboriculture has been so warmly received as that of "Arbor Day." The Hon. B. G. Northrup, L. L. D., of Connecticut, one of the strongest supporters of this movement, has an article on the subject in The Chautauquan for April, which is particularly timely.

Bishop Wiley bequeathed to the Ohio Wesleyan University his large and valuable library, in memory of his son who suddenly died while a member of the Senior class in that institution. The library will be placed in the large Library Building of the University, and will bear the inscription, "The William E. Wiley Memorial Library." It will make a most valuable addition to the University Library.

Resting.

Mr. Benjamin Franklin Avery, the plow manufacturer of Louisville, Ky., died March 23, 1885, at his home in that city. We have many grateful recollections of kindnesses received from him before the war. He was a revered member of Dr. Humphrey's United Presbyterian Church, corner of Jacob and Second streets, Louisville. Among those of our boyhood recollection who attended his funeral were the following eminent gentlemen: A. G. Munn, Esq., Judge P. B. Muir, Geo. W. Norton, Esq., Dexter Hewitt, D. W. Yandell, M.D., H.W. Barrett, Esq., S. S. Hamilton, J. B. Wilder, Esq., and Hamilton Pope, Esq. One by one these landmarks of Louisville's youth, growth and prosperity are passing from the active scenes of thier labor to a brilliant reception on high. Just a little before we mourned for Dr. David Cumins, Dr. T. S. Bell, Prof. Chase, and now it is B. F. Avery, patriarch of Louisville's best society, and patron of her earliest and most productive industry. There are a score of others looking forward to the deep impenetrable future with the fullest knowledge that "there is but a step betwixt them and death." "Be ye also ready."

Bishop Taylor.

Why should there be a long, tidious and possibly acrimonious debate upon questions involved in the decision of Bishop Taylor's status with reference to the other Bishops, and the responsibility and character of his mission work? This, it seems to us, is wholly uncalled for. He is a missionary Bishop so elected, consecrated, and by himself, with all others concerned, so accepted. We understand a missionary Bishop, as any other missionary, to be limited in official authority to the sphere of his mission, and according to the entire letter, tenor, spirit and usage of our church all missionaries thereunto belonging and therein working are responsible to our Missionary Society. Though the order may be changed and the rule suspended there is no power outside of the General Conference to do it. Until it is done the Methodist Episcopal missionaries are subject to the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society.

As to the salary, there should be a comfortable support estimated and placed at the disposal of Bishop Taylor and all of his missionaries, by the Missionary Society. This done, there the matter should be allowed to rest, at least until some emergency calls for further action, the character of which must, of course, depend upon the emergency when it arrives. Prayerful and faithful reference to God of the whole subject is the duty before us and a path to the peaceful end of it.

[Copyrighted]

Work of the Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church Among the Negroes.

What becomes of our graduates? Does it pay to give for the Freedmen's Aid Collections? Has Dr. Rust and those associated with him dealt fairly with the Negroes? We have undertaken to answer all these questions by the submission of the following detailed exhibits of what the Freedmen's Aid Society has been doing in the past 20 years. Upon this showing, the old silver haired veteran, Dr. Rust, can be content to rest his case and await the verdict of the people, for whose mental and moral elevation, he has devoted the greater part of his life and means. On this exhibit, the spirit of the loved, lamented and sainted late Bishop and President Wiley can look down and be satisfied that his labor was not in vain. So too upon this grand culmination of his tearful planting can Gilbert Haven look with complacency of soul. Upon this picture Bishop Walden, now charged with the momentous task of carrying forward to a self supporting position, all these institutions, can look with comfort and receive inspiration for his task. In this showing will appear the great reward of such white teachers, who with honest purpose, sincere philanthropy, and perfect self denial have been the immediate cause of these beneficent results. Upon the head of those who still live and upon the memory of those who are dead will fall alike the grateful, hearty benediction of a people saved and a race redeemed largely by their labor. Happy families formed, professional men developed, and morality enthroned where it had no place before will be the trophy of their victorious battle with vice and ignorance. The colored teachers, (who have come and must now come more rapidly than before or prove this work at least in vain so far as the development of men and women capable of taking up the work so well begun by their white predecessors is concerned,) can never cease to magnify and honor the memory of these who gave them the use of dormant faculties, and installed them in position to use their new found powers. Nor will it then be less inspiring to the earnest pleader for the abatement of ignorance in Church and State, Joseph C. Hartzell as he considers the work already done and of which he has had an active, helpful share. To every officer of the Society and given to the press these exhibits are dedicated in gratitude. They were prepared at our request by that indefatigable worker prince of humanitarians and fair flower of true Christian manhood, Wilbur F. Thirkield, to whom is due the credit above all; and next to him the gentlemanly presidents of various institutions, who cheerfully contributed the desired information with tenders of any assistance they could render us.

The SOUTHWESTERN is grateful to all for all courtesies and would in connection with the submision of this masterly exhibit, which speaks for itself, gratefully acknowledge the assistance given us as named above. We have also to thank Dr. Kidder for a statement of students, aided by the Educational Board while prosecuting their studies in school. Nor should we fail to recognize the help of such gentlemen as Hon. Amos Shinkle, W. C. DePauw, M. B. Hagans, the Larkins and many other generous laymen without whom this work could not have been done.

RETROSPECT.

It is just eighteen years last fall since the Methodist Episcopal Church began its educational work among the Negroes of the South, under the auspices of the Freedman's Aid Society, which from its organization, has been directed by the veteran Dr. Rust in the following statistics to show what our schools in the South have done in the years since they were opened. They have been prepared with especial reference to the gradnates from the varions institutions. These exhibits need no comment; they explain themselves; they furnish an eloquent commentary on the work of this Society. What a factor have these schools been in this tossing, turbulent, reconstruction period, in bringing us toward the reign of peace and righteouesness!

How has their influence gone forth as the light of the morning silently, irresistibly forcing the light into the dark places of this Southern land! Dr. Hartzell spoke truly when he said, "that the South to-day would be practically uninhabitable if it had not been for the twenty five millions of dollars sent into the South by Northern benevolence for the education of the freedmen." It will be observed how in geometrical ratio the forces have multiplied themselves by the taught going forth as teachers into all the corners of the South, thus gathering many thousands of colored children into school, which otherwise could not have been supplied with teachers. And, again, what stronger endorsement for the higher education of the Negro could be asked, than is presented in the following showing of the present employment and work of the graduates of these schools.

EXHIBIT NO I.

INSTITUTIONS AND THEIR WORK.

The following institutions have been established on a permanent basis, and are now in successful operation. This exhibit is based on the report of the Freedmen's Aid Society for 1883:

Chartered Institutions.	No. Teachers.	No. Pupils
Cent. Tenn. College, Nashville, Tenn.	13	324
Clark University, Atlanta, Ga.	6	225
Claflin University, Orangeburg, S. C.	11	421
New Orleans University, New Orleans La.	6	231
Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark.	5	136
Rust University, Holly Springs, Miss.	6	367
Wiley University, Marshall, Tex.	6	313
Theological Schools.
Centenary Biblical Institute, Baltimore, Md.	6	151
Gammon Theological School, Atlanta, Ga.	1
Baker Institute, Orangeburg, S. C.
Gilbert Haven School of Theology, N. O., La.
Medical College.
Meharry Medical Col. Nashville, Tenn.	8	80
*Pupils enumerated in the other schools.
Institutions not chartered:
Bennett Seminary, Greensboro, N. C.	6	158
Cookman Institute Jacksonville, Fla.	7	274
Forrest City School, Forrest City Ark.	2	62
Haven Normal School, Waynesboro, Ga.	2	88
Huntsville Normal School, Huntsville, Ala.	3	76
Houston Seminary, Houston, Texas.	2	109
La Grange Seminary, La Grange, Ga.	2	100
Meridian Academy, Meridian, Miss.	2	107
Morristown Seminary, Morristown, Tex.	2	120
New Hope Academy New Hope, Tex.	1	52
Paris School, Paris, Texas.	2	52
Rome Normal School, Rome, Ga.
W. Tex Conference Seminary, Austin Tex.
W. Tennessee Seminary, Mason, Tenn.	3	159
14
Total Institutions 24	105	3,537

In these institutions the number of pupils taught during the year is classified as follows:

Pupils.

Biblical	244
Medical	51
Collegiate	145
Academic	410
Normal	1,387
Intermediate	767
Primary	473
Total	3,537

In the support of these and the temporary schools opened immediately after the war, there has been expended from the beginning, $1,389,648.85. The total amonnt invested in real estate and buildings is something over $500,000. The entire productive endowment is $43,000, distributed as follows:

Central Tennessee College, $20,000; Gammon School of Theology, Clark University, $20,000; Rust University, $3,000.

It is hard to get an adequate estimate of the direct and indirect work of these institutions. Their influence for good in the enlightenment and elevation of the race is beyond calculation. It is something that can not be put down in black and white, or wholly set forth in mere figures. In these schools 80,000 pupils have been taught. "Nearly a million of children have been taught by our teachers and by those prepared to teach in our schools," says Dr. Rust. Beginning less than two decades ago, with the children of parents kept in the enforced ignorance and degradation of slavery for two hundred years; with no moral or intellectual heritage and no mental impetus, 184 of these children of slaves have been gradnated from the several higher departments of these institutions.

EXHIBIT NO II.

GRADUATES AND THEIR EMPLOYMENT.

We propose in this exhibit to show—

1. The number of students that have been graduated from each of our seven chartered institutions and from three of our normal schools and higher seminaries.

2. Their sex and special department, normal, academic or collegiate, from which they were graduated.

3. The present employment of the several gradnates from each school.

4. The total number of graduates now engaged in the different professions and employments.

1. This exhibit is approximately correct. It has been carefully compiled from data furnished by the presidents and principals of the above institutions, in response to requests and blanks sent to each of them during the past two months.

2. The above exhibit effectually answer the question: "What becomes of your gradnates from these institutions for the education of the colored race?" It show the mistakes of those who are opposed to the higher education of the Negro, and who base their adverse arguments on theories and prejudices, rather than upon the actual results of advanced training among colored youth. These statistics show that they do not become "vagabonds," "loafers," or "useless members of society," as has been asserted. They prove that the majority of them go forth as ministers and teachers, to become useful factors in the solution of this greatest race problem of the ages. The statistics from the schools of other denominations bear out the above statements.

3. This exhibit shows that all but two of the graduates are accounted for, and these are all either in honorable callings, or are still pursuing higher courses of study. More than half of them are ministers and teachers. This reveals the moral influence of the schools, the bent of their genius, and their recognition of and response to, the greatest needs of their race. These two forces combined in the field of moral and intellectual training are the hope of the Negroes and the safety of the South.

4. It will be said that the number who have attained to gradnation is small in comparison with the large number of students under training in these schools. It must be remembered that these institutions began with youths and children totally ignorant; children with no mental history; children from families that never knew the meaning or use of books; children who never had learned their letters, and to some of whom the alphabet was a series of hieroglyphics.

These schools had to begin with rude, untutored, raw, perverted minds. The teachers of this generation have had a long, steep, hard hill to climb with these first students, gathered out from a race mentally benighted, bewildered and brutalized. Many now on the eve of graduation, have been in these schools from two to eight years.

You will notice that there are only two graduates before the year 1876, and the great majority have gone forth since 1880. The next decade will show an astonishing increase in the number of graduates.

EXHIBIT NO. III.

We here present in detail, the reports of graduates on which exhibit No. 2 is based, giving the name, department, sex, time of graduation and present occupation of the individual graduates from the several institutions.

Central Tennessee College—Nashville, Tennessee.

Name.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Graduating.	Present Occupation.
Charles W. Wood	Normal	Male	1870	Physician.
George Bryant	"	"	1870	Barber
Chas. E. Alexander	"	"	1876	Principal West Tenn. Sem.
Henry T. Noel	"	"	1876	Physician.
John S. Bass	"	"	1876	Physician.
Anna V. Bond	"	Female	1877	Teacher and Rev. Mrs. Jas. Pickett, deceased.
Sarah A. Patton	"	"	1877	Teacher
Elizabeth B. T. Young	"	"	1877	Teacher, and wife of Attorney W. H. Young, Esq.
Mattie J. Evans	"	"	1880	Teacher, Mrs. Rev. I. B. Scott
Lucy J Hay	"	"	1880	" Mrs. Rev. G N. Johnson
Eva Holmes	"	"	1880	" deceased.
Cornelia Hayden	"	"	1880	" Mrs. Dr. J. W. Wilkins
Emma J. Pickett	"	"	1880	" deceased.
Rebecca A. Sharber	"	"	1880	"
Florence T. Hayes	"	"	1881	" Mrs. Fleming.
Susie P Manson	"	"	1881	"
John F. Moreland	"	Male	1881	Trav'g preacher, Tenn Conf
Amanda J. Poole	"	Female	1881	Teacher.
Vera L. Moore	"	"	1884	Music teacher; organist with C. T. C. Singers,
Mary W. Knowles	"	"	1884	Pursuing studies in college.
Mattie J. Haywood	"	"	1884	Teacher.
Fannie L. Perkins	"	"	1881	Teacher.
Wm. H. Young	Academic	Male	1877	Attorney at Law, justice of the peace and preacher.
Green N. Johnson	"	"	1880	Teacher Little Rock Conf.
Wm. A. McKissack	"	"	1880	Teacher and local preacher.
Wm. B Fortson	"	"	1881	Principal Colored School at Victoria, Texas
Carrie F. Watson	"	Female	1881	Teacher, Mrs. Rev. A.N. O'Neal
Jennie B Cooke	"	"	1882	" Mrs. Rev. J. J. Holland.
Chas. P. Westbrooks	Scientific	Male	1880	Pastor West Texas M E Conf
James H. Messiah	"	"	1881	Teacher.
Henry A. Smith	"	"	1881	Teacher.
Araminta P. Martin	Classical	"	1878	Prof. Math. C. T. C., deceased
Julius J. Holland	"	"	1880	P. C. Central Alabama Conf.
Laura A. Moore	"	Female	"	Teacher, Mrs. Rev. C P. Westbrooks.
Chas. H. Phillips	"	Male	"	Prest Lane Inst., Jackson, Tenn.
Thos. A. Fortson	"	"	"	Mem. Tenn. Conf., Col. M. E. Ch.
John W. Pickett	"	"	"	Teacher Math and Lang., Bennett Seminary, Greensboro, N. C.
John I. Watson	"	"	"	Traveling preacher in Tenn. Conference, M E. Church.
Julius J. Holland, B.D.	Theological	"	1882	Teacher, and student of law.
Richard Harper	"	"	1883	Pastor, Central Alabama M. E. Conference.
Evans Tyree	"	"	1883	Tenn. Conf. A. M. E Ch., stationed at St. Johns, Nashville.
Lewis M. Hagood	"	"	1884	Tenn Conf. A M E Ch., sta. at Payne Chapel, Nashville.
J. W. Anderson	Medical	Male	1884	Tenn Conf. M E C. Lebanon
J. P. Banks	"	"	1885	Physician, Nashville, Tenn.
H. S. Berry	"	"	"	Physician, Summit, Miss.
S. P. Brown	"	"	"	Physician, Memphis, Tenn.
G. A. Henderson	"	"	"	Physician, New Orleans, La.
A. S. Jerry	"	"	"	Physician, Nashville, Tenn.
H. M. Simkins	"	"	"	Physician, Pulaski Tenn.
T. A. Walker	"	"	"	Physician Macon, Ga.
				Physician, New Orleans, La.

Claflin University—Orangeburg, South Carolina.

Name.	Department	Sex	Time of Graduating.	Occupation
S. Eugene Middleton	Normal	Female	1879	Teacher.
Hattie E. Dickson	"	"	1880	Teacher.
Alice L Jackson	"	"	1880	Teacher.
Benj. F. Crawford	"	Male	1881
Amanda M Harvey	"	Female	1881	Teacher
Julia E. Keeler	"	"	"	Teacher
Estelle Prioleau	"	"	"	Teacher
Caroline Sanders	"	"	"	Teacher
Nancy Sanders	"	"	"	Teacher
James B. Carroll	"	Male	1882	Student
Magdalene D. Cooke	"	Female	"	Music teacher
Mark H. Galloway	"	Male	"	Teacher
Emma R. Johnson	"	Female	"	Student
Nathaniel J. Kennedy	"	Male	"	Student
Benj. W. Metts	"	"	"	Teacher
Marion I. Saxon	"	"	"	Teacher
Jennie A Thompson	"	Female	"	Student
John M. Thompson	"	Male	"	Student
Nannie A. Wardlaw	"	Female	"	Teacher
Wm. L. Bulkley	College	Male	"	Student
Nathaniel H. Middleton	"	"	"	Physician
Sallie C. Davis	Normal	Female	1883	Teacher
Charlotte W. Kler	"	"	"	Teacher
Annie E. Moultrie	"	"	"	Student
Celia A. Thompson	"	"	"	Teacher
E. Maltravis Blakeley	College	Male	"	Physician
Jackson S. Cooper	"	"	"	Minister
Daniel W. Harth	"	"	"	Student
Daniel M. Minus	"	"	"	Minister
Allen W Whaley	"	"	"	Minister
C. C Farrow	Normal	Female	1881	Teacher
D. E. Goodlett	"	"	"	Student
E. B. Jones	"	"	"	Student
A. A. Thompson	"	"	"	Teacher
M. E. Torrence	"	"	"	Teacher
Ella S. Walker	"	"	"	Student
Alice L. Jackson	College	"	"	Teacher
Annie S. Thorne	"	"	"	Teacher

Clark University—Atlanta, Georgia.

Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Grads.	Occupation.
J A. Carr	Collegiate	Male	1879	Law student and editor
W. A. Holmes	"	"	1879	Teacher
J. L. Lamar	"	"	1879	Business
T. M. Crook	"	"	1880	Teacher
W. J. O'Kelley	"	"	1880	Deceased.
C. F. Thompson	"	"	1880	Physician
J. H Greene	"	"	1880	Teacher
W. R. Gray	"	"	1881	Medical student
Hattie Hunter	"	Female	1881	Teacher (married)
C. K. Wright	"	Male	1881	Preacher and physician
M. J. Greene	"	"	1882	Student
S. A Harper	"	Female	1882	Student
H. M. White	"	Male	1882	Student
W. H. Nelson	"	"	1883	Preacher
J. Leake	"	"	1883	Student
J. M. Cox	"	"	1884	Theological student.

New Orleans University—New Orleans, Louisiana.

Names	Department	Sex.	Time of Grads.	Present Occupation.
S. T. Clanton	Collegiate	Male	June, 1878	Missionary Agt. Am. Bap Pub. Asso'n
Fred H Banton	"	"	May, 1882	School teacher
Chas G Merritt	"	"	May 1880	School teacher
Ansel S Banton	"	"	May 1884	School teacher
Edward Barnes	"	"	May 1884	School teacher
Mrs. S A Gates	"	Female	June, 1878	Teacher
J W E Bowen	"	Male	June 1878	Student in Boston Theological School
J E Mullen	"	"	June, 1878	Doctor
J T Cottrell	"	"	May, 1880	Mail carrier
George W Wells	"	"	May, 1880	Minister
Rosa A Turner	"	Female	May, 1882	Teacher
Virginia M J Richie	"	"	May, 1880	Teacher

Rust University—Holly Springs, Mississippi.

Graduates Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Grads.	Present Occupation.
R Q Adams	Classical	Male	1878	Deceased 1878
Wesley Thomas	Scientific	"	1878	Unknown
R R Green	Classical	"	18	Teacher in Rust University
Anna L Talbot	"	Female	18	Teacher in Rust University
Wm G Strickland	"	Male	18	Student, Michigan Law School
W H Avent	"	"	18	Student, Michigan Law School
M M Avent	Scientific	"	1883	Teacher Cairo, Ill. High School
J H Brooks	Classical	"	1883	Teacher Meridian, Miss. Academy
J C Bullen	Scientific	"	1883	Teacher Mississippi public schools
H G Grant	Classical	"	1883	Teacher Texas public schools
J W Holmes	"	"	1883	Teacher Mississippi public schools
Wm Bradley	Academic	"	1884	Teacher Mississippi public schools
S A Cowan	"	"	1884	Minister Mississippi Conference
I W Perkins	"	"	1884	Teacher Alabama public schools
Thomas Tisdell	"	"	1884	Student Meharry Medical College
M H Williams	"	"	1884	Minister Mississippi Conference

Wiley University—Marshall, Texas.

Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Gradu.	Present Occupation.
Wm Wesley	Scientific	Male	1884	Minister
P W Wyrick	Literary	Male	1884	Teacher and local preacher

Centenary Biblical Institute—Baltimore, Md.

J H Nutter	Normal	Male	1877	Preacher
J H Griffin	"	"	1877	Teacher
S H Norwood	"	"	1877	Attending school
W H Brooks	"	"	1878	Preaching
B O Bird	"	"	1878	Teacher
W B Lomax	"	"	1878	Deceased
S K Carr	"	Female	1878	Married a minister
S C Carrol	"	"	1879	Married a minister
M E Cromwell	"	"	1879	Deceased
E Dennis	"	"	1879	Teacher
J R Granger	"	Male	1880	Barber
I J Elbert	"	"	1880	Teacher
R Williams	"	"	1880	Teacher
J E A D Grigsby	"	"	1880	Preacher
F M Walker	"	"	1880	Teacher
A P Reid	"	Female	1880	Teacher
M A Brown	"	"	1880	Teacher
W A Hawkins	"	Male	1881	Attending school
C R Penn	"	"	1881	Teacher
C W Pullett	"	"	1881	Teacher
I L Thomas	"	"	1881	Preacher
H J Carroll	"	Female	1881	with her parents
C Evans	"	"	1881	with her parents
C Wheeler	"	Male	1882	Deceased.
I D Blair	"	"	1882	Teacher
J A Dorsey	"	"	1882	Attending school

Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Gradu.	Present Occupation.
W H Pleasants			1882	Preaching
T S Cook			1882	at Howard University
Wm Harris			1883	at Lincoln University
J M Butler			1883	Teacher
G R Carter			1883	Attending school
J L Williams			1883	Attending school
W P Crockett			1883	Attending school
G W Robertson			1884	Attending school
C R Johnson			1884	Attending school
E Nutter			1884	Will return to school
T H Wilson			1884	Teacher
L W Taylor		Female	1884	Teacher

Bennett Seminary—Greensboro, North Carolina.

Graduates Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Gradu.	Present Occupation.
Mary Patillo	Normal	Female	1880	Teacher, married
G W Hughes	Collegiate	Male	1880	College student

Cookman Institute—Jacksonville, Florida.

Names.	Department.	Sex.	Time of Gradu.	Present Occupation
James Dean	Collegiate	Male	1879	Lawyer and graduate of Howard University
James F. Elliott			1880	Preacher in charge and Prof in Cookman
Alex T Jerry			1880	Student in Med Col., will graduate March '85
Lemuel W Livingston			1882	Student in Howard University; medical
Emanuel Perkins			1883	Engaged on newspaper in New York city.
Mary O. Brown		Female	1883	Teacher in large school
[illegible]		Male	1884	Teacher in large school
[illegible]			188[illegible]	Student at Nashville

Huntsville Normal School—Huntsville, Alabama.

Names.	Sex.	Present Occupation.
O Payne	Male	Member of the Legislature in Kansas
Wm P Williams		Member of the present lature from Madison county, Ala.
Wm Council		Principal State Normal School, Huntsville, Ala.
Dallas Bowser		In Government employ at Washington
Henry Binfield		In Government employ
Burgess Driggs		Practicing physician
Lee Fearn		Practicing physician
Percy Perry		County clerk in Tennessee
Charles Bentley		Editor "Huntsville Gazette"
Olando M Wade		Medical student

Students Aided.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church has aided students of color in the following institutions to the number and amounts named, viz:

Institution.	State	Students	Amounts.
Centenary Biblical Institute	Baltimore, Maryland	40	$1,600
Central Tennessee College	Nashville, Tennessee	44	1,541
Claflin University	Orangeburg, South Carolina	26	1,835
Clark University	Atlanta, Georgia	9	620
Cookman Institute	Jacksonville Florida	1	18
Gammon Theological Institute	Atlanta, Georgia	11	775
New Orleans University	Louisiana	21	1,627
Rust University	Holly Springs, Mississippi	11	400
Rust Normal Institute	Huntsville Alabama	2	50
Wiley University	Marshall, Texas	10	505
Bennett Seminary	Greensboro, North Carolina	1	50
Haven Normal Institute	Waynesborough, Georgia	3	75
La Teche Seminary	Baldwin, Louisiana	2	100
Morristown Academy	Morristown, Tennessee	6	370
Philander Smith College	Little Rock Arkansas	2	90
16 institutions		189	$9,636

Additionally in other institutions so as to increase the aggregate to about 200 students and $11,000

Freedmen's Aid Society at the Exposition.

PROF. C. W. BOOTHBY.

Last August the Freedmen's Aid Society of the M. E. Church decided that the educational progress made through its various schools and colleges in the South, and the industrial work of the Woman's Home Missionary Society should be placed on exhibition at the World's Exposition. The display is located in the Government Building with other educational exhibits, and is very creditable to the Society, and to the scholarship of the students who contributed their educational and industrial work to the exhibition. An examination of the productions of the colored students of these institutions shows, in neatness of work and standard of excellence, a favorable competition with the school work of white pupils of other institutions. The space occupied by the exhibit is tastefully prepared, and a sign plainly indicates the nature of the display. A portion of the students mechanical work of the Clark University of Atlanta is claimed by Georgia, and is with the colored exhibit of that State. A large proportion of the schools of this Society have contributed to the exhibition. While the work of all is creditable, perhaps the most notable is that of the Claflin University, of Orangeburg, S. C., and Clark University, of Atlanta, Ga. The skill shown in the various articles of mechanical work from these institutions is attractive, and evinces thorough instruction in industrial workmanship.

One leaving over the portfolios of educational work here presented, at once mentally makes a comparison with the scholastic standard of the colored student twenty years ago. This comparison is a fertile source of thought, and impressingly suggestive of a still higher standard of intellectual excellence for the colored race. May we not reasonably expect that a class of society that makes such rapid strides in educational attainments in scarcely two decades will soon measurably relieve the nation of the fearful incubus of illiteracy existing in the South, and become an important factor in the future development and the future intelligence of the New South?

The Freedmen's Aid Society supports forty-one institutions of learning in the South—23 attended by colored students and 18 by whites. These schools are taught by 168 teachers, and attended by 5201 pupils, having the privilege of either a biblical, medical, collegiate or normal course of study, or of all. From these institutions comes a large proportion of the colored teachers employed in our parish and county public schools, and have reared all the Church ministry now preaching for their work. During the past year $174,052 were disbursed by the Society in support of education in the South, of which sum $50,000 was permanently invested in real estate and buildings. Since its formation seventeen years ago, the Society has disbursed $1,393,805 in aid of this great educational enterprise in the Southern country. The active guiding spirits in this missionary work are Rev. Dr. Rust, many years Corresponding Secretary, and Rev. Dr. Hartzell, recently appointed Assistant Secretary, whose faithful labors in this field have produced abundant fruit. With no encouragement for relief at present from the national government, and with a State public school revenue scarcely sufficient to educate one-half the educable children in the State, in fact without the semblance of a public school in one-half the parishes of this State, even the limited aid the Freedmen's Aid Society may be able to give to Louisiana will be a great benefaction. In view of these great demands, a hearty and liberal response should be made to the calls of the Society for pecuniary assistance.

New Orleans, La.

Revivals.

The air is full of shouts of the redeemed, and the spirit of revival is all abroad in the churches. Whole families are being converted, altars are crowded and everywhere Jesus and his salvation is the theme of ecstatic conversation. Glory! Glory! They shout down in Delaware and Maryland, hallelujah! they answer back from the wilds of Texas, the bottoms of Arkansas, and swamps of Louisiana. Our God is a man-of-war, and Jehovah is his name, say the victorious pastors in a hundred different churches, as they rush on against the power of sin night after night, and as often wrest from his grasp some soul washed in the blood of the lamb. Hallelujah! the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth says the thousands of true hearted men and women, who standing with these pastors, find comfort of soul in the share of this glorious work God has blessed them to do. What and where are the churches which have no revivals in them? Make any excuse or apology you please, but those are the churches which have a name to live and are dead. Those who pastor them are at ease in Zion. "Awake thou that sleepeth, arise from the dead and Christ will give you life. Jesus has risen, the Spirit of the Lord is abroad in the earth" and why dear brother can you not now drink in so deeply of this Spirit flow, that your faith may strengthen the brethren.

New Orleans, full of sport and levity as it is, as all great cities usually are, has caught this healing stream, and blaze of glory flames in most of the churches. Rev. M. C. B. Mason led off in Haven Chapel and soon the altar thronged with mourners and converts, this was too much for Marcus Dale and so he flew with all his indomitable pluck into the face of the foe and now "old Wesley" wakes to the echo of fifteen converts and a score of seekers. This has provoked Bro. Jackson to push out and lo! the Lord is doing a mighty work of salvation in Simpson Chapel, 10 have been converted there. Stephen Duncan with Union Chapel has two to shout over. John Qualls is hard at it in First street. R. C. Barrow with Algiers Church is happy over eight saved. Z. T. Gayden, at Thomson Chapel has six. The meeting in his church was the outgrowth of their quarterly sacrament occasion, Elder Cushman preached, all were happy at the close and the pastor said this is no time to think about money, all who feel like complying with what has been said come forward. The elder invited and the altar was quickly crowded. So it began there.

Visit to Straight University and Breakfast With Col. James Lewis.

New Orleans furnishes many local attractions, and has high claims as an educational seat, there being located here four universities for the benedt of the colored people. One among these is Straight University of the Congregational Church, the alma mater of that promising young theologian, Rev. A. E. P. Albert, presiding elder of the Teche district, Louisiana Methodist Episcopal Conference. There are three large buildings here, well located on high ground, at 490 Canal street. They are wooden in material as many public buildings are here, for the reason that they are cooler and dryer than brick or stone in this low country and hot climate. We enter just as the bells calls to chapel service in a plain, neat room in the central building of the group, up stairs, March 14. We file into our seats, hurried along by three hundred boys, girls and youths: until we are upon the platform, whereon lies spread open the Holy Bible before us. Who is on this platform? Let us take a look at them.

THE GUESTS.

Mr. B. B. Olds, Clinton, Wisconsin; C. VanHorn and wife, Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. M. L. Hanover, Springfield, Mass.; B. D. Hill, Esq., Columbus, Ohio; Thos. H. Jackson, D. D., Wilberforce University Ohio; Prof. J. P. Shorter, Columbus, Ohio. Prof. A. M. Green, Secretary Education, Louisiana African Methodist Episcopal Church, New Orleans, La.; President S. T. Mitchell, Wilberforce University, Ohio; Dr. J. T. Newman, M. D., New Orleans; Col. James Lewis, Surveyor General, New Orleans; Rev. R. T. Hurley, New Orleans; Chas. Gibbs, Esq., Cedar Falls, Iowa; Mrs. L. C. Gibbs, Cedar Falls, Iowa; Mrs. Edwin Gilbert, Georgetown, Conn.; Marshall W. Taylor, and the FACULTY:

R. C. Hitchcock, Rev. George W. W. Bothwell, W. J. McMurtry, A. M., Miss Florence A. Sperry B. S., Henry H. Swain, A. B.; Miss Elizabeth E. Stevenson, Miss Margaret E. Atkins, Mrs. R. C. Hitchcock Miss Myra L. Olmstead, Miss Elizabeth S. Dudman, Miss Carrie E. Platte, Miss A. A. Pease, Miss Mary F. Felt, Mrs. Annie B. Riggs, and Miss A. D. Gerrish.

At the tap of the bell at the order, Rev. Geo. W. Bothwell read the Scripture lesson, after singing, followed by prayer, in which the school joined with President Mitchell. After this Prof. Hitchcock called upon Col. Lewis to introduce the visitors, and the latter was requested to address the school; which the following did, namely: President Mitchell, Dr. Jackson, Chas. Gibbs, Esq., this editor, and President Hitchcock. Then came more of the Delicious singing, concluded by two selections from the "Plantation Molodies, of the South;" by the Negroes, viz:

"Rock my soul in the bosom of Abraham" and "Go thou and prophesy."

Just think of three hundred children, with a keen religious nature, and the Spirit of the Fathers upon them, singing idyls of the race; to the motion of head and foot; and the swelling of the chest with struggling emotions, and the power of the Spirit with in them, and you have it. Was it play? No it the germ of a dowerful on coming people bearing to their higher sphere the poetic feeling of their sires.

Then come a quick march by Miss Platte, while the students filled out in fine style. But oh, how the martial Spirit arose and swept the boys into glorious action, as she struck up "Yankee Doodle" on the piano. Out of the chapel we hurriedly ran through the various DEPARTMENTS;

Getting only a glance at things as we went, but this glance was enough to assure us that work incalculable, and of lasting valve to humanity was being accomplished. The dormitories, that is, the rooms where the boys and girls, who board in the College sleep, is an object of special interest to us, and we want it well understood, all over the country, that when we write up a school without complimenting this department, it will be so either because we are unable for some reason to inspect it; or because it does not deserve a compliment. In this case we were so pressed for time, that it was imposible to give this department a look, but we are going into the dormitory, of every Negro School in the South, please the Lord to spare our life. We emphasize it the best our education girls and boys are to get, is that of home duties, and right conceptions of what the home at its best state is. Two remarkable things must be noted here. The first is a little girl only eight years of age, whose black-board work is unexcelled by any worker we have ever seen for the ease, accuracy and grace with which it was performed. The little girl will read this, and remember that we took her by the hand when leaving the room. We expect a good deal of her. The next notable thing, more notable than others there worthy of notice, was a gentleman past early manhood, working away at his books, and the President said, "We are getting on nicely with him. His little wife put him here and told us to hurry up, as she was going out washing to keep him here." The President interested us when he said, "We do not put our grown students among the children." That is right, it is impossible for grown people and children to sit, study and recite in school together without the sacrifice of a vital quality of prestige which attends man, and especially professional manhood.

We now leave the Universitp and cross the street to the fine of Col. Lewis No 485 West Canal street, here is a large lot, stables, horses, vehicles, a capacious home well furnished and a most genial ladie at its head. There are six children in the family, four of whom are girls and two young men. The Colonel just now has both hands full, he is pushing his Experimental Restaurant in the Exposition with encouraging succes. He was determined that he would be sure that the colored visitors here were certain of accommodations such as his restaurant affords, for these reasons he began but everybody eats there now regardless of color, his daughter is cashier and does not feel ashamed of a position which enables her to thus most efficiently aid her father.

RESIDENCE,

BREAKFAST

around the table in the ample dining-hall was seated Col. Lewis, and Dr. Newman facing each other from extremes, this was not significant however, as they are rather paralells than extremes, on one side sat Prof. A. M. Green one of the strong men of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, Prof. Shorter and Dr. Jrckson, opposite them sat President Mitchell, R. F. Hurly, and this editor. The waiter was hired but Mrs. Lewis prepared the elegant repast with her own hands. This is seemingly much the habit with our leading ladies in this city. Only a few days ago when dining with Rev. M. L. Dale we found Mrs. Dale and daughters doing the honors of the kitchen, now this is exemplary in the first and highest degree, when such ladies thus honor home and its duties the under pining of correct social life takes firmer hold upon the granite of moral solidity.

The following menu will enable the reader to understand the situation and wish he had benn there:

MENU.

Red Fish, Court bouillon,
Lake Shrimp,
Beef Steak de Bordelan,
Yaner House Sausage, Mutton Chops,
Ham and Eggs, Boiled Eggs,
Salad, Cold Slaw,
Hot Rolls, Coffee Aylart.

Freedmen's Matters.

Mr. and Mrs S. Chapman, 424 Franklin St., entertained the President and Corresponding Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, with Messrs. M. Gant and Samuel Bell at their splendid home on Saturday eve, March 14. Matters concerning the educational work of the Society among the colored people were discused, deep interest was manifested by all parties present, and perfect unity of feeling was the result. The affair culminated in a lunch prepared, as only Mrs. Mahala Chapman can prepare a lunch when she wishes to. The guests were well pleased, and their pleasure pleased the well to do and hospitable host. With prayers, and songs and many wishes that God's blessing might rest upon all interests involved and all parties concerned, the company separated all feeling as did the singer, who sang "Behold how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

New Orleans Preacher's Meeting.

The New Orleans Methodist Episcopal preachers held their weekly meeting in Wesley Chapel at 11 a. m., Thursday, March 12, President Hudson in the chair. The Sunday-school lesson was discussed. S. R. Lowery, Esq., of Huntsville, Alabama, was introduced and addressed the meeting at length, on silk culture. It is probable that he will give a series of concerts in this city in various churches soon, illustrating this enterprise. He will cultivate and manufacture on an acre of ground, and within enclosed space allowed him in the Exposition for that purpose. He has obtained several premiums for his exhibit; the last one at the Louisville Exposition in 1884.

The meeting resolved to meet hereafter at 10 o'clock on Monday, beginning with Monday, March 16, and on that day it will be immediately succeeded by the Ladies Home Missionary Convention already announced in this paper. Rev. M. Dale was appointed to write, and read a paper before the meeting Sunday, March 23, subject: "What more can be done by the Methodist Episcopal colored preachers of this city to encourage the virtuous, restore the fallen colored women." To be discussed after reading.

Our Easter Sermon Sketch.

Our readers have no doubt noticed, and will appreciate the fact that Dr. Godman, by our special request and without pay, has been not only preparing but especially adapting his sermon sketches to the doctrines and arranging them with reference to the events of especial interest to the church. For example our sketch this week, coming just in advance of Easter Sunday, will furnish the very best outline for an Easter sermon that ten out of our fifteen hundred traveling or 3,000 colored local preachers can obtain. We have only two M. E. theological schools in the South for colored students whose theology is sound. Hence the greater need for these sketches.

Personal.

—The following prominent Negroes are enrolled upon the SOUTHWESTERN'S register at 15 Union street, New Orleans, attending the Exposition and domiciled as follows: Phillip Joseph, Mobile, Ala., State Commissioner, editor Mobile, Gazette, 368 Baronne street; James Hill, Jackson Miss.; George Brown, Louisville, Ky.; Noah Morgan, New Mexico; Wm. J. Simmons, Louisville, Ky., State Commissioner; Allen Allensworth, Bowling Green, Leland University, Alternate Commissioner; Henry Demas, St. John, La., State Commissioner and Senator of La.; F. G. Barbadoes, Washington, D. C., Alternate Commissioner, Mass.; Walter Thomas, Columbus, Ohio, alternate Commissioner, Ohio; John Cavolle, Bonnet Carre, post office, La., member of the Legislature, La.; Richard Simms, Central post office, La., State Senator: Claiborn Stanily, St. Charles post office, Luling, La.; R. F. Boyd, M. D., Nashville, Tenn.; P. W. Ray, Honorary Commissioner, State of New York, Brooklyn; S. R. Lowery, Huntsville, Ala., silk manufacturer; J. J. Spellman, Jackson, Miss., Superintendent Department colored exhibits; Mrs. Anna Spellman, Jackson, Miss., guest Col. J. M. Lewis, Canal street; A. P. Albert, M. D., Washington, D. C.; Charles A. Roxborough, Plaquemine parish Commissioner, 148 Gasquet street; G. S. Hawkins, Tallulah Station, member Legislature, La., 312½ Dryades street; T. K. Bridges, Claiborne, Miss., school teacher; R. Henri Herbert, Trenton, N. J., Commissioner colored exhibit; Albert Smith, Mobile, Ala., 247 Customhouse street; C. W. Yates, 331 St. Louis street, city editor Gate City Press; H. T. Kaling, Hempstead, Texas, assistant Prairie View State Normal School; J. M. Terrell Fort Worth, Texas, principal public schools; J. Dallas Bowser, editor Gate City Press, Kansas City, Mo., 730 Carondelet street; M. A. Teackle, St. Louis, Mo., teacher in Sumner High School, 300 Terpsichore street; Hitchins Inge, St. Louis, Mo., principal No. 2 school, 300 Terpsichore street; James M. Vena, St. Louis, Mo., teacher No. 9 school, 300 Terpsichore street, Mrs. Dr. H. H. Garnet, New York City, principal Grammar School, N. Y.; L. M. Sublett, Orange, Texas, principal city school No. 2 Deposit street, corner Napoleon and Dryades; E. J. Anthony, Jefferson City, Mo., principal public school, 225½ St. Mary street; Miss Anna Coleman, St. Louis, Mo., teacher public school, 225½ St. Mary street; L. W. Coleman, St. Louis, Mo., teacher public school; A. T. Curtis, Marion, Ala., teacher 331 St. Louis; M. A. Williams, Morrilton, Ark., teacher public school, 331 St. Louis, street; C. A. Bourgeois, Hahnville, La., planter, St. Charles parish; E. A. Augustus, St. John Baptist parish, Edgar, La., teacher, 111 Melpomene street; Zeul F. Patterson, Big Bend post office, La., teacher, 396 Customhouse street; Geo. P. Daniels, Galveston, Texas, Assistant Commissioner; Edward Brooks, Ironton, Ohio, Assistant Commissioner; Edward Huckabee, Greensboro, Calhoun county, Ala. Assistant Commissioner, M. W. Gibbs, Little Rock, Ark., Commissioner, 487 Canal street; J. H. Smith, Little Rock, Ark. dentist, 314 Baronne street; C. S. Smith, Bloomington, Ill.; H. G. Boyle, Houston, Tex.; J. T. Barton, Joliett, Ill.; H. M. Turner, Bishop African Methodist Episcopal Church, Atlanta, Ga.; Jno. G. Lewis, Natchitoches, La., parish commissioner, 230 Customhouse street.

—Bishop Mallalieu has returned from holding his conferences. He addressed 250 children of the Methodist Episcopal mission schools, in Wesley Chapel, within a few hours after his arrival in the city.

—Bishop Walden and Dr. Rust and ladies, left by the Queen and Crescent line for Cincinnati, on Monday night, March 16, after a visit which we hope was as agreeable to them as it was profitable to our people here.

—Prof. H. R. Pinkney, of Philander Smith College, was suddenly called home to South Carolina, to bury his brother. Rev. O. H. Smith supplied his place as teacher in the College tempoarily until his return.

PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY OF CONFERENCE.

The Conference began 'tis first decreed,
To fill each chasm in the ancient deed;
This honor some by full election share;
Their title others by their age declare;
Age takes the lead, for all are Spartans here,
But wise and aged we in heart revere:
These levy tribute on our own warm esteem,
And such we worthy double honor deem,
Who fills the chair, is next the general plan,
And suffrage free selects the proper man,
A wise, judicious, prudent, well tried sire,
A pilot still'd our moral bark to steer;
Whose apostolic conduct shall anshrine
Each public act indignity divine.
Prepare the vote, another niche to fill,
An able scribe, to guide the council quill,
Whose animated tongue, and nimble pen,
Can write on paper and on heart of men;
Lynx-eyed to penetrate through every part;
The clearest head and the most upright heart,
Tips where the laws of truth and kindness join,
With energy of action half divine;
A man of noble, independent soul,
Firm as a rock and steady as the pole
Discreet, impartial, ready in debate,
The leading point to unify and state;
For every task, for every office fit,
A man of God, a scholar and a wit.

Domestic Hygiene.

Cold Feet and What to Do for Them.

GEO. L. CURTIS, M. D.

There is an intimate connection between the feet properly cared for and kept warm, and a healthy and prompt circulation of the blood through the entire system. The inconvenience of "cold feet" is beyond description, and sometimes the pain resulting is severe. The blood, when in the feet, is at the farthest point from the heart, the great central organ of circulation. All animal heat originates in the blood. It is probably the result of chemical changes wrought in the lungs when venous blood comes in contact with the oxygen of the air. The blood on the right side of the heart coming in from the extremities of the circulation through the veins are cooler than the blood in the left side, just created and ready to be sent out to the system.

If the feet are neglected, being indifferently clad and protected, they will become cold. As a consequence the blood, charged with animal heat is compelled to yield up more of its heat than it ought, and passes back to the heart at a lower temperature than nature designed. It will in part follow that all the internal organs will suffer functional disturbances of the most important kind. Every other part of the body will not be attended with such grave results as the head may be exposed to, but nothing when the feet would suffer and cause such disturbance. Many people who always have "cold feet" suffer great discomfort in the head, and a great many more have "cold feet" and suffer great inconvenience in other parts of the system, but even in these cases the feet need to be kept warm to prevent the more serious results.

There are diseases resulting from habitual "cold feet," where in fact a primary interference with the regular and natural circulation of the blood in all other parts of the system resulting from "cold feet," and wherever there is any tendency to weakness there disease locates. The weaker organ suffers most. Hence sometimes very grave headaches, with nausea, soon to vomiting follow "cold feet." At other times there is a severe pain and great heaviness in the head, which persists until the disorder is broken up by careful and prompt treatment. There is also disturbances of the liver, and its functions are checked, and constipation follows with all its long train of ill effects. In nearly all cases of chronic "cold feet" there is persistent constipation, with heaviness and general depression. Occasionally "cold feet" interfere with the process of digestion, which soon becomes the source of other difficulties too numerous to mention.

This "cold feet" process can be broken up, and a natural and healthy condition established. The "cold feet" ought to be held for a few minutes in warm water as hot as can be borne every night for weeks, and then rubbed hard and dry with a coarse crash towel. This will cause an enlargement of the smaller arteries and capillary vessels, and more blood will be carried to those parts to warm and cherish them than before. With the free circulation of blood in the extremities all the internal organs are relieved, and especially is the brain made easy from the pressure which follows "cold feet."

In a case of semi-frosted feet or a school girl, which was followed by discoloration, constant coldness, and partial insensibility, we corrected the evil by continued water baths, and stimulating the feet with compound tincture of lodine. After about four weeks of such treatment the discoloration and coldness ceased, and they became as sensitive as when well.

The old motto "Keep the head cool and the feet warm," is based on sound common sense and true physiological principles.

Many children are too scantily clothed on the feet, ankles and to the knees in cold weather. We have seen a child, clothed comfortably about the body, go out on a cold day, having a cloth hood and cape for the body and shoulders, and a warm mitt for the hands, but the feet only evidently protected, and the ankles simply encased in one thickness of a stocking. In such a condition the child is liable to various diseases that will take permanent hold in advanced age. A mother persisted in clothing her little boy in short dress, thinly clad feet and low-necked legs, bare arms and low-necked dress. When the mother was warned of the danger to her little Bobby she said, "O, I love to see Bobby so, he is so white." Soon Bobby died from such exposure, and the mother mourned because she said Providence had removed him. The fact is she murdered Bobby and called it Providence. Beware of "cold feet."

A Deceiver Warned.

If the lady who uses cosmetics, face lotions, white lead, bismuth, powders, enamels, etc., in the belief of enriching and beautifying the complexion, is but temporary and ultimately destroys the skin beyond the power of nature to restore. Stop it! Stop it now and use only Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic, which imparts the vigor and loveliness of youth.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once. It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
July 17-1y.

HOT SPRINGS AT YOUR DOOR.
PHYSICIANS AT HOT SPRINGS USE IN THEIR OWN CASES AND PRESCRIBE FOR OTHERS

Buffalo Lithia Water
In Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Etc.

DR. ALGERNON S. GARNETT,
Surgeon (retired) U. S. Navy, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark.

"My experience in the use of Buffalo Lithia Water is limited to the treatment of Gout, Rheumatism, and that hybrid disease 'Rheumatic Gout,' (so called) which is in contra-distinction to the Rheumatoid Arthritis of Garrod.

"I have had excellent results from this Water in these affections, both in my own person and in the treatment of patients for whom I have prescribed it. Of course the remedial agent is its contained Alkalies and their solvent properties.

"Hence it is a prophylactic as well as a remedy in Nephritis Colic and forming Calculi when due to a redundancy of Lithic Acid."

DR. WM. B. TOWLES,
Member of Medical Society of Va., Resident Physician of Hot Springs, Ark.

"I feel no hesitancy whatever in saying that in Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, and in all diseases of Uric Acid Diathesis, I know of no remedy at all comparable to Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2. In a single case of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys I witnessed very marked beneficial results from its use, and from its action in this particular case I should have great confidence in it in this disease."

DR. T. B. BUCHANNAN,
Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark.

"Send me five cases Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2. I have made use of this Water for Gout in my own person and prescribed it for patients suffering with the most decided beneficial results. I take pleasure in advising Gouty patients to these Springs."

Springs pamphlet, with testimonials from eminent medical men at Hot Springs, sent to any address. Water in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles, $5 per case at the Springs.

L. L. LYON, 42 Camp street, and G. F. FINLAY, 35 Bienville street, New Orleans, Agents.
THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs, Virginia.
mar26 2t

CHRISTIAN
MEN and WOMEN are Wanted
For the New and Popular Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN
BIBLE COMMENTARY.
4 Vols., nearly 2,000 Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.
Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.
[illegible] & Co.
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.
The work is heavily [illegible]. mar26 2m

GRATEFUL PRAISE!
A NEW S. S. BOOK BY J. H. Willmore.
Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 35 cents; $3 per dozen by express, $3.60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free
WILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race Street, Cincinnati, O.

HEADQUARTERS
FOR
Sunday-school Supplies
[illegible] compliance with the GOSPEL AT WORK [illegible]
Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries,
[illegible] Reward Books, Question Books, Catechisms, Revised Union Question Books and Cards, Tract Cards, Tract Lists, Tract Envelopes, Tract Cases, Tract Racks, Tract Boxes, Library Cases, Library Labels, Library Paste, Library Ink, Library Pencils, Library Rubbers, Library Blanks, Library Paper, Library Envelopes, Library Boxes, Library Cards, Library Catalogues, Library Shelves, Library Tables, Library Chairs, Library Desks, Library Stools, Library Lamps, Library Clocks, Library Thermometers, Library Barometers, Library Globes, Library Maps, Library Charts, Library Pictures, Library Frames, Library Mirrors, Library Curtains, Library Carpets, Library Rugs, Library Mats, Library Screens, Library Fans, Library Umbrellas, Library Canes, Library Hats, Library Caps, Library Coats, Library Vests, Library Pants, Library Shoes, Library Boots, Library Gloves, Library Mittens, Library Scarfs, Library Ties, Library Collars, Library Cuffs, Library Shirts, Library Drawers, Library Socks, Library Suspenders, Library Belts, Library Buckles, Library Pins, Library Rings, Library Watches, Library Chains, Library Keys, Library Seals, Library Stamps, Library Stamps, Library Stamps

General News Items.

The trustees of the British Museum have decided by a small majority in favor of Sunday opening

In response to an address from French workingmen, the Pope is to issue an encyclical letter, on the reconciliation of capital and labor.

The Lord Mayor will preside over a great meeting to be held in London to promote the work of securing a national memorial to General Gordon.

The German bombardment of Foss Town, Cameroons, in which English property was destroyed, is likely to lead to diplomatic representations.

Northern iron manufacturers who have visited the Southern iron fields and that cheap transportation furnishes an advantage to that section.

After being severely lectured by Bismarck, the Reichstag has passed a bill permitting him to increase the import duties on provisions and breadstuffs.

The Paris Temps says the treaty settling the Egyptian financial question, which will be signed almost immediately, embodies the assent of England to the free navigation of the Suez Canal.

The citizens of Arcata, California, after compelling the Chinese to remove outside the city, held a meeting and adopted a resolution pledging themselves to use all legal means to prevent the settlement of Chinese in Arcata.

At Knoxville, Tenn., James Reynolds put kerosene oil on the heads of his three children, aged two, four and six, for the purpose of killing vermin. Two of the children died within two hours. Prompt medical aid saved the other.

Judge Sullivan, of San Francisco, has rendered a decision on the question of alimony and counsel fees in the Sharon divorce case. He granted the plaintiff $2,500 a month from the date of application, January 9th, and $55,000 counsel fees.

It is said that many of the peach trees and all the peach buds in Michigan, as far as be known, have been killed by the intense cold of the present Winter. The peach and plum buds in Northern Ohio are also reported killed by the cold.

A large portion of the ills that flesh is heir to arise from an impure state of the blood. By promoting a healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys, HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY purifies the blood and eliminates disease.

Mrs. H. C. Hamburger, Manor Hill, Huntingdon County, Pa., writes: "Dr. S. K. Marshall & Co., Columbus, O.: I have been afflicted for three years, caused by over-work and close confinement. My kidneys became seriously affected; could not retain my urine day nor night. It was high colored, thick and bloody. My monthlies had left altogether for four-teen months, during which time I was confined to my bed with a beating in right ovaries. The discharge from the womb was so offensive no one could stay in the room. The urine continued bloody, with pain in voiding it, and when in bed would pass from me in my sleep. I have had three doctors attending me regularly, one for four months, one of the others one whole summer, and the third all winter. We had two others in consultation with them, and used twenty bottles of different kinds of patent medicines, all to no good. I then got a bottle of PERUNA, and before I had three-fourths of the bottle taken I quit wetting the bed and could retain the urine sufficient to attend church, which I had not done for three years, and my monthlies came back as natural as ever, indeed. I considered myself a well woman again. Since then I have had pneumonia. My confidence in PERUNA was so great that I did not send for a doctor. I followed the directions in your 'Ills of Life,' and got over it, as well as can be expected of one so delicate as I have been. Others in my neighborhood had the same disease, and among them were strong men, and had the best physicians, and yet died, while I sailed through in safety on PERUNA and MANALIN. I sincerely believe, and would say to all the afflicted in the wide world, that PERUNA and MANALIN are the only two medicines that any one needs in any disease, if used as directed in your book entitled 'The Ills of Life.'"

J. E. Fleming, publisher of the New Dominion, Morgantown, W.Va., writes: "Some months since, I received some of your medicine in exchange for advertising. My wife has taken five bottles of it, and has derived great benefit from it."

Mr. M. C. Pershing, Bradenville, Pa., writes: "My wife has been using PERUNA for some time for weak lungs and liver and kidney complaint, and thinks it is doing her great good. Has used only one bottle as yet. Please send your book on the 'Ills of Life,' as we can't get any from our druggist."

Mr. John Denny, Mt. Vernon, O., writes: "We have a large sale in PERUNA. It gives satisfaction."

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

TRADE MARK.
[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased, mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no-donching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for the time it is used, by Cook's powerful healing balm of Piñon Pine, draws from the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces all the impurities that bother the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional exhalation. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, while being taken into the blood during its, aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-ly

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Edw. Heath, DEALER IN Wall Paper,

Cocoa and Canton Matting, Rugs, Mats, Upholsterer's Materials, Window Shades, Cornices, and Curtain Goods,

Frames, Mouldings, Mirrors, Plates, Wire Screens, Etc.

75 Camp Street.....New Orleans.

Liberal discount to the trade. Samples of WALL PAPER sent on application. oct9-6m

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN-MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. E. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolsen, Vice President, Chas. E. Hice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Bowling,	Sam'l. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. E. Conger
W. E. Lyman,	U. Marinoni,	Chas. H. Dolsen,	John Calder,	A. H. Steward
S. O. Conlon,	Henry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucien Dalcy,	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
R. F. W. Bachman.	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Fiske
Chas. E. Hice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Bodd.

See our Agents throughout the South. oct3-1y

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain

FOR $4.20.

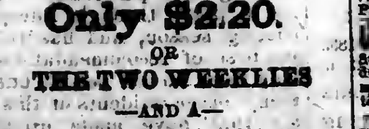
Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,



by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small additional amount named above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKEL-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

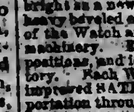
Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

299.....Rampart Street.....299

(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)



NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.

All orders promptly and carefully executed moderate prices.

sept25-tf A. LABAT, Asst Manager.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine. feb19-26t

MILLERS and FARMERS Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro., 227 Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga. may22-1y

BELLS.

The following prices coincide with those of Buckeye Bell Foundry, Cincinnati, O.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Lbs.	Price.
26 inches	275 lbs.	$45 00
28 "	325 lbs.	55 00
32 "	500 lbs.	80 00
36 "	800 lbs.	120 00
40 "	1,000 lbs.	160 00
44 "	1250 lbs.	200 00
48 "	1600 lbs.	240 00
54 "	2000 lbs.	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	120 lbs.	$12 00
20 inches	130 lbs.	18 00
24 inches	200 lbs.	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with METAL BELLS at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are fully warranted. No need any more vexation from bells.

On receipt of this price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N.Y.

nov9-1ye

McSHANE BELL FOUNDRY

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Town-Halls, Schools, etc. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address

HENRY McSHANE & CO.

Baltimore, Md.

Baltimore Church Bells

[illegible] Copper and Tin.) Warranted satisfactory. For Prices, Circulars, &c., address BELTIMORE BELL FOUNDRY, Baltimore, Md.

OUR CLUBBING LIST,

[illegible] SOUTHWEST-

Periodicals [illegible] with their [illegible] any one of the following publications, among others as each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$8 00
Outing	4 00
Blackwood	4 25
Eclectic	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Rose Bud	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	4 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

MASON & HAMLIN

Exhibited at ALL the important WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVE EXHIBITIONS FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS. Mason & Hamlin Organs have, after most rigid examinations and comparisons, been ALWAYS FOUND BEST, and AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS; not even in one such important comparison has any other American ORGANS Organ been found equal to them. Over HUNDRED STYLES, adapted to all uses, from the smallest size, yet having the characteristic Mason & Hamlin excellence, at $65, to the best instrument which it is possible to construct from reeds, at $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues, 48 pp. 4to, and price lists, free.

The Mason & Hamlin Company manufacture PIANOS, adding to all the improvements which have been found valuable in such instruments, one of peculiar practical value, tending to greatest purity and refinement in quality of tone and durability, especially the greatest improvement made in upright pianos for half a century. The MASON & HAMLIN CO., pledge themselves that every piano of their make shall illustrate that VERY HIGHEST EXCELLENCE which has always characterized their organs. Send for circular with illustrations, full description and explanation.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,

BOSTON, 154 Tremont St. CHICAGO, 149 Wabash Ave.

NEW YORK, 46 East 14th St. (Union Square.)

oct23-26t

CATARRH

Send 50 cts. and symptoms for Trial Treatment, to last 20 days, by mail post-paid. Which will convince the most incredulous that Dr. Brockington positively and permanently cures at small expense, by a pleasant treatment, the worst cases of Catarrh, though the bones of the nose have become affected, causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption. No Snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Over 7000 cases cured. The best internal treatment ever discovered for this dangerous disease. Address DR. C. N. BROCKINGTON.

[Mention this paper.] 320 FOURTH AVENUE, LOUISVILLE, KY.

oct2-1yr

BARNES'

Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business, Lathes for Wood or Metal, Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.

W. F. & JOHN BARNES,

No. 187 Ruby St. Rockford, Ills.

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 30 Natchez Street.

LAFAYETTE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting, Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching, Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Prank in street; Rev. J. J. Kissle pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 2 p m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Erato street; Rev. Christ Schulz, pastor. Services—Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Valence, between Chestnut and Magazine streets. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 a m and 7:30 p m. Prayer meeting at 9 a m. Class meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 1:30. E. O. Fowler, pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services on Sundays, preaching 11 a m, 7½ p m. Sunday-school at 3 o'clock. Class meeting on Sunday nights. Preaching Thursday night. Prayer meeting Friday night. Stephen Dorsey, pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Bayou; Rev. Marcus Hunter, pastor. Services Sunday 11 a m; prayer meeting preceding 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m. Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30. Class, Monday eve.

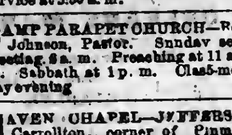
SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. B. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting, 9 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Pinn street. Rev. M. O. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m, 3 and 7 p. m, Sunday. Sunday-school 9 a. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m, and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University A. F. Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. [illegible] Montgomery, Pastor Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.



MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor. Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Poet street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W.P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

J. E. OGILVIE—Teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music. Also tunes and repairs pianos and organs at reasonable rates. Residence, 39 South Johnson Street.

Pianos & Organs

Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address

JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,

Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.

feb19-1y

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic

Liver & Kidney Balm,

The Most Wonderful

LIVER AND KIDNEY CURE

In the World.

Will relieve and cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, such as Inflammation, Feverish Irritation of the Bladder, Weakness & Pains in the Back, Catarrh of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Female Troubles, Bright's Disease, Melancholia, Impotency, Debility, Jaundice, or any derangement of the KIDNEYS, LIVER OR BLADDER.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT!

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's HOMŒOPATHIC LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM will cure you.

We have thousands of certificates, but add only two:

H. C. Herds, Lloyds, W. Va., says: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm cured me of Nervous Prostration of five years' standing."

Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Toronto, Canada, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm have completely cured me of derangement of the natural functions."

Price $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle, St., St. Louis, Mo.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Pillets.

They are little white pillets, size of a pin head, but they perform wonders in cleansing the Bowels. When the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys are in an unhealthy condition, there is generated Bacteria (Animalcules), which if not destroyed, produces various forms of constitutional disease. Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver Pillets will destroy and remove these terrible parasites and cure all troubles of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs by effectually removing the cause of all derangements of the natural functions, and taken with Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Balm, has cured thousands of cases of the worst kind of Chronic Blood Diseases. One pillet before going to bed at night is a dose. Price 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle Sts., St. Louis, Mo.

Send For My Free Catalogue of Dr. J. H. M'LEAN'S OWN SELECTED Field, Farm, Garden & Flower Seeds.

jan1-6m

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Influenza, and all such Throat Troubles yield instantly to its magical and soothing influence.

For Lung Troubles, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Asthma and Consumption, Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only remedy that will give sure relief. It has cured Lung Diseases where all other remedies have failed. Why will you suffer from Throat and Lung Troubles when such a pleasant remedy is offered you. For Croup it is a positive specific. For Singers and Speakers the TAR WINE BALM is an absolute necessity. Nothing has ever been discovered which will give such immediate relief, and it will positively cure Throat Troubles. DON'T DELAY.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

Those whose Lungs and Throats are sore, hard and dry will realize the soothing effect of a single dose of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, and to give all doubting skeptics a chance to be assured of its wonderful soothing and miraculous virtues, I have put up Trial Bottles, costing only 25 cents per bottle. Every druggist in the United States should have them. If they have not, please ask them to send for a dozen as a test. Every one trying that 25-cent size will be convinced of the miraculous benefits they will receive from taking Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

[illegible] taking in the nose, forehead and [illegible] get a bot. of Dr. J. H. M'[illegible] and see it cures Any, besides [illegible] TAR WINE BALM to heal [illegible]

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

[illegible] and [illegible] if you will send me [illegible] that amount postage stamps, I will send you [illegible] contains six times as much as [illegible] $1 00 [illegible] 5 00

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM, Prepared by

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S [illegible]

[illegible] BLOOD PURIFIER. [illegible] upon the health from the grave, giving them power, vital life, strength and pure blood.

"I would not take $100 for the benefit the bottle has given me." T. CONEY, St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. Yowell, Dudley, Ill., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only medicine which gives me relief. I have had Bronchitis for many years." J. M. Phillips, Rock Mine, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM gives the greatest satisfaction here. It has no equal for coughs, colds, etc., and in fever it is certainly a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of letters come to me, all proclaiming the miraculous merits of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM.

jan1-6m

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884.

In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Regnas, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

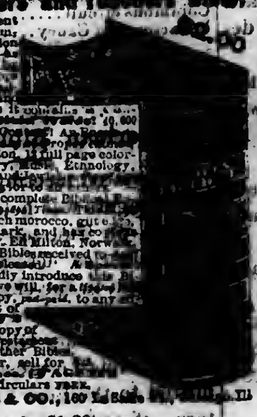
Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings;

One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations of Responsible Hotels for all Visitors.



During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65° Fahr. The lawns and parks remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address

M. A. KURTH, Director General,

New Orleans, La.

The Ministers' and Teachers' Bible.

This magnificent [illegible] Parlor Bible is [illegible] newest type [illegible] of The Land [illegible] the leading [illegible] of Egypt, [illegible] New Testament [illegible] Concordance of nearly [illegible] with Pronunciation [illegible] Reference with [illegible] Colored Maps, [illegible] Plants, Animals, [illegible] Bible, and [illegible] Superior to [illegible] N. Y. Times: "A complete [illegible] cyclopedia." [illegible] bound in French morocco, gilt [illegible] with silk book-mark, and has [illegible] references. Rev. Ed Milton, Norwich, O., writes, "The Bibles received [illegible] I am more than pleased." [illegible] To rapidly introduce this Bible in America we will, for a [illegible] sell, send one copy, postpaid, to any address on receipt of [illegible] cash. Other Bibles [illegible] copies and one copy of Revised New Testament for $4.00. Other Bibles with less matter, sell for [illegible] to $2.50. Address [illegible] WANTED! Circulars free.

C. R. MAYO & CO., 160 [illegible]

jan31-26teow 10

SEEDS FOR THE GARDEN & FIELD

Established 40 Yrs. 1843

RELIABLE

Vegetable Seeds,

Flower and Tree Seeds,

Grass Seed, Seed Potatoes, Onion Sets,

SEED DRILLS, GARDEN CULTIVATORS, &c.

Catalogue Mailed Free to all. Address

PLANT SEED COMPANY,

812 & 814 N. 4th St., St. Louis, Mo.

Name this Paper.

jan1-8t

FITS

A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.

FROM AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

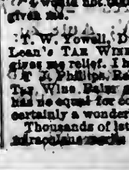
"Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years' standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York.

feb5-13

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success.

J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.



jan22 26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS, by JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30-52t

THE SOUTHERN WORLD A 16 page Illustrated Journal. Sample copy sent free. Agents Wanted. DATLANTA, Georgia.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

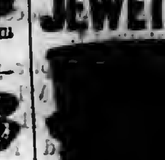
Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S



SWEET GUM & MULLEIN

The [illegible] taken from the pine of the southern swamps contains a stimulating expectorant principle which loosens the phlegm, and cures the false membrane, relieving the early morning cough in Consumption, curing Coughs, Croup, and Whooping Cough. This, combined with [illegible] Mullein Plant of the old field, presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein, the finest [illegible] remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds, and Consumption. For full information also send stamp for "Taylor's Kidd Book," for the welfare of home and amusement of the little ones.

MALONE A. TAYLOR, Atlanta, Ga.

sep25-52teow

The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT

[illegible] Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, [illegible] and cheapest light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theaters, Depots, etc. New and Second-hand Chandeliers of [illegible] Liberal Get circular and estimate. [illegible] to the trade.

L. P. [illegible] 55 Read St., N. Y.

established 1857

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being discovered for these [illegible] Dyes. [illegible] Ribbons, Feathers, Flowers, Grasses, Rushes, Straw, Felt, Wood, Ivory, Bone, Leather, Paper, &c., [illegible] Photographs, Engravings, &c. [illegible] making ALL colors of Ink. Wood Stains. Sold Druggists. Ink Book, 40c. DIAMOND DYE CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

[illegible] PERMANENT and FADELESS. [illegible] pounds of silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For [illegible] uses given in [illegible] Sold everywhere. [illegible] Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special [illegible] Circular, Special Color Cards, Sample Card of [illegible] Colors, and Diamond Dye Panorama. Colored Photo. as sample, or 5 Packages of Any Color Dye mailed for 25 cents. Address as above.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS, GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE, [illegible] Ornamental work. [illegible] Sold by druggists. Send stamp for Special Circular, Special Color Cards, Sample Card of Colors, and Diamond Dye Panorama. Colored Photo. as sample, or 5 Packages of Any Color Dye mailed for 25 cents. Address as above.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

mar5-12t

JEWETT'S FILTERS.

BEWARE OF IMPURE WATER

Jewett's Patent Filters, with filling of prepared charcoal, render water clear, pure, and healthful, for drinking and cooking purposes. These filters have stood the test of one-third of a century, and have a world-wide reputation as the one only reliable filter. A 16-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett & Sons, BUFFALO, N. Y.

feb19 8t

CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL

"A TRIFLE OF BEAUTY IN A POT FORTUNE." [illegible] PRESERVING, RESTORING AND Beautifying the Complexion. FOR REMOVING DANDRUFF, ITCH, ERADICATING PIMPLES, BLACKHEADS, FRECKLES, &c. OPINIONS OF NOTED LADIES. LOTTA—It is the best preparation for the face that I ever used, I am sure no other CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG—It gives me pleasure to add my name to the list of those who recommend your "Liquid Pearl," and express the satisfaction it affords me. The LIQUID PEARL has been received by the ladies of all countries with the highest marks of appreciation. Only 50 cents a bottle, sold by all Druggists & Perfumers. CHAMPLIN & CO., PROPS., BOSTON, MASS.

dec28-26teow

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK.

No preparation and only a common pen needed. Established 50 Years. Superior and popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial Medal & Diploma. Sold everywhere.

jan26-26teow

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

feb26-13t

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN. Jefferson, W

mar5-52t

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta Ga.

mar20-52t

AGENTS COIN MONEY who sell Dr. CHASE'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN. Price $2.00. Write for Circular. Address, A. W. HAMILTON & Co., Ann Arbor, Mich.

jan2-3m

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

First Quarterly Review—March 29.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Lessons I, II; Acts 26, 2-27.
Tu.—Lessons III, IV; Acts 20, 28-38; 21, 1-14.
W.—Lessons V, VI; Acts 21; 15-40.
Th.—Lessons VII, VIII; Acts 22, 1-21; 23, 1-11.
F.—Lessons IX, X; Acts 23, 12-24; 24, 10-27.
S.—Lessons XI, XII; Acts 25, 1-32.
S.—The goodness of God; Psa. 23, 1-6.

REVIEW SCHEME.

Lesson I.—What accident interrupted Paul's preaching? What was the outcome? How did the circumstance prove the truth of the promise, "All things work together for good?"

Lesson II.—What did Paul say of his past conduct as a minister of Jesus Christ, and of his resolution as to the future?

Lesson III.—Of what did Paul warn the church? What did he say as to his own support? How does this lesson enforce the duty of benevolence?

Lesson IV.—Of what journey does this lesson speak? What prophecy concerning Paul did Agabus utter? How does this Epistle teach that "Love is stronger than death?"

Lesson V.—To what city did Paul and his company come? What can you tell concerning the council held there? What do we learn respecting the true Christian desire to avoid offense?

Lesson VI.—Who created the temple disturbance? How was Paul treated? What spirit did he show?

Lesson VII.—To what does Paul allude in the first part of his address? What narrative does he relate? What duty was enjoined upon him?

Lesson VIII.—Before what council does Paul appear, and what was the result of the conference? How was Paul sustained?

Lesson IX.—Of what conspiracy does this lesson treat? What journey did Paul make? How easy for God to confound his enemies?

Lesson X.—Before whom was Paul charged with crime? What was his defense? See the advantage of a good conscience and the truth.

Lesson XI.—Why was Paul pleased to plead his case before Agrippa? What facts did he relate? The apostle's willingness to confess Jesus.

XII.—Recall the conversation between Paul and Festus; also that between Agrippa and Paul. The advantage of loyalty to God over royalty.

How Light on Rheumatism.

"I had been completely disabled from rheumatism. I used Parker's Tonic for kidney disease, when to my astonishment the rheumatism completely disappeared." So writes Mrs Henry Segert, of No. 454 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Rheumatism arises from the failure of the kidneys to seperate the uric acid from the blood.

Obituary.

At Natchitoches, La., Mrs. Lucretia Gradney, on Friday, Feb. 27, 1885. While the light of the morning painted the dewy globe her spirit took flight for heaven. She was 80 years old. She has lived 55 years a Christian. She loved to talk about the Lord. A great multitude followed her, with lamentation, to the grave.

Mrs. Delia Washington died Dec. 30, 1884. She was 57 years of age.

At Braden Station, Tenn., Mrs. Emeline McCraw, an old and faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place. She was born May, 1843, and died Feb. 7, 1885. She was at peace with God and all mankind. REV. J. L. MASSEY.

Amanda Butler died at Galloway, Tenn., Feb. 12, 1885. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place, and was at peace with God. J. L. MASSEY.

"So far, so good," said the boy, after eating the stolen tart. After reviewing the thousands and tens of thousands of colds and coughs that have been conquered by Dr Bull's Cough Syrup we can readily say, so far, so good.

Conference Notices.

Lexington Conference.

Arrangements have been made with the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railway Company to carry the ministers and visitors from Cincinnati to Springfield and return for two cents per mile each way. They will pay full fare going; the Secretary of the Conference will furnish them with a certificate which will enable them to purchase a ticket from the company's agent at Springfield to return on at one cent per mile. Trains leave going from the Grand Central Station, Third and Central avenue. JOS. COURTNEY.

Ashville District—Central Alabama Conference.

Second Round.

Enon	Mar. 28-29
Birmingham	Apr. 4- 5
Blount Springs	" 11-12
Blountsville	" 18-19
Village Springs	" 25-26
Roanoke Valley	" 25-26
Collinsville	May 2- 3
Gadsden	" 9-10
Centre	" 16-17
Mud Creek	" 16-17
Ashland	" 23-24
Wedowee	" 30-31
Talladega	June 6- 7

O. NELSON, P. E.

Notice.

To the pastors, local preachers and exhorters of the Palestine District, about the presiding elder's home that was to be located in Tyler or Palestine:

Dear Brethren—Remember that the district conference will convene some time in August, and each one of us is expected to bring up what we promised. We know that we have the poorest district there is in the Texas Annual Conference, but let us show up something and then we will be seen. Now, I hope every brother will come up. I will mention the donations again: pastors, $5 each, local preachers $3 each, exhorters $2 each.

AARON TAYLOR, sec'y.

Palestine, Texas, Feb. 19, 1885.

Columbus District—West Texas Conference.

Second Round.

LaGrange ct, by Henderson	Mar. 28-29
LaGrange	Apr. 4- 5
Columbus	" 11-12
Alleyton	" 18-19
Oakland	" 25-26
Wallersburg	May 2- 3
Flatonia	" 9-10
Weedler and Peach Creek	" 16-17
Luling	" 23-24
Lockhart	" 30-31
Weimar, by Cooper	June 6- 7
Ellinger and Industry	" 6- 7
Columbus circuit	" 13-14
Wharton and Caney	" 20-21

P. M. CARMICHAEL.

General Church News.

American Bible Society.

The stated meeting of the Board of Managers was held at the Bible House, on Thursday, March 5th, 1885, Charles Tracy, Esq., Vice-President, in the chair.

Religious services were conducted by Secretary Gilman.

The foreign correspondence submitted to the Board included matters of special interest, among which were letters from Dr. Blodgett, of Peking, and Dr. Gulick of Shanghai, in reference to preparations of a version of the Scriptures in Easy Wenli, the simplest form of the written language of China; from the State Department, giving reason to hope that restrictions imposed on the sale of Scriptures by the provincial authorities at Erzroom will be removed, through the the intervention of General Wallace; from the Bible Societies of France, of Valparaiso, and Russia, with reports of their work for 1884, and with thanks for valuable aid received from the American Bible Society; from the Austrian and the Ceylon Missions of the American Board, with accounts of the Bible work done by them, and from the Society's Agents in Cuba, Brazil, La Plata, and Japan.

Grants of books were made for colportage and for sale and distribution in the United States and in various foreign countries of the value of about $7,560. Funds were granted to the Austrian Mission of the American Board to the amount of $751 21.

The Luling Bible Society, Texas, was recognized as an auxiliary.

The total receipts for February were $43,134 41, and 56,144 volumes were issued from the Bible House during the month.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR—Please answer the following questions:

What is the status of and what shall be done with a member, who is prompt to meet all financial obligations but fails to attend Church?—Subscriber.

1. A member who meets all financial obligations, and fails to attend any of the religious services of the Church is one who neglects the means of grace, except that of Christian liberality which taken in its proper relation to the others is also a precious means of grace, otherwise it is only a quality of human generosity, which may be, and often is found abounding in non-members of the Church.

2. Now the manner of dealing with these persons depends entirely upon the cause and quality of their neglect. If it is wilful and they persist in it after faithful efforts have been made to cure them of it, then the only remedy would be to proceed against them as per Discipline for such offence.

Otherwise they may not only become confirmed in this course, but also led to conclude that the financial is the most important duty they owe to the Church. This would be both injurious to them and unjust to the Church. Even an expulsion would be better for all concerned. But in such cases much love, prayer, patience, discretion, and labor is required of both pastor and leader with the good example of officials and members cognizant of the case.

Sermon Sketches.

REV. W. D. GODMAN.

The Passion of Our Lord.

Text—1 Peter 3, 18: "For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God."

Intro.—The passion of Jesus is the grand event of history. In it the interest of the New Testament culminates. The life of Jesus is a preparation for it. The hope of [illegible] upon it. The Scriptures recite and impresses it on our thoughts on it thus:

I. First—The suffering and death of Jesus were real.—In the early history of Christianity, some who had exalted views of the Divinity of Messiah, and felt the incongruity of ascribing suffering to God, escaped the difficulty by assuming that Jesus was human only in appearance, and that His sufferings, therefore, were only apparent, having dramatic significance but not internal variety and reality. But we can not entertain such thoughts of our Redeemer. We can not read the accounts in the Gospel of the crucifixion and death without the deepest conviction of the most intense historic reality. The good sense and developed experience of the Christian world have always rejected the assumption of unreality:

II. The passion was voluntarily accepted and endured by our Lord. His life was not taken from Him, and no power could take it. He laid it down; John 10: 15-18. The passion was present to His mind throughout His redeeming activities, a thing anticipated and prepared for; Matt. 17: 9, 22-23. Luke 18, 31-34.

II. Our Lord suffered for our sake—"That He might bring us to God."

1. He was "just," we "unjust." We merited pains and penalties. He was "without sin." 1 Peter 2, 22.
2. (a) His suffering and death avail to our salvation through faith; Mark 16, 16; and through holy living; 2 Cor. 5, 14. (6) The rejection of Christ will aggravate an evil doom of the impenitent; Hebrews 10, 26-30.
3. How should we hate the sins that drove the nails and pointed the spear to our crucified Lord.

IV. His passion surpassed all other agony.

1. It was unmerited.
2. It was love to them that hated and Killed Him.
3. It was conflict with the powers of darkness.
4. It involved an obscuration of the Father's love, for a time.
5. It was intensified by every painful circumstance of hurt and humiliation; by treachery, desertion, and malice unparalleled in the history of martyrdom.

V. It was relieved by foresight of the glory that should follow; Is. 53, 11. 1 Peter 1, 11.

VI. The benefits of the passion to mankind are accumulating with the march of time. Civilization registers the uplifting power of the cross of God's Son.

Postal Card Correspondence.

Rev. J. R. Waters writes—"We are just closing a glorious revival. We have had 52 conversions, 47 of whom have joined the Church on probation. They have been formed into a class. Now we have 7 classes. The young class is composed of some the most intelligent young ladies of the city, and with proper instructions will become the leading class of the Church. We have more than a score at the altar at every prayer meeting."

Salisbury, Md.

Tract Cause.

Dear Brother:—The undersigned, the Committee on Tracts, named at the last session of the Lexington Conference, beg to submit to you the following questions, which they request you to answer at your earliest convenience:

First—Do you use Tracts in your Congregation and Sunday Schools?

Second—If so, what kind do you find most sought for and used?

Third—What number of Tracts have you used this Conference year?

Fourth—Have you bound volumes of Tracts in your Church or Sunday School Library? If so what number?

Fifth—Have you noticed any results growing out of the use of Tracts? If so please explain at length?

Sixth—Please give your method of distribution?

Seventh—Do you use Tract Cards in your Sunday School? If so, please give the results, if any.

Eighth—Do you believe the circulation of Tracts in your locality ought to be continued? If so give reasons. If not, give reasons.

Yours in Christ.

J. ALLEN ROSS,
D. W. HESTON,
JAMES BOWREN,
J. W. RUSSELL,
W. M. JOHNSON,

P. O Box 56, Aberdeen, O., Mar 12 1885.

This committee is determined to give a new impetus to the circulation of Tracts. The scope of their inquiries are not limited to their own conference. Brethren and Sisters would do well to become interested in this work. This circular is itself the outgrowth of a plan to appoint conference committees one year in advance.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE, Mar. 21 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9¼@—; Middling 10⅛@—; Good Middling, 10⅝@—; Middling fair, 11 3-16.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5⅛@5¼; White clarified, 5⅛@5¼; Common 4¼@4⅝c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 26@33; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4½ fair, 5¼@5⅝; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western. 20@22.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4¼@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 4.65; Choice, 4.52; Family, 3.75.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7¼.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, $1; Fine, $1.02½.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $1.65@1.80; sweet potatoes, $2.50 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. —@$4.25; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.50@$5.50; cabbages, $3.00@$3.25 per crate; sour krout, $4.00@5.00 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 18@—; coal, in bbl. 13@—; linseed, raw, 62@63; boiled, 63@65; cotton seed, 28@50.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $13.37.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 6; sides, short rib, 7½; sides, long clear, 7⅛; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6¾; clear sides, 6¾; shoulders, 4.7@4.8.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3.00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00@2.50; geese $4.@$5; turkeys $9.00@12.00.

Western Eggs —@15c per dozen

Lonisiana Eggs 13@14c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50@$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.00@3.50; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4 00@—— turkeys $15.00@17.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 68; white, 68; mixed, 68.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 43@44

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, $1.00@1.05.

Books and Current Literature.

Initials and Pseudonyms: A dictionary of literary disguises. Prospectus.—The above valuable work has been prepared with great care and labor by Rev. William Cushing of Cambridge, Mass. (the successful compiler of Index to the North American Review and the Christian Examiner,) who was for some years an assistant in the Harvard University Library, and who, in the preparation of this volume, has had access to its vast resources. The work is now in the hands of the printer, and will be put in type as rapidly as possible, especial care being used in the preparation of copy, and in proof-reading, to secure accuracy in the text. Its value is attested by the interest which is manifested in its publication by the principal bibliographers in this country and Great Britain, the subscription list now bearing the names of most of the larger libraries of both countries, besides those of many prominent literary and public men. The work will consist of two parts:—First, an Index of about 10,000 Initials and Pseudonyms, alphabetically arranged. Second, about 6500 real names of authors, answering to the Pseudonyms, with brief notices, —date of the writer's birth and death, etc. The publishers also beg leave to state that Mr. Albert R. Frey of the Astor Library, New York, has had a similar work in preparation for several years, and has accepted their proposal to add his material to that of Mr. Cushing; so that they are able thereby to give the public the benefit of the labors of both these gentlemen, thus insuring greater accuracy and completeness than if prepared by one individual. It is due to Mr. Cushing, however, to state that the editing of the volume has been performed entirely by him. The work when completed will make a volume of from 500 to 600 pp., royal octavo, and will be furnished in substantial binding, printed on good paper, delivered free of postage or express charge; cloth, $5.00; half morocco, $7.50. Parties desiring the work can write to Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., 13 Astor Place, New York.

Mr. R. E. Abbott of Brussels is at present a guest of a Lowell gentleman. Mr. Abbott has been engaged for a number of years as conductor of European excursion parties, and has had the pleasure of escorting several Lowell people through the interesting parts of the Old World, all of whom speak highly of their treatment while under his charge. He comes to this country for the purpose of forming and personally conducting a party through Europe the coming season, and has with him the best of recommendations, not only from Lowell people, but from many other residents of this country that have made up parties under his escort in years past.

Lee and Shepard, publishers and booksellers, "Old South Block," No. 10 Milk street, Boston. An illustrated volume from a responsible hand, giving the facts about mind reading or telepathy, and the results of experiments conducted by persons eminent in science, is something that will be warmly welcomed in the present attitude of the public mind on the subject. Just such a book has been prepared by Mr. Wm. A. Hovey, of Boston, well known as the former editor of the Boston Evening Transcript, and is soon to be published by Messrs. Lee and Shepard. The recent organization of a society for psychical research in this country makes the advent of this volume peculiarly timely.

The Abiding Sabbath, by the Rev. George Elliott, is published by the American Tract Society, 150 Nassau street, New York City. 16 mo. 280 pp, price $1 25. While there is a great flood of influence in this and other countries striving to break down the bulwark of Christianity, the Sabbath, the appearance of such a book is opportune. The author treats of the "Sabbath of Nature," the "Sabbath of the Law" and the "Sabbath of Redemption," giving a history of the day and reasons for its change from the seventh to the first day of the week.

"The Supplementing of the War," a pamphlet by Albert Salisbury, 55 Read street, New York.

Gibbon' Rome, by Dean.—The history of the decline and fall of the Roman Empire; by Edward Gibbon Esq. Family edititions with a complete index of the whole work abridged and edited by James A. Dean, D. D., in two volumes, published in 1880 by Phillips & Hunt, 805 Broadway, New York, for the editor. Price not given. These volumes have now been before the public five years nearly, and counting upon the ability and fitness which Dr. Dean possesses for the successful execution of such a task, in absence of trial and general testimony or personal examination, we should set it down as a desirable work of the kind. With all these in its favor we can but say we rerard it as invaluable to the library of every student who is unable to procure the more costly unabridged work.

Home is woman's domain and she is entitled to every thing that can add to its comfort and spare her annoyance. "The STERNBERGER FOLDING DRESS PILLOW," is one of the many conveniences which materially lighten the labor and burdens of the housewife. An advertisment in another column gives full details in regard to this favorite article which is meeting with such remarkable sale wherever it is introduced.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Pimothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Meadow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

EVERYTHING that is purifying, beautifying, and curative for the Skin, Scalp and Blood the CUTICURA REMEDIES will do. Nothing in medicine as agreeable, so speedy, and so wholesome. Guaranteed absolutely pure by the analytical chemists of the State of Massachusetts, whose certificates accompany every package. For cleansing the Skin and Scalp of Birth Humors, for allaying Itching, Burning and Inflammation, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scald Head, Scrofula, and other inherited skin and blood diseases, CUTICURA the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and CUTICURA Resolvent, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are infallible. Sold everywhere. Price Cuticura 50c., Soap, 25c. Resolvent $1. POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., Boston.
☞ Send for "How to cure Skin Diseases."

PRANG'S EASTER CARDS.
Easter Satin Art Prints.
For Sale by all Dealers.

The strengthening properties of Ridge's Food are exceeded by no other preparation on the market. Being steam cooked, it does not tax the digestive organs. When the system is enfeebled by disease so that the stomach rejects all food, gruels, etc., Ridge's Food will be found the desideratum. Many dyspeptics and old people have adopted it as their daily diet. In cans, four sizes—35c., 65c., $1 25 and $1.75. Sold by all druggists, and many grocers. WOOLRICH & CO., Palmer, Mass., on label.

25 YEARS IN THE POULTRY YARD.
16th Edition. 108 Pages, explaining the entire business. Gives symptoms and best remedies for all diseases. A 50-page Illustrated Catalogue. All for 25c. in stamps.
A. M. LANG.
Cove Dale, Lewis Co. Ky.
mar26 2t

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m. Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

STERNBERGER'S
Folding Dress Pillow.
folds into one-twentieth of its size when closed and weighs but two pounds.
Perfection, Durability, Simplicity.
The Folding Dress Pillow is simply perfect. Can be folded in a second and put anywhere. We guarantee one pillow to outwear a dozen old style stuffed sham pillows. Housekeepers buy them on sight.
$2.00 PER PAIR.
delivered on receipt of price.
Or Frank A. Ball, 200 Canal St., New York.
mar26-4teow

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 14. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, APRIL 2, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 803.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

HE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

32 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES.

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cas

Editorial Notes.

Savior of sinners! when the storm clouds lower,
To Thee, our strength, our counsellor, we go!
To Thee, united by thy Spirit's power,
Cling all thy various membership below.
Instruct us, our immortal Head, to know
That all the life and grace that each receives
From Thee, the great eternal life-spring flow;
Thy Spirit in the church thy body lives,
And unity of heart, of aim and action gives.

Character is a child of circumstances. Reverse the circumstances of the European and African and their character would be reversed.

President Mitchell, of Wilberforce, says NEGRO. Dr. Thomas H. Jackson, Professor of Theology and Church History in Wilberforce University, says NEGRO.

The question of the weal of the colored people, next to the weal of the human soul, is the largest question that any man can consider. And the more it is properly considered the better it will be for all classes of the American people.

In Bro. D. W. Hays letter, which we print in another column, under the heading "Oought Not to be Repeated," he has touched a chord which will certainly find a favorable response in the heart, word and work of all our preachers. It ought to be read thoughtfully.

"Marshall, Harrison co., Texas—On my work I have twelve subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN, who say, 'we like the paper better and better every copy.' I do not think it will be any trouble to have it in every family another year." F. Parker, Red Oak and Zion.

Good, put it there.

The April issue of Outing indicates the purpose of its publishers to place it in the foremost rank of American magazines. It is enlarged to nearly double its former size, and its compound title is wisely simplified to the expressive Outing. A new and tasteful cover and increased illustration of the best sort give it comeliness, and its table of contents is substantial and alluring.

The New Orleans Preacher's Meeting met in Wesley Chapel, at at 10 o'clock, a. m., March 23, 1885, James W. Hudson in the chair. Order of the day "Revelation of the Christian Faith," by Rev. T. J. Johnson. The Bishop was present and gave a talk in regard to the Sunday-school work for the week in all the churches of the city, in which all the preachers agreed to take part; after which the women held a meeting, with Mrs. M. Dale as President, to consider the old and decrepit people of our churches of the city, renting or purchasing a home for such people.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Sermon.

REV. J. L. MASSEY.

Subject—The Apostolic Commission. Text—"Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father." Matt. 28, 19.

This was the commission that Christ himself gave, and said, "As my Father has sent me so send I you." Hence the calling is for men to go, and this is the only grounds or way in which those whom God has called can please Him, are to go, for this is an act of obedience on our part. If we accomplish any good it will be ahrough Him who sends us. Then go; see Isaiah 6, 8. A question is asked, who shall go for us? Then, if Christ has called us to go, shall we wait for riches, or shall we wait until we feel that that we can preach better than some one who has gone before us? The blessed Lord says go; then can He, and will He fulfill His promise in Matt. 28, 20: "Lo, I am with thee always." Then, go; though we may at times feel as if we would rather not go. Then read Proverbs 6, 6: "Go to the ant, consider her ways," etc., then go. The minister of the Gospel is to go—not only go until we find that we can not save our thousands of dollars and stop, for our reward is in a building not made with hands. Then, let us obey the command of the Master when he says go. Genesis 35, God told Jacob to go to Bethel and dwelt there. The man that feels the divine calling of the Lord should go, for He never says come until our work on earth is finished. The greatest importance is for us first to be sure that He has moved us by the Spirit to go. Second, we should go, and be as the poet: "Fight on, my soul, 'till death shall bring thee to thy God." And when we go let us go in Jesus' name; let us work in Jesus' name, and He who sent us will help us to stand. Every field of labor will be a good one wherever the Lord is with us.

Mason, Tennessee.

Needs of the Negro.—IV.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

The Negro is welcomed into the professions, and men who have risen to the very highest stations in life are reaching down for the Negro. The greatest colleges and universities in this country are swinging open their classic doors, on their golden hinges, for the admission of a race once thonght to be inferior and incapable of learning the languages and higher mathematics. Places that were once closed against us are now open to us. Many who were our bitterest enemies are now our friends. Surely "A better day is coming.

The morning dawneth long,
When girded right with holy might
Shall overthrow the wrong,
When God, the Lord, will listen
To every plaintiff sigh,
And stretch His hand o'er every land;
'Tis coming, by and by."

Though Sumner, Morton, Phillips and other great and noble friends of the race have gone to mingle their songs of praise with the angelic hosts above, where all the fame of heroes, or pomp of kings; nor all the charms of this world's pleasure could tempt them them one moment, the ball that they set in motion is still rolling on and crushing out all opposition to freedom, education and equal rights. Even our own section, the "New South," as it is justly called, is in the line of progress. Many who were formerly masters are now teaching Negro schools, agents for funds set apart for the education of our race, and bearing testimony of the Negro's many good and Christian qualities. Many are grateful to the Negro for supporting them and preserving the lives of their wives, children, aged parents and dear relations, while they themselves were out fighting to forge the chains of slavery stronger, and to perpetuate its existence. I am glad to see this class of Southern men acknowledge their gratitude to the Negro, and willingly contribute to the advancement of my people.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Prohibition in Kansas.

BY REV. J. C. HULL.

In 1879, the Legislature of Kansas, passed an act submitting to the voters of the State an amendment to the constitution forever prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, scientific or mechanical purposes. This was not done because the politicians believed in such a measure; but evidently thinking such a measure was premature and could not be carried, they sought in this way to get rid of the temperance agitators. But the Christian and moral people of the State, seeing the opportunity to strike a telling blow to the liquor traffic, rushed to the rescue, and made such a vigorous campaign that the amendment was carried by 8,000 majority. And this was done without any party endorsing prohibition. Politicians for the most part sat gracefully upon the fence, so far as this measure was concerned while the canvass was made.

This amendment, with laws for its enforcement came into effect May 1st, 1881. So we have had almost four years experience in this battle of constitutional prohibition. Conflicting reports have been constantly circulated regarding the success of our amendment. Many have said it is a failure, because some men still drink. But by this logic Christianity is a failure because some men commit sin; by this logic, education is a failure, because many men are still ignorant. The plain, unbiased facts are that much has been accomplished in the way of driving intemperance from our State and yet much drunkenness exists among us.

The liquor traffic, except in a few places, is not carried on openly. But every conceivable resort is made to evade the law. The bitter fight that has attended the whole progress of this work, has been something fearful. In several instances, ministers have been knocked down upon the streets for radical temperance speeches. In one or two instances our churches have been burned down, after the congregations had been active in enforcing the laws against liquor dealers. No party has felt responsible for the success of prohibition, and so the child from its birth has been an outcast. Before the courts men have perjured themselves to screen violators of the law; and some have said let's repeat the amendment; for we are teaching men to disregard law. But by the same logic, when a bad boy undertakes to throw stones through some merchant's window, the window should be removed so the boy may not be schooled in bad habits.

But what is the cause, or causes, of all the bitterness attending the enforcement of prohibition in Kansas? There has been much money sent into Kansas for the purpose of hindering our work. This being the first undertaking of Constitutional prohibition, every effort has been made to break it down. Yet, these large sums of money sent to Kansas by the Brewer's Congress do not constitute the whole nor the principal hindrance to us. So long as there are 1,040 saloons in Washington, D. C., by authority of the national government; 5,000 liquor dealers in the territories, by authority of the national government, and United States revenue license issued everwhere, not even excepting the States that seek to prohibit the dram shops; so long as this state of things exists, men engaged in the liquor traffic feel that the authority of the national government is back of them. Hence their boldness in defying our State laws. What Kansas most needs to-day is the united influence of temperance people from every State. When we rise as a nation we can blot out the nation's shame. Kansas could soon sweep the liquor traffic from her borders, but we have the whole army of whiskey men in every State to battle against. We need help.

We are not going to give up the battle for it is in the interest of our homes, our churches, our schools. It is in the interest of our financial posperity and the purity of our society. The motto of Kansas is: "To the Stars through difficulties." Under this proud motto we should not yield a great conflict without a great struggle. Much has been said about resubmitting prohibition in Kansas. The idea was this: before this child grows to manhood we had better get rid of him. If you are going to pluck up a live oak, the sooner you get about it, after it out of the acorn the easier your task. If you wait until it sends down its roots and becomes monarch of the forest you can't pluck it up. So, when whisky men began to leave our State, and temperance men began to pour in, the result of such an exchange was plainly apparent, and the enemies of temperance said let us have the amendment resubmitted. But it has often been said that prohibition does not prohibit, and now it may be said, so far as Kansas is concerned, resubmission does not resubmit. Our conclusion then is, that prohibition by a single State, is a good thing, prohibition by a half dozen States would be far better, and by all the States combined might be made an absolute success.

Yates Centre, Kansas.

The Elective Course of Study.

PROF. WILBUR P THIRKIELD, B. D.

Second Paper

Observation at any one of our conference sessions will satisfy the doubter of the truth of this proposition. Most of the men examined in the various classes at our late conference failed to pass in their studies. Two out of three in the class before the writer for examination were for the second year remanded to try again the almost hopeless task. It reminded me of the fabled Sisyphus, famed for his cunning, condemned by Pluto to roll a stone to the top of the mountain, only to have it elude his grasp at the last moment and roll to the bottom again. After repeated trials, is it any wonder that he became weary, heart-sick and discouraged? There are worthy, successful workers that the church can't spare, who, because of a lack of opportunity for mental discipline, go through this trial year after year. Let us not discourage them to the point of dispair by requiring them to climb a rough, high mountain before they have learned to climb a moderate hill. For one, I want to lend them a hand, by giving them a task they can perform, and thus gain strength for broader work.

3. Again, it is demoralizing to the mental discipline of even a man of fine parts to attempt the completion of theological works that are beyond his present abilities. Scholarship and success are born of a thorough mastery of the work undertaken, however hard or simple.

4. Besides all this there is a fallacy in the argument that the adoption of this advanced course of study will, of itself, raise the intellectual standing of a conference.

I have lofty standards and high ideals for our conferences. That we shall reach them I have no doubt. But they can't be attained, by hasty, balloon ascension. The only animals that ascend the highest mountain are the eagle and the snail. The time is coming when we shall scale these intellectual heights, "mounting up with wings as eagles." Until then let us not despise the slower method that attains the same end.

The placing of the course of study of Harvard University in the catalogue of Clark will not raise it to the standard of this oldest and most learned institution. The fact that I rapturously applauded the son of two slaves, who was one in seven to represent a class of over 200 at the last Harvard commencement, is not a logical reason why we should insist on every young men at once coming up to that standard. I have no doubt of the mental capacity of our candidates. But capacity is one thing, and opportunity quite another. Give our young men the scholastic discipline and opportunity of the candidates entering our older conferences, and then it will be just to require of them the same examination for admission.

I know of a score of men in my conference who can master the advanced course; but it is for the general good, for the fifty others, who, though denied schooling, are capable of grand work for Christ—it is for these I am pleading. To put this grevious burden upon them now is unjust, discouraging and unwise.

Sunday-school Week in New Orleans.

CLINTON ST. M. E. CHURCH.

The Sunday-school Convention opened March 24th, at 4 p. m., with Bishop Mallalieu in the chair, and the choir singing "Sweet Moment of Prayer;" after which Rev. James W. Hudson read 119 Psalm and led in prayer. Spirited addresses were delived by the following.

Bishop F. W. Mallalieu, A. F. Hoyt, M. C. B. Mason, A. J. Ford, C. T. Simpson and J. W. Hudson. There were 93 persons present, 50 children and 43 adults. After an appeal by the Bishop, the whole school rose for prayer, in which the Bishop led. Benediction by Rev. Wm. Murrell

MT. ZION CHURCH.

Tuesday night, March 24th—A goodly crowd assembled, and some excellent singing by the children and congregation. Rev. W. George read the 10 chapter of Mark; Rev. H. C. Armstou led in prayer; Bishop Mallalieu announced the prizes he would give to those who brought other children and induced their parents to come to the Sunday-school during the next two months. Rev. H. C. Armston then addressed the meeting. Followed by Rev. W. George, from the West, who spoke of Wm. Carey's celebrated motto sermon: "Expect great things from God and attempt great things for God." This ought to be the motto of the Church in New Orleans during the next two months. Rev. James W. Hudson, spoke of the Sunday-school as being the nursery of the Church. After some very encouraging remarks from Bishop Mallalieu, the congregation were led to their feet to express their desire for the extension of God's work in the conversion of these friends and children, and their determination to work hereafter for God. It would be difficult to overestimate the wonderful influence which the Bishop's kindly and spirit, intense labors are calculated to exert over our Methodist work in New Orleans. He spoke of the time when without distinction of race or color we shall gather round our Father's throne. We do hope all the churches will unite together and make a grand rally for the Master on the Sunday-sceool line. Benediction pronounced by Rev. W. George.

UNION CHAPEL.

Wednesday, March 25th—Children's service commenced at 4:30 p. m., Bishop Mallalieu in the chair. The sweet singing choir led by Mr. J. E. Ogilvie and wife gave the music suitable for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Dale offered prayer. Notwithstanding the inclement weather grown persons, as well as children attended the service. Rev. L. P. Cushman, presiding elder of New Orleans district, was the first speaker, on the great subject under discussion "The better way of awakening more interest in the Sunday-school work in this great city." Followed by Revs. A. M. Green, of the African M. E. Church, James W. Hudson, E. Lyon, W. George, and S. Duncan. After Bishop Mallalieu announced the prize of a nice Bible to any person getting the most children into the Sunday-school by the first Sabbath in June, provided they get seven. The one getting next to the most a nice Testament provided they get four; and any scholar getting father and mother to come to Sunday-school are to get a nice Testament if they get either father or mother, will get a Testament but not so nice. Rev. W. P. Forest pronounced the benediction.

PLEASANT PLAINS M. E. CHURCH.

Thursday, March 26—The weather was very cloudy and wore a threatening aspect until 4 o'clock, when the rain came pouring down. 4:30 p. m., Bishop Mallalieu in the chair. Mr. J. E. Ogilive and wife led the singing. Prayer was offered by Rev. James W. Hudson. Bishop Mallalieu addressed the meeting. But for the rain many would have turned out. Those present, however, enjoyed all that was said in the well begun work in the interest of the Sunday-schools in New Orleans.

Rev. A. S. Jackson, pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church, on Common street, spoke favorably of children being brought to Christ in early life. He was followed by Revs. John Qualls, James W. Hudson and W. P. Forrest.

During the meeting Rev. A. H. Gillete, agent of the Sunday-school Union for the West and South, came in and gave a stirring address. The Bishop announced the condition upon which prizes were to be received. Rev. A. H. Gillette pronounced the benediction.

From the Districts.

West Tennessee District.

JESSE P. PRICE, P. E.

I commenced the first round Saturday after conference, and closed it the 9th of January, at Purdy, with good results and fair health. Memphis station, C L. Fields, pastor, the members are very much cheered by the returns of the pastor. They were pleased with the Annual Conference, and the able management of our beloved Bishop Thomas Bowman. His sermon on Sunday will be long remembered in Memphis and with the preachers. The conference proved to be a blessing in our midst. Memphis circuit, A. Burdett, pastor, Brethren are preparing to build a new church near Memphis, the lot was bought and given to the circuit by Mr. Spear, a result of the conference.

Pleasant Grove circuit, H. Dunlap, pastor—Bro. Dunlap was cheerfully received by his people. Though in the midst of the excitement of the late election the conference was a success. Mason circuit, J. L. Massey, pastor—he was cheerfully received by the people and his quarter was one to be long remembered for the good of the Church. All the leaders were out promptly on time. Rev. J. B. Marbrey, ex pastor, was with us and rendered good service. Brownsville circuit, E. M. Manson, pastor—starts with the evidence of a grand future and the quarter was a success. Bell circuit, J. W. Hall, pastor—this quarter was held in exciting times from the result of the late election, and the death the pastor's child; yet the Lord blessed the occasion by reviving the church. Friendship circuit, J. W. A. Moore, pastor—was cheerfully received by all; and nearly all the leaders were out with written reports in good Methodist order. This quarter will be long remembered for the good of the circuit.

Dyer circuit, A. Porter, pastor, Bro. Porter is a new pastor, and Dyer circuit is a new circuit, and everybody seems to be well pleased with the new pastor and circuit. This quarter was a fair success. Martin circuit, S. B. Danley, pastor—this quarter was held after our first district conference December 17, 18, 19, 20, at Martin, with glorious results. Bro. Danley was cheerfully received by his people, he has proved to be a good pastor, he has paid $45 on the church debt, built a new brick chimney to the church parsonage, bought a new stove for the church, and other improvement. Paris circuit, B. Palmer, pastor—Bro. Palmer is a good pastor and is having a fair success on his circuit; he has 2 converts added to the church.

Mansfield circuit, J. R. F. Summerhill, pastor—this quarter was a successful one, and the preacher is very acceptable with the people, and bids fair for a good work. Clarksburg circuit, A. Swift, pastor—Bro. Swift is a good preacher, is bringing his circuit up, has taken in one new point. Henderson circuit, G. W. Marsh, pastor—Bro. Marsh was late getting on his circuit, but he has got into the hearts of his people and is an eloquent preacher, and bids fair for the future. Linden circuit, A. H. Lane, pastor—Bro. Lane is a good pastor, and is much loved by all and has everything pleasant. Waynesboro circuit. Daniel Collier, pastor—Bro. Collier is a fine preacher, and is a fair pastor for a young man and is doing a good work on his circuit. Lawrenceburg circuit, G. C. Harden, pastor—Bro. Harden is a fine pastor and a studied young man; this quarter was a good meeting.

Clifton circuit, J. B. Bradford, pastor, who is a good pastor and teacher; he is doing a good work here; the reports of the leaders were strictly disciplinary. Purdy circuit, L. W. Taylor in pastor now. Rev. J. Beaver was supplied on this circuit, but on account of sickness had to quit and go home, and Rev. L. W. Taylor joined us from Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, and I appointed him to this circuit; he has proved acceptable to the Church. On Sabbath I was invited to preach for the white people at Adamsville in the Methodist Church, South, we had a crowded house and a few colored people. I never was more kindly treated. I see, brethren, all we need to make us acceptable anywhere through this world into the upper world, is to be truly converted and educate ourselves, and read the Bible and preach a pure Gospel, and have a pure character. This will settle the future for our race.

I lectured 31 times on the Centennial Freedman's Aid Society; visited 40 schools and the Central Tennessee College, where I found Rev. J. Braden, D. D., and corps of industrious teachers moulding boys and girls for future citizens of our country. I also visited Braden Chapel in Edgefield, Nashville, and preached to a crowded house. Bro. J. F. Moreland, pastor, is doing grand work for the Church and is an industrious pastor. This has been a rough winter and hard on the brethren, yet they have stood to their post like heroes. I must say, also, for my preachers' wives they have stood by their husbands' side and said "go forward husband, our pay is in the future."

Greenwood District, Miss., Conference.

REV. H. R. REVELS, P. E.

The second district conference of the Greenwood District convened in the town of Kosciusko, Jan. 31, 1885, H. R. Revels, presiding elder, in the chair. J. C. Houston was elected secretary, J. W. Nevels, assistant secretary. The doctor opened the conference with a sonls-tiring address, characterized with profound gratitude to the King of the Church for the preservation of his subjects. Various committees were appointed, and they discharged their several duties with surprising intelligence. The report of the presiding elder showed a year of indefatigable labor in the humble discharge of the many duties of his office. The fifteen ministers present, reported 543 as the total income of souls, $3,706, as the total amount used in building and improving churches and parsonages, benevolent collections, $200. His showing gives an increase of 100 in the number of conversions over last year, but a decrease financially. The cause of this decrease, I think, can be found in the fact that four of the ministers were not present, from whom we had no report. A minister whose opportunities are such that he can attend the district or annual conference, failing to do so, lowers himself in the estimation of his congregation and the church to which he belongs, and will eventually lose his grip on Methodism. About half of the local preachers on the district were present and reported earnest work in the Kingdom of Grace. Many of our local preachers are reaching high, while others are only standing by. The intellectual and biblical stupidity of the latter gives a broad place to the belief that they have answered to the call of another. Reports from the superintendents shows that there is room for improvement in the Sunday-schools. The falling off of the scholars in the Winter is no doubt, owing to the fact that our churches in many places are very open, but we are building warmer churches now, and will have better Sabbath-schools. Cold superintendents, teachers and church-houses will invariably make a cold Sabbath-school. Rev. J. H. Alexander, D. D., superintendent of public schools of Attala county, gave the conference an impressive lecture. He is a man of large head and brains, therefore handles great subjects with no difficulty. The presence of Rev. E. Scarborough, of Pickens station, added greatly to the interest and work of the occasion. We hope to be honored with his important presence in the next district conference. The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Many of our Sunday-schools have been and are now using the literature of other Book Concerns, which is a violation of the Discipline, and will prove detrimental to the Church; therefore,

Resolved, That each pastor be and is hereby instructed to see that the literature of our Church be used in each and all of our Sunday-schools.

Resolved further, That any superintendent failing to do so shall be removed.

Whereas, The opinion has been circulated and is held by all or many of our churches that any part of the pastor's salary not paid at the end of the conference year shall not be paid; and,

Whereas, The result of this pernicious opinion has and will continue to prove a great hinderance to the cause of Christ; therefore,

Resolved, That the presiding elder be and is hereby requested to bring this question before all the churches, on his first round on the district, and inform them that they should and must pay any balance due on the pastor's salary on his return from the conference.

Resolved further, That the above shall apply to any balance due on the assessment for the presiding elder also.

Our church-house in Kosciusko, when completed, will compare favorably with any in town; we feel safe in the belief that they will complete it this year. They know how to entertain a district conference.

Our arrival made them glad,
Our departure made them sad;
Ministers were similarly affected,
By the fact that they were not neglected.

The next district conference will be held in Winona, Miss. We hope to have the new house ready for its reception.

Winona, Miss.

Letters from the Pastors.

Ezra D. Miller, Leitchfield, Ky., writes: "My charge is in a prosperous condition, temporally and spiritually. When I was appointed here in March, 1883, from Lexington, Ky., by Bishop Andrews, I found only 22 members and the majority of that number was habitually absent from church, and our congregation was averaging about 45, and the church was in debt to the amount of $135; to the Church Extension, $85; to the carpenter for building the church house, $50; and the church had been burdened with the above debts for twelve years, but through the assistance of the great Head of the Church we protracted our meeting one week in September last, assisted by Rev. A. Booker, presiding elder, who labored very earnestly in the effort, and the result of the meeting was good; there were twenty-three conversions and eighteen accessions. We have lost by death two of our number. I found here, and received from other churches, 7 so we have on record 27 full members, and 18 on probationers. On account of the large increase of our congregation we have been compelled to enlarge our church. Our second district conference is to be held here March 27-28 and 30; the church is out of debt and we are building an addition to our church house now, the lumber is paid for and money in hand to pay the workmen. We have also purchased a bell for the church weighing 100 pounds, cash, $10.50. We have paid our presiding elder his salary, $30, and have collected of our assessments $23; for bishop, $10; conference claim, $1; missions, $10; Church Extension, $2; our Sunday-school is in a prosperous condition. A word for my presiding elder. He is an earnest, enthusiastic worker and a preacher of deep and quick thought and a hero that seems to never know when he has work enough. He is looked up to and relied upon by all of his preachers; his example is religious and virtuous and I think his next annual report will prove there was no mistake made when he was appointed presiding elder."

Rev. W. C. Walton, Georgetown, circuit, Tenn., writes: "My work is in a prosperous condition. At my second meeting at Tileray's school house four persons joined the Church. We intend to build a new church at this point at once. There is plenty of intelligent people in this section. Our first quarterly meeting was well attended and we had a profitable time. Our next quarterly meeting is to be held at Bunker Hill. 'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.' Several preachers were with us at our last quarterly meeting and took part in the services. They are always welcome among us from adjoining circuits and churches."

Rev. P. Morgan, Galveston, Tex., writes: "I have been absent from this city a good while, being called to the bedside of my mother who passed through death to life on the 4th inst. This has hindred me from doing more for the SOUTHWESTERN but I will keep the matter before the public and do what I can."

Rev. Green Bragner, Spring Hill, Waco district, writes: "When I came to this church here I found it in debt to the Methodist Episcopal Church Extension to the amount of $100, due January 4th. I have tried hard to get the church out of debt but have not succeeded. Most of the brothers and class leaders are under bond ranging from $100 to $800. I don't know how they got in this trouble. All I know about it is that the sheriff came on the 14th of February and arrested them, and carried them away 25 miles for trial, and that they are now under bond to appear in court. I am at a loss to know what to do but I hope the Lord will show me the way to help them."

Rev. Green Bragner, pastor, of Spring Hill Church, Texas, writes: "We have held our first quarterly meeting at West Point with Elder Davis. He preached some very acceptable sermons. We had a large number at communion, five united with the church and 42 were present for prayers. Our collection was $6.

Rev. T. P. Phillips, Ashland, Ala., circuit, writes: "Our first quarterly conference was held March 14th. Elder Nelson was present, and we had a good time notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, Saturday, at 11 o'clock, the elder preached a fine sermon from Prov. 11, 12. In the afternoon conference convened and the elder delivered an address, and also read the rules. On Sunday the elder preached, with great power, from Luke 11, 22. We felt that the Lord had made room for us in this place. After preaching, the Lord's Supper was administered. Elder Nelson preached again at night. We are still alive and in the hands of the Lord."

Rev. Anatole Panalle, St. Paul M. E. Church, Dulac, La., writes: "At a meeting of the official Board of this church the following resolutions were adopted and ordered to be fowarded to the editor of the SOUTHWESTERN for publication:

Resolved, That we extend our thanks to Mr. Geo. D. Cragin for hauling our pastor's household goods from Houma to this place, a distance of 21 miles, gratuitously.

Resolved, That we are thankful to Mr. J. G. Schriever, M. T., of Morgans La. & Texas R. R., S. S. Co., for reductions made by him in passenger and freight rates.

Resolved, That we feel exceedingly thankful to Mr. E. J. Shaw, of said railroad company for hauling these things in New Orleans free of charge.

Resolved, That we consider ourselves under obligations to Messrs. Robert Purnell and Robicheaux, both of said railroad company, for favors and courtesies extended to Rev. Anatole Panalle, our said pastor.

Rev. James L. Perrine, Lloyd street, Louisville, Ky., writes: "We tried to show that if the stewards of the vineyard did not keep it dressed that the Lord of the vineyard would give it to others. When we were through they consented and we had a four weeks meeting, resulting in 38 conversions and 49 accessions; then we remembered the sayings of Elder McUoomer, "Stick to it," which he said is a song of a certain little bird. At this date came the fourth quarterly meeting. Rev. W. W. Lock was present; had a glorious time; 80 communed; the elder preached two fine sermons, which will long be remembered. We had a grand conference; the brethren have become reconciled, all the reports were favorable, and the work moving on; good spiritual meetings were being had. We are now in a meeting and are having a good time. The meeting began on the 4th Sunday in February. We have had 5 conversions and 8 accessions, 21 souls are yet seeking their soul's salvation. The presence of the Lord is with us."

Rev. J. A. C. Wade, pastor at Cookville, Texas, writes: "Our first quarter was held on the 6th and 7th. Elder Bullington presided. He preached Sunday, and administered the sacrament. Our second quarter was held March 7th and 8th. The weather was very cold but the elder was on time, also some of the brothers with reports. The elder gave an address, and on Sunday met the Sunday-school. At 10 a. m. Sunday we had love feast. We paid the pastor $26.10, the presiding elder $9.80, and $10.10 moving expenses. The elder spent the early part of the week visiting the sick."

Rev. S. C. Coleman, of Waelder, Texas, writes: "We have protracted meetings, and a good Sunday-school now. The winter has been very hard and cold so that our Sunday-school has been very dull; but I think it will improve with the return of spring. Rev. W. H. Stevens has organized a Missionary Society here, and we now have a good day school, taught by Prof. H. W. Pope, from North Carolina. He also assists in our Sunday-school work. Miss Rachael Williams has been a teacher in our Sunday-school for a number of years, and she seems to love the work. We had our old presiding elder, (Rev. G. W. Richardson) with us a few days ago; and the people were as glad to see him and hear him talk as ever."

Rev. G. W. Lacy, Thibadaux, La., writes: "I arrived and was with my family cordially received here, February 5th, by the officers and members of this charge who did all they could for us. They seem not only to read and understand the Bible but to follow its teaching. We are preparing to make some repair on our property. Bro. Davage, when pastor, led the people into a new, and very nice parsonage and I want to lead them among other things into a real nice church. This dear father and his wife are held in high esteem by the people here. Sister Josephine Wilson is our superintendent and she has an excellent Sunday-school. Presiding Elder Emperor Williams gives good satisfaction here. He held our first quarterly conference lately. We shall remember him as a Christian father and gentleman."

Rev. J. J. Collins, pastor, Cedar Creek circuit, Texas, writes: "Rev. C. L. Madison, my presiding elder, was recently with us, and held our first quarterly conference. His preaching searched the heart and did the soul good. Our collection and communion service both showed the Spirit of Christ, and right purpose. Several came forward for prayers at night. We protracted our meeting five nights and the result was two conversions. Pray for us."

Rev. Wm. Allen, of Leona, Tex., writes: "I arrived here on the 10th of January, 1885. I found 135 members, and an unfurnished church, with a debt of $63 to be paid. They have been threatening to sell the church to sellte this debt. I think if the Church Extension Society would let us have about $75 we can complete the church, and with what we can do ourselves, remove the debt also. There are a great many children about here who do not go Sabbath-shool, so I went out and organized one under the missionary rule, and the children have been called together. We are behind in financial matters on account of the bad weather, but as the weather is getting better now we hope to rally soon. I found another church here, about four miles from town. The building is in a bad condition, but the membership and the Sunday-school are very good. We like the SOUTHWESTERN very much up here, and will send a list of subscribers as soon as we can collect the money."

Rev. R. K. Whiting, pastor, Cotton Gin, Texas, writes: "Now brethren what are you doing about that promise to build a district parsonage at Taylor. If we made this promise with an intention of performing it let us do so immediately by sending on the $5, let us see if we can't raise that money by the first of July, understand? P. Y. Brown, of Fairfield was made treasurer for the money raised or to be raised for that house. 'Without Him we can do nothing. But with Him we can do all things.'"

Rev. A. W. McKinny, writes: "Our first quarterly conference was held at Huntsville, Ala., March 7 8. Much interest and pleasure was added to the occasion by the presence of Rev. M. M. McKinny, of Scottsboro, who preached the opening sermon. Reports showed money raised for all purposes, $45. Notwithstanding the snow which fell Saturday night and Sunday morning a fair congregation turned out to service at 3 p. m., and at 7:30. Three persons joined the Church, and others stood up for prayers. Just now our town is agitated with the question of prohibition. Rev. Dr. Taylor has been lecturing with good effect, and a prohibition club has been organized of about 250 members."

Rev. Wm. Perry, Choctaw, Ala., writes: "I was sent to Choctaw by Bishop Walden, from the Central Alabama Conference, held at Gadsden, Ala., Nov. 27, 1884. I got to my field of labor about the 17th of December, and the weather being very cold. I met the people and preached on the following Sabbath. We have had some very bad weather, cold and rainy and very open churches and no heaters. This was all against us. We have a new building on hand at one of my appointments, namely: St. James Chapel, will be worth $400, when finished, and we have paid the greater part of the debt. My people are few in number but they do all they can."

Rev. Mason Reddick, pastor, Brenham, Texas, writes: "We have enjoyed our first quarterly conference; our presiding elder, Rev. W. B. Pullam was with us, and held our quarterly conference, and preached us a wonderful sermon. As every body who knows Bro. Pullam is aware what an able preacher he is. It seems that God gives to him extra power each sermon. The Lord's supper was administered to 150 persons; we had five to join the Church; five conversions; three reclaimed. We have paid the presiding elder $20 and the pastor $50.50; the missionary collection, $5. Our revival is still going on; mourners are at the altar waiting to be converted. One thing, thank God, after all my trouble and disadvantages in the work, the Lord has placed me in the midst of good Christian people."

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

It is reported that a third expedition from Italy, comprising 3,500 troops, will be sent to the Red sea.

Concerning Red Hair.

Many people admire red hair, but if you do not, Parker's Hair Balsam will impart to it a darker hue. It will also thicken the hair, eradicate dandruff, and impart softness, glossiness and life to hair which has become dry and harsh. Not a dye, does not soil the linen. Gives a delicious perfume. An elegant dressing.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Sermon.

BY REV. P. M. CARMICHAEL.

Text—"Master, which is the great Commandment in the law?" Matt. 22, 36. Jesus Christ, in this chapter as in others of this blessed book, teaches the people of the great designs of his Church by parables. Setting forth the very nature of the Gospel and work of his ministers. He herein likens the church to a king who made a wedding for his son, and sends out his servants to invite those that were bidden to the marriage; but they made light of it. That is just the way the world treats God's servants, they hear the peals of the Gospel in thunder tones, but they make light of it. We may understand this first sending of the servants to be to the Jews, next to the Gentiles. Now they that were bidden were not worthy; go out and call all to come. Gather all together, both good and bad. So are the ministers of Christ's Church doing to day in every land, among all people. But next we see the guests are all in. The king comes in; in his kingly attire, looking very profound, his presence strikes every one with silence deep and awful. Behold, there is one sitting there who has not on the wedding garment; he trembles from head to foot. Friend, why comest hither having not on the wedding garment? No excuse could be offered, he had been told what kind the garment should be. There are certain conditions that men must meet before they can be fully admitted to the fellowship of the church. It has been the boldness of this world to question the right of God's Church upon earth, and ask about it. Men will be so silly to ask for a lantern to see the sun rise on a cloudless day. But Jesus could always give such answers to men that would make them tremble and wonder. He proves by the Scriptures to the selfish Sadducees that God is the God of the living and not of the dead. Also that men ought to give to God the things that are his, and to the devil the things that are his. Next comes a young lawyer, calling him Master, repeating the text, which is the great Command-ment in the law? Mark the answer: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and all thy mind." Is this the first and great commandment? This is the first and great commandment, and the second is like unto it. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, moreover, on these two hang all the law and the prophets. Now we see the garment that we must strive to have on at the wedding of the king's son. After all we must love God, our neighbor, and even our foes. We cannot love God without we keep his commandments, and we cannot love God and keep his commandments, and not love our neighbor as ourselves, and in loving God, our neighbor as ourselves, we fulfill all the law. These are some of the conditions that we must meet in this life. God is a God that is touched with our infirmities, he don't want us to dread him, but love him, also obey him. God has a perfect right to be obeyed in all things, not in part, nor most things, but in all. God gave his dear Son in the flesh to set examples, and to die to redeem us and ransom us unto life eternal, to reinstate us again to God, and why not obey him; he must, he will, he shall be obeyed by his subjects, or he will bind you hand and foot and cast you into outer darkness. He has a right to punish those that will not obey. His immutable justice demands a judgment, all his love demands a future punishment. My friends, love the Lord God with all your hearts, souls and minds. O! think of the day and hour when the great king shall come to serve his guests. When the angel like a flash of lightning shall fly from comet to comet, and proclaim the king at hand; and you have not on the wedding garment. O, it will be sad to stand there trembling while the blessed and the redeemed can lift their notes, and join in the sweet songs of the unredeemed, and shout the harvest hymn, love God, love your neighbor.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Little Sins.

HOMER EATON, D. D.

The great "Father of Lies," ever intent upon the ruin of mankind, has a multitude of devices by which he seeks to accomplish his selfish purposes; and among them all there is, perhaps, no single one that proves more successful than that of leading men into the commission of what are called "little sins." The first temptation with which he plies the souls of men is not to the perpetration of some glaring crime. To begin thus would, in most cases, be to defeat the object he has in view; therefore, he tempts to the commission of some little sin, well knowing that if he succeeds in this, his future triumph over that soul is well nigh assured. We should be constantly on our guard, therefore, against indulging those tempers, or speaking those words, or performing those acts which, though not in accordance with the principles of righteousness and truth, may seem to us so trifling in their character as to be almost, if not indeed, quite harmless. The sin may be small, and yet, small as it is, it continues the germ of mighty evil, in it slumbers the fires of a terrible hell.

Those who have read the story of Oliver Twist will remember how Toby and Sikes, as they went on their midnight errand of robbery, took with them little Oliver and thrust him through the little lattice window, too small to admit the body of a man, and said: "Take this light; go softly up the steps before you and along the little hall, to the street door, unfasten it and let us in." So Satan would thrust some little sin into the heart that it may throw open the doors for the admission of larger ones. Therefore bar the smallest window of thy soul and let not that which appears to be the most trival sin gain admission, for it will surely throw wide open the doors for the hosts of evil to enter and ravish and destroy.

"Little by little," the tempter said,
As a dark and cunning snare he spread
For the young, unwary feet.
"Little by little" and day by day,
I will tempt the careless soul astray,
Into the broad and flowery way,
Until the ruin made is complete.

The Elective Course of Study.

PROF. WILBUR P THIRKIELD, B. D.

First Paper.

The subject under discussion in this article is the new elective course of study for our traveling preachers, designed for our younger conferences, and for our frontier and mission work.

Let us begin by examining the relation of the advanced course of study to the majority of the conferences in our Southern work.

1. It is not adapted to the present stage of our work. The course is too advanced for the majority of the candidates seeking admission to our conferences.

This is no reflection upon the conferences, nor upon the candidates. It is simply a recognition of facts as they exist. It is natural, and stands to reason, that the men who have only had a chance for an education during the past twenty years, should neither be expected nor required to rank in scholarship with their more favored brethren, who have for generations had the advantages of schools and colleges. Before the war, scholastic training was denied to most of the poor whites and all of the colored men of the South. On this account our candidates, from an educational point of view, are certainly not in advance of the men who entered our Southern conferences twenty-five years ago, and who are at present the leaders there in our Church work. Now, let us examine the course of study for 1860. We find that the present elective course is in some respects in advance of the regular course of study for that quadrennium. The church has advanced gradually to the present standard of admission.

Two of the main works in the regular course are specially unfitted for most of our candidates. Pope's Systematic Theology is cumbersome. It is too rigidly scientific in its method. He draws too many fine theological distinctions. In phraseology the work is technical, and it certainly is not remarkable for clearness and simplicity, either in method or contents. It is remarkable as a work of reference, a very treasury of learning. But as a text book it is much at fault, and many would be glad to see Watson or Raymond replaced in its stead for the general good.

"Harman's Introduction," to the reader who has had no training in modern biblical criticism, and who is ignorant of the history of German Rationalism will give endless perplexity, and will raise ten doubts where it will clear up one. Sufficeit to say the advanced course is only adapted to those who have had a collegiate and some theological training. Through no fault of their own, this has been denied most of our candidates.

2. The attempt to master this advanced course is discouraging to the majority of our candidates.

Letters From the Laity.

Emerson Hutchinson, writes from Fairfield Chapel: "Mr. Editor—I beg leave to state in your valuable paper the condition of our Church and Sunday-school. We, at this juncture have opened our hearts to the Lord and his cause; through His help we want to do more for the Church, more for the Sunday-school, and also more for that good old paper that said when we were in slavery and chains, "Loose the man and let him go free that he may serve Me and Me alone." Furthermore I am resolved to do more when I look at the head of that paper and see in bold letters the name of Marshall W. Taylor, Negro, editor. It takes my mind back about 25 years to those dark days when it was crime for a Negro to be caught with a book in his hand, but I thank God, through our prayers and the good old SOUTHWESTERN, all going up together, the answer was wafted back from heaven, "loose him and let him go." Here is one found worthy, and I will say, with some exceptions the Negroes are coming to the front. For an example take the editor of our paper; when have we had in this Southern land a Negro to be called our editor? When I contemplate over the grandure of this privilege it forces me to say with thousands of others, let the banner of intelligence float till ignorance is driven from our land and the true light of knowledge shines in our midst. Then the State Prison will not be thronged with so many of our color.

Mr. M. H. Jenkins, a prominent layman at Grenada, Miss., March 13, 1885, writes: "Dear Dr. Taylor—I missed my paper this week, I had really forgotten that my subscription had expired; I have been taking your valuable paper for nearly four years. My good wife asked me why the SOUTHWESTERN did not come this week, I then told her I would write for it immediately, for we all love the paper now more than ever. I pray God for the success of the SOUTHWESTERN."

Bro. Cyrus Bradford, Wesley Chapel, Wilson, La., writes: "Our first quaterly conference was held February 29, 1885. Our presiding elder was present and he discharged the duties of his office and preached with great acceptability to the people."

Henry Smith, Georgetown circuit, writes: "I am glad to say that we have the right man in the right place. He is doing good work on this circuit and is a man that visits us and gives us an understanding of the law, and that is the very man we want here in this part of the work. We have promised to give him $160 for his services this year, and we intend to do it, the Lord helping."

Miss Phœbe Bess, Gallway, Tennessee, writes: "Our Church is blooming. Rev. J. L. Massey was with us February 22, and preached from Dan. 3, 7: 'If it be so our God whom we serve is able to delivered us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thy hands O, King.' His text Sunday night was 2 Kings 5, 10: "Go and wash in Jordan seven times and thy flesh shall come again to thee and thou shall be clean." Our pastor is also full of his good talk and he gets plenty to eat. Every time he comes down to Alexander Grove he carries away money and something to eat. Pray for us that we may have a good time this year in our revival, and call sinners to the Lamb of God."

S. C. Coleman, Walden and Peach Creek circuit, writes: "We were pleased with the action of the Annual Conference in sending Rev. W. H. Stevens to this work; he was well recived. Is a young man and can get about our church work. Since he come here one or two official board meetings have been held and appointed a new leader and superintendent, L. A. Allen. We hope to have a good time this new year. January 7 8 found Rev. P. M. Cormichael with us, and he held the quarterly conference; the business passed off nicely. Some of the reports were a little dull but we hope to do better next time. He preached at 11 a. m. an eloquent sermon that will be long remembered by us. The collection was $5 30. At night we had a graud love-feast and after it was over about half an hour was spent in speaking for the Lord. Mr. Editor let me say a few words about the dear old SOUTHWESTERN; I have been taking it for five years and have not got tired of it yet. I think all the class leaders and stewards should take the Church paper and those who don't does not love the Lord, or the Church, and I think they should not be allowed to hold an office in the Church. Miss Rachel Williams is the only lady that takes the paper here. I expect that the officers will not like this but it is all right with me, anyone who does not like it can tell me so; my post office box is at Walden No. 25; anyone who wants to give me a round about it can do so Miss R. Williams is one of our teachers in the Sunday-school. We have Prof. H. W. Pope from North Carolina, he is teacher of our day school here and is a great help to us in our Sunday-school."

The M. E. Church.

Juvenile Home Missionary Concert at Aberdeen, Miss.

Missionary hymn, then prayer by Dr. Revels; Psalm 139, recited by little Annie Roy Anderson; recitation, "A Mother's Affection," by Hattie Clay. Essay, "Woman's Work," Miss Willie H. Cox. Hymn, "Glory to God in the Highest," by the class. Recitation, "What if Stormy Clouds Gather," Lucy Cloptou. Recitation, "Mansions Waiting," Mary E. Jamison. Select Reading, "Nebo's Lonely Island,' Miss Maria Ragsdale. Hymn, "Look not on the Wine Cup," by the class. Recitation, "Temperance," Harry Griffin. Recitation, "Mother's Affection," Viney Coleman. Recitation, "The first Death of the Household," M. Clay. Select Reading, "Mother's Affection," by Ophelia Donalson. Hymn, "Weighed in the Balance and found Wanting," by the class. Essay, "A Good Cause makes a Strong Heart," by Lizzie Brock. Recitation, "The Angel of Death," by Judith Griffin. Select Reading, "Love and Kindness," Miss Pinkie Anderson. Solo, "Come Sing me the Story, though Old it is Best," Miss E. A. Donalson. Select Reading, "Haeen in the Wilderness," Miss Katie Terrill. Recitation, "My Mother Sought the Master," Samuel Coleman. Essay, "Where can we find a True Heart?" Miss Ada Brock. Reading 5th chapter of St. James, Willie Blanchard. Closing hymn, "Good Night, God Bless You."

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

I wish to inquire for my brother; his name is Peter Page, son of Peter Page of Louisville, Ky. My mother's name is Maria Page, my name is Wm. Page; my sister's name is Mary Page. I had brothers named Henry Page, Maurice Page and Collin Page. We all belonged to Major Throckmorton, of the Galt House in Louisville. I am living at Rosedale, Iberville parish, La

WM. PAGE.

MR. EDITOR—I am inquiring for my mother; her name is Prescella; my brother is named Henry; used to belong to Michael Watson, between Macon and Knoxville, on the public road, in Georgia. I left them there when I was quite small, long before the war. He sold them to a man by the name of Calbut, and a horse at the same time. My mother was a dark woman, of medium height, spare made. There was only two children of us, Henry and myself, Betty. Mr. Walton had only one daughter, her name was Catherine; his sons were Arthur, Thomas, Johna, Michael and Jacob Watson. They were all living when I left. Any information will be thankfully received by me. Address Betty Davis, care Asbury M. E. Church, Natchitoches Louisiana.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my mother and brothers. Mother's name was Nancy; her husband was Obie Dial; she belonged to Samuel B. Rice, who was pastor of a Lutheran church at Stautou, Va. I left her at Amons, Va., about 8 years before the war. She had a daughter named Polly who was burned to death, before she left the old place. Her son, Daniel, was sold to some Negro traders. The other two sons were twins and named after Gens. Taylor and Scott. Taylor died from injuries received from Sam B. Rice and I fighting over a chair; he being a baby caused his death. I learned after I left that my mother was sold to a doctor in Lynchburg, Va. Address Henry Mills, Ellenger, Fayette county, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my mother and two brothers. We lived in Fayette, Mo., and was brought from there to Arkansas by a speculator named Jim Elerson; there he sold my mother and one brother to Billy Hickups. Myself and other brother was carried to Shiloh, La. I was about 12 years old at that time. My mother's name was Elizabeth Betsy; brothers name were Charley Yaudle and Sip Dinie, my name was Catherine Humbly. I trust God that the many readers of the SOUTHWESTERN may assist in helping to find the lost friends. Address L. W. Baker, Centreville, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my daughter; her name is Cathdrine Nash. I left her in Corinth, Mississippi, during the war; she was six years old, and had one sister named Charlotte Nash; her father's name was Henry Nash; her mother Francis Nash. Any information will be gladly received. Address me, at Atoka. My name is now Francis Hawkins.

MESSRS. MASON & HAMLIN bid fair to become as famous for their Upright Pianos as they have long been for their world-renowned Cabinet Organs. Having experimented several years at great expense, and with the assistance of probably as able a corps of experts as can be found in any factory in the world, they have succeeded in prodnoing a piano which has elicited the warmest eoninms from the best judges. The distinguishing feature about it is an important improvement in the method of "stringing" the piano, which originated in their own factory. The strings are secured by metalic fastenings, instead of by the frictions of pins set in wood, as has been the case, and the advantage resulting are numerous and highly important; among them are the following: Wonderfull beauty and musical quality of tone, far less liability of getting out of tune, greater reliability of trying climates, and greater solidity of construction and duribility. Mason & Hamlin have made 150,000 organs. They can hardly expect to make as many pianos, but they will doubtless be called upon to make a very large number.—Boston Traveller.

Mrs. A. W. Howlan, of Providence, R. I, says: "I most cheerfully recommend HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY as a safe and reliable cure for kidney disease, and it is the only medicine I have ever found that does exactly what it is advertised to do."

The Agricultural Appropriation bill, reported to the Senate Feb. 14th, appropriates $577,700; an increase of $31,500 over the amount appropriated by the bill as it passed the House.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.
QUALITY P PURITY NOT QUANTITY. On Every Bottle.
Trade Mark
THE BEST TONIC.

This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.
It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.
It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives.
It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.
It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.
For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.
☞ The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other.
Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.

For Teachers and Young People.

To clubs of six or more, one address, 55 cents each. 65 cents a year.

The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.

For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.

50 Cents a Year.

It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.

For Bible Classes and the Adult Department.

20 Cents a Year.

The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs, besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.

For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.

6 Cents a Year.

The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Songs (with music) in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.

For the Younger Scholars.

6 Cents a Year.

The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.

For the Little Folks.

$4 a Year; $1 a Quarter.

The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.

For Infant Classes.

25 Cents a Year.

The Pictures Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.

For the Children.

Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each. The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.

For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.

Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.

This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people.

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1885.

Notice.

Correspondents will please take notice that we throw all letters which have no name signed to them immediately into the waste basket, and for the most part without reading them. We cannot even agree to keep manuscript until the name is sent and then print. We sign no man's letters but our own. In case a name is unintentionally omitted by a writer, his only hope of getting into type is to re-write the letter, sign his name, send it here, and then read each paper carefully until he sees it. Our correspondent in Tennessee will now know what to do.

Our Domestic Hygiene.

"Ain't our Domestic Hygiene department just too grand for any use." That is what one of our lady patrons said of the SOUTHWESTERN's efforts to improve the health of its readers, when she read Dr. Curtis' grand paper "What is a Cold, and how can it be cured," in our issue of March 19. Well, we have not reached the depths of this writer yet, but we will—there are good things ahead from him. By the way, you will do well to keep an eye on him. Nothing but an untimely death will hinder his advancement to a higher place in this church of ours, which has respect only to merit, which is his highest characteristic.

God's Election.

There is both election and reprobation taught in the Bible. It is of character and not persons however. Hence Peter could say "I perceive that God is no respecter of persons." He that fears God and works righteousness is acceptable with Him. We repeat then what we often affirmed before in years gone by, "That the Negro is confronted by a character line. North and perhaps heaven knows no such thing as absolute, universal equality, but a felon is equal to a felon on earth, and in hell alike. A fool and a philosopher though of the same color are not equal, but each is equal to another of the same class, kind and degree.

Thomson's Chapel.

We are permitted to make the very encouraging statement of the financial condition of Thomson's Chapel, New Orleans. August 26, 1884, there was a debt upon this church of $379, for which it was about to be sold. The elder gave his note for that amount, and took the claim, thus giving the people time to redeem their church. Since then the trustees have paid on the above claim $64 35; the Methodist Episcopal Churches and friends in this city have contribnted as follows: Ames Chapel, $10; Union Chapel, $10; Haven Chapel, $3; Mt. Zion, $2.50; Simpson Chapel, $1.75; Clinton Street, $1.10; Rev. A. E. P. Albert, $2; different friends in the North, $61.40; total, $156.10; balance due, $222.90. Make another effort, brethren.

Wait and See.

There are indications that trouble is ahead for the people of Northern Arkansas. Some Negroes who have been trying to farm for themselves and on shares for the white farmers have been interrupted, and attempts are being put forward to intimidate and drive them away from the section. It will be well to watch the progress and end of this matter carefully. If it is the beginning of an extensive reign of terrorism in the South no steps will be taken to snppress it in Conway county, Arkansas. On the contrary if it is only an isolated and sporadic case of lawlessness, confined in all respects to the locality where it occurred, the authorities will put an end to it, and the Negro can go on with their crops and the worship of their God. Let us wait awhile and see.

Shall it be a Million.

Five ont of fifty colored presiding elders have given their answer to the missionary secretaries, and it is in favor of a million of dollars for missions. It is important that a presiding elder should know how to write. What say the other 45, shall it be a million this year or not. Joshua E. Wilson, Florence District, South Carolina Conference: "I am in sympathy with the movement, and shall do all in my power to assist in raising the million. I think we can do it."

G. H. Washington, Dover District, Delaware Conference: "I heartily endorse the plan, and accept yonr proposition to raise the million."

Edward Lee, Huntsville District, Texas Conference: "Just received and read your circular. I like the plan well, and will do all my power to make it a success.

Joseph Conrtney, Ohio District, Lexington Conference: "I consider the suggestions as to how a million dollars might be raised for missions admirable. We are poor, bnt are willing to do our utmost to reach the much-desired snm. Yonr sugestions will be carried ont on my district."

Pierre Landry, Shreveport District, Lonsiana Conferance: "I have never seen a more complete presentation of the claims of any cause. I shall do my whole dnty in its behalf, and encourage all others, preachers and people, to do theirs. I will soon perfect arrangements by which the amonnt to be raised in this district will be distribnted among the several pastors, their congregations and Sunday-Schools, and fix upon the Sunday on which to make a grand, united missionary rally."

Cleaning up for Spring.

Union Chapel, New Orleans, has a neat new iron fence, and so has Wesley Chapel. Dale never gets left.

They are going to build a new house, tabernacle in form, and very attractive, for sixth Street congregation.

First Street is to be raised and enlarged at an early day.

Out in the States, in all directions, we hear of improvements, building and cleaning up. That's right, let it go on, until every church is neatly repaired, painted, scrubbed, and properly furnished, yards soded, fences whitened and walks nicely sanded, graveled or paved. More than this let us have a neat parsonage for every church, and these parsonages well furnished with necessary home comforts, and let us have decent women not "slnts" as Mr. Wesley called them, to fill these parsonages, so that they shall be model homes for the parish. We are now paying for homes, in which our colored preachers live $4.500 per month or $54,000 each year; this is enongh of the colored people's money paid ont for rent to bnild 108 parsonages annually, or enongh to pay for 432 parsonages at an aggregate cost of $216,000 each in four years. Each parsonage costing $500.

Now brethren, the man who will delay the beginning to save this vast sum of money to his race, and his Church has a very attenuated claim to support from either, and even the like which he hath of right should be taken away.

Church Schools in New Orleans.

On Monday, March 16, upon the call of Mrs. Daie, who has been untiring in her interest in them, there was convened two hundred and fifty children from seven different schools held in our churches here, and entirely supported by funds gathered in festivals and other local entertainments, and by what the parents can contribnte in the way of tuition, abont 10 cents per week. Upon this spectacle, sublime because it bespeaks the approach of the era for Negro self help, Bishops Walden, Mallalieu and Dr. Rust, with Mrs. Walden and Mrs. Rust, were permitted to look. They could bnt encourage such a movement, and this they did with many words of hearty commendation.

African Missions.

In 40 years the American Missionary Association sent out nearly 100 missionaries, and appropriated $400,000 to the Mendi West African Mission. It was then committed to the United Brethren and now has 10 missionaries, 20 native preachers and teachers and over 40 workmen at Mendi, Sherbro Mission. The corresponding secretary of their connectional missionary society is now in Africa for the eighth time, being called there to decide, and direct general matters, such as must now and then spring up in the very nature of things.

The past failure and present success was occasioned, a mistaken policy being corrected. The mistake was in trying to do this work without personal contact with the people it sought to relieve; the remedy, and which bronght the desired success has been the employment of native preachers and teachers, whose godly lives coupled with their knowledge of the people, and the people's confidence in them removes the greatest of the hindrances to success.

The United Brethren now think of following onr example and electing a bishop for Africa. Indeed Africa is destined to be a great country, the Negroes are to control it. They are to regain their ancient prestige and power, and they are again to offer asylum to the persecnted Christ and furnish an aid to bear his cross. Amen.

Revival in Norway.

A letter from the Rev, J. H. Johnson furnishes the following interesting intelligence: In Bergen at the late quarterly meeting, the crowd of people in the church was so great, that the Lords snpper could not be administered in connection with the morning services, but at a special meeting in the afternoon. On week day evenings we begen preaching at five and continued until eight, working with penitent sinners at the altar, in the gallery, and throngh the whole congregation, and many souls were saved by the Lord Jesus Christ. The man (a Lutheran) who sold us the lot on which the church is built and furnished all the heavy materials for the church, was at the altar for prayer the very first time it was used as a mourners bench. The Centennial year has opened as to our Theological School, as agent for it I have held three meetings, and every time I have received more cash and larger subscriptions than I expected. We shall go straight to work, believing in God, from whom cometh life and grace.

Hon. Fredrick Douglass.

By Messrs. J. W. Cromwell & Co., of the People's Advocate, Washington, D. C., post office box 263. Price not given.

This is a fine steel engraving of Mr. Douglass 16x20 inches makes a fine ornament for the parlor or colored home. It is true to life as Mr. Douglass appears at present. His crisp beard proves that he is more Negro than anything else and his rudged face shows him to be a storm beaten hero as he is. In the nature of things Mr. Donglass' picture and great fame is all that will be left us of the greatest American Negro in a little while. Hence the invalnable service Mr. Cromwell has done us in preserving this fine cast or his face, features, and index to his character. He shonld be encouraged by a generous patronage, and we feel certain that he will. We should get rid of the old time poorly taken pictnres, and provide ourselves with this good one.

Hon. Homer Eaton, one of the most polished gentlemen in Methodism, a member of the Book Committee and a friend to the efforts being made for, and especially by the Negroes for their elevation in all right lives, has placed the SOUTHWESTERN under obligations to him for kind words and deeds. The laymen are the safety-valve of the church. We have many reasons to rejoice at the increased dignity to which our Church has raised them in its councils.

The Parlor via the Kitchen.

We hear some talk of discriminating in some circles of colored society in this conntry against colored ladies, who have to work for themselves, and who can not or will not afford the luxury of a house servant or so. Well, all we have to say on that subject is, that colored ladies like all other ladies need money occasionally, and we don't see how they are to have it unless they work for it, or save it, when their husbands, fathers and brothers make it by working for themselves. There are very few people in good circumstances in this country, who were not servants at some period of their life. Especially is this trne of the colored people, and $14. per capita is not enongh ahead to insure us against being so again. To the parlor via the kitchen; ladies, what say you?

Heard the General Was a Little Ill.

We were conversing with a party on the train going throngh the flats of Arkansas, when an aged lady near by suddenly inquired of ns: "Stranger, do yon know Gen. Grant? He used to have his camp not a great way from onr home in Mississippi, and I hearn some time back that he fell down and sprained his ankle and had a right bad green bile. Do you know how he is getting? Laws a 'ime, them sprains an biles must be monstrous hard on the General, he liked to get about so handy."

"Women as Companions" is the snbject of an entertaining paper in the Current of March 21, by Harold Van Santvoord. He shows the relations of women to many eminent writers, poets, and philosophers, and the influence of the former upon the latter, reaching the conclusion that "a warm sympathetic heart" is woman's most desirable quality.

The "old deceiver" has too much sense to tempt a man at his strong point. Those who would be strong must look for the tempter and be prepared, by the help of God, to resist him at their weakest point by shunning the smallest sin, the very "appearance of evil."

Personal.

—The post office address of Rev. O. Gillespie is Moss Point, Miss.

—The post office address of Rev. J. J. Holland is Decatnr, Alabama.

—Rev. A. Anderson, late of the Mississippi Methodist Episcopal Conference, of Jackson, died recently.

—Messrs. J. W. and Wm. Flathers and their ladies, and Mr. Bnsell and wife, of Nashna, New Hamshire are in the city, guests of Rev. L. P. Cushman.

—Rev. J. N. Fradenburgh, Ph. D., Titnsville, Pa., and N. Crossman, Esq., also of Titusville, Pa., are visiting the Exposition, and will be here a few days.

—The mother and father of Rev. G. W. Hayman came to Arkansas, two years after he did. This will correct mistakes made in advertisement for lost friends by the above in which he was called Mayman.

—Rev. W. F. Walker, with Mrs. Walker and three children, expect to leave San Francisco, April 4, on their return voyage to China. They leave their two elder boys in America for education.

—Rev. J. M. Shumpert, of the Jackson District, Mississippi Conference, came to this city March 19, and spent one day in seeing the Exposition. He fonnd time to give the SOUTHWESTERN a call. Welcome.

—T. J. Chandler, dentist, of Rochester, Pa., has been in the city visiting Mrs. Dr. Adams, No. 531 Dauphine street, who is a danghter. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, worshiping at present with Ames Methodist Episcopal Church.

—Dr. Jackson, with Profs. Mitchell and Shorter, of the faculty of Wilberforce University, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church are in New Orleans doing the city, taking in the Exposition, and visiting their numerous friends.

—We learn that Geo. W. Brown, Esq., of the Louisville Restaurant on St. Charles street, opposite Union street, will soon sever his connection with that institution, and after a few days recreation take an interest in another establishment.

—A hitherto unpublished portrait of Mr. Lincoln, taken just before he became President, will be the frontispiece feature of the April Harper's. It is accompanied by a poem, written by W. Garrison, Esq., a son of Wm. Lloyd Garrison and namesake of Wendell Phillips, on "The Vision of Abraham Lincoln, April 14, 1865."

—Bishop Mallalieu is at home, and as is his custom, hard at work mastering every detail of his vast charge. He seems to omit nothing and nobody. Wherever there is an interest of the Church to need snpervision, there yon are sure to find him. He walks a good deal in general, bu the invariably does so on Sundays. He will not preach against Sabbath desecration and then practice it by using the street cars.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR—"Is the word Negro as used in the SOUTHWESTERN, slang or flattery to the colored people?—Subscriber."

Ans.—It is a proper name, which was originally applied to a black man, especially one of a race of black or very dark persons, such as inhabit the greater part of Africa.

Such eminent authorities as Dr. E. W. Blyden and Hon. Geo. W. Williams, the historian, prefer its use to any other word because it is more convenient then snch terms as African-Americans, American-Africans, Afro-Americans, Americo-African, Africo-Americans, colored people, black sand mulattoes, etc. In our use it means a person not entirely white, and distinguished from other colored people as the Chinese, Indians, Mexicans, etc., by being of African descen and is a proper term.

The longest verse in the Bible may be found by reading answer to Snnday-school boy, in our edition of January 15th 1885, under the head of "Snnday-school and Children."

Sunshine.

[The nndersigned has no snperior in this country; his words bring inspiration and confort to ns. We shall try to deserve them, and shall certainly not forget them. The writer, along with his order, gave us permission to draw upon him for the snbscriptions of some unable bnt worthy brothers. This is the higher type of Christian practical ethics.—ED.

Dear Dr. Taylor—The SOUTHWESTERN is now a weekly and welcome visitor at my home, and, though the number of periodicals on my stndy table is large, the contents of yonr paper are scanned with the deepest interest. The variety of the matter which it contains, and the ability with which it discnsses vital qnestions of Church and State will compare favorably with not a few papers much more advantageonsly circumstanced. The field which yon and yonr co-laborers are endeavoring to cultivate, and are cultivating so faithfully and successfully, is, in my jndgment unsnrpassed, if not indeed unequaled in importance by any other field on this teeming globe. You are solving problems which will affect the destiny of the world, you are determining and applying principles which will be recognized and dominant in all the civilizations of the future; you are laying the fonndation of a structure whose strength and beauty shall appeal to coming generations. To take part in the bnilding up of the "New South," and in permeating it throughont with a thoroughly "Christianized" type of Christianity, is an honor which any man may well covet. Difficult and self-sacrificing as are the labors which our brethren of the South are heroically enduring. They are of the genuine Panline character and will produce results not unworthy to be compared with those of the great Apostle. I send you this hasty note to let you know that there are brethren in the North who fully appreciate the greatness of the work which yourself and fellow-laborers are doing, and that we rejoice over the success which attends your consecrated service. Truly to no other laborers in the Master's great harvest field is the promise more applicable, and to none will it more certainly be fulfilled: "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy." "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." The tearful sewing is a necessity of today; the joyful reaping will be a certainty in the not distant to-morrow. May God sustain yon all and give you abundant harvests for your abounding labors.

Yours, fraternally,

O. H. PAYNE.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Methodist Men and Women's Mutual Aid and Beneficiary Association.

REV. L. M. HAGOOD.

Rev. L. N. Taylor's article in yonr issue of the 19th inst, is timely and readable as an essay on the abnses of some secret organizations among the colored people of this country. Its seeming frankness appears manly. I do most heartily agree with him as to the wrongs some secret organizations are perpetrating npon our people through their illiteracy. When he visited Clark Chapel, when I was in charge he will remember, I said to him that the move was in the right direction if the methods were all right, and that revolntion for pnblic we all wonld inevitably ensure. If this organization is what it ought to be, there can be no objection to a public discussion of its merits and demerits. Who are its founders, their former and present reputation at home and abroad, the positions they now occupy in the Methodist Episcopal Church, as well as qnalifications to lead such a reformation in a great Church like ours? When, where and why was it originated? Are methods now employed capable of prodncing the desired end, and what has become of the means already accumulated? From whom, and how much salary, if any, is the pay of its managers and agents to come. Why has not the same conferences, which hold the membership of the originators, taken hold of it? Not only so, but to take up the modus operandi sereatim.

I have some donbts in this matter and am willing to discnss the same with the Rev. L. N. Taylor though the SOUTHWESTERN. This matter shonld be ventilated; it can do no harm to a good society, and may do good to these interested as it can do then no harm. Bro. Taylor knows me and I know him.

Nashville, Tenn.

[This is good snbject for discussion at great length, now is a good time to begin, and the SOUTHWESTERN is the proper medinm through which to carry it on. Now let it begin. We shall close the debate after all have had one speech, and the managers have answered them in one closing argument. We shall say some last words ourself. All lettets to insure insertion mnst be as short as Bro. Hagood's which is a good model. All must be free from offensive personal references. We are not going to discuss men, bnt measnres. So let all parties keep this in mind and go ahead—ED.]

For THE SOUTHWESTERN

How Admitted to the Bar.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: In the biographical sketches of prominent colored men of this State, among whom you were kind enongh to place me, thongh possessing no merit that entitles me to snch a distinction, pnblished in your last issne, yon stated that I was a law graduate of Straight University. I have seen the statement often made before, but it is an error. It is true that I began the study of the law at that excellent institution; in fact, I am one of the founders of its law class, but my studies were simultaneously begun and mainly pursued independently of the University, by the aid and advice of Mr. Ernest Moral, a well known lawyer of this city, and also of the late Hon. Wm. Hunt, ex-Minister to Russia.

In the spring of 1875 I severed all connection, both as student and teacher of French, with Straight University, and was admitted to the bar in December of the same year upon examination by the Supreme Court of this State, our present distinguished Chief Justice, Hon. Edward Bermudez, being then chairman of the examining committee. In the ensuing year, May 1876, Straight University gradnated its first class, and as an acknowledgment of my early endeavors in connection with the establishment of the class, a diploma of Bachelor of Laws was awarded to me. Very respectfully,

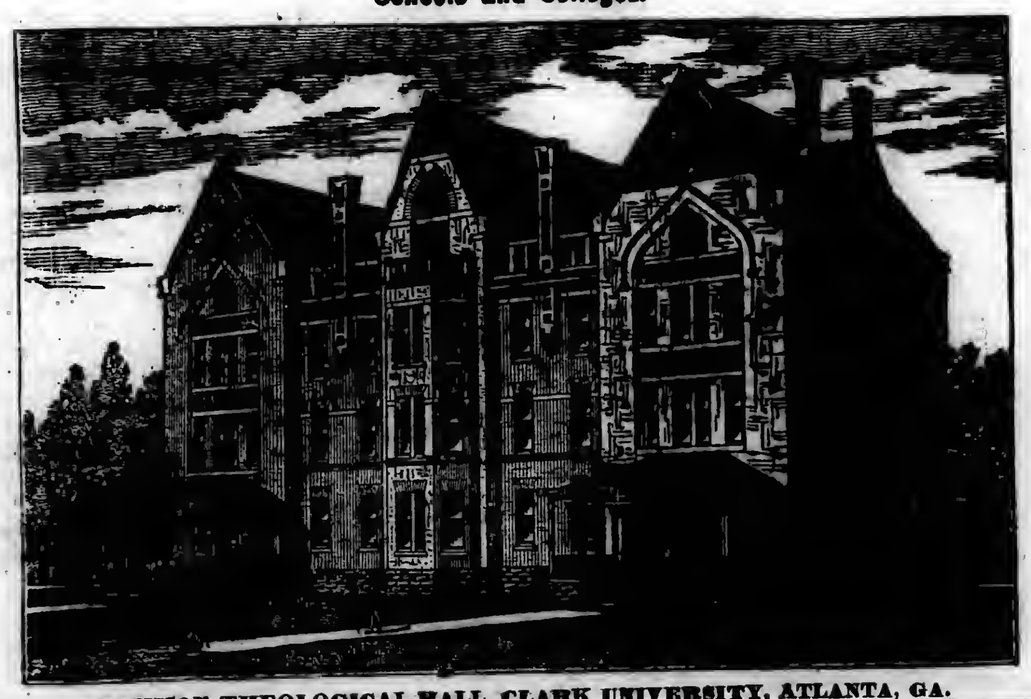
L. A. MARTINET.

New Orleans, La., March 24, 1885.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Ananymous Letters.

LONEY K. WAGONER, ESQ.



In looking over last week's issue of the SOUTHWESTERN, I recognized an article, headed, "A day with the presiding elder of Waco district." Concerning which, I would say, it was hastily written and mailed to the office of the SOUTHWESTERN, with the hope that it would reach there in time to appear in the next issue of that paper. To my great surprise I did not find it; on the contrary though, I found an article from the editor, not in the following words, but to the effect that no article, from whatever source it may come, containing matter that tended toward criticism, remaks of reproach or insinuations likely to be followed by detrimental consequences, could enter the columns of the SOUTHWESTERN, without the name of the writer. After reading the note of the editor the thought occurred to me, that possibly I had failed to send the concluding part of my letter. I immediately examined my desk and found that a part of the letter had reached the waste basket of the editor while the other had remained on my desk. I could then readily account for the above article of the editor, as I knew I was the guilty party and the one to whom he had reference.

I appreciate highly, however, your recognition of the arricle referred to, since you saw fit to publish it, as a proof of your recognition of men of intelligence, no matter how obscure their post of duty may appear or how humble their station in the Church may be; and not for its literary merit, for it has none. Now Mr. Editor, may you live long, if possible, longer than the reported longevity of the Wakoyas to publish the SOUTHWESTERN to generations unborn. I always fine comfort in reading it for it brings nothing stale and refused, but always abounds in nsetul hints and instructions from the leading minds of the day. Of all the weeklies that come, none is more generally looked for and none affords more complacency than the SOUTHWESTERN. I would not be without it for twice the subscription price. Allow me through the medium of this letter to congratulate my friend and schoolmate of years gone by, Dr. Nathaniel H. Middleton, for the article in last weeks paper under the head of "Gossip about Oakland's Visitor." I am proud of his station. Glad, because he has climbed and is climbing, because he is in a position both useful and ennobling and thrice glad because he is putting to good use, among his race, a profession so much needed among us. Like him in one respect. I'm only an adopted son of Texas, engaged in teaching in the free schools.

Tehuacana, Texas.

On last Saturday, appeared the first number of Southern Industry, a neat eight page paper of this city, published by a co-operative company.

Schools and Colleges.

GAMMON THEOLOGICAL HALL, CLARK UNIVERSITY, ATLANTA, GA.

Gammon School of Theology.

This School constitutes part of Clark University, Atlanta, George. Rev. Wilbur F. Thirkield is dean of the Theological School and is bringing to it such an amonnt of enthusiastic work and interest as will insure to it a very large increased measnre of usefulness. It is to him that we are indebted for our elaborate report of work in onr colored schools. The history of this school and what it has accomplished is a story so well known to onr readers that it need not now be told. It is destined to do a a great work for the Master and for colored humanity and for any other humanity that will avail itself of the opportunity presented.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Pastors' Course of Study in Central Tennessee College.

R. W. KEELER, D. D., DEAN OF THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. EDITOR—We are gratified to see the interest manifested in our "Pastor's Course of Study," since its publication in your issne of January 22d. Brethren in Texas, Arkansas, Indiana, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee have written us, and entered upon the "course." We are anxions, however, that many more should avail themselves of its advantages. As each pursues the "course" by himself and holds his connection with the College, and receives instruction and help by correspondence, all who will, may take the conrse without regard to locality or distance from the institution. Among the fifteen hnndred Colored Methodist preachers of the South, many of whom have not had the advantage of previous theological training, there onght to be from one fourth to one-half that number in this "course." Brethren in the ministry, we must study or we can not continue long to lead our people. The spread of intelligence and education among onr people will compel us to improve onrselves or we shall fall behind them. An educated and intelligent people can not long respect an ignorant and incompetent ministry. A young man of to-day, who fails to improve his opportunities, will find himself a long way behind the people, before he even gets to be an old man. Nothing can be more clearly the will of God than that those whom He calls to the sacred work of the ministry should qualify themselves to be workmen that need not be ashamed; leaders of the people in Christian culture and godliness. If you can attend any of our schools; that is the best thing to do; let nothing prevent this where it is possible. Bnt where this is manifestly impossible, the next best thing is to put yourself in this "Pastor's Course," and determine to master it. It will be an incalculable advantage to yon. When you have completed it, and passed the requisite examination you will receive a diploma. This diploma will represent a definite amount of cultnre and theological study that will soon become known in our conferences and the Church. It will give you a standing in the conference and the Church, which you can not have without it or something equivalent to it.

This "course" will not reqnire more study than all onr preachers can do and ought to do every week. It will systematize yonr work and put it in line toward some definite end. When the work is accomplished you will have something definite to represent the work done as well as the advantage of the cnlture and knowledge gained.

We desire that all our yonnger brethren in the ministry should enroll themselves in this "Pastor's Course." Where there are tens, there onght to be hundreds. Write me, brethren, for circnlars containing the "course," and decide, by the help of God to master it. Superintendents and teachers in our Snnday-school could study this course with great advantage and in this way prepare themselves for usefulness. Address me in care of Central Tennessee College, Nashville, Tenn.

Nashville, Tennessee, March, 1885.

Ohio Wesleyan University.

The Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, Dr. C. H. Payne, president, has been blessed again with a gracious revival influence during the winter term, which closes on the 26th inst. Sixty-five students professed conversion and hundreds of these were greatly quickened and advanced in their Chirstian life. Under the revival influence, as usual, young men settled the question of this life work, and resolved to devote themselves to the Christian ministry. The proportion of young men in this Institution preparing to enter the ministry in home and in foreign fields seems to increase rather than to decrease; while a goodly number of young women are preparing to engage in missionary work. The term has been a successful one in all respects. The spring term opens, April 1st; new classes are then formed in the Academic Department and students entering at that time will find studies adapted to their wants. The ladies have an attractive home provided for them at Monnett Hall.

The Future of the South.—III.

JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

With every advance, the wants of hnmanity have increased, so that notwithstanding the discoveries of science and the accumnlated wealth of centuries, it is as essential as ever that man shall labor for his supply of bread, the bread that he finds necessary for his existence, having steadily improved in quality, as he has advanced in civilization. The wants and needs of our laborer, including the calls on his time for self-improvement and for domestic and social dnties, has increased pari passu with the increase of his prodnctive power; and it is true, generally of all classes of society, that their habits of life to-day render labor as imperative as in previous epochs, to divide respectively that mode of living which they severally find requisite for their bearable existence.

With the revolution of time, the sceptre of dominion has passed from the heart to the head. Intellect now commands the forces of the world, and science leads the van. This fact, be it right or be it wrong, can not be ignored; knowledge, accordingly, is really power; but knowledge can neither be accumnlated nor made available without labor, and without a surplus of wealth, the prodnct of labor, to insure bread and shelter. Art, literature, refinement and morality are to be cultivated, bnt they can receive attention only after bread is supplied, and, on the average, they will be cultivated in proportion to the surplus of capital which labor has acquired.

We are no apologists for that materialistic spirit of the age, which we often have so deservedly condemned; for we all have something more to live for than to be "dollar-hunters and the breeders of dollar-hunters." The means must not be confounded with the end. Labors with its fruits, is the means; the end is a man's advancement. In urging, therefore, the importance of that material prosperity, which labor alone can secure, we should not be understood as ignoring man's moral improvement. Material development however promotes moral development, and is needed to protect and preserve it.

Southern society was overthrown, in consequence of the failure to develop its resources; bnt in rebuilding now the social fabric, this defect can and must be avoided. Bitter experiences have tanght us that an unequal division of wealth is unfavorable to the material prosperity of a country. In the Northern States, where circumstances favored a diffusion of capital, the yearly increase of population and wealth steadily exceeded that in the Southern States, where circumstances favored a concentration of capital, so that when the irrepressible conflict came, the South was unable to sustain herself, although eminent courage, devotion and zeal were exhibited by the people, and the highest order of military genius was developed to direct them.

We hope to demonstrate that there will be hereafter a more equal distribution of wealth, not only in the South, as between indiviuals, but also in the country, as sections. The circumstances and influences which formerly in the South produced a concentration of wealth (being principally those which prevented a diversity of industries) having been removed, we might well ague that the tendency to nnequal distribntion must have ceased. Indeed, it will be conceded that the capital of the South is already more generally diffused, and it may be sufficient to rest onr argument on this recognized fact; bnt it will aid in making our subject better understood to cite some of those influences which now tend directly to produce a more equal distribution of wealth in the Sonth as between individuals.

As the wants of the agricultural population in the South were formerly supplied by wholesale through the cities, business in the country was extremely limited; bnt there being at present a general local demand for goods and merchandises, there exists a large class of prosperous and responsible country merchants, who now receive from the wages of the freedman, a part of what was formerly the profit of the master; and all other classes who supply any wants of the laborers, receive in like manner some benefit from their wages. This, of course, tends to promote a more equal distribution of wealth.

Formerly in the South, the incentive to indnstry and energy was small, because, except in large cities, their reward was uncertain, and the field for their exercise extremely limited; and, even in the cities, enterprise was disconraged by adverse legislation. Capital was restricted almost exclusively to agriculture, as the favorable and profitable imployment; but even the agriculture was only profitable to those who owned or could purchase slaves.

Under existing conditions, however, new influences are at work to develop commerce and mannfactures, and varied trades and occupations in all the communities of the South, and the greater the diversity of industries, the greater will be the diffusion of wealth. As the labor market, too, is now open to all, agricnlture is no longer monopolized by capitalists, and a new field has thus been opened to energy and enterprise, which has not been neglected.

The most successful planters and farmers at present in the South are those who have been heretofore accustomed to labor; and the yonng men who, after the war, at once realized their condition and went to work in earnest. The farmers who had been used to work themselves have invariably prospered since the war, and are accnmulating property, while the large land owners, on the contrary, are becoming poorer every day, except those who happen to have youth, energy and industry, and as these advantages fully account for their success, the exceptions only "prove the rule." It has become, in fact a proverb in the South that that the times are favoring the poor man. We will next consider the new influences which are now promoting a more equal distribution of wealth as between the sections.

Sermon Sketches.

REV. W. D. GODMAN.

Ephipany.

Text—Matt. 3, 13-17: The baptism of Jesns by John the Baptist.

Introdnction—This event is commemorated by the Church annually on Jan. 6.

Epiphany signifies manifestation and at different times and places was applied to different events in the life of God's Son. St. Austin names four topics of epiphany, viz, The star of Bethlehem, the miracle at Cana, his baptism in Jordan; the feeding of 5,000 men with 5 loaves. The baptism in Jordan came, at length, to be the principal thing signified in this festival.

The baptism of Jesus imported:

I. The fulfillment of "all righteonsness," whereby we understand that he was baptized as an example for ns. (a) He needed not baptism for his own sake; He was "holy;" Lnke 1.35. (b) But in all things he "gave himself for ns." (c) The Spirit made it known to all the people that He was in no need of baptism on his own account.

II. The manifestation to the people of the Messiah the "annointed" of whom "the law and the prophets spake." (a) The expected Messiah was called among the Jews the "Son of God;" also the "Son of David;" Mark 1, 1; Lnke 19, 7. (b) He was, on this occasion, declared by the voice of God to be His Son. (c) This was publicly done, in the hearing of the people. (d) The appearance of the Spirit as a dove sitting on Him was confirmation of the voice. (e) His anthority over the Church of God and over all mankind was thns proclaimed.

III. The baptism was the opening act of Christ's ministry. It was grandly prepared, (a) in the birth of John, and in his training and leadership of the people; (b) in the character and authority of John, the last of the prophets, the greatest born of woman.

We have Babyhood again. The March number contains: "The Accidents and Injuries of Early Childhood and their Prompt Tteatment" (the first of a series,) by Dr. Jerome Walker. An article on "Teething," by Dr. L. M. Yale. "The Study of Children," by Sara E. Wiltse; "A Mother's Journal," by Mrs. M. A. Allen. Marion Harland's department includes a pleasing and comprehensive talk on "Baby's Sleep," which every mother and nurse should read. Dr. D. F. Lincoln, of Boston, author of "School Hygiene," contributes a practical article entitled "Some Sanitary Aspects of the Kindergarten." The usual departments are well filled, Nursery Problems" being particnlarly comprehensive, and a new feature, "The Mothers' Parliament," is introdnced, to which readers are invited to send communications on subjects of general interest. [15 cents a number; $1.50 a year. 18 Spruce street New York.)

"Monteith's Geography." "Monteith's New Physical." Jnst published. Small quarto, 144 pages, 125 illustrations, 15 colored maps. In mechanical execution is very fine. It embraces recent discoveries in Physiography, Hydrography, Meteorology, Terrestrial Magnetism and Vulcanology. The maps and charts have been compiled from original sources. While the easy style, graphic description, and the topical arrangement of snbjects, adapt it especially for use in Grammar schools, it will be found equally adapted for use in High and Normal schools. A feature of special interest will be "The Record of Recent Geographical Discoveries;" which contain brief accounts of the Explorations of DeLong, Greely and others. A. S. Barnes & Co., Publishers, Chicago and New York.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed qnotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

CURES ALL DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS, LIVER, BLADDER, AND URINARY ORGANS, DROPSY, GRAVEL, DIABETES, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, PAINS IN THE BACK, LOINS OR SIDE, NERVOUS DISEASES.

TONIC AND BITTER,

In is Unequaled in Results and Permanent in its Cure.

LIVING TESTIMONY.

Blacksmith.

"Having had occasion to use a remedy for kidney troubles I purchased a bottle of HUNT'S—Kidney and Liver—REMEDY, and it completely cnred me—have no indigestion, and am hearty and healthy for one of my years 65."—J. F Woodburry, Blacksmith, Manchester, N. H.

"Small beginnings lead to large endings"

Carpenter.

"I was troubled with a weakness of the Kidneys. I had to pass my water as many as fifteen times during the night. After having used the second bottle of HUNT'S—Kidney and Liver—REMEDY I found that all my trouble was gone."—Joseph O. Miller, Carpenter, Xenia, Ohio.

"Be a friend to yonrself, and others will."

Fireman.

"I have been a severe sufferer with a weakness of the kidneys, and I took a severe cold while on duty with the fire department. I had terrible pains in my back, and my water troubled me. Hunt's—Kidney and Liver—REMEDY completely cnred me."—H. A. Glass, Colnmbus, Ohio.

"To the good, night is not dark."

A Sailor.

Captain John Kimball, Sailor, New London, Conn., writes:—"I was taken with severe pains in the small of my back in the region of my kidneys. I had the best medical attendance without experiencing any relief. I bought and used a bottle of HUNT'S—Kidney and Liver—REMEDY. Four bottles entirely cured me."

Price $1,25. Send for Pamphlet of Testimonials.

HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.

C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, New York.

GET A

BEAUTIFUL TIN-TYPE

Of Yourself for 25 Cents,

AT THE

World's Centennial Tin-Type Gallery,

No. 12 EXCHANGE PLACE,

(Three Doors from Canal)

GROTESQUE CARICATURES

A Feature in itself. 25 Cents Each.

[Patent Right secured for the city of New Orleans]

VIGNETTE CAMEOS,

For Lockets, Pins and Velvet Cases, $1.

jan22-3m

THE WEEPING PROPHET.

Mild-hearted Murlin how shall words express
Seraphic zeal, transformed to tenderness,
When down the cheeks unbidden sorrow roll,
Tears heaven eloquence that touch the soul;
And thine, O weeping prophet, often ran
In streams of pity for rebellious man.
Oh! how beautiful thy form appears,
In the bright mirror of a good man's tears,
Let the cold moralizing reasoner sneer,
All Oxford's logic is not worth a tear;
Who sows his seed in undissembled grief
Shall have, when harvest comes, full many a sheaf;
Ah! how unlike the systematic drone,
Wrapt in the ice of his frigid zone,
Who, cold himself, dare reprobate all fire
The torpid lays their frozen shores admire.
But who the vital Gospel would impart,
Admits the wounded in the wounded heart;
Where "brands" are rescued from eternal flames,
Passion is reason, transport who can blame,

Domestic Hygiene.

The Hands, and How to Care for Them.

GEO. L. CURTIS, M. D.

Scarcely any part of the body is more delicately and beautifully made than the hands. Sir Charles Bell published a book on the human hand which reads like a novel and is ten times more profitable. The hands are the most exposed of all the organs. The face ranks next. The hands are employed in all sorts of work; exposed to the hurt of hard bodies and the action of soft substances and fluids. The mechanism of the hand is of the most intricate kind. On removing the skin the delicate muscles, ligaments and tendons are exposed to view, and their arrangement gives some slight idea of the facility with which the many movements of the hand are made. Of bones, commencing with the wrist, there are in the wrist eight small irregular shaped bones, bound together closely by ligaments, having but slight motion of themselves alone but together furnishing all that is requisite to obtain the many movements of the hand. In the hand are four long, straight bones which, bound by muscles, form the palm. In the thumb and fore-finger are three bones each, making in the whole hand 27 bones. To move these there are over fifty muscles, located some in the arm and some in the hand. Those in the arm have long, slender, delicate white cords running through pulleys nicely adjusted, to be attached to the bones at places where they will exert their power the most advantageously. To each fibre of muscle passes two nerves, one of sensation and the other of motion. The skin covering the hands is of wonderful adaptability to the uses of the hand. It may by use become hard, with portions forming protruberances like horn, as are the inside of the hand. This skin, both on the inside and back of the hand is abundantly supplied with blood-vessels and nerves. On the inside of the hand are the terminal points of the nerves of special sense of touch, which may become trained to wonderful delicacy and sensitiveness.

The hands are often greatly abused. Some abuse them by the seldom use of water. They seem to think the hands are as afraid of water as a dog with hydrophobia. Such hands are unclean, and soon lose their delicacy of touch and flexibility of movement. Touch is maintained by cleanliness and proper use. Hands may become chapped. Exposure to cold wind, without due care, causes the skin to crack open, leaving red creases which sometimes become sore and bleed. The outer or scarf skin is thin and transparent, and its vitality is very small. When the hands are well cared for the pores are throwing out oil sufficient to keep this scarf-skin soft and pliable, but from neglect, exposure to great cold, the oil is not thrown out and the skin becomes dry and cracked, and exhibits sores. When the hands are chapped and rough there are great danger of their absorbing poisonous matters and carrying the poison to the system. A person with chapped hands should never handle putrid meat or clothing from a sick room. To cure chapped hands it is well to wash them well and then oil them with mutton tallow and wear through the night a pair of gloves. This process persued for three or four nights, with some slight care during the day, will cure any case of chapped hands.

The hands are abused by some people by applying certain cosmetics to make them have the delicate paleness almost to transparancy as seen in consumption Actresses and actors have for many years used pigments to produce this. Now people of other circles are using bismuth to produce the same effects. After a time such treatment causes diseases of the nails, and may be followed by evil effects. Hands treated so cannot be healthy.

The nails are either a disfigurement or a beauty to the hands. They ought not to be either too long or too short, nor allowed to become loaded with dirt. A handsomely cleaned and pared nail is a real beauty. The habit of biting the nails is vicious, and may be followed by evil consequences. The finger nails may become too soft and stumpy, leaving the flesh exposed to become sore. To harden the nails and stimulate them to grow to proper length, the following may be used: "Take the yelk of a hard-boiled egg and two drachms of pure white wax, melt the wax and add a few drops of almond oil to it, then mix the yelk of the egg until the paste is made. Pot the paste and rub the nails every night with it, wearing gloves during sleep." This will render the nails strong and pliable at the same time. Nails sometimes become too brittle, and scale off, causing the junction of nail and flesh to bleed. This can be remedied by rubbing them with cold cream for a few evenings, and wearing gloves during sleep.

The hands, as well as the feet, are liable to be frosted, and chilblains follow. These are exceedingly disagreeable matters, but may be remedied. A Parisan physician gives the following: "Take a piece of alum about the size of a nut and melt it in enough hot water to cover the hands. When the alum is melted soak your hands in the liquid for nearly a quarter of an hour, then cover your hands at once with glover, which you keep on over night and as long as you can during the day." This should be repeated a few nights, when the chilblains will be gone. The hands should be washed with soap and water, and rinsed in clean water and dried on a towel not too harsh. Some people want a harsh towel. The towel ought to be thick but soft. Take good care of your hands and they will take good care of you.

Too Much Live Stock.—"Why, Jones, what a ho[a]rse you have in your throat!" Yes, I raised it from a col(d)t in my head. I've too much live stock." "Well, like oures like; Dr. Bull's cough Syrup will cure you. The Bull will quickly scare the ho(a)rse away.

An Attack on Roller-skating.

In Outing for April there is a sharp attack on roller-skating, by J. L. Heaton, who says: One of the most curious phenomena of an age, when nine-tenths of able-bodied Americans of both sexes follow the lead of society bellwethers from folly and frivolity to fresh frivolity and folly, is the extraordinary popularity enjoyed of late, and especially during the past few months, by the so-called sport of roller-skating. Its votaries are numbered by the million, its shrines by the thousand. It is safe to say that there are few villages of more than two thousand inhabitants in the United States which are not blessed or cursed by roller-skating rinks, with the usual quota of broken legs, arms, and collar-bones; coughs, colds, consumptions. Theatrical managers complain bitterly of the falling off in their season's profits, which they atribute, never to their own greed, stupidity, and short sightedness, sometimes to the competition of the cheap dime-museum with variety show annexed, but oftener, far, to the all-absorbing claims of roller-skating. Paragraphers poke fun at the ruling mania, cynics sneer at it, physicians profit by it while protesting against it,—for American physicians are not so fond of "standing in" with the undertaker for mutual advantage as satirists represent them; but it runs its course, regardless alike of jeers, sneers, and protests. Latterly, and worst of all, the very curious fact has come to notice that it does not, to any appreciable degree, increase the amount of genuine skating in places where its devotees are most zealous and numerous. Nay, strange as it may seem, it even diminishes the use made of real ice and real skates, so potent are its all-compelling charms.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every State should regulate the sale and use of the many poisons resorted to by women in their desperation to obtain a beautiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injuring health or endangering life.

Symposium of the Weeklies.

The tributes paid to the memory of Bishop Wiley are especially tender and appreciating, giving evidence that the rare and marked qualities of the man had deeply impressed themselves on the minds of those who were most conversent with his spirit and work.—Northern Christian Advocate.

Let us have $500,000,000 of silver certificates, and see it that will not give the farmer and the business man a chance to pay the mortgage and the "acceptance" with the valne which was received with interest added—The Crurent.

We have no fear of reinslavement, but we are not satisfied with freedom only secured.—Kentucky Republican.

The death of Bishop Wiley at Foochow, China, is the third instance of a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church dying while making a missionary tour in distant foreign countries. Bishop Thomas Coke died at sea, May 3, 1814, aged 67. Bishop Calvin Kingsley died in Beyroot, Syria, April 6, 1870, aged 58, and Bishop Wiley died at Foochow, November 21, 1884, in the 59th year of his age. —California Christian Advocate.

Mr. Douglass of the New York Witness is branded as a traitor because he stood square on the Temperance Movement. We admire his type of manhood.—Baptist Advocate.

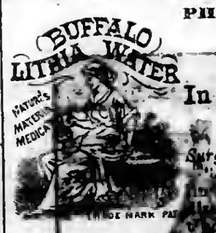
So do we.



The Republican party in Iowa has nobly espoused the right and in obedience to the will of the people enacted a good law. It must stand by it and defend it against the strong opposition which will be made the coming year by its enemies to defeat it.—Iowa Methodist.

From a Sense of Duty.

Some people shrink from making public the benefit they have received, while others are free to tell it abroad for the good of fellow mortals. Of the latter kind is Mr. J. H. Coppuck, of Mount Holly, N. J., who writes, "I am one of many who give their cheerful appreciation of the merits of the efficacy of your valuable Brown's Iron Bitters, from a sense of duty. This bitters is doing much good in our county, for which I can vouch.

HOT SPRINGS AT YOUR DOOR.

PHYSICIANS AT HOT SPRINGS USE IN THEIR OWN CASES AND PRESCRIBE FOR OTHERS

Buffalo Lithia Water

In Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Etc.

"I have had ... Surgeon ... U. S. Navy, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark. ... person and in the ... in the use of Buffalo Lithia Water is remedial agents ... tmest of Gout, Rheumatism and that hybrid ... Gout" (so called) which is in contradistinc... Rheumatoid Arthritis of Garrod. ... when due to a red... the Water in these affections, both in my own ... nts for whom I have prescribed it. Of course the ... alies and their solvent properties. ... ll as a remedy in Nephritic Colic and forming Calculi ... thic Acid."

DR. WM. B. TOWLES, Member of ... of Va., Resident Physician of Hot Springs, Ark.

"I feel no hesitancy ... in saying that in Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, ... disease of Uric Acid Diathesis, I know of no remedy at all comparable to ... thia Water, Spring No 2. In a single case of Bright's Disease of the K... witnessed very marked beneficial results from its use, and from its action in this particular case I should have great confidence in it in this disease."

DR. T. E. BUCHANNAN, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark

"Send me five cases Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2 I have made use of this Water for Gout in my own person and prescribed it for patients suffering with the most decided beneficial results. I take pleasure in advising Gouty patients to these Springs."

Spring ... pamphlet, with testimonials from eminent medical men at Hot Springs, sent to any address. Water in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles; $5 per case at the Springs.

I. L. ... 70 Camp street, and G. F. FINLAY, 35 Magazine street, New Orleans, Agents.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs, Virginia.

jan28 ...

J. L. WIMBY & CO.,

GENERAL

Commission Merchants

—AND—

Cotton Factors.

180 Common Street, [Room 4 Kenner Block] [P. O. Box 2415] New Orleans, La.

Particular attention paid to the ☞ Purchase of Supplies.

All orders will be filled to the exact amount of cash sent or produce assigned.

Remit money by Postal Order, Registered Letter or draft.

All letters of inquiry must enclose stamp for return postage. jan15-3m

E. W. Scheffel,

GENERAL

Book-Binder,

Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.

37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.

Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

THE WEEKLY

National Republican.

The Best Newspaper Ever Published at the National Capital.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1885.

The Republican is the only weekly newspaper published at the National Capital which is an aggressive exponent of true republican principles, and it will be invaluable during the next four years, especially to every active adherent of the party of freedom and progress throughout the entire land.

In it the course of legislation will be given in full, as well as all news concerning the industrial interests of the country.

A faithful record will be furnished of all appointments and dismissals by the executive, together with the leading ones made by the several departments, including the army and navy, as well as those of the Indian service.

Especial attention will be paid to the agricultural and producing interests, and a complete epitome of the news of the week from all parts of the world, collated from our own telegraphic dispatches, will be found in our columns.

Sample copies mailed free on application.

The Weekly National Republican is now offered by the year at the following greatly reduced rates, each copy to be separately addressed and forwarded by mail free of postage:

One copy ... $1 00

As compensation for services in obtaining subscriptions at these rates agents and club organizers will be allowed to retain 15 per cent of the amount collected, the remainder to be sent to this office by draft, money order or registered letter. With the inducements thus presented we ask our friends to help us to a large circulation, not only among Republicans, but also among fair-minded men holding different political opinions, but who do really desire to be well informed as to the views of their opponents as enunciated in their leading papers. Address

The National Republican,
Washington, D. C.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.

Sixty Addresses by American Educators.

Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.

8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON.

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

sept25-6m

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—

WASHINGTON

—TO—

BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.

THE ONLY LINE WITH

Pullman Sleeping Cars

—FROM—

Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington

—TO—

WASHINGTON

WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 20 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 37 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 75 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3 Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 2[illegible] p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos. 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.

No. 1 leave Norfolk except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R.

—The Direct and Fast Line to—

Cincinnati,
Louisville,
Washington,
Baltimore,
New York and the East,

In Connection with the

"Great Jackson Route,"

Makes the following

FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O. & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS FROM ODIN

To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Emits trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Kniskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkony, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M. Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division. mh7-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C.

KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Sheldon, Peoria, Ills. and Keokuk, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria, Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

Between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Rock Island, Ills., and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points.

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Conpon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

☞ See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant H. Lowry, Trav. Pass. ag't., Wilmore Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG

Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3..9:00 p.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5..8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.

J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management, and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE

—TO—

Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,

And the Short Line to

Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.

The Direct Route to

Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah, and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	0 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.

Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO

KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route, mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis Tenn.

ROSES, 16 for $1.00. GERANIUMS, 16 for $1.

☞ Also all other kinds of plants. Send for beautifully illustrated catalogue to Thos. McBeth, Springfield, Ohio.

apr2-4t

General News Items.

Fire in a Philadelphia slaughterhouse caused the death of 16 persons.

Annexation of the Island of Samoa by Germany is confirmed.

Admiral Courbet has been instructed to intercept vessels with war material.

The announcement has been made in all parts of the Hocking Valley, O, that aid is no longer coming in and advising the men to get work. This ends the strike.

—The banking firm of Fisk & Hatch, of New York, will dissolve shortly. It is understood that the business will be continued by the senior partner, Harvey Fisk, and his sons.

The Governor of Victoria has sent a message to the Home Government tendering to the Queen the assurance that the colony of Victoria was ready to do its part as an integral portion of Her Majesty's empire to assist the English in Egypt.

A cave of probable large dimensions has just been discovered in Fincastle, Botetourt County, Va. A wagon, dislodged a projecting rock in the road, disclosing an entrance. Numerous persons have explored it for a short distance and found it abounding with brilliant stalagmites and other beautiful formations.

Advices from St. Petersburg states that there are continual discoveries of treasonable talk and practices among the Russian troops. The spirit of nihilism appears to pervade the garrison at Cronstadt. Several artillery and naval officers have been sent there from St. Petersburg to take the places of the suspected officers, who are ordered to report at the capital for trial.

Vitality of Great Men

Is not always innate or born with them, but many instances are known where it has been acquired by the persistent and judicious use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

The President has, by executive order, opened to public settlement after May 15, 1885, all of the lands within the Niobrara or Santee Sioux Indian reservation in the State of Nebraska remaining unallotted to and unsettled by the Indians, except such as are occupied for agency, school and missionary purposes.

Gratefulness.

Mr. H. Sampsel, Ottawa, Kansas, writes: "DR. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O.—Gentlemen: I have suffered for seven years; have tried every thing and many physicians, and all have failed. I went to Pittsburgh, and while there fell on the street, my breath seemed to leave my lungs, and numbness overpower me. I determined to give PERUNA and MANALIN a fair trial. I used four bottles of each, and my trouble left, never, I hope, to return. I left Pittsburgh three weeks ago for Kansas, and thought, as I was going to a new country, I had better take a bottle of MANALIN with me, on account of bad water, etc. I arrived here with one-half bottle. I found one of my friends in a pretty bad condition. The doctors were treating her for chills and fever. I did not know what her trouble was, though I persuaded her to use the MANALIN. She did so, and the first day she was up doing her work. Now this seems strange, but it is, nevertheless, a candid truth. She used it all, and has never had cause to lie down during the day since she took the first three doses."

A Case that was Pronounced Incurable.

Miss C. C. Peck, 714 Jackson street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "DR. S. B. HARTMAN & Co.—Gentlemen: I take great pleasure in stating to you the benefit I received from your valuable PERUNA. I have been suffering for about fifteen years with a severe cough and bronchitis (so the doctors call it). I was treated by different physicians, and spent a considerable money for different kinds of patent medicines, but received no benefit from any, ever. Dr. Fox, of this city, claimed I had consumption, and there was no hope for me ever getting better. I was so bad that I coughed almost continually. Mrs. Henry Ellis, a friend of mine, induced me to try your PERUNA. I am happy to say I began to notice a change after I had taken my second bottle. I took eight bottles in all, and now I feel like a new woman. If it hadn't been for PERUNA I think I would be in my grave now.' It is a wonderful remedy, and I recommend it to all my friends."

Messrs. Baker Bros., Mt. Vernon, O., write: "Your PERUNA sells well. Customers speak of it as being a good medicine."

Mr. Daniel R. Spry, Portsmouth, O., writes: "I have a good trade in PERUNA. It sells well and gives satisfaction."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or from any other cause. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

July 17-1y.

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

TRADE MARK.

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: betters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody KNOWS that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no douching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours at a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed lining coating of the diseased air-surfaces, from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Edw. Heath, DEALER IN Wall Paper,

Cocoa and Canton Matting, Rugs, Mats, Upholsterer's Materials, Window Shades, Cornices, and Curtain Goods,

Frames, Mouldings, Mirrors, Plates, Wire Screens, Etc.

75 Camp Street.....New Orleans.

Liberal discount to the trade. Samples of WALL PAPER sent on application. oct9-6m

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolson, Vice President, Chas. E. Bice, Secty.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Bowling,	Sam B. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Santell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. R. Lyman,	U. Marinoni,	Chas. H. Dolson,	John Calder,	A. H. Seward
S. C. Cotton,	Harry L. Nash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucien Delery,	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
E. F. Weyhenman,	O. H. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Fiske
Chas. Eschen,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

See our Agents throughout the South. dec19-1y

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain FOR $4.20.

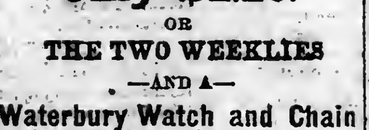
Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,



by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the sum" addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKEL-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

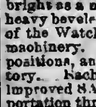
Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

292.....Rampart Street.....292

(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)



NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.

All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.

sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine. feb19-26t

MILLERS and FARMERS

Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. Deloach & Bro., Atlanta, Ga. Mention this paper. may22-1y

General Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez Street.

LAFAYETTE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday Services—Preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting at 9 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Prytania streets. Rev. J. J. Kiefer, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 3 p m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street, Rev. Charles Schaller, pastor. Services Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 2 p m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Vetsera Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 8; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. R. O. Barrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 3 p. m. 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation, Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting, 6 a. m, Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Plum street. Rev. M. O. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m, Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m., Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University, A. F. Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1423 St. Charles Street.

FIRST STREET—Rev. T. G. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor. Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 pm; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Peet street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gaydan, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m: class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty, streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m, Prayer meeting Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

J. E. OGILVIE—Teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music. Also tunes and repairs pianos and organs at reasonable rates. Residence, 29 South Johnson Street.

SEEDS OUR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FOR 1885, OF "EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN," full of valuable cultural directions, containing three colored plates, and embracing everything new and rare in Seeds and Plants, will be mailed on receipt of stamps to cover postage (6 cents). To customers of last season sent free without application. PETER HENDERSON & CO., 35 & 37 CORTLANDT STREET, NEW YORK. PLANTS

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
26 inches....	175 lbs.....	325 lbs.....	$45 00
28 "	225 lbs.....	375 lbs.....	55 00
32 "	350 lbs.....	550 lbs.....	80 00
36 "	550 lbs.....	800 lbs.....	120 00
40 "	750 lbs.....	1050 lbs.....	160 00
44 "	1000 lbs.....	1350 lbs.....	200 00
48 "	1340 lbs.....	1800 lbs.....	260 00
54 "	2100 lbs.....	2900 lbs.....	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches.....	100 lbs.....	$13 00
20 inches.....	150 lbs.....	18 00
24 inches.....	190 lbs.....	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

tf 32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N. Y.

nov29-1yr

McShane Bell Foundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address HENRY McSHANE & CO. oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

OUR CLUBBING LIST,

—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age.....	$9 00
Outing.....	3 00
Wide Awake.....	4 25
Babyland.....	1 75
Our Little Men and Women.....	2 25
The Pansy.....	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery.....	2 25
American Agriculturist.....	2 50
Southern Cultivator.....	2 75
Popular Science Monthly.....	6 00
New York Medical Journal.....	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly.....	3 25
Harper's Magazine.....	5 00
Harper's Weekly.....	5 00
Harper's Bazar.....	5 00
Harper's Young People.....	3 00
American Reformer.....	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean.....	2 25
Babyhood.....	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

MASON & HAMLIN

Exhibited at ALL the important WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVE EXHIBITIONS FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS, Mason & Hamlin Organs have, after most rigid examinations and comparisons, been ALWAYS FOUND BEST, and AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS; not even in one such important comparison has any other American Organ been found equal to them. ONE HUNDRED STYLES, adapted to all uses, from the smallest size, yet having the characteristic Mason & Hamlin excellence, at $22, to the best instrument which it is possible to construct, from reeds, at $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues, 48 pp. 4to, and price lists, free.

ORGANS

The Mason & Hamlin Company manufacture UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, adding to all the improvements which have been found valuable in such instruments, one of peculiar practical value, tending to greatest purity and refinement in quality of tone and durability, especially diminished liability to get out of tune. Pronounced the greatest improvement made in upright pianos for half a century. The MASON & HAMLIN CO. pledge themselves that every piano of their make shall illustrate that VERY HIGHEST EXCELLENCE which has always characterized their organs. Send for circular with illustrations, full description and explanation.

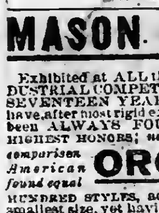
PIANOS

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,

BOSTON, 154 Tremont St. CHICAGO, 149 Wabash Ave.

NEW YORK, 46 East 14th St. (Union Square.)

oct23-26t



FEMALE COMPLAINTS

Treated scientifically at home, at very small expense, with absolutely no pain, no caustics, no unnecessary examinations. Permanent cure guaranteed. Book and question blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CATARRH

Causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough and Consumption, cured in from one to three months, even though bones of nose are affected. No snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Book and blank free. Address with stamp, (Mention this paper.) Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, 309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

oct2-1yr

BARNES'

Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business. Lathes for Wood or Metal. Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Foumeres, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.

W. F. & JOHN BARNES, Rockford, Ill.

No. 187 Ruby St.

jan29-eow 1

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic

Liver & Kidney Balm,

The Most Wonderful

LIVER AND KIDNEY CURE

In the World.

Will relieve and cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, such as Inflammation, Feverish Irritation of the Bladder, Weakness & Pains in the Back, Catarrh of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Female Troubles, Bright's Disease, Melancholia, Impotency, Debility, Jaundice, or any derangement of the KIDNEYS, LIVER OR BLADDER.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT!

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's HOMŒOPATHIC LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM will cure you.

We have thousands of certificates, but add only two:

H. C. Harris, Lloyds, W. Va., says: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm cured me of Nervous Prostration of five years' standing."

Mrs. C. B. Wilcox, Toronto, Canada, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm have completely cured me of derangement of the natural functions.

Price $1 per Bottle. Six Bottles for $5.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle, St., St. Louis, Mo.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Pillets.

They are little white pillets, size of a pin head, but they perform wonders in cleansing the Bowels. When the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys are in an unhealthy condition, there is generated Bacteria (Animalcules), which if not destroyed, produce various forms of organic disease. Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets will destroy and remove these terrible parasites and cure all troubles of the liver kidneys and urinary organs by effectually removing the cause of all derangement of their natural functions, and taken with Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Balm, has cured thousands of cases of Bright's Disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposit, Irritation of the Bowels, Costiveness, Colic, Gravel, Renal Stones, Thick, Turbid, Frothy Urine, Pains in the Region of the Liver and Kidneys, Piles, also loss of nervous power. One of these little pillets taken every night before going to bed will produce an easy evacuation of the bowels and bring the natural functions into a healthy and regular condition.

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets cost 25 cents each vial, and can be sent by mail, One dozen for $2.00.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Send For My Free Catalogue of

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S OWN SELECTED

Field, Farm, Garden & Flower Seeds.

jan1-6m

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Influenza, and all such Throat Troubles yield instantly to its magical and soothing influence.

For Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Asthma and Consumption, Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only remedy that will give sure relief. It has cured Lung Diseases where all other remedies have failed. Why will you suffer from Throat and Lung Troubles when such a pleasant remedy is offered you? For Croup it is a positive specific. For Singers and Speakers the TAR WINE BALM is an absolute necessity. Nothing has ever been discovered which will give such immediate relief, and it will positively cure Throat Troubles. DON'T DELAY.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

Those whose Lungs and Throats are sore, hard and dry, will realize the soothing effect of a single dose of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, and to give all doubting skeptics a chance to be assured of its wonderful soothing and miraculous virtues, I have put up Trial Bottles, costing only 25 cents per bottle. Every dealer in the United States should have them. If they have not, please ask them to send for a dozen at once. Every one trying that 25-cent size will be convinced of the miraculous benefits they will receive from taking

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

Cold in your Head, tickling in the nose, forehead and throat; you have Catarrh; get a box of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S CATARRH SNUFF, and use it once a day, besides taking DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM to heal your Throat and Lungs.

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

I can send them only by Express. If you will send me $2.00 or that amount in postage-stamps, I will send you one dozen, freight paid.

Large Bottles, which contain six times as much as the 25-cent size Bottles - - - - - $1 00

Or six Bottles for - - - - - - - - 5 00

After using DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM, let me hear from you. Prepared by

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

WONDERFUL STRENGTHENING CORDIAL AND BLOOD PURIFIER, which has rescued thousands upon thousands from the grave, giving them nerve, vital life, strength and pure blood.

"I would not take $100 for the benefit one bottle has given me. I. CORBY, St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. Yowell, Dudley, Ill., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only medicine which gives me relief. I have had Bronchitis for many years."

T. J. Phillips, Reed, Miss., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm gives the greatest satisfaction here. It has no equal for coughs, colds, etc., and in croup it is certainly a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of letters come to me, all proclaiming the miraculous merits of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

BURPEE'S SEEDS ARE WARRANTED FARM ANNUAL FOR 1885

Which is sent FREE to all who write for it. It is a Handsome Book of 120 pages, containing a Colored Plate, many Engravings, and Descriptions and Prices of the best Seeds that grow, including the Novelties of Merit introduced during the past season, as well as the Standard Varieties of Approved Value. It tells How to Grow Seeds, Plants and Flowers, and is a Safe Guide to all who purchase, whether they plant one hundred dollars' worth of seeds or only a dollar's worth. Every person who intends to purchase Seeds should send for a copy. Address as above.

W. ATLEE BURPEE & CO., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The Great Church LIGHT.

PRINCE'S PATENT. Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Clearest and the Most Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Halls, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Can refer to any. Send for circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. PRINCE, 543 Pearl Street, N. Y.

Sedgwick STEEL WIRE Fence

Is the best general purpose wire fence in use. It is a strong, net-work without barbs. Don't injure stock. It will turn dogs, pigs, sheep, and poultry, as well as horses and cattle. The best fence for Farms, Gardens, Stock ranges, and Railroads. Very neat, pretty styles for Lawns, Parks, School-lots, and Cemeteries. Covered with rust-proof paint, or made of galvanized wire as preferred. It will last a life-time. It is better than hearth or hedge. Give it a fair trial; it will wear itself into favor. The Sedgwick Gates made of wrought iron pipe and steel wire, defy all competition in lightness, neatness, strength, and durability. We make the best, cheapest, and easiest working all-iron automatic or self-opening gate, all the neatest cheap iron fences now made. The Boss folding poultry coop is a late and useful invention. The best Wire Stretcher, Cutting Pliers, and Post Augers. We also manufacture Russell's excellent Wind Engines for pumping, and Geared Engines for grinding, etc. For prices and particulars call Hardware Dealers, or address, mentioning paper,

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.

jan22-26t-eow

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.

They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given at 25c, no other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo, as sample, on a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,

GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE,

For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists' Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

mar5-13t

SEEDS FOR THE GARDEN, FARM & FIELD. Established 40 Yrs. RELIABLE

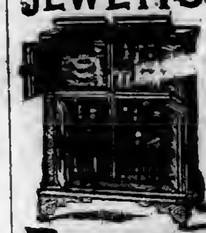
Vegetable Seeds,

Flower and Tree Seeds,

Grass Seed, Seed Potatoes, Onion Sets,

SEED DRILLS, GARDEN CULTIVATORS, &c.

Catalogue Mailed Free to all. Address



PLANT SEED COMPANY,

812 & 814 N. 4th St., St. Louis, Mo.

Name this Paper.

jan1-8t

JEWETT'S

Established 35 Years. Largest Refrigerator Works in the World.

STYLES AND STYLES sold by first-class Dealers everywhere.

The internal construction of our Refrigerators is our own, and the subject of patents; consequently, not available to other manufacturers. A 16-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett & Sons, BUFFALO, N. Y.

REFRIGERATORS.

feb19 3t

FERRY'S Seed ANNUAL FOR 1885

INVALUABLE TO ALL! Will be mailed FREE to all applicants and to customers of last year without ordering it. It contains illustrations, prices, descriptions and directions for planting all Vegetable and Flower SEEDS, BULBS, etc.

D. M. FERRY & CO. DETROIT, MICH.

jan22-6teow

FITS A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.

From AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

"Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to

Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York.

feb5-13

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.

jan22 26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

oct30-52t

ROSES SAMPLE with Catalogue, 25 c., 4 for 50c. Order now. WM. B. REED, Chambersburg, Pa.

feb13-4t eow

THE SOUTHERN WORLD A 16 page illustrated Journal. Sample copy sent free. Agents Wanted. ATLANTA, Georgia.

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address DR. B. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

feb26-13t

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. DR. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jefferson, Wis.

mar5-52t

OPIUM and WHISKY habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

mar20-52t

AGENTS COIN MONEY who sell DR. CHASE'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN. Price $2.00. Write for Circular. Address, A. W. HAMILTON & Co., Ann Arbor, Mich.

jan21-3m

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN ACTS, A. D. 60. LESSON I. April 5. Paul's Voyage; Acts xxvii, 1, 2, 14,26. Golden Text, Acts 27, 25.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Paul's voyage; Acts 27, 12, 14, 26.

Tu.—Paul foresees danger; Acts 27, 3-13.

W.—The angel's charge; Mark 16, 1 13

Th.—The manner of resurrection; 1 Cor. 15, 39, 58.

F.—Belief in the resurrection; Job 19, 21 20.

Sat.—The resurrection necessary; Luke 24, 36, 53.

Sun.—The resurrection foretold; Psa. 16, 1-11.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. A voyage, v. 1, 2.
Where did Festus decide to send Paul?
To whose care was he intrusted?
What route did they expect to take?
2. A storm, v. 14 20.
What happened to the ship?
What did the sailors do?
Near what island did they come?
What was their condition?
What was done the next and third day?
To what condition were they brought?
3. Vision, v. 21 25.
Who now addressed the ship's company?
For what did he chide them?
To what did he exhort them?
What had been granted Paul?
What promise had the angel made?
How was Paul's faith?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

How does this lesson illustrate—
1. The uncertainty of our way?
2. The deceptiveness of appearances?
3. The advantage of faith in God?

Doctrinal Suggestions—The ministry of angels.

The Chinese say a large nose indicates shrewdness, but we say a red nose and a barking cough indicates the need of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Marriages.

Mr. Joseph Robertson and Miss Careline Green were married at the residence of the bride, No. 60 Dryades street, New Orleans, La., by Rev. M. Dale, March 20, 1885.

Obituary.

Mr. Willis Lee, who has been a faithful member of the church for 12 years, and a resident of Austin, Texas, died January 24, 1885.

Mrs. Mary Green, a member of Wesley Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, Jeffersonville, Indiana, died January 10, 1885.

Mr. August Ray died in Jeffersonville, Indiana, Feb. 13, 1885. His death was quite sudden, yet he was prepared to go.

Mrs. Annie Woods died in Bagwell, Texas, February 16, 1885. She was a faithful member of the church, and leaves many friends.

Mr. Ellis Cooper, who has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 6 years, and the leader of Class No. 3, died at his home in Starkville, Miss., October 7, 1883.

Miss Maude Butler died in Gallway, Texas, Feb. 12, 1885, in the 17th year of her age. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Sister Mary Rodney, a faithful member of the M. E. Church in Texarkana, Texas, crossed over last Sunday. While it is our loss it is heaven's gain. She leaves six children and a host of friends to mourn. Also, Sister Rachal Wheeler died January 27, 1885. Just before she died she prayed, and she then said, "I am ready to be offered up. She leaves four children many grand children and a host of friends to mourn her loss. ROBT. ROBERTSON.

At Waco, on Thursday, January 22, 1885, Rev. S. M. Kingston, of the Austin Conference. Bro. Kingston was taken with paralytic fit on the train as he was coming from his home at Milano to a little town near Waco, called Eddy, where he had some property. He was, however, able to write on a piece of paper the name of H. J. Crist, Waco. By the time the train arrived at Waco he was unconscious, but a doctor was in waiting, and he was carried into a hotel, where everything that medical skill could suggest was done for him. He did not recover consciousness, but spent the night in an uneasy stupor and died next morning. Bro. Kingston was Irish by birth but had been in America for about half a century. He was one of the few men in the South who dared to remain loyal to the United States Government and the M. E. Church all through the war. He was, for a while, chaplain to a Union regiment in Louisiana, and was, later, a member of the Texas Conference. At the time of his death he occupied the position of a superannuated preacher, being past the three score and ten years which usually sum up our earthly life. The writer has only known him for a few years, but was glad of the opportunity of waiting on him during his last hours. He has fought the good fight, he has finished his course, and now has entered into his reward.

"The Flying Hoosier."

"The Flying Hoosier" is a new train on the Kankakee & Seneca line of the C. I. St. L. & C. Ry. (Big Four) This train leaves Cincinnati at 12:35 p. m., standard time, daily except Sunday, and has elegant day coach attached which runs through without change from Cincinnati to Davenport, Ia., via Kankakee and Seneca, arriving at Davenport at 5:10 a. m. next morning. At Davenport passengers can step into another car (either Passenger Coach or Pullman Sleeper, on same train, thus making no change of train to Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids, Spirit Lake, Albert Lea, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

No line makes quicker time or has fewer changes.

This is the Short Route between Cincinnati and Rock Island, Davenport, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, etc.

Remember the above train is in addition to the two through trains of the "Kankakee Line" which run to Chicago connecting there for all points West and Northwest.

If you are going West or Northwest call on or address,

GRANT K. LOWRY,
Traveling Passr. Agt. Wilmore, Ky.
W. H. PAGE,
Traveling Passr. Agt. 4th and Vine Sts., Cincinnati, O.

Conference Notices.

Waco District—West Texas Conference.

Second Round.

Majors	Apr.	4- 5
Kosse, Long Branch	"	10-11
Marlin, Big Creek	"	18-19
Marlin ct., Moreyville	"	25-26
East Waco, East Waco	May	2- 3
Waco Mission, New Zion	"	9 10
Waco, St. James	"	16 17
Groesbeck, Mount Zion	"	23-24
Mexia, Dangerville	"	30-31
Hubbard, Antioch	June	2- 3
Spring Hill, West Point	"	6- 7
Milford, Chambers Creek	"	13-14
Dallas, St. Paul	"	20 21
Dennison, Pilot Point	"	27 28

The brethren will please clip this notice and preserve it, and remember I will be at the above-named places on Friday preceding each quarterly conference, unless otherwise ordered.

W. H. DAVIS, P. E.

Church Extension—Texas Conference.

To the preachers and presiding elders of the Texas Annual Conference:

At the last meeting of the Board of Church Extension of the Texas Annual Conference the following resolution was passed, and the Secretary directed to have it published in the SOUTHWESTERN:

Whereas, We have plans for the erection of churches cheap, nice and appropriate, and our Corresponding Secretary at Philadelphia agrees to furnish catalogues showing the plans to those desiring to build, free of charge, plans same price to all; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board shall require charges hereafter, in all cases when building and making out applications for aid, to order and build by some one of the plans. H. WEBB, P. E., Pres't.
F. PARKER, Secretary.

New Orleans District—Louisiana Conference.

Second Round.

Ames Chapel	May	6-10
Algiers	"	10
Simpson Chapel	"	7-10
Sixth Street	"	13-17
White's Church	"	14
Clinton Street	"	15-17
Union Chapel	"	19 24
Thomson's Chapel	"	21-24
Barracks	"	20
Pearl River	"	27-28
Mandeville	"	30-31
Haven Chapel	June	3- 7
Mt. Zion	"	5- 7
Camp Parapet	"	7
Gretna	"	10 14
First Street	"	11-14
Wesley Chapel	"	18-21
La Harpe	"	18-21
Pleasant Plains	"	19-21
Springfield	"	27-28
Shady Grove	July	3- 5
Franklinton	"	10-12
Baldwin Mission	"	18-19
Lower Coast	"	25-26

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.

April 2, 1885.

Notice.

To the ministers of the Mississippi Conference—The minutes of our late conference held at Aberdeen, are now ready to be sent out. Let those who have not sent the presiding elders the money, $1.25, do so immediately.

J. M. SHUMPERT, Sec'y.

Columbus, Miss., March, 1885.

Lexington Conference.

Arrangements have been made with the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railway Company to carry the ministers and visitors from Cincinnati to Springfield and return for two cents per mile each way. They will pay full fare going; the Secretary of the Conference will furnish them with a certificate which will enable them to purchase a ticket from the company's agent at Springfield to return on at one cent per mile. Trains leave going from the Grand Central Station, Third and Central avenue.

JOS. COURTNEY.

Ashville District—Central Alabama Conference.

Second Round.

Enon	Mar.	28-29
Birmingham	Apr.	4- 5
Blunt Springs	"	11-12
Blountsville	"	18-19
Village Springs	"	25-26
Beaver Valley	"	25-26
Collinsville	May	2- 3
Gadsden	"	9-10
Centre	"	16 17
Mud Creek	"	16-17
Ashland	"	23 24
Wedowee	"	30-31
Talladega	June	6- 7

O. NELSON, P. E.

Rev. Philander Perry, pastor Baptist church, Coldbrook, Mass., writes: "After the best medical treatment had failed, Parker's Tonic cured me of dangerous congestive spasms of the stomach and bowels. From which I had suffered indescribably. It has no reaction. Capital for clergymen who feel dull and overworked."

A CARD.

At the regular meeting of the African Trade Society, held March 18, 1885, Mr. John W. Pierce was expelled, charged with duplicity and obtaining money under false pretenses, and the President and Secretary were directed to have the fact published, so that the Society may no longer be held responsible for his conduct. J. H. COKER, President.

C. H. THOMPSON, Secretary.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE,
Mar. 28, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9 1-16; Middling 10 9 16; Good Middling, 10 13-16; Middling fair, 11¼.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5⅝; White clarified, 5⅝@5¾; Common 4¼@4¾c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43o.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4⅛@4¼; fair, 5¼@5⅝; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 20@22.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 4.50; Choice, 4.25; Family, 3.75.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 70; Fine, 90.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $2@2.25; sweet potatoes, $2@— ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $2.75@3.50; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.50@5.50; cabbages, $3.00@— per crate; sour krout, $4.00@5.00 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@—; boiled, 58@—; spirits wood, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl.—Choice, $12.00.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10½; shoulders, 5¼@5½; sides, short rib, 6½; sides, long clear, 6½; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6½; clear sides, 6½; shoulders, 4.7@4.8.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3.00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00@2.50; geese $4.@$5; turkeys $9.00@12.00.

Western Eggs 14@15c per dozen.

Louisiana Eggs 15@16c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50@$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.00@3.50; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5.00, turkeys $23.00@24.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 57; white, 57; mixed, 56.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 43@44

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, 85c@87½.

TO keep the pores open, the oil glands and tubes active, and thus furnish an outlet for impurities in the perspiration and blood which cause humiliating blotches, itching humors, blackheads, and minor skin blemishes; to cleanse, whiten and beautify the skin, remove tan, freckles, sunburn and oily matter; to keep the hands soft, white and free from chaps and roughness, prevent contagious skin and scalp diseases, and provide an exquisite skin beautifier and toilet, bath and nursery sanative, redolent with delicious flower odors and CUTICURA healing balsams, is the special duty of the CUTICURA SOAP. CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, the great Skin Cures and Beautifiers and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier cure every form of Skin and Blood Diseases, from Pimples to Scrofula. Sold everywhere. Price, Cuticura, 50c.; Soap, 25c.; Resolvent, $1. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PRANG'S EASTER CARDS.

Easter Satin Art Prints.

For Sale by all Dealers.

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L. Ribolet, Manager,)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
30.....Toulouse Street,.....30
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.

☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

Those Who Doubt

Are cordially invited to read the following authentic and unsolicited Letters. We have many thousands. They come every day. All Ladies, well or ill, should wear these Corsets. They impart no "Shock" whatever, but a really delightful sensation.

NEWARK, N. Y., June 1.

Dr. Scott's Electric Corsets have entirely cured me of muscular rheumatism. It has also cured a severe case of headache and female troubles of eighteen years' standing. Mrs. L. C. SPENCER.

BROOKLIN, ME., June 28.

Dr. Scott—The Corsets I ordered six months ago have worn splendidly, and have given satisfaction every way. They are the best Corsets I ever wore, aside from their electric qualities, which are truly marvelous. I suffered greatly from rheumatism in my back and hips, but your Electric Corsets have entirely cured me. They are better than represented. Mrs. J. B. BABSON.

HOLLIS CENTER, ME., August 29.

I suffered severely from back trouble for years, and found no relief till I wore Dr. Scott's Electric Corsets. They cured me, and I would not be without them. Mrs. H. D. BENSON.

PEORIA, ILLS.

I suffered from kidney, liver and nervous troubles for twelve years. Dr. Scott's Electric Belt entirely cured me, after all other remedies had failed. His Electric Hair Brush has cured my neuralgia. C. W. HORNISH.

POSTPAID

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 28.

Dr. Scott's Electric Corsets have given much relief. I suffered four years with breast trouble without finding any benefit from other remedies. They are invaluable. Mrs. JAS. CAMPBELL.

HENDERSON, TEX., August 17.

I tell my friends gold would not induce me to part with my Electric Corset and Hair Brush unless I could obtain others. Mrs. S. P. FLANAGAN, Wife of Webster Flanagan, Real Estate Operator.

EAST PEPPERELL, Mass., June 26.

Here is my experience in wearing Dr. Scott's Electric Corset: I suffered untold pain in my back and sides, so much so that I dreaded lying down at night. I found no relief till wearing your Electric Corset. Since wearing them I have been almost entirely free from those pains.

With much gratitude, E. M. HOBART.

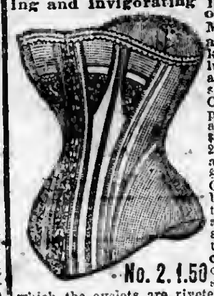
My sister suffered constantly with back and spinal trouble, so badly at times that she had to be lifted about. She put on one of your Electric Corsets on Monday, on the following Wednesday, much to our surprise, she was able to get around the house and superintend the cooking and domestic labor. She is now feeling well and is full of gratitude.

AGENTS! (Either Sex) Wanted for Dr. Scott's beautiful Electric Corsets, Belts, Electric Hair, Flesh and Tooth Brushes, and Lucolas. No risk. Quick Sales. Satisfaction Guaranteed. For terms, address GEO. A. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, N. Y.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA., October 9.

I found Dr. Scott's Electric Corsets possessed miraculous power in stimulating and invigorating my enfeebled body, and the Hair Brush had a magic effect on my scalp. Mrs. T. E. SNYDER, Fancy Goods Dealer.

SAND BEACH, MICH., September 3.



I cheerfully tender you my heartfelt gratitude for what your Electric Corsets have done for me. I have suffered for over three years with weak back, growing worse all the time. At times I was almost helpless—could not work or walk. I received benefit the second day of wearing it, and have improved ever since. I am now able to work and walk all day without any trouble. My friends are simply astonished. Mrs. A. CURREY.

NILES, MICH., January 5, 1885.

Dr. Scott's Electric Corsets have cured me of acute dyspepsia, from which I have suffered for eight years. His Electric Hair Brush cures my headache every time. BALTIMORE, MD., Intense nervous debility has been my trouble for years. Physicians and their medicines did not help me. I finally derived great relief from Dr. Scott's Electric Belt. L. H. MILLER.

Dr. Scott's Genuine ELECTRIC CORSETS.

have established a deserved reputation beyond that of all other Corsets for comfort, elegance, durability and excellence of material. In addition to all these advantages, they possess more Electro-Magnetism and thorough healing and invigorating power than any other Electric or Magnetic appliances on the market, however high priced. The adjoining cut represents our No. 2, or $1.50 Corset. Our other prices are $1.00, $2.00 and $3.00; nursing, $1.50, abdominal, $3.00. 25 cents extra for sizes above 30. The $2.00, $3.00 and abdominal Corsets are made of beautiful English sateen. All our Corsets are corded, double stitched, and have tipped steels and lock clasps, combined with our patent solid back spinal steels, through which the eyelets are riveted. For weak backs, spinal, kidney and liver troubles, rheumatism, and other weaknesses peculiar to women, our Corsets have no equal. A beautiful silvered compass with which to test their electro-magnetic power accompanies each Corset. OUR ELECTRIC INSOLES, price 50 cents per pair, should be worn together with our Corsets; astonishing results follow. Most of the above remarks apply equally to our Electric Belts for ladies and gentlemen. Price $3.00. (In ordering by mail, add 20 cents for postage.) State size of waist and mention this paper. Make all remittances payable to GEO. A. SCOTT, 842 Broadway, N. Y. Dr. Scott's Electric Hair Brushes, $1.00, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00.

ON TRIAL.

ELROY, WIS., November 7.

Dr. Scott—Your Electric Corset has done wonders for me. It has so improved my health that I am now able to attend personally to all my household duties. I am greatly encouraged. M. E. PENNOCK.

MERIDIAN, MISS., June 24.

Dr. Scott—Your Electric Corsets have given splendid satisfaction. One lady who suffered continually from indigestion, has been greatly benefited by wearing them, and has thrown all medicines aside. Mrs. J. H. BRADSHAW.

PITTSBURG, KANS., June 25.

Your Corsets have accomplished wonders in my case. I was, previously, thoroughly incapacitated and could not help myself. I have worn your Corsets now for two weeks, and I am able to be up and around, helping to do housework, etc. My friends are astonished. With many thanks, etc., JULIA J. MCFARLAND.

BELTON, MO., June 25.

Dr. Scott—Your Electric Corsets have cured me of a severe case of female weakness. I was confined to my bed for three months, and had given up all hope of ever getting well. Your Corsets have done more for me than all the doctors. I am now able to do my housework. Mrs. S. J. HARRIS, Wesox, O.

BALTIMORE, MD., Intense nervous debility has been my trouble for years. Physicians and their medicines did not help me. I finally derived great relief from Dr. Scott's Electric Belt. L. H. MILLER.

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cramp-Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," for the health of home and amusement of the little ones.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

WANTED AGENTS FOR OUR NEW AND FAST SELLING BOOK OF BOOKS

Entirely new and original. Fresh from the press; sparkling with choicest selections from over 1100 of the World's BEST AUTHORS. Elegantly Bound; and profusely Illustrated.

"WORDS THAT BURN, OR TRUTH & LIFE."

Nothing like it ever placed before the people. Already proven a brilliant success. Absolutely no mint to agents who are wide awake. Salary and commission paid to suitable canvassers. ☞ It will PAY YOU to investigate. Address nearest house to you. J. H. CHAMBERS & CO., Chicago, Ills., St. Louis, Mo., or Atlanta, Ga.

Guizot's CELEBRATED ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF France

REDUCED IN COST from $33.00 to $8.00, or comparing contents fairly, from $49.50 to $8.00, for the only other American edition of GUIZOT comes down. TO The French Revolution, only, and is continued to Napoleon III. by MARTIN, and $49.50 is the published price of the two works. THIS ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY EDITION covers from the earliest times to 1848, is written by M. GUIZOT, Prime Minister of France, and completed from his notes by his daughter, Madame GUIZOT DE WITT. It is published in 8 volumes, small octavo, printed from the type shown by these lines, contains the 426 Illustrations, mostly full-page, of the imported edition, is bound in tasteful Library style, dark green cloth, beveled boards, gilt tops. Price of the set, only $8.00 by express, or, sent prepaid for $9.60.

"There is only ONE DRAWBACK. . . it seems more like getting a present than making a purchase. GUIZOT is the most brilliant of French historians, as well as the most to be relied upon. He is the Macaulay of the history of France; his style and treatment are philosophical, didactic, rich in detail, dramatic in arrangement. His narrative is full of emotion, like a quick stream; his characters rise before us as in the flesh; they are men and women, not historic lay figures. It is as charming as any romance, and the interest is permanent. It is a work to keep and read and re-read for years."—Dominion Churchman, Toronto, Canada.

"In ENGLISH, at least, original or translated, we have NO WORK of French history that CAN APPROACH IT. We can name no work that gives the complete history, and gives it from the pen of a master, that can be thought of as a rival to the mammoth production of Guizot. How Mr. Alden can give the eight volumes, and this on good paper, and clear type, including the multitude of illustrations, is a thing we have CIPHERED over, but we fail to understand it. The first volume gives substantially the beginnings of French history. It is of necessity the dullest of the eight, yet with Guizot even logarithms would be readable."—Christian Leader, Boston, Mass.

"The MARVELOUS CHEAPNESS of these profusely illustrated and handsomely bound volumes must provoke comment everywhere. Each volume is easily worth $2.00, according to the standard of prices asked. This is the only complete American edition of this work, which is known as the best popular history of France."—Journal, Indianapolis, Ind.

"In the reproduction of this work the publisher has outdone all previous efforts, and has given us a MARVEL of EXCELLENCE, in every respect, at a marvel of cheapness."—Christian at Work, New York.

Hundred-Page Catalogue, free, descriptive of the best books of the world, at the lowest prices ever known, together with terms upon which books are sent for examination before payment, to any one on application. Address, and make checks, drafts, or money orders, payable to JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, P. O. Box, 1227. 393 Pearl Street, New York.

COUPON—50 CENTS.
This Coupon, together with $1.50 in cash, will be received, if sent within 10 days from the date of paper in which it appears (mention name of paper), in full payment for GUIZOT'S FRANCE above described. This small extra inducement is simply to secure your prompt response, and indicate the advertising medium from which response came.

HEADQUARTERS —FOR— Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with a without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a largeassortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 05 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94..... Camp Street, ...94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

Plantation Melodies —AND— REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great Tropical and Polar Explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Pict. Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
feb19 13t

J. T. Newman, M. D., —PRACTICING— Surgeon and Physician,

315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown,

51 Austerlitz Street,
NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS } From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m
marl9 3m

For the Cheapest and Choicest Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY,
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov23-1y

WANTED A WOMAN

of sense, energy and respectability for our business in her locality, middle-aged preferred. SALARY $35 to $50. References exchanged. GAY BROS., 14 Barclay St., N. Y.
marl0-3t

CHRISTIAN MEN and WOMEN are Wanted AS AGENTS

For the New and Revolving Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco $10 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Names & Co., 154 St Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended.
nov15-39t

A happy, joyous child'hood is assured by the use of Ridge's Food unless the system is full of disease inherited from the parent. Even in this condition nothing can be better. D. L. Milliken says "A niece of mine was taken from a consumptive mother's breast and put upon Ridge's Food exclusively. The healthful growth was remarkable, and in three months it was returned to its home a plump, rosy cheeked child." This was nine years ago, and the child lives 35o. and up. Sold by druggists.

AGENTS WANTED FOR OUR NEW BOOK. THE COMING CREED OF THE WORLD.

"A Voice Crying in the Wilderness," by Frederick Gerhard. All thinking people want it. Everybody reads and quotes it. There has been nothing like it before in the history of book making. Authors, Teachers, Students, Business Men, Clergymen, Laymen, Atheists, and Agnostics acknowledge it the great literary work of the century. See press notices everywhere. Issued in one octavo volume of 526 pages, with portrait of the author. Price $2.00. Trade edition in paper at $1.25, helps to create demand for the handsome subscription edition. A copy post-paid, on receipt of price. Outfit for agents $1.00. Liberal terms. Circulars for stamp. Address W. H. THOMPSON, 404 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

MADAME FOY'S CORSET AND Skirt Supporter.

Combines the most ELEGANT FITTING CORSET with a PERFECT SKIRT SUPPORTER and is one of the most popular and satisfactory corsets as regards HEALTH and COMFORT ever invented. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress.

For sale by all leading dealers. Price by mail $1.30. FOY, HARMON & CHADWICK, New Haven, Conn.
marl9 12teow

Send for Price List and Circular.
AUTOMATIC
"NO TENSION" SEWING MACHINE.
NOISELESS—LIGHTEST RUNNING.
Most Beautiful and Durable Work, AND DOES NOT INJURE HEALTH.
Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Broadway, N. Y.
nov6-16t eow

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment," "Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1yeow

25 YEARS IN THE POULTRY YARD.

16th Edition. 108 Pages, explaining the entire business. Gives symptoms and best remedies for all diseases. A 50-page Illustrated Catalogue. All for 25c. in stamps.
A. M. LANG.
Cove Dale, Lewis Co. Ky.
mar26 2t

Pianos & Organs Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn., Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

GATE CITY "Pure Water, Health, Life." "ONLY PERFECT FILTER."—Prof. T. Gray. "BEST FILTER IN THE WORLD."—T. M. Johnson, M. D. AVOID CHOLERA, MALARIA, TYPHOID FEVER, DIPTHERIA, by its use.

Stone Filter, Simplest, Cheapest, and BEST. "NO OTHER FILTER CAN BE COMPARED TO IT."—Medical Journal. McBRIDE & CO., Atlanta, Georgia. Send for Catalogue.
mar25-

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
apr2-52t

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 15. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, APRIL 9, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 804.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

32 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents.
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cas

Editorial Notes.

Thou Glorious of the sheep bestow
The graces which thy people so much need;
That we by works of charity may show
To all the world that we are thine indeed.
But if by one another's hands we bleed—
If brother in his brother cannot trust
How can the holy enterprise succeed?
The house against itself divided must Fall crashing to the earth, and crumble into dust.

"And it shall come to pass in that day that the Lord shall beat off from the channel unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O, ye children of Israel."

"Mr. Editor—The SOUTHWESTERN comes to our house regularly; and I think it is the best paper for our general use. The letters from the pastors, and other general information in the paper is just what we need. I will do all I can for your paper."—Robert Kent.

A collection of skulls from the Southern hemisphere has been studied in England, the most notable conclusion reached being that some of the races of South Africa, Australia and the southernmost part of South America are remarkable for the smallness of their heads.—Wesleyan Christian Advocate

Yes, and some of the people of North America for the emptiness of their heads.

It is said that over 500 teachers have gone out from Rust University, Holly Springs, Mississippi. Having sent so many out to mould public sentiment abroad, is it not high time that we were retaining more of the Negro graduates, the more rapidly to establish right relations between our colored schools, and our colored work at home.

The New York Times informs its readers, that Bishop Linus Parker, was for many years editor of the SOUTHWESTERN. This will be news to our pastors and patrons, and also to the patrons of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, from the editorial chair of which Bishop Parker was raised to the Episcopacy of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

A prominent gentleman said to us lately: "your Church has done a grand thing for its colored membership by giving them this paper. Their letters show that it encourages them quite a good deal." We think as he does. Now what we want is the ear of our administrators, and with the SOUTHWESTERN's knowledge of the wants of the Negroes and how to meet them, we believe that our membership can be doubled, while half the benevolent appropriation now applied to this can be devoted to other fields within the present quadrennium.

The Elective Course of Study.

PROF. WILBUR P THIRKIELD, E. D.

Third Paper.

Is for the present better adapted to the majority of the candidates of our Southern conferences. The Bishops recognize this to be just as true of the frontier conferences in the West. Educated men may be divided into three classes—the God taught, the school taught, and the self taught. The age of revelation is past, and we need no look for God-taught, inspired men. Collegiate training is denied most of our candidates. The majority of the present generation of our preachers here will feel the lack of systematic training in methods of study. Nearly all are of the self-taught; men who will have to depend on themselves, work under limitations, plod on in the dim light amid great discouragements. They have my sympathy, for them I plead. The conferences must have men. The work will not wait. Our colleges can't supply men fast enough. The Church calls them from the fields and shops. It's the Methodist way, and God has honored this plan. In the past our Church has wisely provided a course of study suited to this peculiar stage of the work. This was the case even as late as 1860. Now shall we make our candidates plod through some works that are so much Greek and Hebrew to them? Shall we overburden, discourage and crush them under too heavy a weight, when our bishops have wisely opened the way for helping them to growth and usefulness?

2. The elective course will lead to greater thoroughness in the preparation and examination of candidates. No excuse now for sham examinations. No more voting of men to orders because they are useful to the work, whom the conference knows have not carefully read the books, since they are beyond their powers. These are books that any man fitted to enter our conferences should thoroughly complete. It is true that the course is as broad as the other. It goes over the whole field of theology. It only puts it in simpler shape. Don't despise it on this account. Hard, scientific phraseology is not always a proof of learning. Big thoughts and broad learning may be put into small books, written in plain style. Bigness is no more proof of greatness in books than averdupois is in men. Now, this elective course is simply the regular course of study put in smaller books, and expressed in simpler language. For the cumbersome, scholastic, expensive volumes of Pope we have the cream of Watson, condensed and adapted in Wakefield's Theology. Instead of Harman's labored complex, "Introduction," knocking down with long-drawn-out arguments, the theories of German rationalists, most of which are now laid out for burial, and some of which are already in their graves; battling with infidel theories that our people will never hear of; instead of this we have the clear cut scholarly work of Dr. Nast. Several of the same books are in both courses.

3. This elective course is in harmony with the spirit of the times, for the tendency now is to leave the great, compendious works and come to smaller, simpler treatises. There is wisdom in this. Dean Stanley speaks of the danger of one undertaking so many and such difficult books at first as to overwhelm the student. Abraham Lincoln used to say that all he knew of history was gathered from the small histories written for children by Mr. Abbott. While many of our candidates cannot thoroughly complete the advanced course, they can be thorough in the elective course, and the man who has mastered a single good book, studied it till, like the atoms of iron it has passed into his blood and become a part of his mental fibre that man, by his very thoroughness, is on his way to power. Daniel Webster gives us the secret of his mental strength when he says: "Many other students read more than I did, and knew more than I did, but such as I read I made my own." Hobbes, the philosopher, once said that if he had read as many books as other men he should know as little; and Dr. Vincent, in a letter to the writer, affirms that "the curse of the time among the ministers is indefiniteness of view, lack of Bible knowledge, and thus a sad inaptitude to teach." One great book mastered, however simple and plain, is worth a dozen big books skimmed. The sense of mastery is an inspiration, and the very thoroughness gives courage.

4. Bear in mind that the object of the conference course is mental discipline, and not the mere accumulation of knowledge. To cram the contents of books that are beyond a man's present powers tends to mental glutting, and not to mental growth. Just as a college course is to train the mind for future study and research, so the conference course is meant to teach the methods of study and to give an outlook over the field of theology.

5. The adoption of this course is not permanent. It is a mere expedient for the time being. It can be changed by a vote of the conference any year. Its adoption does not debar any minister from the study of the broadest and profoundest course in theology. The man who quits study when his conference examinations are over, will soon be consigned to the obscurity he deserves, however hard or easy that course may be.

7. I defend the adoption of this elective course by any conference as a trial for the present only, as a firm and gradual step to higher things.

Let no one take this article as a plea for laziness, incompetency and ignorance in our ministry. I stand pledged by my position in our school of theology, for the highest and broadest theological training. I shall hail the day when the recommendation of our Bishops shall become the law of our conferences, and all of our candidates shall be required to take a collegiate and theological course of study. The force of circumstances is bringing this to pas in our older conferences. It has come about gradually. It is coming here. I am working to this end. But the state of our work, the poverty of our people, the urgent demands for men, do not admit of it now. In preparing for that day let us put in firm foundations and "make haste slowly."

Gammon School of Theology.

Needs of the Negro.—IV.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

The Negro raised crops and supported the Confederate armies until he was freed. Then he took up arms and fought to preserve the Union. President Garfield said that in no case during the great civil war did a colored man betray a Union soldier. The Rev. Dr. A. G. Hagood, President of Emory College, agent for the John F. Slater Fund, and one of the leading Southern minds, has made speeches, North, South, East and West, acknowledging the gratitude of the country to the Negro for clearing away the forests and building up the South. He says that the fairly good behavior of the Negro during the civil wa, rand in a state of freedom where his conditions have been onerous, the compensation for his labor poor, and his privileges curtailed at every point, attest his great forbearance. There are thousands of testimonies equally as good in our favor. While it is true that there are still sections of the country where the Negro is often killed without law or mercy, where he is punished for crimes without ever having been tried by judge or jury, where the chastity of his family is made the sport of the licentious of his own and other races, I am glad to note that these become fewer every year, and we are rising and progressing as no other people have ever done. Many of our race are making themselves felt, in letters, science and statesmanship, until our friends are compelled to look on in wonder and exclaim, "Behold, what hath God wrought!" Not because we have given up anywhere, but in the words of Frederick Douglass, the champion of freedom, and the greatest leader of the race, "it is not the height to which we have risen, but the depth from which we have come," that should stimulate us and cause us to work out our own destiny in fear and trembling, lest we fall short of that height destined for a race that has the history of the Negro race. We have many real and personal imperfections that must and will be given up. Race strife and prejudice against men of our own color are giving way and we are cultivating and practicing race pride as we become intelligent. One thing above all others we greatly need and that is to honor and respect our leaders and men who have through prejudice and great opposition risen in the professions and other callings to where they demand the recognition of all classes. We should be proud of our race and readily accept the advice of those who would do us good. Every war in this country, and instances where the Negro has been called upon to aid in putting down riots, have clearly demonstrated that we are patriotic, love the country and can be counseled and called upon in critical and perilous times to support the laws and uphold the constitution. It is also acknowledged now that we can originate, plan and execute.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Historical Notes of St. Paul M. E. Church, San Antonio, Texas.—No. 3.

MACK HENSON.

Our people obtained the use of the Rincon street colored school building until the meeting could no longer be continued there on account of complaint being made of meetings late at night, and some damage done to the property by shoutings of some of the young converts gathered in from meetings held in private houses. However, the pastor, and his invincible band rented Muench's hall 8 months at $6 per month; here they revived the Sunday-school which had been discontinued. Being few in number, and having to rent a house for their pastor to live in, the burden was too much to be borne any longer, so arrangements were made with the pastor and trustees of Mt. Zion, First Missionary Baptist Church. There we remained until our house had reached the state suited for occupancy; during this period, our people experienced all the inconveniences of those without a home. However, our people to this day, entertain kind feelings of gratitude to that pastor, and people, and have sympathized with them in all their family broils, and ramifications.

Allow me just here to make a correction, which my No. 2 letter enabled me to get, additional information regarding the church lot. The lot was conditionally ours, and a deed given by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Webster, an ex-union soldier, which property was gained by the African Methodist Episcopal Church and sold to Mr. R. Brooks, as the lot adjoined his home place. Our present site is about six hundred yards southwest from the old site, was purchased of Mr. George Freisleben for $225. In this hour of distress, the grand old Church Extension Society came to our relief and made us a donation of $500 and a loan of $1,000 at 6 per cent per annum, which so nerved our small band of heroes, that they were able very soon to raise by subscription $500, many of the white citizens of this city seeing our determination, after viewing both sides of a dark picture, aided us very liberally.

$500 more was unexpectedly demanded of our people, in settlement of a debt between Rev. T. T. Leach and due members of West Texas Conference, San Antonio district, from him, to said members, of missionary money, which he refused to pay unless the conference would take action in the matter of arranging with him for $500, due him of said congregation, to aid them by advancing $500, as he had given notice of his intention to withdraw. A committee consisting of Revs. C. L. Madison, M. Henson, and J. W. Robinson, to take such steps as would procure an amicable settlement of the matter. Dr. J. C. Hartzell was requested to act with this committee. Father Carper having been appointed here 1876, and as we, the committee were appointed to fields more distant from the the home of Dr. Leach, we agreed to leave the matter in his hands, and as the doors were about to be closed against the congregation, Bro. Carper and his board of trustees accepted a porposition made to them by Dr. Leach, that he would cancel his claim against the church, if they would assume the responsibility of the $500 of missionary money then due to preachers on his district, which was agreed to without the knowledge, or consent of the committee, until after the above arrangement had been made, and bargain closed. This relieved the committee of any further action, and they simply reported to the annual session, at Waco, in 1877. The conference was compelled to do, as the committee had done, accept. This whole affair greatly disturbed the peace of this church, discouraged and hindered the spiritual as well as the financial welfare of the work. In round numbers, from beginning to where we found the edifice in 1876, as near as can be ascertained it had cost them $5,500. At this conference was brought forward that vexed question of the color line, which was hotly debated pro and con; space will not allow the writer to consider this ill formed question here however, suffice to say, he stands now just where he stood then, in that debate. Couple this, with other facts above narrated, we came just as near losing a large proportion of our best members as could be; we really did lose some very good people, who visited, and listened to the argument. Let those who ask why St. Paul counts so few members to-day, read these facts, and consider that if the congregation were less human, we might have had a different result.

Our Brother in Black

REV. J. C. W. COXE, BROOKLYN, IOWA.

Fifth Poper.

That our brother in black is so bravely bearing his own burdens is his strongest plea for our aid. He has fought a gallant fight, he deserves reinforcement. And this he must have. This nation yet owes to the Freedman three things:

1. Security to person and property.

This is the inalienable right of every citizen. This our brother has been denied, to the shame of both local and general government. He has been the victim of the most shameful outrages, with rarely a hand or a voice lifted in his defense. His wages have been withheld; his property wrested from him by force or fraud; his life imperiled for the crime of citizenship; and many an unmarked grave witnesses to his martrydom for opinion's sake. With Madame Roland he may well say: "Oh, liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name!"

2. Unrestricted exercise of the rights of citizenship. Of these the royal one is that of franchise.

It is too late to question the wisdom of giving the ballot to the black man. He has it; he has it by the sovereign authority of the United States. Having it, he is entitled to its free use. The ballot means, not race nor color, but manhood. The rights of manhood must be vindicated in every State, and county, and precinct, and hamlet, if this nation is to live. A full and free ballot, without terrorism or compulsion, and an honest count of every freeman's will, is the only hope for the perpetutiy of the Republic.

3. More ample educational facilities. These are to day utterly inadequate to his need. That he has improved so rapidly with his scanty opportunities is amazing. A quarter of a century ago it was in many States a crime to teach him to read. Twenty years ago not a Southern State had a public school system. To-day several have but an inchoate system burdened with disabilities to the colored race. In Kentucky the races are permitted the advantages of public schools only in proportion to the taxes paid by each respectively. That unrighteous law practically shuts the school-house door to nearly one-half the population ten months in the year. The spirit of ante bellum opposition to negro education remains through large portions of the South. The national aid to the freedmen ceased years since. Private benevolence through various organized agencies has poured $1,000,000 annually into the South for educational purposes; but large as this sum is, it is but a rivulet to a Sahara. And this will not long continue.

—Mrs. R. L. Shaw, of New York, has bequeathed $50,000 to issue tracts to refute the arguments of Ingersoll on the Christian Religion.

From the Districts.

200,000 Members—Over Four Thousand Subscribers.

REV. GEO. W. RICHARDSON, SAN ANTONIO DISTRICT.

When Marshall W. Taylor D.D., was nominated in the General Conference, last May, for editor of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, I think it was Rev. Mack Henson, of San Antonio, Texas, who arose and said, "Mr. Chairman, in the name of 200,000 colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, I second that nomination." Everybody in the General Conference felt that there was something remarkable and appropriate in that way of putting it We felt that it was meeting a demand of 200,000 when we voted as we did. But were we mistaken? Look at the two sets of figures at the head of this article. We have nearly as many preachers—traveling and local—in our colored congregations as there are copies of the SOUTHWESTERN published. What of the laity? Do they not take the paper at all? In Texas I should think nine-tenths of the SOUTHWESTERNS go into families where the head of the family does not claim to be a preacher. If this is the case in other conferences then there must be a large majority of the ministers, either traveling or local, who do not take their own paper. I cannot think the failnre to take the SOUTHWESTERN is among the traveling preachers, for the enterprising editor has visited the conferences, and has reminded the committees on periodicals what their duties are. Is it possible that there are thonsands of local preachers who do not take any church paper? Of course a paper is not the only thing a local preacher ought to read. He ought to study the Bible so he will not quote some old saying and tell his congregation God said so. I heard a local preacher, not long since, tell the sinners they must not let the imperfections of Christions keep them from seeking religion for God has said that "every tub must stand on its own bottom." Those who tell what God says ought to know what He says, and they ought to read all the helps they can to understand what He says. I cannot understand how a man can properly represent God and his church without taking some kind of a church paper. I found a local preacher last November who did not know who Wm. Taylor was. Of course he knew nothing of the great movement of the church for the redemption of Africa. I need not say this man did not take the paper. If there is so great a failure among the local preachers and exhorters, what can we expect among Sunday-school superintendents, class leaders and stewards. Every class of official members will do their duty better by reading the paper. The short sketches of sermons will greatly help the 3000 or 400 local preachers and exhorters, and the articles on church polity will make all our official members more intelligent in matters pertaining to their own church. If all these will do their duty in subscribing for the SOUTHWESTERN the private members will soon wake up to the fact that they ought to make themselves and their children more intelligent. 220,000 members must represent at least 50,000 families. The SOUTHWESTERN ought to be in every one of these Methodist families. If we do our duty to ourselves we shall make the editor happy, by climbing toward these figures very rapidly.

West Texas Conference.

Huntsville District.

REV. EDWARD LEE, P. E.

The following figures will show that the Huntsville District made as favorable a report as any other district in the Texas Conference, according to membership: Houston District, full members, 2044; benevolent collections, $469.20. Huntsville District, full members, 1264; benevolent collections, $242. Marshall District, full members, 2693; benevolent collections, $269.80. Navasota District, full members, 2393; benevolent collections, $205.65; Palestine District, full members, 1394; benevolent collections, $71.95. From the conference of 1883 to 1884 there was an increase on the Huntsville District of 36 full members and 105 probationers. The district raised for benevolent purposes in 1883 $128, and in 1884 $242. We worked up five new counties, and ministers were appointed to them at the last conference.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. B. F. Smith, Dallas, Texas, writes: "I was at my work on the third Sunday in December, and found the people awaiting my arrival, though the weather was very unpleasant, there were a good number present, who greeted me with pleasant smiles and happy faces, which seemed to welcome me in their midst. I made all necessary arrangements to move, on the 23d of January I was able to move my family on the work. The people have spared no pains in trying to make me comfortable and happy; with these good things done and said, I enter upon my work with new energy. We have arranged a plan to build a new parsonage, and will commence in a short time. I found the Church in a very good condition spiritually. On the 3d inst. we were taken by surprise and were aroused from our repose by a large crowd gathered aronnd the parsonage, bearing the name, storm party, and a storm party they were; the silence of the night was broken by a number of voices vibrating the well known hymn, 'On Jordan's stormy banks I stand.' Which was sweet to hear. Then another well known hymn: 'I have reached the land of corn and wine.' I then opened the door, and to my surprise the house was filled with ladies and gentlemen who piled our table up with many valnable presents, in the line of groceries of all description. The writer, then, addressed them in a few appropriate remarks, and invoked God's blessing upon them; they then went quietly to their different homes, leaving myself and family happy and more hopeful. Pray that we may have a great ingathering of souls for the Master."

Rev. W. A. Payne, Liberty, Miss., writes: "I am going to try to build a church and parsonage here, and am doing all I can to build up the cause of Christ."

Rev. B. Bolden, writes: "I reached my appointment safe, and was received with the greatest kindness by the people. They all say they are glad I was sent here. They never were better pleased since the church has been built. We will have a revival soon."

Rev. P. P. Harris, pastor, Yazoo City circuit, Miss., writes: "On account of the sickness of the Rev. H. R. Revels, our quarterly conference was held by Rev. P. P. Harris, on Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. Jan. 24th, 1885. The weather being very cold there were not many out but everything passed off pleasantly. The number received in full membership, 13; on probation, 1; accessions, 2; conversions, 22; this quarter. All joined our church but one. At 12 o'clock on Saturday we had a love-feast; at 2:30 p. m., Rev. P. P. Harris preached to a congregation of about 50, and administered the Lord's supper to 42. We paid the elder $6.15; pastor, $86.10; for Church property, $54.05. The trustees' reports show a total amount raised for church property, $231.45 last year. This is our fourth and last quarterly conference this conference year. I now leave for the Annual Conference."

Rev. Abner Thomas, Burleson county, Texas, writes: "We have not been able to do much on account of bad weather. The people have almost got out of heart on account of the disappointment of the presiding elder, who has failed to meet his appointment here and we have had no quarter here this year. The people want to see the presiding elder, some of them have never seen him, but I do all I can to encourage them by telling them that the presiding elder will come. We are beginning to make some spiritual progress since the weather has moderated but financially almost nothing. I don't know what the preachers are going to do, I have had to rent land and go to farming for my living; we have had a great deal of sickness this winter, and a good many have died."

Rev. J. G. T., Watson mission, Red Fork, Ark., writes: "I found four old fashioned Methodist here, who readily responded to my call. I have received 36 into full membership and 10 probationers. We have had 44 conversions; the whole number received during the year, including the old members, who came in with us is 56. Rev. G. B. Donnelly, presiding elder, Hot Springs district was to have held my fourth quarterly conference on Saturday before the third Sunday, in Jan., but as he came down on the boat the watchman failed to notify him at the proper landing, Red Fork, and he was taken to the month of the Arkansas river where he had to wait until the following Wednesday, the 21st, when he took the steamer for this place. We adjourned the quarterly conference to be called when he came; he arrived here on Thursday and the quarterly conference was held on Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m., when the business was dispaached. The presiding elder received a hearty welcome and was highly appreciated by all who met or heard him. He preached at this place, Pea Ridge, Watson, and Red Fork, five sermons in all, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather his congregations were large and attentive."

Rev. George W. Ziegler, Greencastle, Ind., writes: "I was appointed here as pastor of the church 3 years ago at Louisville, by Bishop Foster in the spring of 1882. After the conference I entered on my new field of labor; in the fall of same year I was examined and entered then the Asbury University, now DePanw, the first colored student ever entered her halls among 700 white students. I have tried to be a close student having one object in view, and that is to be able to preach God's word intelligently. During stay here in College I have been under some of the ablest professors in this country. The church here which has been entrusted in my hands has made some progress; where I found only about 20 members, we now have 54. The colored population here is abont 200. I regret very much to sever my connection with the college here, as I will not be able to continne from the fact I have been here as pastor for three consecutive years."

Rev. J. Campbell, of Meridian, Mississippi, writes: "Last night our church here was crowded with anxions people to listen to a lecture on temperance, delivered by Rev. Geo. M. Meade, of the Northern New York Conference. We must say that it was the grandest thing we have ever been permitted to hear on that all important subject. Mr. Meade lectnred yesterday afternoon in the Methodist Episcopal Church Sonth to a large and audience, many of whom, including the pastor, were present last night to hear the pastor again. This is Mr. Meade's second visit to our city, and his lectures are highly spoken of. He leaves this evening for Birmingham, Ala., where he is to speak. He has the best wishes of the people here."

Rev. B. H. S. Ferguson, of Pontotoc, Miss., writes: "I arrived at my work soon after the annual conference. After visiting relatives and friends in Columbus, I started for Pontotoc, and I am proud to say I found the people in a propitious attitude. General satisfaction seems to prevail with us here, and we have met with a cordial and hospitable people ever since our arrival, both among our white friends as well as our colored; and to our delight good has began already. The loving instructions of our last annual conference, given by our beloved Bishop Mallalien, are yet deeply impressed upon our hearts and minds, and with renewed resolutions, and God for our counselor we intend to do more for Christ and the cause than ever before. The stewarhs, Bros. D. Bradford and Milton Wright, have secnred a suitable residence for a parsonage, and the sisters have succeded in furnishing it with snch nice things as are needed to make home comfortable. On Friday night and Saturday, to our surprise, the ladies, with Sisteas A. Bradford, S. Wright, S. Bradford and S. Smith as managers, went forward and snpplied the pantry by having a "ponnd gethering," which resulted in much good. The following are among the contributors to the cause: C. L. Parris, $1; Eli Hodge $1; J. Hide; 50cts; H. Overton, 25cts; Wesley Barr, 25cts; H. Renan, 25cts; Evans Woodard, 50cts; E. Grant, 10cts; Willie Miller, 10cts; Robert Slack, 10cts; P. Bradford jr., 10cts; Belle Hodges, 25cts; T. Carr, 25cts; Lizzie Carr, 10cts; Anna Carr, 10cts; Francis Wilson, 10cts; Ellen Wilson, 30cts; Mary Coleman, 35cts; M. Wilson, 25cts Wm. Hereford, 10cts; Geo. Belle, 10cts; S. Wilder, 5lb M. Wilder, 11b; R. Bolton and Wm. Bell, 21bs; W. Renan, 24lbs; M. Wright; 12½lbs; C. Martin, 25cts; B. Ingraham, 10lbs; M. Bradford, 25lbs; Emma Crowder, 10lbs; Bells Penson, 10cts; M. Walker, 25lbs; R. Montgomery and P. Gilmore, 50lbs; H. Woodard, 10lbs, and others. Dear brethren I will just state here: I tell you they understand business. We are in a strange place but we find that we are neither lost nor alone, God is here, Christians are here, and the cause of Methodism is going on, and ere long we feel that—well we can say with the Psalmist, with full assurance: "In the name of our God, will we set up our banners." Brethren we need your fervent prayers for our success in Zion."

Rev. J. H. Pierre, Allen, La., writes: "I reached my work February 4th, and was warmly received by the people. My first work was to save souls for Christ; over 25 desired to be prayed for. I am now hard at work in protracted effort, and we are having a grand time in the piney woods at Hason Chapel; here we found the membership 71, and at Union Chapel 25, and at Marthaville, and Mt. Mariahs Chapel 15, at St Panls Church, 5. I have preached at every point and glad to say I met a good class of officers."

Rev. E. M. Manson, Brownsville charge, Tenn., writes: "We had a grand and happy time on the first of the year at a watch meeting. The new year bell, with its presents on for the audience was arranged by Mrs. C. Carroll, and I then followed with a sermon on "Spiritual gifts." After the sermon, all of the congregation obtained something, they went home, thinking of the "spiritnal gift," and the "temporal gift." Then on the 12 of January, 1885, was the birthday of the pastor and Mrs. Mattie Manson, Sister Katie Smith, Louiza Hay and others gave a fine entertainment in Keys Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, for their pastor and his many friends, which was enjoyed by all; each one made little speeches, expressing their joy in being participants. The young people of our town, a few of them, collected togather at my house on the 11th of Feb. to amuse themselves first socially, and next in a little banquet. They acted so nice until wife and I want them to come again with a little more in the basket."

Alexander Posey, Louisville, Ky., writes: "We are getting along in our Church as well as one might expect. Our church spiritually seems to be alive, but financiaally is not doing so well which is owing to the panic of a hard winter. Our protracted meeting has been in progress for 4 weeks up to last Monday night. We have had 12 to join up to that date. Rev. James Perrin, has been giving his service during our meeting. There seems to be an extraordinary good feeling existing in our church, and has been during our meeting, but the outside part of the congregation seem to be undisturbed; yet we have a good attendance every night."

Rev. Lee Reed, Luling, Texas, writes: "I am stationed here for the second year. I entered on the work this year to do more than I ever did before, although I am in poor health. The management of the new church is on me with all other pastoral labor, and having some opposers I have thonght it best to give up, but the Lord has strengthened me in the work, and now we are moving on nicely. My first quarterly conference convened last Saturday and Sunday (14 15); all the brethren but one or two were present, had a good time. Adopted the disciplinary plan for raising money, (which is quarterly). On Sunday the wind was blowing very fierce from the North, which made our congregation small in the morning, but in the evening we had a splendid crowd out, and the elder preached to them. $81.05 was raised which was for the new church, on the whole we had a good time. We raised nearly $100 during the day, for presiding elder and all. The pastor's reports will show this quarter 15 expelled from the church; 9 received by letter; one backslider reclaimed; preached 15 times; prayed with families 35. We must have our house done by the next quarter, I have not obtianed as may subscribers for the SOUTHWESTERN as I wanted to, but the people are so pushed, and times so hard, I hated to say too much to them about money for fear they would go back on the church. Pray for us."

Letters From the Laity.

Sallis Reeveis, writes: "Since our new pastor came to us he has made an attempt to gather the Church together, but the weather has been so very bad that it has been impossible to meet very often, yet he has made a fair start, and we believe he is the right man. We are doing what we can to make our Woman's Home Missionary Society a power in Clarksville. We are going to celebrate the anniversary of its organization at Paris, Texas, on the 28th of February. Sister Cole is the organizer of the Society."

S. G. Thomas, Esq., Springfield, Ohio, writes: "I have been taking the SOUTHWESTERN the past year, and like it so much, I felt that I could not do without it this year; I have learned a great many things from it, about the great responsibility of the ministers, elders, and Bishops. My heart wept when I read of the death of Bishop Wiley. though I had never seen his face or heard his voice, I knew he was a faithful worker in the Holy Cause, and again I am rejoiced to say that the chapel which bears his name at this place is making fine progress. The Rev. H. W. Tate, the pastor is a worthy minister, and very watchful of his members. He has an intelligent wife, and a happy little family. He is much liked by the people, and we hope to have him back again. Our Sunday-school is progressing finely and the little ones are improving."

A. J. Houston, Esq, and other members at Roseneath, Miss., writes "Resolved, that we, the members of said circuit, do highly appreciate the wise counsel and administration of our preacher, Rev. E. Collins, and we believe him to be a Christian minister; we feel we have been benefited by his zealous labors among our people. Therefore be it resolved, that the Roseneath circuit has been greatly built up during the year of 1884, therefore we will be glad to have Bro. Collins back with us again. We earnestly hope that the conference will send him back. The Rev. E. Collins is a preacher that any church may be glad to have. He is a preacher that loves the Doctrine and Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

Our Brother in Black.

REV. J. C. W. COXE, BROOKLYN, IOWA.

Fourth Paper.

He is prosperous. He who contributed so largely to the prosperity of the country when in bondage has contributed more largely as a freeman. In ante-war times the cotton product of the slave states was abont 3,000,000 bales; it is now with free labor, 7,000,000 bales. This fact refutes the aspersion of those who talk of the indolence of the negro. He who made this prosperity shares it. He has been wronged by government, cheated by white knaves; defrauded of his wages, deprived of hard-earned property under forms of law; been made a foot-ball of circumstances to an extent paralelled by no other save the red race; yet, in spite of all his experience, his ignorance, the avarice of his former master, and the want of legal protection to person and property, he has prospered. In Lonsianna he owns $15,000.000 of property; ig Georgia, $10,000,000; in the entire Sonth not less than $100,000,000. This may seem little for 7,000,000 of people—but $14,00 each—but it is a beginning which has in it measureless possibilities. It proves self respect; it proves industry and frugality; it proves a rare degree of heroism on the part of a hitherto servile race, that in spite of all disadvantages, it leads the Sonth in the increase of wealth.

During the decade from 1870 to 1880 there was a decrease of valuation of taxable property in every Southern State save North Carolina, Georga, and Texas. That decrease for the decade amounted to upward of $200,000,000 [$202.868,844] The increase of valuation in the three States named was a little over $200,000,000 [$208,606,146]; so that the remaining States decreased in valnation over $400,000,000 ($411,479,990). In other words, of the two races at the South, the one, with all the advantages of centuries of culture and prestige, has allowed its property to depreciate in value in a decade to the extent of over $200,000,000, and in two decades—from 1860—to he extent of over $2,000,000,000 [$2,493,017,366]; the other, commencing with unfurnished head and empty hands, has added $100,000,000 to the nation's wealth. For every two dollars which the improvident white has squandered his ebony brother has saved one dollar. Who shall say that the sable son has not prospered? All this the more urgently enforces our duty.

Ought Not to be Repeated.

REV. D. W. HAYS.

Whenever it becomes necessary to print business advertisements with our conference minutes, great care should be taken to prevent the insertion of any that may be found objectionable. It seems that for some reason this was overlooked, in a single instance at least, in the publication of the minutes of the East Tennessee Conference for last year. Among the advertisements, a score of which appear, accompanied with the secretaries' recommendation, there is one from a house engaged in supplying Sunday school literature. I need not mention any name in this connection. It will suffice to state that my knowledge of said house and of the methods employed to foist its merchandise upon our Sunday-schools compels me to enter my protest against recommending it to the patronage of our people through such a medium. This is not the time for us to use our influence in the interest of those who would impair the efficiency of our system by substituting a cheap, and a very inferior literature obtained from an unofficial source for the pure, hightoned and healthful publications fresh from our own denominational press.

Should any of our schools see the advertisement in question and be led by it to turn away from our excellent lesson helps, the publication of our minutes will not prove an unmixed good. Bnt I hope none will be caught off their guard so as to allow snch a thing to happen. For Methodist homes, churches and schools, we want only the best literature; and this can be obtained nowhere but from our own Methodist Book Concern either at 805 Broadway, New York, or at 190 West Fourth streets, Cincinnati, and, at their several deposi tories. A proper regard for our best welfare in the future clearly suggests to my mind that such advertisements, however imperative the need of funds to bring ont the minutes, ought not to be repeated. I close by expressing the wish that no person will take offense at aught I have written above.

Knoxville, Tenn.

Wendell Phillips—III.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS.

In 1837, Mr. Phillips made the first great effort of his life. The meeting was held in Fanenil Hall, called by the citizens of Boston, to express their sorrow and indignation at the murder of Elijah P. Lovejoy, one of the first martyrs who lost his life, at Alton, Illinois, in the defense of civil and religions liberty for the poor, down-trodden American slave.

Lovejoy was a native of New England, and his many friends deeply deplored his untimely death.

The Boston meeting was attended by many persons, who did not sympathize with the anti slavery men or the doctrine of the abolition of slavery and by many others who were lukewarm in their support of ant-slavery principles.

It is a matter of history had it not been for Mr. Phillips the meeting would have ended in a few commonplace resolutions, guided by the crafty leadership of those opposed to the abolition of American slavery.

The friends of the anti-slavery cause met with the most determined opposition from the pro-slavery element of obtaining Fanenil Hall, and they finally succeeded.

Several men had spoken when the Attourney General for the commonwealth of Massachusetts arose and made the most violent, vindictive and bitter speech, defending the Alton assassins, and went so far as say that Mr. Lovejoy came to his death by his own imprudence, and that the sentiments of the paper of which he was the editor, should be suppressed, the one by fire, and the other by the halter.

Wendell Phillips aided by the Providence of God, gained the floor and by his matchless taotics, wrested it from Gen'l. Austin, who seemed to be the giant of the meeting.

At the ouset the audience had been indisposed to hear Mr. Phillips, and there were many decidedly opposed to his being allowed to speak under any consideration, but when he had once begun, they sat transfixed and charmed by the magic of his eloquence.

He ponred forth for an honr and a half one of the most sublime beantifnl and pathetic appeals for the Freedom of the Negro, and then drew a paralel between General Warren at Bunker Hill, and Lovejoy at Alton, Illinois. When he sat down, the vast andience broke forth into a storm of long and continued cheers.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every State should regulate the sale and nse of the many poisons resorted to by women in their desperation to obtain a beautiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injuring health or endangering life.

"The Cotter's Saturday Night."

Burns' "Cotter's Saturday Night," and other poems, price only Two Cents, Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," Two Cents, Rawlinson's "Seven Great Monarchies" reduced from $18 to $3, and other such characteristic victories of the Literary Revolution cause a prominent literary critic to exclaim, "What is the world coming to? The poor man is on an equality with the richest, as far as books are concerned." Mr. Alden's advertisements are always interesting reading, and lovers of good books will note one in our columns elsewhere with pleasure.

Our Dead.

A memorial exercise of Mr. C. L. Brinson and Misses Dora L. Morton and Jennie P. White was held in the chapel on Friday night the 16th inst. The above named were devoted students of old Clark for some time; and while with us, gained the respect of both teachers and students. In the early morn of their lives, while struggling for knowledge with, as it were, excelsior written on their banners, the Angel of Death bore them from us. However, pleasant remmiscences of them will not soon fade from the minds of us, here at Clark, who are left to battle with life. The exercises in memory of these students were given by the Literary Societies, and were very impressive.

After the reading of the 14th chapter of Job and prayer by Mr. S. P. Crow, the exercises began with "A sketch of the Early Life of Mr. C. L. Brinson," by Mr. D. V. Norwood. The next was his "School Life" by Mr. S. Cnmmingham, followed with the "Life of Dora L. Morton" by Miss S. A. Harper. A recitation by Miss Martha T. Cash. "The Missing Ones" by Miss R. V. Price, and a poem, "The Dead" by Mr. E. S. Cottin, interspersed with music, added much interest to the occasion. Mr. S. E. Moses delivered an address in which he mentioned all of Clark's dead. A song, "Where Jesus is" by the male qnartette closed the solemn exercises in memory of our dead.

Friend after friend departs
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end.

A LISTENER.

—The Elevator, of Clark University, Atlanta, Georgia.

Death of Prof. Wiley Lane.

Prof Wiley Lane died Saturday, 14th inst, at Howard University. He was born Nov. 22 1852, in Elizabeth City N. C. Having completed the studies in the school established at Elizabeth City, he came to Washington and entered Howard University, from the college department of which institution he was gradnated in 1877 with the first honors of his class He entered Amherst College in the fall of 1877; attained high rank as a student, and was graduated in 1879. Shortly after he was appointed assistant teacher in the normal department of Howard University, but was soon promoted to princspalship of the department. In the year 1883 was elected to the chair of the Greek language and literature, which positson he ably filled np to the time of his death. In his demise Howard University has lost an able and conscious professor. and the Negro race one of its most promising and worthy representatives.

John F. Quarles.

John F. Qaurles, the well known colored lawyer and Republican politician, died at his home in Flushing, Long Island, after a brief illness, of acute pneumonia. He was born a slave near Atlanta, Ga., and was the son of a Negro preacher. He was a remarkably bright boy, and for that reason became a favorite with his master. His rudimentary ednoation was obtained in Georgia, and afterward, through the influence of Charles Snmner, he gained admission to Washington College, Pennsylvania, from which he was graduated at the head of his class. Subscquently he went to Washington, D. C., and began the study of law in Charles Snmner's office, and was in due time admitted to practice. In 1870 Mr. Qnarles was appointed by President Grant, U. S. consul at Port Mahone, on the Coast of Spain, and afterward, at his own request, he was transferred by President Hayes to Malaga, a more important post. While at Port Mahone he married Marie Jacqneminot, daughter of the French Consul there, and grand daughter of Napoleon's General of that name. He resigned his Consulship and returned to this country in the Spring of 1880, and was shortly after admitted to the Bar of this city on the application of Algernon S. Sullivan, who said at the time that he was the first colored man to attain that distinction.

Qnarles entered at once into politics and entered the Republican Convention at Chicago, which nominated Garfield. He opposed Garfield, and strove to combine the colored delegates from the South in support of Blaine. He however snpported Garfield after his nomination, and on his election retired to Flushing and commenced the practice of law, having an office in this city. Secretary Sherman, in 1882 appointed him Special Commissioner to visit the United States Consulates on the coast of Spain, and he peformed the services satisfactorily. In the last Presidential campaign he was again active on the Repnclican side. He attended the convention at Chicago and worked heartily in the interest of Mr. Blaine. He took an active part in the campaign which followed, and was very mnch depressed by the result. During the recent Senatorial contest at Albany he went to that city and worked strenuously in the interests of Mr. Evarts.

Mr. Quarles succeeded in building np a considerable law practice, and winning very general respect among the members of his profession. Among the noted criminals whom he defended were William Leighton, the mulatto who killed his mistress in this city about two years ago, and the Negro Rugg, who murdered the Maybee women at Oyster Bay, Long Island. He had taken Rugg's case to the Court of Appeals and was to argue it before that tribunal in the coming week. He was also counsel for Cadet Whittaker, of West Point fame. He possessed one of the largest and most valnable law libraries on Long Island. It is probable that his body will be embalmed and sent to Atlanta. The Qneens County Bar Association, of which he was a member, will take suitable action concerning his death.—N. Y. Times.

The M. E. Church.

The New Chautauqua Idea.

The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific circle is now recognized among the most important educational movements of the times. It is a home school and college, counting its pupils in every English-speaking nation in the world, and having a roll-call of over 80,000 past and present members. Its plan of work is to provide for its members a course of home reading and study that shall inolnde enough of history, literature, and science to give at least an insight into the higher education of our colleges, to indnce habits of study, to create in the home the atmosphere of nniversities, to help those who for any reason have not been able to get a college education. It has also a special course of reading and study for young people who, nnable to attend the high schools still wish to know what high-school education means, and who wish to supplement the common school studies with something better.

So snccessful has been this system of home study that many attempts have been made in the same direction by the formation of reading circles, literary societies, and associations for the study of natnre. Among the most important of these is the Agassiz Association of Young People for the Study of Natural History, now nnmbering over 7,000 members. The Agassiz Association confines its attention strictly to the study and observation of natnre, and the Chautauqna Literary and Scientific Circle has hitherto onlyconsidered pure science. The whole range of arts, the art industries, argricnlture and mannfactnre, have, so far, been left untouched. There have been no attempts nntil now to form circles or associations for the home study of the industries. This nnoccnpied field of education the Chautanqna Circle now proposes to enter. The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle recognizing the demand for industrial education, recognizing the nnfortunate drift of so many young people into our overcrowded cities, and desiring to help yonng people to see the charm of conntry life, to learn the valne of ontdoor observation and study, and desiring to open fields of useful work, has decided to add to its great school a branch or annex devoted to the study of the leading indnstry of the country—agriculture.

The new Chautauqua idea includes a home garden for town and conntry, a course of reading for winter evenings, and a first-class farm that will be the headqnarters of the new school. The new circle is to be called the Chautanqua Town and Conntry Clnb, and is for any one and every one who cares to know something, to be something, and to do something. Any yonng person, boy or girl, who can read can join the Circle at any time in the year. There will be no entrance examinatien, no requirements whatever except a willingness to take np one or more of the Circle's easy and entertaining labors, to read its few books, and pay its yearly fee of twenty-five cents for two years.

The novel featnre of the C. T. C. C. is the programme of work. Every young person who joins this town and country clnb will be expected to do something on the farm, in the garden, the greenhonse, the window garden, fish pond, kennel, the poultry yard, bird honse, barn or dairy or home. The pupils will be given a list of things to do, from which, whether he or she lives in town or country, is at home or in school, at work or at play, each will select the most convenient and pleasant. Each will faithfully carry out the work selected nnder instructions from the headqnarters, and will send in a report of the work. There will also be an examination of the reading, and at the end of the second year every one who has passed the examination, read the books, and performed each year one of the works will be entitled to a diploma as a graduate of the C. T. C. C.

This novel home school, or town and country club, will be nnder the direct management of the Chautanqua Literary and Scientific Circle, and will be a part of that institntion, under the direction of its officers. The general course of instructions will be, as now, nnder the supervision of Dr. J. H. Vincent, D. D., and the business office of the C. T. C. C. will be at Plainfield, N. J. The headquarters of the new Circle will be at Houghton Farm, Mountainville, Orange County, N. Y. At this well-known farm and experiment station all the work designed for the members of the C. T. C. C. will be actnally carried on each year. All the reports will be sent to the farm, and every member will be entitled to visit the place and see the C. T. C. C. work going on and to write for information or advice in regard to their work, study, or reading. The course of reading, programme of work, bureau of information, and general control of the C. T. C. C. will be nnder the management of Mr. Charles Barnard, for many years a practical florist, and well known as a writer for children and as a contributor to "St. Nicholas" the "Century" and other magazines.

The new Circle is now fully organized, and will be ready for work in a few days. For particnlars, address Miss K. F. Kimball, Plainfield, N. J.

Advices from North Africa state that great excitement prevails at Tripoli and Bengazi over the designs of Italy. Several sheiks and other officials have arrested Italians who were making large purchases of land.

Vitality of Great Men

Is not always inate or born with them, but many instances are known where it has been acquired by the persistent and judicious use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR—Please allow me to inquire for my father, through the columns of your paper. He lived in Pontotoc, Miss., and belonged to a man named Algood. My mother's name was Sarah; she belonged to a Mrs. Morrow. I had three brothers: Manuel, Henry and William. In 1883 I was living at Lafayette Springs, and left with my owner. I had three nncles, Sye, Willis and Jeff. Please address any information to Wm. Eckter, Alpha, Miss.

I would like to find my brother and sister, who were born in Livingston connty, Kentncky. My brother's name is Abraham Berry and sister's name was Delicy Berry. The last account I had of them they were in Coahoma county, Miss. Any information concerning them may be sent to Anna Berry, care of Baptist Church, Hot Springs, Ark

We have received the following inqniry from F. G. Gilbert, Bagwell, Texas: "I would like to find my people if possible. I lived in Lonisville, Ky., when I was abont 6 years old, with my mother and her other four children. Jnst before the proclamation of freedom we were sold to a trader by the name of Ben. Gilbert. Our former master's name was Geo. S. Miller; he was a merchant in Louisville, Ky., at that time. I had two brothers and two sisters. One of my brothers died before we were carried away. My mother was named Eliza Miller, but she is now named Eliza Baker. My mother's parents were named Hannah and Doc Hall. Hannah belonged to a man named Hall. Doo was a free man. Mother left my two sisters, Sarah Jane and Rosa Miller, in Lonisville with George Miller. My mother's people lived in Bullit county, Ky., near Mt. Washington. She had five sisters and four brothers. Her sisters were named Julia, Margaret, Sallie, Susan and Caroline. The first four belonged to Hall. Caroline belonged to a man named Wheeler. The brothers were namad Henry, Robert, Clifton and Garland. Robert lived with his father, Doc Hall. My name, at that time, was Joseph Henry Miller, but I have since changed my name to Felix Gilbert. Any information concerning them will reach me if addressed to Felix G. Gilbert, Bagwell, Texas.

Card of Thanks.

Rev. M. W. Taylor, Editor of the SOUTHWESTERN—Dear Sir: I am happy to make the acknowledgment to your valuable paper of my success in finding the whereabouts of my relative, Mr. Wm. Page, for which I thank you, and I take great pleasnre in recommending the SOUTHWESTERN to every one, as I think it is a paper that should be in every home, and I will do all I can to get it in circulation in this part of the Dominion of Canada.

Respectfnlly yours,
MRS. M. P. MCSPADDEN.
Chatham, Ontario.

Peter Page, born and raised in Louisville, Ky. Father's name was Peter Page; mother's name was Maria Page; used to belong to Throckmorton, in Lonisville, who kept the Galt House, has a brother and sister, whose names are William and Mary. The rest of the brothers and sisters are dead. William is living at Rosedale, Iberville parish, La. Mary lives there also.

[All his relations were found by the help of this paper.]

Healthful Vigor for the Girls.

Mrs. Livermore says, in one of her lectures on Girls, "I would give to girls equal intellectual and industrial training with boys. Yes, and give them equally good health, too." When your girls are suffering from paleness and debility, it is a sign that their blood is poor and thin, and that they need Brown's Iron Bitters. The only preparation of iron that can be taken safely. Miss Barton, Chestnut st., Louisville, Ky., says, "Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of rheumatism when everything else had failed.

Symposium of the Weeklies.

We remember the heats and passions and passionate griefs of youth that only developed wisdom and judgment in proportion as we listened to their teachings and submitted to their influence.—Central.

Have those who deny immortality, and ridicule the hope of it as a motive, anything to offer in their stead?—The Northern.

Every father by Divine appointment, is the prophet, priest and king of his own household. The duties of these offices are imperative, and cannot be neglected or relegated. He is to instruct, counsel, control and direct his children. They cannot be allowed to command their own actions without hurt to themselves, sorrow to the parent and a violation of the law of God.—N. O. Christian Advocate.

It is a great advantage to a yonng man to be associated in his work with one of age and experience, who will care for him, assist him in his studies, counsel with him in regard to his work, encourage him, and if need be, correct him in regard to any improprieties into which he may happen to fall, and render to him all possible assistance in his work.—St Louis Christian Advocate.

Now, it is the testimony of those who have studied the character of Jesus of Nazareth most diligently and most intelligently, that the more truly he is understood the more does this fact of university of his humanity appear.—Interior.

Men are to be exhorted and warned not to trust in the feeling of pious emotions, bnt to seek in themselves righteous deeds. Something of Puritan austerity would not hurt our easy-going age.—Illustrated Chicago Weekly.

Ladies find HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY invaluable to them because it relieves them of much of the pain and suffering which they are called upon to bear. Thonsands of them bless the day when they first tried it.

The Chinese have massed 85,000 men at Pei Ho, under Li Hung Chang, and notified the French that they will attack them. Admiral Conrbet, of the fleet, is ill and disheartened, and it is thought will have to abandon the blockade at Formosa.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

WILL CURE

HEADACHE INDIGESTION BILIOUSNESS
DYSPEPSIA NERVOUS PROSTRATION MALARIA CHILLS AND FEVERS
TIRED FEELING
GENERAL DEBILITY
PAIN IN THE BACK & SIDES
IMPURE BLOOD
CONSTIPATION
FEMALE INFIRMITIES RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA
KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed Red Lines on wrapper.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Established 1857.

The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, softest cheapest & Best light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A Liberal discount to churches and the trade. Don't be deceived by cheap imitations.

I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl St., N. Y.

aug28-20t eow

BARNES'

Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business, Lathes for Wood or Metal, Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.

No. 187 W. F. & JOHN BARNES, Ruby St. Rockford, Ill.

JEWETT'S

BEWARE! OF IMPURE WATER

Jewett's Patent Filters with filling of prepared charcoal, render water clear, pure, and healthful, for drinking and cooking purposes. These filters have stood the test of one-third of a century, and have a world-wide reputation as the one only reliable filter.

A 16-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y.

FILTERS.

feb19 3t

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1885.

Methodism at Work.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK IN NEW ORLEANS.

Beginning with Sunday, March 22, Sunday-school week commenced in New Orleans. An elaborate programme by Bishop Mallalieu announced the inauguration of this work on that date in the three German churches under his own direction.

Later on he expected the presence and aid of Rev. A. H. Gillett agent of Sunday-school Union for the South and West. The outlook is indicative of good work for Methodism in the Crescent City through this instrumentality.

We were not permitted however to remain and participate in this good work beyond the first day, the evening of which we gave to the service of Union Chapel in a successful effort to raise the interest on their Church Extension debt.

EDITORIAL PERAMBULATIONS.

Our conference drawing near demands that we turn our face toward the North. Therefore, Tuesday morning, March 24, finds us seated in one of the palatial coaches of the great Southern railway bound for Nashville. This line of rail seems to be deservedly popular with that part of the traveling public, who in their annual peregrination with the sun, desire to observe as much as possible of the South from a railway coach.

This is the only line running out of the city by which travelers can make the trip to Cincinnati or the Atlantic by keeping steadily to the Northeast by South all the journey never crossing the Mississippi and crossing the Ohio only once, then on a splendid and most substantial stone and iron bridge at Cincinnati

The general officers of this system are polished gentlemen, all the way from Messrs. Harahan, Atmore and Boyd to Col. Dunn. The train employees are generally polite and obliging, so courteous to the most insignificant traveler, that it is a real pleasure to travel by this line. It is a good road, abounding in the grandest land and water scenes to be found any where in the country. The sightseer will find it needful to keep pencil and sketch book in hand nor enjoy a moment for sleep, so varied will be his observation amid the lightning like velocity with which he hurries forward. Now sweeping over long stretches of trestle work, which span the many bays, lakes, bayons, and splendid rivers, which are pierced by this line.

Then he will feel the exultations of his patriotic aspirations as he rolls by the wilderness of towering pines with their bushy tufts, grandly rising to embrace the heavens, while bleeding oceans of turpentine are at their base. Here he beholds broad acres of Alabama snow melting into great hampers at the touch of the Negro fingers, finally to flood the manufacturing enterprise of the North. There thrifty cities float by you, and take their place in memory, and out of sight as objects of interest in future reminiscences.

Mobile, Montgomery, Birmingham, Gallatin, Clarksville and Nashville, are all growing towns, pushing for their share of the world's business and destined to become important factors in the solution of the Negro, and all relevent social questions in proportion as the create mining and manufacturing interests for the employment of their large laboring population especially the women.

These States must begin to so dispose of their convicts as to not bring them into competition with free labor. Labor will be at a discount with the people as long as it is associated with crime and slavery. We are led to these reflections by the appearance of a convict on our train, bound for the mines of Birmingham. Away with the convict system everywhere. It is a curse in its effects both upon the convict, the lessee, lessor, and working people all suffer and none are really benefited by it. Down with the convict system; labor will be dishonorable and condemned in the eyes of people, who ought to honor toil, while it is regarded as the lot of thieves and murderers.

With the convict labor system let the liquor traffic go also and the socio-industrial problem of the South is solved.

A DANGEROUS WRECK.

March 23d, at 7 o'clock, we bought a traveler's insurance for four days. The genial agent laughed at us and said jokingly "Yes, you might get killed."

March 24th at 7:50 the rear section of our train collides with forward one while crossing a trestle, and it is simply marvelous that many of us are not killed and scores wounded; as it was four are badly bruised, the conductor lost his presence of mind, and all was consternation for a season; but the statement published in the Nashville papers concerning the matter were rather strong, as we said when requested to sign it.

We are convinced however, that it a mistake to run trains in sight of each other at night. The safety of the traveling public and the sense of insecurity which attends the appearance of a train of cars bearing down upon you constantly, will demand and secure the discontinuance of this inovation in in railroad work.

IN NASHVILLE.

Clarksville depot is full of people and a hundred colored women are weeping wringing the hands and loudly crying as we roll up to the depot. What's the matter here? The story is soon told; this young man has shot a man and is on his way to the State prison. We inquire into the matter and find that the sentence is just, and though the mother, sisters, and friends of the convict weep for him. The mother, sisters and friends of the slain are more deeply and incurably afflicted. It is sad but the way of the transgressor is hard.

We are soon in Nashville, seven hours behind time. Our hack brings us in due time to the homes of Rev. L. M. Hagood, Bro. Phillips, pastor of Clark Chapel, and Dr. Braden. The genial Dr. with his usual simple honesty of purpose urges us to enter and abide with him, but this time Sister Phillips is the favored one.

MRS. KATE JOHNSON AT HOME.

After supper then we find ourself with Rev. H. W. Key, Phillips and Sister Phillips on the way to the residence, in honor of the tenth recurrence of the birthday of the son of Mrs. Kate Johnson, a worthy member of Clark Chapel.

Miss Esther E. Shannard read an elegant address suitable to the occasion, proving herself quite a studious young lady. Then the company retired to the dining room to partake of a supper which was just such as a mother, proud of and hopeful for the future of a beloved son would prepare. The little people present were Masters Henry Cathy, Edward Cathy, Johnnie Braden, Ira Hamlin, Water Hamlin, Andrew Frazier, James Thomas, and Miss Amanda Harris. Company soon separated, all anxious for an early visit to Thomson Chapel, which is the Central Tennessee College Church, and where the third annual Sunday-school and Theological Institute was sitting.

Latest Books from Our Book Concern.

Messrs. Phillips & Hunt have performed a crowning service for the people in the publication of Dr. Dupuy's great Encyclopaedia. It is the completest work of its kind we have yet seen, containing everything one would expect to find in such a work. Touching Methodism it is peerless, giving everything that is known of the origin and progress of the church, and it is equally replete with valuable references to the other religions denominations and various associations around us. The statements are condensed and well digested, going at once to the root of the matter, thus saving to inquirer an incalculable sum in labor and money, giving him at once matter sufficient for a library in itself, and and saving him the space and cost of numerous volumes. This work comprises three royal octavo volumes, highly illustrated, substantially bound in sheep, fine paper, small but marvelously bright and clear type, 2114 pages, at $6 per volume. There is not a single superflous entry made, and the contents are brought down to the present year. The demand for the work has been phenomenal, but its great success could have been easily foreseen, as it is adapted to the people, and the people want it. Every minister and professional man constantly needs a thoroughly reliable book of reference, and such he will have when he has this one. The price is insignificant compared to all others, yet for ordinary uses and people this work is superior to any other before the public. It can be bought on subscription, on payments, and the purchaser will thank us many times for calling his attention to it. It is adapted to Webster's dictionary, and with the two one can work out almost any problem in history, science, theology or general literature. We would rather pay $10 per volume for this than $5 for any other in the market. The writer owes very much to the publishers for the copies sent and would advise the reader to make haste and write them for a set. The work is in every way arranged to facilitate the seeker after information.

It begins with a double page map of the world. The frontispiece is a full page steel engraving representing an arch resting on a base with three steps, on the front of the first step is written in large, white-faced type the words

"THE PEOPLES ENCYCLOPAEDIA."

In the same style as above on this step lies an easel, paint bottle, brushes and other artists materials, with one cherub seated on a block drawing a design upon his tablet, while another lies upon the step looking into a book of plans. Back of him is a large cog-wheel and near his head a large anvil with a huge sledge upon it. On the third step a woman is seated, while one foot rests upon the first and the other on the second step. In her lap lies a large volume, wide open, with her left hand resting on one leaf and the index finger pointing a cherub to the contents of another; both woman and cherub are in a deep study, while another cherub with globe and compass in his left hand holds high up the lamp of wisdom to illuminate the pages of the world's history. On the woman's brow, holding back her wreath of flowing hair which lies in rich profusion about her shoulders is a diadem, while a magnificent steamer and imposing ocean forms the back-ground. Above the arch, in corners formed by the angle of the arch with corners of the page, a farmer rests and reads at noon in the midst of his whitening harvest, with rack and shovel near him; while opposite sits a white-haired sage gazing into a great volume, with well-stocked library shelves in view. The whole is intended to represent universal knowledge, and thus illustrate the contents of the book. Then follows a full title page with list of special contributors, then the copy-right of Phillips & Hunt, with the publishers, announcements for September, 1881, and a supplementary announcement for January, 1885, showing that the work has been brought down to this date, 130,000 volumes of which are in actual circulation. Next comes the preface and a supplementary preface to the date. How important it is for our poor brethren to know that they can get this work with all the important records of every yesr to the present from our Book Concern at New York, just as they get any other book. Every colored preacher, teacher, doctor, lawyer or head of family ought to write to Phillips & Hunt, the very moment they cease to read this article and order the book. It will probably help some if you cut this out and send it in your letter. After preface comes an additional list of contributors containing several hundred names of prominent writers, authors and scholars. This is followed by an outline of appendices, and about 198 maps and diagrams, all very finely executed, and some of them beautifully colored. Along with the map or each State goes a table showing the population thereof up to 1882, white and colored. For example, Alabama is shown by the table with map to have 1,262,505 white, and 600,320 colored population. It also shows the voting population to be 136,058 native, 5,403 foreign white and 118,423 colored males above 21 years of age; with every other species of desirable information concerning the State and all the States. It is a stupendous work excelling all of the kind that ever preceded it, and leaving little chance for a successful rival in the future. If $20,000 were appropriated, and ten Negroes that we could mention were employed at $2000 each, and the result of their investigation touching Negro concerns added to this work it would so completely occupy the whole field of investigation that the field, so far as the Negroes go, would be wholly its own. Five maps of North and South America follow each other. Then a fine map, the best we have ever seen, of the West Indies. There is a fine map of Asia; a double page map of the heavens comes next covering four pages, then a map of Australia. There are 140 pages given to the letter A. Bauneker, Allen, Douglass and all eminent Negroes are named, but the style is to use a small "n." It gives 150 pages to the letter B. and omits Bishop John M. Brown. There are fine maps of Canada; chart showing church accommodations in all the States. The letter C takes 222 pages. Chart showing the population of the world at a glance. A biographical classification of distingnished men comes next, followed by a dictionary of literary pseudonyms. After this comes the chemical elements, breech-loading guns, origin of familiar words and phrases, orthography, punctuation and correspondence; historical data of the Republics of history, classification of existing sovereignties, the lost and ruined cities of the world, art galleries of the world, State school system in the United States, educational statistics of various countries, alphabetical lists of important inventions, great plagues and distempers of history, origin of orchard and garden fruit; government support of rulers; banks and banking, treaties of the world, principal bridges, geographical tables, and so on almost to infinity. And yet this great work is indifferent authority on matters of special authority on matters of special historic importance to the Negroes For example it shows that Rev. C. W. Smith is editor of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate; Dr. B. T. Tanner, of the Christian Recorder, and J. B. Hartzell, of the SOUTHWESTERN. But correct history will show that B. F. Lee was elected of the Recorder, and Marshall W. Taylor of the SOUTHWESTERN, about the same time that Dr. C. W. Smith was elected to the Pittsburg Advocate.

The Hallam Succession—A tale of Methodist life in two countries. By Amelia E. Barr. Published by Phillips & Hunt, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati. 16mo. 310 pp. Price, $1.

This is certainly a first-class book for young people of the Methodist Church to read; the style and simple elegance of expression is a school, while the manner cannot fail to interest and instruct the reader in the matter of denominational faithfulness. It beautifully illustrates the power of one true Methodist to do a great deal of good though surrounded by the staid and slow-moving machinery of a State church, and of people born to belief in its formalities.

Anthe—A story by Mrs. C. W. Chandler. Published by Phillips & Hunt, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati. 16mo. 272 pp. Price, $1.

This work has 28 chapters, four illustrations, is nicely put up in cloth and gilt. The object of the work seems to be to show the inconsistencies of some very formal and fashionable people, such as is represented by "Miss Edna" just from church, and who finds her exact counterpart in plain matter of fact impertinable, slightly ironical "Anthe," the leading character of the story. It is not hard to see that one purpose of the writer is to awaken a keen appreciation of the beautiful in the home, and that she is by no means opposed to elaborate, even elegant home comforts. The descriptive powers are superb, and the entire work abounds in choice, chaste and scholastic beauty of diction. We wish our girls all over the South, could have the book, as much for the sake of its beautiful rhetoric as anything else.

Tracts in Canarese.

The Rev. S. P. Jacobs, of the South India Conference, has sent us copies, in English and Canarese, of the series of tracts published by him and printed at various places in India. Bro. Jacobs, with his associate, Rev. D. O. Ernsburger, is doing heroic mission work at Linsngur, 56 miles inland distant from a railway. These two preachers are alone in a district 185 miles long and, on an average, 65 miles wide, containing 1,500,000 inhabitants. The tracts are upon such doctrinal subjects as will appeal with force to the people knowing whom they are circulated by. Christ Foretold, Mans Revolt and Restoration, Justification continued, or, Entire Sanctification, Why not now. He writes in a hopefull strain and adds to his letter the following figures, published during the past year. "Christ Foretold" copies, 5000, English, pages, 140,000; copies, 5000, Canarese, pages, 165,000. "Mans Revolt & Restoration" copies 5000, English, pages, 220,000; copies 10,000 Canarese, 560,000; total pages, 1,085,000. The departure was announced, of Rev. Dr & Mrs. J. S. Stone, and their passage was engaged, Jan 29th, for India. On wednesday night Dr, Stone was taken ill, with a sudden attack of rheumatism, in his hotel, in New York, and up to this time, although slowly recovering, is not able to set another date for sailing. His father is with him, as well as Mrs. Stone and with good care, he hopes to be well very soon.

Germany.

The students in the Martin Institute in Frankfort held meetings in stations near that city, with great success. They hired a dancing hall and invited the people to come, seeking them on the streets or in their houses. In one place from 500 to 700 people gathered to hear the Gospel. During the Christmas holidays they went out to help the regular preachers, walking from 2 to 20 miles a day to their appointments. These students are given a solid biblical education, according to the wants of the German people, and this evangelical work is a great inspiration to them, to labor among the neglected masses in the cities and villages. The Lord is raising up grand men for Germany.

Rev. E. C. Curtis, D. D., who is at present making a trip in the South with Mr. O. H. P. Archer, was in Charleston, S. C., Sunday before last and preached in the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church. It was in Charleston that Dr. Curtis was converted thirty-five years ago.—Northern.

These gentlemen found it convenient to visit New Orleans in their tour of the South; nor did they forget to see inside of congregations, black and white of their own Church as the manner of some is while here. If they enjoyed our society as much as we did theirs, they will certainly find a chance to come again as this time with their ladies.

Minutes of the ninth session of the Central Alabama Methodist Episcopal Conference, well executed and in good shape, are at hand. We acknowledge the courtesy thus extended by the secretary, Rev. A. W. McKinney.

A Great Mistake.

It was probably an oversight but nevertheless a great mistake to omit the New Orleans University from the list of schools ticketed to the World's Fair on Negro Day. We are sure from our knowledge of Captain Buck, the responsible party, that it was not intentional, and we take it upon ourself to say that he will yet see that this school has the recognition that we are sure he intended to give it with all the others from the first.

Personal.

—Mrs. Mary Carroll is a switchwoman at Macon, Ga.,

—The post office address of Rev. Andrew Brauch is Dutch Town, La.

—Gen. Booth, the head of the Salvation Army, was formerly a Methodist preacher.

—Geo. Harris, a colored cook, formerly of Lonisville, was drowned at Henderson, Feb. 17th.

—The Duke of Connaught, Queen Victoria's youngest son, has requested to be assigned to service in the Soudan.

—Prof. Greener, is delivering a series of Chautauquan lectures at Zion Methodist Episcopal Church, Wilmington, Delaware.

—By the upsetting of a kerosene lamp Sunday evening, Feb, 15th, Mrs. Thomas Burns, of Hartford, Conn., was probably fatally burned.

—The brethren, and many friends of Rev. I. B. Griffin will regret to learn that he is now very ill at Vicksburg, Miss.

—In the House of Representatives in Maine, resolutions were passed urging recognition of the services of General Grant by the people of the country.

—Rev. E. Wentworth, D. D., of the Troy Conference, is preparing a memorial volume of Bishop Wiley, to be issued soon by the Western Book Concern.

—Cyrus Flood, of Cambridge, Vt. blew out the gas in his room at the Van Ness House in Burlington, Vt., on Monday night, Feb. 16th. He is still unconscious.

—Mrs. Elizebeth Holmes, a wealthy resident of Cold Spring, L. I., cut her hand while peeling an orange a few days ago. Blood-poisoning ensued and she died.

—Judge-Advocate-Gen. Swaim, found guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman," has been sentenced to suspension from rank and duty for twelve years.

—President Arthur leaves the White House in perfect order and with $10,000 in the treasury to be spent on the building and grounds as the next President pleases.

—Bishop Mallalieu leaves New Orleans, Tuesday a. m., for an extended tour through Lonisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Missouri. He will attend the semi-annual meeting of the Bishops at St. Louis, which convenes May 14, and will continue for a week.

—M. E. C. writes to the Heathen Womans Friend, relative to a district conference held, in Philadelphia, Trinity Church, March 5th., "Miss Onshman was presented and her talk about the work among Chinese women was a fresh inspiration."

—Rev. W. H. Gallion, of Macon, Miss., Rev. Andrew Lemon, of Pickens, and A. J. Howard, Superintendent of Sunday School at Ebenezer Miss., called last week. They came to see the Exposition and bring encouraging reports of Methodist progress in their state

—Dr. Abel Stevens, the Methodist historian, has just celebrated his seventieth birthday at Geneva, Switzerland, where he has been engaged in literary labors for much of the time during the past thirteen years.

—Clem Studebaker, Esq., of South Bend, Ind., called on Saturday last. He has an exhibit at the Exposition, and on his visit combines business with pleasure. This sturdy Methodist layman, and friend of the SOUTHWESTERN is in excellent health.

Schools and Colleges.

The Alumni.

ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL TENNESSEE COLLEGE.

Whereas, Our school, the Central Tennessee College, was established and has been sustained during the past eighteen years of its organization by Philanthopists and Christian men and women of the North who have given their mites hallowed by fervent prayers, that our people should soon be elevated to where we could help ourselves: and,

Whereas, God has so wonderfully blessed us until we are now able to do something for ourselves and by so doing will demonstrate to our friends and to the world that we have not been helped in vain, and that we are willing and intend to do what we can to elevate ourselves to the highest social, moral, spiritual and religious elevation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we the students and alumni of the Central Tennessee College do associate ourselves together and draft the following Constitution:

CONSTITUTION.

Art. I.—This Association shall be called The Central Tennessee College Endowment Association.

Art. II.—The objects and place of business of this association shall be to furnish facilities by which the students of Central Tennessee College may continne their acquaintance with and knowledge of each other after they have left the schodl and thereby increase their interest in the school itself; and 2nd, to secnre from students and others an annual contribution towards the endowment of the institntion, thereby enlarging its nsefulness and increasing its efficiency. Its principal place of business shall be Nashville, Tennessee.

MEMBERSHIP.

Art. III.—Acting and honorary members, male or female, who have been, are, or may hereafter become students in Central Tennessee College may become members of this association by paying annually into its treasury the sum of one dollar or more and authorizing his or her name to be signed to this constitution.

OFFICERS, ETC.

Art. IV.—The officers of this association shall consist of a President, 2 vice Presidents, one recording and four corresponding Secretaries, two male and two female, and a Treasurer. These officers shall be elected at the annual meeting, and shall hold their offices until their successors are elected. There shall be an executive committee consisting of the President, Recording Secretary, and Treasurer, of the above mentioned officers, together with three other members of the Association elected also at the annual meeting, this executive committee shall hold meetings quarterly or oftener at the call of the President, shall transact all the business of the Association in the interim of the Annual meetings, shall fill all vacancies in the board of officers and shall lay before the Association at its Annual meeting a full report of its doings dnring the year.

ANNUAL MEETING

Art V.—The annnal meeting of the Association shall be held at the College during commencement week at such time and place as may be designated by the President of the College.

RECORD, ETC.

Art. VI.—The Recording Secretary shall keep an alphabetical record of the name, post office address, and occupation of the members of the Association, active and honorary and shall cause the same to be published at or near the close of each school year, for gratuitous distribution among the members of the Association and friends of the institution.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS, ETC.

Art. VII.—It shall be the dnty of each member of the Association in addition to us here to solicit donations from others to the funds of Association, and forward the same, together with the name of the donor, to the Treasurer; and the names of all persons contributing one dollar or more, together with the full amount contribnted, shall be pnblished in the Annnal Record as honorary members.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES.

Art. VIII.—It shall be the duty of the corresponding secretaries to solicit, by letter or otherwise, persons to become members of the Association, and shall cause the names of said persons to be reported to recording secretary on receipt of the annual fee by the Treasurer, that said name may be dnly signed to the constitntion by the consent of the parties, and entered upon the record of the Association.

INVESTING FUNDS.

Art. IX.—There shall be a committee to invest the fnnds of the Association in a secure and safe manner, the annnal interest of which only shall be used; committee shall consist of the President, Recording Secretary and Treasurer of this Association, together with the President of the College, Secretary and Treasurer of the Board of Trustees.

Art X.—This constitution may be altered or amended at any annual meeting of the Association by a tow-thirds vote of all the active members present and voting.

Nashville, Tenn., March 25th, 1885.

Sunday-school Week in New Orleans.

AMES CHAPEL,

On St. Charles street. Thursday night, March 26.—The city at this season of the year has a great capacity for rain. The gntters and streets were filled to overflowing, which prevented the people from turning ont. Bishop Mallalieu, Revs. A. H. Gillette, T. Stalker, J. W. Hudson, and Norton, of Toledo, Ohio, were present, and a prayer meeting was held, led by Revs. A. H. Gillette, James W. Hudson and Norton.

HAVEN CHAPEL.

Friday, March 27.—The Sunday-school convention met 4:30 p. m. Singing, "Jesus paid it all." Bishop Mallalieu presided. Rev. Wm. Murrell led in prayer. The following brethren addressed the meeting: Revs. A. H. Gillet, T. Stalker, M. C. B. Mason, A. F. Hoyt and the Bishop. The school rose for prayer, conducted by Bro. Gillette. The following ministers were present: A. J. Ford, J. W. Hndson and Prof. C. T. Simpson.

SIXTH STREET M. E. CHURCH.

Monday, March 23.—According to advertisement the Sunday-school Convention commenced the work of Sunday-school meeting for the week at 7:30 p. m., Bishop Mallalieu presiding. After reading a Scriptural lesson Rev. L. P. Cushman led in prayer. There were a large number of adults and children present. Music was rendered by the choir, assisted by Messrs Fisher and Lyon. The Bishop called npon the following ministers who made speeches touching the interest of the Sunday-schools, Revs. L. P. Cushman, P. E., T. Stalker and E. Lyon. The Bishop, in a stirring address, brought parents and children to their feet and on their knees with nplifted hands to God, asking his blessings npon all present.

FIRST STREET M. E. CHURCH.

Saturday, March 28—Children's service at 4 o'clock p. m., the hour appointed. Quite a large number of children and grown people were present, neatly dressed; bright faces looking np, not down; faith in God, looking forward, not back; hope in God, looking ont, not in, and lending a hand; loving God, and charity one with another. After a number of sweet songs, led by Miss Julia Chapman, Delia Moore and other young ladies of the choir, Rev. M. C. B. Mason offered prayer. Bishop Mallalieu called npon Rev. E. Lyon as the first speaker, during which time Rev. A. H. Gillette came in and the meeting was turned over to him, and in his usual impressive style he spoke ont of the abundance of his Sunday-school knowledge. Bishop Mallalieu gave notice that the prizes would be distributed the second Sunday in Jnne. Benediction was pronounced by Bishop Mallalieu.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR—Please answer the following qnestions:

1. Where is Bishop Taylor's post-office address?

2. Does he need any more men as preachers or missionaries in Liberia?

3. Do you think a preacher or person with a common school education could do him any good?

4. Which can do the most good ladies or gentlemen?—SUBSCRIBER.

Answer—1. Address him at Monrovia, Liberia, West Africa, by way of England, until otherwise directed in this paper.

2. Yes. A thousand men would not be too many for useful service as missionaries in and near Liberia.

3. Those who expect to be useful must be well educated, thoroughly converted to God and consecrated by personal devotion, with a divine impression that they are called to this work. The best Negro scholars in the world are now living in Africa. From Egypt to Cape Colony, and from Abysinia to Timbnctu you will find them. They are heathen but not a universally ignorant people. Since the days when Carthage and Egypt flourished, and Phillip baptised the Eunuch, and Simon bore the Savior's cross the Ethiopean people have been producing men of fine culture. Two Negro Bishops of fine ability, with statesmen and men of letters, are now in Africa.

New Orleans Preachers' Meeting.

Monday, March 30, Rev. James W. Hndson in the chair. Prayer by Rev. A. H. Gillett. The following brethren were present: Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, W. P. Forrest, A. H. Gillette, E. Lyon, A. F. Hoyt, M. C. B. Mason, T. Stalker, Z. T. Gayden, R. C. Barrow, Moses Fairfax, John Qnails, T. P. Jackson, T. J. Johnson, H. C. Foster, Jules Been, S. Osborn and A. J. Ford. Visiting members: Rev. Norton, of the Ohio Eastern Conference; A. M. Green, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church; Geo. Payne and Jacob Fleshman, a converted Jew of the New York Conference.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. On motion the order of the day was dispensed with, and Rev. A. H. Gillette was invited to address the meeting—subject, the pastor's relation to the Sunday-school. After which a resolution was offered by Rev. M. C. B. Mason relative to Sunday-school districts in the city of New Orleans. On motion the following committee was appointed: Bishop Mallalieu, L. P. Cushman, presiding elder of the New Orleans District, A. F. Hoyt, John Qualls, E. Lyon, S. Dunbar, T. J. Johnson, R. C. Barrow and James W. Hudson.

Rev. A. M. Green gave an address along the line of Sunday-school work, followed by Rev. Freshman.

Order of the day for April 5: "What a Preachers Meeting ought to be," by Rev. Norton, of the Ohio Eastern Conference.

Benediction by Bishop Mallalieu.

JAS. W. HUDSON, Pres.

A. J. FORD, Secretary.

General Church News.

A dispatch from Gibralter received in London says the Vicar General of that diocese has been murdered.

The latest enumeration of the Catholic population of this country puts the nnmber at 9,720,000.

The whole body of Irish bishops will meet in Rome the first week after Easter.

—Mr. Moody's London mission cost $80,000, and the whole of it was raised without a single public appeal.

—The Protestants of France are preparing to celebrate, next October the two hundredth anniversary of the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes.

H. N. McTyeire, Nashville, Tenn. J. C. Keener, New Orleans, La; A. W. Wilson, Baltimore, Md; J. C. Granberry, St. Louis, Mo. R. K. Hargrove, Russellville, Ky.

Dr. D. H. Muller of Cleveland, is believed to have organized the first "Oxford League" under the plan recommended by the Baltimore Centenial Conference.

Rev. R. Heber Newton, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, is having his annnal sensation in the form of doctrinal denial. This year he throws contempt upon the doctrine of the Trinity and invites investigation.

The rate of increase of communicants in the foreign mission fields in 1881-2 was more than six times that in Christendom, and in 1882-3 more than nine times.

The Baptists of England are about to start ten new mission stations abont Stanley Pool, on the Congo, and man them with twenty men. They have already a good force there.

Dr. Nevius has made an estimate that there are, or were, in round numbers, about 300,000 idol temples in China; and, at the rate of ten idols to each temple, there would be 3,000,000 idols. These temples he estimates to have cost $1,000,000,000! And the money which is spent annnally by this people in worship and the repairs of these buildings, as well as the building of new ones, is simply beyond conception. In Soochow, one of the largest temples has recently been overhauled and repaired, at an expense, it is said, of $70,000—largely given by one man, who thereby is supposed to get great merit.

The Future of the South.—V.

JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D. NEW ORLEANS.

On the other hand the foreign markets of the North are comparatively limited, while her Southern market will be greatly curtailed; and at all events, the North has established thus far no permanent indnstry, which will always insure active and profitable employment for surplns capital and labor.

This comparative condition of the two sections tends directly, of course, to a transfer of both capital and labor from the North to the South; and it illustrates the economic law of equal distribution, and at the same time, furnishes the rationale of its operation. The existence of some abnormal condition, some obstacle or obstruction, alone rendered possible snch an unequal demand for labor and capital between the two sections.

Had there been no obstructing causes, capital and labor would have been attracted, and a larger area in the South would have been placed under cultivation, and manufactures would have been established to the extent certainly of supplying the home demand for all articles that could be produced advantageously in the South. Under these circumstances, it is not surprising that while capital at the North is lying idle in the banks, it commands in the South the highest rates of interest, and while at the North labor can not find employment, and the country, in consequence, is filled with tramps and vagrants, at the South the demand for labor can not be supplied, particularly in the cotton districts, and planters are offering the highest premiums for laborers.

Hence it is, also, that in comparing the present condition of the two sections, as affected respectively by the existing depression of business, the advantage is decidedly with the South. She is poor and depressed, but that was her condition before the panic of 1873, and therefore, the shrinkage of her values and business has been less, proportionately than it has been in the North.

The South, indeed, presents now nnusual attractions to immigrants and captalists. With the advantages of a settled country, she offers many of the inducements of a new colony. Her lands represent a very large portion of her capital, and they are still as cheap as those of new settlements, while at the same time she needs and can sustain manufacturing enterprises of various kinds. It must be borne in mind that a few years develop small results from even radical changes in the economic conditions of society, and that currents of immigration and capital, in particular, can not be suddenly diverted from old to new channels. In the present case, there are many retarding influences, particularly those resulting from general intimidation and virtual disfranchisement of the colored race in the South, and the views we have advanced in this address, therefore, can not be fairly tested by a reference to facts. But, while we do not hope to see at once the result expected, there should be some indications that the causes are at work to produce them.

It is accordingly very satisfactory to find that there are many facts in the present condition of the South, which confirm our deductions, and there are, so far, no facts apparently contradictory, which can not be otherwise explained. Besides the confirmatory circumstances heretofore alluded to, there is one which merits special notice. It is well known, and has frequently been the subject of comment from observant visitors, that the greatest prosperity prevails in those districts of the South in which the small farm system prevails. What is the real explanation? It is not that farming on a small scale is profitable, while planting on a large scale is necessarily unprofitable; nor is it that the small farmer has abandoned the old system of large areas and poor tillage, and now given greater care to smaller acreage. The explanation is that the small farm system accompanies, and is a different social and industrial condition from that prevailing in other districts.

Wherever you find small farms you find a class of farmers who had been accustomed to work, and hence their prosperity and that of their communities. If this is the corect interpretation, it is apparent that the fact conforms to and confirms much that I have said on this subject. With such an industrial outlook for the South, it is time that childish despondency makes way for manly energy. It is time that vain lamentations over the past yield to hopeful anticipations of the future; it is time that false forebodings of the coming evil give place to honest efforts for the common good.

We have followed the brilliant industrial prospect of the South, through a long chain of synthetic analysis, and there is only one more link needed to complete the circle, and that factor is an united organization for labor on every farm, in every hamlet, village and city throughout the entire extent of the South.

The whole world is now being agitated by the great question of a just compensation for the labor of the poor working man. In Great Britain, France, Austria, Russia, and in the United States, the masses are no longer the servile creatures that they were fifty years ago.

The people have arose in their might and asserted their freedom and God given rights. They have demonstrated, beyond the possibility of contradiction, that their minds and bodies are no longer the property of kings and aristocrats. Capital and labor are the twin sisters of all commercial or mercantile prosperity; and when justly associated, we soon perceive a great and prosperous commonwealth. During the past ten years, in this country, the great capitalists have been rearing stupendous fortunes at the expense of the laboring classes. A few bold and resolute men of all nationalities, inaugurated a systematic organization of labor throughout insular, continental Europe and the United States.

Associations, clubs, and guilds were formed, workingmen's newspapers were sent broadcast over the world, pregnant with intelligent information for the masses. They gave the great millionaries, bondholders, railroad corporations and manufacturers, to understand that the poor laborer knew the value of a day's work, as well as the banker could tell the value of an ounce of gold, and reveal to his avaricious eye, that silver and gold is nothing more nor nothing less than coined blood and sweat from the brow of man.

The great capitalist objected to this just arrangement and assumed the right to dictate what the value of labor should be; and hence the great railroad strikes, telegraph strikes, horse car strikes, strikes on the wharves, shipping and manufactures that have followed all over this broad country, in every department of industry that you mention.

The great tidal wave reached New Orleans in 1880, and all classes and colors were blended into one great whole. The white and black man stood shoulder to shoulder. Capital succumbed to the inevitable law of justice, and hence we have in the city of New Orleans a splendid organization of men, which is second to none in point of a well regulated system of labor.

An Objectionable Advertisement Explained.

A. J. FLETCHER.

MR. EDITOR—Please allow space for a short explanation, concerning an advertisement in the East Tennessee Conference Minutes recently published. I refer to that of Mr. Cook, of Chicago, Illinois, which places me in an awkward position before the Church and especially the brethren of my conference.

There is a gentleman whose post office address is Rock Rapids, Iowa, claiming to be a "Conference Minutes advertiser," and signs his name S. P. Marsh. This gentleman wrote me before the session of our conference, desiring to have access to our forth coming minutes, stating that his matter was all printed, and to inspire confidence, referred me to several of the secretaries of the Northern and Western conferences who had patronized him; also, offering to give a certain amount of money to have his matter inserted. I wrote to him, that, as the secretary, I was responsible for what went into our minutes, therefore could make no contract whatever until I knew the nature of his matter. His reply was that it was all "first class." Not being satisfied with this, I said nothing whatever. This was the extent of our correspondence. By some means he learned who I had employed to do the printing of our minutes, and in my absence from the office (for I live forty miles away, and my only means of traveling being horseback could not go often) sent a package of printed matter to the printer by express, and stated that this was to be inserted in the minutes of the East Tennessee Conference. The company supposing that it was understood between the sender and myself, accordingly inserted them. On my return the thing was done, and strange, up to this writing I have not heard from this gentleman, I know nothing of the man, whether he be minister, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, sinner or what. The whole thing is an imposition, because I am known to be a lover of Methodism, and an earnest advocate of the use of our own publications to the exclusion of all else, and have always regarded Mr. Cook's literature as undenominational, inferior, and spurious. I hope when the brethren read this, they will let consideration guide.

Big Spring, Tenn.

The following is the monthly statement of the Young Men's Christian Association for the month of March, 1885: Number of visitors to reading room, 4,432. Average attendance—Four young men's prayer meetings, 33; five meetings for Bible study, 24; five Gospel meetings for men, 32; one lecture, number present, 250; one entertainment, number present, 190; writing material supplied free to 247; recommended to boarding houses, 43. Mission Work—Six meetings held at police jail, average attendance, 145; four meetings held at parish prison, average attendance, 206; one meeting held at the Boys House of Refuge, average attendance, 86; five meetings held at the Charity Hospital, average attendance, 38; five meetings held at the Alms House, average attendance, 12; number of visits made by Robert Parker to Charity Hospital, 55; Newspapers, tracts and magazines distributed, 1130.

JAMES SHERRARD, Sec'y.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

A SONNET.

J. T. BOWMAN.

SUGGESTED AT THE DISINTERMENT OF SHAKSPEARE.

Do not disinter me when I am dead
To seek my frailties, nor explore my skull;
My sad defects let ever with me lull,
If I must rise with them upon my head,
The kine may browse upon my mound instead;
And vilest earth-worms feed on me, 'till full;
But ye must not my weary carcass pull
From its sad mother's lap. Oh! how I dread
That time when all things are forgot,
And when I will no longer be my own,
And Science may, as she did Avon's son,
Walk stiff-toed on my head, when I am not.
Forget this not, when to other world's I've flown,
E'en if it's mine—a crown and kingdom won.

Domestic Hygiene.

The Eyes, How May They be Cared for.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.,

The eye should be kept clean at all times. This may be done by washing the eye lids with tepid water and rinsing with moderately cold water. During the night there is a greater or less accumulation of secretion on the eyelids; this ought to be carefully removed by washing. If there is inflamation and the eyelids are glued together in the morning, this should always be washed away the first thing with tepid water, never attempt to pick the eyelids apart. Sometimes little sharp points of this gluey substance will gather on the lid, and irritate the eye ball, this should be promptly removed.

Sometimes the eyes feel hot and feverish, it is then a good plan to bathe the eyes in cold water, and carefully wipe them dry. In so doing, do not use any harsness to increase the irritation. This should be followed by resting them for a little time. The more trying the work, the oftener and more perfect ought to be the season of rest. If one must read or write, or set type by gas or lamp light, it is better to have two medium lights, one on either side of the book, desk or case, than to have one large light on the side.

Great care should be taken not to hold the eyes to look through a small hole in the window pane, through which is coming a cold draft of air, for it will greatly endanger the eye, and lay the foundation for disease, that can not be removed with years of care. I knew a lady teacher, who stood by a window, and looked out at a small opening in the glass for some minutes, a cold stream of air came rushing into the room through the opening, and fell full upon the eye. She contracted a disease by so doing which continued to annoy her for years. Children should be prevented as far as possible, from rubbing the eye with the knuckle. Some children more than others, contract this evil habit when crying or pouting, greatly to the injury of the eye.

The following excellent article is taken from the Youth's Companion, regarding the removal of particles of foreign bodies from the eye:

Whenever a fly, or other insect, a small flying seed, quick-lime, dust, or any other minute object, gets into the eye, do not adopt the common habit of rubbing, or even of washing with water, but gently raise, or get a gentle hand to raise for you, the eyelid, and bend the head forward. In keeping thus the eyelid elevated, and the eye quiescent for a few moments, one feels the flow of tears starting from the organ, which seldom fails to bring along with it the cause of the pain, or at least to carry it toward the corner of the eye next to the nose, from hence it may be removed by a fine handkerchief folded to a point.

If this operation is not sufficient, then a finger ought to be passed frequently, yet gently, over the eyelid, from the exterior corner, by eye to the interior corner, of the which moves the substance is made to descend toward the lachrymal glands, from whence it may by drawn by a fine hair pencil.

If the irritating substance still remains, then we are further instructed that "the upper eyelid must be taken as before, and kept elevated as much as possible, and the eye being then turned toward the nose, a very fine camel's hair pencil, dipped in cream, oil, or perfectly fresh butter (without an atom of salt in it, remember), must be introduced between the eyelids and the body of the eye, beginning at the exterior corner, and ending at the interior corner."

If the very fine hair pencil is not successful, you will be almost certain to succeed with one rather larger. Should all these efforts fail, which is extremely unlikely if they are properly performed, do not set to work rubbing or washing the eye, as you must obtain professional assistance. Be sure to bathe the eye frequently in cold water as soon as, and for some time after, the irritating substance has been extracted.

There are many patent, and some unpatented eye waters, greatly recommended to the public for use upon the eyes. Concerning all such I would frankly say, "Beware! Don't use them." You do not know of what they are composed, possibly they may contain very injurious substances. If your eyes are inflamed, and cold water does not soon restore them consult the best physician you can find. If he prepares you an eye wash then you may safely use it. Cold tea is some times highly recommended as a wash for the eye. I object to this, because you do not know what is used to color the tea, It may be a rank poison. The stomach will tolerate many things you can't put in your eye. I repeat it, cold water is the best common eye wash in the world.

A NEW method of fastening the strings of upright pianos has been invented by the Mason & Hamlin Organ & Piano Company, which is regarded as one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more riohly musical in its tones, as well as more durable, and less liable to get out of order.—Boston Journal.

Earl Cairns, in an address at one of the London May meetings, stated that of the 37,000 native population of Sierra Leone, 32,000 were professing Christians; and of the 44,000 Maoris 25,000 were professed Christians.

Concerning Red Hair.

Many people admire red hair, but if you do not, Parker's Hair Balsam will impart to it a darker hue. It will also thicken the hair, eradicate dandruff, and impart softness, glossiness and life to hair which has become dry and harsh. Not a dye, does not soil the linen. Gives a delicious perfume. An elegant dressing.

The January report of the National Cotton Exchange of America gives the cotton movement of the United States for the past five months ending January 31, 1885, compared with the two preceding seasons. It makes these comparisons: Port receipts this year, 4,101,496 bales; last year, 3,996,550 bales; exports in 1883, 2,812,540 bales; in 1884, 2,484,225 bales.

A Mother's Love—A Practical Illustration of Its Power.

A mother's love! What a potent thing it is! It will melt the heart of the most hardened criminal, when no other influence would be effectual. No one but a mother knows its full meaning, but every one can appreciate it if they will. It is known, though, that it means sleepless nights, care, inconvenience, and, if necessary, want, hardship and death. But the subject has been too eloquently treated by the sweetest poets and the ablest writers to furnish an essay for these columns. Too many practical illustrations occur in every day life for it to be dwelt upon, so that it is unnecessary to speak of the subject further in order to make the reader understand the full meaning of what is to follow.

Mrs. Henry Schaalen, of Ashland, Ky., writes that her daughter has been cured of deafness which resulted from chronic catarrh. She tells how she had lost all hope of her daughter (her ideal) being cured, and how overjoyed she is at the result. After trying many remedies, she says PERUNA brought a cure, and that the daughter's hearing is restored. She concludes, by speaking in the most flattering terms of PERUNA, and then describes in the most lovely manner the happiness it has brought her, and reviews the distress she experienced while her daughter was afflicted.

Dr. A. R. Ong, Martins Ferry, O., writes: "I have a large trade on your PERUNA. Think it is a grand remedy."

Mr. Robert C. Hannah, Tolesborough, Lewis county, Ky., writes: "I write to inform you of the great benefit I received by the use of your medicines, PERUNA and MANALIN. I had been low spirited and very sick for about six months with a bad cough, and my friends thought I had consumption; tried a number of patent medicines, and most of the doctors in the vicinity (and we have some as good as you can find in the country), but they did me no good whatever. Our merchant, Mr. Gillespie, insisted upon me trying your remedies. I did so, but must say, I had little faith in them at first; before I had consumed my first bottle, I noticed a change for the better, and to-day I am entirely well, and as sound a man as there is in the vicinity. I credit my cure to your valuable remedies, PERUNA and MANALIN, and recommend them to all of my friends."

HOT SPRINGS AT YOUR DOOR.

PHYSICIANS AT HOT SPRINGS USE IN THEIR OWN CASES AND PRESCRIBE FOR OTHERS

Buffalo Lithia Water

In Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Etc.

DR. ALGERNON S. GARNETT,

Surgeon (retired) U. S. Navy, Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark.

"My experience in the use of Buffalo Lithia Water is limited to the treatment of Gout, Rheumatism and that hybrid disease 'Rheumatic Gout,' (so called) which is in contra-distinction to the Rheumatoid Arthritis of Garrod.

"I have had excellent results from this Water in these affections, both in my own person and in the treatment of patients for whom I have prescribed it. Of course the remedial agent is its contained Alkalies and their solvent properties.

"Hence it is a prophylactic as well as a remedy in Nephritic Colic and forming Calculi when due to a redundancy of Lithic Acid."

DR. WM. B. TOWLES,

Member of Medical Society of Va., Resident Physician of Hot Springs, Ark.

"I feel no hesitancy whatever in saying that in Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Stone in the Bladder, and in all diseases of Uric Acid Diathesis, I know of no remedy at all comparable to Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No 2. In a single case of Bright's Disease of the Kidneys I witnessed very marked beneficial results from its use, and from its action in this particular case I should have great confidence in it in this disease."

DR. T. B. BUCHANNAN,

Resident Physician Hot Springs, Ark.

"Send me five cases Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 2. I have made use of this Water for Gout in my own person and prescribed it for patients suffering with the most decided beneficial results. I take pleasure in advising Gouty patients to these Springs."

Springs pamphlet, with testimonials from eminent medical men at Hot Springs, sent to any address. Water in cases of one dozen half gallon bottles, $5 per case at the Springs

I. L. LYON, 42 Camp street, and G. F. FINLAY, 35 Magazine street, New Orleans, Agents.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs, Virginia.

mar26 2teow

AN ADVERTISING AGENCY.

Newspapers.

Catalogue.

Advertisement.

Our Lists.

Estimates.

Printing Office.

Our System.

Payment.

We receive and keep on file over 12,000 Newspapers published in every State and Province in America. Over 1000 Daily papers alone arrive every morning. Each paper is examined by careful clerks and the insertions entered in record books. Under our system an advertiser is sure to receive the full value for his money.

We publish the "American Newspaper Catalogue," a volume of 900 pages elegantly bound in cloth, and containing a complete list of the publications of every character in the United States and Canada. On one line we give place of publication, name of paper, class or denomination, age and circulation. In it are catalogued 14,000 periodicals. Sent free on receipt of $1.50.

We can secure the prompt insertion of any advertisement in any publication at the lowest attainable prices. We keep constantly invested over $200,000 "in space" in the best lines of newspapers. Our special lists of Papers will be found especially useful in making up lists for pushing any special lines.

We have, for the convenience of advertisers, made up our Religious List containing the names of all the leading denominational papers with prices. Our Agricultural List containing the names of all the prominent agricultural papers with prices. Our Local List of 1,300 County and City Weeklies and Dailies, arranged by States with publishers' prices and the prices at which we can insert advertisements. These Lists are mailed free on application.

We will furnish to any reputable advertiser who will apply, an estimate showing exact cost of any proposed line of advertising, and when desired, will make up lists and write advertisements, provided the amount desired to be expended is named. We have had a wide experience, and can suggest lines of papers best adapted to the wants of an advertiser.

We keep constantly supplied with the newest styles of type best adapted to the display of advertisements. Send us your copy and we will return with estimate a proof from type without extra charge.

Our organization for correctly following an advertisement in the newspapers is perfect, and our patrons can be assured that correct work from every publisher will be exacted.

To any advertiser entitled to credit, or any one who can furnish us proper references, we will extend any reasonable line of credit. Publishers pay us a commission for all the business we send them, and any advertiser can be assured of obtaining through us lower prices than can be obtained from publishers direct. In no instance do we charge advertisers any addition to publishers' rates.

Edwin Alden & Bro.,

N.W. Cor. 5th & Vine Sts., CINCINNATI

140 Nassau Street, NEW YORK.

Newspaper Advertising Agents.

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that not only is all possible kinds of Woolen Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Enamel Cards, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Diagrams, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.

They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc., Fly Sheets and sizes given above. No other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Colored Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and Directions. Colored Cabinet Photo. as sample, on a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS, GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE.

For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

mar6134

The Ministers' and Teachers' Bible.

This magnificent Parlor Bible is imported from London and is interoned as The Best by the leading Bishops of England. In addition to the Old and New Testaments it contains a Concordance of Bible Words 40,000 References with Context! An Encyclopedia, A Dictionary of Proper Names, with Pronunciation, 18 full page colored Maps. Poetry, Music, Ethnology, Plants, Animals, and Jewish sects of this Bible, etc. "Superior to all others."—N.Y. Times. "A complete Biblical Encyclopedia."—London Times. This Bible is bound in French morocco, gilt edge, with silk book-mark, and has copious references. Rev. Eli Mitton, Norwalk, O., writes "The Bibles received to-day I am more than pleased." A Special Effort to rapidly introduce this Bible in America we will, for a limited time only, send one copy, post-paid, to any address on receipt of only $2.00! $3 Or two copies and one copy of Revised New Testament for $3.00! Other Bibles, with less matter, sell for $12. $20 Illustrations. $30 AGENTS WANTED! Circulars FREE.

C. S. MAYO & CO., 160 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

jan31-26teow

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK.

No preparation and only a common pen needed. Established 50 Years. Superior and popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial Medal & Diploma. Sold everywhere.

jan29-26t-ow

AGENTS COIN MONEY who sell Dr. CHASE'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN. Price $2.00. Write for Circular. Address, A. W. HAMILTON & Co., Ann Arbor, Mich.

jan27-3m

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.

Sixty Addresses by American Educators Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.

8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.

32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON,

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

sept25-6m

E. W. Scheffel,

GENERAL

Book-Binder,

Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.

37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.

Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books e-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—

WASHINGTON

—TO—

BALTIMORE, PHILADELPHIA, and NEW YORK.

THE ONLY LINE WITH

Pullman Sleeping Cars

—FROM—

Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington

—TO—

WASHINGTON WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Lonisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 30 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	8 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 n m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	7 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 n m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 20 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Lonisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond

No. 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m. Old Point 11 10 a m. Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH Gen'l Manager.

H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—

Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, New York and the East,

In Connection with the

"Great Jackson Route,"

Makes the following

FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12 20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS FROM ODIN

To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,

To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis off-ers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY, President and General Manager.

W. B. SHATTUC, General Passenger Agent.

Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives:
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:30 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. H. Rankin, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; C. P. Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.

aug5-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. KANKAKEE LINE 4

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankako, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant Reclining Chair Cars through without change, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Conpon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

☞ See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav. Pass. Ag't., Wilmore, Ky.

JOHN EGAN, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG J Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..	9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1. 7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....	7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3. 9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..	5:30 p.m	Express No. 5. 8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Offices: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY, General Southern Passenger Agent.

J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY Ticket Agent

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket, management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE

—TO—

Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,

And the Short Line to

Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.

The Direct Route to

Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

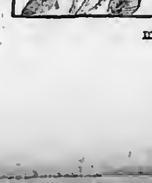
Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Padnesh	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.

Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen Pass. Agt. Louisville, Ky.



ARE YOU GOING TO

KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route, mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD, Kansas City, Mo.

Or H. D. WILLIS, Ticket Agent, 31 Madison street, Memphis Tenn.

ROSES, 12 for $1.00. GERANIUMS, 12 for $1.

Also all other kinds of plants. Send for beautifully illustrated catalogue to Thos. McBeth, Springfield, Ohio.

mar12 4t

General News Items.

There are 10,000 teetotalers employed on the British railways.

Ex-Congressman Joseph Grinnel is dead, aged ninety-seven.

The total cost of the Greeley relief expedition was $759,000.

Rumors have reached Cairo that 2,000 men were massacred at Khartoum.

The residence of Mr. Gladstone at Hawarden has been placed under special police protection.

Girls under fourteen have formed a society in Concord, N. H., for benevolent and charitable purposes.

Houma, La., is to have a moss factory and thus employment for more citizens.

New York's directory contains 300,029 names, which indicate a population of 1,500,145.

Great Brittain.—The marriage of the Princess Beatrice to Prince Henry of Battenburg, is announced.

A number of young men in the Highlands are forming a party to colonize in Texas; leaving Boston next month.

The financial statement of the New Orleans Exposition submitted to President Arthur shows a deficiency of $319,000.

Austria has no consuls on the Congo or Niger. The German Consuls have meanwhile been authorized to act for Austria.

Both branches of the Arkansas legislature have passed a resolution requesting Congress to open the Oklahoma lands to settlement.

Gladstone's 75th Birthday was celebrated at Hawarden, England, Dec. 29. Birthday greetings reached the great leader from all parts of the empire.

The Odd Fellows of Louisville had their Thanksgiving Sermon Sunday, Mar 1st, 1885, at Center Street church at 3 o'clock, delivered by Rev. E. H. Curry, and assisted by the pastor in charge.

It is estimated that people in New Hampshire have deposits in Massachusetts saving banks to the amount of $10,000,000, which if put in home institutions would increase the public fund $10,000.

Mr. S. I. Dasyit Tax Collector of Terrebonne parish, says collections compare favorably with other years.

A correspondence took place recently between Gov. Cleveland and the Civil Service Reform League. In answer to a letter from the League, the President elect assures them that he will maintain the principles of their declaration, in so far as they are the law of the country. He declares his intention of removing some incumbents, who were appointed "solely on partisan grounds." He closes by saying: "But many now holding positions have forfeited all just claim to retention, because they have used their places for party purposes in disregard to their duty to the people, and because, instead of being decent public servants, they have proved themselves offensive partisans and unscrupulous manipulators of local party management.

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

An official note from Turkey has been received which declares that England denies having made an agreement with Italy as to the occupation of Egyptian points, and that Turkey has requested Italy to withdraw her troops from the Red Sea.

Rhyme and Reason: If you can not keep quiet, because your cough makes a riot, there's something, pray try it, a quarter will buy it; be quick about it; don't be without it; your cough, this will route it; I beg you not doubt it; to the world I would shout it. Oh yes, you guess! Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is perfectly harmless to the child, softens the gums, reduces all inflammation, will relieve wind colic, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

apr2-17-1y.

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

TRADE MARK

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no douching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours at a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces, from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Edw. Heath, DEALER IN Wall Paper,

Cocoa and Canton Matting, Rugs, Mats, Upholsterer's Materials, Window Shades, Cornices, and Curtain Goods,

Frames, Mouldings, Mirrors, Plates, Wire Screens, Etc.

75 Camp Street.....New Orleans.

Liberal discount to the trade. Samples of WALL PAPER sent on application. oct9 6m

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolsen, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Bowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. R. Lyman,	U. Marioni,	Chas. H. Dolsen,	John Calder,	A. H. Steward
S. O. Coulon,	Harry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Louis Delery,	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
R. F. W. Beckman,	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Fiske
Chas E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South. oct9 1y

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain FOR $4.20.

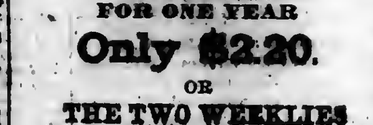
Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The subscription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,



by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

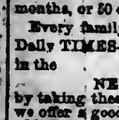
Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

202.....Rampart Street.....202

(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)



NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.

All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.

sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine. feb19-26t

MILLERS and FARMERS send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Finest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. Dalgach & Bro. Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga.

may22-1y

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez Street.

LAFAYETTE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 8 p m, and 7:30 p m; Class-meeting, Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Prytania streets, Rev. J. J. Kiefe pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Verret Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 a m, 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. R. C. Bailey, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 8 p. m. 7 p. m. Sunday school at 2 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 43 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 9 a m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m; Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every Month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting, 9 a. m, Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Plum street. Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F. Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1426 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. P. C. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—8 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Foot street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayder, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 8:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m, Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

J. E. OGILVIE—Teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music. Also tunes and repairs pianos and organs at reasonable rates. Residence, 39 South Johnson Street.

Guizot's CELEBRATED ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF France

REDUCED IN COST from $33.00 to $8.00, or comparing contents fairly, from $49.50 to $8.00, for the only other American edition of GUIZOT comes down TO The French Revolution, only, and is continued to Napoleon III. by MARTIN, and $49.50 is the published price of the two works. THIS ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY EDITION covers from the earliest times to 1848, is written by M. GUIZOT, Prime Minister of France, and completed from his notes by his daughter, Madame GUIZOT DE WITT. It is published in 8 volumes, small octavo, printed from the type shown by these lines, contains the 426 Illustrations, mostly full-page, of the imported edition, is bound in tasteful Library style, dark green cloth, beveled boards, gilt tops. Price of the set, only $8.00 by express, or, sent prepaid for $9.60.

"There is only ONE DRAWBACK. . . it seems more like getting a present than making a purchase. Guizot is the most brilliant of French historians, as well as the most to be relied upon. He is the Macaulay of the history of France; his style and treatment are philosophical, didactic, rich in detail, dramatic in arrangement. His narrative is full of emotion, like a quick stream; his characters rise before us as in the flesh; they are men and women, not historic lay figures. It is as charming as any romance, and the interest is permanent. It is a work to keep and read and re-read for years."—Dominion Churchman, Toronto, Canada.

"In ENGLISH, at least, original or translated, we have NO WORK of French history that CAN APPROACH IT. We can name no work that gives the complete history, and gives it from the pen of a master, that can be thought of as a rival to the mammoth production of Guizot. How Mr. Alden can give the eight volumes, and this on good paper, and clear type, including the multitude of illustrations, is a thing we have CIPHERED over, but we fail to understand it. The first volume gives substantially the beginnings of French history. It is of necessity the dullest of the eight, yet with Guizot even logarithms would be readable."—Christian Leader, Boston, Mass.

"The MARVELOUS CHEAPNESS of these profusely illustrated and handsomely bound volumes must provoke comment everywhere. Each volume is easily worth $2.00, according to the standard of prices asked. This is the only complete American edition of this work, which is known as the best popular history of France."—Journal, Indianapolis, Ind.

"In the reproduction of this work the publisher has outdone all previous efforts, and has given us a MARVEL of EXCELLENCE, in every respect, at a marvel of cheapness."—Christian at Work, New York.

Hundred-Page Catalogue, free, descriptive of the best books of the world, at the lowest prices ever known, together with terms upon which books are sent for examination before payment, to any one on application. Address, and make checks, drafts, or money orders, payable to JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, P. O. Box, 1227. 393 Pearl Street, New York.

COUPON—50 CENTS.

This Coupon, together with $7.50 in cash, will be received, if sent within 10 days from the date of paper in which it appears (mention name of paper), in full payment for GUIZOT'S FRANCE above described. This small extra inducement is simply to secure your prompt response, and indicate the advertising mediums from which responses come.

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
26 inches	175 lbs	325 lbs	$45 00
28 "	225 lbs	375 lbs	55 00
32 "	350 lbs	550 lbs	80 00
36 "	550 lbs	800 lbs	120 00
40 "	750 lbs	1050 lbs	160 00
44 "	1000 lbs	1350 lbs	200 00
48 "	1360 lbs	1800 lbs	260 00
54 "	2000 lbs	2600 lbs	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	100 lbs	$18 00
20 inches	130 lbs	18 00
24 inches	190 lbs	25 00

☞ We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

☞ The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

☞ On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. PUBLIC PRIZES PRESENTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

mar5-1y

MENEELY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N. Y.

nov23-1yr

McSHANE BELL FOUNDRY

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address

HENRY McSHANE & CO.

oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

Baltimore Church Bells

Since 1844 unrivaled for Superiority over others, are made only of Purest Bell Metal (Copper and Tin.) Rotary Mountings, warranted satisfactory. For Prices, Circulars, &c., address BALTIMORE BELL FOUNDRY, J. REGESTER & SONS, Baltimore, Md.

mar26-26t-eow

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY

SUCCESSORS IN BELLS TO THE BUCKEYE MANUFACTURING CO.

CATALOGUE 1500 TESTIMONIALS

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO.

july3-26teow

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramp-Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," for the health of home and amusement of the little ones.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

apr1-1y

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic

Liver & Kidney Balm,

The Most Wonderful

LIVER AND KIDNEY CURE

In the World.

Will relieve and cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, such as Inflammation, Feverish Irritation of the Bladder, Weakness & Pains in the Back, Catarrh of the Bladder, Stone in the Bladder, Female Troubles, Bright's Disease, Melancholy, Impotency, Debility, Jaundice, or any derangement of the Liver or Kidneys.

KIDNEYS, LIVER OR BLADDER.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT!

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's HOMŒOPATHIC LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM will cure you.

We have thousands of certificates, but add only two:

H. C. Hicks, Lloyds, W. Va., says: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm cured me of Nervous Prostration of five years' standing."

Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Toronto, Canada, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm have completely cured me of derangement of the natural functions."

Price $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Pillets.

They are little white pillets, size of a pin head, but they perform wonders in cleansing the Bowels. When the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys are in an unhealthy condition, there is generated Bacteria (Animalculæ), which if not destroyed produce various forms of organic disease. Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets will destroy and remove these terrible diseases, all troubles of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs, restoring the natural vigor to all deranged parts of their natural functions, and taken with Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Balm, has cured thousands of cases of Bright's Disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposit, Irritation of the Bowels, Costiveness, Colic, Gravel, Renal Stones, Thick, Turbid, Frothy Urine, Pains in the Region of the Liver and Kidneys, Piles, also loss of nervous power. One of these little pillets taken every night before going to bed will produce an easy evacuation of the bowels and bring the natural functions into a healthy and regular condition.

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets cost 25 cents each vial, and can be sent by mail. One dozen for $2.00.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Send For My Free Catalogue of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Own, Selected Field, Farm, Garden & Flower Seeds

jan1-6m

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

LUNGS

Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Influenza, and all such Throat Troubles yield instantly to its magical and soothing influence.

For Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Asthma and Consumption, Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only remedy that will give sure relief. It has cured Lung Diseases where all other remedies have failed. Why will you suffer from Throat and Lung Troubles when such a pleasant remedy is offered you? For Croup it is a positive specific. For Singers and Speakers the TAR WINE BALM is an absolute necessity. Nothing has ever been discovered which will give such immediate relief, and it will positively cure Throat Troubles. DON'T DELAY.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

Those whose Lungs and Throats are sore, head sore, dry, will realize the soothing effect of a single dose of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, and we give all doubting skeptics a chance to be assured of its wonderful soothing and miraculous virtues, by putting up Trial Bottles, costing only 25 cents per bottle. Any dealer in the United States should have them. If they have not, please ask them to send for a dozen as a trial. Every one buying that 25-cent size will be convinced of the miraculous benefits they will receive from it.

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

Cold in your Head, tickling in the nose, forehead sore, throat, you have Catarrh; get a box of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Catarrh Snuff and use it once a day, besides using Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm to heal your Throat and Lungs.

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

I can send them only by Express. If you will send me $1.00 or that amount in postage-stamps, I will send you one dozen, freight paid.

Large Bottles, which contain six times as much as the 25-cent size Bottles - - - $1 00

Or six Bottles for - - - - - 5 00

After using Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, let me hear from you. Prepared by

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

WONDERFUL STRENGTHENING CORDIAL AND BLOOD PURIFIER, which has rescued thousands upon thousands from the grave, giving them nerve, vital life, strength and pure blood.

"I would not take $100 for the benefit one bottle has given me. I. COOPER, St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. Towell, Dudley, Ill., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm is the only medicine which gives me relief. I have had Bronchitis for many years."

T. J. Phillips, Reed, Miss., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm gives the greatest satisfaction here. It has no equal for coughs, colds, etc., and is surely a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of letters come to me, all proclaiming the miraculous merits of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

STERNBERGER'S Folding Dress Pillow.

Stemberger's Folding DRESS PILLOW. CLOSED. OPEN.

folds into one-twentieth of its size when closed and weighs but two pounds.

Perfection, Durability, Simplicity.

The Folding Dress Pillow is simply perfect. Can be folded in a second and put anywhere. We guarantee one pillow to outwear a dozen old style stuffed sham pillows. Housekeepers buy them on sight.

Reliable AGENTS Wanted in Every Town.

$2.00 PER PAIR.

delivered on receipt of price.

On Frank A. Hall, 200 Canal St., New York. Fred. Walpert & Co., 28 N. Gay St., Baltimore, and Furniture Dealers Generally.

On Frank A. Hall, 200 Canal St., New York. On John P. Fowler, 233 State St., Chicago, Ill.

THE PIQUA M'F'G CO., Piqua, Ohio,

mar26-4teow

MASON & HAMLIN

Exhibited at ALL the important WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVE EXHIBITIONS FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS, Mason & Hamlin Organs have, after most rigid examinations and competitions, been ALWAYS FOUND BEST, and AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS; not even in one such important comparison has any other Organ been found equal to them. ONE HUNDRED STYLES, adapted to all uses, from the smallest size, yet having the characteristic Mason & Hamlin excellence, at $22, to the best instrument which it is possible to construct from reeds, at $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues, 46 pp. 4to, and price lists, free.

ORGANS

The Mason & Hamlin Company manufacture UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, adding to all the improvements which have been found valuable in such instruments, one of peculiar practical value, tending to greatest purity and refinement in quality of tone and durability, especially diminished liability to get out of tune. Pronounced the greatest improvement made in upright pianos for half a century. The MASON & HAMLIN CO. pledge themselves that every piano of their make shall illustrate that VERY HIGHEST EXCELLENCE which has always characterized their organs. Send for circular with illustrations, full description and explanation.

PIANOS

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,

BOSTON, 154 Tremont St. CHICAGO, 149 Wabash Ave.

NEW YORK, 46 East 14th St. (Union Square.)

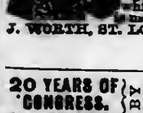
oct22-26t

CATARRH

Send 50 cts. and symptoms for Trial Treatment, to last 20 days, by mail post-paid. Which will convince the most incredulous that Dr. Brockington positively and permanently cures at small expense, by a pleasant treatment, the worst cases of Catarrh, though the bones of the nose have become affected, causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption. No Snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Over 7000 cases cured. The best internal treatment ever discovered for this dangerous disease. Address DR. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 239 FOURTH AVENUE, LOUISVILLE, KY.

oct2-1yr

FITS



A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.

From AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE.

"Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician, simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 30 years' standing cured by him. He certainly is a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York

feb7-13

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.

jan22 26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. BY JAMES G. BLAINE

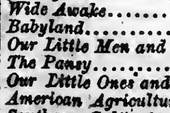
1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once. The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30-52t

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured!! Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

feb26-13t



OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN. Jefferson, Wis.

mar5-52t

WANTED A WOMAN

of sense, energy and respectability for our business in her locality, middle-aged preferred. SALARY $84 to $250. Reference exchanged. GAY BROS., 14 Barclay St., N. Y.

ma.19-8t

CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL

"A TYPE OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER."

PRESERVING, RESTORING AND Beautifying the Complexion. For Removing Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Pimples, Blotches, Redness, &c.

OPINIONS OF NOTED LADIES.

LOTTA—It is the best preparation for the face that I ever used. I now use no other.

CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG—It gives me pleasure to add my name to the list of ladies who recommend your "Liquid Pearl," and express the satisfaction it affords me.

The LIQUID PEARL has been recognized by the ladies of all countries with the highest marks of appreciation. Only 50 cents a bottle, sold by all Druggists & Perfumers. CHAMPLIN & CO., Props., Boston, Mass.

dec26-26teom

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES, A. D. 60. LESSON II. April 12. Acts xxvii. 27, 44, Paul's shipwreck. Golden Text, Psa. 107, 28.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Paul's shipwreck; Acts 27, 27, 44.
Tu.—Paul relates his persecutions; 2 Cor. 11, 16 23.
W.—The safety of Christians; Luke 21, 5 19.
Th.—Give thanks always; Eph. 5, 1, 21.
F.—The source of boldness; Heb. 10, 19 39.
Sat.—Israel's protection secured; Psa. 3, 1 8.
Sun.—The power of God; Psa. 107, 21, 43.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. The Night of danger, v. 27 32.
What was discovered on the fourteenth night?
What was done to save the ship?
What did the sailors do?
What was the warning of Paul?
What was done by the soldiers?
2. The need of meat, v. 33 38.
What did Paul advise?
What did he promise the company?
What did Paul do himself?
What effect did his action have?
How many persons were in the ship?
3. The narrow escape, v. 39 44.
What did the day reveal?
What became of the vessel?
What was the purpose of the soldiers?
What prevented its accomplishment?
What became of the company?

PRACTICAL TEACHING.

How does this lesson illustrate—
1. The cruelty of selfishness?
2. The consideration of love?
3. The fulfillment of prophesy? (verses 22 26.)

Doctrinal suggestion—The providence of God.

The fact that a large nose indicates shrewdness, but we say a red nose and a hacking cough indicates the need of a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Marriages.

At the residence of the bride's mother, in Pontotoc, Miss., March 17, 1885, Mr. Wesley Ransom and Miss Maggie Stuart, Rev. E. H. S. Ferguson officiating. We wish them joy, health, prosperity and bright days of gaiety to crown their future days.
B. H. S. FERGUSON.

In Natchitoches, La., Thursday, March [illegible], 1885, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. Irving Robertson and Miss Lucy Hallow[illegible]
John Wills and Miss Mar[illegible] were joined holy wedlock Feb. [illegible], 1885.

Obituary.

Mrs. Addie Woods, one of the oldest members of Wesley Chapel, Methodist Church, died March 11, 1885. She was [illegible] of age.

Samuel Bavan, of Murfreesboro, died Feb. 4, 1885. His way was [illegible] blood appeared to obstruct [illegible] faculties of his vision.

Mr. Henry, a resident of New Orleans, died March 11, 1885.

Daisy Ann Graham departed this life in Mansfield, Tenn., Jan. 29, 1885. Mrs. Moody died at Mansfield, Tenn., [illegible] 1885. Mrs. Mary Wasson died at [illegible]ville, Tenn., March 11, 1885.
J. SUMMERHILL.

Buchanon departed this life [illegible], in Cookaville, Tenn.

Verrie West died in Cookaville, Jan. 11, 1885.

Missey Bellberry died in [illegible] Feb. 2, 1885.

Mrs. [illegible], wife of the Rev. J. R. [illegible], died [illegible] 1885, [illegible] Mar. 1885, Carmen Mar[illegible]

[illegible] union continued prosperously for 9 years, she shared in the joys and sorrows of all her husband's appointments as traveling preacher. Four children were born to them. She died in peace and fellowship of the Gospel, in the high noon of life and expectation, on June 6, 1884, and Bro. Carnes said the light and joy of his home had gone out. She was converted during a revival and joined the Methodist Episcopal church in Lockhart, Texas, of which church Rev. Mack Henson was pastor, in 1879. Sister Carnes was soon followed by little Jimmie, and now our brother mourns the loss of both his wife and son. May the Gospel which he preaches comfort him abundantly.
J. T. GIBBONS.

Eugene Watson, an esteemed member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Giddings, Lee county, Texas, departed this life, in great peace, speaking many words of encouragement to his family and friends, Feb. 2, 1885. He rests in the hope and peace which is born of a Christian life.

Willie, son of Rev. S. Gates, died at his home in Austin, Texas, January 31, 1885, after a lingering illness.

Books and Current Literature.

Messrs. Lee and Shepard announce for immediate publication one of the most important works o the age, "Evolution and Christianity;" or an answer to the Development of Modern Times, by Benjamin E. Tefft, D. D., LL. D., with an introductory letter by Bishop Simpson. In a handsome volume of over 500 pp., bound in English cloth, $1.50. Bishop Simpson, in a letter to the author: "I am much pleased to learn that you have been engaged in preparing a work on Evolution and Christianity, answering the scientific objections of modern times. I shall look for its appearance with great interest; for I know well your qualifications for such a work, from your life-long studies, and from your polished style. I think such a work ought to have a very large circulation. Very many minds have been affected by the superficial statements of evolutionists, and they have had neither time nor opportunity to conduct the requisite investigations for the removal of wrong impressions. Allow me to say, that I wish you great success in your labor, and a very wide circulation for your book.

Bishop Wiley: "Your work ought to have, and I think will have, a very large circulation, for the times demand it."

Miss Frances E. Willard: "His work on Evolution, the magnum opus of his studious life, and result of twenty years of work, is soon to be published by Lee and Shepard. . . . I believe it will be the high-water mark of American thought upon that fertile theme. . . . Dr. Tefft has no superior among the men of culture whom I have met."

Rev. Prof. M'Cabe, D. D., LL. D.: "I shall hail the coming of your Evolution. The religious world needs it; and I believe it will receive a liberal reception from the public."

Rev. Abel Stevens, D. D., LL. D.: "Glad to hear of your new work. I know of no better faith than our old one, Christ Jesus, who is 'all in all' to us, as to our fathers."

Lee and Shepard, publishers, "Old [illegible]ock, 10 Milk street, Boston.

General R. E. Colston, late Bey on the general staff of the Egyptian army, contributes the article on the Soudan—"The Land of the False Prophet"—to the current number of The Century Magazine, had an "open letter" in the September Century, 1884, in which he predicted that the fall of Khartoum, the [illegible] hope for Gordon's safety lay in his being captured and held for ransom. In a recent private letter to the editors of The Century, General Colston says: "What would but Wolseley give now to have his forces once more concentrated at Korti! That will never be; and I fear much that Wolseley himself will never get back. The Bedouin tribes four hundred miles north of him can interrupt all his communications even below Koroskо, and virtually besiege him; and it matters little whether he is confined to a space of a hundred square miles or one square mile in a country which affords nothing for the subsistence of an army. Baker, besieged at Abu Klea, eating his camels, short of water, transportation, and ammunition, is doomed. At least, these are the probabilities of war, as [illegible] that our [illegible] to make the best [illegible] possible. The British are paying very dearly for underrating the enemy's skill as well as pluck. Graham, it is said, will have 8,000 men at Suakim by the 9th of March. I will never march ten miles beyond, in my opinion."

The April Wide Awake has a harbinger frontispiece suggestive of spring and new grass and apple-blossoms. The short stories are always choice; this month they are especially charming. The serials are remarkably good; a crisis nears in both "Down the Ravine" and "In Leisler's Times." Mrs. Fremont gives a delightful "Souvenir" of Mrs. Madison, the wife of President Madison, and of Mrs. Alexander Hamilton. There are other poems, pictures, papers and jingles too numerous to mention. Wide Awake is $3.00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co. Publishers. Boston.

We have advanced pages of Gospel Light a new singing book by Emma Pitt, Baltimore, Md. Price 35 cents in board covers, $30. per 100. Also specimen pages of Fresh Flowers by the the same author. $2 40 per dozen.

Methodism and the Centennial of American Independence; or the Loyal and Liberal services of the Methodist Episcopal Church during the first century of the history of the United States, by Rev. E. M. Wood, Ph. D. 16 mo, 414 pps. Price $1 75. This is a neat 12 mo which, like all Dr. Wood's ventures does the work undertaken with evidences of close attention to the subject and a well defined objective. He is a pleasant writer, a thorough Methodist and in this work shows not only the learned but the loyal church loving Methodist as well. The book was issued in 1876 and by this time the reading public has been able to attest its appreciation by the patronage given which we learn has been quite satisfying to the author.

Sermon Sketches.

REV. W. D. GODMAN.

Easter Sunday.

Theme—The Resurrection of the Lord.

Text—Matt. 28, 5-6: "And the angel answered and said unto the woman, Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here, for he is risen as he said; come see the place where the Lord lay."

Introduction—We are in the last watch of the nineteenth century since the child Jesus was born. His birth, death and resurrection have engaged more impassioned thought and profound inquiry than, perhaps, all other subjects of investigation among men. The day reminds us of his triumphant resurrection. Glorious theme for a redeemed race! He "hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead." 1 Peter, 1 3. Thoughts of gladness come with this anniversary.

Let us [illegible] the value of the resurrection of Christ to the Christian faith:

1. It is safe to trust the promises and instructions of a good man who has conquered death. We cannot make serious mistakes in following him. (a) He that has risen from the dead will defeat him that has the power of death, even the devil. Heb. 2, 4. (b) He that has risen from the dead knows the grave and the beyond; he can enlighten us. Rom. 8; 34 30.

2. Christ's resurrection is made a prophecy and a promise of our resurrection. 1 Cor. 6, 14; 15, 12 22.

3. It is likewise made a pattern of ours. Phil. 3, 21.

4. Then let our faith take new strength from to-day. Let us rejoice evermore."

"The Flying Hoosier."

"The Flying Hoosier" is a new train on the Kankakee & Seneca line of the C. I. St. L. & C. Ry. (Big Four.) This train leaves Cincinnati at 12:35 p. m., standard time, daily except Sunday, and has elegant day coach attached which runs through without change from Cincinnati to Davenport, Ia., via Kankakee and Seneca, arriving at Davenport at 5:10 a. m. next morning. At Davenport passengers can step into another car (either Passenger Coach or Pullman Sleeper, on same train, thus making no change of trains to Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids, Spirit Lake, Albert Lea, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

No line makes quicker time or has fewer changes.

This is the Short Route between Cincinnati and Rock Island, Davenport, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, etc.

Remember the above train is in addition to the two through trains of the "Kankakee Line" which run to Chicago connecting there for all points West and Northwest.

If you are going West or Northwest call on or address,

GRANT K. LOWRY,
Traveling Passr. Agt. Wilmore, Ky.
W. H. PAGE,
Traveling Passr. Agt. 4th and Vine Sts., Cincinnati, O.

The residences of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, are as follows:

Conference Notices.

Notice.

To the members of the Gulf District, Mississippi Conference—The first session for 1885 will convene in Moss Point, Miss., April 23d, at 9 o'clock a. m., in the M. E. Church. A full attendance is desired. Ministers and delegates coming over the Illinois Central Railroad, will purchase return tickets at the various stations between Jackson and New Orleans at excursion rates. The Bishop and others are invited to be present.

W. McDONALD.
Brookhaven, Miss., April 2. 1885.

Notice.

The Huntsville District Conference will convene March 14, 1885, at Orange, Texas. I desire each pastor to find out how much each member and friend will give this year to help raise the million dollars called for by the Missionary Society. Any one who gives a dollar or more the pastor will please send his or her name to Rev. C. C. McCabe, Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 805 Broadway, New York.

EDWARD LEE, P. E.
Navasota, Texas.

Waco District—West Texas Conference.

Second Round.

Majors	Apr.	4- 5
Kosse, Long Branch	"	10-11
Marlin, Big Creek	"	18-19
Marlin ct., Moreaville	"	25-26
East Waco, East Waco	May	2- 3
Waco Mission, New Zion	"	9-10
Waco, St. James	"	16-17
Groesbeck, Mount Zion	"	23-24
Mexia, Dancyville	"	30-31
Hubbard, Antioch	Jnne	2- 3
Whiting Hill, West Point	"	6- 7
Milford, Chambers Creek	"	13-14
Dallas, St. Paul	"	20 21
Denison, Pilot Point	"	27 28

The brethren will please clip this notice and preserve it, and remember I will be at the above-named places on Friday preceding each quarterly conference, unless otherwise ordered.

W. H. DAVIS, P. E.

Church Extension—Texas Conference.

To the preachers and presiding elders of the Texas Annual Conference:

At the last meeting of the Board of Church Extension of the Texas Annual Conference the following resolution was passed, and the Secretary directed to have it published in the SOUTHWESTERN:

Whereas, We have plans for the erection of churches cheap, nice and appropriate, and our Corresponding Secretary at Philadelphia agrees to furnish catalogues showing the plans to those desiring to build, free of charge, plans same price to all; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board shall require charges hereafter, in all cases when building and making out applications for aid, to order and build by some one of the plans.

H. WEBB, P. E., Pres't.
F. PARKER, Secretary.

New Orleans District—Louisiana Conference.

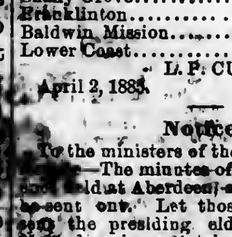
Second Round.

Ames Chapel	May	6-10
Algiers	"	10
Simpson Chapel	"	7-10
Sixth Street	"	13-17
White's Church	"	14
Clinton Street	"	15-17
Union Chapel	"	19 24
Thomson's Chapel	"	21-24
Barracks	"	20
Pearl River	"	27-28
Madeville	"	30-31
Green Chapel	June	3- 7
Zion	"	5- 7
Camp Parapet	"	7
Gretna	"	11
Third Street	"	10 14
Wesley Chapel	"	11-14
La Harpe	"	18-21
Pleasant Plains	"	19-21
Springfield	"	27-28
Shady Grove	July	3- 5
Franklinton	"	10-12
Baldwin Mission	"	18-19
Lower Coast	"	25-26

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.
April 2, 1885.

Notice.

To the ministers of the Mississippi Conference—The minutes of our late conference held at Aberdeen are now ready to be sent out. Let those who have not sent the presiding elders the money, $1.25, do so immediately.



J. M. SHUMPERT, Sec'y.
Columbus, Miss., March, 1885.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

Constant consumers of BIDGE'S FOOD will find the $1.25 the most economical size to buy. Druggists should keep it, but if you cannot procure this size of your Druggist send the amount with full address to Woolrich & Co., Palmer, Mass., and they will forward a can, express paid.

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment," "Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1yeow

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great Tropical and Polar Expeditions, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. "Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Pict. Circulars. HISTORICAL Pub. Co., Philadelphia, Pa.
feb19-13t

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE, April 4, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9⅛; Middling —@10⅜; Good Middling, —@10⅞ Middling fair, 11 3-16.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5⅛@5⅝; White clarified, 5⅝@5¾; Common 4⅛@4⅜c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4½ fair, 5⅛@5⅜; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western. 20@22.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.35.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 4.70; Choice, 4.20; Family, 3.75.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 82½; Fine, $1.02½.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $1.90@2.50; sweet potatoes, $2@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $4.25@——; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.50@$5.50; cabbages, $3.00@$3.25 per crate; sour kront, $4.50@5.00 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $12.90.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10½; shoulders, 5½@5¾; sides, short rib, 6⅞; sides, long clear, 6½; hams, sugar-cured, 10½@11c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6½; clear sides, 6½; shoulders, 4.6@4.8.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3,00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@$5; turkeys $12.@15.00.

Western Eggs 13@14c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 15@—c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@ 75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $5.00 @$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.00@3.50; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5.00, turkeys $22.00@24.00.

Rev. Philander Perry, pastor Baptist church, Coldbrook, Mass., writes: "After the best medical treatment had failed, Parker's Tonic cured me of dangerous congestive spasms of the stomach and bowels. From which I had suffered indescribably. It has no reaction. Capital for clergymen who feel dull and overworked."

—Prima Fitzbutler is ill of pleuropneumonia.

TRUE ECONOMY.

Every one must practice true economy to succeed in life. But it is no economy to buy "shoddy" articles: bad Flour, bad Butter and and bad food of any kind are not economical to use at any price: a thousand times worse is a "shoddy" medicine that pretends to cure, but makes the patient worse.

As the best food is the cheapest because it is nutritious and strengthening to the whole system, even in small quantities, so is a pure medicine, which cures every time, given in small doses: therefore always keep in mind these Ten Solid Facts.

There is more real solid cure in one bottle of HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY, for the diseases it is prepared for than in a barrel of the so-called cures that does in 20 to 30 drops.

It cures restores, regulates and invigorates the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary organs, creates a marvelous appetite and rebuilds the entire system, and it is "Never known to fail."

It will prevent as well as cure Malaria, Fevers and Rheumatism and all diseases which come from impure blood. Keep the fountain and the springs that supply it, pure, and the stream flowing therefrom will be healthful and life-giving.

Special and interesting case of Bright's disease described on second page of our Banner Book.

HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY purifies the Blood, thereby keeping the Kidneys, Liver, Stomach, Bladder and Urinary organs vigorous with life and action, causing them to free the system from the poisonous waste which brings disease and death.

It reaches the seat of the disease at once—removes the cause—stimulates and assists the functions of the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary organs.

Save your health by using HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY, as millions will not recompense the loss of the priceless boon. It will cure Female Weakness, and prevent monthly suffering.

Correspondence freely answered by our Consulting Physician at this office.

The largest sales are at the home of the medicine, where it is best known it is used most exclusively and prescribed by 75 physicians. What better endorsement could be offered.

PRICE $1.25 PER BOTTLE.

Hunt's Remedy Co.
Providence, R. I.

TOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore. Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3 00; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.
FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

GET A
BEAUTIFUL TIN-TYPE
Of Yourself for 25 Cents,
AT THE
World's Centennial Tin-Type Gallery,
No. 12 EXCHANGE PLACE,
(Three Doors from Canal)
GROTESQUE CARICATURES
A Feature in itself. 25 Cents Each.
[Patent Right secured for the city of New Orleans]
VIGNETTE CAMEOS,
For Lockets, Pins and Velvet Cases, $1.
jan22-3m

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
apr2-52t

AGENTS WANTED for "Twenty Years of Congress, 1861—1881, by James G. Blaine." Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." Agents make from $200 to $1000 per month. Address, The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.
ap19 tf

PURIFY THE BLOOD

BAD BLOOD, SCROFULOUS, Inherited and Contagious Humors, with Loss of Hair, Glandular Swellings, Ulcerous Patches in the Throat and Mouth, Abscesses, Tumors Carbuncles, Blotches, Sores, Scurvy, Wasting of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, Dropsy, Enemia, Debility, Chronic Rheumatism, Constipation and Piles and most diseases arising from an Impure or Impoverished Condition of the Blood, are speedily cured by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Blood Purifier, internally, assisted by CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally. CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the only blood purifier that forever eradicates the virus of Inherited and Contagious Blood Poisons.

Sold everywhere. Price: CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1.00. Prepared by POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "How to cure Blood Humors."

CHRISTIAN
MEN and WOMEN are Wanted
AS AGENTS
For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the
JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.
4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.
Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.
Jerome B. Names & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.
The work is heartily recommended.
mar5-39t

J. L. WIMBY & CO.,
GENERAL
Commission Merchants
—AND—
Cotton Factors.
180 Common Street, [Room 4 Kenner Block]
[P. O. Box 2435] New Orleans, La.
Particular attention paid to the Purchase of Supplies.
All orders will be filled to the exact amount of cash sent or produce consigned.
Remit money by Postal Order, Registered Letter or draft.
All letters of inquiry must enclose stamp for return postage.
jan15-3m

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.
By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.
WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.
Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.
Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager,)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
20.....Toulouse Street,.....20
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments, when received. Correspondence solicited.
No transactions on Sundays. sept25-1y

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown
51 Austerlitz Street,
NEW ORLEANS LA.
OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.
mar19-3m

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov23-1y

HEADQUARTERS
—FOR—
Sunday-school Supplies
Consisting of
GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.
Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.
Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $3 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock
W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94.....Camp Street,.....94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

Pianos & Organs
Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address
JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 16. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, APRIL 16, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 805.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

32 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $2.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $3; to Pastors, $2. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are Authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (12 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cash

Editorial Notes.

And thus shall ye again with joy appear,
A fruitful, prosperous and increasing seed,
And multiply your strength from year to year,
As Jacob's flocks were multiplied of old;
Nor summer's scorching heat, nor winter's cold
Shall e'er his sleepless vigilance impair;
Proof of his depths of yearning love unfold,
Which taught him neither toil nor life to spare,
For you, his darling flock, his treasure and his care.

Bishop Taylor has been making an evangelistic tour over Liberia, with his usual success. Let prayers continue to ascend for his continued success.

The Liberia Conference appointments, with other matters of great importance, will be found in our special correspondence with Bishop Taylor. It will be read with great interest, and only read in the SOUTHWESTERN.

We employed a stenographer to report the sermon of Bishop Bowman before the Lexington Conference verbatim. The contract was made and $6.50 agreed upon, but he afterward probably, found himself able to get more and hence failed to deliver. Look out for the sermon, from the text "Grow in Grace." There is only one copy of it written and that is ours. No matter where else it is printed, it is done by fraud.

We see the phenomena of the sun, but what do we know of its essence? We infer that it is a world of fire, because of the sensation of heat we associate with our views of its light. But this heat may be caused by the friction of some unknown rapid and mighty motion of this vast body, who can tell? Science, and reason ought to set the example of solving this problem, before it demands the solution of all that is problematic or in the least inferential in the nature of God and godliness.

There are Negroes who will not speak the truth to a white man if that truth involves the least contradiction of any preconceived idea formed in the white man's mind, no matter how erroneous the Negro may know that idea to be. As a general thing, these are the Negroes relied upon by white persons for information concerning colored people's affairs, and we affirm that these Negroes know as little of the concerns of the colored people as do those who seek and obtain information of them. This class after awhile will prove to be false, and then it is affirmed that the Negro can not be relied upon.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Church Lyceums; their Perils and their Remedy.—No. I.

REV. S. OLIN GARRISON.

Your correspondent believes that the lyceum is not one of the good things to be given up because of associated dangers. He thinks the most serious difficulties can be removed if those interested will devote themselves broadly to the subject, and will join their endeavors not only to save a good institution from unjust disfavor, but also to augment the efficiency of that institution. However, it seems to me that while the general lyceum idea is wise, nevertheless in many local churches the lyceum as now conducted is not only a negative harm but a positive injury to the chief work of the church of Christ. Hence, when there is not conjointly sufficient intelligence and piety and power in the pastor, the educational committee and the young people of the church to make a lyceum a healthy factor in the spiritual and chief work of the church then that lyceum should be broken up. I sometimes think that as in reading we should occasionally stop and give the mental pabulum time to become assimilated, so it is time for the church to pause and reflect long enough over the lyceum and Chautauqua work to permit only what is pure and healthful to the best church life to become assimilated. At the funeral of Bishop Simpson, these words substantially were uttered by Bishop Foster with referance to the movement toward a richer church architecture, which was accredited largely to Bishop Simpson; "surely" said Bishop Foster, "it is now time to call a halt." The danger of local educational work within our churches is found in this fact, that being easier and more popular it may over-top and largely destroy the primary work of the church in the world—the salvation of the race, not from ignorance first, but first from sin and then from ignorance. But I am anticipating my third peril.

LYCEUM PERILS.

1. The first peril that I name is the purely wordly or semi-wordly spirit of the meetings. Songs are often sung, and readings given which do not conduce to the intellectual, to say nothing of the moral and spiritual profit of the church. They are often worse than trivial. After one lyceum meeting in a Methodist church some one was overheard to say, "a part of that program would have well suited Carncross' Minstels." Sometimes pure theatricals on a small scale are introduced. I have heard young unregenerated people go from halls and churches saying; "I never attended a better theatre." Even though those expressions may sometime have been extreme, yet it is too often forgotten that the church is to be "all things to all men," and that she must deny herself lest some one stumble over her into ruin. In some of our so called religious entertainments I fear the parphernalia often completely deluges the moral and religious truth intended to be conveyed. The church cannot arford to do anything that hides the great central doctrinal truths of her religion and history. Whole evenings are sometimes given to the consideration of novelist, poet or dramatist. Sometimes a burlesque is introduced. The discussion of the beauties, merits or defects of purely literary productions is a highly proper theme for the social club, the college or the school, but some of us think in all calmness and patience that when a lyceum gives itself wholly or largely to this kind of work it transcends its legitimate sphere and brings forth an argument for the banishment of the lyceum from the church building, and from the direct fostering care of the church of Christ.

Needs of the Negro.—V.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

Now, if the entire race will unite in one solid phalanx and march upward, a few years from now will find us the balance of power in this country, and all classes will be bound to respect us. Some will say that we need help, yes, but we only ask the country to do as much to help us as it has done to hinder us in literary, financial, moral and religious growth, and we will solve this vexed Negro problem ourselves. A glance at our past history, a thorough examination of the present status of the race, and the bright future that illumin before us should be a stimulus tor all. The trouble between the two races is kept up by the low and filthy classes of whites who are very often poor and ignorant, and have no interest in the advancement of the country. They are ever ready to use the club or pistol on the Negro, because they know that the law will not be enforced against a white man who clubs or kills a negro. Now let the better class of white people in the South put their feet on this unjust treatment of our race; they can, if they will, compell this low class to behave themselves, Put a few of them in prison, punish those who kill the Negro to the full extent of the law, and show the Negro that he will be protected in all of his rights, the same as any other citizen and a better day will dawn upon us. But you ask me what are the needs of the race. We have seen the effects of time and education during the past eighteen years. Then provisions must be made to educate the entire race. The Blair Educational bill, now before Congress, is the grandest measure of the times. It is broad, comprehensive and beneficient. It is a prophecy of better things in the future, and a pledge that the coming men of our race shall be intelligent voters, and a pledge that this country shall not be turned over to native ignorance. It expresses the sentiments of good citizens everywhere already, petitions have gone up from every Southern State urging Congress to pass the bill. And in the face of popular opinion the House of Representatives will hardly defeat the bill.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Rev. W. H. Davis.

The first quarterly conference of Mexia Mission under the pastorate of Rev. Willis Medlock, was held, Saturday, February 21st inst. Rev. W. H. Davis, presiding elder of Waco district, in the chair, opened the conference with appropriate ceremonies. After which the regular business of the conference was taken up. Previous to this, however, the writer was chosen secretary. The reports of the pastor and local preacher, showed that no work had been done, save that a few sermons had been preached during the quarter. Also the reports from other officers showed that they too had been idle. I am very sorry indeed to say that our elder found us all unprepared to report.

Nothing therefore, is worthy of notice here. It is true, that we've had very severe weather and could not get to work. Upon the whole, we enjoyed a good time with the elder in the meeting. He arranged everything in order, explained many obscure points that the class leaders and stewards, members of committees and Sunday-school superintendents seemed heretofore to have but a vague idea about, and we believe, assisted us in many other ways by his kind and timely advice. We had a good sermon Sunday at 11 o'clock, by the elder.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock we enjoyed a most excellent sermon by the elder. His text was chosen from the 3 chapter and 5 verse of St. John. He aroused the lukewarmness of the Christians, shoved them upon the "live coals," that had fallen on the altar and hence, the sisters began to praise God and thus prevented our hearing other good things. After the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered, a goodly number participated. The people here do not think that the Bishop and his cabinet made a mistake in placing Elder Davis over the Waco district, since they believe him to be the right man in the right place. He is pronounced by all the "model gentleman," his manners highly cultivated, and his mien and good features commend him to the highest esteem of the Church here.

As the incumbent of the office of presiding elder, his deportment is stately and sufficient for the requirements, which the dignity of that office demands. Humanity and self-denial are among the chief factors that go to make up the real qualities of the man in question; while zeal and devotion, gentleness and kindness are no less prominent features in his make up. The firmness associated with love and great discretion, as exhibited in the prosecution of the business before the quarterly conference, are all the recommendation we ask of the man in charge of the district of Waco.

His work already, among us settles the question as to his ability to rule, and it the same course, throughout his career as presiding elder, is pursued, unbounded success will crown his labor at every point.

His visit here and work among us have gone a long ways in the winning of the esteem felt for him. Resentful and arbitrary, petulant and unrighteous measures were not noticed in his dealings with us; and it he possessed these ungodly and destructive weapons, being carefully housed in the asylum of self-control, they did not show upon this occasion. The truth of the business is simply this, he has a right estimate of himself and of the position he holds in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

These two things alone will tend toward enlarging his sphere of usefulness among us. His mind is abundantly stored with all manner of good things, his spirit is free from trifling, and his heart is full of love and charity for his fellow man. Now brethren of Waco district, our presiding elder is young and so are many of us, and while he has been placed at our head, let us unite to make his work just as good, if not better, as any in the conference. Let us contrive to bring it up financially and pray to build up the spiritual condition thereof. It is claimed in the conference that this district is the worst of the four; for men of ability and finance, perhaps so; but let us in love and harmony create a spirit of rivalry, and see then if we can raise the standard a little higher.

L. K. WAGONER, Sec'y.

Tehuanca, Texas.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Economy of Time.

THADDEUS C. BLEDSOE, ESQ.

If there is any question that demands present attention, certainly it is the importance of rightly improving our time. Economy requires that precisely such talent should be employed in our various duties, as may be necessary to insure their discharge in the best possible manner.

Many of these duties can be performed successfully only by the first order of human talent, cultivated by study and discipline, and directed by incorruptible integrity. Now it is certainly poor economy, to employ inferior talent to do badly, that which can be of service only when it is done well. It is a question that ought to be considered by all who would become successful. A person's success depends very much upon how he improves his time, and only those who systematized their time, have made success possible.

There are special advantages in making a right division of time. This serves to shorten the period of labor, though the more complicated the operation, the longer the time required to gain the skill requisite for its successful performance. We see at once that if a student would accomplish the great ends of life, he must necessarily systematize his work. This is not limited to student life but is needful to all persons who would be successful in any profession. Notice the great railroad system of our country, how frequent would be the disasters, if it was not so well systematized? But see how perfect it is in every particular, which we may safely say is largely due to the careful observance of system. When we read of men who are so prominent in history, and to whom we are so much indebted for the present condition of affairs, we find that they have obtained all their skill by carefully systematizing and improving their time.

It time is worth anything it is worth being well improved. A little time and that well improved is worth more to us than countless moments idly spent. Many of the most distinguished names in the world's history are of men who regarded no time too little to be improved, by this they gained a star that will never dim. Their work, their influence on the age in which they lived, will be perpetuated to remote generations. This should encourage us to carefully improve all our time. Careful attention to little things is the secret of success in every pursuit of life. The little spare moments of time carefully treasured up eventually grow into mighty importances. The little streams go to make the rivers, and the small sapling the huge oak. There is no time however brief, but that may become useful in some way or other if carefully improved.

Though many of these facts and observations seem at first to have but slight significance, they are all found to have their final uses and to fit in their proper places. When one is blessed with opportunities, the proper observance of time is the most beneficial of all worldly gifts. It is by this mysterious power that the loaf is multiplied, that using does not waste, that little becomes much, that scattered fragments grow to unity, and that out of nothing or next to nothing comes the miracle of something. Even in that branch of prudence that directs us to take cognizance of our pecuniary affairs, the propriety of this aphorism is very striking. We have no sympathy with the notion that the less favored man should hitch himself to a post while the rest of the world moves forward. It is no man's duty to deny himself of every amusement, every recreation, every comfort, that he might become a power in life; but there is an observance of time, which is every man's duty and which is commendable in the man who struggles to overcome ignorance.

If a person does not improve himself to meet the demands of the age, he must become a dependent on those who have made this improvement. Who are the men that manage the affairs of this republic? Who are the men that carried civilization into the less favored territories? and who are they that placed within our reach the wonderful works of art? They are they who have carefully treasured up the swiftly flying moments and improved them in the best possible manner. We would notice Jefferson, the statesman and philosopher, who was such a adept in mathematics that he drew from private life to public station a distinguished mathematician, from the perusal of his works alone; and it is no small honor to the memory of that illustrious dead to say that he likewise the friend of letters and science, probably devoted more time to their improvement than all the other statesmen united. Let no one neglect this important question. There is no virtue so little appreciated as economy, nor is there one more worthy of estimation. A neglect of economy eventually leads to misery, poverty and ignorance, and not unfrequently to error and crime. In conclusion I would say that blessings will attend the one who carefully improves his time and stores his wealth with useful knowledge, which, if it does multiply his gains, will largely increase his enjoyments, and will also make him a blessing to society and to the world.

Hallville, Texas.

Whittaker's Church Almanac gives the following statistics of the Episcopal Church in this country: Clergy, 3,645; increase over last year, 86; parishes, 2,842; missions, 1,549; combined increase, 125; candidates for orders, 367; increase, 34; ordinations, deacons, 99; decrease, 47; ordinations, priests, 107; decrease 25 baptisms, 49,582; increase, 2,637; confirmations, 30,304; increase, 4,171; communicants, 381,894; increase, 17,891; Sunday school teachers, 34,338; increase, 64; Sunday school scholars, 318,328; increase 306; contributions, $9,042,628,84; increase, $723,337.45.

The Indian Mission of the Methodist Church is in the Indian Territory, and is organized into a conference with four presiding elders, districts and twenty-nine pastoral charges. There are 112 local preachers; 1,100 white members; 5,107 Indian members; fifty-eight Sunday-schools, with 1,602 scholars.

From the Districts.

Baton Rouge District.

REV. GEORGE W. WELLS.

"Let us give honor to whom honor is due." The Rev. Pierre Landry has served the limit of the presiding elderate on the Baton Rouge district. A district it was only in name when appointed to it by Bishop Foss; to-day it is a real district, dotted by the handsomest rural churches in the State with no exception. Each chapel on the district has felt the talismanic touch. Dilapidated, and barn shaped structures for public worship have given place to the most modern, all in keeping with the rapid advancement of the race in their style and manner of worship.

Elder Landry's taciturnity, which is characteristic of himself, may have led some to believe that, but little was being done on the district, but such an one, if any need only go to Plaquemine, Rosedale, Baton Rouge, Jackson and Clinton, and the fact of solid work will loom up; work that for a generation will tell of indefatigable toil in the Master's vineyard to build, will be manifest. His attainments and gentlemanly bearing gave him, not only access to the hearts of the humblest cottagers; even those more favored by circumstances and wealth appreciated the man, the grandeur, and magnitude of the work accomplished. His clear knowledge of people and localities, plus tact, made it possible for the ministers to succeed, where otherwise they might have made signal failures.

Bro. Landry was never known to tantalize those who served him; an accusation which few men, minister or politician in high station, can plead guiltless. The wisdom of the Church has seen cause to continue his presiding elderate on the Shreveport district. We rejoice Baton Rouge district's loss is Shreveport's gain. We thank God to know that our beloved will be succeeded by so worthy a man, the Rev. Stephen Priestley, who is able, eminently fitted for the work, enthusiastic for good.

We remember when Bro. Priestley recited theology to Bro. J. S. Leavitt, when others more favored, feared a loss of influence if it was known that they were attending the classes at the New Orleans University. Priestley went, studied with and recited with the boys, received needed instruction, and here he is a presiding elder indeed, while those who had and scented every advantage have long since gone out of sight. God bless Bro. Priestley in this new field of lavor, and may he be as successful here as in the pastorate.

Navasota District Conference.

REV. W. PULLAM, P. E.

District conference to be held on Brenham circuit, at the Pleasant Grove Methodist Episcopal Church, March 12th, 1885, at 9 o'clock a. m. It is five miles from Brenham to this place, but the brothers will be furnished with conveyance to and from the depot on Wednesday and Thursday. The Western Branch train leaves Hempstead at 11:40 a. m., and arrives here at 12:40 a. m. On the Santa Fee railroad the train arrives here at 1:50 p. m., conveyances will meet these trains on the above named days. Ample arrangements have been made for accommodation. Any brother not arriving on these trains will have to furnish their own conveyances.

Marshall District, Texas Conference.

H. WEBB, P. E.

We expect to hold two camp meetings during the the summer on the district, and we are asking the Lord for one thousand souls this year. Let every pastor, local preacher, and member say amen: Work and pray for your quota of this one thousand souls. I have been absent from home attending the Exposition at New Orleans, visited our University and the Louisiana Conference. I have been greatly blessed, and am now ready for earnest and constant work. I have moved my family to Denton, where any mail will reach me, but any mail will also reach me directed to Marshall. Brethren the success of our beloved SOUTHWESTERN depends upon prompt payment of all our bills to that paper and enlarged circulation. Get every pastor on Marshall district to make prompt payment of all indebtedness to the SOUTHWESTERN and push the paper into every family.

Louisville District, Lexington Conference.

REV. W. W. LOCKE, P. E.

For eleven years in succession I have met the Lexington Conference, and after the reading of the appointments at each of these eleven sessions some of the preachers were very much displeased with their charges, the judgment of the Bishop and presiding elders, and said a great many bad things about the presiding elders, and that it was the spirit of the devil, and not the spirit of God that made their appointment; and very often the members of the church or churches are displeased with the minister sent to them. Again the bishops and the presiding elders, are evily spoken of; now that ought not to be so. Sometimes the preacher asks the presiding elder to send him to such, and such a place; and sometimes the church asks the presiding elder to send that preacher, but it may be that the preacher, nor the church has asked aright. The Bible says; "ye ask and receive, not because ye ask amiss." The preachers have been asking the presiding elders, and are doing so now. The churches have been sending in their petitions to the bishops, for this, and that preacher. But, dear members, preachers, and presiding elders, let us try a better method this year. First, Let the presiding elders, themselves, between this and the sitting of the conference reserve, three or four days for fasting and praying that they may do the will of God, and not the will of man. Second, Let the preachers, who have been so often displeased with those that are pleased with the judgment of the bishops and presiding elders, reserve one day in each week until the sitting of the conference for fasting and praying over their next appointment, that it will not be made by the spirit of the devil. Dear brethren, you should at once cure yourselves from this great evil, by faith and prayer, and moving your cases from the law court this year, to the Supreme Court, where God shall be the judge; and be fully convinced that your appointment this year is the will of Heaven, and not by the will of man, yea still more, set to your seal that God is true and just, and be determined, by God's grace, in spite of all that the bishop and presiding elder can do, to have the appointment due you by the will of Heaven:

"O! for a faith that will not shrink,
Though pressed by every foe,
That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe."

The devil might have been the cause of Paul's appointment to Angustus, but the devil would have been glad to get Paul away from them. Prayer is often used as a key; it will lock, or unlock any lock that earth or hell, with all its combined skill, can produce; and faith pushes the door open, and drags earth toward Heaven, and brings Heaven this way. Then every member, of the Methodist Episcopal Church should be so instructed by their preacher, not to ask the presiding elder this year to send them any preacher, nor make any petition to the bishop, but try God this year. He will not make a mistake, nor send them the wrong man. Dear members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, if you love God, gather yourselves together at once and be determined by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, to have a preacher sent to you this year by the will of heaven, and not by the will of man. Wherever you can get two or three members, or as many as will commence now, and hold fast days and pray God to keep his poor servants, bishop and presiding elder, as he kept Samuel down at Jesse's house, that each church may have the right minister sent to it. I ask you to do this for the great cause of Christ. Jesus sees all, knows the minister you need better than you, or the presiding elder, and bishop. The great trouble in the past, about this matter, is that we have been the judge, and asking for that which was not ours, nor did we need it, and we found it so in a few weeks; but at this conference let God have a hand in it and you will get the thing you need, and your own also. I am not recommending you to a Being I know nothing about, but I know Him in part; sometimes I think I wholly know Him in two things. 1st. A sin pardoning God. 2nd. A prayer answering God. I have been trusting him for fourteen years, and in every condition of life I have been successful. I can not see how a man can fail who trusts God. I was in charge of Boyd station, Ky., in 1878 and 1879, a very poor place, so poor my wife refused to go with me, but no matter, to me it was my appointment and I loved it because it was mine. One night I was taken sick, next morning I wanted to go to see my family at home, but had no money; I laid the case before my Heaven Father, and when prayer was ended I received orders to send for Henson Hebburn, he came. "Bro. Hebburn I want to go go home, and have no money, can you borrow for me $5." "I will see," in a little while he had $2.50, he told me to wait and he would go for the rest. While he was gone Sister Jane Moore came with $10.80. I was much better, and sat up in the bed, in came step-sister Patice Newton, with $11.50. I told Jesus to go away from and let me alone, but Bro. Hebburn would bring the other $2.50; but I was well; all this was a gift. There is nothing like my God, I pray the blessing of God upon the Lexington conference. The Louisville District is poor, but some of us have God with us; much hard work in two or three years will make it about 65 per cent better than now, there has been some crying for the fat of the lamb, but all I could say or do for them, was to do like Elisha and widow, hold a love feast, the barrel will come after awhile. God bless the SOUTHWESTERN and its editor.

1944 Shelby street, Louisville, Ky.

Letters from the Pastors.

G. W. Townsend, writes: "I wish to make a correction. Rev. E. Jones reported 224 members for the year ending 1884. I came right on here from Conferance, and could only find 137 members, and three probationers."

Rev. G. W. Sams, Little Rock, Ark, writes: "Our little Chapel, in the town of Argenta, and in the bounds of the Little Rock and Argenta mission, Little Rock District, Little Rock Conference, was blown down during the storms in the month of February last. We have no place into which we can gather the people to worship. The society here is very weak, and cannot of itself raise money enough to rebuild. Therefore we call on all lovers of Christianity, to give us a helping hand, by sending us whatever you can spare. If you conclude to give anything, please send it to G. W. Sams, 1113 Izard St., Little Rock, Ark."

Rev. T. P. Jackson, pastor of Simpson Chapel, writes: I preached my introductory sermon to a large audience, among whom there was at least 35 or 40 of our white friends, who listened to our discourse with wrapt attention from beginning to end. At the taking of contribution, one of them placed on the table a $10 note, you cannot imagine how we felt over the matter. The total collection for the day was $36,20. You may judge from this the sentiment of these people toward my return. I pray God's blessings on them and our united efforts the ensuing year. I rejoice in the glory of God, that he has seen fit to use me as an instrument in his hands this far to successfully manage the affairs of Simpson Chapel; even our dear, sincere friends, rejoice with us, and as a manifestation of their joy, have erected a nice recess at the rear of our pulpit. They began the work the Monday following my return from conference, and had it ready for use Sunday the 8th instant. Pray for us, that the Lord may bring forth many sons and daughters into his vineyard to work.

Rev. H. Primm, from Franklin, Tenn, Conference writes: "Our class and prayer meetings are very good. At our first quarterly meeting we had a very good time. My father, Rev. G. W. Primm, from the Nolensville circuit was with us and preached at 3 p m. My father has been a member of the Methodist Church ever since I can remember and a local preacher near 38 years. The elder preached at 7.30 p. m. one of his best best sermons and 45 came to the communion; about 30 paid 25cts each and the elder received $8,75. I have sent you 20 names for the SOUTHWESTERN.

Rev C. L. Walls, Cotton Gin, Mississippi, writes: "We held our centennial meeting on the 27th, our congregation was small, but we collected the sum of $4,10 for education and $2,30 for Sunday Schools; paid to presiding elder $45,00; paid to pastor $69,25, and still owe him $10,75. Rev. W. Jones is the right man in the right place. Conversions this year 25; added to the church this year 49: The official board reported things in better condition than ever before."

Rev. Edward L. Gilliam, Tuscaloosa, Ala., writes: "I was appointed to this charge about the 1st of December last, and upon my arrival, I found a very neat little edifice about 50x30, nicely lathed and plastered, in which is an elegant pipe organ. Our membership is small, numbering about seventy-five, and they in consequence of an indebtedness of about $800, the greater part of it due the Extension Society, were very much discouraged, and disheartened. Since I have been here, now almost two months, they are waking up, and we feel satisfied that during this year, God willing, we will be able to get upon our feet. On Saturday last, Bro. E. B. McCauley, our presiding elder, held our first quarterly conference, and by his words of wisdom and father'ly advice, left us very much encouraged, and we are entering upon the second quarter with renewed energy and zeal. On Sunday last, was held in our Church the first of a series of Union Sabbath-school services, which are to be held on the first Sunday in each month in the different churches of our little city, and will be participated in by all of the colored churches here. We had a glorious time, and it was one of grandest sights ever witnessed in this place, when, beneath one roof were assembled the Presbyterian, the African Methodist Episcopal Zion, the Colored Methodist Episcopal, the Baptist, and our own Sabbath-school, all uniting in singing praises to God, and making this one grand effort to break down the greatest enemy to our religion, especially among our race, denominational prejudice. Rev. F. A. Clinton, pastor in charge of the Zion Church preached a sermon filled with spiritual fervor, and replete with sparkling gems of thought that were alike instructive to both old and young. Bro. Mason, pastor of the Baptist Church, called for a collection and succeeded in raising $11.20. The union was permanently organized, Mrs. Winn and Mrs. Brooks being elected secretaries. The next meeting will be held in the Zion Methodist Episcopal Church on the first Sabbath in March. Bros. Mason, Clinton, Sumerville and myself, all being young men, hope by thus bringing the children together to eradicate all denominational prejudice from the minds of the old people, and to teach them that it matters not under what denomination we may belong, still we are all one family, engaged in a glorious, though desperate war against the same crafty enemy, under the same glorious captain and instead of villifying, and slandering each other, we should stand shoulder to shoulder, sing together, pray together and together slay sin and route our common enemy, the Devil. Pray for us. I sent you six subscribers last week and will secure others ere long. Wishing your paper continued and greater success."

Rev. J. M. Nevils, Durant, Mississippi. writes: "We commenced our work February 10th, 1884. being the second year on the Durant circuit, the people were glad to have us return again; but one of the first things we met was the loss of our presiding older, Rev. G. W. Barney, who died a few days after our annual conference at Jackson, Mississippi, January 16 21, 1884. Rev. G. W. Barney, showed himself friendly, and therefore had many friends all over the Greenwood district, and elsewhere, where he was known. So the district seemed to have passed into a cloud of darkness for a while. About the first of March, we received a postal card notifying us that our first quarterly conference, would be held March 22-23, 1884. Rev. H. R. Revels, D. D., whom we found to be our presiding elder, succeeding Bro. Barney. We can now say the Lord took the workman, but carries His work on. The Dr. is well known and it is enough for us to say that he is the right man, and in the right place. Our protracted meetings are over for this year, and we can say, we meet the enemy, and the victory is ours. There has been seventy five added to the church; 35 received into full membership; 40 conversions; 9 backsliders reclaimed, and one from the Baptist Church; one from the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, and 55 on probation. Our fourth quarterly conference was held November 8 9, 1884 in Wesley Chapel, Durant, Mississippi. The conference opened on 3 p. m. with singing and prayer by Dr. H. R. Revels. 18 members answered to their names. The class leaders all had written reports, but here are the best ones, Classes, No. 1 paid $9 60; No. 3 paid $7; No. 4 paid $10; No. 5 paid, $9.45. Barlow No. 1, $8.10; Barlow No. 2, $10; Barlow No. 3, $3 50; Barlow No. 4, $5.20. The Dr. was well pleased with the reports. Sunday, November 9, at 9:30 the elder addressed the Sunday-school. At 11 a. m., we had an old fashion love-feast, conducted by the pastor; at 3 p. m., the Dr. preached and administered the Lord's supper to 114, and baptized 3 children; at 7 p. m., the church was full, and the Dr. filled the pulpit, taking for his text Rev. 20 chapter, 12 verse. The Doctor preached a rousing sermon, and the Lord seems to bless our work. Although the people are poor, they raised $21 and gave the presiding elder $14. This finished his account. We hope to have better reports this year than last. Pray for us."

Rev. F. P. Fielding, Waterford, Spencer county, Kentucky, writes: "Our fouth quarterly conference was held in Tichenon Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, November 22d 1884, lasting two days, with Rev. W. W. Locke, presiding elder, in the chair. After prayer T. P Fielding was elected secretary. The trustees were appointed as follows: Thomas Tichenon, Alexander A. Allen, William S. Griff, Taylor Brisco, George Burton, William Thomas, Pleasant Dongans, Charles Johnson and James Sanders. Sunday school superintendent, Lucinda Tichenon. The following committees, were appointed; on missions, Wm. Thomas, Thomas G. Tichenon and Mary Thompson; committee on Sunday-schools, Lucinda Tichenon and William Thomas; committee on temperance, William S. Griff, and Lizzie Sanders; committee on tracts, Sallie B. Tichenon, and Lizzie Sanders; committee on education, James Sanders and Taylor Brisco; committee on Church Extension, Samuel Johnson, Sallie Thompson and Caroline Sanders; committee on Church records, Sallie B. Tichenon and William Thomas; committee on parsonage, Minnie Johnson, Annie Williams, Van Maria Simons; committee on Freedman's Aid Society, Florence Gilbert, Lucinda Tichenon, and Charles Johnson. Brother Locke preached at 11 o'clock a. m. and again Sunday night at Mt. Washington. He administered the Lord's supper to 29 and baptized 5 children. Collection this quarter $30.60; paid the presiding elder $7; pastor $7.80; paid traveling expenses to district conference $2.50; paid house rent $6.25. A sister one hundred years old spent thanksgiving day with us, at church. I am doing all I can for the SOUTHWESTERN."

Letters From the Laity.

Arthur A. Lacy, Esq, Union Chapel, New Orleans and 19 others writes: "The following resolutions offered on the fourth quarterly conference held at Union Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church by A. A. Lacy, New Orleans, La., January the 9th 1885, Rev. L. P. Cushman, presiding elder, presides:

Whereas, After three years of incessant labor of Rev. Stephen Priestley, pastor of Union Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church, is of such success under his ministerial administration; and, Whereas, The approaching annual conference will soon call from us, this our beloved pastor to report to that council his labor. Therefore, be it resolved, that we the undersigned members and officers of the Official Board of Union Chapel and members of the quarterly conference heartily approve and endorse his labor; be it further resolved, that we, the members of Union Chapel and members of the quarterly conference bow our hearts in gratitude to almighty God incessantly, for his continued blessings upon him, his home, his family, and where ever he may be or go fighting, like a Christian hero against sin, vice and immortality, and ever building up the Redeemer's kingdom, by preaching Him to all; and cry in death, behold, behold the Lamb. Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be published in our CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

In a pianoforte for private home use, the very first and chief requisite is refinement and purity of tone. For use in a concert or other large room this is not so important, as the roughness of tone is not so perceptible. The new Upright Pianos of Mason & Hamlin Organ Company have this for their prominent attraction, that their tones are so pure and free from all noise without pitch. In part, this comes from their new method of fastening the strings by metal fastenings instead of by mere pins driven into wood.—Boston Traveler.

Dining Room Dishes.

The following table gives the proper material for ornamenting or furnishing the various dishes;

GARNISHES.

Fried ham, eggs.
Corned beef, carrots.
Tongue, potato edging.
Roast fowl, baked tomatoes.
Broiled fish, slices of lemon.
Roast mutton, baked tomatoes.
Boiled fowl, lay in a bed of rice.
White meat hash, fried oysters.
Asparagus on toast, slices of egg.
Game hash, chopped sweet herbs.
Corned pork, carrots and parsnips.
Sonse and pigs feet, slices of lemon.
Fricasseed fowl, lumps of boiled rice.
Greens, slices of tongue or boiled egg.
Boiled mutton, carrots and parsnips in slices.
Roast beef, puree of asparagus or potato balls.
Hash, slices of lemon or peached egg or fried bread.
Broiled beef, fried mush or fried egg on each piece.
Fried potatoes, parsley sprinkled with grated lemon peel.
Small celery leaves, fringed celery, borage flowers, curled parsley, nasturtium flowers, are all nice —Home and Farm.

"What is the whole duty of a married man?" ask the new conjugal catechism: To be agreeable to his wife and to keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house for the children when they get a cold, of course. Ask us something hard.

The M. E. Church.

Sunday-School workers, Attention.

The third annual institute for pastors and Sunday-school workers will be held at Clark University Atlanta, Ga., beginning Thursday, May 28, and closing on Thursday, Aug. 4. An elaborate programme is being prepared, which will include a course of special lectures to ministers and candidates for the ministers office, a full Sunday-school normal course, and a series of brilliant and entertaining lectures, many of them well illustrated. There will be a fine series of stereopticon entertainments for the evenings, taking the audiences on journeys to Egypt, Palestine and many interesting localities in Europe. Arrangements will be made to accommodate a good many guests, and all who intend coming are requested to notify President Thayer and get full particulars from him about railroad rates and other expenses. Let us have a grand rally of leading church workers at this institute.

Sunday-School Union of the M. E. Church.

The following are the appointments for Sunday-school Institutes in Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas—April and May, 1885:

Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, D. D., and the Rev. A. H. Gillett, a. m., assisted by pastors and local workers, will be present and conduct Institutes as follows:

Donaldsonville, La., Thursday, April 2, 7:30 p. m.; Friday, April 3, 2 p. m.

Plaquemines, La., Friday April 3, 7:30 p. m.

Alexandria, La., Saturday, April 4, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday, April 5, 3 and 7:30 p. m.

Washington, La., Monday, April 6, 3 and 7:30 p. m.

New Iberia, La., Tuesday, April 7, 7:30 p. m.

Baldwin, La., Wednesday, April 8, 7:30 p. m.

Houston, Texas, Friday, April 10: Houston Seminary, 10 a. m.; Mount Vernon Church, 3 p. m.; Trinity Church, 7:30 p. m.

Galveston, Texas, Sunday, April 12; Broadway Church, 10:30 a. m.; Tabernacle Church, 3 p. m.; St. Paul's Church, 7:30 p. m.

San Antonio, Texas, Sunday, April 14: Pastor W. S. Falkenburg's Church, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Wednesday, April 15, Pastor Mack Henson's Church, 3, p. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Thursday, April 15, Pastor P. Mumme's Church, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Austin, Texas, Friday, April 17, 7:30 p. m.

Palestine, Texas, Friday, April 17, 7:30 p. m.

Marshall, Tex., Sunday, April 19.

Shreveport, La., Monday, April 20, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Fort Worth, Texas, Wednesday, April 22.

Paris, Texas, Thursday, April 23, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Clarksville, Texas, Friday, April 23, 7:30 p. m.

Texarkana, Sunday, April 26, 10:30 a. m., 3 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.

Washington, Arkansas, Monday, April 27th, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Hot Springs, Arkansas, Tuesday, April 28th, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Little Rock, Ark. Wednesday, April 29th, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Thursday, April 30th, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Russelville, Ark., Friday, May, 1st, 7:30 p. m.

Fort Smith, Ark., Sunday, May, 3rd.

Siloam Springs, May, 4th 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rogers, Ark., Tuesday, May 5th, and 7:30 p. m.

Eureka Springs, Wednesday, May, 6th, 7:30 p. m. Thursday, May, 7th, 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Pastors will please arrange for Meetings in accordance with this list, and make proper announcements. While it is understood that these are Methodist Episcopal Meetings, workers of other denominations are cordially invited to attend. In places where there is more than one Methodist Episcopal Church, let the time be divided between them, and arrangements made by the pastors in consultation with each other. Should any thing interfere with the execution of any part of this plan, pastors will be notified.

History of the Emancipation Proclamation.

BY COLONEL W. B. STOKES, U. S. A.

At the request of Rev. Mr. Sewand I will state that on the 22d of September 1862, the President (A. Lincoln) issued a proclamation declaring that on the 1st day of Jan., 1863, he would issue another proclamation freeing all the slaves in States then in rebellion, excepted a few parishes in the State of Louisiana, and except 48 counties in Virginia, known as West Virginia, which adopted a constitution of their own and was recognized as a distinct free State, called the State of West Virginia. The States of Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Delaware were left out, but they afterwards adopted constitutions which freed all their slaves by a vote of the people.

Delaware freed her slaves March 26th, 1863. On the 10th of January, a convention was held in Nashville, which adopted a proclamation for the abolition of slavery to be submitted and voted upon, by the people. The 22d day of February, 1865, the vote was taken, 21,104 votes for abolition of slavery and 49 votes against freeing the slaves. So from the 22d of February, 1865, slavery has ceased to exist in the State of Tennessee. Missouri and Kentucky about this time engrafted in their constitutions a clause prohibiting slavery.

The President's proclamation freed them in all the rebel States, which was the 1st day of January, 1863. This proclamation of President Lincoln broke the backbone of the Confederate government.

Then followed the enlisting them in the United States army. That was another death blow to the Confederacy. Some said the Negro was cowardly and would not fight, never was there a greater mistake, as I saw them tried. They were under my command, and never failed to go in when and wherever they were ordered.

It was said too, that they were ignorant and could not be disciplined, yet there never was any troops so easily trained how to handle a gun, and when so trained they had the courage equal to Marshal Ney, the bravest of the brave of Bonaparts army. I never saw them flicker at any time or place. Then I want to say a little more; no nation of people on God's earth behaved as well as they did during the war. You heard it said that they would if freed plunder and steal, murder the men and ravish our white women, all of which was a base slander and a wicked libel upon them.

The proof is overwhelming that they stayed as a general thing at their old homes, labored for and protected their old masters and mistresses up to the time of their freedom. And further, see how they have behaved themselves since their freedom.

Look at their work, improvement in education, mechanism, science, art, it is, to say the least, wonderful. Some have accumulated large fortunes, while others have almost reached the top round of the ladder in point of statesmanship and learning.

And when the present generation passes away, and prejudice dies out, there will be found among the colored race some of the brightest statesmen and men of the greatest genius that have ever lived. It is a fact, as a general thing a Negro will tell the truth and is honorable as to his dealings. Of course it will require time to perfect these things.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Christian Duty.

BY ROSENA O. SPEARS.

The duty of all Christians, who have faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, is to keep in view their future home. They should endeavor to avoid not only great offences, but such as are, because of their frequent commission and general prevalence called "little sins." "The sins which doth so easily beset us." They should try to ever keep in mind that the great duty of a Christian is to be scrupulously careful lest they lose the faith which saves them, and therefore dritt away in this broad ungenerous world as chaff in a windy day. They should pause and consider the great responsibilities which rest upon them as Christian workers. We should close this first Centennial year of our great organization by increased hope, love, and Christian activity. Each one of us should serve with great earnestness and zeal to accomplish lasting and beneficial ends. Let us not merely have our names attached to the Church roll to fill out or swell its numbers, but be true, earnest, and energetic Christians. There is much to be done, and while the great Methodist Church is doing so much to Christianize the world, will a few of us in this part of the field sit still until the question may be asked "why sit ye here until ye die?" God forbid. "For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly." "Through His death" that great man John Wesley, one hundred years ago organized this great revival church, which has saved thousands of souls and will save thousands more. If we would think once what a great debt we owe and how duteons we should be to the work of the Master, I think the interest of many who are now silent would soon be aroused to a knowledge of right and wrong; and a true sense of their duties.

This is the Christian's day and why not press forward to the Master's call? Oh Christians, let us be engaged working earnestly for the Master, "While it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work." Christian worker, woman of God, what is your thought about the means and ways of saving poor lost souls? Do not we need a deeper work of grace in our own hearts, and a thorough consecration of ourselves, time, talent, energies, and life to this blessed service? Shall not we more surely "work out our own salvation" by doing this? Will not this whole, hearty, and devoted service enable us to "Rejoice in the God of our salvation" with reason? Let us then arise and strive with our pastors in their work of building up the kingdom of heaven within men. Faith and prayer are powerful auxiliaries to Christian work, let us exercise these. The Lord Himself has said: "Ask and receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you." Let us take hold of the Lord's promises with new determination and with renewed zeal, efforts, and energies. Thus shall we surely gain a complete victory. God has assured us of His grace, if we will only lay hold of His promises, obey His commandments.

McMinnville, Tenn.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Home Influence.

AMANDA CRAIG, SPRINGFIELD, O.

The precious pearl which governs us through life's stormy way is that of the home influence we have received. The Christian home has an influence that is stronger than death. It is a law to our hearts, and binds us with a spell which neither time nor change can break. Home influence is either a blessing, or a curse. The influence of American homes are various. In most of the Christian homes of America, the influence of the parents toward their children is to a great extent toward their mutual salvation. They influence them to attend good and to put low society as far away from them as possible. They endeavor to have their children appear before the world as near as possible to perfection.

The difference is noticed between the habits of a child brought up in a Christian home, with Christian parents, and a child thrown into the world midst all evils, left to shift for themselves. Take a child that has long frequented the family altar, been taught the word of God, and they naturally grow up with that kind of spirit.

When away from home, if they be not a Christian, they will remember the very words which they so often heard their parents pray. Especially when there is a revival going on, and they hear the preachers calling and warning sinners and the members praying. Oh then, how they remember their Christian fathers and mothers. The specific influence of fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers united constitute home influence. "Train a child up in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it." Look at those scenes of intemperance and riot, of crime and of blood, which throw the infamy over human life. Look at your prison, go to the gambling table. Tell me who are those that are there? What is their history? Did they have pious fathers and mothers? Did they come from the faithful Christian home? Did they go to these places under the influence of Christian parents? Certainly not.

Who are those that are dying without hope, and without God? Who are those that throng the regions of the damned? Is it those that have been trained up in the way they should go? Oh, how will it be when they come to die at the judgment bar when you have hear them say I never heard my mother pray, nor I never heard my father say come, and let us have our family prayer, or go to church. If we could hear them speak from their chamber of woe we would doubtless hear them pouring out curses against their parents and ascribing the cause of their ruin upon the parents' neglect. But if on the other hand we could hear from the redeemed in heaven, we would doubtless hear sentiments of gratitude and of joy for a mother's prayer and a fathers counsel.

"For round the heart thy power has spun,
A thousand dear mysterious ties;
Then take the heart thy charms have won
And nurse it for the skies."

Wendell Phillips—IV.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS.

Men, who before, were hostile to the anti-slavery people, came forward, and grasped him by the hand; women wept and praised God that he had given the world this champion of human freedom.

After this, Mr. Phillips retired from the practice of the law, feeling within himself that he could not obey the constitution of the United States, he had registered a vow in heaven and before the world that he would pursue the genius of slavery, and destroy it, if it lay in the power of mortal man, or die in the attempt.

How well he kept that vow the world knows, and four million five hundred thousand down-trodden freedmen can truly testify.

In all of the attempts of slavery for recognition and protection, his opposition was inflexible.

When to be anti-slavery was to be anti-American, he was anti-slavery.

When his party would compromise he dissented.

When concession was asked in its interest, he protested.

When, later on the eve of the great rebellion conferences were proposed, he would have no participation in them, and would yield no assent; and when war came for separation and independent slave power, he saw in it the nation's opportunity, and that initial measure for the universal abolition of slavery in the national capital, had his undivided and heartfelt support.

The revered, the beloved and lamented Garrison, out of the fullness of his great soul, out of the plentitude of his great humanity and the love of his fellow man, originated the anti-slavery movement in this country; and Wendell Philips was his beloved disciple.

He sowed the seed of the abolition of slavery broadcast all over this fair land of of ours; wherever he found a drooping proselyte of freedom's cause he refreshed them with the living waters drawn from the fountain of Liberty—the Holy Bible.

The more subscribers we have the better the paper will be.

Temperance

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES

Impressed with a deep conviction that an urgent exigency has arisen in the history of the Temperance Cause, a large number of persons in all parts of the land have expressed the opinion that a new organization of the temperance forces should be effected on a broad basis, to conserve and give direction to this important reform. For this purpose, after extensive consultation, a meeting was held, in Boston, Jan. 1, 1885, at which "A National League, (non-partisan and non-sectarian,) for the suppression of the Liquor Traffic," was organized, under whose direction we now address the public.

A great contest is upon us. A dire and barbarous foe seeks to throttle the Republic, and no weak, doubtful or one-sided measures will suffice. The times call for combination, on a broad basis of unity.

History abounds in instances of the usurpation and tyranny of oligarchies which were overthrown only by the uprising of the people. A formidable Institution, familliarly called the Liquor Traffic, exerts a dominant, deadly influence in American Society. Its tyrannizing power is felt in politics and legislation, in courts and juries, in trade and finance, in literature and science, in schools and colleges, in social and religious life. An oligarchy of nearly two hundred thousand men, engaged in the sale of intoxicants, presume to claim the responsibilities and privileges of government over fifty millions of people. How far it has succeeded in exercising its fatal sway is only too palpable in the evidence of wretchedness, crime and ruin all around us.

Only a united movement of the people can overthrow this malignant depotism. To combine, so far as possible, all present efforts, and to create new agencies for delivering society from the evils which have proved inseperable from the trade in intoxicants, this National League has been formed. Its members do not think it wise to commit the organization to any political party, nor to form a new one. As a matter of history, they remember that oligarchies are usually overthrown by the people, and not by divided partizan action. The members of this League therefore do not favor entangling this reform with partizan affiliations. They believe their purpose will be soonest and best secured by keeping it clear of all such embarrassments.

The work of the League must be largely to create and intensify public sentiment, seeking to build it up from the bottom line of true reform. Intelligent convictions in the hearts of the people, with God's blessing, afford the only sure basis on which deliverance from the alcohol curse can be reasonably expected. To produce, strengthen and enliven such convictions will be a large part of our work. The needed legislation and enforcement of law will surely follow. Public sentiment soon shows itself in legislation and administration. We propose to build a pyramid not from the apex, but from the base.

This League also invokes and expects to maintain the sanction of law, in what they are willing to call a crusade against this great organized evil so much to be dreaded in the land. The dealers in liquors ask that they may be left to the same laws which govern other trades. But when a man sells an article the use of which takes away the judgment of him who buys, he must not expect to be left to the laws which govern other tradesmen, for the State must interpose and insist upon protecting those who are thus made unable to protect themselves.

It is said that a common business and a common peril unite the dealers in liquors with a bond which makes it sure that they will act as one! We propose to unite against them a hundred times as many men and women, who believe that the liquor traffic brings grievous calamities to the land. We shall use every prudent and right method to carry out our purpose, and ask all good people, men and women, of all parties and creeds, to join us in such endeavors.

DANIEL DORCHESTER,
Boston, President.
ALBERT H. PLUMB,
Boston, Recording Secretary.
MRS. J. ELLEN FOSTER,
Clinton, Iowa, General Secretary.
JOSEPH D. WEEKS,
Pittsburg, Pa., Treasurer.
36 Bromfield St., Boston, Jan. 12, 1885.

Very, Very Little Things,

But very important—your blood corpuscles. They are bright red. They are so small that it takes over 3,000 of them in a line to make an inch. The bright red color comes from the iron in them. When there is not enough iron the blood is thin and watery and impure. Purity and vigor go together. Brown's Iron Bitters is the only safe iron tonic ever made. It enriches the blood, builds up the system, gives health, strength, and enjoyment of life.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

I wish to inquire for my relatives. I left my mother in Culpepper county, three miles from Chancellorsville, Va. She was sold by John Scott to James Russell, at the same time I was sold by the same man to John Decker. My mother's name was Maria Brown. She had three children whose names were Patrick, Willie and Ceayer. My father's name was Ben Brown. My name is now Milley McKinney. I had three children, John Henry and Ann Maria Wilson, I left with John Decker, twelve miles from Fredericksburg, Va. At that time I was sold to a Negro trader, whose name was George Ailer; after that I was sold a number of times, and finally came to Texas with a Mr. Jones. Address any information to Milley McKinney, care of Rev. P. Morgan, Galveston, Texas.

I wish to inquire for my son 12 years of age, who left home in August. His name is Robert Henry Palmer. My name is Robert Palmer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Paris, Henry county, Tennessee, where I may be addressed. When I last saw him, he said he was going to his uncle's in Memphis. Any one sending me information that will lead to his recovery will be liberally rewarded.

I wish to inquire for my relatives. My mother's name was Matilda Burton; she was sold to Mina Stephen, near Newnan, Georgia, during the war. She married a man by the name of Peter Fauars. The last I heard from them, they had moved to Mississippi. Any information concerning them may be sent to George Mickle, Handley, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I want to find my brothers Calvin and Joseph; we all used to belong to Levi Wade, who then lived 7 miles west of Murfreesboro, in Rutherford county, Tennessee. He sold Bro. Calvin to a trader in 1857 by the name of Frank Eallem, and Bro. Joseph went off with the Federal army, I think it was in 1862. Our mother's name was Rachel and father's was Enoch; both belonged to Wade, and my name is Jacob Wade. Any information will be gladly received. Address me at Cook[illegible] county, Tennessee, J. A. C. Wade.

MR. EDITOR—I desire to find my people; my mother's name was Nancy West; my brother's George West. Sold by William R. Robinson, of Georgetown, district Columbia, Louisa West daughter of Nancy West, my sisters, Carry Ann West, Rosie Lee West. I, Louisa West wishes to know where the above named named persons are. Address Louisa Kelly, Brookhaven, Lincoln county, Mississippi.

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1885.

$1.50 Nine Months. $1.50

Subscriptions may be taken for nine months, or to the close of the year 1885, for $1.50. Agents will please announce this fact, and extend the canvass.

PHILLIPS & HUNT.

Lexington Conference—Sixteenth Session.

FIRST DAY.

The sixteenth session of the Lexington Methodist Episcopal Conference met in Wiley Chapel, Springfield, Ohio, at 9 o'clock a. m., Apr. 2d, Bishop Thos. Bowman, D. D., presiding. The religious exercises were conducted by Rev. A. B. Leonhard, pastor of Central Methodist Episcopal Church, Springfield, Ohio. The old conference hymn "And are we yet alive?" was sung, and earnest prayer being offered, the Bishop addressed the conference and proceeded to administer the Lord's supper, assisted by the presiding elders, with Drs. Leonhard and Taylor.

The secretary of the last conference called the roll and 88 members, besides probationers answered to their names. H. W. Tate was elected secretary, and he appointed Geo. A. Sissle and James L. Perrine, assistants. O. W. Fox was chosen statistical secretary.

The standing committees being appointed last year were confirmed as follows, viz:

Missions and missionary appropriations—The presiding elders.

Church Extension—George W. Thomas, W. L. Muir, C. T. Jones, W. C. Echoles and Charles Jones.

Freedman's Aid—Alex Posey, Era Miller, J. F. K. Moreland, W. W. Lock and G. W. Zeigler.

Education—W. E. Wilson, H. W. Tate, M. McCoomer, J. L. Perrin and D. Jones.

Trades—J. Allen Ross, D. W. Heston, Jas. Bowren, J. W. Russell and W. M. Johnson.

Sunday-schools—M. S. Johnson, A. Adams, H. A. Southgate, J. E. Christopher and W. W. Heston.

P. O. Local Preachers—James Taylor, Scott Ward, Dillard Hickman, W. H. Bloomer and G. F. Carr.

Memoirs—W. H. Evans, W. E. Wilson, W. H. Bloomer, J. H. Hargrave and C. Jones.

Temperance—W. Walton, Daniel Jones, W. H. Brown, James Brown and Simeon Stone.

Auditing P. E. Accounts—W. H. Hopewell, H. Steene, C. T. Jones, E. Henderson and J. L. Perrin.

Book Concern Accounts—W. E. Wilson, J. G. Jones, Geo. Sissle, M. S. Johnson and N. A. Tolbert.

American Bible Society—G. A. Steele, S. P. Lawson, Wm. W. Heston, J. H. Payne and Jesse Munday.

Episcopal Fund—Joseph Courtney.

Conference Relations—T. M. Thompkins, C. T. Jones, J. W. Morehead, S. G. Turner and W. H. Vaughn.

Periodicals—Z. Winchester, W. H. Brown, G. F. Carr, P. Fisher and W. M. Jamison.

Conference Stewards—A. A. Price, J. W. Heston, N. L. Carr, W. H. Lawrence and F. White.

Conference Treasurer—Marshall W. Taylor.

Remaining Committees—For Admission on Trial and recognition of Orders—W. L. Muir, S. G. Turner and S. Ward.

First year—N. L. Carr, J. H. Hargrave and S. P. Lawson.

Second year—A. A. Price, G. W. Thomas and J. A. Ross.

Third year—H. W. Tate, G. W. Zeigler and J. L. Perrin.

Fourth year—Marshall W. Taylor, J. H. Stanley and C. T. Jones.

Public Worship—H. W. Tate, Joseph Courtney and W. C. Echols.

Welcoming Address—H. W. Tate.

The Conference sermon was preached by the Rev. G. W. Zeigler.

For Local Deacons—N. L. Carr, J. H. Hargrave, S. P. Lawson.

Local Elders—A. A. Price, Geo. W. Thomas, J. Allen Ross.

Triers of Appeals—Chas. Jones, Monmouth Walton, Marcus McCoomer, W. W. Heston, W. C. Echols, Wm. Jamison, Alexander Posey.

To Visit Central Tennessee College—E. W. S. Hammond, H. W. White, Marshall W. Taylor and Abram Booker.

H. W. Tate delivered the address welcoming the conference to Springfield, and the homes of the people.

Rev. J. F. Marly, D. D., pastor of High Street Church; A. B. Leonhard, D. D., Central Church; Henry Tuckley, St. Paul's Church; M. M. Kugler, R. H. Rust, and T. S. Cowden, Methodist Episcopal Church; W. R. Boone Second Baptist Church, Springfield, Ohio.

Communications from the Board of Educations, Book House and other of our Centennial interests were read and referred.

Drafts upon the Chartered Fund and Book Concern for $30 and $109 respectively were ordered.

The 20th question was asked and the character of Rev. H. W. White, presiding elder, with that of Elders Washington Hopewell, N. L. Carr, H. A. Southgate, G. F. Carr, W. H. Evans, G. W. Thomas, Benjamine Strider, J. H. Stanly, Felix Ross, Braxton Daniels, Daniel Jones, George A. Sissle, S. Turner and C. J. Nichols, was examined and passed.

S. R. Cotterell, reported withdrawn, being present his case was referred to the committee on conference relations.

Marshall W. Taylor addressed the conference in the interest of the Western and SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and on motion of H. W. Tate the conference tendered him a vote of thanks.

Elder White represented his district in an able and interesting manner after which the character of presiding elder and other elders of the Bowling Green district were examined and passed, viz.:

Rev. Abraham Booker, represented his district; his report was humorous and well prepared.

It was resolved that a statistical conference be held in the afternoon. Marshall W. Taylor was appointed to preside in the afternoon session.

J. H. Stanly was appointed to open the morning session.

Rev. John G. Mitchell, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, was introduced. Benediction by Dr. Marly.

AFTERNOON SESSION, FIRST DAY

Conference met at 2 o'clock p. m., Marshall W. Taylor, presiding.

Religious exercises were conducted by Bro. Isreal Simms, and Marcus McCoomer.

The roll was called and the reports of pastors handed in. Pastors not reporting were noted, and the conference adjourned.

SECOND DAY.

April 3—Conference met at the appointed time and J. H. Stanly conducted religious service.

The journal of proceedings morning and afternoon sessions was read and approved.

Daniel Jones, W. H. Bloomer, J. F. K. Moreland, W. H. Vaughn, and Wm. E. Wilson were appointed a committee to examine the district conference journals.

The chairman of each committee was required to collect the benevolent money.

The chairman on Freedmens Aid was appointed to collect the centennial fund.

The Secretary was authorized to collect the fund for printing the minutes.

Marshall W. Taylor submitted the report of Central Tennessee College, and requested that the same be referred to the committee on education.

Dr. D. Rutledge of Delaware, Ohio, was introduced.

J. H. Stanley, A. Posey, J. Bowren, A. McDade, and Jas. Taylor were appointed a committee on observance of the Sabbath.

Resolutions by H. W. Tate touching conference journal were adopted.

The character of Wm. E. Wilson, J. Bowren, C. T. Jones and J. W. Heston were examined and passed.

W. W. Lock, presiding elder, reported the Lonsiville district, after the passage of his character. The document was well illustrated, straightforward, and marked the new elder as a man of unsual penetration and frankness.

The character of S. P. Lawson, J. E. Christopher, T. M. Tompkins, A. Posey, W. L. Muir, J. L. Perrin, M. Walton, W. H. Lawrence and Marshall W. Taylor were examined and passed.

G. W. Leach and Levi Mitchell were referred to the presiding elder of the Lonisville district for examinationin to the cause of their absence from appointed work.

Alfred Mason was reported withdrawn.

The class entering full connection was called forward and addressed as follows by the Bishop.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

The Bishop said he took it for granted they had all read and studied the disciplinary questions he was about to ask. After two years in the itinerant work they should be clear as to their call and qualification, and the conference after trying them for that length of time ought to be clear on the same points. It was easier to take men in than to put them out. Hence the necessity for care. It was sometimes better for the candidate to wait a year or two beyond the stipulated time, and he had known instances in which men had been kept on trial five years who afterwards had become most acceptable ministers.

The questions show first, that the Church expects her ministers to be good men, to have a good clear experience; otherwise they could not be leaders of others. He could remember the time when ministers of some other denominations made no profession of religion, and when they laughed at the Methodist preacher for his professions on this line; but he was glad that Methodism had always insisted that its ministry should be in the experience and exemplification of personal godliness. A personal Christian experience implied three things. First, justification which in the Scriptural sense means pardon.

Secondly, a new heart, which means regeneration or conversion. By nature we are dead, and when a dead thing is brought to life, the operation of a life growing principle was necessitated. This principle was the Holy Ghost, the spirit that bears witness to our adoption into the family of God. Then ordinarily there is another work to be done, there will be found evil tendencies within us, roots of bitterness, which, like the old roots in a garden, will occasionally put out shoots which will cause us trouble. It is possible, however, to have all this defilement cleansed, all these roots of evil taken away by the grace of God. This was entire sanctification, not simply sanctification, because that was a part of the work done for us at our conversion, but entire sanctification. Many called this the "second blessing," but he did not like that phrase, as it seemed to imply that there were but two blessings, whereas, we thanked God there were hundreds of blessings in store for them. For the experience of entire sanctification they must, as ministers be constantly striving.

Passing a clear, though Christian experience, they must then seek to gratify themselves in every other way possible for the work of preaching. The time when preachers could proceed on the principle that they had only to open their mouth and the Lord would fill it, had for ever gone by. The young preacher must read and study. The colored ministry was doing similar pioneer work to that which the white preachers did 50 years ago. When slavery was abolished, others besides the Negroes were emancipated. Thousands of whites were released from the bondage of ignorance, prejudice and laziness, and this class needed the Freedman's Aid Society as much as the others. He advised the candidates to rise early, say at five o'clock; take from 6 to 10 o'clock for uninterrupted study; then, before dinner, a good many brief pastoral calls might be made. After dinner two hours more of book study, and then more pastoral visiting. Six hours of study a day was quite sufficient, but they must study people as well as books. The new pastor must learn the peculiarities of his people. Some were like the old horse, who would not budge an inch as the result of the heavy blows laid on his back, but who started right off at a kind word and a gentle stroke with the hand.

To be good Methodist preachers they must be familiar with the Methodist Discipline, must look carefully and diligently after the great benevolent societies of the Church, remembering that they are agents of those societies upon whom the Church depends to keep up and advance her vast connectional interests.

The Bishop specially commended to the young preachers the Church Extension Society and the Woman's Home Missionary Society, the latter of which he said, was doing just the work which was needed amongst themselves in teaching household virtues and in developing economy. They should spend less money for display and should cultivate the habit of giving to the cause of Church benevolence. They should eschew canes and gold watch chains. He had a cane himself, but did not carry it, he did not need it; possibly when he was 80 years of age he might do so. He was sorry to say that the contributions of the Lexington Conference to the cause of missions averaged only 4 cents a head; he wished that he could speak to all the colored people on this subject of economy for purposes of benevolence. It was a common thing for colored people to spend considerable money at festivals, picnics and such things.

At this point Dr. M. W. Taylor, interrupted to inform the Bishop, that the colored population of New Orleans, spent annually not less than an average of $1 per head for these purposes, a fact upon which the Bishop enlarged and which he heartily deprecated. After an eloquent peroration in which the Bishop urged the preachers to use all their talent and improve all their opportunities, the usual questions were asked and satisfactorily answered.

Marcus McCoomer being appointed to open conference and announcements made conference adjourned. Benediction by Rev. Dr. Rutledge.

THIRD DAY.

Saturday morning, April 4, 1885 Conference assembled at 8:30; Bishop Bowman in the chair. The devotional services were conducted by M. McCoomer, who with the following brethren led in prayer by M. Walton, W. E. Wilson. At 9 a. m., the business of the conference was taken up. The journal of yesterday's session was read and adopted by the Conference. A letter from Levi Mitchell was referred to the committee of conference relation.

On motion by Dr. Taylor, and adopted by the conference, that a committee consisting of M. W. Taylor, E. W. S. Hammond and Daniel Jones were appointed to consider the whole, matter touching the relation of the Methodist Men and Women's Mutual Aid and Beneficial Association to this conference and its ability to fill its obligation to its members.

Rev. G H LaFeta, superintendent of the West Coast Missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Americo, Wm P Stowe, agent Western Methodist Book Concern, Cincinnati; Joseph U P Church, Springfield, Ohio; O W Butler, African Methodist Episcopal Church, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. J H Bayliss, editor of Western Christian Advocate, Cincinnati were introduced.

On motion J J Courtney, and D Jones, was appointed collector of money for missions.

The character of T. S. Carpenter, J. W. Russell, Alexander Adams, Era Miller, Nathaniel H. Tolbert, were passed and they were elected to deacons orders. By motion of Dr. Taylor, J. A. Ross was continued on trial; Henry Dupre continued a deacon of the first class; Frederick White admitted and elected to deacon's order; Andrew Austin was discontinued.

Question 14 was taken up. W. S. Rollins was elected to elder's order. On motion of E. W. S. Hammond, that Wm. Johnson be elected to elder's order provided he could stand his examination before the present committee. By motion of W. L. Muir, that Simeon Stone and Charles Pyles be continued deacons of the second class. Motion of E. W. S. Hammond, that Henry Steen be elected to elder's orders.

Question 10—What local preachers have been elected deacons?

Lewis Mason, Frank P. Fielding, George Cary and Logan W. Miles.

J. Courtney offered an amendment that the whole class be ordained under the same rule. W. L. Muir moved to lay the amendment on the table; was lost; on motion as substitute for the whole, that the following brethren be elected to elder's orders: Simeon Stone and Charles Pyles. Rev. Dr. W P Stowe was introduced and spoke in the interest of the Western Methodist Book Concern. By the motion of W L Muir the time was extended. Rev. Dr. H Bayliss represented the Western Christian Advocate in a good manner. J Courtney, offered a series of resolutions appreciative of the election of Dr M W Taylor to the editorship of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. Resolutions were offered by Dr. Taylor, complementary of Drs. Bayliss and Stowe.

FOURTH DAY.

Monday morning, April 6, 1885. Conference convened at 8.30 a. m., Bishop Bowman presiding. Religious services were conducted by A. McDade, assisted by F. Hinton, C. J. Nichols, A. A. Price, D. Jones. At 9 a. m. the Bishop called for the regular order of business. The journal of Saturday morning's session was read by the Secretary, and, after correction, was adopted by the Conference.

By motion of J. Courtney the names of the brethren occurring as paying on old minutes be erased. Carried.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Hartzell, of Cincinnati, Assistant Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, and A. N. Spahr, of the Cincinnati Conference, were introduced.

Question 20—Was the character of each preacher examined? was resumed.

J. Courtney, presiding elder of Ohio District, reported his district in a growing condition. The characters of the following elders of the district were passed: A A Price, E Henderson, J Ross, J H Payne, A McDade, W C Echols, J Downs, G W Board, J W Moreland, J H Hargrave, S Ward, W H Brown, H W Tate, W W Heston and N A Ellett. W S Lankford was transferred to the Little Bock Conference.

E W S Hammond, presiding elder of the Indiana District, reported in detail the work as prospering and growing.

On motion of W L Muir the matter concerning the church property in Springfield, Ill., be referred to the presiding elder of said district and reported to the next annual conference. C. Jones, bearing the farewell greeting of said district to E. W. S. Hammond, whose term ended with the above report, was permitted to address the conference purporting the fatherly way and faithful manner he served the work, and the high esteem in which he is held by his brethren.

The characters of elders W H Vanghan, M McCoomer, J Taylor, C Jones, F Hinton, D Heston, W M Jamison. T Thompkins, G W Zeigler, M S Johnson, were passed by the conference.

Question 18—Who are the supernumerary preachers? was asked and answered as follows: J W McAdoo, was continued on the supernumerary list; G W Henderson was made effective. N A Ellett's name was laid over until to-morrow morning's session. Each of the above brethren's character was passed.

Question 19—Who are the superannuated preachers? was asked. Henry Gibson, G W Adams, Israel Sims, Adam Nunn were continued in this relation.

Dr. Hartzell was permitted to address the conference in the interest of the Freedmen's Aid Society.

On motion of E W S Hammond that the following churches of the Lexington Conference give not less than $50 each toward the Freedmen's Aid Society, was carried, viz: Springfield, Ohio; Cincinnati, Onio; Covington, Ky.; Paris, Ky.; Lonisville, Cokes Chapel, Jackson Street Church; Indianapolis, Bowling Green, Ky., Maysville, Ky.

The report of the committee on the Preacher's Mutual Aid and and Benevolent Society was adopted. The following committee, by the motion of W L Muir, was appointed by the Conference: A committee to investigate the merits of this Preacher's Aid Society: Marshall W. Taylor, Daniel Jones, E. W. S. Hammond.

Question 13—Who are the traveling deacons of the second class? J G Jones, H C Buckner, G W Henderson, J W McAdoo. The following were continued deacons of the first class: Benjamin Ward, Charles Heston, Peter Dent. J Allen Ross passed in the third year's studies, and advanced to the fourth year's course.

The Sunday services were of the most impressive character. The Bishop preached at 11 a. m., and ordained the following brethren deacons, viz: Thomas C Carpenter, John W Russell, Alexander Adams, Esra Miller, Nathaniel H Tolbott, Frederick White; and the following local deacons: Lewis Mason, Jared Casey, Frank P Fielding, Logan W Miles.

Rev. M. W. Taylor, editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, preached the ordination sermon at 3 p. m., and the following were ordained elders: Wm S Rollins, William Johnson, Simeon Stone, Chas H Pyles and Henry Steene.

Subscriptions to the amount of nearly $1000 were taken for the Freedmen's Aid Society.

FIFTH DAY.

Tuesday morning, April 7, 1885. Conference assembled at 7:30 a. m., in the conference love feast. N L Carr conducted the services. Fifty-six gave testimonies. The meeting was very interesting and spiritually profitable. At 9 a. m., the Bishop took up the regular business. Minutes of the last session were read and approved by the conference.

Question 3—Who remain on trial? J F K Moreland, O W Fox, Dillard Hickman, P Fisher and W H Bloomer, were continued in the first year's studies, and their characters passed.

Question 18—Who are the supernumerary preachers? N A Ellett was placed on the effective list.

Question 2—Who are admitted on trial? Logan W Miles, Frank P Fielding, Robt Buckner, W B Harris, James E Richardson, C H Taylor, T F Ferguson, J H Jackson, Jesse S Henry, B W Kirkly.

The conference stewards made their report, which was referred back to them. On motion of J Courtney that no preacher who received three hundred dollars on salary shall receive any funds from the conference stewards. Carried.

On motion by C Jones that the money appropriated to the superannuated brethren be equally divided between them, except Adam Nunn and A Adams.

Question 6—Who are received on credentials from other churches? J F Lindsey, from the A M E Church, was received on his credentials as an elder; P A Jones, from the same church, and Willis T Franklin, from the Baptist Church, to be used as a supply.

On motion by Dr. Taylor, that Bro. W T Franklin be used by any presiding elder who desires his services.

The committee on periodicals reported, and their report was adopted.

A paper was offered by Dr. Taylor on Gen. U. S. Grant in condolence of his serious illness. By motion of W M Jamison that a copy of the same be forwarded to the family.

The committee on accounts against preachers made their report through D Jones, which was adopted. The committee on education made their report through D Jones. Adopted. The committee on conference relation made their report, which was adopted. On motion by James Taylor, that S R Cottrell be not received back into the conference. Carried.

On motion by E W S Hammond that the money appropriated to persons in presiding elder's districts be paid to them for said persons. The conference stewards read their report, which was adopted.

The secretary stated that there was in the minute fund $47.69.

Conference adjourned, with benediction by Dr. J F Marley.

FIFTH DAY—AFTERNOON SESSION.

Tuesday, April 7, 1885.—Conference met at 2:30 p. m., Dr. Marshall W. Taylor presiding. Devotional exercises were conducted by Israel Sims.

Bishop Bowman took the chair. Minutes of the morning session read and approved by the conference.

The suggestion of Dr. Hartzell that the money subscribed by the pastors be apportioned on the assessment for the Freedmen's Aid Society was ordered by the conference.

The committee on church location made their report, which was adopted.

A resolution was offered by Dr. Taylor and adopted by the conference touching expenses of the committee on the M. A. B. Society.

Question 20 was resumed, and the character of Z. Winchester was passed and his name placed on the supernumerary list.

Committee on Freedmen's Aid Society made their report, which was adopted.

Committee on district conference journals reported and was approved.

Committee on Memoirs reported, which was adopted.

Committee on Temperance reported and was adopted by the conference.

On motion of W H Evans that there be a new committee on memorials, passed, and M W Taylor, D Jones, E W S Hammond, J Courtney and W W Locke were constituted that committee.

Committee on auditing the presiding elders accounts, made their report. Approved.

Committee on Tracts reported, which was adopted.

Committee on Sunday-school observance reported. Adopted.

Committee on Church Extension reported. Adopted.

Committee on post office addresses of local preachers reported and approved.

Committee on Book Concern accounts reported and was adopted.

Committee on A. B. Society reported.

Committee on Statistics reported. Adopted.

A series of resolutions were read by Dr. Taylor of thanks to the citizens and Bishop. Resolution offered by E W S Hammond that each pastor be requested to forward his benevolent collections to the book room and bring vouchers to conference. Committee on Missions reported. Several places were nominated for the next conference; Bowling Green was elected.

A collection was taken for the sexton, resulting $6.20.

Dr. Marley was requested by the committee to conduct religious service after singing and prayer. The Bishop delivered a few timely remarks. The appointments were read. Benediction by Bishop Thos. Bowman, D. D., L.L. D.

APPOINTMENTS.

Lexington District.

H. W. White, P. E., Lexington, Ky.

Boyd, Butler and La're.....G F Carr
Cadentown and Harrodsburg..A Jamison
Corinth and Williamstown..B W Kirkley
Falmouth.....N L Carr
Flemingsburg and Poplar Plains....H A Southgate.
Georgetown.....Scott Ward
Germantown.....C J Nichols
Hedge's Corner and Howard's Creek..G W Henderson
Leesburg.....T T Carpenter
Lexington, Asbury Chapel...W H Evans
Lexington, Gaar's Chapel..G W Thomas
Lands and Marble Creek....J H Jackson
Mercerdale and Sharbern....Jesse Henry
Mt Olive, Sardis and Johnson, to be supplied by Frank Brown.
Monterey and Oxford.....Felix Ross
New Zion.....J H Stanley
New Providence and College Hill..Washington Hopewell.
North Middletown.....W E Wilson
Orangeburg, Mt. Carmel and Pleasantville.....J H Hargrave.
Paris.....G A Sissle
Sharpsburg..... N A Ellett
Tollesburg and Dover, to be supplied by Titus Buckner.
Versailles.....W H Vaughn
Washington.....H C Buckner
Winchester.....Daniel Jones

Louisville District.

W. W. Locke, P. E., Lonisville, Ky.

Alton circuit.....supplied
Anchorage and Middletown..J W Russell
Bedford Circuit.....supplied
Chaplin and Bloomfield.....L W Miles
Eminence circuit.....supplied
Frankfort..... Robt Buckner
Frankfort circuit.....supplied
Jericho and Smithfield.....W S Rollins
LaGrange.....S G Turner
Lebanon Junction and New Haven....W H Bloomer.
Louisville, Coke Chapel.....A McDade
" Jackson Street....W L Muir
" Lloyd Street.....J L Perrin
" Mission .....Supplied
Mt. Washington and Waterford..C Heston
Pewee Valley.....N H Talbott
Samuel's Station & Bardstown..supplied
Shelbyville.....M Watson
Simpsonville and Finchville..W Johnson
Strawberry circuit.....Isa Mason
Sulphur & Patton Creek..W H Lawrence
Wakefield and Taylorsville....P Fisher
Warsaw and Ghent.....J A Rose
Wilsonville and Jeffersontown..I W Hatton.
Woodfork circuit.....F P Fielding

Bowling Green District.

Abraham Booker, P. E., Jeffersonville.
Auburn and Russellville....Henry Dupre
Bewleyville and Germantown..W B Harris.
Bowling Green.....J F Lindsy
Cave City, Boaneyville, and Glasco..S P Lawson.
Cedar Ridge.....Benj Strider
Dawson and Central City....to be supplied by Green Phillips
Delaney, Gnun Springs and Princeton..A Adams.
Eddyville and Rolling Mills..W M Jamison.
Elizabethtown and Cecilia....J Hagans
Franklin.....A Jones
Greenville, Livermore and Nortonville..J E Christopher.
Hamilton Mines.....H H Gibson
Hardinsburg and Cloverport..J Bowren
Hartford and Beaver Dam.....B J Ward
Hawesville, Lewisport and Owensboro..E D Millor.
Henderson.....E D Hammond
Litchfield and Sulphur Springs..D Hickman.
Millwood and Caneyville....E D Wilson
Morgantown and Indian Camp....P Dent
Pools Chapel and Oak Hills....Wm Pool
Richardson Landing and Brandinburg..Frank Frazier.
Sonora.....James Freeman
Smithland, Paducah and River Bend.....J E Richardson.
West Point and Vine Grove..supplied by Charles Robinson.

Ohio District.

Joseph Courtney, P. E., Covington, Ky.
Aberdeen, Ripley and Higginsport..J G Jones.
Augusta.....W C Echols
Batavia, Milford and Winchester to be supplid by Theodore Wilson.
Bellaire.....Elijah Henderson
Cadiz and Georgetown....Joseph Adkids
Chevlot, Mt. Healthy and College Hill..Zeb Ross
Cincinnati, Union Chapel.....Lewis M Hagood
Cleveland and Elyria.....J H Payne
Covington.....K W S Hammond
Cumminsville, Madisonville and Lockland..... Chas H Payne.
Dayton, Mechanicsburg and Delaware..O W Fox
Flushing, Bridgeport and St Clairsville.....W H Brown.
Ironton and Ashland.....John Downs
Louisa and Catsville....to be supplied by John L Griffith.
Marion and Rushsylvania.....Eben Jackson
Maysville and North Fork.....G W Board
Maysville.....J W Moreland
Mt. Pleasant and Martin's Ferry.....S Daniels
New Richmond and Laurel.....Jas Taylor
Newport and Walnut Hills.....to be supplied
Oberlin.....J F K Moreland
Portsmouth and Vanceburg....to be supplied by E A White.
Springfield.....H W Tate
Steubenaville.....to be supplied by W F Franklin
Troy.....W W Hoston
Editor SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, M W Taylor, member of Union Chapel quarterly conference, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Indiana District.

Charles Jones, P. E., Indianapolis.

Carmi, Wabash and Little Prairie.....C H Taylor
Clarke and Riding Sun.....Thos Tompkins
Connersville.....Geo W Ziegler
Evansville and Newburg.....Frank Hinton
Greencastle and Bloomington.....A A Price
Indianapolis.....M McCoomer
Indianapolis mission.....supplied by J B Collins
Jeffersonville.....O S Jones
Lawrenceville Pinkstaff.....Simeon Stone
Liber and Winchester.....Thos L Ferguson
Madison and North Vernon.....Alexander Posey
New Castle, Anderson and Knightstown....D W Heston.
Princeton, Mt. Carmel and Grayville....F White
Rockport, Cannelton and No. Twelve..M S Johnson.
Shelbyville and Rushville.....Henry Steen
Springfield.....supplied by Thos Watts
Shawneetown, Elcondo, South America, Golconda and Vienna.....supplied by P A Jones
Terre Haute and Knightsville.....Jesse Munday
Watson, New Albany and Corydon..T M Tompkins.

Bowmanisms.

There are some few people whose brains all get in their heels; they cant keep from dancing, but yon onght to keep away from them.

Yon can make eight or ten calls in the course of two hours and still stndy abont six hours per day.

Study men and women and little children.

When I get so I will need a cane probably I will carry one.

Bishop Bowman made the strongest speech running through all the details of our Methodist plans and way of working we have ever lisentened to. It was impassioned, convincing, animated and at times quite humorons. We give elsewhere a a liberal extract of the same.

"God made the world but I was there and helped to carry the dirt," so the little boy said when asked who made the world.

Latest Works From Our Book Concern.

Dearer Than Life, a tale of the times of Wiclif. By Emma Leslie, 12mo., 302 pp., price $1. Phillips & Hunt, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati, The reader of this work will find himself living amid the exciting scenes of medieaval times, when king and pope contended for supremacy in church. The style is charming, and the matter instructive and iteresting, the reader will find himself borne on by a resistless passion from the very start until he has finished the book. It should and doubtless will secure a large sale, especially among Christian youths.

Words and Ways; What They said and What Came of It. By Sarah J. Jones. 16mo., 302 pp., price $1. Phillips & Hunt, New York; Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati. This work contains 302 pages in good type. It has 24 chapters divided into 2 parts. 1. "The Boys and Girls of Plainville," 2. "Life at the old Rectory." Poetry of a very choice class is interspersed very appropriately here and there, and the chapters begin with, aptly quoted texts of Scripture, which will find practical illustration as the writer proceeds. Wherever this work is read it will have a tendency to extirpate that which is likely to be found and least fit to remain in the character of grown or growing people. We wish it may have a good sale in the South.

Work Day Christianity, or the Gospel in the Trades. By Alexander Clarke. Published by Cranston & Stowe, Cincinnati; Phillips & Hunt, New York. Price $1. This is a plea for the necessity and dignity of working Christians. It contains 267 pages divided into 11 chapters, treating upon the carpenter, mason, bricklayer, founder, machinist, potter, glassmaker, pilot, printer, weaver, and laborer. The truth is finely put, veiled in well known figures, calculated to retain the interest and deeply imprint the thought upon the memory of the reader. All Christian families should be sure to put this book where their children can get it.

Heretofore the Negroes have loved the Methodist Episcopal Church for its espousal of the cause of freedom; hereafter they must love it for its theology and polity.

Heretofore they depended upon it for financial help; hereafter it must depend upon themselves for such help.

Heretefore they relied upon white men to lead in Church enterprises of great importance because they were themselves incompetent to lead in such matters; hereafter they must take upon themselves this leadership in order to prove that the work or their white brethren has been faithfully done.

Heretofore they have been taught by white teachers, because they were unable to teach themselves.

Hereafter they must do their own teaching, in order to show that they have learned the way, and then prove the usefulness of the labor bestowed by those white teachers upon them.

In contrast to the treatment which the colored people sometimes receive comes a cordial invitatiot for us to accept the hospitalities of Rev. A. B. Leonard. D, D., during the session of our conference at Springfield, Ohio, and also to fill his pulpit on the Sabbath, in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church of that city. We appreciate the words of commendation in regard to our management of the paper.

Personal.

—The Pope is again ill with a recurrence of his intestinal complaint.

—Queen Victoria's health has improved. She now takes daily drives.

—O'Donovan Rossa has been discharged from the hospital fully recovered.

—The Episcopal Bishop of New York has decided to try Rev. Herber Newton for heresey.

—Rev. B. H. Bodley; with his three boys, arrived in Lucknow, June, 3d after a pleasant voyage —Rev. Dr. T. D. Witherspoon, of Lonisville, Ky, has been ohosen President of Davidson College, in North Carolina.

—Rev. Thomas Harwood, of Tiptonville, New Mexico, a missionary of our church, was in the city, and gave us a call.

—Dr. Wm. H. Furness, of Philadelphia, by his ordination in 1825, the oldest Unitarian clergyman in this country, is still active in his ministry.

—Bishop Warren and his wife held a reception at their home in Denver on Jaunary 28th, and it is said 2,000 Methodists were present.

—Jules Louis Joseph Valles, the well-known journalist, is dead. He was born at Puy, Haute Loire, on June 11, 1833. He had been connected with several French journals, but cheifly with Figaro.

—Rev. H. G. Appenzeller was ordained by Bishop Fowler, Feb. 2nd., in the Howard street Church, San Francisco. The entire party, en ronte for Korea, were about sailing for Japan, —Rev. A. J. Maxwell writes "from Cawnpore Jan 6th., of fair health and a good degree of success, many in the church have been quickened and a revival is looked for very soon.

—Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, gave his course of five lectures on "Extemporaneous Preaching," before Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., on successive days from Jannary 26 31.

—Rev. J. C. Hartzell will deliver the alumni address at the reunion of Garrett Biblical institute alumni, at Evanston, May 12, evening. The association itself will meet in the afternoon of that day, and a banquet will follow Dr. Hartzell's address.—Northwestern.

—It is asserted that Dr. Walsh, the well known President of Maynooth College, and leader of the Nationalist clergy, will be appointed Cardinal McCabe's successor, and that the new Cardinal "will be a figure in Irish affairs second only to Mr. Parnell."

—Frank Jones, of Portsmouth N. H., now one of the wealthiest men in New England, began life as a peddler. His cart was gorgeously painted, and bore on one side the words: "Good weight, marm." He owes much of his remarkable success in life to the fact that he lived up to his motto.

—The Methodist and colored people of Winona Miss., are generally happy because they have Dr. Revels returned to them, and it is proper they should be so for there is none in all our Southern work more accomplished or deserving than he.

—The many friends of Rev. Tolbert, brother of Rev. Seaborn Smith of West Texas Conference, will be pained to learn that the former has been recently afflicted with brain trouble that wholly incapactates him for labor or business of any kind.

—Rev. H. H. Fairall, D D. editor of the Iowa, Methodist Iowa city., arrived in this city Friday morning direct from his home for a brief visit to the World's Fair, and is accompanied by his entire family. He represents the Reformed Catholic movement, and is a wide awake man, an extensive traveller and a good preacher.

—We are glad to note that Rev. H. J. Wright, has been reassigned to the charge of the colored Methodist Church at this place, by the conference recently held in Baton Rouge, from which place he returned last week. He has won the respect and admiration of every class of our citizens, by his dignified and Christian conduct. Democratic Review, Natchitoches La.

—Rev. T. E. Hilson, of the Congregational Church, Luling, Texas, was in the city last week visiting the Exposition and in attendance on the Louisiana Association of his denomination. He reports harmony between the religious elements of Luling. Our brethren there are in need of assistance to rebuild; they now worship, by the courtesy of the Congregational brethren, in their building, until a house can be secured.

—The editor of the SOUTHWESTERN wishes to acknowlege invitations to preach, lecture, or address our schools at New Orleans, Houston, Marshall, Holly Springs, Medical school Nashville, Bowling Green District, and Lexington conference. He will probably be able to comply with most of them. Our hands, head and heart, are full of this work but there are found a good many reasons why we must proceed with a great deal more than our usual discretion and judiciousness just at this time.

—Bishop Walden, who recently held the S. C. Conference (M. E. Church), says in the Western Christian Advocate, that the official report of the Rev. J. E. Wilson, at that Conference, was the most complete document of the kind he had ever seen. Mr. Wilson is a colored Presiding Elder. The wise Bishop's just inference is, that the people of color, under the tutelage and influence of the Methodist Episcopal Church, are advancing in all the elements of civilization and of Christianity; and the testimony is true—thank the Lord! —Southern Christian Advocate.

—Rev. H. L. Rockey writes, from Moradabad, Jan. 2nd. We landed at Bombay, Dec, 22nd, thirty days from Liverpool. I received an invitation to spend Christmas at Cawnpore, and got there Chrismas eve. Was present with the Bishops at the "Tamashas" at Cawnpore, Lucknow and Moradabad I enjoy India and the appearance of things very well. I have learned to say "bahut achishha" pretty well; preached at Cawnpore to the English congregation, and New Year's sermon at Moradabad, to the native church. We go to conference next Wednesday and anxiously await appointment.

Church Polity.

1. Have the trustees and stewards of any charge the right to make his request of them to do a condition of receiving a minister, as pastor regularly appointed by the Bishop to serve them?

2. Should a minister wait the pleasure of the trustees and stewards or either or any charge to signify their acceptance of his services by a formal reception before proceeding to the performance of his duties as their pastor?

Ans.—1 and 2. No, but when a supply is sent to a charge whose name does not appear in the printed minutes he should bear with him and present to the officers of the church a certificate of his appointment and said officers would be justifiable in refusing to recognize him with out it.

Schools and Colleges.

Home School For Girls.

Frequent application has been made to Lasell Seminary for pupils too young to enter the classes; and inquiry has followed in regard to some possible arangement whereby such may prepare here for admission. I am happy to say that Mrs. Annie E. Latimer, will receive into her family six or eight young girls of whom she will take entire charge, and whom she will prepare in their studies for entrance to the Seminary.

Mrs. Latimer can need no commendation to those who know her as the sharer of her husband's rare, scholarly life here and abroad. She is usually fitted, in character and attainments, for such work. Her home is within one block of the Seminary, one of the most pleasant houses in Auburndale, with ample, shaded grounds, &c.

C. C. BRAGDON, Principal.
Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass.

[This lady is the widow of the late Dr. Latimer of Boston University, her eminent fitness for the task she voluntarily assumes is so well known and widely circulated that words on that would be superfluous. We have only to say that we regard this a rare chance for any young ladies who may be able and inclined to avail themselves of such an opportunity, and we urge them to do it.—EDITOR.]

Bishop Wiley Memorial Service at Wiley University.

The proposed services in memory of the late Bishop I. W. Wiley, which were some weeks ago announced in the SOUTHWESTERN, will be held at Wiley University, Marshall Texas, on Sunday April 19th. Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, Dr. Marshall W. Taylor and Rev. A. H. Gillett will be present, and other prominent men of the church are expected. It is hoped that as many as possible of the pastors of the vicinity and conference will be present to join in the service. Let all make an earnest effort to attend.

N. D. CLIFFORD,
For the committee.

Sermon Sketches.

REV. W. D. GODMAN,

Theme—The Passion of Jesus Christ.

Text—1 Peter 3, 18: "For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God."

Introduction.—This the great event in the history of the moral world. Eph. 1, 9ff. 3: 5ff.

1. The death of Christ our Savior neither an accident, nor a mere incident in the divine government, but the climax of its purpose and plan.

Luke 24, 46-47; 9, 22; Eph. 1, 4; 1 Peter 1. 19-20; Rev. 13, 8.

II. The significance and high import of this event with its concomitant suffering, not confined to this earth, but extended to the Universe. John 1, 3; Col 1, 17; 1 Peter 3, 22; Eph. 1, 10; Phil 2, 9 10.

1. It is the highest example of moral discipline, the way to the attainment of holiness. Matt. 16, 21ff.; Luke 9, 23ff; 2 Tim. 2, 11 12; 1 Peter 2, 21ff;

2. By it comes atonement, i. e. reconciliation between God and sinners. John 10, 15; Matt. 20, 28; Mark 10, 45; 1 Tim. 2, 6; Rom. 4 25; Col. 1, 20.

1. We are influenced by the example. 1 Peter 2, 24.

2. We are won by the love. 1 John 4, 19.

3. We are bought with the price. 1 Cor. 6, 20. If there be sinners in other worlds like things are true of them.

III. Reflect on the intensity and the preciousness of the sufferings of one who "knew no sin," 2 Cor. 6, 21.

IV. Behold him "satisfied" under all the wo, in bringing us to God.

V. Well may the Heavenly Hosts give glory to the "Lamb that was slain," Re. 5. 11ff.

General Church News.

Methodism has more than twice as many adherents as Romanism in the United States; and since 1870, the Methodist population has increased 4,638,351, while the Roman Catholic population gained 2,023,176.

The colored congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Church, are building a large church at Winona Mississippi and have it ready to plaster. It cost $1500, and the debt is all paid except about $75.

An earnest effort is now in operation to raise $60,000 for the purpose of liquidating debts on the churches of Methodism in Southwark (London) and erect another chapel. Already over $50,000 of the amount have been secured. Southwark has many needy and denesly populated parts.

A Methodist writing from Trinity College, Dublin, says: "Missionary enthusiasm in Irish Methodism is no empty phrase. This conference, with the strain of raising over $70,000 per annum to support home mission work in districts mainly Roman Catholic, yet, 'of her want' subscribed last year to the missionary treasury $9,000, an amount which will compare very favorably with the sums raised out of their abundance by our wealthy English districts.

SUFFICIENCY.

BY MARJORIE MORRE.

What is Christ my Lord to me?
I was bare; He made me free;
Foul was I, and stained with sin,
He has made me pure within.

He is shelter, guide and friend,
Sure rewarder at the end;
Hope and anchor of the soul,
When life's threatening billows roll.

What is Christ my Lord to me?
He is life and liberty,
Rest in toil and peace in strife,
Sunshine in the storm of life.

What is Christ my Lord to me?
All things ever let Him be!
Rock to which alone I cling,
Shepherd, Prophet, Priest and King.

Domestic Hygiene.

How Can the Pain of Scalds and Burns be Allayed.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

Perhaps the most painful hurt one can be the subject of is a scald from any hot liquor, or a burn of any kind. The pain is tormenting. There are two reasons for the extremely acute pain of scalds. First the immediate injury to the terminal filamnets of nerves, which are connected with each hair bulb throughout the body, and the special nerve terminations in bulbs located in some parts of the body. Second, the denudation of the soft tissues of the body of the skin their natural covering and protectors, by which they are exposed to contact with the atmosphere.

Burns and scalds are of three degrees. The first is a simple removal of the scarf skin, not usually serious in its consequences, unless extensive, but very painful. The second degree passes through the true skin and occasionally touches the tissues below in points. In the third degree, the muscles and soft tissues are entirely exposed, and often the substance of the tissues is greatly injured. Scalds or burns beyond these are an entire destruction of all the tissues. In such a case the damage is extensive, and a large amount of sloughing will follow, and if the patient recover at all, it will be in a maimed condition.

The last tissue to be injured in scalds or burns, and the parts seeming to endure heat the best, are arteries and veins. When they are to any great extent damaged so that hemorrhage occurs, the case is very serious. A skillful physician is always required and even then life may not be saved.

The usual household scalds and burns are limited to the first and second degree. If they are not extensive, their danger is not great, and the service of a physician is not needed. One of the wants of the family is an easily procured and perfectly harmless remedy to relieve the pain.

Bi-carbonate of soda, or the common cookery soda, which is found in every kitchen is a safe, cheap, handy, and efficient remedy. It may be applied in two ways. It may be sprinkled over the wound in quantity sufficient to well cover it, and then moistened with water sufficiently to make a thick paste. Or a strong solution of soda may be made, and clothes dipped in the solution laid over the burn or scald, and kept moistened with the soda. In most cases the relief will be immediate. Occasionally it may require a few minutes to cause the pain to cease.

The reason for the efficacy of the soda is thought by many to be in the exclusion of the air from the wound. It is possible that in the process of burning or scalding there is devoloped an acid by chemical changes occurring in flesh in contact with great heat, which adds to the pain of the injury, and the soda as an alkali neutralizes this, and so removes an irritating substance.

A medical journal of Europe gives a case of sixteen persons severely burned while trying to save property from an extensive fire. The whole number were [illegible] with soda. Some of [illegible] were burned deeply until [illegible] were exposed, and [illegible] down. None of them [illegible] any other treatment than [illegible], and all recovered, having suffered but little pain after the application of the soda.

A physician in Boston, lately gave an illustration of the effects of soda on scalds before the Massachusets Dental Society. He scalded his arm purposely in the presence of the society, and then instantly applied soda to the surface scalded, and wrapped a wet cloth around the arm, and found immediate relief. Having used this as a remedy and seen it used, and in every instance with complete success. I can heartily recommend it in all cases of burns and scalds, as a cheap, handy, harmless, and efficient remedy.

The covering of a large burn with oil and cotton, a common remedy, while it is often attended with good results, can not be recommended when a so much better remedy is close at hand. With oil and cotton there will be a great accummlation and retention of offensive pus about and on the wound, which with soda treatment is cleansed away. With oil and cotton, burns and scald, of a large extent become exceedingly offensive, but with soda the offensive characters are lessened more than one half. With oil and cotton there must be extensive irritation on removing the cotton, as it must be removed before healing can be complete, but with soda there is no such irritation. In every way soda is the best remedy for the pain of scalds and burns.

Some scalds will need preperation for the application of the soda. If the scalding is by any caustic liquor, as lye or hot acids, the part ought to be cleansed by application of clear cold water. Cold water will aid in the relief of pain, as well as cleanse away the deleterious matters remaining to continue a damaging effect. When cleased the soda may be applied with expectation of perfect relief.

Probably the most painful pain is from a scald or burn.

Concerning Red Hair.

Many people admire red hair, but if you do not, Parker's Hair Balsam will impart to it a darker hue. It will also thicken the hair, eradicate dandruff, and impart softness, glossiness and life to hair which has become dry and harsh. Not a dye, does not soil the linen. Gives a delicious perfume. An elegant dressing

Symposium of the Weeklies.

Prof. Tyndall says; "A power of character must underlie and enforce the work of the intellect. St Louis Christian Advocate.

I have not had opportunity to investigate our work among the colored people, but understand it is prosperous. Our greatest hope for the work in the south is in this direction. Dr. M. W. Taylor is filling his position on the SOUTHWESTERN admirably, and doing grand work. That editor will soon have a volume ready on this question.—Northwestern.

These things, celibrecy, poverty, and obedience to superiors, as the controling ideas of one's religious life for a longer or shorter time, may not be wrong in themselves under peculiar circumstances, but it is not necessary to make them the principle features of an ecclesiastical institution.—The Central.

As this magazine has not hesitated to bring to the notice of the country whatever social and political evils were supposed to exist in any part of it, and as it has especially given attention to the condition of the freedmen in the Southern States, we will not now be regarded as writing in a partizan spirit when we deprecate and denounce the narrow, sectional, and embittered tone of comment which still lingers in certain quarters of the North. That this tone is less frequent than it was a few years ago is a token of the mellowing of feeling which takes place as the Civil War, with its animosities, moves farther and farther back into history; it is a sign also, of the improved condition and spirit of the South, and of the new era of common interests and mutual sympathy and respect.—Feb. Century.

Over forty young men were brought before the police magistrate of that city within four months, charged with misdemeanors. Two hundred and eleven persons were convicted of crime during the year. Four-fifths of these were young men. Eighty-five prisoners were lodged in the jail during the year; fifty-eight, or over two-thirds of these were young men. There are now twenty-nine prisoners in jail, and twenty-five of these are young men. Is it not high time we were redoubling our efforts to save young men?—The Watchman, Chicago.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every State should regulate the sale and use of the many poisons resorted to by women in their desperation to obtain a beautiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injuring health or endangering life.

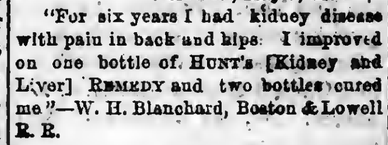
ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
July 17-ly.

Vitality of Great Men

Is not always innate or born with them but many instances are known where it has been acquired by the persistent and judicious use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

The English reviews devote a large portion of their space to the careful consideration of American books, their practice indicating a considerable interest in them among English readers. The writers of Southern life meet with especial favor in England, where there is a strong liking for delineations of Negro character.

Lowell, May 4, 1883



"For six years I had kidney disease with pain in back and hips. I improved on one bottle of HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY and two bottles cured me."—W. H. Blanchard, Boston & Lowell R. R.

From the London Athenæum; Mr. F. Marion Crawford has placed a new novel in the hands of Messrs. Mackmillan & Co. for immediate publication. It is entitled "Zoroaster, the Prophet," and the scene is laid in ancient Persia.

A QUESTION ABOUT
Brown's Iron Bitters
ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure anything for which a regular physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of Iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This alone conclusively proves that the secret of the success of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfect, [illegible] BROWN'S IRON BITTERS [illegible] injure [illegible] BROWN'S IRON BITTERS [illegible] cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, [illegible] Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS [illegible] in a [illegible] slowly. When taken by [illegible] benefit is realized almost [illegible] strength. The [illegible] appetite improves, the [illegible] is soothed, the effect is immediately perceived and permanent. The blood is made to [illegible] up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements of the liver, kidneys, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY [illegible] that can be taken with impunity. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.
The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. TAKE NO OTHER.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed a moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Asa't Manager.

FITS A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.
From AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE "Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to
Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York.
feb5-13

BARNES'
Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business. Lathes for Wood or Metal. Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.
W. F. & JOHN BARNES, Rockford, Ill.
No. 187 Ruby St.
jan29-eow 2

MILLERS and FARMERS
Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro., 22 Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga.
may22-1y

WANTED A WOMAN
[illegible] and responsible [illegible] in her locality, middle-aged preferred. SALARY $33 to $50. References exchanged. CAY BROS., 14 Barclay St., N. Y.
mar19-8t

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.
Sixty Addresses by American Educators.
Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.
8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.
MRS. TENA BURTON,
100.....Franklin Street.....100
Lodging,
With or Without Board.
mar30-6m

E. W. Scheffel,
GENERAL
Book-Binder,
Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.
37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.
Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

NEW USES OF
DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.

They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo. as sample, or a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,
GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE,
For Gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

MASON & HAMLIN

Exhibited at ALL the important WORLD'S INDUSTRIAL COMPETITIVE EXHIBITIONS FOR SEVENTEEN YEARS, Mason & Hamlin Organs have, after most rigid examinations and comparisons, been ALWAYS FOUND BEST, and AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS; not once, in one such important comparison America's Organ has any other found equal to them. Over HUNDRED STYLES, adapted to all uses, from the smallest size, yet having the characteristic Mason & Hamlin excellence, at $22, to the best instrument which it is possible to construct from reeds, at $900 or more. Illustrated catalogues, 48 pp. Also, and price lists, free.

The Mason & Hamlin Company manufacture UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, adding to all the improvements which have been found valuable in such instruments, one of peculiar musical value, tending to greater purity and refinement in quality of tone and durability, especially in finished liability to get out of tune. Pronounced the greatest improvement made in upright pianos for half a century. The MASON & HAMLIN CO. pledge themselves that every piano of their make shall illustrate that VERY HIGHEST EXCELLENCE which has always characterised their organs. Send for circular with illustrations, full description and explanation.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
BOSTON, 154 Tremont St. CHICAGO, 149 Wabash Ave.
NEW YORK, 46 East 14th St. (Union Square)
oct23-26t

JEWETT'S

REFRIGERATORS.
Established 35 Years.
Largest Refrigerator Works in the World.
23 AND STYLES
Sold by first-class Dealers everywhere.
The internal construction of our Refrigerators is our own, and the subject of patents; consequently, not available to other manufacturers. [illegible] of [illegible] months free to all on application.
John C. Jewett & Sons,
BUFFALO, N. Y.
feb19 3t

FEMALE COMPLAINTS
Treated scientifically at home, at very small expense, with absolutely no pain, no caustics, no unnecessary examinations. Permanent cure guaranteed. Book and question blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CATARRH
Causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough and Consumption, cured in from one to three months, even though bones of nose are affected. Powders, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Book and blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 309 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.
oct2-1y

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE
1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter what he is for Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once. The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.
dec30 53t

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.
—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.
Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 pm	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 20 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.
Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.
Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.
Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.
No 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.
No. 2 leave Richmond except Snoday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m, Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m.
Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.
For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.
C. W. SMITH, Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

Ohio & Mississippi R. R
—The Direct and Fast Line to—
Cincinnati,
Louisville,
Washington,
Baltimore,
New York and the East,
In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m.
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " " "	12.20 p m
Martin " " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati. "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.
The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.
The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.
The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Local Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:28 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. O. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.
W. B. Knaskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; D. M. Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.
a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.
3 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.
2 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.
Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.
Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.
The ONLY LINE running Elegant Reclining Chair Cars through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS
At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.
At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,
Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant H. Lewry, Trav. Pass. Ag't., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
J Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.
Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4....7:00 p.m.	Express No. 3. 9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5. 8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.
Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)
WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.
J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent

C & O
The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.
C. O. & S. W. R. R.
THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.
Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.
For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 p m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 e m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?
If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,
J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.
Or, H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent, 31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great Tropical and Polar Explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest $4 Book published: outsells All, others. Agents wanted, on salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Pict. Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
feb19-13t

General News Items.

Minnesota has made hanging the penalty for murder in the first degree.

Frank James, the notorious outlaw, has again been set free by the courts of Missouri.

Reports indicate that Oregon's wheat crop for 1885 will be one-third larger than last year.

The Minnesota legislature has passed a high license liquor law, fixing the figures at $500.

There are more foreign white than colored people in Dakota, Colorado and Nevada, and there are more Chinese than Negroes in California.

The insurance statistics for 1884 show that Michigan's insurance for the year aggregated $220,529,707; the amount paid in premiums, $3,174,198; and the losses $1,338,251.

The difficulty between Portugal and the African International Association is settled, a treaty having been signed, defining the territory of the African International Association.

A Korti dispatch states that the Mahdi spread a false report of the battle of Abu Klea, and so terrified the inhabitants of Khartoum that they let him into the city.

A resolution proposing submission of a proposition for an amendment to the constitution to license the liquor traffic was recently defeated in the Ohio house of representatives by five votes.

The lower house of the North Carolina Legislature has taken hold of the cigarette nuisance by enacting a law prohibiting the sale or gift of cigarettes to boys under ten years of age.

The new anti stuffing ballot-boxes purchased by Saginaw are described as having windows on three sides and at one end, and a dial on the other end, which records every ballot as it is deposited.

Mr. Frank Gipkins, aged 30 years, and Mr. Charles Selestand, aged 25 years, were froze to death, on the 25th of February, 1885. Both were residents of Jefferson Parish La.

A lumberman, who is well informed on the subject, gives a Bay City Mich, paper the following figures as representing the standing timber on the Manistee River and tributaries: Pine, 5,086,000,000 feet; hemlock, 2,500,000,000 feet; cedar, 1,000,000,000 feet; hard wood consisting of maple, beech, birch, elm, white and black ash and cherry, 3,000,000,000 feet; grand total, 14,586,000,000 feet.

Miss Nellie Kent,

Wellington, Lorain county, O., writes, "Dr. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O. Gentlemen: I have been a great sufferer from chronic catarrh, bronchitis and neuralgia of the face. I have been taking your PERUNA for one month. The neuralgia and catarrh is almost well, and the cough is much better. I like your PERUNA very much."

C. E. Dupler, aged thirty-four years, of Equality, Illinois, had been affected with a chronic catarrh which he first discovered six years ago. In succession he lost his smell, taste and hearing. The disease was so malignant that it not only attacked the outer parts, but destroyed the bony partition of the nose and seriously affected the external parts. He could only hear a watch ticking by holding it close to his ear. He suffered intense pain in the nose, from which green, dry clots of offensive odor fell. In this condition he presented himself to Dr. Hartman several months ago. He can now hear a watch eight inches from his right and six inches from his left ear; His taste and smell are again returning, and the external part of the nose is quite well. Few more grateful patients ever left a physician's office than Mr. Dupler. He said, "Why in the world was PERUNA not prescribed for me long ago?"

Cramps of the Stomach.

We have the privilege of reporting the following case. Those similarly affected can get the name and address of Dr. Hartman. The lady does not want her name in the papers. For a year, or years, (the writer does not remember the length of time,) this lady had cramps, the most fearful, of the stomach, every day and night, "which would be followed by that terrible weakness, which was something wonderful." The suffering and distress of this lady was indescribable and almost unendurable. After all the physicians and medicines had failed, and all hope had almost fled, Dr. Hartman was consulted, and from the first day of taking his PERUNA, the cramps and all bad feeling left her, and now for over a month has been entirely free from every symptom. A more thankful patient no doctor ever had.

Mr. Hogge, druggist, Charlestown, Kanawha Co., W. Va., writes: "PERUNA sells well here and gives good satisfaction. Customers speak well of it."

Dr. J. Anderson, Coshocton, Ohio, writes: "Your PERUNA sells well and gives good satisfaction. I consider it a splendid medicine."

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

TRADE MARK

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no douching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours of a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces, from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Edw. Heath, DEALER IN Wall Paper,

Cocoa and Canton Matting, Rugs, Mats, Upholsterer's Materials, Window Shades, Cornices, and Curtain Goods,

Frames, Mouldings, Mirrors, Plates, Wire Screens, Etc.

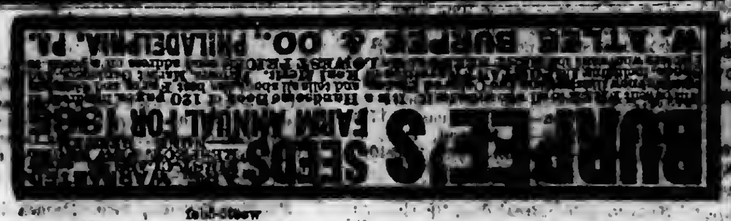
75 Camp Street.....New Orleans.

Liberal discount to the trade. Samples of WALL PAPER sent on application. oct9-ly

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.



Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Deisen, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Keating,	Sam'l H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Scantell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger,
W. R. Lyman,	U. Marigoni,	Chas. H. Deisen,	John Calder,	A. H. Stewart,
S. S. Cellen,	Harry L. Fisk,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados,
Lucien Delery,	Charles Naerman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis,
E. F. W. Bachman,	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Flake,
Chas. E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Redd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South. oct9 1y

feb6-6tcow

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved MATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine. feb19-26t

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Ga quet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m. Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 22 Natchez Street.

LAFAYETTE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m. Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock. Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Frank in street. Rev. J. J. Kienle pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street, Rev. Charles Schuler, pastor. Services Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 2 p m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Vasuet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. H. C. Darrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m, 3 p. m 7½ p. m. Sunday school at 1 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Pine street Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F. Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. ——. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor. Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Thursday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Foot street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3.30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W. P. Frost, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. DR. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jefferson, Tex. mar5-52t

Guizot's CELEBRATED ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF France

REDUCED IN COST from $33.00 to $8.00, or comparing contents fairly, from $49.50 to $8.00, for the only other American edition of GUIZOT comes down. TO The French Revolution, only, and is continued to Napoleon III. by MARTIN, and $49.50 is the published price of the two works. THIS ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY EDITION covers from the earliest times to 1848, is written by M. GUIZOT, Prime Minister of France, and completed from his notes by his daughter, Madame GUIZOT DE WITT. It is published in 8 volumes, small octavo, printed from the type shown by these lines, contains the 426 Illustrations, mostly full-page, of the imported edition, is bound in tasteful Library style, dark green cloth, beveled boards, gilt tops. Price of the set, only $8.00 by express, or, sent prepaid for $9.60.

"There is only ONE DRAWBACK. . . it seems more like getting a present than making a purchase. Guizot is the most brilliant of French historians, as well as the most to be relied upon. He is the Macaulay of the history of France; his style and treatment are philosophical, didactic, rich in detail, dramatic in arrangement. His narrative is full of emotion, like a quick stream; his characters rise before us as in the flesh; they are men and women, not historic lay figures. It is as charming as any romance, and the interest is permanent. It is a work to keep, and read and re-read for years."—Dominion Churchman, Toronto, Canada.

"In ENGLISH, at least, original or translated, we have NO WORK of French history that CAN APPROACH IT. We can name no work that gives the complete history, and gives it from the pen of a master, that can be thought of as a rival to the mammoth production of Guizot. How Mr. Alden can give the eight volumes, and this on good paper, and clear type, including the multitude of illustrations, is a thing we have CIPHERED over, but we fail to understand it. The first volume gives substantially the beginnings of French history. It is of necessity the dullest of the eight, yet with Guizot even logarithms would be readable."—Christian Leader, Boston, Mass.

"The MARVELOUS CHEAPNESS of these profusely illustrated and handsomely bound volumes must provoke comment everywhere. Each volume is easily worth $2.00, according to the standard of prices asked. This is the only complete American edition of this work, which is known as the best popular history of France."—Journal, Indianapolis, Ind.

"In the reproduction of this week the publisher has outdone all previous efforts, and has given us a MARVEL of EXCELLENCE, in every respect, at a marvel of cheapness."—Christian at Work, New York.

Hundred-Page Catalogue, free, descriptive of the best books of the world, at the lowest prices ever known, together with terms upon which books are sent for examination before payment, to any one on application. Address and make checks, drafts or money orders, payable to JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, P. O. Box, 1227. 393 Pearl Street, New York.

COUPON—50 CENTS. This Coupon, together with 50 cents in cash, will be received, if sent within 10 days from date of paper containing it, in full payment for GUIZOT'S FRANCE when ordered. This small cover price is simply to secure your prompt response and indicate the advertising paper from which responses come.

SEEDS "EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN." PLANTS

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FOR 1885, OF full of valuable cultural directions, containing three colored plates, and containing everything new and rare in Seeds and Plants, will be mailed on receipt of 10 cents, to cover postage. To customers it is mailed free without application.

PETER HENDERSON & CO., 35 & 37 CORTLANDT STREET, NEW YORK.

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell Mounting.	Price.
30 in.	875 lbs.	325 lbs.	$45 00
32 "	900 lbs.	375 lbs.	58 00
34 "	950 lbs.	550 lbs.	86 00
36 "	850 lbs.	600 lbs.	120 00
40 "	750 lbs.	1050 lbs.	160 00
44 "	1300 lbs.	1350 lbs.	200 00
48 "	1300 lbs.	1800 lbs.	260 00
54 "	2100 lbs.	2900 lbs.	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	100 lbs	$13 00
20 inches	130 lbs	18 00
24 inches	190 lbs	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

tf 32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.

VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O. mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N. Y.

nov29-1yr

McShane Bell Foundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-lists and circulars sent free. Address

HENRY McSHANE & CO.

oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

OUR CLUBBING LIST,

—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2-25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga. feb26-13t

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL. jan22-26t

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic

Liver & Kidney Balm,

The Most Wonderful

LIVER AND KIDNEY CURE

In the World.

Will relieve and cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs, such as Inflammation, Painful Irritation of the Bladder, Weakness & Pains in the Back, Catarrh of the Bladder, Blood in the Bladder, Female Troubles, Dyspepsia, Disease, Melancholia, Impotency, Debility, Jaundice, or any disarrangement of the KIDNEYS, LIVER OR BLADDER.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE ABOUT IT!

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's HOMŒOPATHIC LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM will cure you.

We have thousands of certificates, but add only two:

H. C. Harris, Lloyds, W. Va., says: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm cured me of Nervous Prostration of five years' standing."

Mrs. C. B. Wilson, Toronto, Canada, writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Balm have completely cured me of disarrangement of the natural functions."

Price $1 per Bottle. Six Bottles for $5.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle, St., St. Louis, Mo.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

Homœopathic Liver and Kidney Pillets.

They are little white pillets, size of a pin head, but they perform wonders in cleansing the bowels. When the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys are in an unhealthy condition, there is generated Bacteria (Animalcule), which if not destroyed, produce various forms of organic disease. Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets will destroy and remove these terrible parasites and cure all troubles of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs by effectually removing the cause of all derangement of their natural functions, and taken with Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Balm, has cured thousands of cases of Bright's Disease, Catarrh of the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposit, Irritation of the Bowels, Costiveness, Colic, Gravel, Renal Stones, Thick, Turbid, Frothy Urine, Pains in the Region of the Liver and Kidneys, Piles, also loss of nervous power. One of these little pillets taken every night before going to bed will produce an easy evacuation of the bowels and bring the natural functions into a healthy and regular condition.

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Liver and Kidney Pillets cost 25 cents each vial, and can be sent by mail. One dozen for $2.00.

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.

Send For My Free Catalogue of

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S OWN SELECTED

Field, Farm, Garden & Flower Seeds.

jan1-6m

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war could tell the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramp Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering with a drain upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," a collection of humor and amusement of the little folks.

apr1-1y

DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

TAR WINE BALM,

A sure cure for all

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Influenza, and all such Throat Troubles yield instantly to its magical and soothing influence.

For Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Quinsy, Asthma and Consumption, Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only remedy that will give sure relief. In chronic Lung Diseases where all other remedies have failed. Why will you suffer from Throat and Lung Troubles when such a pleasant remedy is offered you? For Croup it is a positive specific. For Singers and Speakers the TAR WINE BALM is an absolute necessity. Nothing has ever been discovered which will give such immediate relief, and it will positively cure Throat Troubles. DON'T DELAY.

Cure That Bad Cold! Stop That Cough!

Those whose Lungs and Throats are sore, hard and dry, will realize the soothing effect of a single dose of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm, and to give all doubting skeptics a chance to be assured of its wonderful soothing and miraculous virtues, I have put up Trial Size, costing only 25 cents per bottle. Every dealer in the United States should have them. If they have not, please ask them to send for a dozen as a test. Every one trying that 25-cent size will be convinced of the miraculous benefits they will receive from taking

Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

Cold in your Head, tickling in the nose, forehead and throat; you have Catarrh; get a box of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S CATARRH SNUFF and use it once a day, besides taking DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM to heal your Throat and Lungs.

Price of Trial Bottles 25 Cents Each.

I can send them only by Express. If you will send me $2.00 or that amount in postage-stamps, I will send you one dozen, freight paid.

Large Bottles, which contain six times as much as the 25-cent size Bottles - - - - - $1 00

Or six Bottles for - - - - - - - - 5 00

After using DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S TAR WINE BALM, let me hear from you. Prepared by

DR. J. H. M'LEAN,

Cor. Broadway and Biddle St., St. Louis, Mo.,

Proprietor of DR. J. H. M'LEAN'S

WONDERFUL STRENGTHENING CORDIAL AND BLOOD PURIFIER, which has rescued thousands upon thousands from the grave, giving them nerve, vital life, strength and pure blood.

"I would not take $100 for the benefit one bottle has given me. I. CORRY, St. Louis, Mo.

T. W. Yowell, Dudley, Ill., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's TAR WINE BALM is the only medicine which gives me relief. I have had Bronchitis for many years."

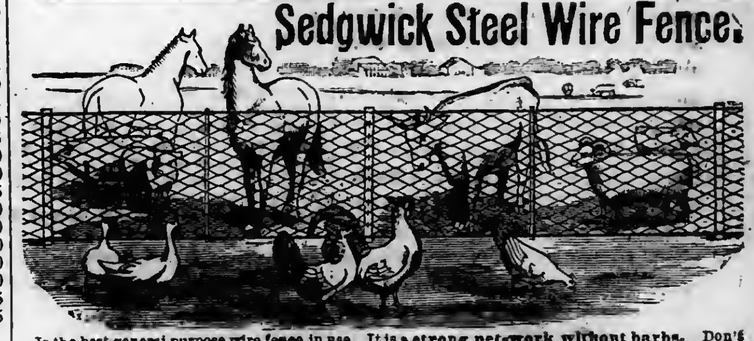
T. J. Phillips, Reed, Miss., writes: "Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm gives the greatest satisfaction here. It has no equal for coughs, colds, etc., and in croup it is certainly a wonderful remedy."

Thousands of letters come to me, all proclaiming the miraculous merits of Dr. J. H. M'Lean's Tar Wine Balm.

STERNBERGER'S Folding Dress Pillow.

folds into one-twentieth of its size when closed and weighs but two pounds.

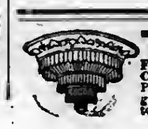
Perfection, Durability, Simplicity.



The Folding Dress Pillow is simply perfect. Can be folded in a second and put anywhere. We guarantee one pillow to outwear a dozen old style stuffed sham pillows. Housekeepers buy them on sight.

$2.00 PER PAIR, delivered on receipt of price.

THE PIQUA M'F'G CO., Piqua, Ohio, John P. Fowler, 306 State St., Chicago, Ill. Fred. Walpert & Co., 28 N. Gay St., Baltimore, and Furniture Dealers Generally.



ma-26-4tcow

Sedgwick Steel Wire Fence.

Is the best general purpose wire fence in use. It is a strong net-work without barbs. Don't injure stock. It will turn dogs, pigs, sheep, and poultry, as well as horses and cattle. The best fence for Farms, Gardens, Stock ranges, and Railroads. Very neat, pretty styles for Lawns, Parks, School lots, and Cemeteries. Covered with rust-proof paint, or made of galvanized wire, as preferred. It will last a life-time. It is better than boards or barbed wire in every respect. Give it a fair trial: it will wear itself into favor. The Sedgwick Gates made of wrought iron pipe and steel wire, defy all competition in lightness, neatness, strength, and durability. We make the best, cheapest, and easiest working all-iron automatic or self-opening gate, and the neatest cheap iron fences now made. The Boss folding poultry coop is a late and useful invention. The best Wire Stretcher, Cutting Pliers, and Post Augers. We also manufacture Russell's excellent Wind Engines for pumping, and Geared Engines for grinding, etc. For prices and particulars ask Hardware Dealers, or address, mentioning paper,

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.

The Great Church LIGHT.

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co.
106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES. A. D. 60-61. Lesson III. April 19. Acts xxviii, 1-16. Paul going to Rome. Golden Text, Ps. 15.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Paul going to Rome; Acts 28, 1-15.
Tu.—Cure for a serpent bite; Num. 21, 1-9.
W.—Debtor to all men. Rom. 1, 1-17.
Th.—Paul worshiped as a god; Acts 14, 1-13.
F.—Prayer for sick; James 5, 7-20.
Sat.—The healing power given; Mark 16, 9-20.
Sun.—Courage by faith; Psa. 27, 1-14.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1—At Melita, v. 1-10.
How were they received by the people.
What happened to Paul?
How did the sight affect the people?
What did Paul do?
What then did they think of Paul?
How did Publius treat Paul?
What did Paul do for Publius' father?
How was Paul and his company treated?
2—Toward Rome, v. 1. 1-15.
How long did they remain at Malta?
In what city did they tarry three days?
Where did they disembark?
Whom did they find at Puteoli?
Where did other brethren meet them?
How did their kindness affect Paul?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

Where does this lesson teach—
1—God's care of faithful servants?
2—The fickleness of public opinion?
3—The helpfulness of Christian companion?

Doctrinal Suggestion—The power of prayer.

Another Sunday-school Assembly.

REV. J. F. MARSHALL.

The readers of the SOUTHWESTERN know about Chautauqua; its Sunday-school, normal course, primary teachers, class models of Palestine and Jerusalem; its remarkable facilities and encouragements for the study of the Bible; its eloquent lectures, delightful song services, sweet music, pleasant fellowships. Of couse everybody would like to attend, but only a few can do so; so other assemblies have been organized, and if plans now maturing succeed another will be, an assembly for colored people, and on whose platform the wisest and best of our people can be heard; an assembly which will be at once an opportunity to bring our best men to the front and a blessing to our people. It is probable that the new assembly will be located at Clark University, near Atlanta, Ga., where there are ample grounds, pure air, good water, access to markets, and indeed everything to make such a meeting a success. At its last session the Louisiana Conference commended the enterprise and elected A. E. P. Albert and J. F. Marshall delegates to meet Rev. A. H. Gillette, the leading spirit of the enterprise, and others at Aberdeen, Miss., for the purpose of effecting an organization.

[Some of the gentlemen appointed were at Aberdeen, but Bro. Gillete was not. We learn that he was prevented by a railroad accident, but have no particulars.—ED.[

Marriages.

Mr. P. C. Colton and Miss Marceline Mack were married at the residence of the bride's father, in Allen, La., Dec. 2, 1884, Rev. P. J. Porter officiating.

Mr. Levy Calhoun and Miss Delia Davis, were married at the residence of the bride's father, in Allen, La, March 26, 1885, Rev. J. H. Pierre officiating.

Mr. Charley Summage and Miss Kneely Mack, were married at the residence of the bride's father, in Allen, La, April 2, 1885, Rev. J. H. Pierre officiating.

Rev. A. S. Williams and Miss Patsy Miller, were married at Aberdeen, Miss., March 29, 1885, Rev. P. Jamison officiating.

Mr. James Moman and Miss Letha Broading were married at Bayon Leckworth, Pleasant Grove, La., by the Rev. Simms Williams, March 19, 1885. A large crowd was in attendance to witness the ceremony.

Obituary.

Mr. Sussex H. Bradford, a young man of talent and repute, noted for his earnest labor for Christ, died at Pontotoc, Miss., Feb. 26, 1885. Also, Mrs. Violet Payne, a faithful member of the M. E. Church at Pontotoc, Miss., died, leaving a husband and many friends to mourn her loss. B. H. FERGUSON.

Mrs. Loulie Jordan, a member of Shubuta Church, died March 23, 1885, at Heidelberg, Miss. Robbie Simmons was born May 24, 1884, and died at Heidelberg, Miss., March 17, 1885. M. COOPER.

Eugenie James died at Pine Bluff, Ark. She was, for 14 years a member of the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Sophia Glore died at Natchitoches, La., January 30, 1885.

Camelia Blackstone died Feb. 21, 1885, in the 12th year of her age, at Natchitoches, La.

Davey Riggins died at Corinth, Miss., Feb. 28, 1885. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Riggins.

Mrs. Maria Patton died March 11, 1885, in Corinth, Miss. She was a member of the M. E. Church.

Sandy Hammon died, in Natchitoches, La., Thursday evening, March 12, 1885. He was 80 years of age, and leaves a son home where in this State, named Joseph Robertson.

Mrs. Marion Scott died Dec. 28, 1884, at San Antonio, Texas, in the 60th year of her age. She was one of the first to join the Methodist Episcopol Church at this place. MC. H.

Miss Louisa Young died at San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 26, 1884. She was 75 years of age, had never been married, and had no relatives. She was blind, and had been living by means of the support given her by the church and her friends. She lived a life becoming a true Christian and was buried as such by the Church. MC. H.

Sister Cline Goss died Feb. 20, 1885, in Clinton parish, La.

Sister Martha Hardee died in Clinton parish, La., March 6, 1885.

Mrs. Harriet McGough died in Allen, La., March 14, at 11 o'clock p. m. She was a faithful member of Hason Church, and her loss is much regretted by all who knew her. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Pierre. D. J. PRICE.

Little Lawrence Marshall, son of Mr. Albert Marshall, died at Franklin, Tenn., March 10, 1885.

Sister Maggie McLemore died at Franklin, Tenn., March 13, 1885,

Miss Emma Smith, daughter of George and Sarah Smith, died at Franklin, Tenn., March 15, 1885.

"What a way to spell fish," said Pat, when he saw the name Psyche on a ship. But a more wonderful spell will be exercised over that coughing child of yours that keeps itself and you awake, if you will try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Conference Notices.

Central Alabama Conference.

I wish to hereby notify the brethren, that the district conference of the Huntsville district, will convene in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Decatur, Alabama, April 16, 1885, at 9 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. A. Nichols, pastor in charge at Triana. All brethren that have not received programmes will please select their own subjects, and come prepared.
M. M. McKINNEY, Sec'y.

Gulf District—Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Crystal Springs	May	2	3
New Hope	"	4	5
Union Church	"	9	10
Fayette circuit	"	11
Fayette station	"	12	13
Hamburg and Meadville	"	14	15
Liberty	"	16	17
China Grove	"	21
Columbia	"	23	24
Spring Chapel	"	25	26
Hilldale	"	27
Hattisburg and Vernil	"	28	29
Bay St. Louis & Pass Christian	"	30	31
Moss Point	June	1	2
Handsboro and Ocean Springs	"	6	7
Brookhaven and Hazlehurst	"	13	14
Summit and Magnolia	"	20	21
Georgetown	"	27	28

Brethren of the Gulf District, collect all the money you can for the Episcopal fund that has been apportioned to each charge, so I can forward it to the treasurer. W. McDONALD, P. E.

Notice.

To the members of the Gulf District, Mississisippi Conference—The first session for 1885 will convene in Moss Point, Miss., April 23d, at 9 o'clock a. m., in the M. E. Church. A full attendance is desired. Ministers and delegates coming over the Illinois Central Railroad, will purchase return tickets at the various stations between Jackson and New Orleans at excursion rates. The Bishop and others are invited to be present.
W. McDONALD.
Brookhaven, Miss, April 2. 1885.

Notice.

The Huntsville District Conference will convene March 14, 1885, at Orange, Texas. I desire each pastor to find out how much each member and friend will give this year to help raise the million dollars called for by the Missionary Society. Any one who gives a dollar or more the pastor will please send his or her name to Rev. C. C. McCabe, Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 805 Broadway, New York.
EDWARD LEE, P. E.
Navasota, Texas.

Helps Him to Preach.

Rev. Philander Perry, pastor Baptist church, Coldbrook, Mass., writes: "After the best medical treatment had failed, Parker's Tonic cured me of dangerous congestive spasms of the stomach and bowels, from which I had suffered indescribably. It has no reaction. Capital for clergymen who feel dull and overworked."

Books and Current Literature.

We have received by the courtesy of W. E. Blackstone, Esq., a 24 vol., paper cover, 156 pages, entitled Jesus is Coming. Published by F. H. Revell, 148-50 Madison street, Chicago. The work contains an extensive collection of Scripture text thrown together in order as the author sincerely believes to show the correctness of the idea held by pre millenarians. Some of the writer's views are unique and set forth with a boldness which is born of sincerity. We judge it pendant for all to investigate these subjects with great care and deliberation, and with the constant remembrance that the chief duty of mortals here below is to be ready when Jesus does come.

We are in receipt of bound volumes of the Budget of 1881, 1882, 1883 and 1884, from Rev. B. W. Arnott, B. D., of Nashville, Tennessee. The Budget contains official reports of the General Conference and officers of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and other documents. The book contains a fine frontispiece of Benjamin W. Arnett, also portraits of Bishop Allen and other prominent members of that Church.

The Seventeenth Annual Report of the Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1884, gives the following statistics. The Society has aided in the establishment and support of 23 schools among the colored people of the South with 113 teachers, and 3,432 students. Seven of these schools are chartered with collegiate powers. The Society has also aided the following institutions for the education of whites in the South; Number of institutions, 18; number of teachers, 55; number of students 1,779. Six of the above are colleges.

Technical Education, And Other Essays. By Prof. T. H. Huxley. Price, post free, 15 cents in postage stamps. J. Fitzgerald, Publisher, 20 Lafayette Place, New York.

This latest number of the "Library of Science" is one of the most valuable and interesting in that popular series. Besides the essay on "Technical Education," which by itself is worth more than the price of the whole number, there are four other essays, namely, on Joseph Priestley, the discoverer of oxygen; on the Connection of the Biological Sciences with Medicine, on Sensation and the Sensiferons organs and on Certain Errors respecting the Structure of the Heart attributed to Aristotle. For sale by Ellis, Newsdealer.

Our Little Ones, for March and April has been received from the Russell Publishing Co., of Boston. Its pages are always cheerful with pictures and stories.

Our Little Men and Women., one of D. Lothrop & Co's fine juvenile publications is on hand with an interesting sketch of Kaiser Wilhelm, and other royal personages.

The Oxford League Series., by Daniel Wise, D. D. published by Phiips & Hunt New York, Cranston & Stowe Cincinatti, O.

There are seven numbers to the Series viz. 1. Ancestry of the Wesley family, 2. The Oxford Brotherhood, 3. The Birthplace of Methodism by J. M. Freeman, D. D. 4. Methodist Converts in high places by Wise, 5. The Literary work of the Wesleys, 6. The place of education in English Methodism and 7th. The place of education in American Methodism. The first contains 20 and each of the others 16 pages 16mo. closly printed matter in stiff paper covers 116 pages in all for 35 cents. There are two hours reading and a fund of invaluable Methodist information in each one.

Rob Claxton's Story. By Parthene B. Chamberlain. Published by Thomas Y. Crowell & Co., New York, 13 Astor Place. This is a neat 12mo. volume, bound in blue vine covered cloth and gold gilt. It contains 274 pages and after reading every one of them we are ready to recommend this as one of the very best stories we have ever read. Somehow the tears kept on climbing up and blinding our sight, as we read. We are sure Rob and Katie Claxton will do for models in any society. Then too Mike Roony's outcome will serve to show any degraded boy how with such men as Mr. Jones and Mr. Brady they can promptly carve their way upward. Adversity and fortune come and go and come to the Claxtons, but they get and hold on to Christ as their staff. This book is good for all classes of readers, especially young men and women. This book is will calculated to combat the evils which creep into society life.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE,
April 11, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9 1-16; Middling 10 9-16; Good Middling, 10 13-16; Middling fair, 11¼.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5⅝; White clarified, 5¾@5⅞; Common 4¼@4¾.

MOLASSES, in hbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4¾ fair, 5¼@5⅝; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10½.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.40.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 4.90; Choice, 4.70; Family, 4.00@4.25.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7½.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 70c.; Fine, 90c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $1.90@2.50; sweet potatoes, $2@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $5.00@——; apples, ℔ bbl. $4.00@$6.00; cabbages, $3.25@$3.50 per crate; sour krout, $4.50@5.00 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $13.25.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 5@—; sides, short rib, 7½; sides, long clear, 7½; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c,

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6½; clear sides, 6½; shoulders, 4.6@4.8.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3.00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@@5; turkeys $12.@15.00.

Western Eggs 12@13c per dozen.

Louisiana Eggs 12½@13½c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@ 75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50 @$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.00@3.50; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5 00 turkeys $21.00@24.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 57; white, 57; mixed, 56.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 42@43.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, 87½c@90.

"Richer Than Crœsus."

"Now the only Crœsus that I envy is he who is reading a better book than this," exclaims Philip Gilbert Hamerton over a choice volume. Thousands of others, lovers of good books, rejoice in the same way daily, over the choice books of the "Literary Revelation," published at such marvelously low prices that he who chooses can become a "Crœsus" Read Mr. Allen's advertisements which appear regularly in our columns. They are worth reading.

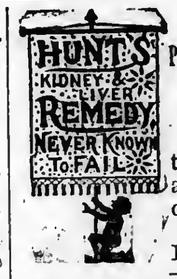
Payson's is the best ink for family marking. Used with a common pen. Sold by all druggists.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.



DYSPEPTICS,

If the stomach has become irritated through too high living, follow the example of those who have ordered Ridge's Food Blanc Mange. Thirty years use has demonstrated its value as a dietic and it is also delicious. Recipes for preparing it accompany each can. Four sizes, 35c., 65c., $1.25 and $1.85. Sold by Druggists. Send to Woolrich & Co., Palmer Mass., for pamphlets containing full information on the subject.

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment."

"Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1ycow

LADIES!

PROMPT AND RELIABAE.

Endorsed by Physicians.

It quickly induces the Liver to healthy action, removing the causes that produce Bilious Headache, Dyspepsia, Piles, &c.

By the use of HUNT'S REMEDY the Stomach and Bowels will regain their strength, and the blood will be perfectly purified.

It cures Female complaints and by its use monthly sickness is rendered painless.

It is purely vegetable, and meets a want never before furnished to the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it.

RELIABLE WORDS.

"He who lives after nature, shall never be poor."

A Clergyman.

Rev. Charles Pike, of Waterbury, Conn., says: "I contracted a weakness of the kiddeys, which was made worse by drinking water in the different places where I resided. I suffered severely I purchased a bottle of HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY, with the guarantee that it would help, me, as it afterward did."

"In an orderly house, all is soon ready."

A Grateful Lady.

"This is to certify that I have used HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY for the kidneys and other troubles with very satisfactory results, and would recommend the same to those afflicted as I was. Gratefully, Mrs. D. F. Peck, Ansonia Ct."

"Out of debt out of danger."

My Wife's Mother.

Mr Charles W. Morris, Eagle Office, Pittsfield, Mass, writes:— my wife's mother had been in a very precarious condition with dropsy, or Bright's disease of the kidneys. HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY has worked a miracle in her."

Price $1.25. Send for Illustrated Phamphlet to HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.
Sold by all druggists
C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, New York.

AGENTS COIN MONEY who sell DR. CHASE'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN. Price $2.00. Write for Circular. Address, A. W. HAMILTON & Co., Ann Arbor, Mich.
jan22-3m

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS,

27 & 29 West 2nd St., New York,

Have now ready

The History of the Negro Race in America,

From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens.

Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Government of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R. of Ohio.

Popular Edition; two volumes in one, large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.

"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it.—World, New York.

"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.

"He has accomplished a noble service for his race."—Zions Herald, Boston.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.

Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3.60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free
FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

GET A

BEAUTIFUL TIN-TYPE

Of Yourself for 25 Cents,

AT THE

World's Centennial Tin-Type Gallery,

No. 12 EXCHANGE PLACE,
(Three Doors from Canal)

GROTESQUE CARICATURES

A Feature in itself. 25 Cents Each.

[Patent Right secured for the city of New Orleans]

VIGNETTE CAMEOS,

For Lockets, Pins and Velvet Cases, $1.
jan22-3m

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
apr2-52t

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress, 1861—1881, by James G. Blaine.

Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." Agents make from $200 to $1000 per month. Address, The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.
apr9-1f

MADAME FOY'S CORSET AND Skirt Supporter.

Combines the most ELEGANT FITTING CORSET with a PERFECT SKIRT SUPPORTER and is one of the most popular and satisfactory corsets as regards HEALTH and COMFORT ever invented. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress.

For sale by all leading dealers. Price by mail $1.30. FOY, HARMON & CHADWICK, New Haven, Conn.
mar19 12teow

Send for Price List and Circular!

AUTOMATIC

"NO TENSION" SEWING MACHINE
NOISELESS—LIGHTEST RUNNING.
Most Beautiful and Durable Work,
AND DOES NOT INJURE HEALTH.
Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Broadway, N. Y.
nov6-16t eow

DISFIGURING HUMORS

HUMILIATING ERUPTIONS ITCHING AND BURNING TORTURES

AND EVERY SPECIES of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Scrofulous, and Infantile Humors cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, cleanses the blood and perspiration of impurities and poisonous elements, and thus removes the cause.

CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, instantly allays Itching and Inflammation, clears the Skin and Scalp, heals Ulcers and Sores, and restores the Hair.

CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier and Toilet Requisite, prepared from CUTICURA, is indispensable in treating Skin Diseases, Baby Humors, Skin Blemishes, Chapped and Oily Skin.

Sold everywhere. Price: Cuticura 50 cents; Soap, 25 cents; Resolvent $1. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Send for "HOW TO CURE SKIN DISEASES."

CHRISTIAN

MEN and WOMEN are Wanted AS AGENTS

For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $16 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Nappes & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended.
mar5-39t

J. L. WIMBY & CO.,

GENERAL

Commission Merchants

—AND—

Cotton Factors.

180 Common Street, [Room 4 Kenner Block]
[P. O. Box 2415] New Orleans, La.

Particular attention paid to the Purchase of Supplies.

All orders will be filled to the exact amount of cash sent or produce assigned.

Remit money by Postal Order, Registered Letter or draft.

All letters of inquiry must enclose stamp for return postage.
jan15-3m

Plantation Melodies

—AND—

REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.

Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
22 Natchez street, New Orleans

P. P. ALBERT,

(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager,)

Produce Merchant,

And Dealer in Groceries,

20.....Toulouse Street,.....20

P. O. Box 2249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.

No transactions on Sundays. sept25-1f

J. T. Newman, M. D.,

—PRACTICING—

Surgeon and Physician,

315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown

365 Chippewa Street,

NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.
mar19 3m

For the Cheapest and Choicest Family & Fancy Groceries,

SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,

—GO TO—

N. E. Sullivan's

GROCERY

Corner of

Washington and Hampson Streets

CARROLLTON, LA.
nov23-1y

HEADQUARTERS

—FOR—

Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent

94..... Camp Street, ...94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

Pianos & Organs

Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 17. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, APRIL 23, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 806.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

32 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, 81; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cash

Editorial Notes.

"How blessed is the land o'er which we roam!
The sun beholds no other land so fair;
Here Providence allots our peaceful home
Amid ten thousand gifts and blessings rare.
For our great country's welfare let our prayer,
From honest, faithful, fervent hearts ascend,
That God may make our Government his care,
From foes without and foes within defend,
And be Himself our guide, our governor our friend.

It requires a man after God's own heart to declare of the Lord that "the law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver." To such poverty is a very light cross.

The memoirs, letters, and sermons of the late Bishop Simpson will be published, the editing of the material having been entrusted by the family to one of his Episcopal colleagues.

MR. EDITOR.—I received the first copy of the SOUTHWESTERN this morning. After examination I am well pleased with it. It ought to be in the house of all our people."

Study the word of the Lord by the candle of affliction, then will it occur to you as it once did to David: "It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy statutes and keep them."

Egypt of old worshipped Apis and Ibis; Greece the human form and India nondescript images found neither in heaven nor earth. But in Palestine they worshipped Him who is still called the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

The SOUTHWESTERN is a Methodist Episcopal Church paper, devoted especially to the promotion of religion within our own denominational limits, and generally to the promotion of all that is good everywhere. It aims to benefit and solicits the aid of people of all colors.

We are pleased to learn that the white people of Natchitoches, La., displayed an active, friendly and substantial interest in the recent district conference in that place. This is a straw, and straws tell which way the wind blows. Bro. Wright is working earnestly, and is winning his way to the hearts of all the people.

If church people keep their covenant with the Lord they thus secure the benefit of His promise to bless their children, and also that He will, 1. Abundantly bless the church itself. 2. Satisfy its poor with bread, spiritual and temporal. 3. Clothe her priest with salvation, and as a result her saints shout aloud for joy. Psa. 132, 12-16.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Bishop Taylor in Africa.

I sailed from Liverpool in the steamship Gaboon, Jannary 7th, and reached Monrovia Thursday at 7:30 p. m., the 22d. I preached that night in our church in Monrovia. Next day, at 4 p. m., I preached in Miss Sharp's Chapel in Krootown, and again in the evening in our church. On Sabbath, 25th, I preached in our church at 11 a. m., and 7 p. m., addressed the Sunday-school, and baptized a native man at 4 p. m., and at 2 p. m., preached again for Miss Sharp's Kroomen. Then daily for about a fortnight, except Saturdays, I preached to the Kroomen at 4:30 and in our Monrovia church at 7:30 p. m. We had that prophetess, Miss Amanda Smith, with us. She has been used by the Holy Spirit in carrying on the specialties of Gospel temperance and entire holiness at several leading points in Liberia, and she has several other fields here yet to work up. She and Miss Mary Sharpe, in their respective lines of work, are well accredited missionaries of God in, this needy field.

It was only after four days of heavy work that we had a break in the ranks of the rebels from God in Monrovia. Then in the ten days ensuing we had some scores of penitent sinners forward at the altar. Over fifty testified publicly that they obtained pardon, and over a dozen, besides, entire heart purity, and God gave to preachers and people a gracious enlightening and quickening.

The only striking occurrence in the session of the Liberia Annual Conference was the tide of salvation that swept through the whole session. The conference opened January 29 and adjourned February 3. Appointments as follows:

Monrovia District—C. A. Pitman presiding elder; Monrovia Station, H. B. Capeheart; Robertsport and Feller circuit, D. K. McKeever; Johnsonville ct, G. J. Hargraves; Painsville ct, C. A. Pitman; Marshall ct, to be supplied.

St. Paul's River District—W. T. Hagan, presiding elder. Caldwell, Virginia and Brewersville circuits, T. A. Sims, F. C. Holderness, D. Ware, supernumerary; Clay and Ashland ct, G. W. Parker; Millsburg ct, A. H. Watson, W. B. Kennedy, sr., sup.; Robertsville ct, R. Boyce; Carysburg and Bensouville ct, J. W. Cooper.

Bassa District—J. H. Deputy, presiding elder. Painsbury ct, E. F. Brumskine; Lower Buchanan, to be supplied; Edina station, to be supplied; Bexly ct, to be supplied; Bullomtown ct, to be supplied. (These are supplied by local preachers residing on the spot.) Mt. Olive ct, J. H. Deputy, J. P. Artis, sup.

Sinoe District—W. P. Kennedy, jr., presiding elder. Greenville station, W. P. Kennedy, jr.; Lexington ct, J. W. Draper; Sinoe country, J. W. Bonner, one to be supplied; Louisiana, to be supplied; Bluntsville, to be supplied.

Cape Palmas District—C. H. Harmon, one to be supplied. Mt. Scott, Tuburautown and Greebo mission, to be supplied. W. R. Summers, Ross Taylor, Clarence L. Davenport, Levin Johnson, Jos. Wilkes, Amos E. Withey, missionaries to South Central Africa.

Since conference I spent a Sabbath and preached twice at Virginia, 15 miles up St. Paul river and preached Monday night ensuing at Muhlenburg, at Rev. Day's interesting Southern Mission, about 30 miles up St. Paul river. On Tuesday night I preached again in Monrovia and baptized 16 of our new converts. Preached there again on Wednesday night, and in the afternoons of those two days for Miss Sharp's Kroomen, one man and one woman of whom were among the 16 baptized on Tuesday night. On Saturday, the 14th, I took steamship for the South, with 8 or 10 of our ministers. Next we dropped anchor off Grand Bassa, and at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., I preached in our church there, ordained a deacon in the morning and an elder in the evening, administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper, and returned to the ship on Monday. The captain was in a hurry and was anxious to discharge freight on Sunday, but the merchants refused to receive it, so all hands rested on the Lord's day. The merchants there are all colored men except a Jew from Morocco. The Jew is the most influential man among them in commercial circles, and stands with them unflinchingly for the observance of the Sabbath.

This morning we were anchored four hours off Sinoe, meantime I preached in our church ashore, administered baptism, and ordained a deacon, who had been elected by the conference at a previous session, as were the two I ordained at Grand Bassa. I hope to join my party that was to sail from New York Jan. 22, at Cape Palmas.

This is the most pleasant tropical climate of the many in which I have lived and labored; peculiar in this, almost the entire absence of mosquitoes, flies, fleas and bed-bugs; as for "big-bugs" and "humbugs," I am not able to draw a comparison. The enlightenment and salvation of the 250,000,000 of people of Africa is a most complicated problem. Unless we can cut the knot by the self-supporting principle, we can not in a thousand years support the agency required for, such a work, and unless we can fill our dykes directly from "the river of pure water of life that flows from the throne" of God, everything else will be as dry as the valley of dry bones we read about. Pray for us.

Your Bro. in Jesus,

WM. TAYLOR.

P. S.—Cape Palmas, Feb. 19, 1885: I arrived here yesterday evening; preached last night to a crowded house. Am to preach to day at 10 a. m., and ordain a deacon and an elder, previously elected, but could not attend the recent session of conference. I will probably preach here two or three days before my steamer for Loanda shall arrive. I am stopping with the presiding elder, Bro. Harmon, a fine man of God. W. T.

An Educated Ministry.

REV. G. W. SAMS.

An educated ministry is necessary for three reasons.

I. It was God's plan to have such a ministry. The twelve Apostles sat at the feet of their Master for three years, studying the word of the Lord, and preparing to preach it. They were taught by the Author of wisdom. Paul sat at the feet of the great Jewish counselor and was taught in all wisdom. He was the Apostle.

From the beginning of the ministry the Lord has intended to have an educated one. Therefore it ought to be so to-day. God has enjoined a thorough preparation for the work. When it was said, "Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

He commanded His disciples to go and teach all nations. This implies education by the wholesale. If it is God's plan to have an educated ministry, why it is wrong to neglect to try to educate ourselves as far as possible. God saw that such a ministry could and would accomplish more good, and would bring about the ends for which the Gospel was to be preached.

THE NECESSITY.

II. The world needed such a ministry. The masses of the people have always been ignorant, and full of superstition. There never was a nation but what believed in the existence of a God, whether it was the Great I Am, or some idol. This of course depends very much on the qualifications of their leaders. If they were full of superstitious ideas, then the people would soon become full of it, and would take to themselves idols to serve, or if the leaders were clear of this evil, then the people would serve the living God. Their natural instinct led them to suppose that there was a first cause for all things.

If they took to themselves gods of stone or wood, they would give to them all the reverence they had in their power to give. Their leaders taught them so to do. They had a national religion, and all of the people who live in the bounds of that dominion had to worship that god according to the law, or be punished according to the law. Ignorance and superstition, and the leaders of the people had them blindfolded, so they could not see the right as they would have seen it under other circumstances. They were taught from their youth to worship the sun, moon, and stars; this became second nature to them. They had been hedged in with many years practice.

Infidels, philosophers, and scientists were driving in their wedges of wickedness. They were in their sins, which disposed them to accept the wrong, instead of the right. They were like all other sinners, led by the gods of this world. They were in spiritual darkness. Now in view of all of these combind forces coming against Christianity, an educated ministry was necessary to their destruction, and to bring mankind back in favor with God. When Moses went down to Pharoah it was not without wisdom. It was not without instructions as what to do or say, when they said or did, this or that.

The pulpit has always been the power with which God has baffled the wisdom of this world. It is a power within itself, and has served more to put this world in its present status than all other agencies put together. An educated ministry should be our watch-word. It is true, that not a few of our ministers are not educated, but this does not remove the fact that they ought to be.

OUR ONLY HOPE.

III. It is the only salvation of the world; when we consider the start that ignorance, and superstition got on Christianity and then consider what Christianity has gained the truth of this statement can not be doubted. Christianity has very near undone in eighteen hundred years, what these combined forces did in four thousand years.

According to the following figures, Christianity has never made such progress as it has within the past century. This is owing to having a better educated ministry than they had before.

The growth of Orthordox Christianity in the United States during the past eighty years has been greater than in any other age of the world, since the death of Christ. In 1800, there was in the United States 3,030 churches; in 1850, they had increased to 43,072; in 1870, there were 70,148; and in 1880, 97,090. In 1800, there was one Orthordox Church to 1,740 inhabitants; in 1880, one to every 717 inhabitants. So the increase in churches has been much greater than the increase in the population. These figures clearly show that the Bible doctrines of God and Christ, the Holy Spirit, heaven, hell, repentance, justification, regeneration, entire sanctification have not gone to join the dead systems of Confucius, Buddha and Abraham.

They live as mighty forces still and are moving on to the conquest of this world, through the instrumentality of the ministry which the churches have educated and sent out to take this world for Christ. There has been a corresponding increase in the ministry and church membership, and that the increase in both has been greater than the increase in the population.

In 1800, there were in the United States 2,651 Orthordox ministers; 1880, 69,870, not including the local or lay preachers. These figures include only the men who occupy the position of pastors, or are engaged in work that is strictly ministerial. In 1800, the entire membership of all Orthordox churches was only 364,872; in 1880, there were a little over 10,000,000. The actual increase in the population since 1800, has been a little less than tenfold, while the increse in membership of the Orthodox churches has been about sevenfold.

It has just been within the past century that educational facilities have been so numerous. The minister could obtain an education, without paying a fortune in trying to get ready to go to school. Therefore they who could prepare themselves for the work, and the result of which is that Christianity is making considerable advance on the world, and is pushing on from victory to conquest. It is from the pulpit that public sentiment is to comes, and mold this world for Christ. The better one knows a thing himself, the better he is enabled to teach it to others. The better educated a man is the better he is able to understand whatsoever he undertakes to teach others. So the truly called of God, an educated minister can show the truth of God's word, and aid those who hear to grasp the thought which the Word conveys. The ministry is a divine institution, and therefore it has the advantage of all other systems of lifting humanity up. It has a right that no other has. As the ministry increases in education, so will the kingdom of Christ increase, and Christianity spread. The idea that used to be very extant "that if you will open your mouth God will fill it" has gone by with its day. If you want to succeed as a minister, you must not only have a mere education, but you must "study to show yourself a workman approved of God, that needeth not to be ashamed." That is, study that you may have something to tell the people which will help them in this and the life that is to come. We need as ministers to become so enthused with this subject that we will take it in our studies and pray over it, and lay out a plan of study and try to get a better education ourselves, and then take it in our pulpits, and into the homes of the people and preach it to them until they hear it, and obey it.

I recommend the following plan, to all of the brethren in the ministry, who have not the advantage of an education, and can not turn aside and get one.

I. Obtain the catalogue of your conference school, or some one of our schools and see what the course of study is, and then take up the first year's course if you have not past it, if so, then the next, and pursue it till through it.

II. Lay out a plan by which you can give a certain amount of time each day, at a certain time of the day to the study of each book in that course, and let nothing but sickness or death break into your plan, and keep this up until you have gone through (understandingly) the whole course for that school. Do this my brethren and we will soon have a better ministry in every way.

Report of the Presiding Elder of the Bowling Green District, Lexington Conf.

Preface—Dear Bishop Bowman: It affords me no limited degree of pleasure in reporting to you, the Bishop who ordained me deacon in Scotts Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, in Maysville, Ky., the 11th day of March, 1877, and though it has been 7 years, 3 months and 1 day since, I have borne steadily in mind the memorable sermon preached by you on the occasion, from Psalms i; 1, 2, 3, 4.

Allow me, dear Bishop, to repeat the verses, as they are vivid in my memory: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in counsel of, the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

"But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night."

"And he shall be like a tree planted by the river of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season, and his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

"The ungodly are not so, but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away."

Dear Bishop and Brethren—We now pause to say that after seven years, three months and one day's absence of Bishop Bowman, we thank God that through his providential care the senior Bishop is here to preside over us again. We all join in saying we hail Bishop Bowman as a workman indeed that need not be ashamed. God grant that his presence here may prove beneficial to himself and a blessing to the conference.

The elder reports his district as being in a prosperous condition both spiritually and financially, with bright hopes of our future prospects which seem to illume our pathway. We go forth with a feeling of energy.

A. BOOKER, P. E.

Springfield, Ohio.

Two distinguished Hebrew students renounce their faith, and are received into the Methodist church. —Cincinnati Evening Post.

Two Jews of Rome, were admitted into the Christian Church by public baptism on December 29. The service was held in the Waldensian Church and many Italians were present.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. George W. Wells, Rosedale, La., writes: "We have just closed our protracted meetidg. We had 14 convers and a good many have joined on probation. This church has 35 young men, members, and five of the ministers of the Louisiana Conference started from this church."

Rev. Andrew Branch, pastor in charge, Dutch Town, Ascension parish, La., writes: "We have just held our first quarterly meeting. Rev. Stephen Priestly, our presiding elder was with us. He preached an excellent sermon. The church was crowded, and the Lord's supper was administered to 40 persons. The following brethren were approved of as trustees. Andrew Green, A. Flateur, S. Johnson, Harrison Hills and Robert Buckner; stewards, Sisters Henrietta Josiah, Lucy Green, and A. Johnson; Sunday school superintendent, Margaret Johnson."

Rev. E. E. Cooper, Oakland, Texas, writes. "We are in the midst of a great revival, and have had fifteen converts, and the mourners bench is crowded every night."

Rev. A. Lemons, Pickens, Miss., writes: "The Rev. H. R. Revels, our presiding elder, held our first quarterly conference November 14, 1885. He preached a good sermon, and administered the sacrament to 93. He met the Sunday-school at the usual hour, and catechised the children. Pray that we may be more instrumental in spreading God's word and saving souls.

Rev. A. McDade, pastor, Ninth Street Church, Covington, Ky., writes: "We have good congregations, prayer and class meetings. We have paid all the money that we could, and must say we had a hard time. My fourth and quarterly meeting came off on Feb. 22, with good success. Rev. J. Courtney preached 3 times, and the entire congregation was delighted. At 7:30 administered the Lord's supper to one hundred Christians. Collection for the day $32. The Sunday school is second to none on the district."

Rev. T. G. Montgomery, Shreveport, La., writes: I will do what I can up here for the paper, and will be down in April or May and will bring the money with me. We are rolling on finely. I took in one member last night, and also raised a good sum of money to pay on the old debt. The Lord is blessing us and we are going right on preaching Christ."

Rev. J. M. Nevils, Hernando, Miss., writes: "Our people here are very poor, but still they want the paper. Bro. Brent wanted the paper but did not have the money to pay for it. I told him if he would give me a hen and all of her eggs and chickens for one year I would give him the SOUTHWESTERN for one year, and he gladly agreed to do it. So I send you his name."

The Lutheran Benevolent Society.

REV. H. J. WRIGHT.

Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, Natchitotches, La., not the least of churches of Louisiana for out of it has come the Lutheran Benevolent Society. That is the Rev. Ebenezer Hayward, one of the former pastor, of this church, organized it in 1866; it has been busy ever since helping the poor and needy and distressed. The dying and the dead thereby assisting the church. All our members with a few exceptions, belong to it, they own property to the value of $1,000 near the church. They are careful about their tenants, they always have money on hand.

They employ a white physician, and pay him $225 per year, more or less. God bless the Meharry College. Point some to the South. Rev. King Mickelberry is president, Rev. Geo. W. Duncan, secretary and treasurer.

Church Loyalty.

BY REV. JOHN LEE.

An eminent Congregational authority says: "Next to St. Paul we verily believe a greater man than John Wesley never lived." Not only was the founder of Methodism a great man among the great men of the race, but after mature consideration I am inclined to believe that since the hour when the Disciple "whom Jesus loved" fell asleep beneath the sky of Ephesus there has not arisen an Apostolic worker more Catholic than John Wesley. His creed truly was, "I believe in the Holy Catholic Church." His "heart's desire and prayer to God" was to see "the Churches established in the faith." Bigot he was none; narrowness could find no dwelling place in the heart of him whose life was a blessed echo to the following utterance of "the prisoner of the Lord," "Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity." From the day of Pentecost to the present moment no branch of the Christian Church in the first one hundred years of its existence accomplished for Christ what the Methodist Church has accomplished. This is a strong statement, but it is a truthful one.

Methodists, like Jesus, wander hither and thither, but, unlike Jesus, they do not always carry their religion with them. In a letter recently received by the writer from one of our Bishops appeared the following: "Methodists go from Chicago to Nebraska and Kansas and to the South and fail to stand by their own Church." Methodists, you ought to be loyal to your Church. She is your Mother. To you she means more than any other Church. Through her instrumentality you stepped "into the glorious liberty of the children of God." On the other shore parents await you, who, had it not been for Methodism, would, probably, have come short of the rest that remaineth for "the people of God," and you, their children, would not, to day, be enjoying the many advantages you now possess. I ask you in your heart of hearts, Is that not true? You know it is. You know that Methodism powerfully uplifts humanity. She not only takes men from the humblest walks of life, and puts a new song in their mouths, even the song of salvation, but she also makes them noble, stalwart men, men grandly fitted to act their part in this life. Throughout all Christendom there are living witneses to the truthfulness of that assertion. Have you made up your mind, my Methodist brother, have you finally concluded, my Methodist sister, to change your home? If so, resolve that you will do two things: Carry the love of God in your heart, and your Church letter in your pocket. When you reach your destination, resolve that you will do two things. Find out the Methodist minister at once, and by letter unite with the Church on your first Sabbath there. Remember the wise action of the late General Conference in reference to a Church letter: "This certificate of Church membership shall not be valid for a longer period than one year." The first Sabbath in your heavenly home will never be forgotten, and around the first Sabbath in an earthly home there should cluster associations, so pure and holy that it would be remembered forever. If you do not succeed at first in getting definite information about the Methodist Church, enquire again, and again, again.

A Scotch Presbyterian family in a town, I will not say where, was visited by a clergyman, not a Methodist one, and from him received a warm invitation to join the Church of which he was pastor, and though this minister was well acquainted with the Presbyterian clergyman, yet, strange to say when plied with several questions concerning Presbyterians and Presbyterianism he was unable to give the family from the land of heather any information whatever. "Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Askelon." If in your new home the Methodists worship God in an upper room," know only to a few and reached by a rickety stair case, find your way thither, and while there pray that that "upper room" may be a Bethel to your soul and the souls of others. Perhaps you will find that the Church of Wesley and Asbury and Simpson is not the popular one, popularity! Stand firm to your convictions. Be true to the voice within. If Methodism has not planted the banner of the Redeemer in that locality, work for God in connection with some Evangelical Church, but be careful to let its pastor know that the Methodist Church, and the Methodist Church alone, is your home, that you indeed are a visitor, that you indeed, if your efforts are acceptable, wish to help him to roll on the car of salvation, but that you are longing to see your mother Church, longing "more than they that walk for the morning;" that you are waiting and listening and praying to hear her footsteps, that though there are others of marked excellences, yet you feel, and the conviction grows stronger each day, that the mother sustains a very close and enduring relationship to the child, that your language is. "If I forget thee, * * let my right hand forget her cunning; if I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth."

Methodism gave you, fellow traveler to "the city of the great King," the first impulse heavenward. Around her altars you knelt, a weary heart burdened sinner, feeling that none could forgive sins but God only," and in that moment of darkest distress He who in deepest compassion said to the widow of Nain, "Weep not," whispered to you, "Be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee." Can you forget that hour? Can you by any train of reasoning convince yourself that you do not owe a debt of gratitude to Methodism? Think of her countless victories for Christ; think of the songs that she put into the lips of loved relations now in glory; think of her past record, it is a glorious one; think of her future career, it is bright with promise; think of the Holy pleasure of being identified with a conquering Church; think of the joy untold that comes to the heart of a Christian soldier when he knows that he belongs to that detatchment of the Great Captain's army, whose trumpet will never sound "halt" until the last rebel shall have thrown down his weapons of rebellion. In view of all these things, resolve my Methodist brother, my Methodist sister, that, in prosperity and adversity, in joy and sorrow, in life and death, you will be loyal to Christianity in earnest," ever remembering that this truthful portrait of Methodism in three words was not painted by a Methodist, but by a Presbyterian, the gifted and eloquent Scotch divine, Thomas Chalmers.

South Chicago, Illinois.

The Progress of Civilization.

BY JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

Third Paper.

Man alone seems now to have become the master of external physical causes. In our time, whether in the torrid, temperate, or frigid zone, man can seek or avoid the sun and ice, and increase or diminish his temperature, by clothing himself in silks, linen, cotton, wool, or fur. By artifical means he can turn summer into winter, and winter into summer; day into night, and night into day; and he can transplant himself from continent to continent, from isle to sea, and from zone to zone.

But after the exercise of all these powers, even man is the servant and creature of many physical agencies; for hot climates enervate the intellectural powers, and prostrate the physical energies that give him control, and hyperborean regions dwarf both body and mind. Wandering beyond the controling influence of cultured society, man becomes a savage; in Africa, he is black; in Greenland, when scraped and washed clean, he is pale. Only within the limits of the temperate zones does man ever become a perfectly developed human being, and only in the Northern temperate zone has he achieved wonders and attained real greatness.

The scarcity of food in cold climates always tends to a small population in high latitudes, and to high wages; while the abundance of food in hot countries, if the soil be rich, leads to a dense population and low wages.

All ancient civilizations were confined to the tropics, because of the spontaneous abundance of food, and also, because of the mildness of the climate, by which the necessity for much or costly clothing, and for warm habitations is obviated; but here the rate of wages was low, and the condition of the laboring class very seriously depressed.

For the first time in the history of the world, civilization arose in a colder climate in Europe; but not before man had made considerable advance in the manufacture of agricultural implements, and of clothing, and in the construction of weapons of defense. Because of a lower temperature in Europe the rewards of labor, or wages, were increased, and distribution of wealth made more equal than had been possible in climates where a great excess of food had induced a dense population.

Potatoes were introduced from America into Ireland late in the sixteenth century, or early in the seventeenth, and the Irish are the only European people having a very cheap national food; for now, during more than two hundred years, they have lived principally on this esculent. The potato is cheaper than any other wholesome food, and one acre of land planted with potatoes will support as many people as can be properly sustained from two acres cultivated with wheat. The increase of population in Ireland has been three per cent per annum. In England it has been one and a half per centum, and even this is greater than it should be, for this result was to overtask the labor market, and to render wages insufficient; but the condition of the laboring class in England is one of sumptuous independence, as compared with that of the workmen in Ireland; yet, Ireland has, probably, the greatest natural resources of any country in the world.

In China, India, Egypt, Mexico, Central America and Peru the food of the people has, in all ages, been derived from the vegetable world, almost to the entire exclusion of the animal, and in all these the growth of the population has been far too rapid for the general good. Rice, the most nutritious of all the cereals, has always been the food of the Chinese and the Hindoos, and what rice is to the Southern parts of Asia, dates are to Egypt and to the North of Africa. The date palm is found in every country from the Tigris to the Atlantic, and it supplies millions of people with their daily food in Arabia, and in all of Africa, North of the equator, and throughout this vast region it subsists all the domestic animals, as well as the human beings. The starch in rice is changed to sugar in the date. Rice and dates require but little labor in their culture, and each yields a most bountiful return. More than two hundred date-palms may be successfully cultivated on an acre of land. In the Said, or Theibad, the richest part of Upper Egypt, where are found the splendid remains of Thebes, Carnac, Luxor, Denderah and Edfou, the dhoura is the principal food, and it multiplies itself much more rapidly than either rice or dates. In Lower Egypt, the lotus sprang spontaneously from the rich soil of the Nile, and it was an abundant as well as a nutritious esculent.

Maize, or Indian corn, potatoes and bananas were more prolific in Pern, Central America, and Mexico, than were rice, dates, dhourra, and the lotus in the Oriental trpics, where these vegetables are indigenous. In America, the heat and moisture required to secure fertility of soil were only found in proper combination in ancient Peru, Brazil, Central America, and Mexico, and under such circumstances as prevented the spread of civilization farther North or South of the equator than twenty-one and a half degrees. Beyond this, on each American continent, the inhabitants were roaming nomads, leading a savage existence, until the period of European colonization here.

In America, all the great rivers are on the Eastern slope of each continent. This arises from the geographical fact that the great and unbroken chains of mountains, extending from Alaska to Patagonia, are contignous to the Pacific coast, and their Western slopes do not afford space for a sufficient fall of water to form considerable rivers; while their Eastern declivities descend into valleys, plains, and forests, that extend thousands of miles to the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic ocean. The Oregon, or Columbia river, is the only stream of any consequence on the Western coat of America, and even it is comparatively insignificant. The San Francisco and San Joaquin are little more than large creeks, extending but a few miles. The soil in the vicinity of all these is of the richest character.

The St. Lawrence, the Connecticut, the Hudson, the Delaware, Chesapeake, Susquehanna, Potomac, James, Astley, Cooper, St. Johns, Alabama, Mississippi, the Orinoco, Amazon, Negro, St. Francis, La Plata, and many others, flow into the Atlantic, or into the Gulf of Mexico.

In North America, however, while all the irrigation of any importance is on the Eastern side of the Rocky mountains, the necessary heat spreads along the Pacific coast. If Eastward of the mountains, the heat were as great as it is West of them, and if the supply of water along the Western coast, and the Western interior were as bountiful as it is found everywhere East of these mountains, the civilization of Mexico would have extended very far North, many centuries before the advent of Christopher Columbus.

Spare Minute Papers.

D. W. HAYS.

Newspaper correspondents have very much to do with fixing the tone and with promoting the circulation and usefulness of the journals which print their contributions. Their communications, taken in the agregate, exert an influence next to that of the editors themselves. Accepting this statement as an incontrovertible fact, it will be seen at once that their relation to the paper and its readers, involves no light responsibility. The character of their efforts has weight in many points of view which I need not tarry to enumerate. If the paper wins in its struggle, their claim to a share in the victory will not, I think, be disputed. I hope it may not be thought presumptuous in a beginner, like myself, to urge the importance of keepting this matter more constantly in view by those who are accorded the privilege of their thoughts to the public through the medium of the press. Before selecting a topic and deciding on the style in which it is proposed to treat it, let them carefully consider the declared aim and scope of the paper for which the composition is to be prepared. An article which might be suitable for an agricultural journal would quite likely prove of little service to a pronounced political sheet. What would "take" in a secular paper, might upon justifiable grounds be excluded from the religious paper, and what might be considered first rate, if offered to the New York Observer, would perhaps, be thought only fit for the waste basket, if sent to the office of the SOUTHWESTERN. Every journal of any note seeks to cultivate some particular field, although it may allot no small space to "variety" or all sorts of news. It drives at something definite. It has its special mission.

Now, before my short minute is nsed np, if it has not already passed into oblivion, allow me to enggest to writers for the SOUTHWESTERN, I mean especially the yonng and inexperienced, that the paper is the official organ ot the Methodist Episcopal Chnrch, particularly in the Sonth and Sonthwest. It is both rellgious and denominational in its aims. I do not nnderstand it to be a race paper. It serves Christianity as its chief pnrpose, and along with it the Chnrch which snpports it. When yon next pen an article for its colnmns, bear this in mind; don't make it secular by indiscretion in the choice of themes. Don't defeat its denominational objects by writing abont everything bnt Methodism.

Wendell Phillips.—V.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS.

Year after year he attended all the meetings of the anti-slavery societies, in order to review their progress, and when their principles were assailed he poured forth invectives like molten lava, which left an impression as lasting as life.

He boldly advocated disunion, and said that the confederation of the free and slave States was an iniquitous compact and a covenant with the arch-fiend himself.

But when the great civil war began Mr. Phillips' energy redonbled itself, his sympathy and support and co-operation was given the government, and his reason in this case was the same as in the first.

In the early part of 1862 he advocated the arming, educating and enfranchising of the colored people, long before it was conceived to be a military necessity by the President and his Cabinet.

Wendell Phillips, when engaged in the elevation and amelioration of the sufferings of mankind, laughed at fear, mocked at scorn, and when insults and abuse were offered him he trampled them beneath his feet, without the least solicitude and without the least remorse, and nothing could restrain his merciless resentment but the weakness of sex or the feebleness and decrepitude of old age.

He was braver than Leonidas, more courageous than Richard Cour de Lion, and was endowed with all the patience of Oriental Job.

When in 1859 that hoary headed patriarch, that illustrious Christian martyr willingly gave up his life in a Virginian jail in the land of boasted civil and religious liberty, yes, when the grand old hero was about to be led forth to the sacrifice.

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Methodist Union in New Zealand is growing, the votes showing it in all its branches of Methodism. The vote is, Wesleyans, thirty-eight for union and nine against; Primitives, twenty three for and three against; Free Church, fourteen for, and four against; Bible Christians, all for union.

Concerning Red Hair.

Many people admire red hair, but if you do not, Parker's Hair Balsam will impart to it a darker hue. It will also thicken the hair, eradicate dandruff, and impart softness, glossiness and life to hair which has become dry and harsh. Not a dye, does not soil the linen. Gives a delicious perfume. An elegant dressing.

Prejudice.

It is a remarkable fact that hundreds of people are so wedded to old ideas that no matter how much merit a new article may posses they will not try it. This is wrong. To those of our readers who recognize the fact that we are living in a progressive age we would call attention to the remarkable offer made by the ELECTRIC PAD MANUFACTTRING CO., of Brooklyn, N, Y., in an advertisement in this issue of our paper.

Those desiring new music books for their Sunday-schools, should not fail to notice the advertisement of "Heavenly Voices,' and 'Sabbath Bells.' Heavenly Voices is a new book just ready. Sabbath Bells has been before the public one season and thousands of them have been sold. See advertisement in this issue.

Returned Missionaries.

BY C. C. M'CABE.

Every man who has looked into the darkness of heathenism, who has a heart to feel for the multitudes who are enduring unspeakable sorrow as a result of their false religions, so soon as he sets foot upon the soil of America ought to lift his voice to plead the cause of missions and help to wake up a slumbering Church. Most of these men have returned home to stay, and others are here temporarily.

The people are anxious to hear them. Any congregation can well afford to pay their traveling expenses to have their assistance.

I have procured a list of these men, with their addresses, and append it herewith. Keep them busy. They know more about their missions than any body else. The list may not be complete. I should be glad to amend it upon further information.

William Butler, founder of missions in India and Mexico, New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass.

L. N. Wheeler, founder of missions in North and West China, Beaver Dam, Wis.

*Dr. J. T. Scott, Beaver, Pa., for 23 years in India, Principal of Bareilly Theological Seminary.

E. Cunningham, East Pearl Street Church, New Haven, Conn., for many years in the North India Conference.

James Mudge, Whitinsville, Mass., formerly editor of the Lucknow Witness,

J. T. Gracey, Rochester, N. Y., for many years a successful missionary in India.

*J. T. M'Mahon, Lima, N. Y., for 12 years in India, and conducting a successful work in Gurwhal, India.

F. M. Wheeler, Mecklenburg, N. Y., for several years an active member of the North India Conference.

F. B. Cherrington, Mt. Vernon, Ia., formerly of North India Conference.

A. D. M'Henry, Menasha, Wis., also for several years in India.

S. S. Weatherby, Long Branch, N. J. for many years in India.

N. G. Cheney, New York Avenue Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly in charge of the English Church in Nynee Tal.

*J. E. Scott, Melrose, Mass., for about 11 years conducted a most successful work in the plains of India.

Moses C. White, M. D., New Haven, Conn., one of the founders of the Chinese Mission in 1847.

E. Wentworth, Sandy Hill, N. Y., one of the earlier missionaries in China.

S. L. Baldwin, Nyack, N. Y., for over 20 years missionary in Foochow, China, and for several years superintendent of the mission.

*Nathan Sites, Delaware, Ohio, also for more than 20 years in connection with the Foochow mission.

E. S. Todd, Sixty-first Street Church, New York city, one of the founders of the Central China Mission.

H. H. Hall, San Luis Obispo, Cal., for a number of years connected with the Central China Mission.

*L. W. Pilcher, 4 Monroe Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., for 15 years a missionary in North China.

A. J. Cook, Smithfield, Pa., for nearly seven years in Central China.

B. E. Edgell, Monnt Union, Ohio, for a time missionary in Foo-Chow.

D. W. Chandler, for nearly eight years a most successful laborer in connection with the Foochow Conference.

O. W. Willetts, Laingsburg, Mich., for some years in North China.

Julius Soper, Magothy, Md., one of the first missionaries in Japan, and engaged there for about ten years.

*W. C. Davison, Waveland, Ind., with several years' experience in Hakodati and Tokio, Japan.

*M. S. Vail, Evanston, Ill., for about six years Principal of the Anglo-Japanese College in Tokio, Japan.

*G. F. Draper, Marion, Iowa, formerly connected with the Japan Mission.

*J. M. Barker, Newton Falls, Ohio, for about five years in Mexico, stationed at Pachnca.

G, S. Umpleby, Graysville, Ohio, for some time in Orizaba, Mex.

*Expecting to return.

Our Brother in Black.

REV. J. C. W. COXE, BROOKLYN, IOWA.

Sixth Paper

Enthusiasm for the freedman is rapidly abating. A broader basis must be laid, and a more enduring superstructure must be built. The wealth of the nation must conquer the ignorance of the nation. There are over 4,000,000 literature adults in the United States (1880); of these three fourths are in the former slave States, where is found only one-third of our population. That illiteracy is increasing, and more rapidly than the intelligence of the nation. The increase of the latter in a decade was but 3 per cent; of the former fully 5 per cent. These storm centers of ignorance are full of peril to the Republic.

Two arguments enforce the plea for more ample provision for universal education.

1. The prosperity of the nation. The Hon. Dexter A. Hawkins has made a careful analysis of ample statistics collected by the Bureau of Education, with the following results in brief:

(1). A free common school education adds 50 per cent to the productive power of the laborer, considered merely as a machine.

(2). An average academical education adds 100 per cent.

(3). The average collegiate education adds from 200 to 300 per cent.

Estimate the productive value of a common laborer at a minimum of $100, and the common school education of the 4,000,000 illiterates will add $2,000,000 annually to the wealth of the nation; a sum twice as large as the annual expenditure for public education in the whole country. Will universal compulsory education pay?

2. The safety of the nation. Illiteracy votes, and an illiterate vote counts as much as the most intelligent one; but beyond its numerical value it is full of peril. It can be cajoled; it can be terrorized; it can be suppressed. Three-fourths of the illiteracy of the nation is in the South. The vote of the Southern States in 1880 was a little over 4,000,000 (4,154,125); of these nearly (1,354,974) could not read their ballots. In five states not one-half could read their ballots. In four others the illiterates exceeded half the number of votes cast in 1880. But for the illitterate vote there would never have been a solid South in any election. Where that vote could not be controlled it has been suppressed; and one-fourth the voting population of the Union has elected 74 per cent of a President, and needed but one-fifth of the electoral vote of the North to rule the nation.

Sumner said that by giving the negro the ballot we had "chained him to the chariot wheel of our national progress." That is true in a sense not meant by the great commoner of Massachusetts. As a slave the black man represented but two-fifths of a Northern voter; as a freeman he is equal. The nation gave him a ballot to wound the enemy; it must make that ballot intelligent for its own safety.

The Australian Wesleyan Methodist General Conference was held at Christ Church, New Zealand, beginning Nov. 12th. After much earnest debate the proposition to separate the New Zealand from the Australian Conference was rejected by a vote of fifty-eight to twenty-three. A resolution favoring the establishment of an Australian Methodist Union was carried. The whole matter was then remitted so the several colonial annual conferences.

We depart from our usual practice and recommend Hunt's Remedy as a sure cure for all kidney diseases.—Medical Gazette.

Temperance in the South.

The National Temperance Society is at present carrying on an active campaign in the South. Rev. C. H. Mead, its special missionary among the freedmen, has recently visited a number of colored conferences in North and South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama, reaching over 1,700 ministers, and supplying them with a temperance literature, and will extend his work to other parts of the South. Mr. J. N. Stearns, Corresponding Secretary of the society, is arranging for a series of meetings in New Orleans and in Florida during February and March. He will visit Florida about the middle of February with Mr. Mead, and hold a series of meetings in the State. The 3d and 4th of March has been set apart by the authorities of the new "Florida Chautauqua" at Lake D'Funiak for meetings under the auspices of the National Temperance Society, when addresses are expected from Geo. W. Bain, Gen. C. B. Fisk, Mrs. J. E. Foster, Rev. C. H. Mead, J. N. Stearns, and others. This new "assembly" ground has recently been secured and comfortably fitted up for a Southern resort, where a month of meetings similar to those at Chautauqua in the North will be held. Rev. A. H. Gillett, of Ohio, is the director of exercises for all the meetings. March 12 and 13 have been set apart by the managers of the Exposition at New Orleans for meetings under the auspices of the National Temperance Society. The meetings will be addressed by Rev. Dr. T. L. Cuyler, Geo. W. Bain, Esq., Mrs. J. E. Foster, Gen. C. B. Fisk, Rev. C. H. Mead, J. N. Stearns, and others. A week of meetings will be held in New Orleans by the Society in churches and among the colored people. It is proposed to place a tract, leaflet, or paper in the hands of every colored person who attends the Exposition, if funds sufficient can be raised for the purpose.

Virtue in the Family.

There are all sorts and degrees of virtue, and sometimes we are told that virtue is its own reward. Mr. F. A. Evans, of Burrs Ferry, La., says, in writing about Browns Iron Bitters, "I have been the recipient of its virtue in my family to a considerable extent. This great iron tonic has superior advantages as a reliable family medicine. Its power has been thoroughly tried, and its virtues abundantly proved. Nearly a million bottles a year are sold by the druggists of this country.

American Bible Society.

The stated meeting of the Board of Managers was held at the Bible House, on Thursday, April 2d, 1885, the Hon E. L. Fancher, L. L D., Vice President, in the chair.

Religious services were conducted by Secretary McLean.

The sad announcement was made that since the last meeting of the Board two of the resident Vice-Presidents of the Society, namely, Frederick S. Winston, Esq., and Charles Tracy, Esq, had been removed by death. The Managers placed upon the records of the Board an expression of their sincere regards for their late associates, and of the great loss which the Society has sustained in their decease.

Letters and reports were presented from most of the Foreign Agents of the Society, giving interesting and, for the most part, encouraging accounts of the work in their respective fields.

Grants of books were made for benevolent distribution, chiefly in the United States, of the aggregate value of about $8,300. Appropriations of funds were made for printing and circulating the Scriptures in foreign lands, to the amount of $109,048,85. This includes grants to the Agencies of the Society in Mexico, Brazil, Japan, and the Levant, and also to the American Board for its Missions in Spain and Ceylon; to the Presbyterian Board for its Siam and Lodiana Missions; to the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for its work in Germany and Switzerland; to the Russian Bible Society; to the Bible Society of France; and to the Waldensian Committee of Evangelization.

Two Bible societies were recognized as auxiliaries in Nebraska, one in Illinois, and one in Colorado.

The total receipts for March were $76,578 21. The issues from the Bible House during the same period were 68,440 volumes.

General Chace of Rhode Island, says: "I always keep Hunt's Remedy in my house, it prevents headache and Kidney troubles.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to learn the whereabouts of my brother, Thomas Gettys. Address James Gettys, Carson City, Gunsby county, Texas.

If the Rev. J. G. Thompson, late of the Liberia Conference, and his wife, Amelia, are still alive I should be glad to know their address.

C. L. DICKINSON.
Monrovia, West Africa, Feb. 10, 1884.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my lost friends, father and mother, sisters and brothers. My father's name was Zeales Butler; my mother's name was Mariah Winkfield; she married Zeales Butler, and she fell to Dr. Johnnie Winkfield, who married Caroline Gypson. My name was Clarissa; I fell to a Methodist preacher then known as Lucius Deyampert; he married Nancy Offleten Winkfield; he carried me to South Carolina and from there to Alabama, where I still remain. I had three brothers as follows: Moses, Jordan and Jack the eldest, who was lame with the white swelling. Brother Moses belonged to the widow Winkfield, but afterwards fell to old Joshua Glynn, a Methodist preacher. Jordan fell to Garland Winkfield. My eldest sister's name was Patience; I heard she was dead. My youngest sister was Margaret. Pastors will please read this from their pulpits. Address Rev. J. C. Read, Wedowee, Ala.

I wish to inquire for my brother, Jefferson Pitman. He left Madison county in the first part of the year 1883, and we have not heard from him since. His mother's name was Eliza Pitman, and he had two sisters whose names were Diana Simmons and Leaner Pitman, and two brothers, Jerry and Andrew. We would like to find him if possible. Any information concerning his whereabouts, or what has become of him, will be gladly received by his family. Address Jerry M. Pitman, Houma, La.

Any one knowing the whereabouts of my sister, whose maiden name was Emma Walter, will please inform me of the same. I have not heard from her for 15 years; at that time she had married and was living in Philadelphia. Any one knowing whether she is dead or alive will please address me at No. 329 George street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

MRS. FRANSSUE.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my sister. I left her in East Baton Rouge in 1866. Her name was Celeste Quarterre. She lived with Mr. Adolph Brooks. Our mother was named Matilda. She died in Plaquemine, at Mr. Frank Boone's. She had three daughters: Celeste, Milley and Julia; and one son named Joseph. Any information concerning any of them will be gladly received by me. Address Mrs. Milley Pitre, care of B. Washington, St. Landry parish, La.

Lowell, May 4, 1883

"For six years I had kidney disease with pain in back and hips. I improved on one bottle of HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY and two bottles cured me"—W. H. Blanchard, Boston & Lowell R. R.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

20,690,506

BOTTLES OF

WARNERS "SAFE" CURE

Or, Warner's SAFE Kidney and Liver Cure (its former title)

SOLD TO FEBRUARY 1st, 1885!

No other Compound on earth can show a similar record, and no physician a better one.

The highest Medical Authorities pronounce it the only known Specific for Kidney, Liver and Urinary diseases; that it has no equal as a BLOOD PURIFIER, and that it is the best safeguard against contagious diseases, both acute and chronic, keeping the Kidneys and Liver—the great organs of the body—in healthy condition, disease then being impossible.

For the many distressing ailments of delicate Ladies, it has no equal.

We can furnish over One Hundred Thousand voluntary Testimonials similar to the following.

Read them for the good of yourself, your family and your friends.

Note the following, showing how this vast number of bottles was distributed, as evidenced by our sales book.

Boston, - - 936,842

B. F. LARRABEE, Esq., 40 Chester Square, Boston, Mass, in 1879, was given up by several prominent Boston Physicians as incurable from Bright's Disease. He took over 200 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, in 1880-2, and Oct. 6, 1884, wrote that the "cure was as permanent as surprising."

Providence, - - 128,947

G. W. FULTON, Esq., Fulton, Texas, suffered for ten years with serious bladder disorders and lost from 25 to 30 pounds; in 1882 he used 14 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and recovered his natural weight and said, "I consider myself well for a man of 75." December 20, 1884, he wrote: "I have had no symptoms of kidney disorder since 1881, and if I did I should rely upon SAFE Cure."

Portland, Me., - - 330,289

EX-GOV R. T. JACOB, Westport, Ky. In 1882, during a political canvass, health gave way and was prostrated with severe kidney trouble. Lost 40 pounds of flesh. Used Warner's SAFE Cure in 1882, and June 23, 1884, writes, "I have never enjoyed better health—all owing to Warner's SAFE Cure."

Bal. of N. Eng., - 331,315

HON. N. A. PLYMPTON, (Hon B. F. Butler's campaign manager), of Worcester, Mass., in May, 1880, was prostrated by kidney colic, caused by the passage of gravel from the kidneys to the bladder. He then began using Warner's SAFE Cure and in a short time passed a large stone and a number of smaller ones Dec. 10, 1884 Mr. Plympton wrote: "I have had no recurrence of my old trouble since Warner's SAFE Cure cured me."

New York State - 3,053,080

Mrs. J. B. DESMOULIN, 2411 Morgan street, St. Louis, Mo., in 1882, wrote: "I have been in delicate health for many years, but Warner's SAFE Cure made me the picture of health." June 23, 1884, she wrote, "My health has been good for the last two years."

Pennsylvania, - - 1,365,914

Chicago, - - 3,181,520

CHAS. E. STEPHENS, of Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15, 1884, wrote, "When my daughter was ten years of age she was seriously attacked by extreme kidney disorder. She recovered temporarily, but a year ago was again prostrated. She was swollen to twice her natural size, had frequent headaches, nausea, and other disguised symptoms of the disorder. All her Louisville physicians agreed that she could not recover. Her case and treatment were telegraphed to a New York specialist who said recovery was impossible. Last August we began to treat her ourselves, and now, wholly through the influence of Warner's SAFE Cure, she is apparently as well as ever." November, 1884, he says, "My daughter is apparently in perfect health."

Detroit, - - 635,210

REV. ANDREW J. GRAHAM, (P. E.) Grand Island, Neb., in 1881, was pronounced fatally sick with Bright's Disease. His condition he says was desperate and he could get no relief from physicians. He then followed Warner's SAFE Cure treatment, and July 7, 1884, he wrote, "All local trouble has disappeared. Have taken no medicine for nearly a year."

Milwaukee, - - 3 4,171

S. F. HESS, Rochester, N. Y., the well-known tobacco manufacturer, three years ago took twenty-five bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure for liver disorder, and Aug. 20, 1881 he reported, "I consider myself fully cured, and the credit is wholly due to Warner's SAFE Cure."

Minnesota, - - 486,013

G. W. HAMILTON, Milton, Santa Rosa county, Florida, December 15th, 1884, wrote that "four years ago my wife was suffering with liver complaint which reduced her to a skeleton. The doctors finally pronounced her case Bright's Disease of the kidneys, and incurable. She then took 13 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and has been in perfect health ever since. She now weighs 180 pounds where formerly she was a skeleton. Warner's SAFE cure will make a permanent cure always if taken by directions."

Bal. N. W. States, 1,400,352

—IF IT IS—

Hard Times With You

Resort to the Remedy that Nine-tenths (9-10) of Sufferers Require, thereby Saving Continuous Debility and Expensive Medical Attendance.

—SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.—

Cleveland, - - 511,974

JOSEPH JACQUES Esq., St. Albans, Vt., in January, 1877, was taken desperately sick with Bright's Disease of the kidneys. He spat blood, was tremendously bloated and seemed to be beyond the power of the best physicians. He then took 60 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, which restored him to health. January 1, 1885, eight years afterwards, he wrote: "I never enjoyed better health in my life than I do now, and I owe it all to Warner's SAFE Cure. I consider myself cured of Bright's Disease."

Cincinnati, - - 655,250

B. J. WORRELL, of Ellaville, Fla., in 1879, was prostrated with Bright's Disease of the kidneys, and, under the best treatment, grew worse. "On the advice of Governor Drew's sister, I began Warner's SAFE Cure, sixty bottles of which restored me to full measure of health. I have now been cured about four years, and my case is regarded as miraculous." Governor Drew, of Jacksonville, Florida, April 20, 1884, says, "Mr. Worrell's case and cure gave me great confidence in Warner's SAFE Cure, and I unhesitatingly indorse it."

Bal. Ohio, (State) - 474,869

Mrs. S. A. CLARK, East Granby, Conn., in 1881 was utterly used up with constitutional and female complaints of the worst kind. Been sick ten years and tried everything. In November, 1884, she wrote, "Warner's SAFE Cure cured me four years ago, and has kept me well."

Southern States, - 2,725,513

ROBERT GRAHAM, 77 Penn street, Brooklyn, N. Y., suffered for six years from inflammation of the bladder and stricture. Six physicians, specialists, gave him up to die. In 1883 he began Warner's SAFE Cure and its continued use, he says, effected a complete cure. Under date June 25, 1884, he says, "My health continues good; have used no medicine since April 30, 1883."

Canada, - - 1,175,868

St. Louis, - - 1,222,895

REV. JAMES ERWIN, Methodist minister, West Eaton, N. Y., was long and seriously ill with inflammation of the prostate gland, (a very obstinate disorder). In 1882 he began the use of Warner's SAFE Cure, and June 25, 1884, wrote. "The relief obtained two years ago proved permanent; physicians express great surprise."

Kansas City, - - 538,595

S. A. JOHNSTON, Lockington, Ohio, Sept. 20, 1881, stated that for thirty years he had suffered tortures with dyspepsia but he was entirely cured by the use of Warner's SAFE Cure. Dec. 8, 1884, he says: "I took 20 or 25 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and it has never failed to stop any symptoms of my old complaint if they appeared; my health is good."

Bal. S. W. States, - 635,092

N. B. SMILEY, Esq., of Bradford, Pa., in 1882, was very seriously sick of extreme kidney disorder and rheumatism, which gradually grew worse. Physicians being unable to assist him his last resort was Warner's SAFE Cure, and June 25th, 1884, he wrote: "My health is better than for two years past, and in some respects is better than it has been for five years. When I catch cold and have any slight kidney trouble, I resume the medicine again and the relief I believe is permanent."

San Francisco, - - 932,210

JAMES M. DAVIS, 330 South Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., superintendent of Jagger Iron Co., in 1881 suffered from very serious kidney trouble, he weighed about 160 pounds; he used 18 bottles of Warner's SAFE cure, and Dec. 8, 1884, he wrote, "That was fully three years ago. I have had no trouble since, and I am first-class and weigh 198 pounds. I would not go back to that time of four years ago for all the dollars in the United States

Bal. Pacific Coast, - 624,237

All the Testimonials above given are from persons who were PERMANENTLY CURED several years ago and remain so.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1885.

$1.50 Nine Months. $1.50

Subscriptions may be taken for nine months, or to the close of the year 1885, for $1.50. Agents will please announce this fact, and extend the canvass.

PHILLIPS & HUNT.

Methodism at Work.

EDITORIAL PERAMBULATIONS.

Off from Nashville at 7:30 a. m., having been driven from his home to the depot by Bro. Philips, in his own neat buggy, behind a nnmber one mover. We enjoyed an uneventful ride up through Tennessee and Kentucky to Elizabethtown, the county seat of Hardin county. Here we have train for a run of 32 miles Sonthwest over the Chesapeake and Ohio railway to Litchfield. We are aiming to meet the Bowling Green district conference there tomorrow morning, March 27. We have three hours to wait for the next train, so according to habit we are off hunting for the Methodist preacher here.

Finding none of our own denomination we made our way to the parsonage of and find Rev. Levi Evans, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, at home. He is always at home to Methodist preachers in want of bed or bread. With him we have dinner and a pleasant hour of conversation touching the all victorious march of the kingdom of Christ over this world by the Methodists, then we separate. The town is in a fever of excitement over a nameless offense committed recently and charged upon a Negro, but the testimony is so conflicting that it is generally disbelieved, and such is the intense feeling over the case that the Negroes are constantly on the alert for a threatened lynching, and have declared a purpose to retaliate in kind, if violence is resorted to.

We run to Cecelia junction, six miles away, and lay there four hours. The weather is cold, and there is no alternative, but to wait in the depot. The operator poured a little coal oil in the stove, and it went off with a flash and was soon as cold as ever. This reminded us of the career of some converts, all flash and no heat. He did not come again to look after the fire. We called upon a Negro, who was knocking about the depot, expecting to get sympathy from him, but he said it was not his business, he had nothing to do with making fires. So we drew our great coat a little tighter about us, doubled in a corner seat and proposed to make the best of it. We were only a few moments alone then in came six typical young gentlemen, with two fiddles and a French harp, and suffice it to say that if not warm it was for at least one hour quite noisy. It was pretty evident that these six young white men had been close students and had learned a good deal from the lowest and rudest class of Negroes.

It emphasized our idea that the Negro man and woman must be elevated, or the whites who live among them must be degraded. If this is true and will not be denied, it can not be successfully, then it is the duty of the Northern, but much more of the Southern whites, to lend a friendly word and helping hand to the full extent of their ability for this elevation at once.

We roll up to Litchfield depot at 11:20 Thursday evening, March 26, and shall never forget the date, because of the occasion. Fifteen years ago we came as pastor to this town. We were the first Negro pastor sent here after the war. We forded Rough Creek, a dangerous stream, then bank full, and rode 11 miles in our wet, muddy clothes on Sunday, to meet our first appointment here. We preached at 4 p. m. in the Southern Methodist Church, there was not a single member of our church, and only five Negro Methodists in town, those belonged to the Church South, but we received them into the Methodist Episcopal Church that night; thus began our work, which in one year resulted in work enough for three preachers, and three were sent to it, and it in four years became the Bowling Green district.

We had $50 salary that year but ourself, wife and one child lived on that, except $15 per month paid wife for teaching, by Dr. Rust. The young people who formed our school are grown now, numbers of of them belong to our Church, they got wind of our coming, somehow, and 14 of them with a brass band received us at the depot, and escorted us through the principal streets to our appointed stopping place, and with great reluctance retired long after midnight.

So we reflect it is well to labor, and to wait; we only regretted that she, who labored so faithfully with us in those early days, was not with us to reap this harvest. If absent in person, she was not in memory, for every one asked for and of her, and the boy, he alas, he is not. Here are several members of the family to whom she once belonged, and that they and we all felt warmly attached to each other, because of these former relations is a fact, and we are glad it is. We were invited to their home to tea with them, and other attentions were paid us which went to show that between ex-master and slave there in the normal condition of things, a very kindly feeling fraught with most benevolent portents for the future.

THE DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Was a good one, largely attended, well conducted, very orderly, and it doubtless made a splendid impression for good. The church was in process of repair, but the court house was tendered, and accepted. It was filled at every conference, with an interested audience of spectators, black and white, of the village and surrounding country.

The circuit clerk, Mr. Thomas Goslin, made a very kindly and fraternal address of welcome, and received a vote of thanks from the conference.

This editor talked about his observations in the Southwest, and preached twice.

Elder Booker is held in high esteem for his efficient and earnest work here. It was a good conference, and the people say, if no bad result appear in the future it will tend to confirm the faith of many and convert more to the faith of the Gospel.

Let Us Begin Right.

Before a good square start toward the enrollment of the colored people of the South under the banner of the Temperance Reformers, the advocates of this reform must be willing to do as much of temperance as are the dealers for liquor, that is, social equality. Nonsense aside, they must take these people into the great convocations held in behalf of temperance, and by this and all other proper means win and lift them from the intemperate and debasing associations into which slavery led and left, and freedom found them, If the triumph of the cause of temperance is not worth so much as this, then it does not merit success. If it is thus valuable, why, then, let the means be employed and the end secured.

If a man does good work it will be sure of recognition in the end.

Personal.

—Rev. O. B. Whitmore, Cadilac, Michigan, called last week. He came to visit the Exposition.

—Dr. N. H. Middleton and Wm. Isaacs, of Oakland, Texas, dropped in last Saturday. They came to see the Exposition, and were well pleased.

—Rev. Allen Allensworth after a hasty trip party in company with this editor, in Southwestern Kentucky, returned and was installed pastor of Union Baptist Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, recently.

—Rev. Dr. Isaac W. Joyce, of Trinity Church, Cincinnati, has returned home the very likeness of firm and vigorous health, after an extended trip in the Southwest, which among others embraced the Crescent City. He is one of the sort of men we are always glad to see here.

—Rev. Dr. T. B. Caldwell, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and Richard T. Huffman, of the Bapist Church, are among old friends, over whose prosperity, as pastors in Nashville we are permitted to rejoice.

—Mrs. Mary, late wife of Colonel Robert Harlan, was for many years a member of New Street and Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Cincinnati. She was an excellent lady in all respets, worth probably upwards of $100,000, of which it is said quite a sum has been willed to Mrs. Powhatton Beatty, of Cincinnsti. We greatly regret the circumstance that prevented our being present as desired, to officiate at the funeral services.

—Another colored lawyer, Mr. Charles Taylor, has been admitted to practice in the courts of the State of New York. Mr. Taylor graduated at the law school of the Boston University, and in 1876 was admitted to the bar of Massachusetts. He next practiced in Baltimore, Md., in the United States Courts, the State of Maryland be it said, refusing to admit him to practice in its courts. He is a man of fine ability, and it is hoped he will do well in his new location.—Elevator.

—Rev. George W. Bryant, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, is now stationed at Nashville, Tennessee, and has an office over the drug store, corner of Mc Lemore and Cedar streets, where he is holding per clinics three times per week, for the benefit of the poor. His sister is with him, and his many friends in New Orleans will rejoice to learn that his success as a physician promises to equal that already attained by him as a minister. Of these none will rejoice more heartily than Dr. James T. Newman, his old tutor.

Schools and Colleges.

Theological and Sunday-school Institute at the Central Tennessee College.

The third annual session of this institute, connected with the Central Tenn. College, began on Sunday, March 22. In the absence of Rev. Dr. Bayliss who was to preach, Rev. C. Bigelow, Superintendant of the State Asylum for the blind in this city, preached an excellent and stirring sermon. In the afternoon Rev. Dr. Wright, of Boston, Dean of the Chautauqua School of Theology, delivered a very practical address on the Sunday School Work, and at night preached a sermon that will long be remembered for its practical application to Christian experience in every day life.

Monday morning the orgaization was completed by electing H. A. Henley and M. A. Majors secretaries. Dr Wright then discussed the subject, "Why should ministers study New Testament Greek;" and The Old or the New Bible. Which? These topics occupied the morning hour, and many present felt that they would study Greek—if they kept in the same frame of mind, that the brilliant lecture of Dr. Wright roused in them. In the afternoon the Dr. spoke on Pictures in the New Testament, and the "Chautauqua School of Theology." These lectures made a happy impression and Dr. Wright will always be welcome at the college institution.

At night Rev. R. W. Keeler, Dean of the Theological Department of the College, lectured on "The Bible on marriage."

During Tuesday the second day of the Institute, the following topics were discussed; "The Catechism in the Sunday School and family," by John F. Moreland; "The Closer Union of Church and Sunday-school," by Rev. L. M. Hagood; "The Nature and Evidences of Regeneration" by H. W. Key, "How shall we Preach, or Manner in the Pulpit," By Rev. J. Braden. "What shall be the Literary Acquirements of the Minister." On this topic Prof. H. B. Fry presented the view of the laity, and Prof. T. M. Dart, that of the minister himself. Their views harmonized; viz: That the minister should know all he can, and that lazy, noisy, preachers, whose chief aim in preaching is to rouse the emotions by sound rather than sense, will not be wanted in the ministry by the laity, in the near future.

On Wednesday morning Mr. H. W. Morrow discussed the subject of the Superintendent in the Sunday school. Mr. Morrow has been for many years superintendent of the Tulip St. M. E. Church South Sunday school of this city. At the close of the address Mrs. Green, the teacher in charge of the infant class in Mr. Morrow's School, spoke of the pleasure she had in the meeting for the first time, a Colored Sunday School institute

Rev. Dr. Fitzgerald, Editor of the Christian Advocate of this city, then delivered one of his earnest addresses full of the Christian spirit that moved the heart while it enlightened the head.

In the afternoon, the "Relation of the Sunday School teacher to his Pupils" was discussed by Rev. E. Tyree. The Relation of class meeting of the growth of the Church was ably presented by Rev. James Pickett, Presiding Elder of the Nashville district. What kind of Sunday School Helps shall be used for Teachers and for Scholars, was the subject of a practical address by Rev. A. Phillips.

At night Rev. Dr. Keeler spoke on The Relation of pastor to the Sunday School. He was followed by the Rev, M. W. Taylor D. D Editor of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, who had dropped in on us, on his way to his conference at Springfield, O. He spoke earnestly on the subject of Methodist schools for Methodists, his remarks were heard with profound attention and will be remembered long and pleasantly. The Institute was favored with the presence of Revs. Haney and Cummings of the Central Illinois Conference en route home from New Orleans. At the close of the evening addresses the Students organized what is known as the Students Endowment Association. It is very seldom that an organization for the purpose of raising money is started with as much enthusiasm as this Society, and if this spirit continues, good will come of it to both students and College; your readers will hear more of this in the future. This was one of the best sessions of our Institute, and the voice of the brethren is for its continuance at the same time of the school year—the last week in March.

J. BRADEN.

Nashville, Tenn.

The Future of the South.—IV.

JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D. NEW ORLEANS.

One of the principal sources of the more rapid accumulation of wealth heretofore by the North, as compared with the South, was immense immigration, which, yearly, diffused new life, energy and vigor through the Northern States. Like the waters of the Nile, this stream annually enriches the land over which it is spread; but there was an impassable barrier which prevente its flow Southward.

Free labor will always avoid competition with slave labor, and, hence, all this immigration, with all its accompanying benefits, was diverted from the South.

For obvious reasons the surplus capital of the money centres formerly avoided the South, and, accordingly, this stream, like that of immigration, plowed exclusively Northward. There was further a certain accumulation of weath to be derived annually from commerce and manufactures, and, therefore, the North monopolized it. As commerce and manufatures, however, are developed in the South, a more equal distribution of the wealth from these sources will result.

In addition to these particular influences and those already cited in other connections, which now tend to equalize the distribution of wealth as between the sections, there are reasons for believing that under this tendency to equalization there will be an increase of population and wealth in the South at even a greater rate, temporarily than that in the North.

There is a law in social science by which population and wealth always tend to diffuse themselves, analogous to the law in physical science, by which liquids always tend to distribute themselves. Under the operation of this law, whenever a particular section of a country, from any special causes, is prevented from prospering to the same extent as other sections possessing no greater advantages, there results an effort at equalization as soon as the opposing causes are removed.

In such a event there would be the same tendency for population and wealth to diffuse themselves through districts from which their flow had been excluded by the supposed obstacles, as there would be for more water to seek its level whenever a physical barrier which had obstructed it should be removed.

In the physical world, however, everything can be seen with the natural eye, and when the flow of the liquor ceases, the particular obstructions are apparent; but in the economic world, the obstructing causes are secret and obscure, and when the operation of the law is prevented, the opposing influences are hidden from view.

Neither population nor wealth, it is true, is equally diffused, concentration being the general rule; but the same may be said of the distribution of water. The law is not that population and wealth will be equally diffused, any more than it is the law that water will be equally distributed when the attractions, inducements and advantages art the same, just as, under the analogous law, water, although generally accumulated by irregularities of the earth's surface, will always spread over level plains.

Under the operation, then, of this economic law, whenever any obstacles or hindrances in the form of opposing influences are removed, a diffusion should follow to the extent of the obstructions they caused, and population and wealth should accordingly commence flowing through those channels which had been previously closed or choked.

Now the causes and influences heretofore cited as having retarded her material progress, presented just such obstacles and barriers to the natural and regular flow of population and wealth into the South, and, to that extent the action of this law of equal distribution was obstructed; but these causes and influences having ceased to operate, population and wealth must now flow into the South, through the channels so opened, and it will not be unreasonable to expect a comparatively rapid development in the near future.

So far, on this branch of our subject, we have cited those circumstances and influences which formerly retarded the development of the South, presenting, as they did, obstacles or barriers to the natural course of immigration and capital; and we have explained, on general principles, that the obstructions having been removed, an economic diffusion would follow, tending to equalize the distribution of wealth; but now we shall go further, and trace in the present condition of the country, certain active influences that are at work, tending also to promote equalization between the sections.

Whenever location, social and political rights and privileges, confidence in the stability of the government and natural advantages are the same—whenever in short—"other things are equal"—labor and capital will seek employment in those sections of the country in which the demand for them is greatest. They will go wherever wages and profits are highest, and these will be highest wherever competition for labor and capital is greatest.

The South being to day in a condition in which, as compared with the North, labor and capital are in active demand, there will be a tendency of both to flow Southward until the equilbrium is re-established. It is an admitted fact that the demand for labor and capital in the South, is greater than it is in the North, and the reasons are apparent. The staple products of the South command the markets of the world; and the increase of crops, even in the event of an inflow of labor and capital to the South, will not probably exceed the increase of general consumption. Hence there will be an active demand for both labor and capital for many years; and to this extent, after all, cotton is king.

The manufacturing interests of South, for the reasons already suggested, will also create an active demand for both capital and labor.

New Orleans District.

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.

I have read of a man who fed his pigs one day and let them starve the next. This was done with a view of having his meat "a streak of fat and a streak of lean." There are persons whose piety seems to be much on this line. It may be good as far as it goes, but unfortunately it does not go far enough. When I find a man whose piety allows him to neglect the prayer or class meeting, that lets him stay away from the Sunday-school, allows him to be untruthful, that never touches his pocket, that rarely controls his temper or tongue, I see a "streak of fat and a streak of lean." We need a piety which, in its scope, includes and influences the whole man. Men may sing like nightingales and talk like seraphim, but unless their piety influences them in all of their belongings it is as the sounding brass and the tinkling cymbal.

The people at Sixth Street received Bro. Lyon with open hands and hearts. On the whole he enters upon his year's work under favorable circumstances. He has an open door, and I look for a year of marked prosperity. The Sunday-school has taken a new start, and a liberal subscription commenced toward enlarging and repairing the church, a work that needs to be done, and when done Sixth Street will rank among our best churches in the city.

Some of our churches are deploring the slowness of their growth. They say it is too much like holding a besieged fort, the loss is greater than the gain. The loss goes steadily on by death, removal, apostacy and expulsion. The gain is slow and uncertain. The cause of this is a want of consecration to God and unfaithfulness in the performance of Christian duty. Worldly men have no respect for professed Christians in whom they see a lack of conscience in keeping their solemn obligations. Let there be a return to their first love and a faithful discharge of all the obligations of church membership and the Lord will pour out a blessing there shall be no room to receive.

At Clinton Street Church Bro. Ford enters upon a year full of promise. The Sunday-school is filling up, the congregations are good, and all the interests of the church are carefully looked after. Bro. Ford has won his way to the hearts of all the people.

At Union Chapel our people are satisfied that in Bro. Duncan they have just the man they need, and have so expressed themselves. He evidently believes that pure and undefiled religion is not exclusively a "gift of God" nor a mere matter of feeling, thinking, believing, hoping, dreaming, guessing, but a tangible affair, a something to be worked out. May God multiply this tribe.

There is probably no business that the devil likes so well as manging churches, and it must be confessed that he has some experience and no small amount of success in this kind of work. He understands how to keep the people from the class and prayer meetings, from the Sunday-school, and is always ready with an excuse to justify their neglect. He has great ability in getting up and managing church fairs and church quarrels. Then he has just the men needed for all his undertakings—conceited men, office-seeking men, ambitious men, covetous men, worldly-wise men, Judas men who love to carry the bag. Pharisee men who boast of their piety, are always ready to do his bidding. It is no slander to say that Thomson's Chapel has suffered in the past from this kind of management. Under Bro. Gayden's pastorate there has been a radical change in the administration. Those who had religion in streaks have either got pickled entirely through or gone to their own place. The outlook for his second year is full of promise. On the first Sabbath of March seven were at the mourner's bench as penitents. May the Heavenly Father give to this church a baptism of the Holy Ghost, and a great ingathering of souls this year. It is curious to see how different persons are affected by religion. There are those whose religion seems to be confined to their heads; in other instances the tongue is chiefly affected, while here and there to gladden the heart of the way worn traveller there are found persons whose religion seems to touch their pockets.

The two past years at Algiers and Asbury, under Bro. Barrow, have been years of peace and prosperity. The membership has nearly doubled, the church is nicely ceiled, and the people are resolved to make this better than the former. What shall hinder?

Address to the Ministers and Laymen of the Bowling Green District, Lexington Conference.

We are glad to say that peace and prosperity crowned our district last year.

226 professed faith in Christ

336 were united with the church.

5 edifices was erected, and all of the old indebtedness paid off.

But we regret to say that the 1,000 members on the Bowling Green district did not average 2 cents per member for the benevolent purposes.

But we have not as yet lost faith in the good people of the Bowling Green district.

Perhaps it would not be out of the way to call your attention to the following passages of Scripture:

James 2, 14, 20, 26.

Read in connection the following passages:

Matthew 5, 16. 2 Corinthians, 6, 9.

Soldiers of Christ arise and put your armour on. Strong in the faith which God supplies through his eternal son.

And by each of the 1,000 members paying 50 cents we will raise for the cause of Christ, this year $500.

How many of these members of the Bowling Green District will respond to this call?

1st, that we may know how many of the members that will respond to the glorious cause.

Let each pastor in his pastorial charge lay this plan before his congregation.

Let each pastor begin at once to take up cash collections, see that the money is placed in reliable hands and the name or names of party paying 50 cents. Members or non members names be sent to look box 56, Jeffersonville, Ind., that we may have their names published in the Western and SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

If you want to know what your church is doing take our Western Christian Advocate and SOUTHWESTERN.

The Western is $1.25 per year to ministers, and $2 20 to others, postage free; Cranston & Stowe, 190 West Fourth street, Cincinnati, O., publishers. The SOUTHWESTERN is $1 per year to all ministers, and $1.50 cash to members.

If you wish the SOUTHWESTERN. Address Phillips and Hunt, 32 Natchez street, New Orleans; Louisiana. Rev. Marshall W. Taylor, D. D., of the Lexington Conference is the editor.

Dear brethren I shall look to you to urge all the collections at once. It may be a total failure if you wait until the summer is past and the harvest is ended.

1st. Tell your people what the collections are for and use it for no other purposes than for the purpose that you have stated.

2d. You will oblige the presiding elder if each pastor will raise his claim and pay it over to him in the quarterly conference, and you will greatly aid him in pushing forward this grand work. Sunday may be a rainy day.

I invoke the blessing the great head of the church upon you all. Amen. Address

ABRAHAM BOOKER,
Presiding Elder, box 56 Jeffersonville, Indiana.

Sermon Sketches.

Theme—Ascension of Our Lord.

Text—Acts 1, 10: "And when He had spoken these things, while they beheld, He was taken up, and a cloud received Him out of their sight."

Introduction—The fifty days following Easter were observed by the early Christians as a continuous religious festival, admitting no fasts and no kneeling at prayers. The fortieth day, commemorating the ascension, or assumption, of our Lord, was the one day of particular note and impressive observance between Easter and Pentecost or Whit-Sunday. This anniversary furnishes matter of useful reflection and is worthy of joyous observance.

I. It may be noted that previous to his resurrection our Lord's sojourn among us was a continuous subjection of Himself to the laws of nature, to which in heaven He was not subject—e. g. to birth, growth, taking of food, experience of hunger and weariness, resting in sleep etc. This subjection was suspended only now and then for the working of miracles. After His resurrection His dwelling among us was wholly of the supernatural order, one continuous suspension of the laws to which a material body is here subject. The Resurrection itself was the beginning of this triumphant, supernatural sojourn on the earth. He began His ministry with forty days of extreme humiliation and suffering. He now closes it with forty days of triumph over the conditions of his Messianic humiliation. On the fortieth day He was "taken up." At Easter He rose from the grave. At the assumption He rose from the earth itself, the home of all graves.

II. This was the end of His earthly ministry. After the "cloud received Him" the disciples saw Him no more. His human person was not to be seen; His voice was not to be heard. What He began to do at His incarnation was now finished so far as He personally was to do it on the earth. (a). He had fought against the powers of darkness and had won; Col. 2, 15. His personal conflict with evil was now ended and the conflict was to be transferred to His people remaining on the earth. (6). He had now the peace and joy of a righteous conqueror. There was now no need of opening heavens and a voice declaring "Thou art my beloved Son." This had become already established and historical. There was now no need of strengthening angels to uphold God's Son. There was no more Gethsemane. He had triumphed. (c). But His disciples had not yet triumphed, and He was occupied with thought of the conflict before them. He therefore commanded them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to "wait for the promise of the Father." They were still indulging expectations of an earthly kingdom and a triumph for themselves, and said, "Lord wilt Thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?" But He reserved unto the Father the answer to this question, and assured them "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you."

III. The ascension left the disciples with a promise, and the duty of waiting. They may have had intimation from the Lord that they should have only to wait until the Pentecost. But of this we are not informed. It was not unreasonable in them to anticipate the fulfillment of the promise at the time of that great festival. As a matter of fact they had ten days to wait, i. e. until the day of Pentecost. They were doubtless, during these days, contending more or less with their fears and with the uncertainty what do. How many times did they probably repeat to themselves and to one another their Lord's last and precious words. The time was devoutly spent.

IV. During the ten days there was no visible manifestation of Christ. He had actually left the world. This suspension of his personal activities here was like the half-hour's silence in heaven. The Apostles, although knowing their commission to preach, opened not their lips in public. They were waiting the word of command.

V. The promise of the angels—"this same Jesus, which is taken up from you, into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven"—this is our inheritance. For this appearance we are waiting.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

A Premature Alarm.

T. R. FLETCHAR, ESQ.

With regret I read the reports afloat concerning the ignorance of some of our people, who believe that they will again be returned to slavery as they once were. While it may be a fact that such ignorance does exist, I can hardly believe that it does, and again, when I compare the large per cent of ignorance prevalent in the South, I am bound to accord some of it to the colored people, and return to a solemn, sympathic acknowledgment, that some things said about colored people are true; while a great many things said are not. It is not true that the Democratic party will enslave them, or bind upon them the old shackles from which they are now free. How can they? It's impossible, the Constitutional Amendments are inviolable on that point.

The Democratic party, has not risen to retard the nation, but during its 23 year's schooling it has learned a great deal, it is now well educated, equipped, and ready for active service. It has a solid foundation upon which to build; it has no tearing down nor repairing to do. It may have a little trash to throw out of the shops, but if it will examine closely in and about the house, it will find some plenipotentiaries that will be of great service to it in the future, if it will retain them. The party will harmonize its actions with the prosperity of the country, and instead of enslaving the colored people, it will endeavor to free them from the bands that have bound them so close to the Republican party. It will cause people to read more, think better, and act wiser. For whenever there is a freshet, thousands of eager persons crowd the banks of the stream, to see the drift as it swiftly glides along; forced by the the mighty current; "and don't you forget it" the new administration will be well watched. She has at the North door, the Republican party; at the East door, the Green backers; at the West door, the Prohibitionists, and if she don't deal justly with the South, from whence her ventilation must come, that door will be closed, and she will become defunct. I believe the change is for the better, although it may not last long. We shall enjoy the refreshments served while they occupy the proprietorship.

Freedom was declared in 1776. When the old Liberty bell, upon whose rusty garb we looked, and admired last May, in Independance Hall, rung it out to the people; but a portion of them having their ears stopped with ignorance, failed to hear, until it rang the second time in the form of the Thirteenth Amendment. This Amendment is virtually a part of the Declaration of Independence, and should be so considered, but be it as it is, the bell was rung, and all the people inhabiting our grand domain have heard it and are up and doing. Though ignorance lurks around the fireside of some of both white and colored, yet the majority of both are at work to retard its course, and are looking forward to a higher plane of religions, and moral culture, where the people may dwell together, and not be disturbed on account of race, color, or previous conditions of servitude. Nothing flattering nor maliciously can, as yet, justly be spoken of the new administration, but as loyal citizens, every man should assist in bringing about the chief design of politics, which is: to render life easy, and the people happy. Time will tell what wise and just men have done, and are doing, but those prejudicial, miserly, narrow brained men, who invent, and practice their nigardly acts upon the poor, and ignorant, will have time, and cause to regret their inane exertions. May the people, and press cry them down; while the banner of true, noble and energetic men is unfurled, as a warning against everything that is contrary to Christianity. Now I am hoping for the SOUTHWESTERN, with its present editor, a long life, whose mission it is to bear glad tidings to the homes and hearts of many.

Flemingsburg, Ky.

The Following Speaks for Itself.

REV. H. W. WHITE, P. E.

DEAR BROTHER—Perhaps you think it strange that I have not renewed my subscription I saw from your circulars that we had three months, and that will bring us together at the annual conference at which time I hope to have several more. Money matters have been exceedingly dark here. I am glad to know that your paper is growing stronger every day, and becomes more and more the favorite paper of our people. I am working as asked, and hoping this may find you and yours enjoying the best of health.

Presiding Elder, Lexington district, Lexington Conference.

[Bro. White has raised and given to the SOUTHWESTERN the largest cash list of subscribers of any presiding elder in the Church, so far.

General Church News.

The revised version of the Old Testament will be published at Easter.

Bishop Mullen, of the diocese in which Oil City, Pa., is located, condemns roller-skating rinks, and notifies Catholic pastors of churches in his diocese to deny sacrament to members visiting such places in the future.

In 1880 Romanists constituted one-third of Great Britain and Ireland; in 1884 less than one seventh. In the English speaking countries of the world there are 11,000,009 Roman Catholics and 88,000,000 Protestants.

The Bishop of Madrid has issued a notice forbidding members of the church to read the works of Zola, the French novelist, under penalty of excommunication.

The First Congregational Church in Newbury, Mass., which was established nearly 250 years ago, has recently installed its twelfth pastor.

The United Brethren having organized a successful mission in the Sherbro country, West Africa, have now turned their attention to the Negroes in the United States, with a degree of success. They have one mission in successful operation, with two missionaries and three hundred members in Rockingham and Augusta counties, Virginia.

A half cycle of the first century of Religious Telescope has been passed.

In the city of New York, in the district bounded by Houston street, the Bowery, Chatham street and Broadway, there are 70,000 people, of whom at least 30,000 are Protesants. For this vast throng there is not one Protestant Church.

New Orleans Preachers Meeting.

Monday, April 13, Rev. James W. Hudson in the chair. Prayer by the Rev. R. F. Hurley. of the A. M. E. Church. On motion the minutes of the previous meeting were read, after which the Rev. J. D. Norton, of the East Ohio Conference, delivered an able address, subject: "What ought the Preachers Meeting to be?" The preachers present agreed with the speaker that the Preachers Meeting should be a school for every pastor, and every pastor a teacher. On motion of Bro. Ford it was agreed that the rule of elocution be observed by reading the lessons every week. Rev. T. P. Jackson gave a splendid address on the manner of receiving members into the church. The following brethren were present: Z. T. Gayden, Thomas Stalker, S. Osborn, J. Qualls, R. C. Barrow, W. P. Forrest, T. James, W. H. Hardy, T. J. Johnson, M. Dale, W. Murrell and A. M. Green, of the A. M. E. Church. A resolution was offered by Bro. Ford requesting the preachers to do all they can to get the people to attend on the 30th inst., after which the meeting was closed. JAS. W. HUDSON, Pres
A. J. FORD, Secretary.

Books and Current Literature.

The editions of The Century Magazine are now so large that it has become necessary either to go to press at an earlier date or postpone the day of issue. The latter alternative has been accepted. The April number, the edition of which was 225,000, was delayed until the 25th of March. The May number—edition, 250,000—will be issued on the 1st day of May, thus inaugurating with the first number of the thirteenth volume a change which has long been considered desirable by the publishers, and which it is believed will be heartily commended by the public. Future numbers of The Century Magazine will be issued on the 1st day of the month of which each bears date.

We are under obligations for the President's Annual Report of Boston University.

The Annual Catalogue says Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Arkansas, has a faculty of fine teachers and a goodly number of pupils. The school is in a prospering and growing condition.

A Hand Book of the United Brethren in Christ; a brief compendium of the history, doctrines, government and general work of the United Brethren in Christ, prepared and published by E L. Shney, Dayton, Ohio, price 10 15 and 30 cents.

Popular Science Monthly, conducted by E. L. and W. J You mans, published by D. Appleton & Co., 1, 3, and 5 Bond street, New York.—Contents for April: The Character and Discipline of Political Economy. By J. Laurence, Ph. D. The Nervous System and Consciousness. I. By W. R. Benedict. (Illustrated.) Cholera. III. Propagation. By Dr. Max von Pettenkofer. A Chapter in Fire Insurance. By George Iles. Cumberland Sound and its Eskimos. By Dr. Frantz Boas. Religions Value of the Unknowable. By Count D'Alviella. Liquor Legislation. By Gorham D. Williams. Aristotle as a Zoologist. By Frederik A. Fernald. Apiculture. By Allen Pringle. Structure and Division of the Organic Cell. By Chas. Morris. The Chemistry of Cookery. By W. Mattieu William. Internal Arrangement of Townhouses. By R. W. Edis, F. S. A. Sketch of Professor John Towbridge, (with portrait.) Correspondence: Causes of the Ohio Floods.—Do animals foretell the weather? Medical Expert Testimony. Editor's Table: Progress at Harvard.—The Scylla and Charybdis of Administration. Literary Notices. Popular Miscellany. Notes.

The May number of Harper's promises to be very strong in its stories. Miss Woolson's story of "East Angels" grows in the strength of its study of characters as well as in interest as it proceeds; and "At the Red Glove," the anonymous story, illustrated from sketches made at Berne, the scene of the story, by Mr. Reinhart, draws to its close. The short stories include "Constance Royal," a strongly dramatic story told in three pages, by Jeanie Spring Peet; a humorous love story set forth in "Passages from the Diary of a Hong-Kong Merchant," by F. J. Stimson ("J. S. of Dale"); and a charming story by Lucy C Lillie, with a full-page illustration by C. D. Weldon.

The Nineteenth Annual Report of the Board of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church is before us; also we are under obligations to Dr. A. J. Kynett, corresponding secretary of the board for a file of the Annual Report.

The Black Death: An Account of the Great Pestilence of the Fourteenth Century. By J. F. C. Hecker. Price post-free, 15 cents. J. Fitzgerald, Publisher, 20 Lafayette Place, New York. This is the standard authority on the history of the Black Death, the most destructive pestilence that ever scourged the human race. Its victims are reckoned to have exceeded fifty millions of people. In China 13,000,000 are said to have died, and in the rest of the East nearly 24,000,000. In Europe, London alone lost over 100,000 souls, or considerably more than one half of its population; the proportionate loss of Italy was the same, about one half; and Germany is calculated to have lost one million and a quarter. On a moderate calculation, it may be assumed that the victims of the Black Death in Europe numbered 25,000,000.

The second part of "A Wild goose Chase," by Mr. Frank D. Millet, illustrated by the author, and Mr. R. Swain Gifford, will appear in Harper's for May.

The Electra is a monthly magazine of literature, published at Louisville, Ky.

Another of the charming illustrations to Wordsworth's scenes by Mr. Alfred Parsons will appear in the May Harper's The Pall Mall Gazette characterizes Mr. Parsons as now "the first landscape painter of England." He is still a young man, and is known to many Americans through the Damon and Pythias friendship between Mr E. A. Abbey and himself.

Littell's Living Age. The numbers of The Living Age for March 28 and April 4 contain The Poetry of Tennyson, and George Eliot, Contemporary; Hadrian's Address to his Soul, National Review; The Life of George Eliot. Fortnightly; Finland: a Rising Nationality, by Prince Kropotkin, Nineteenth Century; Clementina Sobieska, Temple Bar; The Trade of Ancient Egypt, Science Monthly; Nursing as a Fine Art, Lancet; Prisoners of War in England, Spinning-Wheels in New England, and The Seventh Century of the Temple Church, Saturday Review; Academic Belles Lettres, Some Turkish Proverbs, and The Dean of Wells on the Future Life, Spectator; with instalments of "A House Divided Against Itself," "Plain Francis Mowbray," "Mrs. Dymond" and the conclusion of "A Millionaire's Cousin." A New Volume begins with the number for April. For fifty-two No. of sixty-four pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4.00 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year, both post paid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

Mr. E. V. Smaller's first paper on the New Orleans Exposition will be printed in the May Century; with a number of pictures, mostly character sketches, by E. W. Kemble.

Cremation Scientifically and Religiously Considered. A pamphlet by Henry Houston Bonnell, 19 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

In this week's issue of The Current (April 18,) J. W. Compton describes in a most interesting manner "A Natural Stream of Tar"; Prof. David Swing writes on "Inferior Literature"; Mary Torrence has a delightful short story entitled "They Two"; James Beebe contributes "Some Shakespearean Literature"; Annie Aldrich writes upon Keats"; John McGovern has a paper entitled "A Plea for Curiosity"; the third chapter of Nelly Marshall McAfee's short serial, "The Abbot of Bernis," is given; J. W. Donovan writes entertainingly on "Lincoln as a Lawyer"; and Chapter XX of E. P. Roe's serial, "An Original Belle," is presented.

A fac-simile of a map prepared by General Gordon in Khartoom, and with notes in his handwriting, forms a feature of Science for April 10. General Stone, late of the Egyptian service, writes the descriptive text, and Colonel Prout, who served with Gordon, contributes an article upon his character as an officer, showing the misconception of those persons who have supposed him to be a mere enthusiast. "The Climate of the Soudan," by an officer of long experience, and the "Route from Suakim to Berber," are recent articles in pages of Science, the new scientific weekly. [$5 per year. 46 Bond Street, New York].

THE DEAD MUSICIAN.

BY M. L. DICKINSON.

Silence brooded over Music's temple;
Wand'ring went the soul of Song in sadness.
Searching, 'mid the world's discordant noises,
For a voice to echo heavenly voices
And the mystery of sound interpret.
Many comers clamored at the portal,
Many singers claimed the gift immortal;
But in ont'r courts their music dying,
Left the Temple's shadowy veil untrembling—
Left the altar's crystal lamps unlighted,
And the inner silence still unbroken.
One by one the deeper chords of Nature,
Thrilled by music, strove at faint responses;
But the winds sobbed only empty longings,
And the wild sea moaned its lack of utterance;
And the human tide of grief or passion
Beat in anguish 'gainst a voiceless prison.
But a strain of music broke the silence,
And a vision gleamed athwart the shadow;
And among the throng of listening mortals,
Maiden, ape stood forth with face transfigured,
Waiting for the passing of the searcher.
Those of old, who carved in whitest marble
Forms, to shrine the soul of Music,
Sought in vain her secret of possession,
Wherefore Music, thronged within the being,
Wrought thence outward, till each grace and beauty
Crystallizing to divine completeness,
Made a being of harmonious presence;
Made a statue wondrous in its sweetness,
Calm as sculptor's vision in her whiteness—
Marble pure and still, like frozen music,
Till some breath of loving inspiration
Swept her with its subtile, sweet vibration;
All the undulating air pulsating,
With a melody's mysterious flowing,
As her heart throbbed love, or pain, or prayer.
Then the fires within her deep eyes burning,
Scattered in the temple's aisles the shadows,
Set the fading altar fires a-glowing,
Flashing out to succor souls benighted.
Then her magic hand the white keys pressing,
With a touch of masterful caressing,
Drew from every chord its hidden blessing.
'Neath the spell of her interpretation
Nature's fettered winds and seas found voices;
Through their sighs brake undertone of praises,
And they sang where erst they moaned and mused
While I listened to this higher language,
Swift unfolding Gods eternal meanings,
In perplexing mysteries revealing
All the blessed harmonies long hidden—
Then I knew the temple had a priestess,
Then I knew the soul of Song had found her—
To his highest service snared and bound her;
Then I knew to her it had been given
Evermore to stand in sacred places,
And, veil-hidden from our lifted faces,
To translate the melodies of Heaven.
Now, although mine eyes have lost this vision,
Though my earthly sense no more may hear her,
Yet upon the quickened spirit clearer
Fall the melodies that bring her nearer;
And the echoes from her life Elysian—
Of grand harmonies that float around her—
Show me that she reigneth, calm and queenly.
As the moon dwells mong the stars serenely,
When the mighty soul of Song has crowned her.

Domestic Hygiene.

The Eyes, How Injured.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

It is seemingly useless to say that the eye is the most delicate organ of special sense in the entire body and yet many people treat the eyes with abuse as if they were cast iron, and could be at any time replaced. The eye is the organ of special sense of sight, and is in location and mechanism adapted perfectly to the necessities of an eye. Being located near the highest point of the head, it has a wider range of orison than the body. It is securely cased in a strong, bony socket, where it is fully protected from all ordinary blows or injuries not directly aimed at the organ from in front. It is so placed as to be most easily protected from cold, and at the same time be at all times ready for use.

In its mechanism it is so constructed that it can be instantly adapted to far or near sights, to ordinary light or darkness, to large or small objects, and equally examine them without pain. The eye is provided with muscles of such delicate workmanship as to astonish whoever examines, and yet these muscles are so strong as to keep in good service from four to five score years. Tear glands, or great reservoirs of water are provided to wash clean the eye-ball, so that dust and air mots shall not remain to obscure the sight. Eye-lashes are fringing the eye-lids to sift the air as well as maybe that comes to the eye-ball, and also to aid in toning down the too bright light that, falling on the eye would occasion a painful injury. The eye-brows shade the eye, as great beatling cliffs with the cheek-bones below, and nose at the side of the eye, stand as breakwaters at the mouth of a harbor to keep off the tempestous winds and surging waves, and so protect the eye from great injury.

The eye is liable to very great injury from various sonrces. The conjunctive or the delicate transparent membrane covering the entire exposed snrface of the eye and is reflected on to the inner surface of the eye-lids, may become congested and inflamed, and the inflammation be carried to granulations. This may be caused by a cold, by exposing the eye to a direct current of cold air, or it may follow a blow. The eye may be strained by reading too long at a time, or reading too fine print, or reading by a dim light, bnt especially by reading, sewing, or doing any fine work by twilight. Reading or working by a flickering light is injurious. It also greatly injures the eyes to read to any considerable extent on the cars while they are in motion. The injnry in this case arises from the continued attempt to adjust the eye to the print that is rapidly jostled abont by the motion of the cars. It is greatly injurions to the eyes to read when lying down, especially if one is resting on the side.

The eye is injured by snddon changes from a bright light to great darkness, or from intense darkness to light. If yon notice the pupil of the eye as it has become accustomed to the darkness, it is very much dilated. It must contract to endure light. Sudden contraction destroys muscular tonicity, or if the muscle fails to contract, such a flood of light is allowed to enter the eye and fall on the retina as to paralyze it, or deaden its sensibility, besides causing great pain. The eye is injured by having the side of the eye be a hot fire or flame of a lamp, and reading continned for a few minntes. I have tried the experiment on myself of sitting with the side of my eye within a foot of a bright, hot gasor oil light, and have fonnd the eye to be so congested next to the flame as to change its focus as compared with the opposite eye.

The eyes are injured by using them too continuonsly without resting. The eye mnst have rest or its delicate powers soon are blunted. It is advantageous, when working at anything requiring the close use of the eye, to raise it from the work occasionally tor a few moments. If the eye is held too near the object there is danger of contracting short sightedness. When one is recovering from any sickness too much reading is dangerons to the eyes.

Foreign bodies often find their way into the eye and canse suffering and sometimes disease. Sometimes these can be removed without the aid of a physician. In such cases raise the npper eyelid, if the foreign body be there, and with a fine camel's hair brush tonch the substance and it will generally be removed by it. If it cannot be removed readily in that way the safest plan is to consult a good physician. Even physicians may err as to the cause of a sore eye. To an eminent spectalist a child was brought who had been treated for some time for catarrhal inflammation of the eyes, which, under treatment, continued to grow worse. The physician, on turning back the upper eye-lid found a small bit of a cherry tree. As soon as this was removed the suffering was relieved and the eye recovered.

The following anecdote conveys its own lesson: "A self-tanght operator in a rural district of England became quite noted in his locality for curing strabismus or cross-eyes. A skillful surgeon, thinking to increase the qnack's ability and keep him from blunders, showed him a model of the eye and gave him a lecture on the model. After that the quack could never be persnaded to touch another eye."

The eye, while it remains well and with power to serve us, is a beautiful thing. It is clear, sparkling and intelligent. Bnt the eye when inflamed, swollen, and eyelids partly coated with thickening is an unsightly, painful, almost useless thing. Take care of the eyes.

Symposiums of the Weeklies.

The vexed colored question comes up in all aorts of shapes in this remarkable country of onrs. The members of the Harvard Alumni Aosociation are now confronted with the grave question—'Shall gentlemen of color become members?" To say "no" may have a bad effect upon the political prospects of some prominent members of the association; bnt to say "yes," is to give a serious blow to the social "tone" of the orgaization. One would think that a "gentleman of color," who has passed through Harvard along with his white brethren, and taken his degree from that advanced institution of learning, ought to be sufficiently intelligent and cultured to admit to the Alnmni Association without question. But it seems not.—Michigan Christian Advocate.

The unbelief of the present day is very largely represented in the literary class, and finds expression in the news-paper and periodical press to snch an extent as to create a false impression of the numbers affected by it.—Boston Watchman.

The SOUTHWESTERN ADVOCATE is very reliable, vigorous and newsy paper under its new management. It gives the best idea of what is being said and done by the colored Americans, of any news paper we read.—Clark University Elevator, Atlanta, Ga.

One town in Illinois, with a population containing 3,000 young men, on a recent Sunday had by actual count, one hnndred and forty young men in attendance at the Protestant churches in the morning, and one hundred and sixty-one in the evening. On the previous evening one hundred and five young men entered a single saloon in the city in only one hour, and there were thirty-six more saloons open at the same time.—The Liberator.

The following is the Bible Distribntion in Texas in Mareh, 1885, by nine Colporteurs of The American Bible Society: Days of service, 198; Miles travelled, 2,254; Families visited by them, 1,816; families fonnd without a Bible, 288; families supplied by gift or sale, 227; destitnte individuals supplied in addition, 171; nnmber of books sold, 1,001; value, $429,-05; number of books distributed by gift, 312; value $65,44; contributions received from churches and individuals, $20,67; returns were received from eight Anxiliary Socities. Donation of $25; in the Scriptnres to Hood county Bible Society. Two life members contribnted. The fourth general snpply is being vigoronsly carried on. Help is greatly needed. Contribntions may be sent to A. L. Taylor, Asst. Treas., Bible Honse, New York; or to W. B. Rankin, Dist. Supt., Austin, Texas.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every State should regnlate the sale and use of the many poisons resorted to by women in their desperation to obtain a beantiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injnring health or endangering life.

Patrick Murphy, of Putney, Vt., thirty-five, and a man of good habits, has died from the effects of drinking cider carried to mill in a tin pail, corroding the tin and acting on the system like lead poison.

Rain and melting snow caused great floods in the vicinity of Chester, Pa., Monday night, Feb. 9th. Dams were demolished, bridges carried away, and dwellings inundated to the second story.

Vitality of Great Men

Is not always innate or born with them but many instances are known where it has been acquired by the persistent and judicious use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

Threatening letters have been sent to Chief Justice Sumner Howard since the recent polygamy convictions in Utah.

Among the visitors to the Washington Monument have been several rats, who made the ascent to get the debris from the workman's lunches. Pigeons convert it into a roost at night,

WOMEN

Needing renewed strength, or who suffer from infirmities peculiar to their sex, should try

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

QUALITY P PURITY NOT QUANTITY. On Every Bottle. Trade Mark.

THE BEST TONIC

This medicine combines Iron with pure vegetable tonics, and is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It Enriches and Purifies the Blood, Stimulates the Appetite, Strengthens the Muscles and Nerves—in fact, thoroughly Invigorates.

Clears the complexion, and makes the skin smooth.

It does not blacken the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other Iron medicines do.

MRS. ELIZABETH BAIRD, 74 Farwell Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., says, under date of Dec. 26th, 1884:

"I have used Brown's Iron Bitters, and it has been more than a doctor to me, having cured me of the weakness ladies have in this. Also cured me of Liver Complaint, and now my complexion is clear and good. Has been beneficial to my children."

Genuine has crossed red trade mark and [illegible] lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

Pamphlet [illegible] mailed free. Sold by all druggists. [illegible] about [illegible] mailed by any address on receipt of 2c. stamp.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.

Sixty Addresses by American Educators.

Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.

8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Panperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884

In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings!

One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,

E. A. BURKE, Director General,
New Orleans, La.

The Ministers' and Teachers' Bible.

This magnificent Parlor Bible is imported from London and is indorsed as the finest by the leading Bishops of England. In addition to the Old and New Testaments it contains a Concordance of Bible Words! 40,000 References with Context! An Encyclopædia. A Dictionary of Proper Names, with Pronunciation, 12 full page colored Maps. Poetry, Music, Etimology, Plants, Animals, and Jewish sects of the Bible, etc. "Superior to all others."—N. Y. Times. "A complete Biblical Encyclopædia."—London Times. This Bible is bound in French morocco, gilt edge, with silk book-mark, and has colotour references. Rev. Eli Milton, Norwalk, O., writes: "The Bibles received to-day, I am more than pleased." A special offer! To rapidly introdnce this Bible in America we will, for a limited time only, send one copy, post-paid, to any address on receipt of only $2.00! Five copies and one copy of Revised New Testament for $8.00! Other Bibles, with less matter, sell for $15. Order at once. AGENTS WANTED! Circulars FREE.

$2.00

C. S. MAYO & CO., 160 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

jan31-26teow

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured!! Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

feb26-13t

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success

J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.

jan22 26t

PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK.

No preparation and only a common pen needed. Established 50 Years. Superior and popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial Medal & Diploma. Sold everywhere.

jan29-26t-new

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jefferson, W[illegible]

mar5-[illegible]

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4. Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 75 p m
Arrive Newport Newe	10 45 a m	0 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3, Daily.	No. 1, ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	7 45 a m	0 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 20 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond

No 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport Newe 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of O. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—

Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, New York and the East,

In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

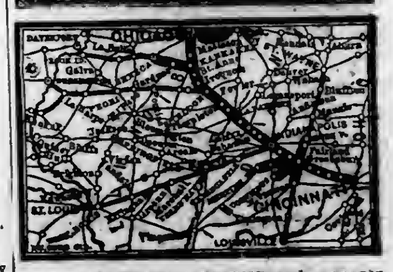
The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives.
Express	3:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	3:20 p m	7:30 p m



Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. O. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Kniskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.

a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, O. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav. Pass. Ag't., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
J Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No.3..[illegible]
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5. 8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.

J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom. Daily ex Sunday
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	0 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 30 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY.
Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL,
Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great Tropical and Polar Explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Pict. Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

feb19-13t

General News Items.

Louisville population is given at 152,137.

Louisville has only 818 licensed saloons.

The Presbyterian ministers of Pittsburg protest against skating rinks.

At Rye, England, lately, a child was frightened to death by a boy wearing a mask.

There are 150 tradesmen in Paris who deal in nothing but old postage stamps.

It requires $1,800 worth of quinine a month to keep the French troops in Tonquin in health.

An acre of land sunk thirty feet recently, on the farm of Jackson Miller at Burlington, Vt.

John W. Jackson, of North Haverhill, raised ninety bushels of corn to the acre last season.

A young lady worth $225,000 in her own right has recently eloped with a skating rink professor.

During a five weeks session the Pennsylvania Legislature has passed one bill, and that has failed to become a law.

In the State of New York it has been discovered that there is no statute and no penalty against women voting.

The Government has given Newport, R. I., Fort Greene, comprising 20,000 feet of land, to be used as a park.

Canada has 2,259 telegraph offices, one to every 1,914 persons, which is the largest proportion given for any country.

French paper-makers have begun to use hop vine fibre, and call it the best substitute for rags yet discovered.

There seems to be trouble ahead in the United Brothers of Friendship of the United States, if an adjustment is not reached soon.

The California papers chronicle a remarkable yield of honey gathered in an apiary near Riverside. The yield was thirty-three hives with seven and a half tons; or 44 pounds to a hive.

Interest in lemon-growing is increasing in Florida, and some people predict that in a few years it will receive more attention than the orange.

Nervousness.

The moment there is danger of impairment of the mind from excessive nervous exhaustion, or where there exists forebodings of evil, a desire for solitude, shunning and avoiding company, vertigo and nervous debility, or when insanity has already taken place, PERUNA and MANALIN should be implicitly relied on. But it is never well to wait so long before treatment is commenced. The early symptoms are loss of strength, softness of the muscles, dim or weak sight, peculiar expression of the face and eyes, coated tongue, with impaired digestion; or in others, certain powers only are lost while they are otherwise enjoying comparatively good health. In all these PERUNA and MANALIN should at once be taken.

Miss S. Smith, Hillsville, Lawrence County, Pa., writes: "DR. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, O.: I have been a great sufferer for ten years. It seemed as though every organ in my body was diseased at one time or another. I had about given up all hopes, when I commenced taking PERUNA and MANALIN. I immediately began to improve, the soreness and pain disappeared, strength gradually returned, and now I am as well as ever in my life, and I owe it all to your PERUNA and MANALIN. I recommended it to my friends and it gives better satisfaction than any other medicine I ever heard of."

Miss Maria Roderick, Warren, Ohio, writes: "It is with pleasure and many thanks that I write to you to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of the PERUNA. I have used several bottles of your PERUNA, and can safely say it has done me a great deal of good. I have improved ever since I commenced its use."

Mr. T. J. Webber, Plymouth, O., writes: "I am selling your PERUNA, and having a good trade on it. It gives excellent satisfaction."

Mr. Thomas Acton, Brooklyn Village, Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I received a severe wound in my foot by tramping on a spike. It inflamed and was painful and swollen. I had every reason to fear lockjaw. Your simple suggestions as to local applications and the taking of your PERUNA and MANALIN were followed to the letter, and, thanks to you, my foot is entirely well, and I am happy."

MILLERS and FARMERS send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro., Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga.

may22-1y

WANTED A WOMAN of good character and respectability for our business in her locality. $1000 and upwards guaranteed. SALARY $65 to $250. Expenses advanced. CAY BROS., 14 Barclay St., N. Y.

mar19-8t

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? Or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no douching or snuffing; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours at a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Delsea, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES.

Joseph Bowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. R. Lyman,	U. Marisoni,	Chas. H. Delsea,	John Calder,	A. H. Steward
S. O. Coulon,	Harry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucian Defery,	Charles Meerman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
R. F. W. Beckman,	O. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rosenfeld,	John D. Fishe
Chas E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South.

oct9 1y

BURPEE'S SEEDS ARE WARRANTED FARM ANNUAL FOR 1885

W. ATLEE BURPEE & CO., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

feb5-6teow

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain

FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompained by subscription price.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

feb19-26t

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30-52t

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m, Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 36 Natchez Street.

LAFAYETTE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday Services—Prayer-meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 8 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night, at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month; at 7.30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Prieur streets, Rev. A. J. Klein, pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 2 p m. Prayer-meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street, Rev. Claudius Schuler, pastor. Services: Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 p m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Varnet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 8:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. R. C. Barrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a. m., 3 p. m. 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 43 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Rendide and Coydras, Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services Sunday 6 a m, prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laural and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Pine street Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m, 3 and 7 p. m, Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m, and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University, A. F. Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. T. G. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W Hudson, pastor. Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Foot street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

CATARRH

{Send 50 cts. and symptoms for Trial Treatment, to last 20 days, by mail post-paid. Which will convince the most incredulous that Dr. Brockington positively and permanently cures at small expense, by a pleasant treatment, the worst cases of Catarrh, though the bones of the nose have become affected, causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption. No Snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Over 7000 cases cured. The best internal treatment ever discovered for this dangerous disease. Address DR. C. M. BROCKINGTON, [Mention this paper.] 389 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

oct2-1yr

Guizot's CELEBRATED ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF France

REDUCED IN COST from $33.00 to $8.00, or comparing contents fairly, from $49.50 to $8.00, for the only other American edition of GUIZOT comes down TO The French Revolution, only, and is continued to Napoleon III. by MARTIN, and $49.50 is the published price of the two works. THIS ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY EDITION covers from the earliest times to 1848, is written by M. GUIZOT, Prime Minister of France, and completed from his notes by his daughter, Madame GUIZOT DE WITT. It is published in 8 volumes, small octavo, printed from the type shown by these lines, contains the 426 Illustrations, mostly full-page, of the imported edition, is bound in tasteful Library style, dark green cloth, beveled boards, gilt tops. Price of the set, only $8.00 by express, or, sent prepaid for $9.60.

"There is only ONE DRAWBACK. . . it seems more like getting a present than making a purchase. Guizot is the most brilliant of French historians, as well as the most to be relied upon. He is the Macaulay of the history of France; his style and treatment are philosophical, didactic, rich in detail, dramatic in arrangement. His narrative is full of emotion, like a quick stream; his characters rise before us as in the flesh; they are men and women, not historic lay figures. It is as charming as any romance, and the interest is permanent. It is a work to keep and read and re-read for years."—Dominion Churchman, Toronto, Canada.

"In ENGLISH, at least, original or translated, we have NO WORK of French history that CAN APPROACH IT. We can name no work that gives the complete history, and gives it from the pen of a master, that can be thought of as a rival to the mammoth production of Guizot. How Mr. Alden can give the eight volumes, and this on good paper, and clear type, including the multitude of illustrations, is a thing we have CIPHERED over, but we fail to understand it. The first volume gives substantially the beginnings of French history. It is of necessity the dullest of the eight, yet with Guizot even logarithms would be readable."—Christian Leader, Boston, Mass.

"The MARVELOUS CHEAPNESS of these profusely illustrated and handsomely bound volumes must provoke comment everywhere. Each volume is easily worth $2.00, according to the standard of prices asked. This is the only complete American edition of this work, which is known as the best popular history of France."—Journal, Indianapolis, Ind.

"In the reproduction of this work the publisher has outdone all previous efforts, and has given us a MARVEL of EXCELLENCE, in every respect, at a marvel of cheapness."—Christian at Work, New York.

Hundred-Page Catalogue, free, descriptive of the best books of the world, at the lowest prices ever known, together with terms upon which books are sent for examination before payment, to any one on application. Address, and make checks, drafts, or money orders, payable to JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, P. O. Box, 1227. 393 Pearl Street, New York.

COUPON—50 CENTS. This Coupon, together with 50 in cash, will be received, if sent within 10 days from the date of paper in which it appears (mention name of paper), in full payment for GUIZOT'S FRANCE above described. This small extra payment is simply to secure your largest response, and indicate the advertising mediums from which responses come.

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
26 inches	175 lbs	325 lbs	$45 00
28 "	225 lbs	375 lbs	55 00
32 "	300 lbs	550 lbs	80 00
36 "	450 lbs	800 lbs	125 00
40 "	700 lbs	1050 lbs	160 00
44 "	1000 lbs	1350 lbs	200 00
48 "	1300 lbs	1800 lbs	300 00
54 "	2400 lbs	2900 lbs	460 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	100 lbs	$13 00
20 inches	130 lbs	18 00
24 inches	180 lbs	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.

mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N. Y.

nov23-1yr

McShane Bell Foundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address

HENRY McSHANE & CO.

Baltimore, Md.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY

SUCCESSORS IN BELLS TO THE

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.

CATALOGUE 1500 TESTIMONIALS;

THE CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO

CHURCH BELLS, CHIMES, PEALS, FINE ALARMS, &c.

jun28-26teow

OUR CLUBBING LIST,

—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

JEWETT'S FILTERS.

BEWARE! OF IMPURE WATER

Jewett's Patent Filters, with filling of prepared charcoal, render water clear, pure, and healthful, for drinking and cooking purposes. These filters have stood the test of one-third of a century, and have a world-wide reputation as the one only reliable filter.

A 16-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett & Sons, BUFFALO, N. Y.

feb19 3t

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramp Colic and all bowel affections, and removing the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK" for the health of home and amusement of the little ones.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

apr23 y

NOW, NOW, NOW IS THE TIME: SPRING TIME!

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD,

DR. J. H. McLEAN'S

Strengthening Cordial AND BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the greatest Blood Purifier in the world.

TRY IT, AND YOU WILL USE IT EVERY SEASON.

It acts as delightfully on the tender Babe, the most delicate Lady and infirm old age, as on the strong man, in imparting Health and Vigor to Nerves and Brain, Blood Vessels, Heart and Liver. When taken, you can feel its life-giving power course through every artery, destroying all diseases of the Blood, and giving Health, Vital Power and Strength to every part of the body. Who will suffer from Liver Complaint or Diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, or Bladder, when such a great Remedy is within their reach?

IT WILL CURE:

Sleeplessness, Night Sweats, Sallow Complexion, Hot Flushes, Fainting Spells, Nervousness, Failing Eyesight caused by Weakness, Dyspepsia, Hectic Flushes, Scalding Hot Urine, Brick Dust Deposit, Frothy Urine, Uterine Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Bad Blood, Biliousness, Pimples, Loss of Memory, Feverish Skin, Sluggish Circulation, Cold Feet and Hands, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Obstinate Constipation, Heart Troubles, Bladder Fever, Diarrhœa or Bloody Flux, Lung and Liver Diseases, Kidney Troubles, Weak Back, Neuralgia, Pains in Bones, Sick Stomach, Depression, Blues, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness, Pimples, Sores and Blotches on the Face and Skin, Colic Pains.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.

DEAR SIR:—Having been troubled with Female Complaint for some time, by the advice of a St. Louis lady, I tried Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and am happy to say that it has cured me completely, and I am as well now as ever. I consider it the best medicine for that purpose in the world.

MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKS.

G. W. Nowlin, Greenfield, Tenn., writes:—Send me another supply of Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It gives such satisfaction and sells so well here that we are unable to keep a supply on hand.

Mingeville, Mo., Jan. 4th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis Mo.

DEAR SIR:—I look upon your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier as the finest medicine in the market. I use it in my family and all my customers speak of it in the highest terms. I would not be without it in the house if it cost ten dollars a bottle.

Yours truly, JOSEPH W. MINGS.

John O. K. White, San Angelo, Texas, says:—Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is the most rapid selling medicine we have here. It is used by all classes with the happiest result.

Dr. Fonda, of Jefferson, Cook County, Ills., writes:—I have used Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier in my practice for years without a single instance of its failure. For Female Complaints I consider it unequalled, being rapid and certain in its action.

From Mess. R. W. Mackie & Son, Yadkinville, N. Carolina:—Your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is in great demand. It gives universal satisfaction and is almost as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.

Leroy, Minn., March 6th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.

DEAR SIR:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic diarrhœa and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been as well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.

Yours truly, HAST. MERCHELL.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a Never-Failing Remedy, and Can Be Relied on.

$1.00 PER BOTTLE. SIX BOTTLES, $5.00.

Dr. J. H. McLEAN, S. E. Corner Broadway and Biddle Street, St. Louis, Mo.

jan1-6m

LISTEN!

WRITE TO US TODAY AND LET US CURE YOU

ELECTRICITY & MEDICINE COMBINED

Have you a mind of your own?

If so, listen to us just a moment. You are not enjoying good health; you have tried internal medicine, and you are not well yet. Now, why will you not put prejudice aside, and try our treatment? We will send you, on trial, one of our ELECTRO-MEDICATED APPLIANCES to suit your case, provided you agree to pay for it, if it cures you in one month. If it does not cure you, it costs you nothing. Is not this a fair offer?

Different Appliances to cure DYSPEPSIA, RHEUMATISM, LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES, PILES, LUNG DISEASES, ASTHMA, CATARRH, LAME BACK, AGUE, DEBILITY, and many other Diseases. Remember, we do not ask you to buy them, blindly; but merely to try them, at our risk. 125,000 Cures made during 1884, in cases where all other treatments had failed. PRICE VERY LOW. Illustrated book, giving full particulars, and Blank for statement of your case, sent free. Address, at once, ELECTRIC PAD M'F'G CO., 564 State Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

AGENTS WANTED.

apr23-2teow

Established 1857.

The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, softest cheapest & Best light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A Liberal discount to churches and the trade. Don't be deceived by cheap imitations.

I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl St., N. Y.

aug22-20t sow

CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL

Beautifying the Complexion, Preserving and Restoring the Hair, Eradicating Dandruff, Curing Humors, Eruptions, Sunburn, Blotches, &c.

CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL.—It is the best preparation for the skin that I ever used. I now use no other. CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.—I give the preference to CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL, as it is the best of them all. CHARLOTTE THOMPSON.—I consider CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL the most reliable preparation for the skin. ADELINA PATTI.—I have used CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL, and find it all that is claimed for it. EMMA ABBOTT.—CHAMPLIN'S LIQUID PEARL has been used by the ladies of all countries who have the highest marks of appreciation. Only 50 cents a bottle. Sold by druggists and Perfumers, or sent by mail. CHAMPLIN CO., Prop's, BOSTON, MASS.

dec28 26teow

FITS

A Leading London Physician Establishes an Office in New York.

FROM AM. JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

"Dr. Ab Meserole, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any other living physician. His success has simply been astonishing; we have heard of cases of over 20 years standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. Give P. O. and Express address to Dr. AB. MESEROLE, No. 96 John Street, New York.

feb6-13

BARNES' Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business, Lathes for Wood or Metal, Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List free. JOHN BARNES, No. 187 Ruby St. Rockford, Ill.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co.
106 Wall Street, N. Y.
ly

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES, A. D 60-61 LESSON III. April 19. Acts xxviii, 1 15, Paul going to Rome. Golden Text, 28, 15.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Paul at Rome; Acts 28, 16-31.
Tu.—Simeon's prophecy; Luke 2, 25 39.
W.—Christ expounds the Scriptures.
Th.—Isaiah's vision; Isaiah 6, 1-13.
F.—Deaf and blind to Christ; Matt. 13. 13 23
Sat.—Salvation of the Gentiles predicted; Isa. 45, 14-25.
Sun.—The only salvation; Acts 4, 5 12.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. Paul to the Jews, v. 16-27.
What special favor was shown Paul?
Whom did Paul invite to meet him?
Of what did he declare his innocense?
For what was he bound?
What reply did the Jews make?
What did Paul do at the next meeting?
How did the Jews receive the word?
Whom did Paul quote to them?
2. Paul to the Gentiles, v. 28 31.
To whom was the Gospel therefore sent?
How would the Gentiles receive it?
What did the Jews then do?
How long did Paul continue in Rome?
How was his time employed?
Why was he not forbidden to preach?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

How does this lesson show—
1. Paul's eagerness to preach the Gospel?
2. That men are to blame for their rejection?
3. That God opens the way for his workers?

Doctrinal Suggestions—Personal responsibility.

Helps Him to Preach.

Rev. Philander Perry, pastor Baptist church, Coldbrook, Mass., writes: "After the best medical treatment had failed, Brown's Tonic cured me of dangerous [illegible] of the stomach and liver, from which I had suffered intensely. It has no rival. Hard-worked clergymen who feel dull and overtaxed."

Marriages.

Mr. Allen Thomas and Miss Josephine Prime were married at the residence of the bride, in Rosedale, La., April 9, 1885,
GEO. W. WELLS.

Home is woman's domain, and she is entitled to everything that can add to its comfort and spare her annoyance. "The STRENBERGER FOLDING DRESS PILLOW" is one of the many conveniences which materially lighten the labor and burdens of the housewife. An advertisement in another column gives full details in regard to this favorite article, which is meeting with such remarkable sale wherever it is introduced.

Obituary.

Mrs. Drew Lillard died in Murfreesboro, Tenn., March 6, 1885. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Jennie Hall departed this life March 24, 1885, in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Works, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., died March 26, 1885.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
July 17-1y.

The Homiletic Pulpit (monthly) contains the sermons of Waldo [illegible]

Conference Notices.

Notice.

All the pastors and the Sunday-school superintendents of the Baton Rouge District will please commence at once to push the canvass on our district to help raise a million dollars for our missions this conference year.
STEPHEN PRIESTLEY, P. E.

Baton Rouge District—Louisiana Conference.

Second Round.

Clinton	May	21
Macadonia	"	23-24
Comite	"	24-25
Mt. Carmel	"	26
Wesley Chapel	"	28
State Line	"	30-31
Jackson	June	2
Norwood and Sweet Home	"	4- 5
The Plains	"	6- 7
Mt. Pleasant	"	7
Dutch Store	"	13-14
East Baton Rouge	"	15
Myrtle Grove	"	17-18
Stoney Point	"	19
Wesley Chapel	"	20
Silver Creek	"	21
West Baton Rouge	"	23-24
Rosedale and New Roads	"	26-27
Musson and Shiloh	"	28
Plaquemines	"	29
Lake Providence	July	3- 5
Union Chapel	"	8- 9
Bayoo Lotsworth	"	11-12

The pastors of the Baton Rouge District will please see that the Episcopal and the benevolent collections are taken up previous to the third quarter.
STEPHEN PRIESTLEY, P. E.

Indiana District—Lexington Conference.

First Round.

Indianapolis, Ind	April	18-19
Jeffersonville, Ind	"	25-26
Watson, Ind	May	2- 3
Rockport, Ind	"	9-14
Evansville, Ind	"	16-17
Princeton, Ind	"	23 24
Lawrenceville, Ill	"	30-31
Greensburg, Ind	June	6- 7
Terre Haute, Ind	"	13 14
Vincennes, Ind	"	20-21
Paris, Ohio	"	27-28
Shelbyville, Ind	July	4- 5
Connersville, Ind	"	11-12
Madison, Ind	"	25-26

Brethren, in order that we shall be fully equipped we must needs be good and true preachers of the Gospel of Christ and have the work at heart. We must labor in the people, and look after the children, and attend to the benevolent collections. Dear brethren, we are co-laborers together, you will do your part, I believe, and I will try to do mine,
CHAS. JONES, P. E.

Bowling Green District—Lexington Conference.

First Round.

Hartford	Apr.	25-25
Morgantown	"	28-29
Greenville	May	2- 3
Gum Springs	"	5- 6
Dulaney	"	9-10
Rolling Mills	"	12-13
Eddyville	"	16-17
River Bend	"	18-19
Smithland	"	23-24
Lonisport	"	27-28
Hawesville	"	30-31
Cloverport	June	6- 7
Poole	"	8
Germantown	"	9
Rhodes	"	10
Hardenburg	"	13-14
Bewlysville	"	15
Bowling Green	"	20-21
Franklin	"	22-23
Louisburg	"	24 25
Auborn	"	27-28
Barneyville	"	29 30
Cave City	July	4- 5
Senora	"	6

Second Round.

Litchfield	July	11-12
Morgantown	"	13-14
Hartford	"	18-19
Greenville	"	25 26

District Conference at Eddyville, Ky., July 31 to Aug. 3.

River Bend	Aug.	5
Smithland	"	8- 9
Lonisport	"	13-14
Hawesville	"	15-16
Cloversport	"	22-23
Poole	"	24
Germantown	"	25
Rhodes	"	26
Hardensburg	"	29-30
Bowlysville	"	31
Bowling Green	Sept.	5- 6
Franklin	"	7- 8
Louisburg	"	9-10
Auburn	"	12-13
Barneysville	"	14-15
Cave City	"	19-20
Senora	"	21
Litchfield	"	26-27

Third Round.

Hartford	Oct.	3- 4
Morgantown	"	6- 7
Greenville	"	10-11
Green Springs	"	12-13
Dulaney	"	17-18
Rolling Mills	"	21-22
Eddyville	"	24-25
River Bend	"	26 27
Smithland	Oct. 31, Nov.	1
Lonisport	"	4- 5
Hawesville	"	7- 8
Cloversport	"	14-15
Poole	"	16
Germantown	"	17
Rhodes	"	18
Hardensburg	"	21-22
Bewleyville	"	23
Cave City	"	28-29
Franklin	Dec.	1- 2
Louisburg	"	3
Bowling Green	"	5- 6
Auburn	"	12-13
Senora	"	14
Barneyville	"	15

Fourth Round.

Litchfield	Dec.	19-20
Morgantown	"	21-22
Hartford	"	26-27

ABRAHAM BOOKER, P. E.

Programme

Of the first session of the Gulf District, Mississippi Conference, to be held at Moss Point, Miss., April 23, 1885:
Education—S. H. Nevils.
Freedmen's Aid—J. H. Cook.
Church Extension—H. May.
Class Meetings—J. Drayden.
Sunday-school Union—J. Ford.
Circulation of Religious Tracts—D. F. Dudley.
Long Prayer—R. Ronndtree.
Singing—J. H. Dale.
What Right have Infants to be Baptized?—G. W. Smith.
Falling from Grace—J. K Comfort.
Observing the Sabbath—W. H. M. Mims.
Doty of Local Preachers—W. H. McCarty
External Evidence—H. L. Kennedy.
Internal Evidence—W. McDonald.
Holiness of God—E. Harris.
The Attributes of God—O. Gillespie.
Church Building—C. P. Head.
Missions—N. Cannon.

All local preachers are expected to select their own topics.
N. CANNON,
H. L. KENNEDY
J. H. COOK,
Committee.

Ohio District—Lexington Conference.

First Round.

Troy	Apr.	26-27
Dayton ct	"	28
Marion ct, at Marion	"	29-30
Oberlin	May	2- 3
Cleveland ct, at Cleveland	"	3- 4
Cadiz Circuit, at Georgetown	"	6 7
Steubenville	"	9-10
Flushing ct, at Flushing	"	13-14
Mt. Pleasant ct, at Mt. Pleasant	"	16 17
Bellaire	"	18
Portsmouth ct, at Portsmouth	"	20-21
Louisa ct, at Lonisa	"	23 24
Ironton ct, at Ironton	"	25-26
Covington	"	30-31
Maysville	June	6- 7
Aberdeen ct, at Aberdeen	"	7- 8
Maysilok ct, at North Fork	"	9 10
Cincinnati	"	13-15
Augusta	"	20-21

JOSEPH COURTNEY.
70 East Fifth st., Covington, Ky.

Central Alabama Conference.

I wish to hereby notify the brethren, that the district conference of the Huntsville district, will convene in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Decatur, Alabama, April 16, 1885, at 9 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. A. Nichols, pastor in charge at Triana. All brethren that have not received programmes will please select their own subjects, and come prepared.
M. M. McKINNEY, Sec'y.

Gulf District—Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Crystal Springs	May	2 3
New Hope	"	4- 5
Union Church	"	9 10
Fayette circuit	"	11
Fayette station	"	12-13
Hamburg and Meadville	"	14-15
Liberty	"	16 17
China Grove	"	21
Columbia	"	23 24
Spring Chapel	"	25 26
Hillsdale	"	27
Hattisburg and Vernil	"	28-29
Bay St. Louis & Pass Christian	"	30-31
Moss Point	June	1- 2
Handsboro and Ocean Springs	"	6- 7
Brookhaven and Hazlehurst	"	13-14
Summit and Magnolia	"	20 21
Georgetown	"	27-28

Brethren of the Gulf District, collect all the money you can for the Episcopal fund that has been apportioned to each charge, so I can forward it to the treasurer.
W. McDONALD, P. E.

There is a wide-spread and serious prevalence of disorders of the kidneys: and of various diseases caused by the imperfect operation of the kidneys and liver. According to Roberts, Thompson, and other recognized authorities, kidney disorders are very common, but the obscurity of their positive symptoms is so marked that many people, ill and out of sorts generally, are reall victims of kidney complaint, and they and their physician do not realize it. Rheumatic pains, irregular appetite, frequent headache, chills and fever "blues," hot and dry skin sour stomach, dyspepsia, irregular action of the bowels, nervous irritability, muscular soreness, cramps, languor, impairment of memory, loss of virility, are among the preliminary evidences of coming kidney and liver derangements. As the disease develops then follow lame back, swelling ankles, pale face, scalding sensations, the water sometimes being very light, and abundant, at others scarce, dark-colored and frothy, and abounding in sediment, and, under the microscope, in albumen and tube casts. If the deranged kidneys are not promptly attended to there is danger of the terrible Bright's Disease—hitherto considered incurable, which is a consumption or destruction of the kidneys, the near approach of which alarming disorder should awaken the liveliest concern, for it soon hurries one into the grave unless promptly checked.

Disordered kidneys have the unfortunate effect also of weakening the vigor of the liver, as indicated if one has, besides the above symptoms, yellow spotted skin, fat covered eye-balls, frontal headache after eating, burning and itching skin, cold extremities, hot head, bad circulation of blood, sick headache, nausea, light colored evacuations, constipation, piles, variable appetite and feelings, dizziness, blurred eyesight, liver-congh, agoe, chills, fevers, wakefulness at night, drowsiness by day, etc.

These are some of the commouer symptoms as laid down by leading medical authorities, and with them in view one ought not to have much tronble in ascertaining if he is suffering from disorders of these great organs.

These observations have been called forth by a double-column article which appears in another place in this paper. Skeptical of some of the statements made therein, and at other times by the same persons, we have been led to make a little study of the matter ourselves, with the above result These diseases prevail amongst yonng and old everywhere, resultidg in terrible and ontimely deaths; they take off more people than epidemics; physicians report death as occurring from such diseases as apoplexy, paralysis, convulsions, heart disease, pnonmonia, fevers, etc., when in reality these disorders are often secondary to Bright's disease and would seldom occur were the kidneys in healthy working condition. Hence from personal knowledge, or from the trnstworthy experience of other competent judges, we believe there is no preparation equal to the ren edy that is so prominently mentioned elsewhere in this issue, for preventing and curing the dangerous disorders of which we have written. It has an extraordinary sale, is everywhere commended, the record of its work seems indisputable, its manufacturers are reputed to be men of the highest standing. We hold therefore, that, not to use it, if needed, would be a crime against one's supremest interests, especially at this time when throatened by a fearful epidemic, it is of the highest importance. According to Dr. Koch, the celebrated German cholera specialist, that we keep the kidneys, liver and digestive organs in healthy action, if the scourge would be escaped.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE,
April 18, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 9½@—; Middling 10½@—; Good Middling, 10½@—; Middling fair, 11.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5½@5¾; White clarified, 5¾@5¾; Common 4½@4¾c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4½@4½ fair, 5½@5¾; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8½; prime, 10½.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@9.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.55.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 5.90; Choice, 4.90; Family, —@—.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7½.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 70c.; Fine, 90c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $1.90@; sweet potatoes, $3@$3.25 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $5.00@5.25; apples, ℔ bbl. $2.50@$4.00; cabbages, $3.25@$3 50 per crate; sour krout, $4.50@7 50 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $13.25.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 5@—; sides, short rib, 7½; sides, long clear, 7; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6½; clear sides, 6½; shoulders, 4.5@4.6.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; younng $3,00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@$5; turkeys $12.@15.00.

Western Eggs 12@13c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 12½@13½c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 60@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $1.50@$5.00 ℔ dozeu; young do. $3.00@3.50; dnoks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5.00, turkeys $20.00@24.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 60; white, 60; mixed, 58.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 47@48.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, $1.20.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fesone	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

We have before us the Annual Report of the Louisiana Educational Society as presented at a meeting held at Tulane hall, Dec. 8, 1884.

A physician in a southern city writes that he had tried some of the foods highly praised in the medical journals for his own infant, and though some were better than others, none were right in their action upon the bowels. The little one pined, and they had almost despaired of its life, when the little one at once improved and perfect action of the bowels resulted. Ridge's Food is put up in cans, four sizes, at 35c. and upward. Sold by druggists. Woolrich & Co., en Babel.

G. P. PUTNAN'S SONS,
17 & 29 West 2d St., New York.
Have now ready
The History of the Negro Race in America.
From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens,
Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Government of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R., of Ohio.
Popular Edition; two volumes in one, large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.
"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it.—World, New York.
"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.
"He has accomplished a noble service for his race."—Zion's Herald, Boston.
☞ This book can be ordered through the office of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, New Orleans, La.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!
A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.
Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3 60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.
FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.
MRS. TENA BURTON,
100.....Franklin Street.....100
Lodging,
With or Without Board.
mar26-6m

E. W. Scheffel,
GENERAL
Book-Binder,
Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.
37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.
Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22-1

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment,"
"Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1yeow

Hunt's Kidney & Liver Remedy
Never Known To Fail.
CURES ALL DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS LIVER BLADDER AND URINARY ORGANS DROPSY GRAVEL DIABETES BRIGHT'S DISEASE PAINS IN THE BACK LOINS OR SIDE NERVOUS DISEASES RETENTION OR NON-RETENTION OF URINE.
By the use of this REMEDY, the Stomach and Bowels speedily regain their strength, and the blood is purified.
It is pronounced by hundreds of the best doctors to be the ONLY CURE for all kinds of Kidney Diseases.
It is purely vegetable, and cures when other medicines fail.
It is prepared expressly for these diseases, and has never been known to fail. One trial will convince you. For sale by all druggists.
PRICE $1.25.
Send for Pamphlet of Testimonials.
HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES
New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.
They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.
Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo. as sample, or a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,
GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE,
For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
ma-513t

THE NEW CORSET.
THE TRICORA RELIEF
Sample Pair mailed free for $1.00
Price $1.00
Ask for it
Having elastic side sections, adapts itself to the various positions of the body in stooping, sitting & reclining. It affords great relief and comfort to the many who find ordinary Corsets oppressive. The "TRICORA" stays used for boning are unequaled for durability & comfortable support, & are absolutely unbreakable.
{The most Durable, Comfortable, and Healthful Corset and sold for its price.}
Every pair warranted to give satisfaction or money returned.
J. S. FITZPATRICK & CO., Mfrs.,
71 Leonard Street, NEW YORK.
Please mention this paper in ordering.
ap123 4teow

GET A BEAUTIFUL TIN-TYPE
Of Yourself for 25 Cents,
AT THE
World's Centennial Tin-Type Gallery,
No. 12 EXCHANGE PLACE,
(Three Doors from Canal)
GROTESQUE CARICATURES
A Feature in itself. 25 Cents Each.
[Patent Right secured for the city of New Orleans]
VIGNETTE CAMEOS,
For Lockets, Pins and Velvet Cases, $1.
jan22-3m

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.
293.....Rampart Street.....293
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

Pianos & Organs
Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address
JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress,
1861—1881,
by James G. Blaine.
Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read it to the end." Agents make from $75 to $100 per week. Address
The Henry Bill Pub. Co.,
Norwich, Conn.
apr9 tf

AGENTS COIN MONEY who sell Dr. CHASE'S FAMILY PHYSICIAN. Price $2.00. Write for Circular. Address, A. W. HAMILTON & Co., Ann Arbor, Mich.
jan29-3m

CHRISTIAN
MEN and WOMEN are Wanted
AS AGENTS
For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the
JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.
4 vols, nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.
Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.
Jerome B. Names & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.
The work is heartily recommended.
mar5-39t

J. L. WIMBY & CO.,
GENERAL
Commission Merchants
—AND—
Cotton Factors.
180 Common Street, [Room 4 Kenner Block]
[P. O. Box 2415] New Orleans, La.
Particular attention paid to the ☞ Purchase of Supplies.
All orders will be filled to the exact amount of cash sent or produce assigned.
Remit money by Postal Order, Registered Letter or draft.
All letters of inquiry must enclose stamp for return postage. jan15-3m

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.
By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.
WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.
Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.
Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L Bibolet, Manager,)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
20.....Toulouse Street,.....20
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.
☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown
365 Chippewa Street,
NEW ORLEANS LA.
OFFICE } From 8 to 10 a. m.
HOURS } and 2 to 4 p. m. mar19-3m

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov22-1y

HEADQUARTERS
—FOR—
Sunday-school Supplies
Consisting of
GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.
Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.
Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tinted Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock
W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94..... Camp Street, ...94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL MUSIC BOOKS.
HEAVENLY VOICES.
Just out! Entirely new! The very book you want for your Sunday-School. Contains the richest and most beautiful songs ever collected in one volume. Send for sample copy before buying.
SABBATH BELLS.
The finest collection of Sunday songs yet published. Thousands of copies have been sold during the past 12 mos. It is full of gems. Will mail to any part of the world a sample copy of either Heavenly Voices or Sabbath Bells, upon receipt of 20c. or both for 35c.
FIRESIDE-FRIEND PUB. CO., NEW CARLISLE, O
ap 3 21t

TO HAVE HEALTH THE LIVER MUST BE IN ORDER.
DR. SANFORD'S
LIVER
INVIGORATOR
The Reliable Remedy for Liver Complaints and the caused by a deranged or torpid condition of the Liver, as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Jaundice, Headache, Dizziness, Rheumatism, etc. It regulates the Bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the system, giving elasticity to the step, and restores the complexion, making the skin clear and beautiful. SANFORD'S FAMILY PURGATIVE. Thousands of testimonials prove its worth. ASK YOUR DRUGGIST WHAT HE KNOWS OF ITS REPUTATION.
ap28-18eow

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
apr2-52t

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 18. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, APRIL 30, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 807.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

32 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cas

Editorial Notes.

Abate your strife, your angry passions check,
And let him into flowing meadow guide;
Come, learn to follow at your leader's beck,
And feed in peace and safety side by side;
By His unerring judgment still abide;
'Tis His to censure, punish and to slay,
Yours in his wisdom meekly to confide;
His to command, your portion to obey;
Thus shall you find him still your guardian night and day.

Orders still come in for Plantation Melodies, and Phillips & Hunt still keep on hand a supply of them.

Springfield outdid itself, entertaining. Church lines were with color lines wiped out for the time, and the saints had all things common. All hail the champion city.

Ministers of the Lexington conference who fail to receive the SOUTHWESTERN promptly will please write a postal card to Messrs Phillips & Hunt, 32 Natchez street, New Orleans, La.

The corner stone of a new Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America was laid at Williamstown, Ky., April 19th. Rev. Moses Hall and D. A. Walker, ministers of that church assisted Rev. J. W. Bowman the pastor in the exercises.

Below is a specimen of the hearty cordiality with which our old time Kentucky friends made good their ancient claim to peerless hospitality while we were visiting among them recently: "Doctor Taylor—Will you favor us with your company at dinner on Sunday next. You being an old friend, Willie and I would not consider dinner complete without your presence. Believe me yours sincerely, —Pollie Owens. Come 12:30."

We sincerely regret our inability to accept a cordial invitation to be present at The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, New Orleans, April 30, 1885, that being Louisiana Day. The citizens of this State have just reason to be proud of the grand achievements of this Exposition for the State and the nation, and the world as well.

The American Reformer is a good newspaper devoted to reform in all the walks and avenues of life. It has by the very force of circumstances been made a chieftain in the prohibition movement, but it is designed to expose intemperance of every kind in life and government as well as in drink. It deserves to succeed. It is published at the Tribune building by the Reformer company.

Church Lyceums; their Perils and their Remedy.—II

REV S. OLIN GARRISON.

The church is not bound to do everything to meet even the legitimate wants of those who may be deprived of varied opportunities. If the church, especially the local church undertakes to do everything she will do nothing well. Again, in our lyceum meetings the preponderance of the humorous element in order to draw, to amuse and interest often provokes that levity and hilarity which are unnatural to the purposes of a building dedicated to the special service of God and to the consideration of the most awful and profound themes that can engage the human intellect. Again and again in Methodist churches have I heard the most uproarious laughter, the wildest stamping of the feet (to me rude even in a hall,) and such a forgetfulness of the place and of the fact, on the morrow, in that very spot, sinners are to be warned from an eternal hell and invited to a pure heaven. Such has been the forgetfulness, I say that even those responsible for the confusion have sometimes felt, to say the least, a shock of impropriety. Some places in this wicked and frivolous world ought to be left so sacred that the very walls call upon men to be thoughtful and earnest. There is room enough and time enough for wit and humor to have full and righteous play. The devil did not make man a laughing and humorous animal. But this does not argue that church lyceum meetings are to promote levity and hilarity. In the church building we can be social, pleasant, cheery and even humorous without giving the house of God the liberty of a witty lecture platform, or a side splitting entertainment. Nor need we go to the Romish extreme in shunning a Protestant peril. When church lyceums drivel to mere, and often the most commonplace entertainment, as practically they do more frequently than many suspect, then in so far it drags the church of Christ down from its dignified and commanding position.

I go no further in argument along this line, for I simply desire to impress the chief perils to the church of a worldly spirit in the lyceum. Such a spirit tears down the very thing a true church tries to build up, The merely esthetic wing of the church will not assent to these statements. Neither will loose morals, nor loose theology agree with the positions taken, but the writer feels confident they will bear the test of the Word, and the test of the piety of the church. Nevertheless it is firmly believed that by co-operation on the part of the stronger and more talented churches, that even in our smaller societies there can be held instructive, entertaining, spicy and profitable meetings such as will hold with firmest grip our young people, and not interfere with, but help the highest interests of the church of God.

2. I have designedly meant the first peril to be comprehensive, but it hardly includes the next two dangers. The second peril is the time and energy consumed in preparing for, and holding these meetings. It is possible, and by no means uncommon for the lyceum to so eat up the time and energy of the Christian young people, that in this age, increasingly greedy of time little is left for privat devotions or private and public religious work. All the means of grace suffer. The type of the piety of the young people of the church is surely changed already, and for the worse perhaps. Not many churches have the talent to divide their energies and carry forward successfully several distinct lines of work. "This one thing I do," is a good motto for the majority of churches. And it is certain that too frequent meetings are a hindrance, as well as the character of these meetings, which require for them so much preparation. It is not a fact that to day there is a distinct re-action taking place, and that an increasing number of churches are rightly passing by ministers who commit this same fault of giving too much of their time and energy to Chautauqua, lyceum and social movements instead of laboring to build up believers and save sinners?

The Progress of Civilization.

BY JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

Fourth Paper.

An Arctic current, setting South through Baffin's Bay and Davis Straits, and another Arctic current running Southeast of Greenland, bring streams, or mighty rivers, of icewater and floating mountains of icebergs down along the Atlantic coast of North America, while a Pacific current from the equator carries a stream of heated water far North, where, dividing it sends one stream along the Southern shores of the Aleutian islands and the peninsula of Alaska, and then Southward, to wash and to warm the coast, and the air of California, while the other stream continues Northward, through Behring's Straits, and thus prevents the icebergs from ever passing Southward into the Pacific Ocean. Hence the low temperature of the Atlantic coast, and comparatively higher range of heat in the same latitudes of the Pacific shore and its interior. Hence all efforts to discover the North pole should be made through Behring's Straits.

The immense monuments and the vast remains of ancient cities in Mexico, Central America, and Peru resemble the vast and useless works of art in ancient Egypt, and in India, that could only have been constructed during an early and imperfect civilization, and in a thoroughly irrigated tropical country; where all the conditions are combined that tend to secure a rapidly augmenting population, and that afford food for dense multitudes, and where the esculents are highly oxydized, and the heat is ample to compensate for heavy and costly clothing, and for warm habitations.

In all such countries, in their earlier ages at least, a few leading minds soon secured all the wealth and power, and the masses were reduced to the most abject servitude. In Egypt, especially, we are startled by the evidences still existing of the reeking prodigality with which the upper classes squandered the labor and lives of the masses. This is illustrated by the incredible waste of time and strength in forcing two thousand men to labor steadily during three years, in carrying a single stone from Elephantine to Sais; in excavating the ancient canal from the head of the Red Sea to the Nile at Bubastes, and thus furnishing navigable water from the former to the Mediterranean by Rameses the Second, at the expense of a hundred and twenty thousand human lives. This canal was subsequently thus reopened by Psammetticus Necho.

To build one of the pyramids of Egypt required the labor of 360,000 men, steadily forced along, during twenty years.

A complete system of hydraulic flood-gates, dykes, and reservoirs, by means of slave labor, for purposes of irrigation, had been constructed in Egypt before the time of the Patriarch Abraham. Until near the advent of the Christian era, all other nations and people, excepting the Hebrews, were rigorously excluded from Egypt, and, during more than three thousand years, that country was governed by uninterrupted dynasties of kings, and its valley was a region of mysteries. When, 670 years before Christ it was finally thrown open to the inspection of the world by the Emperor Psammetichus, the valley of the Nile teemed with wonders, and was characterized by vast pyramids whose tops reached the clouds, by gigantic collossi, representing the Pharos sitting on granite throng and gazing upon the famed river, since the morning of the world; by obelisks of immense proportions, carved by skilful hands from a single block of stone, and elevated by a power never commanded in modern times, to their eternal places, on pedestals of corresponding magnitude.

The Egyptian pyramids, regardless of human toil, life, and death, were so constructed as to be as eternal as the "everlasting hills." They have witnessed the rise and fall of the mightiest nations of antiquity, and, of the grandest powers of the mediaeval ages, and although the constellations that now gem the sky and nightly delight our vision, were gazed on by our apalling, as stupendous miracles Yet in a few generations these people passed again under the yoke of slavery, were subjected to the Assyrian and Babylonish dominion, because they had proven false to the principles rendering possible their first deliverance.

Where is the independent constitutional government maintained for two centuries by the now wandering sons of Poland, who mourn in every clime, the long lost crown symbolizing their independence? Why is China to-day being gazed upon and coveted as the "plighted pound of flesh," by the Shylocks of continental Europe?

Because the value of free individual thought, the irresistability of each personal right gave them no concern. Hence it will be seen that whatever rights and prestige may be possessed by the race, they are vouchsafed by no perpetual or irrevocable charter; but confronted by constant hazards. Constitutional provisions impose upon us the duties and invests us with the responsibilities, rights and privileges of American citizenship.

The performance of the one and the guarding and asserting of the other is the duty of loyal citizens. Because the practical enforcement of the guarantees of political equality, depends upon the character of the law-making power, and that in turn depends upon the wisdom of the people. We are architects of our own fortune, of whatever character it may be. And whatever progress made must come as the result of our own inherent energies. That enormous barriers are to be overcome and will confront the race all the long journey, is to be expected. There is no disposition to disregard the fact that the disadvantages encountered are many. That in some sections of the land the guaranteed privileges of an equal struggle is abriged; and even in many cases denied in open violation of the organic law of the land. We admit that the name man has in many respects a different significance in Maine and Georgia, and that American citizenship is not in Ohio what it is in South Carolina; but it is in the province of the race, under God to better the condition thus intimated; and the indications declare we are going to do so. For the condition of the race, though not what it must be, is not to be despised. Wonderful have been the advancements in a few brief years towards the highest human attainments.

Scan if you please the field of literature, and we point with pride to our representatives there; in the field of jurisprudence, we find the lamented Robt Browne Elliott, than whom no member of the race stood higher. R. T. Greener, John M. Langston, J. F. Quarles, Geo. L. Ruffin, John T. Green, P. B. S. Pinchback, D. Augustus Straker and a host of others, we can not mention.

In the field of medicine, we need only mention Purvis, mindful of the many brilliant young men and women issuing from the many medical schools of the land, doing noble work humanity; not least among which is our own Meharry at Nashville, Tennessee. And in theology we occupy a conspicuous position. The scholarly Payne, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church; Dr. Alex Crummel, the brilliant F. J. Grimke and Dr. Taylor and Peck, Courtney and Hammond, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, are fitting representatives Journalism also, has attracted attention and there too the race is making progress. Some considerable attention is given to the accumulating of wealth, an esential to material progress. A minute analysis might be given in this particular, were we not fearful of being tedious.

Go to the institutions for higher learning, and inquire of us there, and you will be told that in point of scholarship the race occupies no mean rank. Inquire of our capacity for imparting higher instruction and we point to Profs. Crogman and Snowden, Scarborough and Mitchell, Gregory and Burris, Westbrooks and Dart; young men who are doing good work for the race, and mention them simply as representatives.

But much as has been accomplished, the work has just begun, the journey is by no means ended, for though in less than two decades our progress has been so great, ignorance is still our bane, and an inhuman prejudice is at work against us. The process to renovate, enlighten and save ourselves must not be abandoned, our existence must be maintained; the enjoyment of these privileges of citizenship, which are unrighteously denied us must be obtained not by any further statutory enactments, for they alone can not insure them. But come they will, as the spontaneous outburstings of enlightened sentiment, produced by dint of our own manly and unfaltering exertions. It seems that the voice of God calls out, "help thyself."

"We are living, we are moving
In a grand and awful time.
In an age, on ages telling
To be living is sublime.

Challenging opposition, let us look forward to the future—thinking not of failure—the impression of which would be as lasting as the elevation we might attain high. We must maintain the foundation of our prosperity on that rock of private virtue, which can not be shaken until the laws of the moral world are reversed. Race effort must never cease and our progress toward the grandest possible achievements must not abate. God has a work to be done that friends however anxious or willing can not do.

The herculean efforts of Christian philanthropy can wonderfully aid, but the effective blows must be struck by our own brawny arms. We owe it to humanity to leave a heritage enriched by our accumulations and adorned by our triumphs. Before us lies a boundless future, with all its aspirations and hopes. That future is ours to shape.

Let us lift ourselves to the height of our responsibilities; let us hear the voice bidding us go forward, upon each member of the race rests responsibilities. Each must endeavor to prove himself worthy of those responsibilities, and in due time the goal of our hopes will be reached, and we shall become in reality the peer of any branch of the human family, in every sphere and every vocation of civilized life. Faint is the echo, but it is coming, and shall yet break in thunder tones upon the ears of all mankind, that no longer is it considered an opprobrium to be numbered among the ebony sons of Ham, but in every land and in every clime, a man will be a man no matter what the hue of his skin, or the texture of his brain.

Steubenville, Ohio.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Study.

Extract of a Sermon by Rev. A. Brown.

"Study to show thyself approved unto God."—Text 2 Tim. 2, 15.

Why should ministers study?

The Scriptures tell us to study. Look over the harvest field, nature will there command us to study Read the literature of our Church, take the SOUTHWESTERN; talk with our men of eminence; all these tell you to study. The conferences demand that ministers study, and the people demand of the conferences, that they send out only studious men. Many are sleeping on in ignorance. Thousands of our beloved in the grave would seem to break their silence and command us to study. The darkest hour of the night is "just before day." Hark! the sound of approaching day is upon us. "The earth will yet be filled with the knowledge of God."

What shall we study? Study good books, nature, man, science, and the Bible above all and beside all. Nothing can baffle diligent study. He has no time to waste on vicious literature, coarse novels, or any thing which does not tend to the glory and love of God. A doctor is supposed to know the conditions of the human body. So must preachers study.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Kentucky Conference has 1320 members and subscribes for 283 Missionary Advocates.

A papal journal states that the Greek patriarch of Constantinople repudiates the religious authority of the czar of Russia, and prefers to abandon the Greek rite for the Latin rite.

From the Districts.

Chattanooga District—East Tennessee Conference.

REV. E. PROVINE, P. E.

I began work on the district the first Saturday and Sunday after the adjournment of the annual conference held in Kingston, Tenn.

On the Robertsville circuit, Rev. S. W. Burnett, pastor; this is his second year; the people were glad to see him returned to them. With earnest work I predict a year of success, but he has some disadvantages to labor under. The people at one of the churches moved to other parts to make a living for themselves and families.

From here I went to Kingston circuit, Rev. J. T. Henry, pastor. He is doing substantial work. This is his second year. From here I went to the Jasper Circuit, Rev. John Yellender pastor. He is beloved by his people, and a young man of promise. I believe he will reap a good harvest this year.

From here I went on the Washington circuit, Rev. P. P. Brooks, pastor. He had made a good commencement. On Saturday Mr. Wm. Allen, of the Church South, measured off a church lot and donated it to the M. E. Church in Dayton, Tenn, because he is in favor of assisting the poor. The pastor had no church to live in, and I urged on the members of the quarterly conference the necessity of building a house for their pastor on the church lot. A collection was taken in the quarterly conference to the amount of five dollars. I presented the matter to the congregation on Sunday and they subscribed $15 or $20. They have built the house and the pastor is living in it. This is his first year on this circuit, and no doubt will be a success. From here I came to the Station, Rev. B. H. Johnson, pastor. I found him pushing the work forward. He had raised for all purposes about $3 from the first of November to the tenth of December. I think, if there is not too great a drawback in money matters, he will be able to move forward with the new church enterprise this conference year. Though there has been a great falling off in money matters the past winter it is now somewhat reviving.

From here I went on the Chattanooga circuit, Rev. John Crawford, pastor. This is his second year on this work. The weather was cold and raining, but he managed to have a full conference. On Saturday and Sunday it rained all day and we had no preaching at all. I predict that this circuit will move forward after winter passes. They have no good church houses but hope to build one house this year and finish another. From here I went on the Cleveland Circuit, Rev. L. W. Moores, pastor. I found him in bed sick with chills, but I succeeded in holding the conference before I left him. Had no preaching on Sabbath on account of the rain. The pastor is pushing the new church forward; he has 2,000 feet of lumber on the ground. If the stringent times in money matters will permit, he will advance this year. Though the people are very poor they are trying to rally to themselves and pastor. We are hoping to receive some aid from the Church Extension Board. From here I went on the Sweetwater Circuit, Rev. Alexander Keesee, pastor. On Monday after the Conference was to be held I received a postal from him which stated that he had been very sick about 40 or 15 miles from where the quarterly conference was to have been held. From here I went to the Ebenezer Circuit, Rev. James Tarwell, pastor. He is beloved by the people. I think he will succeed if he will stick close to his work. On Friday preceding the quarterly conference, the pastor came to Cleveland in his buggy to take me about 10 miles to the seat of the conference, but I missed him, to my regret. From there I came on the Cleveland Circuit, Rev. Robert [illegible] pastor. He is laboring [illegible] forward the work in [illegible] of much poverty. We [illegible] a church in Riceville this year. From there I went to Georgetown Circuit, Rev. C. W. Walton, pastor. He is doing a good work, the people are proud of him, and I predict a growth in this work this year, though this is a poor circuit. From there I visited the Big Springs Circuit, Rev. A. J. Fletcher, pastor. This circuit has one of the best country preaching places on the district. At this point they are preparing to build a new church this year. They have a wide awake Sabbath-school, and the pastor has supplied them with Sunday-school literature, which was greatly needed. Most of this circuit is very poor, but people are struggling hard to come to the front. The Soddy Circuit quarterly conference was held by Rev. A. J. Fletcher, Rev. G. W. Cowan, pastor. He is doing an excellent work. This circuit has been broke down, but I think this year will be a harvest. The excitement over the political question, and the long rainy spells of weather has been a great drawback to the people and preachers on the district. I have urged on the people and preachers to hold their centennial meetings. Morristown Seminary and our other institutions of learning have not been forgotten. The stringent times in money matters have kept some of our people from taking our papers. The brethren are sticking to the resolution passed at the Annual Conference relative to the SOUTHWESTERN, and some are taking the Methodist Advocate. The brethren are determined to work up the Sabbath-school work more this year than ever before. The preachers are making themselves the examples in the temperance cause. Thus closes the first round on my district.

Van Buren District, Little Rock.

REV. W. R. DUNCAN, P. E.

The first round of quarterly conferences is published in the SOUTHWESTERN, the official organ of our conferences, which you will see, and of course the fourth quarterly conference appointed the committees on our different benevolent collections. This you will please see to and have them to begin at the first of the year to collect and have no blanks in our quarterly conference minutes. To do this you must assist them in putting these objects before the people, by precepts and examples; preach to them, sing over them, talk and pray over them. If you will do this with faith in Jesus then will come the words of the blessed Master, "Lo, I am with you always." Of course I must help you in this great work; to do this, I have given to every charge, quarterly appointments, embracing one Sunday with the above arraugements. You see I will be with you from 2 to 5 days; now you can set apart certain nights during my stay with you for lectures on our benevolent causes. This will help you spiritually and financially. It will also help you to live better. Dear brethren, there is no reason for you to receive only half of your salary, but learn the people to pay all they promise and yours will be included

I only give every charge one Sunday on the first round for the following reason: First to get the benevolent collection before the people before the last of the year. Second, the salaries of pastors, presiding elders and bishops before them. Now, dear brethren take the advantage of this opportunity because some of your quarterly conferences in three remaining ronnds will be on other than Sundays. Dear brethren, we must economize time, in order to succeed. May God's blessings attend our labor this year. If there are any young men who wish to supply charges this year, please address me at Van Buren, Ark. I must conclude by saying all take the SOUTHWESTERN. I shall always find time to say something to our people, about this paper, our paper, your paper, the Christian paper, the Methodist paper, push this paper on each subscriber, on very short credit. Think of the words to you from our beloved Bishop Mallalieu and Rev M. W. Taylor, D. D., who was with us in our late session of the Little Rock Conference, and let those words find a lodging place in your hearts.

Centre Point, Ark.

Nashville Districts, Tennessee Conference.

JAMES PICKETT, P. E.

DEAR EDITOR—The 21st session of the district conference of the Nashville district convened in Seay Chapel, Nashville, Tennessee, February 10th, 1885. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, quite a large majority of the conference were present; 14 local preachers; 6 representative class leaders; 7 Sunday-school superintendents, and 9 of the traveling preachers, answered to their names.

The presiding elder then took up with a facility that showed at the out set that he meant to expedite business. The reports of the itineracy, were so terse, concise and well worded, that they had all the evidences of mature thought; these were followed by reports from local preachers, representative class leaders and Sunday-school superintendents; each one following his own pastor, so that the effect was simply grand, which made no little impression upon our visiting brethren.

Among the many resolutions that were introduced, the most prominent were that no local preacher be granted license to preach or renew, unless he be a subscriber to the SOUTHWESTERN, and could prove himself identified with Sunday-school, as might be expected. This caused no small stir among the local preachers, but right finally triumphed and the resolution prevailed.

The literary programme was carried out. The local ranks were well represented by a wide range of subjects. Criticism ran rife from the itinerancy and college professors. The programme as laid down in the SOUTHWESTERN, was then taken up. Dr. Keeler gave nothing less than a splendid dissertation upon the subject of "sanctification;" as he carried us up one flight of eloquence after another, he made us believe that it was attainable and moreover that we had attained it. What can we more say, for time would fail us to speak of Primm, Pickett, Philips and Williams; to say nothing of Braden, Dart and Chandler, who through the tremendous press of patriarchial duties, and yet by sheer exertion, treated us to literary productions, which would do honor to your columns, had we time to stenograph them.

The memorial exercises of Bishop Wiley, and our lamented assistant secretary, inestimable companion, and indefatigable colleague, Rev. S. P. Bell, were solemn and impressive. Appropriate resolutions will be forwarded from the annual conference. The accompanying manuscript is our benevolent assessments for the year.

J. MORELAND, Sec'y

Annual Report of the Louisville District, Lexington Conference.

To the sixteenth annual session convening at Springfield, Ohio, April 2, 1885:

Dear Fathers and Brethren—For the cause of Christ I am in this place, and in his name and strength, and by his grace I have come to present to you the following report of the Lonisville District: Number of circuits and stations on the district, 25; number of elders appointed to the district from our last annual session, 12; deacons, 1; probationers, 3; local preachers used in supplying the charges, 9; total, 25.

The following is the condition of the charges and the work of the elders: Finchville and Wilsonville, S. P. Lawson. The circuit has two box houses on it, in a tolerable good condition. The one at Finchville is free of debt, and deeded Methodist Episcopal Church property. The property at Wilsonville was bought by the members of our Church but deeded to the United Brothers of Friendship. The circuit is spiritually alive at one end but the other end has been very badly injured by the pastor and members quarreling with each other; our Church rules are not kept, Sunday-school feeble, Methodist works, books and literature are a stranger to the circuit.

Frankfort and Eminence, G. W. Leach. We have no church house on the circuit. The one that was at Frankfort was destroyed by fire last May, and nothing has been done to build another by the members and people of Frankfort; they being misinstructed has caused a great delay in this matter. $250 was borrowed from Bro. M. Walton to pay for this property, at least he holds a note for that amount against said property. At the same time the people were made to believe that the Church Extension Society bought the property and made it a present to them, and that the Extension Society would rebuild it. We have no house at Eminence. The spiritual condition and church work on the circuit are very poor. It would have been good for G. W. Leach, and also for our church if he had never gone to Frankfort. The circuit is entirely destitute of everything in the way of Methodism.

Jericho, J. E. Christopher—One church house and a parsonage; the parsonage not paid for; it is our property. Our church at Jericho has stood for a number of years, and said to have done good in time past, but now the house is enough to make those weep who first saw it in its beauty; the tooth of time is gnawing down her foundation, her walls are becoming bare for want of plastering, and if it rains umbrellas are needed in some parts of the church during service, while rags, boards and pieces of tin are a part of the window lights. But, worse still, trustees, stewards, class-leaders, Sunday-school superintendents, committees, sexton, teachers, Sunday-school, one exhorter and preacher are all dead.

Louisville, Coke Chapel, A. Posey.—One church house, one parsonage, built this year. I do not exactly understand the condition of this property, but as near as I can I will give it you. The property was contracted for by the members of our church some years ago; the lot, I suppose is about 200 feet long and about 60 or 70 feet wide. At present there are six buildings on the lot with the church and parsonage, and neither has a clear title to the property. The church entered the contract with the first party, and sold lots to the third party; it seems that the third party has paid a portion of the money and refuses to pay any more until the church, the second party, can make them safe; the church can not do this until she has redeemed herself from the first party. At the same time there is a debt that the church owes the Church Extension Society, money borrowed some years ago to help buy the property. The spiritual condition of the church is very bad, the dust of evil has been flying all the year at Coke Chapel; the church is fleeting out by her rules not being kept; the Sunday-schools are tolerably good, but none of our church books and literature are used except the SOUTHWESTERN.

Louisville, Jackson Street; W. L. Muir.—One church and parsonage. The property is ours, but there is a debt of $600, money borrowed from the Church Extension Society a few years ago to make an improvement on the church. The spiritual condition of the church is neither hot nor cold. Twice the church has tried, for five or six weeks each time, with other ministers, for a revival, but had a complete failure. Sinners came to Jackson Street and asked the church to help them; but Jackson Street was powerless, and the devil marched them back to prison. The rules are needed just as bad as fresh meat needs salt. The Sunday-school is only tolerably good. Our books and works of Methodism are very scarce; the parsonage is a disgrace to Lonisville.

Louisville, Lloyd Street, J. L. Perrin.—One good farm house, but no parsonage. It is our property. The spiritual condition of the Church is good; everything looks encouraging. The Devil chased Bro. Perrin away at first, but when Perrin came back, the old fellow had to go himself. The Sunday-school is good. The work of Methodism is alive at Lloyd Street, some 60 or 70 have been brought to Christ this year. This little church has done more good for Louisville than Coke Chapel and Jackson Street both put together.

Lagrange, S. M. Tompkins.—A new church has been erected there this year, and nearly completed. The members are spiritually alive. About 56 persons have joined the church in about a month's time. Good Sunday-school. Lagrange is in a prosperous condition.

Shelbyville, M. Walton.—One church in a tolerably good condition and free of debt. The spiritual part of the church is good; the rules of the church are carefully looked after; a grand and good Sunday-school; church books and literature are used. M. Walton is a pastor who knows where his members live; he visits all classes of people to spread the Redeemer's kingdom.

Sulphur and Patton's Creek, A. Manson.—One small box house, about $56 in debt. No church house at Sulphur. Very little good has been done on the circuit this year; no Sunday-school at present, but better times are to follow. Strawberry, W. H. Lawrence, Warsaw and Ghent, L. Michell, deacons.

Simpsonville, Wm. Johnson.—One small church free of debt and in tolerably good condition. The spiritual condition of the church is cold; Methodism is very much wanted. The minds of the opposition are very strong against our church at Simpsonville, but I think all will be for the better in future.

Bedford and Campsburg, P. Fisher.—One church house on the circuit, with a debt of $45; the property is in a very bad condition; it is unfit to hold meeting in during the winter.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. J. R. Carnes, Goliad, Texas, writes: "We have away ont here in this southwesternly section of country, one of the neatest little churches, that I know of any where within the bounds of the Annual Conference; also a good Sunday-school and quite a number of library books, and a goodly number of efficient teachers, mostly ladies. The officials of the Church seem to be God fearing men, mostly men of age, who seem to have the interest of the Church at heart, among them is the distinguished B. Lott, who was elected as a lay delegate to the qnarterly conference of 1880. The yonng ladies are ladies of promise, and marked intelligence. They are laboring to finish paying for their new organ for the church. On the whole, the writer is well pleased with his appointment. The young men and I have met together, and have talked of the future; and we intend to work to build up our community. At Centerville, my other preaching point, we have some good people; among whom is Sister Belt, wife of Prof. Belt; this sister, with a few others, are laboring to raise money to build a new church, according to plan No. 2 etc. The writer's impression is, they will succeed. This little colony of colored people are owners of land, and a great deal of it. In short, they all have homes and they are paid for. And you know that is more than what some of you, my dear friends, who live in some of our large cities can say. These people tell me they want a lot of good colored families to comes out here, and help them buy up the vacant lands in this Western country. Who is it that will respond with money? Now is the time for young men to make better and wiser use of their money than gambling. These lands will not remain unoccupied long, and if we poor Negroes do not get ourselves homes now while we can, before we are five years older we will wish we had. Notwithstanding the kind treatment of the people, the writer finds himself surrounded with much to do, our first little church at Goliad is to be ceiled, and the church lot fenced, also a new church to build at Centerville.

Rev. B. J. Griffin, Vicksburg, Miss., writes: "I was called from my work a few days ago, by a telegram from Elder Shumpert, stating that my brother I. B. Griffin was very ill. It found me several miles in the country, on reaching Vicksburg, I found my brother very sick, but being well taken care of by Mr. Thomas Miller, and family. Mr. Miller is a well known friend of Methodism, and they seemed never to grow tired of relieving his suffering. Sisters Walker, Brown, Miller, also Sister Miller's daughter, very kindly and patiently, waited on him. Bros. Walker and Platt, remained with him during all his illness, and for all of which kindness I am very thankful. I returned to my work on the 12th of April."

Rev. N. S. Kitchens, Morrilton circuit, writes: "When I came to my circuit on the 7th of March, as a Methodist preacher, we had no organization; but now, I have received by letter and otherwise over 50 members, built one new church, and have another on the way. These are people from South Carolina. In a week or two, I hope to have as many as one hundred, if no more. Presiding Elder Duncan, was with us on Sunday, the 12th of April. He preached to a large number, 49 partook of the Lord's supper. At present we have two Sunday-schools, averaging 88 scholars. I hope you will pray for my success."

Rev. H. T. O. Abbott, Musson, La., writes: "I received my appointment from Bishop I. W. Wiley, at the conference, held at Union Chapel, in New Orleans last year, and immediately went to my field of labor, but found no church building, nor lot of ground on which to build, but, there was then, six members, who, as it were, were the seed and beginning of what was to be; under the guiding hand of God, we came together and united in prayer over the matter. Asking the Master for more light, and above all His divine guidance, throughout our whole prospect for the year, and bless the Lord the answer came plainer and louder: 'Go to work.' Which we did, by immediately starting a protracted meeting, wherein our good Lord and Master blessed us, in bringing forth from Egyptian darkness, sons and daughters to the marvalous light of salvation and peace. The number brought forth and truly converted to God during the year, is 51; and 22 joined on probation; and the 6 old soldiers, we started with makes a membership of 79 loyal souls to Christ and the old mother Methodist Episcopal Church. 'My soul magnifieth the Lord for His goodness, for His mercy endureth forever.' Now, we were prepared to do something, we settled our official board and organized the church, under the name of St. James Centennial Methodist Episcopal Church. We then bought a lot of ground, paid $75 for it, but its real value was $350, and hard times brought it down within our reach. We next bought 10,000 feet of lumber, valued at $100, on which we paid $64, leaving balance due $36. We succeeded in placing the lumber on the ground, but circumstances arose over which we had no control, which prevented the erection of the building, the circumstances have already been made public through your paper, therefore, it is needless to repeat them here; doubtless had they not occurred, St. James Centennial Methodist Episcopal Church would have been completed ere this and God's people praising his holy name in it. Notwithstanding all this, we review the past year's work, as being led by God and not ourselves, and I do say that there is rejoicing in many homes in this community other wise than it has been, because, husband and wife, sons and daughters, have been turned from their evil ways, into the way of peace, joy and happiness in the Lord, and in many in[illegible], drunken husbands have been made sober, sober and loving ones to their wives. Thus the Lord has worked with us and it is marvelous in our eyes. I pray the Lord's choicest blessing on our white friends, who stood by me and so nobly helped to push on the good cause. I am persuaded they shall not lose their reward, for the Lord holdeth the righteous in remembrance always, and as a final farewell, to the officers and members of St. James Centennial Methodist Episcopal Church, I have this to say for their faithfulness and fortitude, I pray the great Shepherd of the sheep, that he He will keep us of one mind and heart to do His will on earth in spreading abroad His word."

Rev. S. Phillips, Nashville, Tennessee, writes: "I have been a student in the Theological Department, of the Central Tennessee College, under the supervision of the Rev. R. W. Keeler, since conference. He seems deeply interested in the work, and everything is moving along nicely here. Dr. Braden with his keen eyes sees every movement. There are a great many students here from different places. One of our students, (Rev. S. N. Bell), has been quite sick, but is improving. Our Sunday-school is still moving on. Bro. Irvin Brown, my wife and myself have agreed to get all the subscribers we can for the SOUTHWESTERN."

Rev. Anson Taylor, Palestine, Texas, writes: "I have started a new work in a new place. I entered here on the 5th of December the weather was quite cold, but I was kindly received by the people. We held our quarterly conference on the 3-4, according to appointment. P. E. Smith was on time and the brethren and sisters turned out pretty well. The committee made pretty good reports for the short time we had. The following is a copy of the report of the [illegible] committee: Pastor, [illegible] presiding elder, $50; Bishops, [illegible] conference claims, $7; the amount already paid to pastors, $30, making a total of $493. Elder [illegible] with the assistance of Elder Davis and Rev. H. Jones administered the sacrament to 49, and took up a collection of $7; after which six probationers were added to our list, for the Southwestern."

Rev. M. Dale, Wesley Chapel, [illegible] Episcopal Church, New Orleans, La., writes: "We had a great time at our Sunday-school meeting. We had a large attendance, there being about 400 children at the meeting. Rev. Thomas Sargent and others addressed the school, after which, Bishop Mallalieu called on the sinners to come forward and be prayed for, and a good number responded. The Lord came in to help us. In the last five weeks, we have had nine [illegible] added to the church."

Letters From the Laity.

R. F. Hale, Esq., New Orleans, writes: "We had a glorious time at Wesley Chapel, last Sunday night, the Lord was with us, and blessed the [illegible] at the table. I, with my wife, Sister M. Thompson, [illegible] with us as a soldier of the Cross left the field and went [illegible]. The [illegible] last [illegible] Rev. S. D. D. Thompson [illegible] with us [illegible] Dr. [illegible] our pastor at Albert [illegible]

R. F. Hale, New Orleans, La., writes: "We had a good time at [illegible] on the 4th of [illegible] Rev. M. Dale, administered [illegible] to 230. We closed [illegible] with 19 [illegible]. Brothers only stopped [illegible] and will start [illegible] known where it [illegible] the persistent and [illegible] use of Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic.

Centennial Address,

Synopsis and by vote of Conference.

[Delivered before the East Tennessee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in session in Kingston, Oct 25th, 1884.]

BY REV. D. B. LAWTON.

As my life covers seventh-tenths of the existence of the Methodist Episcopal church, I may be allowed to indulge in some reminiscences. When I was born we had no ocean steamers, no railroads, or telegraphs; no mowers, reapers or threshers, no friction matches. We had the plow with wooden mouldboard; we reaped our grain with a sickle, threshed it with a flail, cleaned it with a hand-fan. We raised wool and flax, and our mothers spun, wove, and made our clothes. Dr. Coke crossed the Atlantic 18 times in the missionary service, when it took three months to cross; now you can cross in a week. You could ride in a four-horse stage coach for 6 cents a mile, with the privilege of going on foot, at times, and carry a rail to pry the coach out of the mud. Now you can ride a mile a minute, and read or write on the way. We can ride and plow, mow, sow, reap and thresh.

When I began my ministry in the Empire State, people often went to meeting in log cabins and through forest foot-paths, and barefooted often at that, for we were as Dr. Kynett says he was, born barefooted. We then had only one college, and a feeble one at that; now we have near 100 colleges and universities. We had only two Foreign Missions, at Buenos Ayres and Liberia now our Missions girt the world.

Methodism began among a few Oxford students in 1729, in England, and was introduced into New York in 1766, by Mrs. Barbara Heck and Philip Embury, both from Ireland. Our Church, in 1784, was organized on Christmas day in Baltimore. There were then 83 traveling preachers, and 1,400 members, Bishop Asbury died in 1816. There were then 700 traveling and 200 local preachers, and 214,000 members. I was then two years old. Now we have hard on to two millions (2,000,000) members, ten-thousand traveling besides local preachers.

The American Bible Society belongs to us as much as it does to any other church. It was organized in eighteen hundred and sixteen, in New York. They put some Bibles in a room 9x12 feet and hired a man to sell and give them away. He had the boldness to predict that the time would come, when that room would not hold all the Bibles. Years ago they built the Bible House on Astor Place, New York, which covers three-fourths of an acre, and six stories high. The tin pipe winding through the rooms to convey the waste steam from the presses, for warming puposes, if placed in a straight line would extend 13½ miles. They publish [print and bind] from four to six Bibles and Testaments per minute for all the working hours of the year. More than ten times the Bibles have been printed and circulated in my day, than were issued for ten centuries before, and in near 200 languages and dialects.

In the days of Wickliffe, (13th century) the new Testament cost $75. Now the Bible is sold for 25 cents, and the new Testament for five cents. Thank the Lord, the church has outdone the devil, for he can't publish novels as cheap as that! But to return to our church in its early history. In the older states, Calvinistic and some other churches had the ground 200 years before Methodism was introduced. My experience and observation a half a century ago, will answer as a specimen of thousands.

When the Itinerant preachers of this "sect every where spoken against, came through my country, the churches, and in many cases the school houses, were locked against them, and they had to go often to private houses, to barns, and to the forests to preach. I have known young converts, disowned by their parents, and one lad of my age, 15 years, was turned out on a cold winter night," because he had joined the Methodists. He has been the instrument in the conversion of thousands and is preaching yet.

It cost something then to be a Methodist. It would not pay to play religion, when loafers would club the house and with shot guns come into our meetings, and set the dogs to fighting, throw sulpher on the stove, and pinch the children to make them squall. But we were nearly all born preachers; for we would go into back and destitute districts, hold prayer and exhortation meetings and sinners were converted by the dozen. Then soon the itinerant would organize a class, and erelong a church would be built.

But do we wish those days to return? No. I am no croaker. Yet, while we as a Church, have made glorious progress in literature, in missions, in Sunday schools, in church building and church extension, reaching near two millions of members, besides as many more who have left us by withdrawal, furnished other churches, and by Secessions, and twice as many gone to glory, there are things wherein we have fallen back. We do not preach the law, the enormity of sin and the retribution of eternity as much as we should. The doctrine of Christian holiness is not pressed as much, nor the direct witness of the Spirit. There will, most always, be a vein of fanaticism connected with a powerful work of grace, especially among illiterate people, which has to be discountenanced with great caution. We have to tolerate rude and rough expressions sometimes. I know a good brother once who, praying in meeting, broke out thus, "Lord, come right down through the roof; never mind, I'll pay for the shingles."

Doctor Yost, on my first circuit, was a backslider, but a firm supporter of the Church. He went to Brother Allen, my colleague, with a complaint against Bro. Lasher way, a Frenchman, who had just been converted, that in a lively meeting he jumped up and said: "Bredren, religion is ketching as de ich." "Well, doctor," said Brother Allen, "if religion would stick to folks half as long as the itch, it would do better than it does on some." The Dr. said no more.

As a church, we had a hard fight to gain recognition by the Christian world. Our work was all missionary, as it is still to a large extent and considering also the number of members given off, and the number of ministers located for want of support, our growth is an anomaly. "But the weapons of our warfare are not carnal." By "putting on the whole amor of God," no power can stand in our way. What a responsibility God has laid on the hearts and hands of our church.

When I was young, the burden of prayer in the church was. "O Lord, open the doors of heathen nations, that the gospel may enter." I have not heard that prayer for for 30 years. God has answered it. The vast millions of the heathen, like a bruised Samaritan, lie in our path, and with bleeding wounds and tearful eyes and outstretched hands, implore us for Christ's sake, "Come over and help us. Besides the unprecedented opening for Christian labor and sacrifice in our land, there was never such an age for Christian achievement since the world was made.

The centenary of the introduction of Methodism in this country, was celebrated by special thankofferings in 1866. It was thought by our chief men, that two millions of dollars would be the result; but it was five times that. What then should we do now? Let our educational and other institutions receive a mighty lift; and if our wornout preachers, their widows and orphans should receive a little help, it would not come amiss.

I was about to close here, but shadows pass before my eyes? I remember when Missouri Conferences impeached Rev. Silas Comfort, my old P. E., for admitting colored testimony in the trial of a white man; and the General Conference in Cincinatti, in 1836, affirmed the impeachment. A subsequent General Conference rescinded it. I remember when Revs. Geo. Stors and Leroy Sunderland came to my Conference at Potsdam, N. Y., in 1837, to lecture against slavery, they could not obtain a house to speak in, but finally obtained a room over a business block. I remember those of us who dared to attend an abolition meeting, slouched our hats, and went around through dark allies, and ascended the back stairs. In these Southern States it paid to support the ministry to preach on the private text, "Servants obey your Masters." But when the clergy made the Bible sanction American slavery, then, slavery was doomed! For it aroused the common sense, and common conscience of the North. The church, like the nation had to bow to the behests of slavery or quit the field.

The result of the strife, threw on to our hands the care of more than five millions of poor, illiterate colored people, besides as many white people, nearly as bad off. These are our wards, more especially than they are of any other Church. Mr. Wesley had said that "American slavery was the sum of all villainies, and the vilest that ever saw the sun." And the great heart of our church believed this. Now, do not let us boast of numbers or wealth, or doctrines that never change, but let us bear in mind the herculean work that God calls us to perform.

The education and salvation of these masses is the key to the salvation of the dense millions of Africa, of China Japan, Corea, and India. And not only this much, but Mormonism and the Papacy are to be no more, and King Alcohol is to die! I shall not see it, but some of you will; and when our Lord, the King, asserts his rights to rule, then strike up and sing; "Hallelujah, 't'is done!"

General Grant.

HIS CHRISTAIN FAITH AND TRAINING.

General Grant's Christian faith is simple, yet sturdy. It combines childlike truthfulness with the intellectual vigor of manhood's convictions. While never making display of that side of his nature, it has been the habit of his life to look to Divine guidance in all of his undertakings, and he attributes his successes to the inspiration gathered therefrom. Nor has his faith been shaken by reverses, although often in the family circle and with his closest friends he has expressed the wish that he was stronger in his reliance.

"Oh, if I could only have the faith that my sister, Mrs. Cramer, has," he sometimes said, when trouble beset him. "Her trusting nature would meet this trouble and see a bright outcome to it better than I can."

His admiration is equally strong for the faith of Mrs. Newman, the wife of his friend and pastor, the Rev. Dr. Newman. Her womanly sympathy has always been cheering to him, and during the reverses and harassments of the past year or two she has led him to see through the darkness a promise of better days, which strengthened his purpose to bear uncomplainingly and without discouragement what fell to his lot. Family prayers were usual in the household for many years, and some of the most touching scenes of the sick-room have been gatherings for prayer to which the family and guests were invited. Scarcely a day has passed since Dr. Newman's return from the South without one of these gatherings, always at the General's instance, the General sitting in his chair, the family and assembled friends kneeling around him.

The General's religious experiences date from childhood. He was reared at a reverential hearthstone; and often in later years has talked with Dr. Newman about his spiritual training and belief. On that subject he is never reluctant to speak, approaching it as freely as any earthly topic. He speaks of it to few persons, regarding it as a matter with which only those whom his heart loved are concerned, but in such surroundings his nature is open and confiding.

In recalling the religious training and experiences of General Grant, Dr. Newman said:

"He was brought up in the Methodist Episcopal Church. His father's house was the home of Methodist preachers for over forty years. The General's earliest recollections were associated with the clergy. He had to care for their horses. He remembered that the horses were good ones, and that their owners always insisted on their having plenty of oats. Many a time he was sent out by his father to take off the saddle-bags and put up the horses. Once a preacher was to move from the neighborhood in which the Grants lived. He was to take his family and furniture in a wagon for two hundred miles, and wanted some one to drive for him. Applying to the General's father for a driver, the old gentleman detailed Ulysses, then a lad, for the work. Afterward the preacher reported to the boy's father that never in his life had he had such a good and silent driver.

"The General's father was a farmer at that time. In later years he lived at Covington, Ky. He was a church-goer always, serving in the Methodist Church as trustee, steward and class leader. Where ever he went he was a ruling spirit in church affairs. He was a man of sterling character, strong will, high purposes, and at times arbitrary. His mother was modest, intelligent, and sunny in spirit. The General inherited her nature. All of his sisters were devout Methodists. One of them Mrs. Cramer, married a Methodist preacher, now the Minister of the Government, at Berne, Switzerland. The General was thus indoctrinated in the faith of the Church. He held to those great principles of Christianity all his life. Accepting the Bible as the word of God to man, he regarded Christianity as divine; but his mind tended to the sunny side of Christianity. The beneficent results of the Gospel promised to him the glory of Messiah, the universal triumph of Christianity.

"I became his pastor in 1869. I have been his guest many times, and at all times, in the White House in Washington or at his cottage in Long Branch, he always had family prayer, in which he usually requested me to lead. I called at the White House on his last Sunday there, his last night in office. Mr. Hayes was then having a reception at John Sherman's. I found the General and Mrs. Grant, with Mr and Mrs. Sartoris, quietly sitting in the blue room. We talked awhile, then, at the General's request, we all knelt in prayer.

"I have been with him," Dr. Newman went on, "in private and in public and with all classes of people. Yet I never heard him utter a profane word or indulge in an improper story, nor have I ever seen him smile approvingly at an immodest story which some person present happened to have the audacity to relate. He is altogether the purest man in conversation of whom I ever had knowledge.

"During my pastorate for six years in Washington, which included the greater part of his Presidency, he was a regular attendant at church. Storm of no kind ever kept him away. He was the most attentive and appreciative listener I ever had. To me he was an inspiration, because of his profound attention and the indirect influence I exerted through him on others. He was President of our Board of Trustees and a liberal contributor to the church.

"His charities were many and unostentatious. One day I was preaching on 'Lost Opportunities.' I had occasion to say that whoever desired to find worthy objects of charity could do so with little effort. I recalled a visit I had made during the preceding week to a soldier's widow, who was dying of consumption, and who, although destitute, was happy in the Christian faith. I mentioned also a man who had lost his sight at the Government work, and who bore his affliction with a saintlike spirit, although he was in distressing circumstances.

"After the service, as soon as the President reached the White House, he sent me a twenty-dollar bill pinned to his card; on which was written, 'Please give $10 to that soldier's widow and $10 to that poor blind man.' I remember receiving from him one Chrismas Day the following letter.

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, December 25, 1869.

"'DEAR DOCTOR—Inclosed please find my check for $100 for distribution among the poor. Don't forget the ragged school over on the island. Yours truly,

U. S. GRANT.'

"His life has been full of such deeds of quiet charity."

—Recurring to his love of family prayer, the clergyman continued: "I recall a visit to his Long Branch cottage, where daily we had prayers after breakfast. One morning an English gentleman called while were at the table. He remained so long that there was no opportunity that day for morning devotions. The next morning the President brought the old family Bible into the breakfast-room with him. Handing it over to me he said: 'Doctor, we were cheated out of our prayers yesterday, but to make sure that it shall not happen again we will have devotions after this before breakfast.'

"After his term in the White House he went abroad. He was specially interested during his tour of the world in American missions, of which he visited a large number. The educational movements connected with these missions appealed strongly to his sympathy. I have a letter from him, written in Japan, in which he unfolds the wonderful improvements in moral and educational mission work which had taken place in that country under the management of American missions. That work made a deep and lasting impression on his mind. On his return to this country he attended my church in this city, manifesting the same deep religious nature as formerly; the same reverence for God and personal belief in Christianity. He had a wonderful faith in Divine Providence, and believed in special interpositions of Providence in the affairs of men and Nations. I have heard him talk by the hour on that subject, giving illustrations from his own life.

"Once I asked him, I remember, what he considered his most providential experience. Without hesitation he said: My resignation from the army in 1854. I was then a Captain. If I had staid in the army I would have been still a Captain on frontier duty at the ontbreak of the war, and would thus have been deprived of the right to offer my services voluntarily to the country. That opportunity shaped my future.'

"In connection with the sick-room, I have spoken of the prayerful spirit that has pervaded it. I might add the General never allows suggestions for the relief of his infirmities to intefere with his reverence for the Sabbath. One Saturday, night, lately, when he was nervous and weary and very restless, his son, the Colonel, hoping to divert his mind, suggested some amusement.

"The General brightened at the idea of diversion, but presently, with a grave face, he inquired the hour. It was nearly midnight. 'Never mind,' the General said, with perfect resignation, it is too close to the Sabbath to commence any diversion."—Commercial Gazette.

The Duty of State Legislatures.

Legislation in every State should regulate the sale and use of the many poisons resorted to by women in their determination to obtain a beautiful complexion. There exists in Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic every requisite to accomplish the object without injuring health or endangering life.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

WILLIAM W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1885.

$1.50 Nine Months. $1.50

Subscriptions may be taken for nine months, or to the close of the year 1885, for $1.50. Agents will please announce this fact, and extend the canvass.

PHILLIPS & HUNT.

The Old Captain Still on Guard.

General Grant is no less courageously battling for his own life now than he did for the nation's 20 years ago. This mighty Captain defeated all his assailants bnt death, and this one he is boldly and fearlessly grappling. Dr. J. P. Newman, his steadfast friend, true as life and changless as the grave, waits beside him day and night. The last indications are that the end is near. The brave family still waits, and watches, like the General, supported by the prayers of the worlds inhabitants. Crowned and mitred heads uncover in reverence for this nation's first citizen, and all hearts beat in mournful sympathy with him, and them in this their saddest hour.

Putting on the Armour.

The British lion roars, the English bull paws the earth, but despite it all the Russian bear has risen up to embrace whatever is useful along the Afghanistan border.

Germany winks and Turkey assumes an interested nentrality. The Sultan of Turkey is invested with the caliphate of the whole Mohammedan world hence the importance of his friendly relations to England in this emergency, in view of the latter's vast Mohammedan interests in India, which are greatly involved in this impending conflict. The war in the Soudan will probably drop ont of sight, these new complications affording a pretext and an opportunity for the great war minister of England to disentangle himself from a very embarrassing situation.

But the Canadian Riel with his Mestizo following in British America evinces an ability for making trouble almost equal to that of the Mahdi.

Under cover of pretended wars for conquest in Northwestern Africa, Madagascar, and China, France has found occasion to mobilize her forces, and disciplinize an army without serious alarm to Germany. This will enable France to play an important part in the great tragedy about to begin on the stage of Europe and Asia, and, perhaps, shortly to set a crown upon the head of a scion of the house of Bonaparte.

Central America is in commotion and Barrios her greatest chieftain has been slain; but the tendency is to the propagation of ideas of consolidation and a centralized government. The United States, thanks to God and the wise foresight of the "Father of his country," is not entangled with any foreign power in alliances or war. If the gathering cloud should break in a bloody deluge of death and carnage in Europe, we shall at least be able to feed and clothe the combatants. As England, Germany and France of a confederation of the old Roman Empire never wholly free from Pa[illegible] Mohammedanism or some [illegible] of true Christianity, so [illegible] a continuation of the old Greek Empire, which must at last prove the downfall of Mohammedan power in the East, and pave the way for an accelerated movement of the truth and a gathering of [illegible] and possibly African races about the shrines of real Christianity and enlightened civil government. We are come to an important time and the near future will witness the unfolding of many things long since foretold by the prophets of the Lord. The Lord is coming.

[illegible] W White pays for four [illegible] who were not able [illegible] That is characteristic.

Methodism at Work.

OFF FOR SPRINGFIELD.

Wednesday morning we left the Lonisville and Bowling Green districts and started, via the Pennsylvania Company's leased line for conference. At Indianapolis Rev. E. W. S. Hammond and miniaters of the Indiana district, having adjourned their district conference the evening before, joined and proceded with them. We went by the L. & N. railway to Cincinnati and whirled along by this spendid line. Leaving Lonisville at 2 a. m., we were at the Grand Central depot Cincinnati, at 7, here we joined Sister and Bro. Conner, from Covington, and Elder White hailed the train by telegraph, and he with preachers of the Lexington conference took a special coach by the Bee line for the seat of conference. It was just such a crowd as might be expected to come ont of the fine grass regions of Kentucky. Earnest bnt agreable, opposed to sin, bnt in love with God and each other. We hurry from one to another, grasping hands and talking about the year and its results.

Jones, Evans, Sissell, Carr senior and junior, Lindsey, Turner, Thomas, Nichols, and the rest, all grand men, came up with victory written on every face.

AT SPRINGFIELD.

Bro. Courtney, having just adjonrned his district conference, with Pastor Tate and the rest of the Ohio district ministers met us at the depot. Howdy, howdy, is said a hundred times and we glide away to

DR. LEONHARDS'

Where our home is for the present to be. Well, such a home is at all points a model home. It is the parsonage of Central Methodist Episcopal Church and is an ornament to the Christian grace of that generous society.

The family consists of Dr. Leonhard, wife, Lillian Ada, Asbury Osman, Laura Ann, Adna Wright and a married daughter living at Cincinnati. Adna is a living sunbeam, a very ideal of a boy. Asbury is a manly lad, full of life, as it is the girls are accomplished, and smart in the best sense of that term. The very fact that we had our home there speaks for Doctor. It was said the Doctor is a "crank" on prohibition, and that his object in taking us to his home was to influence the conference in favor of that subject. Had this been his purpose it would have been superfluous, because the Lexington Conference has time and again pronounced in no mistakable terms for prohibition. But the object of deepest interest and of greatest value as a study, and an example of Christian heroism is Mrs. Leonhard, of very infirm health, at times under the necessity of being moved about the house in her easy chair. There she is face aglow with Christian hope, voice subdued with pain bnt full of sweetness. She is an object of deepest loving reverence to every member of the household. We think of her now and are chastened by the thought of simple trust and patience. Happy family, happy because of this tender plant of glory growing in their midst for a season.

THE CONFERENCE

Met in Wiley Chapel. It is needless to say that this chapel was named in honor of Bishop Wiley and is a monumental testimony of the high esteem in which he was held by its members. The Bishop once resided here and is quite well known to the older people of this community.

There is a good attendance, no one is dead but a few members are not present, among whom are Bros. Leach and Winchester.

The committee on conference relations has been unusually rigid, and cases going to it hrve not been adjusted in the most desirable way to those on the defensive.

The memorial services were solemn and impressive. The religious exercises were very profitable and every interest of the Church seemed to be advanced.

The Conference did not adopt the elective course of, but it ordained elders who were unable to take the course of study upon the hypothesis that they could be useful in certain isolated localities. We presume they are never to be employed where the people are endeavoring to become intelligent.

The presiding elders did their work with great deliberation and when through were a great deal better satisfied than most of the preachers were with work accomplished. Where it is not to the prejudice of the cause removals ought not to take place before the three years are out, or if it becomes the nsage to do this with pastor the same nsage might as well be applied to presiding elders, and editors, etc.

During conference a new Methodist appeared in Wiley Chapel parsonage on the second day, and the little stranger objecting to be removed Pastor Tate remains another year. They could not call it Bowman because the gender is wrong for that.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross, entertained Bishop Bowman, he said, in the most satisfactory style to himself. It need only be said that Mrs. Ross is a colored lady, at least she was once a slave, so was her husband, bnt they now occnpy a very valnable property, with two story brick residence, which is the result of their own industry and economy since freedom.

Officers of prominent colored congregations are learning to attend Conference looking for first class ministers. This reminds us that among the colored people of our Church Methodism has begnn to deteriorate in the cities, for the reason that men who lack experience and culture are generally stationed in them; when this is not the case, men who have exhausted themselves by the fatigue of the presiding elderate are appointed to these important stations, and in most cases it results in shelving the pastor, and diminishing the number, and influence of the congregations. There are exceptions to this rule, bnt not many.

It ought to be possible for a good man who has gained experience by the presiding elderate, and who has also the adequate acquired ability, to secure a chair in some one or another of our institutions of learning. This would give our schools more of a denominational character than they now have, and secure a greater degree of Methodistic culture for those whose guardians or parents design them to be Methodist after our own type, and desire them to learn it. We like Wilberforce because the student who goes there and remains are very apt to come away an African Methodist when he completes his course; that is understood from the start to be part of his education. This is not true of our institutions as generally as it should and will be when ministers of our Church of the Negro race take charge of the schools used mainly for the recruiting of ministerial service. These things may seem strong and selfish, and perhaps they are so; but the writer is a Methodist Episcopal Negro, and has no other apology for wishing to greatly increase that special type of persons than that he believes it is right, and that it offers at least as many possibilities of successful living and happy dying as any other, and has many advantages over the most of them.

This was a good Conference taken all around, and its influence will be useful.

EASTER IN SPRINGFIELD.

Wiley Chapel had no especial features. High Street had a rich sermon by Dr. Marly, its accomplished pastor; St. Pauls embowered in the rarest flowers and crowded to its utermost capacity, besides the Sabbath-school services had a musical service of rarest attractiveness, at night. Rev. Henry Tuckley, one of the best men in Methodism, a revered friend of the writer and an accomplished Christian gentleman, is the pastor and had charge of the day's work. Central flowers and song abounded in Sabbath-school and morning service. The writer attended and addressed both audiences there. The programme of the Sabbath-school was that prepared by C. E. Brinkworth, of Buffalo, New York, and sold by Cranston & Stowe. Its special features were a recitation by Miss Lizzie Thomas, theme, "The Fire by the Sea," and "The Two Roads," by Miss Alice Ware. These young ladies performed their part in a highly creditable manner, and Miss Ware especially so. She exhibited rare gifts as an elocutionist and is certain to find a high place, if she has health and chooses that vocation. Upon inquiry we learn that the only training received by these young ladies was given in the very excellent common schools of Springfield. Is it then any wonder that colored parents are anxious to secure, for their daughters these advantages by putting them in these schools. For if they have competent teachers in the separate schools they lack others facilities for thorough work. Another, and perhaps the most interesting feature of the whole service was a song by the infant class. The children enjoyed it thoroughly, and were successful in communicating their joy to the rest of us. This school is very large, under splendid discipline, has magnificent officers, honors the pastor and especially honored itself by the feliciteous reception it tendered Mrs. Leonhard upon the occasion of first appearance in their midst.

This church and school is deservedly popular. The following list contains its officers.—J. A. Myers, J. L. Berry, P. J. Clevenger, M. D. Johnston, C. H. Schaeffer, Oscar Brandenberg, A. H. Fry, A. J. Slack, Fannie Sterrill, D. O. Myers, H. C. Hawkin. Teachers—Laura Slack, W. S. Richardson, J. W. Burns, Mrs. Allaman, C. H. Schaeffer, Fannie Sterrett, Alice Wanes, Mrs. A. L. Slager, S. E. Colbert, John Sterrett, J. W. B. Cline, Lillie Leonhard, Mrs. Emma Bennett, Libbie Harris, Mrs. Sarah Hawkins, J. B. Littlebor, J. H. Payton, Mrs. Lina Ramsey, J. B. McConnell, Mrs. Mary Kelley, A. L. Stager, Lizzie Thomas, J. S. Shenalks, Mrs. Ella Sedgwick, Allen Iliff, Belle Walker, Lula Hill, Cora Shewalks, Sallie Keller, Frank Whitehead, L. H. Tittle, Chas. Slack, Bessie Maxwell, Mabel Hawkins, Mrs. Geo. Hoover.

EDITORIAL PERAMBULATIONS.

From here we ran 78 miles and spend Sabbath night with Rev. Marons McCoomer, at Wesley Chapel, Jeffersonville, Indiana, who is upon the point of closing an average year's work.

Monday we visit Louisville and after a half day's hard going, come together in Jackson Street Methodist Episcopal Church, for the continued session of the Louisville district conference. It is postponed for the day in consequence of the of Mrs. Mary Walton, who died at our parsonage, where her husband was pastor, Friday, March 28. She was born in Murphysville, Mason county, Ky.; the daughter of Ruth and Dublin Thomas; she was married to Bro. Walton in 1848. He bought himself, her, one or two children and his home. They lived happily together for 37 years. She was converted 11 years ago, under his pastorate in Coke Chapel, Louisville and while her husband was preaching. It was a remarkable occasion, Bro. Walton was so happy that in the excitement of the moment he threw his watch far away from him and did not recall it until reminded that he had done so. In 37 years she never had a quarrel either with her husband or a neighbor. She was a most admirable and benevolent lady, and withal a very queen of good counsellors. We are under the influence of many kind deeds, and advices received of her. Her sufferings were long and intense, but she said the "Lord" whom she trusted would "fix it all right when he pleased." At the very last she trusted him, quoting David's Psalm, "The Lord is my shepherd. I shall not want." There are five sons, Monmouth, Jr, Edward, Malby, Benjamin and Moscow, with their father, who wait in hope of her resurrection. It is impossible to mourn for her, yet how we longed to let her go. An immense audience crowded the church and the sweet chastening of her life as related, aided all of us to holier faith and trust in God. She was greatly beloved, for she was a mother and friend to the people and a strong support in all her husband's charges.

FUNERAL

THE LOUISVILLE

District Conference convened in continued session Tuesday, March 31st. We met them and spent the season profitably. Elder Lock presided and it is clear that he has the elements of success as a presiding elder in him. His work was promptly, and expeditiously done. The conference was quite interesting, and the preachers in good condition.

CENTRAL TENNESSEE COLLEGE SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Central Tennessee College needs no introduction from us. It stands at the apex of educational institutions in the South and of those accessible to colored students, none are more efficient. The faculty of this institution, from its president to the cook, are a superior class of people. Dr. Braden, Dr. Hubbard, Dr. Keeler, Prof. Dart, Dr. Boyd, Prof. Fry, Mrs. Braden, Miss Barnes, Miss Braden, Miss Key, and our best friend, the genial mistress of the culinary department, whose epicuran taste finds constant acknowledgment in the high estimate they place upon her; make up the faculty. More than three hundred students have thronged them all through this term, and the teaching force for want of money to employ others, has been entirely too small to render faithful service here, and the and the same time be just to the latter. Their zeal for the cause has led them to do the former, at the expense of the other—so they are greatly needing vacation.

The students are thinning out a little now, as the season for farm work and warm spring weather now upon us, indicates the arrival of the period when home duties are urgent. These institutes are the signal for many to close their school life for the present year. Hence the deep interest taken in them. The audience room of Thomson Chapel was well filled on the evening of the 25 of March, when we walked into the assembly. Dr. Braden and two honored members of the Central Illinois Conference were at one end of the platform. Dr. Braden and this editor were in the centre, while Miss Mollie Braden with a band of trained singers, her own pupils, whose musical efficiency had been acquired during their pupilage in the college, under her own direction, occupied the other end of the rostrum relieved by a fine large piano. Above, in an element of glory, hung a life-sized bust of Gilbert Haven, one of the greatest men of the 19th century. In front of all was a sea of faces all on fire with ambition to know and do great things of an intellectual nature. Dr. Keeler told the duty of the pastor to the Sunday-school; when he closed, the choir thrilled the audiance with solos, duets and full choruses, duly selected and thoroughly mastered; for artistic work they have no superiors that we know of. We were in doubt, however, whether their progress in music had not been at the expense of the grand old songs of the Negro on the plantation. Dr. Braden anticipated our thought, and called for a song of this class. Ah! it was grand beyond our powers of description. Straight University electrified us by this class of singing the other day, but Central magnified the electricity, and then, electrified Central must bear the palm for fine singing as well as for thorough teaching. Pupils and teachers are all on good terms, and the foolish thought of color does not enter the goverment of this school at any point. After the singing we were called and talked a few moments, followed by more singing, then Dr. Cumins and another minister, member of Central Illinois Conference, whose name refused to remain, though we placed it upon our memorandum. Then the organization of a Gradnate's Endowment Association by the Alumni, followed a liberal collection, with generous contributions from the visitors, closed the most useful, agreable and numerously attended Institute of the series.

CLARK CHAPEL.

After speaking here we rush over to Clark Chapel. Reaching this church at 8 o'clock p. m., we found the pastor, Rev. A. Phillips, and his members earnestly at work, with altar crowded, and a number of penitents pleading and waiting for the troubling of the waters. A talk to them and a few plantation songs resulted in a great shout, and then we all retired for a night's rest and an early start for Litchfield in the morning.

Facing the Problem.

The following is taken from the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette of April 16. If correct, it shows that Mr. Cleveland has made a mistake in his selection for Secretary of State. With Mr. Bayard's likes or dislikes as a man we have no concern; bnt when these personal preferences of his are brought in conflict with the administration of an important branch of government service, it is not a personal bnt a public matter. And one which the public will at the first opportunity resent in a signal way.

We trust that the Commercial's correspondent though a very respectable and reliable gentleman, has been mistaken, and we believe that he is. The Republicans voted the Democrats into power for the sake and in the name of the people, and the Negroes are a part, an important part of the American people. If there has been any mistake in the selection of ministers it can be corrected.

Special to the Commercial Gazette.

Washington, April 15—The antics of the State Department in connection with George W. Williams, the recently appointed and confirmed minister to Hayti, are amusing. Williams has been waiting forty days for his instructions, and Bayard has put him off from time to time. Williams, so he says, went to the President and told him he was ready to tender his resignation if the President had anybody for his place, or wanted the office. The President assured him he had no one for the place, and was glad to see him in the position. The other day Williams went to draw the salary—about $400—due him, and there was much hemming and hawing.

Bayard finally told him that there were charges against him, and that he would pay him the money if he would agree to resign. This proposition Williams indignantly declined, and then addressed a letter to the President setting forth the facts and demanding a statement as to the charges. He has not as yet received a reply, and the appearances are to the effect that Bayard has put the Administration in a worse fix with Williams than Garland did with Chesley or Black with Miss Sweet.

Of course, Mr. Williams was as much entitled to his salary as Mr. Bayard is to his, and to coolly state to a man that charges have been made against him, refuse to tell what the charges are or who makes them, and then offer to pay the salary honestly and legally due him on condition, is a peculiar way of doing things, to say the least.

But Mr. Bayard does not think it necessary to treat a colored man as he would a "human being." The sight of a colored man, not a servant, puts him in a rage. His hatred of the colored people is almost a mania. Mr. Williams is the duly accredited Minister from the United States to Hayti, appointed by the President, confirmed unanimously and without reference by the Senate, sworn in and qualified. He is as much of an officer of the Government as Mr. Bayard, and in a high and honorable place in Mr. Bayard's department, but the latter can not treat him civilly, and takes occasion to make a proposition to him, through his chief clerk in the State Department, he would never presume to make to a white man. I will give some instances in illustration of the depth of Bayad's hatred and contempt for the colored people, as given to me.

When Senator Bruce was sworn in for his first term, Bayard was sworn in for his second. He came just before Bruce, and after receiving congratulations from all the other Senators usual on such occasions, slipped out of the Senate chamber, and was the only Senator who failed to shake hands with Bruce. During the six years he and Bruce served together he never spoke to him, recognized him or spoke his name. When he had [illegible] not even [illegible] Senator from Mississippi. When asked how he got along, [illegible] he said: "When I pass him I imagine I am passing a vacuum."

When Robert Brown Elliott, a colored member from South Carolina, was in the House, Bayard made a speech on currency, and according to custom, it was distributed through the House Post-office to all the Representatives. Elliott got none, and went to the Postmaster to inquire after his copy. The Postmaster explained that Senator Bayard had left orders that none of his speeches should ever be given to colored men.

Dr. C. E. Purvis, a prominent colored man of Philadelphia, was a Commissioner along with Creswell and Leopold, to investigate the affairs of the Freedman's Bureau. Bayard was a member of a sub committee of the Senate on that matter. One evening Dr. Purvis took his son, Robert Purvis, to Senator Bayard's house to hand him some additional evidence he thought Bayard would be glad to have, as the committee was to report next day. The young man who is light colored and very gentlemanly, was shown into the waiting-room. Bayard entered smiling and extended his hand, but when he discovered that his visitor was a colored man, he dropped it, and froze Purvis with a stony glare.

Purvis began to explain his mission, when he was interrupted by Bayard thundering that he knew all about the matter, adding a slighting remark, and, turning, left the room, leaving Purvis to find his way out as best he could.

Robert Smalls, when in Congress, tried to get a bill passed to allow him [illegible] for the capture of the steamer Planter, in Charleston Harbor, which he run with all her guns and stores past the rebel forts, and turned over to the Federal troops. He was not then in the Federal [illegible], but afterwards served four years in the navy.

The bill passed the House with practical unanimity and went to the Senate. In the Naval Committee Bayard opposed it, and put forward no ground except that Smalls was a "nigger," and so succeeded in killing the bill. At one time Smalls went to Senator Ransom, and the latter endeavored to soften Bayard. After some talk Ransom mentioned Smalls to come up, but as he approached Bayard flew into a violent rage, warned Smalls not to come near him, and ordered him to leave the chamber at once or he would call the the Sergeant-at-arms to put him out.

E. D. [illegible], another colored man, was [illegible] Hayti; afterwards he was [illegible] by that Government to represent it in New York. In this capacity he called upon Bayard and was most cordially received. Mr. Bayard asked many questions about Hayti and his people. At last he asked Bassett if he was born in Hayti, and the latter said: "Oh no, I am a native of the South." Bayard gave him a look of disgust and anger and walked out of the room. It seemed it was not a question of color so much as a question of home production of color.

Most of the negroes who have been prominent in public life are fine looking men. In Ohio, Poindexter and Green, and Thomas and Hadley, and Arnett and Clark, &c., are instances in point. Douglass and Pinchback, and Bruce and Williams, and Langston and Bassett, and so on, are handsome men, some of them strikingly so, and in some the colored blood is hardly discernible. But for these men, who have come up out of bondage, and gained honorable positions as officials, soldiers, authors, teachers and lawyers, the mighty Secretary has nothing but contempt and [illegible] with no friendly hand or [illegible]. But he will probably [illegible] missed by him in entertaining some of the diplomatic representatives, who look more like black and blue pigs than men like Bruce, and who have [illegible] noses. [illegible] handsome, [illegible] gentlemanly American [illegible] beside some of these [illegible] from the [illegible] coasts of Asia, [illegible] mental night [illegible] and moral [illegible] years, and [illegible] the contrast.

[illegible] studied Chesley's [illegible] Mr. Cleveland [illegible] Block demand- [illegible] resignation and [illegible]

[illegible] Williams' [illegible] there is another [illegible] Bayard [illegible] with the high standard he has mostly observed thus far, Williams will be paid his salary and sent to his post. The opposition to him and the charges are understood to be the work of Peter Clark, of Cincinati. The statements about Mr. Bayard's treatment of colored men, I give simply as they were given to me and one of them, evidently from Mr. Williams, appears in the New York Tribune of yesterday and has not been thus far contradicted.

Cholera.

A sudden death brought the people of Covington, Ky., to consider the probability of cholera this summer. In view of such a possibility people should use all prudence in diet, and sanitary preparations. The work before us is prevention which is always less difficult than to cure.

A meeting for the purpose of securing a union between the M. E. Sabbath-schools of the Sixth and Seventh Districts of this city was held at the residence of I. H. Norwood, Wednesday evening, April, 15. The following superintendents were present, I. H. Norwood, Haven chapel; H. Wilson Sixth Street, A. C. Smith Simpson chapel; and Mrs. E. Jefferson of the Carrollton Mission S. S. The first of a regular series of meetings having been held at Camp Parapet, Sunday. April 5th, it was agreed to hold the next at Haven chapel on the first Sunday in May, 10:30 a. m. and the third at Sixth Street church on the 4th Sunday in May. The subject for discussion on the 1st Sunday in May at Haven Chapel, will be, "The Model Sunday-school, how to obtain it, and how it should be conducted." All superintendents, pastors and teachers will be expected to take part in the discussion. The next meeting will be held at Simpson chapel, April 29th 7:30 p. m. to further carry out plans already made and to arrange for a grand union picnic. All superintendents whose schools compose this union are earnestly requested to be present.

We delay editorial touching the Lexington conference so that ministers may reach their work before we print.

Personal.

—Rev. A. McDade has a very sick child.

—Chaplain McCabe's son John will be an applicant for admission to the Newark Conference this spring.

—The widow of the late Tom Thumb has married and will remove to Italy, where the new husband is a Count.

—During the present year occurs the fiftieth anniversary, or "golden jubilee," of Pope Leo's priesthood, which he entered in 1835.

—The Rev. Isaac L. Hunt, of the Northern New York Conference, has been confined to his bed by serious illness since the beginning of the year.

—Among our visitors last week was Wm. Coppinger, Consul General of Liberia; and Wm. H. Steward, editor of the American Baptist, of Louisville, Ky.; both came to see the Exposition.

—Dr. G. S. Savage, the well known and greatly esteemed Agent of the American Bible Society for Kentucky has placed us under fresh obligations to him for interest in the SOUTHWESTERN. So has a half dozen others whose names prudence forbids us to print.

—Rev. E. W. S. Hammond, closing a successful term leaves Indianapolis with many friends who love him. He goes to Ninth Street, Covington Ky.

—Rev. L. M. Hagood has been transfered from the Tennessee, to the Lexington Conference, and, stationed at Cincinati Ohio, the affair is pleasant for Cincinati.

—We were pleased on meeting him lately to notice the very excellent health with which Hon. Amos Stinkle has been blessed. We sincerely wish him an almost infinite continuance of it.

—Two of the most influential of King Mtesa's daughters have been received into the mission Church in Uganda, since which time they have been engaged in the royal harem in giving instruction to others.

—Rev. Charles Jones, the successor of Rev. E. W. S. Hammond as Presiding elder of the Indiana District, comes to this important office after an experience as a pastor in the Lexington Conference, which highly fits him for its duties. He was received into the Methodist Episcopal from the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church at Greensville Ky., in 1871, as a local preacher, and has been since that time constantly in the pastorate. He has considerable acquired ability, weighs over 200 pounds, is of jet black complexion and is quite a handsome man. He has been pastor at Versailles, Maysdick Lewisburg, Ky, and Jeffersonsville, Indianapolis and Connersville Indiana, Aberdeen and Springfield, Ohio. At Lewisburg he was very highly esteemed although an one occasion while pastor there he was under the need of knocking a man down. He will find things in good order for great success, has attended Brother Hammond as a preacher, and we presume he is no less a success as a worker. Brother Jones, main work will be to master his temper which is at times rather violent and impetuous. A presiding elder ought besides goodness, honesty and sincerity of manner, to posess sweetness, and amiability of disposition, either by nature or habit. This is true of all preachers but especially of Bishops and presiding elders. We presume Bro, Jones has considered all these things before this time.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR—Please answer the following question in your columns: When a deacon is appointed to a circuit, and the presiding elder, in visiting his work for quarterly conference, only administers the Lord's supper at one point of the work, is it lawful for the deacon to take the same consecrated elements that are left, and administer them at the other points on the work? SUBSCRIBER.

Answer—Yes; but it would be unlawful for a deacon to do this on any but his own, except by appointment of an elder.

A Prayer Meeting in Behalf of Ex-President Grant.

A prayer-meeting was held at First Street M. E. Church, in New Orleans, La., April 16, 1885, in behalf of ex-President U. S. Grant.

Rev. John Qualls, pastor of the above named church, opened the meeting, at 3 p. m., by singing 'Guide me, O, thou Great Jehovah.' He then read the 91st Psalm, after which the congregation sung, "When I can Read my Title Clear to Mansions in the Skies." The pastor then called on the congregation to join in silent prayer, which was followed by a touching address by him. After several of the brethren and sisters had offered prayers in behalf of the General, the following resolutions were offered by Bro. T. H. Hutchinson, recording steward and secretary of the above named church:

Whereas, Ex-President U. S. Grant, who has done so much by his wise counsel to for[illegible] building of this [illegible] and industrially, is [illegible] from the [illegible] therefore, be it

Resolved, That [illegible] the lingering condition [illegible] church, and especially our [illegible] hold prayer meet[illegible] behalf.

Signed: Rev. [illegible], P. C., T. H. [illegible], H. Wilson, H. Smith, Fred. H. Bunton.

The following resolutions were also passed by those present:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to afflict one of America's greatest sons, Gen. U. S. Grant; and,

Whereas, He has so endeared himself to the hearts of every true American citizen; by his great achievements, both in time of war and peace, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we bow in humble submission to the will of God; and with grateful hearts acknowledge his kindness in giving us for a leader such a man as Gen. Grant.

Resolved, That our hearts are saddened by the knowledge of his suffering, and that we offer our united prayers to God that his sufferings may be alleviated and his life prolonged; and, be it further

Resolved, That we acknowledge and appreciate the blessings that God has bestowed upon us through General Grant, and that we sympathize with his family in their affliction.

Signed: Rev. John Qualls, T. H. Hutchinson, M. Wilson, Fred. H. Bunton.

For the SOUTHWESTERN

St. Joseph Lodge No. 15 F. A. A. M.

MR. EDITOR—We forward to you for publication the following to wit: The St. Joseph Lodge No. 15 F. A. A. M. had a Masonic sermon delivered on the night of April 19th, 1885, at the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, to an assembly of 800 persons, for the benefit of the St. Joseph Lodge No. 15 of the above town. The St. Joseph Lodge at their regular meeting unanimously passed the following resolution to wit:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks is hereby tendered to Bro. Marcus Dale, of the Gilbert Lodge No. 6 of New Orleans, for his masterly Masonic address, delivered at the the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, of Thibodaux, for the benefit of our Lodge; Be it further Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to present the resolution adopted by the Lodge to Bro. Marcus Dale. The W. M. appointed J. M. Ricard, J. L. Robinson and the W. M. included.

J. M. RICARD,
J. L. ROBINSON,
O. ROUSSEAU.
Committee.
ROUSSEAU, W. M.
L. A. WIGGINS, Sec'y.

The New Orleans Preachers Meeting.

The New Orleans Preachers Meeting was held Monday, April 20th, at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Jas. Hudson in the chair. The meeting opened with singing and prayer by Bro. Geo. North. The following brethren were present: S. Osborn, T. J. Johnson, John Qualls, W. P. Forest, Thos. Stalker, S. Duncan, J. Ben and Rev. Geo. Worth, of the Baptist Church, and T. James of the A. M. E. Church. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, as per motion offered at the last meeting. The order of the day was continued, conducted by Rev. Thos. Stalker. After an able discussion and thorough satisfaction the order of the day was dispensed with. By consent of those present the secretary of the last district conference was permitted to confer with the pastor of the Sixth Street Church as to the propriety of holding the next district conference there. An agreement not being reached the conference will meet at Mount Zion, on Jackson street, in May, 1885? The Rev. John Qualls was then appointed to open the discussion at the next meeting, to be held April 27, 1885, After which the meeting was closed, Rev. Stephen Priestley pronouncing the benediction.

JAS. W. HUDSON, Pres.
A. J. FORD, Secretary.

To the Women of the Shreveport District.

Dear Sisters—Seeing, by the minutes of the last Annual Conference (page 261) that I was appointed at the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, at the annual conference, manager of the Shreveport district, I hereby desire to let the heads of all societies in the said district know that I wish them to communicate with me as soon as possible concerning the following items: 1. The names of all the societies in said district. 2. The officers and their post office address. 3. The number of members in each society. 4. The funds received and expended, and for what purpose. 5. The number of teachers employed, if any, and the salary paid. 6. The number of scholars in each school, and any other items of interest. Make short reports and to the point. Any suggestion or assistance that I am able to render will be give with pleasure. Yours,

MRS. CORA REDMAN,
Dist. Manager W. H. M. S., Shreveport Dist., La. Conference.
Natchitoches, La., April 5, 1885.

Needs of the Negro.—VI.

R. P. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

We are glad to see that from all the dark places the thick shadows are falling, and the glorious sunlight of education and religion are advancing. The light is penetrating every dark corner from Lake Itasca and the frozen cities of the North to where the Mississippi mingles her golden thread in the blue of the Gulf of Mexico, and from where the Atlantic washes our eastern coast, to where the peaceful Pacific flows on our west. Now, in the face of these flattering prospects, we ask our white friends to aid our people in getting an education, and acquiring property. Give the Negro good and wholesome advice, and teach him by fair means that you are his friends. Abolish the chain gang system that places every man, woman, and child, of our race, on the streets, before the public gaze, for the most trivial crime, and abandon this iniquitous, plantation credit, cheating system, which keeps thousands of our people on large plantations in a worse state than slavery itself. The Negro is thirsting for knowledge and he will be gratified, God is raising up friends for him, who have the means to help to educate the race, and He will open their purses as well as their hearts in sympathy for the Negro. The Negro is beginning to look at things from an educational standpoint. He is learning the practical lessons of life with ease and thoroughness. Now, if the white people among whom we live will give the Negro kind treatment and fair dealings he will rise, and no people will more heartily rejoice that the Negro is intelligent than the Southern white people, themselves. Educate all classes and there will be less crime, fewer prison houses, fewer alms houses and asylums, fewer police and greater peace and prosperity will come to the country. Peace will reign in our mountains, and smile in our valleys.

The relations between the races will be more amicable, waste places will be built up, the vacant lands will be occupied, manufactories will be planted in every town and city in the South, the interest of the white man will be the interest of the black man, and instead of shipping our produce to other markets and having to purchase it in another form, we will manufacture our own goods at home and only ship our surplus. Science and literature will flourish and the South will become the garden spot of the world.

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

Is a Reliable Remedy for Liver Complaints and Illscaused by a deranged or torpid condition of the Liver, as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Jaundice, Headache, Malaria, Rheumatism, etc. It regulates the bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the system, directs digestion. AN INVALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINE. Thousands of testimonials prove its merit. ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

ap 30-13teownr

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown
365 Chippewa Street,
NEW ORLEANS LA.
OFFICE { From 8 to 10 a. m. / 2 to 4 p. m. } mar19-6m

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.
By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.
WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.
Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.
Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment."
"Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov15-1ycow

Thirty Years Record. HUNT'S KIDNEY LIVER REMEDY NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL. Endorsed by Physicians.

Kidney Diseases.

Few people are aware of the alarming prevalence of kidney diseases, especially among those who have arrived at, or are past, middle age. It is declared on good authority that fully one-half the deaths in this country are either directly or indirectly the result of kidney disease of some sort.

A great majority of men above forty years of age, are afflicted with some sort of affection of the kidneys or bladder and these diseases are on the increase. Persons are often seriously affected before they know of it themselves, and thus these insidious disorders get a good foothold before anything is done to dislodge them.

Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Incontinence, Debility, Catarrh of the Bladder, Albumenuria, etc., are among the many forms of these diseases. Most of these are very difficult to cure, defying the powers oftentimes of the best physicians obtainable, and are pronounced by many to be incurable.

Physicians state that many forms of Kidney Disease are very difficult to detect, as, in diseases of this form, oftentimes there are no symptoms of a marked nature. This is one of the reasons why they are so difficult to cure.

HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY is a specific for Kidney and Liver troubles, Bladder and Urinary Diseases, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes and all of that class of disorders.

It cures Biliousness, Headache, Jaundice, Liver, and Stomach troubles, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles.

It cures Intemperance, Nervous Diseases, General Debility, Female Weaknesses and Excesses.

It is thoroughly reliable, highly recommended, works promptly, relieves at once, and was never known to fail. USE IT AT ONCE.

Sold by all druggists. Price $1.25

HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.
C. N. CRITTENDEN, General Agent, New York.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS,
17 & 29 West 2d St., New York.
Have now ready
The History of the Negro Race in America.
From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens.
Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Government of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R., of Ohio.
Popular Edition, two volumes in one, large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.
"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it."—World, New York.
"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.
"He has accomplished a noble service for his race."—Zion's Herald, Boston.
☞ This book can be ordered through the office of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, New Orleans, La.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!
A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.
Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards, 25 cents; per dozen by express, $2.00, per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.
FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.
MRS. TENA BURTON,
100.....Franklin Street.....100
Lodging,
With or Without Board.
mar26-6m

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov23-1y

E. W. Scheffel,
GENERAL
Book-Binder,
Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer,
37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.
Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. ja15-1y

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager.)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
S.....Toulouse Street.....S
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.
☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-1y

Baltimore Church Bells
Since 1844 celebrated for Superiority over others, are made only of Purest Bell Metal, (Copper and Tin,) Rotary Mountings, warranted satisfactory. For Prices, Circulars, &c., address BALTIMORE BELL FOUNDRY, J. REGESTER & SONS, Baltimore, Md.
apr30 26teow.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL MUSIC BOOKS.
HEAVENLY VOICES.
Just out! Entirely new! The very book you want for your Sunday-School. Contains the richest and most beautiful songs ever collected in one volume. Send for sample copy before buying.
SABBATH BELLS.
The finest collection of Sunday songs yet published. Thousands of copies have been sold during the past year. It is full of gems. Will mail to any part of the world a sample copy of either Heavenly Voices or Sabbath Bells, upon receipt of 35c. or both for 50c.
FIRESIDE-FRIEND PUB. CO., NEW CARLISLE, O.
ap23-2t

GENERAL GRANT.

BY AURELIUS MARTIN.

We saw the noble Warrior in those years
That tried the souls of men with steel and hate.
Firm as the native rock and calm as fate,
The high conclusion of the Powers await,
While millions shrank and trembled at their fears.

We saw him mighty mover of the plan
With legions meeting legions in the sea
Of conflict, draw the smoke of victory
About his greatness., veil of modesty,
And stand supreme, the simple, silent man.

And such he is to-day. Alone and bowed
With blow severe he meets upon the field
Of life and death the greater foe no shield
Can ward at final stroke, and will not yield;

Of great cares bore hard, await the scales
Of doom Alone! Oh, no! Again, the Nation
Wrestles; now in prayer and hope, from station
More sublime, and victory's jubilation
Would be swelled by undivided Hails.

O Hero, with the laurel branch for aye!
Renewal of highest civic thought confessed,
Lean to the Nation's deeply throbbing breast,
Nor fear (thou dost not) now to take thy Rest—
A grateful people will not let thee die.
—Boston Journal.

Domestic Hygiene.

The Idiosyncracy of Food.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

It is a curious fact that some persons can not endure to eat certain kinds of food. If by any mishap they partake of these they act as a poison to the system, always causing great inconvenience, and sometimes followed by grave results. I have collected a few such illustrations. There is a Methodist preacher in Indiana who can not under any circumstances eat egg or anything which has egg in it. I have been with him several times at table, and he invariably inquires if there is any egg in the food offered to him. If there is any sign of egg he refuses it. Egg, if eaten, produces a most intense pain. If by any means it is discovered and he eats of it, in a very few minutes he becomes conscious of the presence of egg in the system, attacks of pain which require prompt treatment to obtain relief. [illegible] cannot eat [illegible] a poor ex- [illegible] creating severe pain in the [illegible] and abdomen. The pain [illegible] and continues for some [illegible] and is not removed without [illegible] measures.

On one occasion two [illegible] one of whom was a [illegible] introduced some cheese [illegible] his food unbeknown to him. He ate it and had severely [illegible] in connection with cholic, and was with difficulty relieved.

The following illustration is from the Journal:

[illegible] is a gentleman of robust [illegible] living in Hamilton to [illegible] system egg is poison. A [illegible] of coffee seasoned with egg unsettles his stomach and makes him sick. The presence of egg in any [illegible] he eats nauseates him, and [illegible] the twentieth part of an egg has made him sick for days. [illegible] broken eggs blisters his [illegible], and to eat a single egg he [illegible] would kill him.

Dr. Lowry, of Marion, Indiana, gives two cases in illustration of the [illegible] effect of food. "I [illegible] a case of [illegible] who, whenever he eats a [illegible] of oysters, is immediately [illegible] with nettle rash, and has [illegible] in breathing. In fact, [illegible] is so grave as to necessi- [illegible] a physician." Of the [illegible] Oct 8 [illegible] the individual eats [illegible] has relief with a [illegible] of the stomach, vomiting [illegible] which would probably [illegible] fatal if he did not [illegible] In this case sweet pota- [illegible] when on trying [illegible] symptoms followed, [illegible] some persons backwards [illegible], causing quite [illegible] by permanent [illegible] will give the [illegible] rash [illegible] cases, [illegible] burning [illegible] is so [illegible] symp- [illegible] pain may [illegible]

[illegible] toms. I shall not soon forget the severe sickness caused one Sunday by eating of honey. I had abstained from dinner until about 4 o'clock, and then among other food partook of some old honey. Within five minutes the agony was beyond description, and it was several hours before relief was secured.

Some kinds of fish are poisonous at certain seasons of the year. Their flesh when eaten produces alarming symptoms which must be speedily relieved or great evils will result. In these instances it is probable the changes of temperature produce some changes in the flesh, developing poisonous acids which, remaining in the flesh, are taken into the system, and then work their injury. This is animal poison. It has long been observed that "sudden and violent shocks to mothers so change the lacteal fluid that it produces sudden attacks of the most dangerous disease, and death in the nursling." In some way the violent changes fully arouse some latent animal poison in the mother's blood, which is secreted in the milk, and to the child becomes a rank poison. Mutton, against which the wool of the pelt has rubbed when in the process of butchering, becomes very offensive to some tastes, and even acts as a poison to some persons. This is for the same reason that some men cannot work at sorting wool without being poisoned by the wool-sorter's disease. This is largely seen in Spain, where it is said to often prove fatal. It is thought that the Van Mohair wool is more poisonous than any other. The poison requires about four days for incubation. Dr. Arvine gives the case of a gentleman of his own acquaintance "who can not handle our native wool without becoming poisoned by it. In his case a peculiar eruption appears on his hands and arms, then spreads over his person." It is undoubted by the animal poison "emanating from the peculiar excreta of the different species of animals, producing the wool." This coming in contact with the flesh renders it poisonous. It is very true what is meat to one is death to another. I know a young man who cannot taste butter, unless it has been melted, without becoming sick. The taste of the butter is not unpleasant to him, but its effects are bad. The heat probably drives off some animal poison and renders it healthful to him.

After a time people can learn what kinds of food particularly agree with them, and carefully abstain from all that is injurious.

[illegible] a Stitch, [illegible] can kill a [illegible] if the [illegible] to be found when only a little [illegible] so consumption, that deadliest and most fatal of diseases in this country, can generally be conquered and destroyed if Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" be employed early.

It is understood that the policy of the Administration with regard to appointments to places in Southern States that are now held by colored Republicans, will be not to [illegible] colored men [illegible] to replace incompetent or [illegible] colored Republicans with colored Democrats who are worthy and capable. In accordance with this [illegible] the Postmaster General, has just appointed as Representative Tom Hamilton of Beaufort, route agent from Beaufort to Jacksonboro, S. C. Hamilton was leader of a small band of colored men who [illegible] the Hampton Government in South Carolina in 1876.

General Sir Herbert Stewart, who was wounded at the battle of Abu Klea, died.

As to Mrs. Grundy.

This potent personage has been allowed to rule [illegible] despotically in the feminine world, and the ladies say that at a time her tyranny receive a check. But not even Mrs. Grundy has dared to speak against the value of Brown's Iron Bitters as a strengthening tonic for ladies who suffer from debility. It enriches the blood and completely restores failing health. Miss Annie L. Pauly, Wrightsville, Pa., was cured by Brown's Iron Bitters of back ache, kidney trouble, and liver complaint.

Symposium of the Preachers.

Designing men may "steal the livery of heaven," the better to cover up their unholy purposes; they may even enter the ministry, make long and loud prayers, and observe all the external forms of religion in order to be "seen of men;" but there is one thing hypocrisy will never do—it will never lead a man to shut himself in with God—Pittsburg Advocate.

Friends are those who prove their friendship, and no political platform is strong enough to support a man who ignores the rights of our people.—Elevator.

The conditions of this Republic make the interests of the people common, there can therefore be no class party, whose plans of party can meet the national will, yet all parties, hower small in their organization, and however selfish they may seem, are useful and suggestive in the national council to choose a President.—Ohio Falls Express.

M. Dedicating treasures. 2 Chron. v.

T. Dedicating the people. 2. Chron. vii.

W. Dedicating oneself. Rom. xii.

T. Generous giving. Ex. xxxvi; 1-8.

F. "In this grace also." 2. Cor. viii.

S. Our great example. Phil. ii.

S. A new covenant. Ezek. xxxvi. 22 38—Christian Statesman.

Our fathers did not preach holiness all the time; they preached "Watson's Institutes" and "Wesley's Sermons." That is, they followed them, especially in doctrine. Ministers are themselves to be judges of what is best for their people. No one wants to board where they have nothing but pound cake and ice cream, nor where they live on pork and beans. "Preach the Word", as you find it. As a matter of course, ministers ought to preach holiness.—California Advocate.

O, my back! That lame back is caused by kidney disease. Stop it at once by Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy.

The colored people of Washington celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of the emancipation of slaves in the District of Columbia, April 16th. The celebration consisted of a street parade during the day, and commemorative exercises at Lincoln Memorial Church in the evening. About five thousand persons, members of the various civic and military associations of colored people of Washington, took part in the parade, which was reviewed by President Cleveland, from the portico of the White House. At the meeting in Lincoln Memorial Church to-night, Mr. Bruce Register, of the Treasury, presided, and Fred Douglass was the orator of the occasion. The other speakers were Prof. J. M. Gregory, A. H. A. Smith, Rev. R. S. Laws, J. T. Johnson and W. C. Chase.

Concerning Red Hair.

Many people admire red hair, but if you do not, Parker's Hair Balsam will impart to it a darker hue. It will also thicken the hair, eradicate dandruff, and impart softness, glossiness and life to hair which has become dry and harsh. Not a dye, does not soil the linen. Gives a delicious perfume. An elegant dressing.

Chicago, April 16.—At the quarterly meeting of the Illinois State Board of Health held in Chicago, Dr. Rauch, the Secretary, in his report, spoke of information having been received from private sources that Asiatic cholera existed in Paris up to January 16; that it had since broken out in Southern Russia; that it had appeared in Valencia, Spain, in March, and that there was danger of its introduction into the Mediterranean by ship from Bombay. In view of these reports, the Board considered the question of maritime quarantine of great importance.

"The play's the thing.
Wherein I'll reach the conscience of the king.

And equally true is it that Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" (the original Little Liver Pills) are the most effectual means that can be used to reach the seat of disease, cleansing the bowels and system, and assisting nature in her recuperative work. By druggists.

International Lesson Committee.

The "International Lesson Committee," under whose direction the Sunday schools of the United States and Canada have been regulated, as to the details of their work, for some fourteen years past, met, at the Grand Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio, April 15. The object of the meeting was to consider questions connected with the course of study for the coming series. The preliminary work was done in executive session.

The active members of the committee present were as follows: Rev. John H. Vincent, D. D., Connecticut, M. E. Church; Rev. John Hall, D. D., New York, Presbyterian Church; Rev. Warren Randolph, D.D., Rhode Island, Baptist Church; Chancellor S. H. Blake, Ontario, Canada, Protestant Episcopal Church; Rev. W. G. E. Cunnyngham, D. D., Tennessee, South M. E. Church; Prof. John A. Broadus, D. D., Kentucky, Baptist Church; Prof. H. L. Baugher, D. D., Pennsylvania, Lutheran Church; Rev. John Potts, D. D., Quebec, Methodist Church of Canada; Rev. A. S. Dunning, D. D., Massachusetts, Congregational Church; Prof. J. I. D. Hinds, Ph. D., Tennessee, Cumberland Presbyterian Church; Rev. Isaac Errett, D. D., Ohio, Christian Church; Rev. D. Berger, D. D., Ohio, United Brethren Church.

The session was largely taken up in the reading of reports, and the consideration of the work contemplated for the next series of lessons.

Letters were received from the following corresponding members, and their contents were the subject matter of careful consideration: John Fountain Hartley, London (Eng.) Sunday-school Union; Wm. Grasen, London, (Eng.) Sunday-school Union; Rev. C. H. Kelley, London, (Eng.) Wesleyan Church; Rev. John Munro, Gibson, London, (Eng.) Presbyterian Church; Pastor Jean Paul Cooke, Paris, France.

The meetings will be continued, and a mass meeting at Trinity M. E. Church. The mapping out of the series of lessons for the Sunday-schools for the next seven years will be of general interest. Among those who are expected to be present are: Chancellor S. H. Blake, of Toronto, one of the leading men of the Canadian Church; Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Montreal; Rev. A. S. Dunning, D. D., of Boston, and Rev. John H. Vincent, D. D., of New York. The exercises will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Good news ought to be told; and it is good news that Hunt's Remedy has cured the worst of kidney diseases, and can do it again.

A number of cannon, supposed to be relics of the English fleet that was wrecked off Pointe aux Anglais about two hundred years ago, were washed upon shore by the late storms on the western coast of South America.

DYSPEPSIA

CURES and completely DRIVES DYSPEPSIA from all its forms, Heartburn, Nausea, Vomiting the Food, &c. It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the digestive, and aids the assimilation of food. Rev. J. J. ROBERTS, the renowned preacher of the Baltimore Conference, Md., says: "Having used Brown's Iron Bitters for Dyspepsia and debility, I take great pleasure in recommending it highly. Also consider it a splendid tonic and invigorator, and very strengthening."

Genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD. Send for 32-page pamphlet HAND BOOK—useful and attractive, containing list of prizes for recipes, information about [illegible] sent free by all dealers in medicine, or mailed to any address on receipt of 2c. stamp.

20 YEARS OF SUCCESS. JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. How John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "I regard [illegible] as an authority second to [illegible] Agents wanted everywhere. Will allow good men [illegible] per month to good [illegible] Apply at once. The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30 52t

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4. Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 75 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3, Daily.	No. 1, ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 knt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	7 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 20 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos. 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.

No. 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m, Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m.

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks, apply to any office of C. & O. R'y, or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

O. W. SMITH, Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—
Cincinnati,
Louisville,
Washington,
Baltimore,
New York and the East,
In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves.	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Knickern, Ticket Agent, J. T. Harahan, General Manager, John Kilbeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M. Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.
a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. St. L. & C. 4

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Kankak, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, O. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lewis, Trav. Pass. Agt., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
Great Jackson Route.
Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE	ARRIVE
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3..9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5..6:05 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.
J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 235 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Padnucah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom. Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 55 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 13 a m	.....
" Grayson Springs	11 13 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 p m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 p m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" River	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	2 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. M. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL,
Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route, mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent:
31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS Adopted by all the great Tropical and Polar Explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
feb19-13t

General News Items.

The treaty between Germany and the Transvaal has been signed.

The National Grand Camp U. B. F. is called to meet in the city of Memphis, in July, 1885. All Camps in good standing must be present.

England is disturbed over the reports that many Russians are appearing in Afghanistan, and their visit is connected with a rumored scheme of Russia to annex Afghanistan.

An Arabian paper reports that the mahdi promised Farag 140,000 thalers to betray Khartoum, but gave him only 60,000, and when Farag complained the mahdi hanged him. It is said the mahdi captured 15,000 rifles at Khartoum.

President Cleveland issued a proclamation annulling the Executive order of February 27, 1885, opening the Winnebago Reservation to settlers. He holds that the order was in contravention of treaty obligations with the Indians.

America pays whiskey-dealers more than she pays the laboring classes. Drink costs three times as much as we pay for public schools, and eighteen times as much as we give to the poor.

The New York Tribune recently stated that "one in twenty of the inhabitants of this country are rendered idle and incapacitated for work through the liquor traffic, and these, if not idle, would, at ordinary wages, earn $200,000,000 annually.

It is said the Hon. Leland Stanford, recently elected United States Senator from California, will leave a fortune of $15,000,000 to that State. The State debt, $3,000,000, is to be paid and the large balance is to be used as a fund for a [illegible] system of popular education.

The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce cures "female weakness" and kindred affections. By druggists.

The log crop for the Au Sable and its tributaries, says the Saginaw Republic, will reach 127,000,000 feet, being 100,000,000 less than that of 1883; and seventy-five per cent less than 1884. There is also still on hand from last year nearly 20,000,000 feet. The pine timber in the Au Sable region is good for fifteen or twenty years, and at the end of that time lumbermen will turn their attention to cedar, of which there is an inexhaustible supply.

[illegible] writes: "Dec 4 [illegible] Columbus, Ohio [illegible] should just as soon think of doing without my meals as without my medicine. I have been doctoring for about four years with [illegible] all the [illegible] read your book and felt like [illegible] have as much to say for the Remedies as I [illegible] so wonderfully I see. There were two of our [illegible] in yesterday [illegible] the Remedy. I gave them [illegible] to [illegible] ly.- [illegible] is something [illegible] Mrs. Mike Ingersoll, [illegible] and [illegible] on my collar bone, and it was a long time before it looked like [illegible]. The doctor said he would have to [illegible] at first, but I [illegible] it would [illegible] to that myself, so I [illegible] salve, and [illegible] and [illegible] It got so bad [illegible] left [illegible] two pieces on [illegible] and one [illegible]

The N. Y. Sun has always been an admirer of the military career of General Grant, and publishes this pleasant communication:

"Why Grant was popular with the soldiers." "One of the chief characteristics of General Grant was his unostentatious manner, a trait which endeared him to the hearts of his soldiers. While the army which was to operate against Vicksburg was encamped at Milliken's bend, on the Mississippi river, a part of my regiment, the Eighty-third O. V. I., was detailed for duty at General John A. McClernand's headquarters, a fine old Southern mansion being used for the purpose. The guards were stationed near the gates, from which a gravel walk led up to the house, and our principal duty was to salute officers as they passed through. Keeping a man on the lookout, the rest of us would while away the time at cards or mill, which was a favorite amusement. When an officer made his appearance at the gate we fell promptly in line and gave salute demanded by his rank. Occasionally General McClernand would dash through the gate on a spirited horse, followed by his retinue of aides, when we were always found at our posts, with our guns to a present arms."

"One day as some of us were standing near the gate, while the others were indulging in a quiet game of mill, a soldier was seen coming toward us, walking on the raised levee which skirts the river. We paid no attention to him, as he seemed simply a private, bearing no insignia of rank, until, as he was about to enter the gates, one of the boys recognized the features of General Grant. A scene of confusion ensued. Our Sergeant yelled, 'Guards, turn out!' and we made a hasty scramble for our guns to do honor to our chief. But the great General entered and walked quietly up the path, and, with a kindly smile and a wave of the hand, said, 'Never mind, boys, never mind!'

"No General was ever more beloved by his soldiers.

A. A. FINLEY, Corporal Co. B.
"Eighty-third O. V. I."

Wants the Facts Known.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good, I feel it due your readers to advise them, when an honest and good medicine like Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic can be had.

Very truly, AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The TIMES DEMOCRAT,
NEW ORLEANS,
—AND—
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The NEW YORK WORLD,
NEW YORK,
FOR ONE YEAR
Only $2.20.
OR
THE TWO WEEKLIES
—AND A—
Waterbury Watch and Chain FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive comercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The subscription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted on the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking the Weekly, and get an [illegible] Waterbury Watch for the small [illegible]

[illegible] WATCH is a stem-winder, [illegible] and [illegible] keeper. The case is [illegible] will always remain [illegible] The watch [illegible] [illegible] The watch [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES. Lesson V. A. D. 62. May 3. Obedience, Eph. 6, 1-18. Golden Text, Eph. 6, 1.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Obedience, Eph. 6, 1-13.
Tu.—Standing in the Lord; Eph. 6, 14-24.
W.—Obedience with charity; Col. 3, 12-25.
Th.—Obedience to superiors; Titus 2, 1-15.
F.—Persons without respect before God; Rom. 2, 1-13.
S.—Strength in God; Eph. 3, 1-21.
S.—Obedience with willingness; Psa. 18, 41-50.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. The Christian Home, v. 1-9.
What command is given to children?
How is this the first command with promise?
What is the promised result?
What command is given to parents?
In what is the wisdom of this command?
What class is next addressed?
Against what are they warned?
In whose sight should service be rendered?
Who are masters to treat servants?
2. The Christian Warrior, v. 10-13.
What exhortation is given in v. 10?
With what should the Christian be armed?
What do the Christian's enemies?
What exhortation is renewed?
What is the object of being thus armed?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

How does this lesson show—
1. That obedience is a Christian duty?
2. That the strong are not to despise the weak?
3. That Christian life is a warfare?

Devotional Suggestion—Evil spirits, personalities.

Marriages.

Rev. J. W. Thomas and Miss Sofronia [illegible] were married in the M. E. Church, [illegible], Mo., by Rev. J. W. Lesch, [illegible], 1885.

W. W. Dudley and Miss Bettie Smith were married, at the residence of the bride's mother, in Rolling Fork, Miss., Rev. W. R. Potter officiating.

Mr. [illegible] Gaston and Miss Hester Cannon were married at the M. E. Church in [illegible], Miss., April 20, 1885; Rev. P. [illegible] officiating.

Mr. John Sterling and Miss Caroline [illegible] were married in Shubuta, Miss., [illegible], 1885.

Mr. C. R. Smith and Miss Emma Shelton were married at the residence of the bride's father, Allaytea, Texas, April 16, 1885, Rev. [illegible] officiating.

Obituary.

[illegible] died at Hempstead, Texas, [illegible], 1885.

[illegible] died in Longdale, Miss., [illegible], 1885.

Mrs. [illegible] Miller departed this life [illegible], 1885, leaving a husband and [illegible] children.

[illegible] died at Salt Lake, Utah, [illegible], 1885. She was 70 years of age, [illegible] a member of the [illegible] Church.

[illegible] died at [illegible], Texas, [illegible], 1885, of [illegible] fever

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20—NO 19. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MAY 7, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 808.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

Published by

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

38 Bourbon Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Entered at the Post-office of New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

Preachers of the Methodist Episco... may begin at any time and the... Registered Letter... Express... must be ad...

ADVERTISING RATES.

... cents,
... "
... "
... "
... cents per cm

Editorial Notes.

The time of the New Orleans District Conference has been changed from May 14th to May 21.

A Christian is a believer, disciple, saint, ... soldier, friend, pilgrim, ... hero. Are you a Christ...

... sin's going to hold you ... if you keep on ... Amelia Fountain said to ...

... pastor to [illegible] Rev. ...

The SOUTHWESTERN is set for the elevation of the Negroes as Negroes, the peers of all other people naturally, and for the cultivation of such kindly relations between them and the whites, North and South, as will most rapidly tend to improve and equalize all the circumstances of both races.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette seems to be engaged in an effort just now to intensify the partizan feeling which in the South has wrought so disastrously without any compensating benefit to any one. We have a good hope that by wisdom in policy the future may witness a political reformation in this region.

Hon. George H. Pendleton was banquetted by admiring friends in Cincinnati, April 16. It would have been an elegant affair but for the intemperate use of liquors. At least one of the distinguished visitors, and an important government official, needed assistance to reach his home after the feast was over. We need prohibition.

We noticed a large patent medicine sign over a minister's door lately, and underneath the words "For Sale Here; A. B. C., agent." We wondered if that preacher knew what the medicine he sold contained; to what, if any extent, it was poisonous; and whether or not the use of it had caused the death of any of his members or other simple people who may have bought it.

Mr. H. H. Thomas, of Bay City Michigan, is an expert in the manufacture of dynamite and declares it to be less destructive and not so much to be feared as ordinary powder. It is indispensable for ... stumps and clearing ... soil. It is in common use ... farmers, miners and quarry ... and answers a useful end. It ... fully over-rated as a destroyer ... solid substances, according to this authority.

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy; six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; in it thou shalt not do any work. Thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor the stranger that is within thy gates; for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth and all that in them is, and rested on the seventh; wherefore the Lord blessed and hallowed it."

Since England has fallen back upon for Indian Contingent to help out with the Soudan difficulty we hear less demagogy about the Mohammedans. These British Indians are themselves Mohammedans, yet it is regarded as worthy of England to employ them in a contest ostensibly waged against their own religion. "Modesty where is they blush" And where oh, consistency, hidest thou thy jeweled face?"

General Grant seems to be disposed to spoil a good many obituaries by living a few years longer. We grant that he may do so. We write obituaries of men only after they are dead. He will have the satisfaction of knowing that a good many people who spoke evil of him while living would have spoken differently of him dead. It is hard that a man must die to get the truth told on him, when it is favorable to him, but such is apparently the unwritten law of this country.

Church Lyceums; their Perils and their Remedy.—III.

REV S. OLIN GARRISON.

[Concluded].

3. The Lyceum is often so conducted as to break down distinctions between the church and the world. If the worldly spirit is in the lyceum it carries with it the truth of this third peril. The result is not only the unconverted lose their religious respect for the church in general, but also the Christian portion of the lyceum has practically no hold upon their religious portion. It is not altogether an exceptional thing for the young people to murmur a little because revival meetings interfere with their lyceum meetings. Indeed instances are on record where in the midst of a revival the young people have been called together to attend these secondary matters. And here I may say, not only is this third peril a fit subject for lyceum education, but our Christian young people need be taught that in their zeal and methods in debates and disputes of all kinds the eyes of the unconverted are upon them.

I will not lengthen this letter by further reciting perils. Enough have been brought forward to show the serious necessity on the part of the church to look into and provide for the weakness and dangers of this great educational work in the modern church. Unless men become discouraged thereby, they are best prepared to build up any cause who best know the difficulties and embarrassments of that cause. It is therefore well in considering the remedies to know what is to be cured before we give a prescription.

THE REMEDY.

The best remedy I can name is a mighty baptism of the Holy Ghost upon the church at large, such a baptism as has not been felt for a quarter of a century or more. This outpouring of the spirit will reach the preacher, the educational committee, the young people themselves, and will correct and stimulate the intelligent and educated membership from which come the leaders in all these movements. There is a helpful remedy also, it seems to me in a general lyceum association. For cities like Philadelphia and Camden, such an association under wise leadership could do immese good. A call might be issued to all lyceums in these two cities and vicinity, to send three or more delegates to a lyceum convention. Such a convention could adopt a constitution, and relate under certain qualifications of membership all local lyceums in the vicinity to itself. One feature might be a general visiting committee to attend the meetings of the several local lyceums, for kindly, helpful, criticisms and suggestions. Quarterly delegated public meetings could be held, at which lyceums might make quite full reports; talent could be secured to address the association on the perils, the need, the methods of lyceum work. Plans could be given, mistakes corrected, the true idea of a church lyceum in distinction from a lyceum of worldly people only could be set forth. Moreover, co operation between lyceums could be had in holding meetings, in purchasing instruments, diagrams and the like for illustration and experiments. This too, would foster a fraternal spirit. The educational and other value of such an association wisely managed would be incalculable. Thus, I believe if the right people, especially laymen, would take hold of the work, this educational stream could be kept between legitimate banks and do great service.

Philadelphia, December 8th, 1884.

Needs of the Negro.—VIII.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

Again the question arises: "What are the needs of the Negro?" We need leaders. When I say leaders I do not mean the time-serving, lick-spittle, the self-seeking parasite, the obsequious go-between, swaggering insolence, skulking cowardice in leadership, nor any man who is ashamed or mean enough, because his color does not betray him, to deny that he is a Negro. We want leaders who are not ashamed of the race. Leaders who are possessed of brains, character, courage, zeal, earnestness, firmness, energy, stability and tact. We want brave and honest leaders, who do not work for pelf and self, place and office. We want leaders who can not be bought though they be the poorest of the race. For if our leaders can be bought the evil will spread downward and become an epidemic among the entire race. Principle will be abandoned, honesty will be forgotten, and society will become a wreck through gain, place and money. We want leaders who will study the history of the best benefactors of their race, and they will find that in all times and ages, even the poorest of these men inspired by duty have refused to sell themselves for money. Among the Israelites, among the Greeks, and among the Romans the best benefactors of their race were poor men. They worked for honor, for love and for character. Many of them suffered death rather than abandon their views of right. We want leaders who will conduct themthemselves nobly, preserve their purity and always defend the right. Such leaders will be loved by good men, feared by bad men and imitated by the youth of the land. We want leaders who know the history of the race from the building of the Egyptian pyramids and other African monuments, splendid even in their ruins, that stand as a demonstration of the Negroes' inventive skill. We want leaders who know the history of the race from the time that Africa gave letters to Greece through its degeneration, slavery, trials, struggles and achievements; and who can from that history draw inspiration for the great work that is to be accomplished. We want leaders who are friends to classical, mechanical, agricultural and professional education for our rising young men, and a thorough, refined and an accomplished education for our rising young women. The race needs leaders who will neither touch, taste, handle or put to the lips of their neighbors, in private or in public, on land or on sea, at home or abroad, the accursed cup of drink. Our leaders must be Christian men who have given the subject of intemperance a careful and prayerful study, and can sustain their teaching against this enemy by such proverbs in the Bible as "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." "He that loveth pleasure shall be poor; he that loveth wine shall not be rich."

Wendell Phillips.—VII.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS.

The arch-abolitionist was older than John Brown, William Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips and a host of others, yes, older than the "everlasting hills" is Love, whose other name is Justice, which was before Moses, before Lycurgus, before Alfred the Great, before slavery, and will be after it.

The emancipation proclamation of President Lincoln gave the giants of the anti-slavery movement a breathing spell, but Mr. Phillips kept up the anti slavery societies, until he saw the adoption of the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments.

But this great philanthropist could not long remain idle. He soon enlisted the cause of temperance reform, and became one of its most able advocates. He was interested in every thing that concerned the elevation of the human race.

The labor reform movement met with his approval, and the success which it has achieved has been mainly due to the untiring and indefatigable labor of Wendell Phillips.

The next time that he came before the people, like a Titan giant in defense of human rights, was in Faneuil Hall in 1875, in the defense of General Grant's Louisiana Policy.

The utilitarian politicians and demagogues had called a meeting to denounce the soldier President of the Republic. They condemned the policy of protecting the sanctity of the ballot box, by the authority of the United States Government, and clamorously demanded the removal of troops from Louisiana.

They alleged, as argument, if the Negroes were in a majority they were free and amply able to defend themselves against a minority of the whites.

Mr. Phillips made one of his grandest and most logical soulstirring speeches on this occasion. It was flashed all over this wide spread Union in twenty-four hours, and all the States, except those that had been lately in rebellion, chimed in with Mr Phillips in the support of the policy of the President.

Tobacco Under the Pulpit.

REV. WILLIE H. JACKSON P. C.

With the aid of the trustees and carpenter I removed the pulpit of Pleasant Grove Methodist Episcopal Church, of Brenham circuit. The contents bestowed away under there were 100 copies of the precious Good Tidings, date 1882, etc., and a large quantity of chewed ends. The carpenter, a sinner, said that precious stuff cost 80cts per pound, but I thought the ministers of your Church did not use it. I replied that is the law of our Church, but he said the ministers preaches it, and there can't be anything done about it, Well replied I, they are the light of the people and that its not allowed any member of our Church to use it. Well said he, how than can the minister teach the people to quit it, when he uses it. Oh said he, the ministers teach them not to do as they do but as they tell them.

Mr. Editor, that's some old Baptist doctrine, as we Methodist Episcopals have a few of them among us. Well Doctor, you want to know how the tobacco gets in the pulpit, well I will tell you, here comes a brother, enters traveling connection without tobacco or with it hidden, the bishop ordains him deacon. Takes the vow he will never use it. Takes a little during his deaconism. Travels until the bishop with the aid of elders, ordained him elder. Then he takes the water brash, it compels him to use tobacco, if not he is now an elder and nothing may be done with him; he now goes into the pulpit with his cud in his mouth, and the local preachers sit, by him, each has a cud, when they get up to open service, each cud goes under the pulpit.

Now, Mr. Editor, you see how it gets into the pulpit. They can't tell their local preacher to turn an ordained elder out for using tobacco. Mr. Editor, I can never forget the words that dropped from the pure lips of Bishop Harris at Navasota, November 23d, 1884, while admitting a few brothers into full connection, touching the uncleanness of the use of tobacco, and unfitness of those who follow it, for the Gospel ministry. He thought they would soon die. There must be a plan fixed to keep these new elders from using it if they die soon. To the ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church—Don't forget Bro. H. Webb's sermon, keep your reflectors clean, quit preaching, "don't do as I do, but as I tell you, etc." Then the reflector will give better light, and our Church will be the purest on the globe. Yes, when there is a law enacted and enforced that these young elders can be prohibited using the cud on account of sickness, it will continue to grow, every man as soon as he gets his elder's orders he will use tobacco because there is no law to prevent him, he is an elder, he will ruin a charge where there are 200 members. After a while here comes a pastor who don't use the weed, he tries to do away with it, they will say our other pastor used it, and he was as good as you are, you come here meddling with our tobacco. I say this of the Texas conference, and especially Navasota district, of which I am a member. I pray that the time may come when this will be noticed while putting the brothers in full connection.

J. W.

The New Orleans Preachers Meeting.

The New Orleans Preachers Meeting, was opened Monday, April 27th, with singing by the president, and prayer by Prof. J. C. Hazeley, a native of Africa. The following brethren were present. T. P. Jackson, W. Murrell, E. Clarke, S. Osborne, M. Fairfax, T. J. Johnson, S. Duncan, M. Mason, and T. Stalker. The following visitors, were also present. Prof. J. C. Hazeley, of Africa; W. McDonald, of the Mississippi Conference, Russell B. Pope, of Ann Arbor, Mich.; J. T. Pope, of the Central Ohio Conference; John H. Cook, and S. H. Nevils, of the Mississippi Conference; and A. M. Green, of the A. M. E. Church. Bro. Stalker, was requested to give an address on Ephesians 6, 1 verse. Bro. Murrell was requested on motion to proceed with the topic of the day, as Bro. Qualls was absent. Bro. R. B. Pope gave an address, in which he stated, what he thought by observation, to be the worst evils in our people, to eradicate. He farther thought, that the Methodist Church, is the most powerful agency at work, to uproot them. Prof. J. C. Hazeley, was requested to speak on the condition of Africa, which he did in an able manner. Bro. Stalker was appointed by the president, to deliver an address on "The Woman's Home Missionary Society, and its relation to the Church." The meeting then adjourned. Benediction by Rev. R. B. Pope.

J. W. HUDSON, Pres't.
A. J. FORD, Sec'y.

From the Districts.

...t of Ohio District, Lexington Conference.

REV. JOSEPH COURTNEY.

To the Bishop and members of Lexington Annual Conference—Dear Fathers and Brethren—We ... greatly heightened, in that we ... privileged to grace your august ...nce and interest you by re... to you the general condi... of the work within the Ohio ... committed to our super... While it has been quite la... indeed, on account of the ... of the district, to superin... properly, yet, in the midst ... and intense labor, we ... enjoyed, in a measure, para... blessings, in that we were ... up and beautifying the ... of our blessed Redeemer. ... consciousness of Christian ... and the promise of a heavenly ... before us, labor was made ... pleasure. The closing of ... conference year brings to ... of us, if not to us all, a deep ... We hailed the appoint... of the much lamented and ...ved Bishop, Isaac William Wi... to preside over the deliberations ... conference with pro... admiration, but as it has ... our beneficent Father to ... him from earthly labors and ... him upon high to a more ... sphere, with a heart of sor... bow our heads in hum... to His will; and now, ... Bishop, we clothe you with ... mantle of reverence, of ... and the highest degree of ... honor, which we had in... to fling afresh upon the ... Wiley. We also, bespeak ... a thrice hearty welcome, ... you a warm place in the ... of the members of this con... and of the members and ... of Springfield.

...l year of American ..., which has just closed, ... beneficial to us in ... there are. The ... and Christ ... greatest encouragement ... and spiritually in ... Methodism ... in the ... Methodist ... lay men ... all the ... of ... ministry ... admin... part. ... CONDITION OF THE ... ... that there ... but few ... The most ... have enjoyed re... of grace, and ... back, saved ... ships mar... We are gener... a warm, co... people. ... our Christ... ... hearty ... condition. Two or three new schools have been organized this year; quite a number of the old ones blessed with an increase in scholarships. The schools throughout the district with but few exceptions, study the Berean Lessons. The work of the schools are considerably embarrassed and their progress somewhat impeded by not having competent superintendents and teachers. The most of them are reported as being organized into auxiliary missionary societies. We are happily anticipating that the charges will in the near future be very materially increased in membership and in intelligence from the Sabbath schools.

LITERATURE.

We deem the circulation of our Church literature as necessary now as at any time during the past. Because it has been a prime medium of conveying religious information to the masses of the people, as well as a potent factor in building up the church. Recognising the circulation of said literature to be the duty of Methodist ministers, we are pained to admit that, but little has been accomplished on this line by most of the ministers in this district, which accounts to a very considerable extent for the lethargy on the part of some of the members in the discharge of their duties, and their lack of information concerning the aggressive work of the church. An immediate vigilance and action in this particular would greatly augment the interest and growth of the church, by keeping the membership abreast with her onward march towards Christianizing the world.

BENEVOLENT CAUSES.

We have repeatedly brought before the quarterly conferences and urged the importance of the pastors and committees representing the benevolent causes to their public congregations, and allowing them an opportunity of contributing to the same. But with few exceptions this has not been done, hence, the failure in quite a number of the charges to raise their apportionment in full. I am of the opinion that a word to the brethren from our presiding ministers in regard to their duties toward the benevolent cause, would be helpful.

MATERIAL IMPROVEMENT.

In the line of material and permanent progress, we have succeeded in securing and refitting a neat church edifice in Cleveland, Ohio, centrally located upon a lot which we have leased for five years, with privilege of buying. The building is free from debt.

At Elyria, Ohio, a church site has purchased at a cost of $400 of which amount one-half has been been paid.

At Delaware, Ohio, an elegant piece of property has been purchased at a cost of $700. The residence on the lot has been converted into a first-rate place of worship. The outlook for our church here, in the near future, is good.

Madisonville et.—New church sites have been purchased both at Madisonville and Milford. The church at Milford has been removed and erected on the new lot and the one at Madisonville is in process of erection.

The church at Maysliek, Ky., which was built under an embankment some 10 or 12 feet below the pike, has been raised upon a level with the pike and otherwise improved.

At Maysville, Ky., a new two story brick church has been erected on a new site, with modern improvements after Church Extension plan No. 14. The congregation is now worshiping in the basement. The church when completed will cost about $7,000. A very remarkable feature about that charge is, that just as soon as they began to hold meetings in the new church, a revival started, in which scores of souls were converted and one hundred and eight accessions to the church.

I have held in person and by proxy 89 quarterly conferences; traveled in the discharge of official duties, about 5,000 miles; consecrated and assisted in the administration of the sacrament of the Lord's supper 62 times; preached 140 sermons; made several Centennial addresses on the Methodist Episcopal Church, and to the Sabbath-schools and in love-feast meetings.

West Tennessee District.

The first district conference of the West Tennessee district Tennessee conference convened at Martin, Tennessee, December 17th 1885, Rev. Jesse P. Price in the chair. Devotional exercises conducted by the elder, after which the elder spoke at some length upon the various benevolent enterprises of the Methodist Episcopal Church and their usefulness to the colored race. Which was received by every member who was present, after which the conference proceeded with the business on hand. On motion Elder E. M. Manson and J. A. W. Moore, were elected secretaries; J. W. Hall recording secretary; G. W. Marsh and J. L. Massey were elected statistical secretaries. The following committees were appointed by the chair: Education, Church Extension, Freedman's Aid, Sunday-school, Tract Society, Episcopacy, Woman's Home Missions and Foreign Missions, Centennial public worship. The conference was largely attended, pastors who were not present sent their report. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Marsh to a crowded house; Bro. Marsh stuck to his text, which showed that he was competent to handle his subject. The sermon of Bro. Marsh's made a lasting impression upon the people of Martin. Conference adjourned. Benediction by L. F. Douglass.

Second day—Rev. Jesse P. Price in the chair. Devotional exercise conducted by Rev. J. L. Massey. Question 9 was taken up; the presiding elder made his report, which was encouraging and showed that the district was in a hearty condition both spiritually and temporally. Each pastor made his report which showed that each circuit and station was trying to do better for the church. Each local preacher made their reports and showed that they were doing more than they had been doing in the past. Exhorters showed that they had gone in many destitute places which resulted in many converts for the cause of Christ. District stewards showed that the district was growing financially. A resolution was offerd by J. A. W. Moore that each pastor should urge upon their congregations to give more liberally to the benevolent enterprises of the church. At 7:30 o'clock, Bro. A. Swift and A. Porter occupied the pulpit. At this meeting several came forward to be prayed for.

Third day.—Committee on education reported, $2.35; on Tracts, $1.15; Freedmen's Aid, $4; Episcopacy, $3; Church Extension, $4; Sunday school, $1; Home Mission, $1.95; Foreign Missions, 75cts. Committee on memoirs—That Sunday at 11 o'clock be set apart for memorial services, and the church be draped in mourning in honor of Bishop I. W. Wiley. Question 6 was taken up. Fowelks was put in nomination, Mason, Alamo and Brownsville; Mason receiving the the largest nvmber of votes, was declared the place for the sitting of the district conference. At 7:30 o'clock, Bro. R. Palmer, of Paris, preached to a crowded house; Bro. Palmer is an able speaker and says that a Methodist preacher ought always to be ready to do two things, viz.: to preach and die. The people say that they wish Bro. Palmer would come again. Conference adjourned. Benediction by Elder Dunlap.

Fourth day—Sunday-school met at nine o'clock, the review was by S. B. Danley, preacher in charge. Bro. Danley is among the best Sunday-school workers in the Tennessee Conference. Bro. Danley is the right man in the right place. The people in Martin love their pastor, this was shown in many ways. 1. The way the people threw open their doors, and welcomed the brethren, in spite of the unfavorableness of the weather, the conference drew large crowds. The love feast occasion was largely attended; it appeared that each man and woman had on the wedding garment. At 11 o'clock, the hour set apart for memorial services, the church was crowded. The church was draped in honor of our beloved Bishop I. W. Wiley. Addresses were delived by Elders Jesse P. Price, E. M. Manson, who were among that large number whom the Bishop had ordained. Elders Price and Manson on this occasion made a lasting impression upon the people, and are worthy to be called leaders. At 3 o'clock the elder preached the sacramental sermon, and administered the Lord's supper to 150 persons. Bro. R. Palmer preached at night. E. M. Manson and J. A. W. Moore secretaries.

Little Rock District Conference.

REV. O. H. SMITH, P. E.

We had a good time in our district conference February 16th. Bishop Mallalieu was present and presided. The conference opened with religious services. There was a fair attendance of pastors, most of them presenting the required reports.

The address of the Bishop was well received, and being called away in the midst of the session his departure was greatly regretted.

Committee to consider the various items of business coming before the conference. 26 local preachers had their license renewed.

There were no complaints and the character of each member passed. They resolved to discontinue the conference hereafter.

Resolutions complimentary to the Bishop and asking the reappointment of the presiding elder prevailed, they also complimented the hospitable people for their entertainment and by resolution requested the publication of their proceedings in the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Sunday-schools were reported in good condition, and Rev. G. N. Johnson was indorsed as teacher in the Mission school at Forest City.

J. W. JACKSON, Sec'y.

To the Lexington District, Lexington, Conference, M. E. Church.

Dear Brethren:—I greet you as brethren, well beloved, as chosen representatives of the ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ. With our appointments fresh from the hands of our beloved Bishop Thomas Bowman, D. D., let us go to our fields of labor with the spirit of Christ. Do this, and the victory will be ours. Let us see how many souls we can win this year for Christ. Attend at once to your benevolent collections. If you wait until the winding up of the Conference year, all of us know how hard it is to get it then. Some have failed entirely by doing this. Let us take warning by these failures on the part of some of the brethren. Gather in all of your benevolent monies and bring it to the First District Conference May 21-25, at Flemmingsburg, Ky. Brethren, be ready to attend the session. Urge every Local Preacher, Exhorter, District Steward, &c., to be present. Let none fail to come. One million dollars must be raised for the cause of missions this year, and we must all do our part. Our apportionment is only $250. Let us, as brethren and workers together with God advance on the estimate made for us. Let there be no slothful servants among us. Preach on the benevolent work of the Church. The harvest is ripe, the laborers are few, God calls us. Let us enter the vineyard fresh for the battle. Yours in Christ.

H. W. WHITE, P. E.

44 East Third St., Lexington, Ky.

How to Save Money.

and we might also say—time and pain as well, in our advice to good housekeepers and ladies generally. The great necessity existing always to have a perfectly safe remedy convenient for the relief and prompt cure of the ailments peculiar to woman—functional irregularity, constant pains, and all the symptoms attendant upon uterine disorders—induces us to recommend strongly and unqualifiedly Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription"—woman's best friend. It will save money.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. M. Langford, of Cleveland, Fayette county, Ky., writes: "I wish to congratulate you on your success with the SOUTHWESTERN. I like the paper very much, and I am always glad to hear how the Lord's work is progressing in the South. I will send you my money from the district conference. I would rather pay $2.50 for the paper than not to get it, as I should miss it very much."

Rev. F. Harvey, Mansfield, La., writes: "I arrived on my work and found the people in good spirits though the times are hard here owing to bad crops the last two years. They are poor and much scattered, but are looking up and believing; they say they will do all they can.

Rev. O. W. Kershaw, pastor at Comite, East Feliciana parish, La., writes, "I arrived here on the 8th, and my people received me gladly, although they are few in number, but I believe they are the faithful few. There is no church here worth speaking of, but we are in hopes of having one this year, though our people are much discouraged in building; but we will forget the past and look to the future. Rev. S. Priestley, presiding elder, was with us on the 22d, and held the first quarterly conference, which is the first on the district, and preached an able sermon in connection with the poor, despise not small things, and our people are much encouraged by his presence and taking them for his first choice."

Rev. R. H. Patton, of Paulding, Miss., writes: "Rev. Lee Clayton departed this life a few days ago. Bro. Clayton was a man that I loved as a father. He was assigned to the Brookville circuit in 1870, and while there I made his acquaintance. I was then a local preacher on that circuit, but by his instructions and hard study, I was admitted to the conference in 1883. But to return to him: he is gone to join the ranks of the dead, while I am left to tread the path he trod. He leaves a wife and many friends to mourn his loss."

Rev. C. L. Crump writes from Deasonville, Miss.: "One of my churches is near this place, at Mt. Pleasant. They are very good members, and when I came up here a man was telling me that God had spoken peace to his soul. We went in, and the class-leader said this was class day, so I joined in with them in class. I felt the presence of the Lord. Pray for us. At night I preached, after which I brought the subject of the SOUTHWESTERN before them, and secured four subscribers."

Rev. J. R. Carnes, Waco, Texas, writes: "You will please permit me space in the columns of the SOUTHWESTERN to contradict the slanderous and malicious report or charge that has been circulated concerning my intention to join the A. M. E. Church. I have been informed by some of the brethren of the West Texas Annual Conference that this matter concerning my supposed intention to join the A. M. E. Church was hotly discussed by some of our brethren during the session of the conference, but no one said a word to me on the subject whatever. I was really astonished when I heard it. Also I thought it strange that no one spoke to me about the matter during conference. I wish to say here in brief to the brethren of the West Texas Annual Conference, that the conference has not a more loyal member within its bounds than the writer. Not only none more loyal, but none more earnest in labors. I believe the conference is composed of better men, but none more earnest and none more loyal. And another thing I see no reason why I should steal off from the M. E. Church. I am afraid of no one, neither am I carrying off any stolen property. This malicious lie concerning my joining or intention to join the A. M. E. Church was originated in order to carry out a wicked and malicious design, and it had its effect. No doubt many believed it to be true, and the parties were successful in carrying out their undertaking. But I am glad that it is written in the sacred Scriptures, in the followiog plain but blessed words, "Watsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Also, "Whatever measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again," etc. Again, with reference to my loyalty to the Church and its principles, etc., please allow me to refer you and the many readers of the SOUTHWESTERN to the members of the M. E. Church residing within the bounds of the West Texas Annual Conference, who believe and will affirm that there is not a minister composing said annual conference more loyal to her principles, doctrines and Discipline than your humble correspondent. And, furthermore, the ministers of the aforesaid conference cannot deny the above statement; neither can they deny my faithfulness as a minister of the Gospel of Christ in the M. E. Church. It there remains any doubt of the truthfulness of my statements I beg leave to refer your readers to the stewards, class-leaders and trustees of every charge where I have been pastor, and they will tell them. And, furthermore, through the providence of God and the aid of his Holy Spirit, successfully I have held every charge that I have been appointed to; yea, all that have been committed to my care, have I been mindful to watch and care for. And, furthermore, it can not be denied that the congregations have been better wherever I have held charge."

At the "basket meeting," given in Robelene, La., by Rev. W. R. Butler, $22 was raised toward building a new church at that place.

On Easter Sunday, at Wesley Chapel, Little Rock, Ark., the church was beautifully decorated. The programme of exercises was as follows: At 10:30 a. m., Easter sermon, by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Lankford, 3 p. m., Ritualistic services, 7:30 p. m., Sacrament of the Lord's supper. The pastor in the morning discussed the principal transactions of each day during Passion Week, commencing with Palm Sunday, tracing the history of the blessed Savior from his triumphal entrance into Jerusalem to his glorious ascension. At night the pastor took his discourse from Col. 3, 4, showing, first, the relation Christ sustained to the church; second, his future appearing in behalf of his people; third, their exceeding glory in that occasion. The services were well attended, and the membership greatly revived. Two joined the church and one was received on probation. The general impression was that the people were greatly enlightened as well as edified.

Rev. H. W. Wallace writes: "When I received my appointment from conference I came to my work, my heart devoted to the cause of Methodism and the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom. I found the brethren busy trying to build a new church which we have succeeded in doing—size 26x35, 12 feet between joists. The house is furnished with comfortable seats, has three doors, and seven windows with glass lights. Our presiding elder, Rev. J. M. Shumpert, was much pleased and gave us a very encouraging discourse at our fourth quarterly conference, which was held at this place. Our committees made favorable reports of monies raised for various benevolent and church purposes. I should have done more but I was taken sick and thus hindered in my work. We are delighted with your paper and appreciate it as an intelligent visitor. I would like to have done more for the SOUTHWESTERN but have had to work to sustain life, when I ought to have been attending to pastoral duties. Disappointments overtake the best of men, but the hope of an eternal reward gives consolation. We are trying to build a church now at a pretty little place called Steen's Creek. At our last quarterly conference ...changed the route of the circuit from Shumpert to Steen's Creek on account of the post-office. Pray for us.

A. P. Cornes writes: "I arrived at Goliad, my appointment, January 13th, and found my people anxiously looking for me. Our first quarterly conference was held on the ... by G. W. Richardson, presiding elder, in the chair. A number of the brethren were on ... We had no representation ... Centreville; inclemency of the weather was thought to be the cause. On Sunday we were to have had preaching by the writer, but had a burying instead. At 7 p. m. Brother Vail refreshed by the presiding elder to give our people ... short address, which was responded to by a willing attempt to do the best I could under ... circumstances, the weather ... cold, and no stove in our ... but we hope ... Your correspondent is not discouraged though ... miles away from any rail ... line. Of course it is ... somewhat dull, but, nevertheless, the SOUTHWESTERN shall be ... welcome."

Letters From the Laity.

H. W. Simmons, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., writes: "Bro. T. Woods, a ... of the Tennessee Conference ... the Master and ... had the misfortune ... his house by fire ... ago. It was in Gallatin ... As he stands very much in need of ... he asks help from any who feel disposed to ... and they will oblige him ... any amount, be it ... The house destroyed ... necessary furniture, with ... would about $250. If ... wishes him, please send ... Rev. T. Woods, ..."

The Christ and the Mohammedan

... at ... MISSIONARY, AFRICA.

... the script ... by ...

Effect of Alcohol on the Body and Mind.

C. KIMBROUGH.

DISTILLATION.

... boils at a lower temperature than water does. By ... mixture of water and ... and it is above the boiling ... of alcohol, but below the ... point of water, we may ... the alcohol in the form of ... and have the greater portion of the water left behind. If this steam is condensed in a cold ... we shall have all of the alcohol and some of the water. This process is called distillation. In this way distilled liquors are made from fermented liquors.

PROPERTIES AND USES.

Alcohol resembles water in appearance, it is lighter than water. It has a mild odor and a pungent taste, and burns very readily. It will dissolve gums, oils, and resins; hence it is much used in making varnishes. Because of its power of dissolving gums and oils, it is used in extracting these substances from various sources, barks, seeds ... A large class of ... are thus made. The use of alcohol in the preparation of beverages is by far its greatest use. Almost all beverages that intoxicate owe that property to the alcohol which they contain. Beer, wine and whiskey owe their intoxicating effects to the alcohol they contain.

ALCOHOL AS A DRINK.

We learn that the body is largely composed of water, and is urgent, for drink. A proper drink is such as will supply the demand for water without introducing any hurtful substances. The universal drink is ordinary water. This semes to be the natural drink. Water quenches thirst, and fills the different parts of the system with their needed quantity of liquids.

If substances that have a great attraction for water are taken into the body, they will draw the water from the various tissues. If the attraction is great enough, they will decompose the tissues. For we learn that substances that are called caustics destroy the flesh by their intense attraction for the water in the flesh. For instance, common lye, lime, sulphuric acid, and carbolic acid destroy flesh in this way. Substances having a milder attraction for water do not destroy the tissues, but draw the free water from them.

This causes the tissues to shrink, to harden, and to stiffen. We further learn that substances of this kind, whether taken as drink or food, produce thirst. Common salt and alcohol act in this way. If the strongest form of alcohol is taken into the mouth, or stomach, it will blister the mucous membrane, and decompose the structure of the parts, so great is its affinity for the water they contain. If dilute alcohol be introduced, the same kind of action occurs in less degree of violence.

We learn that thirst is always produced by the drinking of any kind of alcohol. A natural drink always slacks thirst. The large amount of water in some drinks, with the small portion of alcohol they contain, enables them to allay thirst; such is the action of beer. It is the water, however, and not the alcohol, that gratifies the thirst. The water of the beer would quench the thirst more readily if the alcohol were not present. Examinations have proved that the tissues of those who are addicted to the use of alcoholic beverages, are hardened by the loss of their water. This is especially true of the nervous tissue of those who die from the evil effects of alcohol. It is the purpose of the circulating fluids to aid in digesting the food, and to hold the food particles in solution. Alcohol, if used other than extremely dissolved by the action of the alcohol on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, the operations of the stomach are less vigorous. Alcohol seems to act as the reverse of a proper article of drink. It is a sad mistake to think that alcohol is a true beverage, for indeed it is not.

Wendell Phillips—VI.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS.

New England stood aghast, and exclaimed as one man, "must this sainted man—must John Brown die without having read to him a Christian service;—must his mortal remains be encoffined without Christian burial! No minister in the South could be found who was willing to encounter the storm of public opinion, and the price of blood was set upon the head of every man connected with the anti-slavery movement.

It was the noble, the chivalrous, the Knightly Phillips who took his life in his hands and went to Virginia to Harpers Ferry, and walked about in the very powder house of the slave oligarchy, stretching forth, at times the immortal torch of truth whose burning, dazzling scintillations needed but to flame, and all that was mortal of the intrepid and daring hero would have been ushered into eternity.

That he did perform the last sad rites over the grave of the illustrious dead is a fact that the muse history will ever commemorate both in sermon and in song.

That he deeply sympathized with the dead apostle of liberty, no one doubts.

I am only voicing the truth, when I say that all people then and now, in proportion to their sensibilities, self respect, sympathized with John Brown, for it is impossible to see the courage and disinterestedness, and the love that cast out fear, without sympathy.

All gentlemen, of course, were not on his side.

I do not mean by gentlemen people of scented hair and perfumed handkerchiefs, but men of gentle blood and generosity, filled with ... nobleness, who like the Old ... the contest lost a share of ... bed—like the dying Sidney ... the cup of cold water to the ... soldier who needed it ...

But what is the oath of gentle ... and knighthood?—What but ... protect the weak, and lowly ... the strong oppressor.

The sentiments of mercy are the ... which the laws of ... provide, to protect ... from destruction by ... power.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Progress of the Race Toward the Higher Attainments.—II.

BY J. J. HOLLAND, A. M., B. D.

Concluded

There can be no possible doubt as to the necessity of vigilance in this particular, for history testifies to the retrograde tendency of human affairs. The race is on its march now across a desert, to the Canaan of highest achievements. Emancipation came as a voice from the summit of our American Horeb, proclaiming the independence of the race. The fountain from which has flowed the mighty stream of freedom, and just recognition of manhood, destined to cover the entire land, as the waters cover the face of the deep, and if properly exercised enable us to aid in perpetuating the free institutions of the Republic in which we became intensely interested, when the last line of local statutes authorizing slavery was abolished.

There is in the moral, as in the physical world centripetal and centrifugal forces. The one tending to repel the good, and the other to attract the good.

Josephus, the Jewish historian tells that about three millions souls were liberated from Egyptian bondage. Israelitish captivity had lasted about four hundred and thirty years. Then deliverance was effected by the direct intervention of God, speaking through the most primeval ancestors before sin entered Eden; were viewed with wrapped attention by the antediluvians; smiled upon Noah "when the waters of the flood were upon the earth," and "all the fountains of the great deep were broken up;" cheered the patriarchs in the land of promise; guided the ancients in navigating the waters of the Old World, and directed Columbus in finding the new; yet these pyramids beheld the Southern cross disappear from the skies of the Northern horizon, and witnessed the advent of the polar star.

The great pyramid was built 800 years after the time of Adam, 1,800 years before Jacob removed to Egypt, and 3,400 years before the advent of Christ, and these monuments have remained in immovable inertia while the heavens have changed and grown old.

The same folly, cruelty and injustice were displayed in Mexico, Central America, and in Peru, as in Egypt and in India, the frivolous waste of labor. The early Americans knew nothing of iron, and, therefore, could not abridge their labors, in constructing the the vast monuments and stone palaces of the tropical empires. In Peru, 20,000 men were fifty years in erecting the royal residence, and the imperial palace of Mexico cost the labor of 200,000 men, persistently forced along, during many tedious years, regardless of human suffering and death.

Copan, Palanque, Uxmal and other cities, were thus built by laborers whose toil was forced and unrequited.

In Mexico, Central America and Peru the arts that minister to luxury and wealth, were very successfully cultivated, and the abodes of the higher ranks were filled with ornaments and utensils of skilled workmanship, the apartments were hung with gorgeous tapestries; the clothing, dresses, and decorations proved a vast outlay in materials and style; the jewels were costly and exquisite, and the flowing robes were rich and finely embroidered with the most gaudy plumage, gathered from all parts of the empire, unitedly evincing immense wealth and reckless prodigality.

The few who owned the wealth and hold, unquestioned, unlimited power, stood, literally, on the necks of all the vast multitudes of the impoverished, abject, and servile masses immediately, but immensely, beneath them.

In Peru, all the taxes were paid by these slave classes, and the few nobles and the clergy were entirely exempt; for while it was illegal and impossible for the laborers to accumulate property, they were forced to pay all the expenses of a government and a religion that united in grinding them into the dust; that converted them into beasts of burden, closed their minds in the darkness of ignorance and led their immortal souls into the "gall of bitterness and the bonds of iniquity."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Contracts.—I.

WM. H. YOUNG.

Allow me to say in the outset, that I feel very sensibly my inability to do justice to a subject so preponderous in all its bearings as that of "contracts;" but having been so impressively solicited by our very gentle, esteemed and Christian editor, Dr. M. W. Taylar, I agreed to do what I could, thus, to aid and benefit that large number of persons, so much exposed for lack of some information and legal advice, upon the practical affairs in daily life.

A contract is a legal or lawful agreement between two or more persons, to do or not to do some specified thing. A contract may be either verbal or written.

A verbal contract is an agreement, expressed in words. A written contract is an agreement expressed in writing. There are also, other kinds of contracts, and I may here add, that contracts have been variously defined, but as our object in writing is to instruct only the unlettered and inexperienced, we shall dwell, mostly, in our discussion of this subject upon, "simple contracts," expressed as above mentioned, verbal and written.

Parsons, the distinguished writer on the law of contracts, says: "The law of contracts, in its widest extent, may be regarded as including nearly all the law which regulates the the relations of human life. Indeed it may be looked upon as the basis of human society."

All social life presumes it, and rests upon it, for out of contracts, expressed or implied, declared or understood, grow all rights, all duties, all obligations, all law. Almost the whole procedure of human life implies, or rather is, the continual fulfillment of contracts.

Hence we conclude this letter by saying, that it painfully appears to our minds, that no discussion, however strong or ably put, will or can, (by reason of inertness), show or disclose to an inexperienced and especially an unlettered person, the vital importance, there is, in always, in all the commercial or business affairs in life, having first entered into a plain unmistakable contract clearly expressing the purpose, will, meaning, wish, intent, duties, and obligations of all person or persons concerned in the transaction.

Nashville, Tenn.

A List of Gen. Grant's Relics.

Schedule of swords and medals, paintings, bronzes, portraits, commissions, addresses, and objects of value and of art presented by various Governments to General Ulysses S. Grant:

Mexican Onyx Cabinet—Presented by the people of Pueblo, Mex.

Aerolite—Part of which passed over Mexico in 1871.

Bronze Vase—Presented by the Japanese citizens of Yokohama, Japan.

Marble Bust and Pedestral—Presented by workingmen of Philadelphia.

General Grant and Family—Painted by Coggswell.

Large Elephant Tusks—Presented by the King of Siam.

Small Elephant Tusks—From the Maharajah of Johore.

Picture of General Scott (by Page)—Presented by the city of New York.

Crackleware Bowls (very old)—Presented by Prince Koohn, of China.

Chinese Proclaim Jars (old)—Presented by Li Hung Chang.

Arabian Bible and Coptic Bible—Presented by Lord Napier, who captured them with King Theodore, of Abyssinia.

Sporting Rifle and Sword of Donelson—Presented to General Grant after the fall of Fort Donelson by officers of the army, and used by him until the end of the war.

New York Sword—Voted to General Grant by the citizens of New York at the fair held in New York.

Sword of Chattanooga—Presented to General Grant by the citizens of Jo Daviess County, Galena, Ill., after the battle of Chattanooga.

Roman Mug and Pitcher, Silver Menu and Card—Farewell dinner at San Francisco, Cal.

Silver Menu—Paris dinner.

Horn and Silver Snuff box and Silver Match box—Used by General Grant.

Gilt Table—Modeled after the table in Mr. McLean's house, in which General R. E. Lee signed the articles of surrender. This was presented to General Grant by ex-Confederate soldiers.

Gold Cigar Case (enameled)—Presented by the Celestial King of Siam.

Gilt Cigar Case (plain)—Presented by the Second King of Siam.

Gilt-handled Knife—Presented by the miners of Idaho Territory.

Nine pieces of Jade Stone—Presented by Prince Koohn, of China.

Silver Trowel—Used by General Grant in the laying of the corner stone of the American Museum of Natural History.

Knife—made at Sheffield, England, for General Grant.

Embroidered Pictures, Cock and Hen—Presented to General Grant by citizens of Japan.

Field Glasses—Used by General Grant during the war.

Iron-headed Cane—Made from the rebel ram Merrimac.

Silver-headed Cane—Made from wood used in the defense of Fort Sumpter.

Gold-headed Cane—Made out of wood from old Fort Du Quesne, Pa.

Gold-headed Cane—Presented to General Grant as a tribute of regard for his humane treatment of the soldiers and kind consideration of those who ministered to the sick and wounded during the war.

Gold-headed Cane—Used by Lafayette, and Presented to General Grant by the ladies at Baltmore, Md.

Carved Wood Cane—From the estate of Sir Walter Scott.

Uniform of General of the United States Army.

Fifteen Buttons—Cut from coats during the war by Mrs. Grant after and before battles.

Hat Ornament—Used at Belmont.

Hat Ornament—Used at Fort Donelson.

Shoulder Strap (Brigadier General's)—Cut from the coat used by General Grant in the campaigns against Richmond and Petersburg and Lee's army.

Shoulder-strap (Lieutenent General's)—Cut from General Grant's coat.

Pair of Gilt Straps—Cut from the coat of General Grant, used after the war.

Medal from the American Congress (gold)—For the opening of the Mississippi.

Gilt Medal—From Philadelphia.

Badges—Army and corps.

Twenty-one Medals, gilt and silver, ten medals, silver and brass—sent to General Grant at different times.

Fourteen Medals—In memory of events.

Silk Paper, Louisville Commercial—Printed for General Grant.

Silk Daily Chronicle and Burlington Hawkeye—Printed for General Grant.

Collection of Coins (Japanese).—This is the only complete set, except one, which is in the Japanese Treasury. The value of this set is $5,000; presented by the Governor of Japan.

All the military commissions of General Grant.

Commission as honorable member M. L. A., of San Francisco.

Commission as member of Sacramento Society of Pioneers.

Commission as member of the Royal Historical Society.

Commission as member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion.

Commission as member of the Aztec Club.

Certificate of election as President of the United States of America.

Certificate of re-election.

Certificate as honorary member of the Territorial Pioneers of California.

Certificate as honorary member of St. Andrew's Society.

Certificate of election as LL. D. of Harvard College.

Certificate as honorary member of the Sacramento Society of the Pioneers of California.

Certificate as honorary member of the Mercantile Library of San Francisco.

The freedom of cities in England, Ireland, Scotland, including London, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Dublin, and other parts of the world.

Addresses to General Grant from various Chambers of Commerce and workingmen's societies all over the world.

Behold the conqueror of all kidney, liver and urinary diseases—Hunt's Remedy. Sure cure.

SOUTHWESTERN.

...ALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

...URSDAY, MAY 7, 1885.

Taste &c.

...presiding elder of the Lex... District, Lexington Conference, ...hereafter publish all his official ...tions in the Western and ..., as he believes the ... heretofore issued by him ...tended in part to impede the ...ion by lessening the neces... for our official church papers, ...at greatly increased cost to ... We thank Bro. White for ... example. We have ... of the correctness of his ... and wish, for the sake of ...eranuates and the widows ...phans of deceased preachers ...und of support would be ...enhanced by it, that his ... and practice as expressed ...ay become widely preval... Send all you can to the SOUTH...

Cincinnati Preacher's Meeting

The Cincinnati Methodist Epis... Preachers' Meeting, on Mon... April 13th, discussed the sub... of Books and how to read ... Bro. Hamill read an ... paper, and Drs. Joyce, ... Hight, W. I. Hypes, ... and Young each made ... pointed speeches to the ... Dr. Rust will present ... of education among the ... one week later, and at ... meeting succeeding that Dr. ... will write a paper on ... and how to circulate them." ... a very important subject, ... upon which the essayist is ... well informed. It will ... show that there is some ... great apathy or something ... detriment of the circula... of our devotional literature. ... spoke a few moments, ... the meeting adjourned. ... about 40 of these minis... and the meeting is the kind ... action is the ... should be.

Railway Collision.

...ON THE SPOT.

...g Montgomery, ... 24th, L. & N. R. R., ... reading in sections, ... section containing ... and the rear three ... to a water tank ... the first section ... was dark; and in a ... rear section was tear... The rear end and ... tear down, glass ... people in the ... with ... every one ... cuts and ... into a ...

...for the ... and ... pond. ... was ... ...e of this collection and ... that it comes but once, a ... reasons why necessary ... to ... to ... ... Of these time... ... intersecting ... ...tion are ... in the one ... ...

Church Polity.

[illegible] wrong for the [illegible] to attend [illegible] in a place [illegible] see any harm in [illegible] and dance [illegible] and the [illegible] of our Church to do?

What [illegible] from you [illegible] that is talking [illegible] or quoting [illegible] and an [illegible] to the order [illegible] of the Church. I [illegible] it is no harm; it will not hurt the members to go. While the preacher wants to move all the [illegible] that go, and discharge the whole choir. Now will you please answer the above for a SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Subscriber, you put two question to us which we deem it our duty to answer, but first it is our duty to say that you have done more than put these questions. You have given a particular case giving your view, and what you think is the minister's view of it. Now we can not decide a case for any particular Church. Nor is it proper for us to state our view of the [illegible] of any pastor's ruling on such subjects in his parish. That belongs to the presiding elder and should be decided in a quarterly conference, and under some circumstances it might reach the Annual Conference for Episcopal consideration. Even were we to approve any such decision of a [illegible] case, it would become, then our duty to hear from both sides in the contest, which we have not done in this case.

In the [illegible] such dilemmas to presume that the pastor [illegible] laboring for the good of [illegible] is positively wrong to presume that he is not doing so. The question is such a case for a [illegible] whether the [illegible] if executed will in [illegible] to the mental, [illegible] physical or [illegible] disadvantage of the members, whether obedience to the pastor's wishes and [illegible] touching these [illegible] any body's good [illegible] for the pastor [illegible] a friend, not [illegible] office; his duty [illegible] you and to God, or [illegible] which must be [illegible] church only [illegible] ministers [illegible] remind that [illegible] godly ad- [illegible] end of [illegible] even everlasting [illegible] urged you [illegible] these [illegible] esteem him [illegible] you, think [illegible] more wel- [illegible] table [illegible] of your [illegible] [illegible] any- [illegible] go, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Domestic Hygiene.

Sudden Death.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

When a newspaper comes to [illegible] that does not announce the death of some man or woman more or less prominent in [illegible] the nation or in the [illegible]. Very few who are not in[illegible]ly busy, or crowded with [illegible] ever die so sud[illegible]. While the person is in ap[illegible] condition [illegible] coming [illegible] sometimes [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] and

General News Items.

Strawberries in Santa Barbara are quoted at 75 cents per box.

[illegible] $7,745 last year in [illegible] 549 bears that were [illegible] within its bounds.

John Claiborne & Sons, one of the largest cotton factors in New Orleans has failed. Liabilities, $508,403; assets, $1,705,000.

The Virginia Iron Mines and Furnace in Rockland County, Va., [illegible] down on account of overstock, and 1,200 men are thrown out of employment.

Neal Dow says that the opposition to Prohibition comes from "moderate" drinkers entirely. The hard drinkers all vote to close the saloons, as a relief from temptation.

Much excitement exists in Chattanooga, Tenn., over the reported discoveries of gold and silver ore at [illegible] twenty-[illegible] Chattanooga.

[illegible] land is reported to be trouble of [illegible] There should be mutual concessions, which would reduce the evil effects of periodical depression to comparative [illegible]

Co-operative societies seem to be [illegible] Judging from the fact that 2,350 are now in [illegible] with membership [illegible] Their purchases during the past year amounted to [illegible]

In the fallen city of Khartoum there are no restaurants or saloons, but a few Greek bakal shops where liquors are sold, from a noxious stuff put up at Cairo and labelled "Hennessy's Three Star Cognac," to the clearest mastic and [illegible] liquor business is, [illegible] the only thing [illegible] taken much of a [illegible] in the Soudan.

[illegible] Belgium, is [illegible] to [illegible] of his own [illegible] the Russian [illegible] him why he [illegible] in debt. His [illegible] that God [illegible] and ploy every kind of vehicle, and when it can be done in no other way, they go a foot. Now all of these are Gospel carriers, but more of them are going into the future state. The preacher is going there because he has a soul. In this he is different from all the conveyances he used.

So will it be with the sinner in the day of judgment. He may read the Bible from side to side, but if he has not been changed, he is a sinner. Yea he may put money in the Church, but he is a sinner; he may entertain the preacher, and live a moral life, and yet, he is a sinner. Young men and women, this is a bad condition, are you in it?

"Tis good to wait upon the Lord
When Christ, Himself drews near,
And every heart with one accord
Ascends in solemn prayer."

No Wonder.

A MAN WHO SUFFERED MENTAL AND PHYSICAL AGONY EIGHT YEARS PROCLAIMS HIS HAPPINESS.

Mental agony is dreadful, but when that and physical ailment combine, it is simply terrible. Such was the condition of Geo. W. Frampton, of Huntingdon, W. Va., for eight years. He was a sufferer of necrosis—that is, the leg bone at the ankle was inflamed and mortified, which caused running sores. He says: "Pieces of bone the size of a silver three cent piece came out of the sores on my leg. The discharge from the sores was almost continual, and I was unable to walk. For eight years I have been traveling. I had been under the treatment of a physician at Newport, Ky., for a year; another at Burlington, O., attended me for three years, and a doctor here at Huntingdon worked with me for a long time. None of them did me any good, and they all finally said I was past help. A few days ago I commenced trying PERUNA, and now I am well. I can walk as good as anybody, and have perfect use of my limb."

Mr. A. M. Lewis, Worster, Ohio, writes: "Dr. HARTMAN, Columbus, O. I have been a great sufferer from that dreaded disease, chronic catarrh of the stomach. I have thoroughly tried your MANALIN, and it has done me more good ten-fold than all the doctors' prescriptions, and I have used bushels of them."

Mr. Edgar Hess, Smeltzer P. O., Elk county, Pa., writes: "I have bought several bottles of your PERUNA, and find it to be of great benefit. I also gave it to some of my friends; they experienced the same result."

Mr. L. R. Wolfe, 45 and 47 Ross street, Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "I am taking PERUNA with good results, and can highly recommend it to all. I have applied at other different drug stores for one of your books. They claim they have none on hand at present. Please do me the favor to send me one."

W. W. [illegible] Carrollton, Pa., writes: [illegible] PERUNA. [illegible] of it, and [illegible]

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

[The above Engraving shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: it carries down the remedies used for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a natural application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried most everything to cure them of their different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not strong enough to get into all the localities affected, and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of destroying tissue? Every [illegible] Medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. Many have to take such a roundabout way to get into the blood that they cause other [illegible] But after all there is an ABSOLUTE CURE, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a remedy of all others for [illegible] The testimony to its results is beyond all question. The importance of thousands. The cures [illegible] seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is placed the medicine, the fumes of which the person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping in a natural, healthful manner, without being annoyed and without [illegible] in taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no doubling or sniffing; but, just as a steady breeze, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours or so each night, provides a powerful healing balm to [illegible] on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-passages, and [illegible] these parts, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local remedy of the surest kind. The medicine is applied directly where the disease resides, besides going into the blood during its action. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

jan1-tf

PHILIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Incorporated as a Stock Company in 1880.

CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS of losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued of Desirable Fire Risques.

W. M. Lyman, President, Chas. M. Hobson, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Secty.

Joseph Sterling, Jos. H. Kennedy, Geo. W. Scott, Alfred Moulton, W. B. Conger
W. [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], John Calder, A. H. Stewart
S. C. [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], J. J. Reiss, Louis Prados
Leslie [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], Edmund Katz, M. Gillis
E. F. [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], A. Spengold, John D. Rohr [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], [illegible], James T. Rodd.

oct9-1y

Church Directory.

SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. Office at Methodist House.

AHARPE STREET CHURCH.—Rev. [illegible] Clarke, pastor. Sunday Services.—Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.; Sunday-school, 9 a. m.; preaching at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m.; Class-meeting, Tuesday evenings, at 7 o'clock; prayer-meeting, Thursday evenings, at 7 o'clock. Communion first Sunday evening in each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH.—Corner of Andrew and Franklin streets; Rev. J. J. [illegible], pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and [illegible] at 8 p. m. Class-meeting, Wednesday evening, at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH.—[illegible] Street, Rev. Charles Schuler, pastor. Sunday-school at 9 a. m.; preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Class-meeting, Wednesday evening, at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH.—[illegible] Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 8 o'clock. Sunday-school at 3 p. m. Class-meeting at 8:30 in the morning. Class-meeting, Wednesday evening, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at [illegible] p. m. Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH.—[illegible] Sunday-school at [illegible] Preaching at [illegible] Class-meeting at [illegible] Prayer-meeting, Wednesday evening, at [illegible] Pastor.

WESLEY CHAPEL.—[illegible] Preaching at [illegible] Sunday-school at [illegible] Class-meeting at [illegible] Prayer-meeting, Wednesday evening, at [illegible] Pastor.

[illegible] CHURCH.—[illegible] Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 3 p. m. Class-meeting at [illegible] Prayer-meeting, Wednesday evening, at [illegible] Pastor.

[illegible] CHURCH.—[illegible] Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 3 p. m. Class-meeting at [illegible] Prayer-meeting, Wednesday evening, at [illegible] Pastor.

ALGIERS M. E. CHURCH.—Rev. [illegible] pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 3 p. m. Prayer-meeting, Thursday evening, at 7:30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH.—Franklin, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets. Rev. W. P. [illegible], pastor. Services: Sabbath, Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 3 p. m. Class-meeting at 5:30 a. m. class at 5:30 p. m. Sabbath-day evening and prayer meeting Wednesday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love-feast quarterly.

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—Also College Church of Straight University and N. O. A. M., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services.—Preaching Sundays at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sabbath-school, 12:15 p. m. Prayer meeting Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p. m. This church has a free church under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the enslaved people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Estabrook, M. A., pastor.

A PRIZE Send 10 cents for postage, and receive, free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.

feb12-20t

BELLS.

CHURCH BELLS.

[illegible]

[illegible] BELL COMPANY.

[illegible] of Church Bells. Catalogue and Price List free.

Clinton H. Meneely Bell Co., Troy, N. Y.

Chase Roll Found!

[illegible]

OUR CLOBBING LIST,

—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their order's can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$8 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	2 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
23 Natchez street, New Orleans.

Pianos & Organs Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale rates. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn., Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.

feb12-1y

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY.

FOR CHILDREN AND TEETHING.

Dr. [illegible]'s Huckleberry Cordial is the [illegible] that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the Blackberry, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Take [illegible] for YOUNG AND OLD.

Walker A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY PUDDLE BOOK.

NOW, NOW, NOW IS THE TIME!
SPRING TIME!
PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.
DR. J. H. McLEAN'S
Strengthening Cordial
AND
BLOOD PURIFIER
Is the greatest Blood Purifier in the world.
TRY IT, AND YOU WILL USE IT EVERY SEASON.

It acts as delightfully on the tender Babe, the most delicate Lady and infirm old age, as on the strong man, imparting Health and Vigor to Nerves and Brain, Blood Vessels, Heart and Liver. When taken, you can feel its life-giving power course through every artery, destroying all Diseases of the Blood and giving Health, Vital Power and Strength to every part of the body. Who will suffer from Liver Complaint or Diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, or Bladder, when such a great Remedy is within their reach!

IT WILL CURE:

Nervousness, Nightly Sweats, Sallow Complexion, Fits, Nervous Twitching Spells, Impoverished Blood, Dizziness, Failing Eyesight caused by Weakness, Rheumatism, Sick Headache, Pimples, Loss of Memory, Feverish Skin, Sluggish Circulation, Cold Feet and Hands, Rheumatism, Restlessness, Obstinate Constipation, Heart Trouble, Bladder Fever, Diarrhœa or Bloody Flux, Lung and Liver Diseases, Kidney Troubles, Weak Back, Neuralgia, Pains in Bones, Sick Stomach, Depression, Blues, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness, Pimples, Sores and Blotches on the Face and Skin, Colic Pains.

Failing of the Womb, Bad Blood, Biliousness, Pimples, Loss of Memory, Feverish Skin, Sluggish Circulation, Cold Feet and Hands, Rheumatism, Restlessness, Obstinate Constipation, Heart Trouble, Bladder Fever,

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6th, 1885.

Dr. J. H. McLean, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir:—Having been troubled with Female Complaint for some time, by the advice of a St. Louis lady friend, I tried Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and am happy to say that it has cured me entirely, and I am now as well as ever. I consider it unequalled, being rapid and certain in its action.

From Mrs. E. W. Mackie & Son, Yadkinville, N. Carolina:—Your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is in great demand. It gives universal satisfaction and is considered as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.

Leroy, Minn., March 5th, 1885.

Dr. J. H. McLean, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic rheumatism and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.

Yours truly, HAST. MERCHELL.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a Never-Failing Remedy, and Can be Relied on.

$1.00 PER BOTTLE. SIX BOTTLES, $5.00.

Dr. J. H. McLEAN, S. E. Corner Broadway and Middle Street, St. Louis, Mo.

jan1-1y

CATARRH

A remedy for over 20 years. By mail, prepaid, one dollar. Sold by druggists. Over 100,000 cases cured. Treats on Catarrh sent free. Address Dr. C. H. BROOKS, Fulton, Ky.

oct2-1yr

FITS

From Dr. Rosenthal's Medicine "Dr. Ab Rosenthal, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt done more and cured more cases of Fits than any other living physician. We have heard cases of over 20 years standing cured by him, he guarantees a cure." Large Bottle and Treatise sent free. P. O. and Express address to Dr. AB. ROSENTHAL, No. 96 John Street, New York.

feb5-13

MILLERS and FARMERS Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro. Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga.

may22-1y

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured till. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. R. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

feb26-12t

INDELIBLE INK.

[illegible] Diplomas. Sold everywhere.

BARNES'

WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens New Orleans, December 16th, 1884, by the Presidents of the United States; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibition of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings!

One the largest building ever erected, covering the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from December 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 64 Fahr. The lawns and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,

E. A. BURKE, Director General,

New Orleans, La.

JEWETT'S FILTER

REMOVES ALL IMPURE MATTER

Jewett's Patent Filter is filled with filling of charcoal, rendering it [illegible] of one-third of a century, and have a wide reputation as the one only reliable filter. A 32-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett, Buffalo, N. Y.

WANTED A WORKER

of [illegible], energy and respectability for [illegible] locality, middle-aged preferred. SALARY [illegible] References exchanged. GAY BROS., 14 Bowling Green, N. Y.

mar12-6t

S. S.—How in respect to Sunday-schools?

L.—In 1785 there were none in America. Now our church alone has more than 21,000 Sunday-schools, most of which have good rooms in which to meet in or near the ch[illegible]

S. S.—[illegible]mber of our own [illegible]y-school [illegible]hy as we [illegible]ntury?

L.—[illegible] officers, teachers, [illegible] together, more than one [illegible]nd.

S. S.—[illegible] be a hand-[illegible]

L.—In [illegible] God of our fathers [illegible] you a thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, as he hath promised you! Deut. 1, 11.

S. S.—Has not the printing-press been a great help in extending the Gospel?

L.—In the days of the apostles, and for 1,400 years later, copies of even the Holy Scriptures could only be made by the slow process of writing. Now many thousand copies, in nearly all the languages of the earth, are printed [illegible]

S. S.—Are not Sunday-schools greatly aided by the press?

L.—By it not only Bibles and Testaments are made very cheap, but [illegible] library books, lesson papers, [illegible]odicals.

S. S.—What is needed to render all these and other agencies for promoting the Gospel successful in the highest degree?

L.—The spirit of earnest prayer and true devotion on the part of the Church, and the consecration of greater numbers of the young to God's service both at home and abroad.

Helps Him to Preach.

[illegible] pastor, Rev. [illegible]

[illegible] TAYLOR.

[illegible] Mr. Frank Robinson [illegible] was [illegible] P. J. CHAMP.

Mr. [illegible] died in New Orleans, La., March 15, 1885.

P. J. CHAMP.

Mrs. [illegible] died in New Orleans, La., March 7, 1885.

M. DALE.

Mrs. [illegible] died in North [illegible] a true member of the M. E. Church, and [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible] a member of Elmwood [illegible] died March 14, [illegible] aged 54 years.

Miss Kezzie Morgan, who has been a member of Shiloh Chapel, died March [illegible], 1885, aged 17 years. She leaves many [illegible]

Annette Bailey, who was a member of Shiloh Chapel and a Sunday-[illegible] died April 18, 1885. She had been in the church [illegible] she was 11 [illegible] and was one of the staunchest [illegible]

[illegible] six months struggle with [illegible] Peter Lee, old departed [illegible] April 18, 1885. She lived a faithful [illegible] member of the M. E. Church [illegible] years, and died full of faith in the blessed Lord Jesus. She has been superintendent of one of our Sunday-schools on Little Rock circuit for more than three years. She leaves four brothers, three sisters and a father to mourn her loss, but thank God, her loss to relatives and church is only gain to her. We shall see her again when we cross the river Jordan.

J. D. JOHNSON.

Very Poor Economy.

Some people make a business of cheating themselves, either by eating very mean and cheap food, or else by eating too small a quantity of good food. Either way is as bad policy as it would be to buy a coffin instead of a suit of good clothes, just because the coffin would cost less. Poor diet means impoverished blood, and that means misery. Brown's Iron Bitters enriches the blood, gives it the iron it needs, and tones up the whole system. Cures dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, malaria, etc.

Conference Notices.

Jackson District—Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Steen's Creek	May	9-10
Madison	"	12
Meyerville	"	16-17
Westburg	"	20-21
Rolling Fork	"	23-24
Vicksburg	"	30-31
Vicksburg circuit	"	30-31
Edwards	June	2
Bolton	"	4
Clinton	"	6- 7
Jackson circuit	"	11
Jackson	"	13-14
Canton	"	20-21
Canton circuit	"	20-21
Brandon	"	25
Pelahatchie	"	27-28
Trenton	"	30
Forest	July	2
Hickory	"	3
Chunkey	"	3
Lake	"	4- 5

Brethren of the district will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

J. D. SHUMPERT, P. E.

Programme

Of the District Conference of the Columbus District, West Texas Conference. The following is a list of the preachers and their subjects:

Presiding elder of the district—The Son of Man.

Rev. [illegible] Gaines—Operation of the Holy Spirit.

Rev. E Cogswell—To Preach the Missionary Sermon.

Rev. B Gates—To Preach the Opening Sermon, and how to [illegible]

Rev. [illegible] How [illegible]

Rev. [illegible] Hall—The [illegible]

Rev. [illegible] Rose—[illegible]

Rev. [illegible] Hall—[illegible] from [illegible]

Rev. [illegible] Cosbey—How [illegible] point [illegible]

Rev. E Head—Freedmen's Aid Society, and the good work it is doing.

Rev. J. Jarman—Who ought to Attend the Sunday-school?

Rev. M. C. Cravens—Church Extension Society.

Rev. P. Johnson—Divine Call to the Ministry.

Rev. E. M. Eells—How and when to [illegible]

Rev. J Bowles—[illegible] Question.

Dr. N. H. Middleton will conduct the Sunday-school exercises. All local preachers and stewards are expected to be present and bring their [illegible]

L. E. CHANEY,
E. COGSWELL,
[illegible]

Tennessee Annual Conference.

Dear [illegible] I have transferred [illegible] minutes and affairs of the Conference to the hands of Dr. J. Hyde, [illegible] the object of [illegible] must be forwarded to him at [illegible] Tennessee College. All matters [illegible] to conference affairs in the [illegible] the Secretary will be attended to by him.

Brethren, [illegible] as [illegible] these is yet due the pastor [illegible] outside of that already paid.

Respectfully,
L. M. HAGOOD.

Whole [illegible] of preaching, [illegible] ce.

THIRD [illegible]

Rolls of [illegible]
[illegible]
Macon	"	13-14
Memphis	"	20-21
Memphis circuit	"	[illegible]
Pleasant [illegible]	"	[illegible]
Dyer [illegible]	"	[illegible]
Martin	"	9-10
Paris [illegible]	"	[illegible]
Mansfield	"	23-24
Clarksburg	"	25-26
Henderson	"	27-28
Linden	"	30-31
Lawrenceburg	June	8- 7
Waynesboro	"	13-14
Hilton	"	20-21
Purdy	"	27-28
Brownsville	July	4- 5

I shall require each preacher to see that each committee on the various benevolent societies of our Church be strictly organized as required by the Discipline, and meet monthly and report the same to each quarter. Do not forget the committee on temperance, paragraph 83, sec. 21. Bring your church records out for examination at each quarter. Be careful in everything. Push your work forward.

JESSE P. PRICE, P. E.

Morristown District—East Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Knoxville circuit	May	2- 3
Clinton and Coal Creek	"	9-10
Tazwell circuit	"	16-17
Greenville	"	23-24
Arcadia circuit	"	30-31
Johnson City circuit	June	6- 7
Morristown station	"	13-14
Warrenburg circuit	"	20-21
Russellville circuit	"	27-28
Knoxville station	July	4- 5
Newport circuit	"	11-12
Dandridge circuit	"	18-19
Mossy Creek Circuit	"	25-26

S. J. HARRIS, P. E.

Programme

Of the Literary Exercises for the District Conference to be held at Mt. Zion M. E. Church, in May, 1885.

Introductory Sermon—R C Barrow.
Home Mission Work—M Dale.
Regeneration—J Ben and A Foster.
Duties of Stewards—M Fairfax and T Brewer.
Adoption—Wm Brown and A G Davis.
Education in the South—Thos Stalker.
Duties of Class Leaders—J Little and W Hunter.
Temperance Reform—R C Barrows and Z T Gayden.
Methodism vs. Slavery—T Jackson and W P Forrest.
Predistination and Election—M Mason and E Lyon.
Free Moral Agency—E Clark and T J Johnson.
The Church as an Organization of Peace—M H Hunter and E Duncan.
The Relation a Local Preacher Sustains to the pastor—M E Brower and C Bell.
The most appropriate way to raise Funds for the New Orleans University—Jno Qualls and A J Ford.
The interest of the Freedmen's Aid Society in the South—Prof. A F Hoyt and Jas W Hudson.

JAS. W. HUDSON, Pres.
JOHN QUALLS,
A. J. FORD, Secretary.

Programme

Of the Literary Exercises of the Lexington District, Lexington Conference, for May 21, 1885, at Flemingsburg, Ky.

Biography of Moses—G A Sissell.
The Mode of Divine Revelation—G W Thomas.
The High Priest, his Office and Duty—Scott Ward.
The Pharisees, Their Origin and Faith—D Jones.
The Discipline of the M. E. Church—H W White, P. E.
The History of Ancient Greece—J H Stanley.
Power, and how to get it—Jesse Henry.
The Needs of the Local Preachers—H C Buckner.
Palestine's Early People—I F Lindsey.
The City of Jerusalem—T Buckner

H. W. WHITE, P. E.

The New Orleans District Conference

will convene at Mt. Zion Methodist Episcopal Church in New Orleans, Thursday, May 21, at 9 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It is hoped that all the members of the conference will be present. Those who have not attended to it will please collect their apportionment of the Episcopal fund and bring it along with them.

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.

April 25, 1885.

Notice.

To the Ministers of the Mississippi Conference—If any fail to get their minutes of the Conference, let me know by postal card. They have been sent by mail to all.

J. M. SHUMPERT, Sec'y

A Great Issue. First Edition, 250,000.

THE MAY CENTURY.

In the number of its pages, and in the size of the first edition, the May Century surpasses all its predecessors. It is a number especially rich in War Papers, which include: A vigorous article by

GEN. GEO. B. McCLELLAN, in which the writer speaks freely of his relations with Secretary Stanton, and enters fully into the plans and disappointments of

THE FIRST CAMPAIGN ON RICHMOND; and [illegible] ex-Confederates,

GEN. JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON,

GEN. GUSTAVUS W. SMITH and GEN. GEORGE D. BRUCE.

Gen. Johnston (whose article is a reply to Jefferson Davis) commanded against McClellan and [illegible] wounded. Gen. [illegible] relates his experiences at Bull Run, [illegible] of Stonewall [illegible]

JOS. E. JOHNSTON.

"RECOLLECTIONS OF A PRIVATE" describes the repulse of the troops which Gen. Johnston was leading when he was wounded. Other contents include an anecdotal paper on

GEN. GRANT AS A SOLDIER,

by Gen. Adam Badeau, with a full-page portrait from a photograph taken in 1864;

THE RESCUE OF LIEUT. GREELY,

by a member of the Relief Expedition, approved by Lieut. Greely; papers on the New [illegible] Lowell Boys, "Immortality [illegible]"; and on Whittier, by E. [illegible], etc. Sold everywhere. Price, 35 cents. THE CENTURY CO. New York.

Children Happy.

Children are indeed the greatest boon of mankind. The indispensable qualification to this condition is health, and it is the claim of the manufacturers, indorsed by hundreds, that Ridge's Food is the best food for a growing child. The use of Ridge's Food is invaluable as an alternative meal for the child, and the mother can often raise the standard by adopting it as directed for invalids. In cans—35c. up. WOOLRICH & CO., on label.

For the Cheapest and Choicest Family & Fancy Groceries,

SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.;

—GO TO—

N. E. Sullivan's

GROCERY!

Corner of Washington and Hampson Streets

CARROLLTON, LA.

nov23-1y

E. W. Scheffel,

GENERAL

Book-Binder,

Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.

37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.

Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental jan22

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment," cures Tetter, salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.

nov13-1yeow

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE,
May 2, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8 11-16; Middling 10 3 16; Good Middling, 10 7-16; Middling fair, 10¼.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5½; White clarified, 5¾@5¾; Common 4¼@5c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4¼; fair, 5¼@5¾; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8; prime, 10.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@8.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 5.50; Choice, 4.90; Family, —@—.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7¼.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 82½c.; Fine, 101c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $?.00@4.00; sweet potatoes, $2.25@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $2.50@3.25; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.00@$4.00; cabbages, $3.50@$3.75 per crate; sour krout, $4.50@7 50 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $12.50.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 4½@—; sides, short rib, 7½; sides, long clear, 6¾; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6; clear sides, 6; shoulders, 4 4@.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3.00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00@2.50; geese $4.@$4 50; turkeys $12.@15.

Western Eggs 12@12½c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 12@13c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

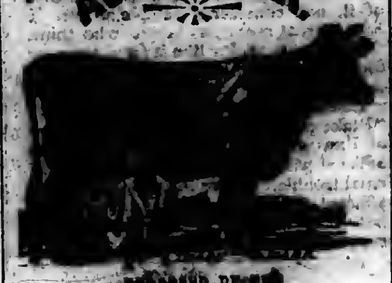
Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.25@$4.75 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.25@3.75; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5.00, turkeys $15.00@18.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 60; white, 62; mixed, 60.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 50@—.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, $97½@1.00.



What an appetite it gives; how restful it makes my sleep, by using Hunt's Remedy.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

July 17-1y.

LACTART

ACID OF MILK.

INDORSED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Healthful and Delicious Beverage and Tonic for Family Use.

Superior to Lime Juice or Lemons.

A Remedy for Dyspepsia and Ills arising from a Disordered Stomach.

Specially recommended as a preventative and relief for Cholera, Sunstroke, Fevers, and valuable in Urinary difficulties.

A Specific for Sea-sickness.

Sold by Druggists.

Avery Lactate Co.,

BOSTON, MASS. apr26-3m

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Stamps. Send for samples. TAYLOR BRO'S., Cleveland, Ohio. apr30-13

J. T. Newman, M. D.,

—PRACTICING—

Surgeon and Physician,

315 Felicity Street,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

☞Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Dr. Sterling P. Brown

365 Chippewa Street,

NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. mar19-3m

Plantation Melodies

—AND—

REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION

By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.

Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON,

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

mar26-3m

CHRISTIAN

MEN and WOMEN ao Wanted AS AGENTS

For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Names & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended.

mar5-13t

HEADQUARTERS

—FOR—

Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Tart Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or private use to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 25 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent

94..... Camp Street, ...94

25tf NEW ORLEANS.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.

Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards 25 cents; per dozen by express, $2.00; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.

FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street. Cincinnati, Ohio.

10-Ten-10-Ten-10-Ten-10

DIO LEWIS'S

NUGGETS,

—A REMARKABLE MAGAZINE.—

Crowded with Brief Articles on Sanitary Subjects, by that most sensible, terse and humorous writer,

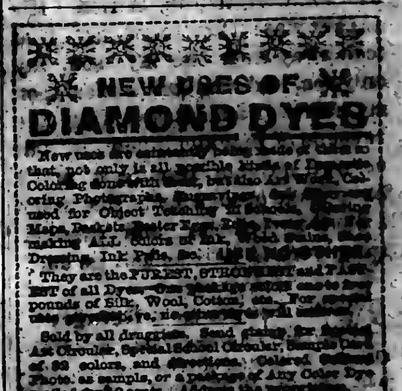
DR. DIO LEWIS.

Worth its Weight in Gold.

YOU CAN GET A

Sample Copy for 10 Cents,

By sending to the



NEW

Dio Lewis Publishing Company

69 & 71 BIBLE HOUSE,

NEW YORK CITY.

10-Ten-10-Ten-10-Ten-10

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,
GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE.

P. P. ALBERT,

(Successor to L. Bloch, Manager,)

Produce Merchant,

And Dealer in Groceries,

8.....Tchoupitoulas Street,.....8

P. O. Box 2949. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Personal attention given to the sale of all produce consigned to me, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at reasonable rates for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Charges moderate and collections prompt. No transactions on Sundays. apr30-4t

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

602.....Montgomery Street.....602

(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.

All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.

sept25-tf A. LANDRY, Assist. Manager.

GATE CITY

"Pure Water, Health, Life."

"ONLY PERFECT FILTER."—Prof. J. Gray.

"BEST FILTER IN THE WORLD."—J. M. Johnson, M. D.

AVOID CHOLERA, MALARIA, TYPHOID FEVER, DIPHTHERIA, by its use.

Stone Filter,

Simplest, Cheapest, and BEST.

"NO OTHER FILTER CAN BE COMPARED TO IT."—Medical Journal.

McBRIDE & CO.,
Atlanta, Georgia.
Send for Catalogue.

may3-

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress, 1861—1881, by James G. Blaine.

Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." Agents make from $200 to $1000 per month. Address, The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.

apr2-tf

SOUTHWESTERN

Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 20. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MAY 14, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 809.

THE SOUTHWESTERN

PUBLISHED BY

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,

2 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Entered at the Postoffice at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, ... may begin at any time and the ... to them by Registered Letter, ... Express, at ... Cents, not one ...

ADVERTISING RATES:

... 5 cents.
... 6 "
... 5 "
... 4 "
... 3 "
... 2 cents, not one

Editorial Notes.

"Illustrious race! for woe and glory born,
Children of progress and of Providence,
To you the hopeful eyes of nations turn,
And Freedom owns you for her last defence;
With [illegible] lofty-souled munificence,
Ye minister to the sons of every land,
A [illegible] rich domain immense;
And generously, to all who touch your Give welcome from the storm, and warmly
[illegible] hand.

Add to your faith virtue.

The abiding rule must go.

Faith climbs from mountains and ... eternity.

[illegible] of holy ... all.

[illegible] is ... and ... the ... the ... for the ... be hid, it ... but ... will ... on ... can never ... essential to ... [illegible] ... a ... to have ... the ... [illegible] ... over him. ... the ...

The Progress of Civilization.

BY JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

Sixth Paper.

Even the civilization of Europe, during three hundred years, with all the zeal, ambition, courage, and arts of cultivated society, has only been able to penetrate a comparatively few miles from the coast towards the formidable recesses of the wilderness; leaving the vast interior unchanged and the aborigines ignorant and brutal, recognizing no laws, and living on an inveterate barbarism. The progress of agriculture is checked by trackless forests and indestructible vegetation, that chokes the earth, and springs into new life more rapidly than it can be annihilated, and the fruits of toil are consumed by vast and inconquerable marching and flying swarms and armies of voracious insects, that speedily turn the living greenness of Spring, and the golden harvests of Autumn to withered hopes, and the dust, and ashes, and blackness of disappointment; while the vampire is reported to be a nightly visitant, and the ant becomes a burden. The lofty mountains cannot be successfully scaled, the wide rivers cannot be bridged, and every work of nature is projected on so grand and gigantic a scale as to overawe the mind, and exaggerate energy, ambition, and successful effort; and thus in Brasil, where the physical resources are the most beautiful, vegetable and animal life the most abundant, the earth watered by the mightiest rivers and the most copious rains, and the coast indented by the noblest and safest harbors, this magnificent paradise, with ample space for all the empires of Europe, has only a population of six millions [illegible] inhabitants, [illegible] through its [illegible] its forbidding every civ[illegible] daughter of Adam [illegible] from its enchanting precincts. While climate, [illegible] to the accumulation of wealth and its distribution, the "Step-mother of Nature" bears an [illegible] the accumulation and distribution of thought, and the [illegible] welfare.

The [illegible] of Nature are divided into two classes; first, those exciting the imagination, and second, those that appeal to the understanding. In a properly balanced mind, the imagination and the understanding are aids and auxiliaries to each other, each working its own part; yet, in most instances, the understanding is too weak to restrain the imagination and prevent its wanderings. The advance of civilization tends to correct this disproportion, and to give to the reasoning powers their due authority. Even now, however, the imagination has far too much power, as is proved by the superstitions that prevail in every country, and by the poetic reverence in most minds for all that is ancient. Whatever in natural phenomena inspires terror or great wonder, or excites an idea of the vague and uncontrollable, tends to inflame the [illegible] and to bring under its [illegible] most deliberate operations of [illegible]. Conscious [illegible] the force and [illegible] of the imaginative [illegible] conscious [illegible] and a [illegible] over him. [illegible] the ogres tions of nature are ordinary, man regains his confidence and relies more fearlessly upon his own powers. All the great ancient civilizations were within the tropics, where the aspects of nature are the most sublime and terrible, and the most dangerous. The external world is more forbidable in Asia, Africa and America, than in Europe. The mountains are more extensive, grand and lofty; the volcanoes more general and active; the rivers, more majestic; the earthquakes, hurricanes, tempests and pestilences more frequent and dangerous. These serious calamities cause effects on the imagination analogous to those produced by the sublimity of nature. In Peru, where earthquakes are the most common, the general consternation is augmented by each succeeding shock, until finally, fear becomes insupportable; the imagination is excited, and superstitious intervention is anticipated and invoked, and the feelings of awe and helplessness spring up on which credulity and superstition are based. With the ignorant, there is a tendency to ascribe all serious or unusual dangers to supernatural intervention, and thus a strong religious sentiment is fostered, and danger is tacitly submitted to, and its cause is sometimes worshiped. Thus the Hindoos not only refuse to destroy the wild beasts, and dangerous reptiles, and serpents, but are led, by feelings of reverential fear, to worship the monsters that constantly prowl in their paths to seek their lives; the mischief inflicted causing their depredations to be continued with impunity. Disease is more common and violent in tropical than in temperate climes, and much might be said of its influence upon the imagination in tropical regions, if time permitted.

If we examine the literature of India even at the time of its greatest celebrity, we shall find the most convincing proofs of the wide ascendency of the imagination. There the literati have cultivated poetry entirely at the expense and sacrifice of prose, and grammar, law, history, medicine, mathematics, geography, and metaphysics, and all the labors of literature and science are in the form of poems, blended in a regular system of versification, and while prose is despised, even the Sanscrit has more numerous and complicated metres than any civilized language can boast of. This peculiarity in the literature has led to a spirit of exaggeration and untruth, running riot through all oriental compositions, entirely abhorrent to reason, and poetically luxuriant, even to disease. We might illustrate this in a thousand ways, but will confine our examples to some of the marvels of antiquity. The Sanscrit abounds in marvelous feats of antiquity, and is lavish in portraying the wonderful longevity of the human race in ancient times. With many similar examples we find it stated that in remote ages the average duration of human life was 80,000 years. It is casually mentioned that King Yudhisthir reigned 27,000 years, and King Alarka 66,000 years. These must have been cut off in the prime of life, for there are instances of poets who lived half a million years. A very illustrious character united with the functions of a king, the qualities of a saint, and lived a pure and virtuous life. When crowned king he was two million years old; he reigned 6,300,000 years, and then abdicated, and lingered in the land of the living 100,000 years more.

Needs of the Negro.—XI.

R. F. BOYD, M. D., NASHVILLE.

"Be not among the wine bibbers, the drunkard shall come to poverty and drowsiness shall clothe man with rags." "Woe unto him that rises up early in the morning that he may follow strong drink; he regards not the work of the Lord, neither considers the operations of His hand." "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink." Then we have the questions asked and answered, "Who hath sorrow? who hath woe? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without a cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine; they seek mixed wine." We want leaders who know the fruits of intemperance, have seen the awful deeds of drunkenness, brawls, bruises, quarrels, red eyes, blurred faces, suicides, wretched aches and feelings, jails, work-houses, penitentiaries, chain gangs, work-farms, almshouses, insane asylums, and the many other places of crime and misery that have been prodnced by this obnoxious tree, intemperance. I ask the attention of those who favor intemperance while I shall go through with a poetical history of that tree:

"And if any good thereon you find
That's good for body, soul and mind,
I'll take it, and I'll eat it too,
Repent, retract and go with you.

I know you'll say its the same old train
Of bloodshed, sorrow, shame and pain;
That matters not 'tis no less true,
The facts of which are known to you.

We look around and must begin
With saloons, rum-holes, sinks of sin,
We look therein and always find
The blurred eye and crazed mind.

The reeling frame, the bruised face,
Fills every corner nook and place,
We look and see this great procession,
Just here, or above, this is where they gamble.

They put up money, lose or win,
And trouble now is sure to begin,
One swears you've stole, out comes a knife,
A conflict now ensues for life.

In a little while you'll hear the tale,
One's carried home, the other to jail,
The jailor puts him in the cell,
The other soul is doomed to hell.

The court convenes, he must be tried
For life of him who now lies died,
When the judge is seated you'll hear it read
'You must be hanged 'till you are dead.'

I might go on just in this strain,
And thus create an endless chain,
Which he who reads already knows—
We'll leave it now and turn to prose."

See the reeling forms and hear the oaths, the vile and loathsome language which issues from the mouths of those crazed by the poison drank in these horrible dens of sin and shame. Then we have brutal treatment to animals, neighbors, friends, mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, wives and children, as a common product of this tree. We want leaders who will teach the youth that drink will bring them weakness instead of strength, poverty instead of wealth, foolishness instead of wisdom, unrest and pain instead of joy and peace, the semblance of the devouring beast and savage madman instead of that of the polished gentleman. I wish I could impress you with your duty toward this great enemy of mankind and the greatest evil among our people. It sweeps over our country like a vast pestilence or epidemic, carrying ruin and destruction to homes, society, church and State. It destroys the morals of our sons and our daughters—the future hopes of the race. God help our leaders and our entire race to fight this enemy until it shall find no place among us. We want leaders of noble and generous impulses with a heroism to lead the way to the hearts of the race's morals. Moral emancipation is one of the greatest needs of the race. Our morals need to be lifted from the horrible pits of lewdness and shame to the highest virtuous and religious elevation. We are taught many bitter lessons by the past, but we must not look back. We must take fresh courage and get new aspirations for the great work that is before us. God will help us if we will only help ourselves. Don't worry because there be hardships.

"What's the use of always fretting
At the trials we shall find
Ever strewn along our pathway?
Travel on, and never mind.

Travel onward, working, hoping,
Cast no lingering look behind
At the trials once encountered,
Look ahead, and never mind.

What is past is past forever,
Let all your fretting be resigned,
It will never help the matter,
Do your best and never mind.

Fate may threaten, clouds may lower,
And your enemies may be combined,
If your trust in God is steadfast
He will help you, never mind."

Then, in the words of Mrs. F. S. Oogood:

"Work for something good,
Be it ever so slowly;
Cherish some flower,
Be it ever so lowly;
Labor, all labor is noble and holy."

Wendell Phillips.—VIII.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS

Hear him what he said on the occasion that I speak of:

"So the South finds herself surrounded by four million people;—men, women and children,—who were totally unprepared for sudden freedom, but who had to be thrown up by convulsions into liberty or be extinguished in ruin, which would have swept both races to destruction."

The South can never get rid of these four million, nor can those who hate the African race spare the time to wait for them to die off.

If the war of races comes on through this shot-gun policy of the former masters, and only one race can be saved, civilization will save the weaker, for the whole human race will spring to their defense, and if any extermination is to take place, it will be those who still wish to defy the humanity of the ages, and the justice of Almighty God.

The nations are coming close together, one throb of sympathy for all oppressed classes now thrill the hearts of a thousand million.

Great wrongs can no longer go unpunished, and men talk so idly of a war of races which would end in the annihilation of the negro in the South, they little dream they are using language far more dangerous at the same moment than they did when they declared that if slavery or the union were to perish, the union should be the victim.

What then shall the South do, to make the best of her position?

She can neither get rid of these four million of people nor exterminate them, both are impossibilities.

The nineteenth century is not going to allow four million of people who have committed no crime to be swept off the face of the earth.

Sooner than this should be done, ten million of armed men, springing from all nations of the earth, will make their solemn and dreadful intervention."

Listen, fellow citizens, at these crystalized gems of prophecy of Wendell Phillips.

He was looking far away in the boundless ocean of the future, with the eyes of a seer, and his silver musical voice sometimes rising to the pitch of a thunder storm, and then as gently descending to the soft cadence of an Eolian harp.

When he arraigned the slaveholder before the bar of an enlightened public sentiment, his charges were more weighty than the great Edmond Burke, when impeaching the scourge of India.

When presenting the claims of the American slaves before the humanitarians for recognition; his lofty flights of oratory surpassed that of William Pitt, the Earl of Chatham.

Sermon Sketches.

Pentecost.

Theme—The Baptism of the Spirit.

Text—Acts ii, 1 4: "And when the day of Pentecost was fully come," etc.

Introduction—The fiftieth day after the Passover was observed among the Israelites (Lev. 23, 9; Deut. 16, 9,) as an annual festival in commemoration, originally, of the ingathering of the harvest, but, later, with an additional remembrance of the giving of the law on Sinai. It was also called the "Feast of Weeks," because of the fixed number of weeks prescribed in the law between the Passover and this festival. The Christians retained the name Pentecost, and counted from Easter Sunday. The "gift of the Spirit" occurring on this day gave it its grandest distinction. The Christians made it a time of great rejoicing and an annual harvest of souls by baptism. The candidates appeared in white robes, and the day came to be called Whit-Sunday (White Sunday.) To us the significance and glory of the day lie in the following particulars:

I.—First. The Church, as a living organism and a unit of social power, began its existence on that day. The child was born then and there, christened afterwards at Antioch. This implies:

1. That the apostles and disciples under the tuition of Jesus, during the three years of his ministry, were the Church only in embryo.

2. That the persons baptized by the apostles previously were received into the fellowship of disciples, but not into the Christian Church.

3. The apostles and disciples did not themselves receive the Paraclete (John 14, 16,)—"the anointing of the Holy One" (1 John 2, 20)—until the day of Pentecost. Consequently they were not fully prepared to open the doors of Christ's Church until that day.

I.—Secondly. The Church of Christ is a spiritual organism, composed of spiritual units, which are vitalized and united by God's Spirit dwelling in and among them; John 14, 17; Rom. 8, 9; Gal. 3, 14; Eph. 2, 20 22.

III.—Thirdly. The Church began her history in a mighty display of converting power. (a) Is not this converting energy, therefore, her normal state? (b) Does not the lack of converting power in a church imply a lack of the Spirit? (c) Does not such lack of the Spirit argue spiritual death and a forfeiture of membership in the great unity of Christ's Church?

IV.—Fourthly. Shall we not improve this day? 1. As the disciples did, waiting before God, being "of one accord and of one mind? 2. By claiming and expecting the immediate endowment of the Spirit?

V.—Fifthly. Why not, like the early Church, make this an annual feast of the ingathering of souls

From the Districts.

Huntsville District.

REV. EDWARD LEE.

In the issue of the 26th of Feb. I notice an article written by A. Adair, stating that he was having a hard time, and that he had written to presiding elder Lee for help, and that he had promised to help him, but had not sent him a cent; that he thought it was the duty of the presiding elder to help a preacher in time of distress.

Now, Mr. Editor, I can say for the truth that I paid Bro. Adair the first installment the same day the Texas Conference adjourned, on the 24th day of November, 1884. I only kept back one dollar and fifty cents because he had not gone to the work assigned him by the Conference. Bro. Samuel Gaines was appointed to the same work by Bishop E. G. Andrews, and he started to go to it, and it was impossible for me to know that Bro. Adair would not do the same thing. I understand it that the money is appropriated to the work, and the man who does the work gets the money, so I had no right to give it to Bro. Adair until he had gone to the work, and done the work according to the law of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Now, in addition to Bro. Johnson getting a start out of the people of Livingston, I know of no such preacher in charge in the Texas Conference, as do fellow the Rev. John Guess, who supplied the work last year and got a living out of the same, as he only had Livingston alone. Bro. Adair has in his charge two towns—Livingston and Moscow—and no other churches in the two towns but the Methodist Episcopal Church, that is, among our people, and all the unconverted people attend our church there. God bless more and patiently labor is what I believe to be Methodism. Quarterly conference I had to travel 270 miles; in addition to which I received from the Conference expenses, for traveling expenses, I only received one dollar. Now, this is a great change for a time. No members have left us. At the same time Bro. Adair the $1.50 owed him, and all last year Bro. Adair, in addition his quarterly collection, sometimes paid the whole. Now, why does

New Orleans District.

L. P. COUNTAIN.

Every member of the Methodist Episcopal Church could be an earnest student of Methodist work of the pastors. Prosperity has no [illegible] will not [illegible] in those churches where the pastor [illegible] the help of a Christian [illegible] makes mention of [illegible] from the pulpit. Pastors would [illegible] this, and attract [illegible] a weekly religious [illegible] every home.

Plainly the dominant [illegible] unselfish and god-like. [illegible] majority, detraction, [illegible] meanness and [illegible] are entirely removed. [illegible] are too sunny [illegible] such a brood of [illegible] lodging in. They [illegible] and fearful men and [illegible] to the church and are [illegible] their pastor. [illegible] by most [illegible] that they [illegible] was at Pleasant [illegible] H. [illegible] pot [illegible] church [illegible] con- [illegible] count- [illegible] wife slept on the bare floor without any covering save the clothes they had on, and ate their food from house to house with singleness of eye and gladness of heart. Sabbath he preached in his own rented chapel and organized a Sunday-school. Quite a stir was produced in the community with respect to the sentiments of the Methodist Church. A few wanted him to leave, but the more the lion roared the more he was encouraged, and having put his hand to the plough he could not turn back, either because of hard work or scanty fare. The Lord wonderfully encouraged his heart in the conversion of souls and the quickening of those who had backslidden. Thursday, March 5th, I made my first visit to this place and helped in the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, consisting of five members and six on probation. The place of worship was filled to its utmost capacity, and full as many more were standing outside anxious to hear. This field, like many others in Louisiana, is white and ready for the harvest, and any reaper who loves God and men may thrust in the sickle and gather a plenteous harvest. We shall have a good work at this point in the near future. Ministers who have the grace of self-help will have success, while those who are mourning over their hard and unpromising fields of labor will uniformly fail and wonder why they are not appreciated. The way to be nothing is to grumble and do nothing; the way to be something is to be happy and do something where you are.

At Wesley Chapel Bro. Dale is doing a good work, and is highly esteemed by the people. The congregations are large and attentive, the Sunday-school the largest of any in our city churches, and constantly increasing. A good religious influence pervades the congregations; upwards of twenty have been converted to God since conference. I know nothing on earth so perfectly contagious as the enthusiasm of an intelligent, prudent, pious Methodist minister.

First Street, with Bro. Qualls as pastor, has began a year of harmony and prosperity. He does not belong to that class of Methodist ministers who think that the surgeon's instruments and blacksmith's hammer can make a violet blossom. He has more faith in the sweet persuading influence of the sun light. This makes the seed grow when planted and the beautiful blossoms unfold. All the expenses of the church are promptly met. The church is too small for the people who desire to attend his ministry, and plans are already perfected for its enlargement.

Presiding Elder's Address.

Ohio District, Lexington Conference, M. E. Church. All hail! To the pastors, members and friends within the Ohio District, comes our annual congratulations:

Dear Pastors, Members and Friends—The sun has just dawned upon the early morn of another new conference year, and after passing through a very, very severe winter we welcome it with much delight. We have just met in our annual session, presented our reports of last year's labors, had a pleasant greeting, received fresh inspiration and have obligated ourselves anew to the Great Head of the Church to go forward with Christian boldness and spiritual energy to exercise His will in the performance of our duties. Our work last year was not as complete as it might have been, but, according to the times, we did well in some particulars.

Brethren, remember, that the Church is God's heritage; it has a grand and glorious mission to perform in the world, and we are the authorized agents through whom it must accomplish its work. Our reward here is a consciousness of Christian duty, and a willingness to discharge the same, but in the [illegible] and blessed hereafter, life [illegible]

Pastors, As ministers honored of [illegible] and sent forth in his vineyard to [illegible] Gospel intelligence to the perishing millions, let the aome of your Christian ambition be for the elevation of humanity, spiritually, morally, and in all the industrial pursuits of life. If this be your chief aim, your labors will be replete with abundant success. The Methodist Episcopal Church has definite prescribed duties for every pastor to conscientiously discharge, and every pastor has pledged himself to the Church to come up according to his ability to its requirements in the performance of those duties. When we, as pastors and members, perform our Christian duties as required of us by our Creator, and of the Church to which we belong, we are possessed with a righteous pride, and have just and lawful claims upon God for his promised blessings. Otherwise we have not.

Benevolent Collections.—I suppose that from the general information you received last year (the centennial of American Methodism) of the numerical growth and prosperity of the M. E. Church in this country, and also in foreign lands, that you are inspired now more than ever before with a true sense of your duty and of the importance of representing the benevolent interests to your congregations, and taking the collections as per discipline requires. We cannot afford to neglect our duties knowingly, and at the same time plead that we are innocent. The benevolent apportionments to your charge this year, comparatively speaking, are a mere trifle. You have committees to aid you in properly representing each charge to the Church and public, and in raising the amount apportioned for each. As chairman of said committees, you should hold a conference with them at the beginning of the year, properly organize and instruct them relative to the duties necessary for them to perform; and, dear Brother, I will assure you all collections in full before the year is half gone. Your duty is to report your collections to each quarterly conference. It will be expected and demanded of those who make no report to explain "why."

Stewards—The stewards are required to present to the first quarterly conference their financial plan for raising ministerial claims. Also, it would be advantageous to the pastor, financially, to appoint a person or steward to raise the presiding elder's claim prior to the quarterly conference; and especially on circuits, the pro rata should always be taken at each point, and brought or sent to the seat of conference, as we shall expect to receive the amount in full at that place. We are under considerable expense, and need our allowance.

JOSEPH COURTNEY.

70 E5:h street, Covington, Ky.

LaTeche District.

A. E. P. Albert, LaTeche district, writes: "Trustees must be sure to bring their deeds of church property to quarterly conference; if you have none, get copies forthwith. No excuse will be accepted. Those having lots upon which to build, must make it a point to be able to report deeds with Trust Clause, paragraph 393, Discipline 1884 inserted and at least $200 reliable subscription in money, building material, labor or hauling. To all such I can assure $100 toward building. We want to hear nothing abut the: 'I can'ts;' all 'I can, I will, and I have.' If you have no lot, pray to God, and buy, or get some one to donate to every point named in your appointment. We want solid workers. We have $100 for every such case. Collect Episcopal Fund and pay over in quarterly conference; push every interest in church and Sunday-school, local and connectional. 'Awake, thou that sleepest!' Let there be a grand rallying all over the district; we want to build twelve churches this year; we have $100 to help each one. Thanks to God, and the prayerful efforts of faithful friends; we want more revivals in every charge; and more spiritual power, and larger benevolences. 'Watch, fight and pray,' for these glorious results."

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. A. W. McKinney, Huntsville, Ala., writes: "It is the 1st of May, all nature smiles. The fields and landscapes are carpeted with green, all the orchard trees are white and gay birds sing among their branches. Now that bleak winter with his icy breath is gone we enjoy these balmy days. Huntsville is a beautiful little city on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, with about 800 inhabitants, almost equally divided between white and colored, the advantage being with the former. It is particularly noted for two things: 1. The Big Spring, which gives drink to all the inhabitants, supplies two factories, a railroad tank and still enough water to supply ten more cities of the same, drinking capacity. The next is clean streets which never get muddy. Would they were morally clean also; but we see on every corner "saloon" written in big long letters. By night also the red, flickering light enables the wayfaring to read "saloon," "sal o-on," the backwoods-man pronounced it, and remarked that there must be a big family of these sal o-ons, or he owned a heap of property one. "Sal-o-on" owns thirteen houses in our city, and taking out a few of the Methodist who do not drink we have one saloon to each 500 inhabitants counting from the cradle up. I am informed that one of these took in $500 in one week this past winter from the colored alone. But against this monster of iniquity we have "sounded forth a trumpet that shall never call retreat." We have a prohibition club of 235 persons who have pledged themselves to break his kingdom down. Religiously we have made considerable progress and we still keep marching on. We have raised $80 toward the completion of our church, paid the Church Extension Society $30 on old debt besides keeping up the current expenses. We had a two weeks revival, the first part of April and as a result 29 professed faith in Christ and 34 joined the Church. We expect to have a big dedication before long and we hope that many of our distinguished men, the presiding elders and doctors of divinity, will come and bring a dollar or two with them."

Bro. W. A. Shannon, Johnson City, Tenn., writes: "The work of God on Johnson circuit still goes on. Our second quarterly conference convened at Shell Creek on Feb. 7th, S. J. Harris, presiding elder, in the chair. The reports from the pastor showed a good interest on the part of the church. Before 11 o'clock Sunday many hungry souls were gathered to hear the word of God, among them many strangers from North Carolina and other parts. Although the winter has been very severe and the times dull our people are doing well here."

Rev. G. J. Izard, Bagwell, Tex., writes: "When I commenced to labor at this place there was no church and no membership and only seven when I organized a class last June. I was then only an exhorter; I established an appointment in a little log cabin and at conference time had enrolled thirty members and received local preachers' license. We will have a good frame church to hold our first quarterly meeting in the third Sunday in March."

Rev. H. J. Wright, Natchitoches, La., writes: "Having been sent back here by Bishop Mallalieu at our conference, held at Baton Rouge a few weeks ago, we are surrounded by dense woods, as we look we see no beautiful river for our travel, or iron rails for our comfort. Yet, notwithstanding in a lonely, secreted place of quietude we sit and look over the fields and view the tall trees on every side. In coming back here we come to do our duty as a Christian minister of God. We were received by the best portion of our people here with a Christian hand and an open heart; even the whites greeted us, they were glad, the children sung their joy, and told it to us by calling round; strong noble men came to make us feel like we were in a civilized world; thank God we are not yet out of the bounds of civilization, though surrounded by the former, back of him the woods and in them on one side a river, on the other a railway, yet not in sight. The Gospel is wanted to be preached; a house must be erected to God, the church is calling for men "well equipped" for the work. We must take the country for Jesus. Where there is a Christian there is a prayer, where a prayer, there is a God, where there is a God, something must be done; push the battle to the gate, let us go up, no time to strike camp, now the war is on, the battle is waxing hot, the contest is mighty, the clouds are lowering, the scene is done, heaven and hell are oped, noble men and women are going down, while we are halting between two opinions. Shoot Luke or give me the gun, preach the Gospel or quit the field. "Why stand ye idle." With this brothers, we open our fight. We hear some people here, who are not Methodists, who think they ought to hear a new preacher every year but they are going where they really belong, out of doors. Let us learn to submit to the church. While I was not anxious to come, I think the Bishop did wise in sending me, it is best for the people and church. Moving every year is detrimental and expensive to church and pastor, 'Let well enough alone.'"

Bro. G. J. Izard, Bagwell, Tex., writes: "I made my first visit to Bethlehem on the second Sunday of last month, and I found my official brethren holding the ground. There had been false prophets among them since the pastor left them last year, but my people had learned not to be carried about by every sweet sounding song. This is my first year in the work and I need the prayers of the brethren. I send my love, through your good paper to my elder brethren in the work whom I left in Arkansas."

Letters From the Laity.

Mrs. Alice Blaine, of Fairfield, Freestone county, Texas, writes: "Our Sunday-school is still in a prosperous condition. We had a Christmas tree on which were a considerable number of nice presents. The weather was very cold, but we succeeded in carrying out the best part of our programme. Rev. Decatur Blain made the opening address; several scholars made nice speeches, and Mr. Turner James gave us a nice talk, mostly to those who appreciate the Sunday-school enough to come there without the old red dragon, whisky. Next was singing by the school, after which several young ladies pleased the audience with songs. The pastor also sang. The weather being cold some of the exercises were omitted. The next was the distribution of presents. I will state in conclusion that we have a great deal of opposition here, and at times it looks to the discouraged worker as though progress were impossibfe, but we trust in God and push ahead."

Prof. J. C. Clark, of Mussou, writes: "We are glad to say that we have had the honor of being visited by Rev. S. Priestley, presiding elder of this district, on the 16th and 20th of March. He found us in a good locality, every rarity seeming pleasant to his eyes. We hailed with joy his visit to our school, and it will long be remembered by the children in this vicinity. He gave us some good advice in regard to our studies and as to how we should live, and what we should live for. When the question was asked the children "What have you learned from the presiding elder's visit?" fifty-four little voices exclaimed "The secret to learning," and they entered upon their studies with a will and accomplished a good day's work. The beautiful hymn he sang to us will also be long remembered by the little ones. I am glad to say that we have the Rev. C. A. Taylor for our pastor; all the members seem to think his appointment to this place a God send. He was gladly received by the members of both churches on his charge, and I believe they will stand by him in pushing forth the work. The presiding elder met all the brethren at the quarterly conference, and they manifested a spirit to work for the Lord. The elder's sermon was one calculated to lift up the cast down soul. The people feel that Elder Priestley is a proper man to fill the office that he now holds, and only regret that he can not be with us more. We pray that the spirit of peace may be with him wherever he may go, and that in visiting his charges he may carry peace to the many brethren and congregations."

For the SOUTHWESTERN

Honesty.

BY REV. J. C. CARTER.

There is no question of the day in the political world that needs so much attention and yet is so often overlooked as that of honesty. We often misunderstand the meaning by thinking its application is directly to money. It is certainly miserable to bear the name of being dishonest; and, on the other hand, it produces happiness on earth to bear the name of being honest. We may be honest or dishonest in being religious. If we choose the latter we make a mistake, the importance of which we seldom realize. In this case we undertake to deceive One who is our Maker, and our lives depend on his will. We may keep our dishonesty hidden from the people of this world, but God, who has an all seeing eye, looks on us and works on our conscience, and, after all, we must be brought to judgment on account of it. If we are dishonest with money that has been intrusted to us by the government of the country in which we live, or by society with with which we are connected, we leave a stain on our character that cannot be washed out by an upright course in the future. I have known men who, when rich, did not guard against this vicious habit of getting through the world; and after they had fallen into poverty lived, it seemed to me, a most miserable life. I have heard people say that poverty caused dishonesty, which, I think, is no plea for it. As a general thing those who are wealthy indulge in this habit more than any other class of people. To be truly honest we must never experience dishonesty on our part. We must cultivate an honest habit. In handling property that is not our own, many times by carelessness we misplace a portion of it, and lose reputation or bear the name of being dishonest by not being quick to replace it, even though we have it to take from our part. This habit has come to be so common that it seems as if people expect us to fall into this state of life at any time. We can not estimate the value of being honest, the word itself cannot be compared. We must be honest or dishonest. It is so plain and simple that few men have written on the subject. We may obtain wealth, education, ability to do many great things, but if we are dishonest we are but comparatively small. Among the many mean crimes that have been committed in this government next to murder is dishonesty. If there were some way to make the policy of this government more honest, the better and cheaper getting along would be. Remember the old maxium "Honesty is the best policy." Intemperance engenders disease, sloth produces poverty, pride creates disappointments, but dishonesty exposes to shame.

We must tell of the great specific—Hunt's (Kidney and Liver) Remedy. It never fails to cure Diabetes, Dropsy Bright's Disease, etc.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

The Progress of Civilization

BY JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

Fifth Paper.

Laws were conceived that, even in the minutest matters, deprived the poor of personal liberty and the freedom of action. They could neither change their residences, alter their clothing, nor select a trade; for the laws prescribed the occupation a man should follow, the dress he should wear, the place he should live in, the woman he should marry, and the amusements he might enjoy.

Throughout the American tropics there were but two classes, and of these, the upper was composed of irresponsible tyrants, and the lower, of slaves.

In this condition the Europeans found Mexico at the time of its discovery, and the masses there, feeling that any change of masters would be a relief, were very easily and willingly conquered, and passed readily from under the feet of pagan brutes into the clutches of Spanish demons!

While in North America the Eastern coast is bountifully irrigated, and the water supply abundant, but color than the Western; South of the equator, and throughout South America, the excess of heat and moisture is combined, from the Eastern slope of the Andes to the Atlantic Ocean. A current of heated water from the equator warms the Eastern shore of South America nearly to Paraguay, South, and another to the Isthmus, North; but the whole Western coast of that continent is cooled by the Northward flow of the Antarctic drift current from the vicinity of the South pole.

The excess of heat and moisture East of the Andes forms a combination favorable to fertility of soil and to the prolific growth of vegetation, not surpassed, if equalled, or even approached, elsewhere on the globe.

The soil in Brazil and throughout the Eastern part of South America is remarkable for the luxuriance of its vegetation as far South as the Uruguay, and much more [illegible] the climate will admit. The [illegible] the equator, and twenty-eight degrees South, the climate [illegible] and temperate, corresponding with the soil.

The co-operation of soil and climate in Eastern South America [illegible] as to compel the conclusion that the Eastern aspect of that continent must have been the theatre of an ancient civilization, similar to those which have been produced at an early period in all parts of the world thus richly endowed by nature.

A third agent, however, operates [illegible] strongly neutralize the [illegible] effects of the other two, and [illegible] in barbarism [illegible] of a region that would [illegible] have been the most favored and prosperous in the world. [illegible] the trade winds [illegible] as to [illegible] the Eastern coast of South America, [illegible] of the Andes, too lofty to be surrounded even by clouds, and compelling them to disburse their waters throughout Brazil, often drenching the entire country with floods and destructive torrents.

These floods, aided by the unparalleled river-system of Brazil, and attended by tropical heats, have created a richness and activity in the soil unexampled elsewhere, and Brazil is covered with a vegetation of incredible richness and profusion.

Nature, indeed, here riots in the wantonness of her fertility and lavish abundance.

Nearly all Brazil is filled with forests of gigantic trees, clothed with climbing parasites of every hue, decked and crowned with gorgeous blossoms of surpassing loveliness in endless profusion, and interspersed with tangled jungles of blooming undergrowth.

Birds, in countless varieties, with brilliant colors and variegated plumage, nestle and warble in the branches and make vocal their dark recesses, and tribes of monkeys, in numerous armies, sport and journey, for above terra firma, in the living arches. Here are, also, myriads of insects of classes innumerable, strange lizards and venomous reptiles, and monstrous serpents, spotted with hues of deadly beauty.

These majestic forests are traversed by mighty meandering rivers, and skirted by lakes, swamps, lagoons and meadows, reeking with heat and moisture and fatal miasm, and they afford abundant nourishment and safe concealment to countless herds of wild cattle, and are the favorite haunts of subtile and ferocious wild beasts, that prey on each other, and are a terror to all the cunning, courage and arts of man.

Thus is Brazil, beyond all other countries characterized, by a superabundance of animal, insect, and vegetable life, in endless and countless varieties. Yet, amid all this pomp, splendor and of nature, there seems no place for man! The majesty of creation here dwarfs him to insignificance, and the forces that repel his advance are so potent as to seriously retard, if not entirely to arrest his progress, by their accumulated richness and savageness; rendering the elements of progression, that have invited the march of civilization in other regions, the means of overwhelming man and arresting his onward journey in this. Therefore, Brazil has ever been uncivilized and, in relation to humanity, only inhabited by wandering tribes of brutish savages; incompetent to resist the obstacles which bounteous nature has ever thrust in the way; living in daily and nightly terror, the known enemy of every living thing thing, dreading and the dread of all men, and the sport and prey of more cunning, courageous, and deadly beasts and reptiles.

Address of the Southern Immigration Association of America.

To the Citizens of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, California, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Missouri, Texas, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The Southern Immigration Association of America, having determined to inaugurate its active work, by the establishment of a "Southern Castle Garden" at New Orleans, and by energetically pushing the purposes for which it was [illegible] its objects and [illegible] to the States, counties, cities, [illegible] railroads, steamship, steam, [illegible] commercial and agricultural [illegible] tions, and to the citizens [illegible] of the fifteen States, for [illegible] benefit the Association pro[illegible] to work, asking their active [illegible] and financial assistance.

The Association was incorporated [illegible] laws of Tennessee, in [illegible] 1884, by representatives [illegible] Arkansas, Florida, [illegible] Georgia, Mississippi, [illegible] and Missouri.

[illegible] stock was fixed at [illegible] the charter was to increase to $500,000, divided into shares of $5 each.

Its officers consist of a President, a Vice President from each of the fifteen States represented, a Secretary and a Treasurer.

The Board of Directors consists of twenty-seven members, of which there is one from each of the fifteen States; seven from among the stockholders at large; one the President of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange; one the President of the New Orleans Produce Exchange; one the President of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce; one the President of the New Orleans Maritime Association; one the President of the New Orleans Sugar Exchange.

The purposes and objects of the Association are in the highest degree harmonious with the grand purpose of the World's Exposition, viz: the development of the great resources of the South, by securing settlers from the East, the North, the West and from Europe, who will bring their health, strength, intelligence, industry, and frugality (not paupers or men unable to secure a living at home,) but men who can pay their way, and come because they are ambitious to improve their condition. This is the class of immigrants that the South wants, and which the Association proposes to secure for it.

The plans of the Association will include the following bureaus or departments: Castle Garden, Labor, Land, Transportation, Foreign Agencies, Information and Statistics, and County Organization. In the matter of county organization, the Association proposes to secure complete and effective work by the establishment of a "County Bureau" in each county of the fifteen States, to be composed of citizens of the respective counties. To these will be delegated the local work of immigration, thus securing the broadest possible basis of operations.

It is intended to operate the Association on a business basis. It will derive its revenue from fees on sales of land and on labor orders. It will contract with States, railroads and others, to advertise abroad any special advantages they may desire to disseminate. While no inducements are held out that the Association will become dividend-paying in the immediate future, it is expected that sufficient income will be derived to pay all expenses and keep the capital stock unimpaired. In appealing to the public for support by subscriptions to stock, it is enough to say that the money will be applied to secure an end supported by every noted writer and journal as the crying want of the time and section; that every public spirited man can subscribe, if only to the extent of a single five dollar share, with the assurance that it will speedily return to him with interest compounded.

A. J. McWHIRTER, President, Commissioner Agriculture, Immigration Mines and Statistics, Nashville, Tennessee.

W. P. ROSS, Vice President, and Acting President.

M. B. HILLYARD, Secretary.

Vice Presidents—DeWitt C. Bacon, Savannah, Ga; W. D. Barnes, Marianna, Fla., Robert Beverley The Plains, Fauquier Co., Va.; Leslie E. Brooks, Mobile, Ala.; A. P. Butler, Columbia, S. C.; Dr. C. W. Dabney, Raleigh, N. C., John F. Elliott, Dallas, Tex., Thos Essex, Little Rock, Ark.; Robert Gates, Jackson, Tenn.; Henry C. Harstick, St. Louis, Mo.; Philip Pendleton, Beverly Springs, W. Va.; John E. Procter, Frankfort, Ky.; W. P. Ross, New Orleans, La.; A. N. Towne, San Francisco, Cal.; E. G. Wall, Jackson, Miss.

Directors—Chas. E. Black, President New Orleans Cotton Exchange, New Orleans, La.; E. W. Cole, Nashville, Tenn.; Norman J. Colman, Commissioner of Agriculture United States, Washington, D. C., John G. Cullmann, Cullmann, Ala., E. J. Gay, President Louisiana Sugar Exchange, New Orleans, La., J. Y. Gilmore, Editor Sugar-Bowl and Farm Journal, New Orleans, La., John Glynn, Jr., General Agent New Orleans and Northeastern R. R., New, Orleans, La., V. H. Harris, Commissioner of Immigration for Louisiana, New Orleans, La., R. B. Hubbard, Tyler, Texas., S. B. McConnico, General Agent Illinois Central R. R. New Orleans, La., G. G. Perkins, Covington, Ky., A. Pope, General Passenger and Ticket Agent Norfolk & Western R. R., Roanoke, Va., R. B. Rephard, Savannah, Ga., E. Reynolds, General Agent L. N O. & T. R. R. New Orleans, La., E. L. Roache, Charleston, S. C., J. G. Schriever, Assistant General Manager Atlantic Division Southern Pacific R. R., New Orleans, La., W. H. Sebring, Commissioner U. S. and Florida, World's Industrial and Cotton Centenial Exposition, Bronson, Fla., Milton H. Smith, President Louisville & Nashville R. R., Louisville, Ky., Dr. Chas Taylor, South Bend, Ark., O. B. Turrell, San Francisco, Cal., N. D. Wallace, President New Orleans Produce Exchange, New Orleans, La., E. B. Wheelock, President N. O. Pacific R. R. Co., New Orleans, La. P. M. Wilson, Commissioner World's Industrial and Cotton Centenial Exposition North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C., T. J. Woodward, President New Orleans Maritime Association.

Persons desiring stock will please address Adam Thomson, Treasurer, box 901, New Orleans, La.

198 Gravier St, New Orleans Apr, 4, 1885.

"I do not like thee Dr. Fell,
The reason why, I cannot tell."

It has often been wondered at, the bad odor this oft-quoted doctor was in. 'Twas probably because he, being one of the old-school doctors, made up pills as large as bullets, which nothing but an ostrich could bolt without nausea. Hence the dislike. Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and no larger than birdshot, and are quick to do their work. For all derangements of the liver, bowels and stomach they are specific.

Symposium of the Weeklies.

A party is not a church nor an army, and if refusal to support any party measure however wrong, or to vote for any party candidate however objectionable, be party treason and desertion, then political progress can be secured only by such treason.—Harper's Weekly.

The difficulties attending recent elections of Bishops in the Episcopal Church show that, unless the leaders of the thought of the Church shall immediately set up some tendency toward union and accord, there will be a disintegration beside which the defection of fifteen years ago, led by Bishop Cheney, will dwindle into utter insignificance.—The Current.

One of the grandest problems of history is in process of solution in the Gulf States, or perhaps we might say in all the old slave States, where the colored population is numerous.—New York Witness.

No class of people are more abused and more ill treated than colored servants.—Richmond Patriot.

Allegiance to party—to party whether right or wrong—has a wonderful significance in this free country.—Southern Christian.

Let it be remembered that those who permit their children to grow up in ignorance and vice are creating the heaviest burden that the colored people will have to carry up the difficult way of their progress.—New American Presbyterian.

Guard against slow singing. Most of our preachers sing lustily, but very many of them sing dreadfully out of time.—St Louis Christian Advocate.

Outcast London.

Much excitement has been made by reports recently published on the vile condition of the slums of London. In one cellar was found a family consisting of a man sick with small-pox, his dying wife, three half naked and dirty children, and one pig. In some parts there is one gin-mill to every hundred persons. What defilement! Yet corresponding impurities often defile the human blood. They can be cast out by Brown's Iron Bitters, the great strengthener and purifier. Mr. B. S. Strange, of Stark Lake, Florida, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best blood purifier I ever tried. It gives all the satisfaction a man can want."

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

Is a Reliable Remedy for Liver Complaints and ills caused by a deranged or torpid condition of the Liver, as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Jaundice, Headache, Malaria, Rheumatism, etc. It regulates the bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the system, assists digestion.

AN INVALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINE.

Thousands of testimonials prove its merit.

ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.

ap 30 13teowar

P. P. ALBERT,

(Successor to L Biboist, Manager,)

Produce Merchant,

And Dealer in Groceries,

8 ..... Toulouse Street,..... 8

P. O. Box 3349. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.

☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

New Course of Study.

The Bishops, at their meeting held immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, arranged the following course of study to be pursued by candidates for the Methodist ministry. All examinations made after May 1, 1885, will be upon this new course of study:

For Traveling Preachers.

FOR ADMISSION ON TRIAL.

Common English Branches.
History of the U. S.—Ridpath	$3 00
Scripture History.—Smith. (Abridged edition in one volume.) Net	60
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 2.) Net	5
History of Methodism.—Stevens. (Abridged edition.)	3 00
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Edition of 1884
Compendium of Methodism.—Porter	1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I) sett	5 00
Books of reference:
Whitney's Hand-book of Bible Geography	2 25
Freeman's Hand-book of Bible Manners and Customs	2 25
FIRST YEAR.
To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scripture s hapters I XXX—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol I) sett	7 50
Plain Account of hris tian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. Net	1 60
Rhetoric.—Hill, Net	1 00
Written Sermons.
To be read:
Wesley's "sermons (Vol II.)
Christian Purity—Foster	1 50
Introduction to the Gospel Records—Nast	1 75
Ecclesiastical Law and Ecleof Evidence—Henry and Harris	3 60
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol I.—Reid	3 00
SECOND YEAR.
To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. (chapters XXI-LII)—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology. Vol. II.—Pope	1 75
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer	1 60
Fallacies in Logic.—Stevens. Net	60
To be read:
Checks to Antinomianism—Fletcher	5 00
History of Methodism (Abridged). Stevens	3 00
Defenses of our Fathers—Emory	1 50
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol. II—Reid	3 00
THIRD YEAR.
To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters I-XIII—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope. (Vol. III	7 50
Atonement in hrist.—Miley	1 25
History of the Church.—Shakburn	2 50
Intellectual Science—Porter	3 00
Homiletics.—Kidder	1 50
Written Sermon
To be read:
Theological Encyclopedia and Methodology.—Crooks and Hurst	3 50
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25
FOURTH YEAR.
To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XIX-XLIV. Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Theological Institutes. Part II.—Watson	3 00
Analogy of Natural and Revealed Theology.—Butler	1 50
Written Exegesis
To be read:
Life and Epistles of St. Paul.—onybeare and Howson (Abridged Edition)	1 00
Biblical Hermeneutics.—Terry
History of Rationalism.—Hurst	3 00

For Local Preachers.

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: History, Outlines of Bible History.—Hurst	$ 50
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3)	05
Christian Theology. Introduction and Book I.—Wakefield	2 50
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (Edition of 1884)
Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation.—Walk.	1 25
To be read:
Hints to Self-educated Ministers.—Porter	1 25
A Hundred Years of Methodism.—Simpson	2 50
Portrait of St. Paul.—Fletcher	75
SECOND YEAR.
To be studied:
The Bible: Doctrines
Christian Theology. Books II and III.—Wakefield	2 50
Christian Baptism.—Merrill	1 00
Church History: Outlines of Church History.—Hurst	50
Ancient History.—Thalheimer
To be read:
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25
History of the United States.—Lippath	3 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged Edition).—Stevens	3 00
THIRD YEAR.
To be studied:
The Bible. Sacraments
Christian Theology. Books IV and V.—Wakefield	2 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Aspects of Christian Experience.—Merrill	1 00
Rhetoric.—Haven	90
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer	1 60
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol I.) Introduction to the Gospel Records.—Nast	5 00
Era of the Protestant Revolution.—Seebohm	1 25
	75
FOURTH YEAR.
To be studied:
Christian Theology. Books VI and VII.—Wakefield	2 50
Logic.—Jevons. (Science Primer Edition.)	45
Elements of Intellectual Science.—Porter	3 00
Review of the course for the three preceding years
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. Vol II. books to Antinomianism.—Fletcher	5 00
History of the Reformation.—Fisher	2 50
Protestant Foreign Missions.—hristlieb	1 50

Terms, cash with order. Address,

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St. New Orleans.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.

For Teachers and Young People.

To clubs of six or more, one address, 55 cents each. 65 cents a year.

The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.

For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.

50 Cents a Year.

It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.

For Bible Classes and the Adult Department.

20 Cents a Year.

The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs, besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.

For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.

6 Cents a Year.

The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Songs (with music) in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.

For the Younger Scholars.

6 Cents a Year.

The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.

For the Little Folks.

$4 a Year; $1 a Quarter.

The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.

For Infant Classes.

25 Cents a Year.

The Pictures Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.

For the Children.

Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each. The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.

For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.

Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.

This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people.

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

Juvenile Periodicals.

We are now prepared to furnish the following Juvenile Periodicals for 1885 at the regular subscription price:

WIDE AWAKE.

The Great Pictorial Magazine,

$3.00 a Year.

WIDE AWAKE, the best, the most entertaining, the most beautifully illustrated of all magazines for young people.

BABYLAND.

The Only Magazine in the World Expressly for Babies.

Only 50 Cents a Year.

It will have its baby music, its baby stories, and its large, beautiful pictures.

Our Little Men and Women

For Youngest Readers at Home and at School.

Only $1.00 a Year.

Little men and women just beginning to read, will find this monthly filled with charming stories and poems. It is the aim of the editor to give entirely true stories, or stories based on facts.

THE PANSY,

An Eight page Weekly, for Boys and Girls.

Only 75 Cents a Year.

This illustrated paper, edited by "Pansy," is equally suited to week day as Sunday reading.

Subscriptions received by

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

SOUTHWESTERN.

...ALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

...URSDAY, MAY 14, 1885.

...time of meeting of the Dela... Conference has been postponed ...Bishop Foster, who is to pre... until May 28.

The resurrection and reunion of the soul and body of Christ is, in ...t, incomprehensible. We can ...ee if we do not fully under... it.

Methodism has stood a hundred ...rs. When she started she had ... If she don't lose her first love, ...t will she do in another hun... years!

...Prof. L. D. Easton, of Cincin..., Ohio, has grown stout of ...stique, and is in the possession ...excellent health.

...Miss Fanny Brooks, of Paris, Ky., ...dist Church, declares her call ...preach, but the ...ch denies. She is preaching ...rtheless.

...e text was, "Say to them of a ...l heart your God will come," ...the preacher said, "The devil ...ing up in a rocking chair ...ged in your heart."

...don't blame Moses, for if this ...e was to turn to a serpent I'd ... it too, and a good many of ...ld follow me. I feel like I ...d start right now and run until ... stop."

...y meeting with the member... Union Chapel, Cincinnati, ...tely was a pleasant affair. ... of the old faces are still seen ... are missing. Pastor Ha... makes a good beginning, fine ..., and is well received.

...here are no better papers ... this or any other country ...ition of our Church, and their ... should be increased fi... especially in the South. ...dy should take one or ... else.

...Schofield, of the ...Church of Belleville, Mich., ...e converts in the Huron ... Sunday. ...he for the day before ...ver an inch thick during ... The parents baptized ...daughters of the pastor, ...Rev. John Mead and Geo. ...

...to meet Bishop H. ... of Cynthiana, Ky., ...ptized in our good for... so. He is a decidedly ... radical on many ques... the core, and far in ad... times on important ... Many of his theories ... the less right because ...

...Division of Ninth Street ... Episcopal Church, Cov... to be immediately ... not yet before this ac... demand. A novel ... the matter is that the ... trustees of the church, ... up meetings, ... the request ... proper. Perhaps ... and will ... or the matter. "All ... Taylor, who are ...

Be Careful to be Accurate.

Probably the hill in all North Street colored congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Church by the help of Bishop Amos Shinkle and the Church Extension Society, owns the finest church building of any colored congregation West of the Alleghany mountains A fine photograph of this building will be found at the World's Exposition in the colored department, bnt unfortunately through some mistake it has been described as the Second Baptist Church colored, of Covington, Kenton county, Kentucky. This mistake the lady in charge promised us to have corrected, and we, now call upon Honorary Commissioner Simmons, of the Kentucky exhibit to see to it that this is done which we have every reason to presume he will be both glad and prompt to do. He has once lectured in this church we are told, and will probably remember that it is situated on Ninth between Scott and Madison streets, Rev. Alexander McDade is pastor; Joseph Courtney elder, and that it belongs to the Ohio district, of the Lexington Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. John Vinegar is pastor of the Baptist Church and it is not on Ninth street at all. The fact is the editor of this paper, while presiding elder on that district, bought the property in question paying $4,500 cash for the premises as it then stood.

There ought to be great care used in discribing these exhibits, that the history compiled thereupon may be accurate, reliable, and just to all the parties contributing them. Such has no doubt been the intention, and the haste with which it has been gotten together may explain this failure to do so, but let it be immediately corrected.

Secretary Bayard.

Secretary Bayard denies the report of T. D. Mussey, in the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, of April 16th, to the end that he was unkindly disposed toward the colored people, or that he had misrepresented Hon. Geo. W. Williams. When in Wilmington, Delaware, where Mr. Bayard lives, we took occasion to inquire of several well-informed colored persons how they regarded him in view of his prominence as a Presidential possibility at that time, and their responses were very much in his favor as a true gentleman and one who was kindly disposed toward the Negroes. Of course he is not a Republican, and does not hold Republican ideas touching Negro affairs, bnt is entitled to belief until something is proven against him. Mr. Williams may have a cause of complaint, as stated by Dr. Mussey, and if so, Mr. Williams will be able to make it clear, and so will Mr. Bruce. Meantime it will be well to wait for full and particular information. One thing is certain, Mr. Bayard will want a colored Democrat to take Mr. Williams' place if any Negro has it. This even Mr. Williams, who is a Republican, ought to expect. Mr. Cleveland's administration will tend as much as possible to the perpetuation of Democratic rule, and as a means to it will employ Democrats, black and white. Such is our politics.

Bishop Taylor's Support.

Bishop Taylor is dependent on on the sales of his books for his personal expenses. Do not overlook this fact, brethren.

No, he is not. The two continents are back of him. He has but to speak and America will contribute to his needs. Liberia also is ready to extend the helping hand.

When Bishop Taylor will gladly accept all that the "two continents" are ready to give towards the "Transit" and "Building Fund," he looks to the sales of his books for his own personal expenses. He expects his mission work in the people they approach. Perhaps some will ... or the matter. "All ... Taylor, who are willing to help him on his personal expense account in founding self supporting missions in Africa, can do so by investing in his books." With all our eloquence about "two continents", don't let us interfere with the Bishop's own plan to support himself.—Christian Standard.

Ah! yes. Perhaps we did grow a little eloquent when stating the estimate which the people of two continents place upon Bishop Taylor, his heroic associates and their sublime work. As to the Bishop's personal support we know, and if necessary we can produce a letter to him to the Book Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church in proof, that it is to that Church which he looks for his salary as a Bishop; and, further, we are sure that this Church would not elect and leave a Bishop without support. Our Missionary Society was and is most ready to pay Rev. William Taylor such salary as may be agreed upon as a missionary Bishop, and to this end was he elected. Therefore, Bishop Taylor has not only the sales of his books, and two continents, bnt also the Methodist Episcopal Church to which he can look without disappointment for support.

Church of Christ the Baptist.

Rev. R. Johnston the late pastor of the A. M. E. Church at Chatfield, found himself wrong in spilling water on the grown people, and little infants, and also of being ordered over by bishops and presiding elders. He left the Methodist concern and came to the Church of Christ.—The Baptist Preacher.

We always thonght it was the church of Christ—the Baptist. This association may suit him better than that of the African Methodist Episcopal Church of Christ, Son of God, and the Savior of men women and babies. Every body to his liking but we'll stick to the Lording Bishops, and presiding elders a while longer. By the way the Baptist preacher recieved into the Louisiana Conference, at its last session is proving to be a first class workman.

Negro Education in the South.

The educational facilities for the blacks are better in the South to-day than they are in the North, in proportion to the facilities proffered to all. South Carolina employs and pays out of the State treasury more black teachers than are employed in all the States of the North, and Alabama employs 1,100 colored male teachers and 500 colored female teachers. And they provide the best means for fitting the colored people for teaching. The normal schools for whites and blacks in both Alabama and South Carolina are exactly equal, and the treasury of the State is largely drawn upon to qualify the colored race for teaching itself. North Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, and indeed most of the old slave States, each sustain more colleges for the blacks than Pennsylvania or Massachusetts; and just as educational facilities have increased for the whites, whether in common or normal schools or in colleges, they have been equally increased for the blacks so far as State appropriations have aided them. In Georgia the colored university ranks with the white university, and even in Mississippi, presumably the most Bourbon of Southern States, the State does much more for the collegiate education of the black race than does Pennsylvania.

COL. A. K. MCCLURE.

That there is a change for the better in the matter of Negro education in the South by the South through State institutions is a fact which ought to be cheerfully admitted and full credit accorded. But that the South does, according to the Negro population of both as much proportionally for the education of the Negro people as the North does, is not a fact, and for the good reason that the South is at present unable to do so much. Hence the need of Federal, or other aid, to a great extent.

Not Catalepsy but Pauline Conversion.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hartford City, Indiana, a score or more persons affected by religious excitement fell into a cataleptic condition on the evening of the 21st. Their restoration to consciousness was attended with varied expressions as to their experience and sightseeing while in that condition. The scene outrivals any mesmeric influence or religious excitement known in the neighborhood. Hundreds are in attendance at every meeting and the same scenes are enacted, only gaining in extravagance. The populace are greatly excited. A young woman after coming out of a trance, said that she had been in the spirit land, had seen and conversed with loved ones, had viewed the city of New Jerusalem, looked upon the streets, gold paved, heard the angelic choristers chanting the melody of heaven, and was sorry that she had to return. Sister Woodworth, the evangelist, conducts the meetings.—Christian Nation.

Yes, and you will find a similar instance in the conviction and conversion of St. Paul, as recorded in the 9th chapter of Acts; also in the 2d chapter of Acts is an account of a revival with manifestations somewhat similar to those referred to in the one at Hartford City.

Personal.

—Ben. F. Hildebrand, of the Pawnee Press, Pawnee, Nebraska, and Rev. I. Garret, Forest, Miss., wife and friends, called last week.

—Evidence of close and careful management in the Western Methodist Book Concern are apparent in the calling in of bonds now npon the market.

—Dr. F. A. Archibald, in charge of the sales room of the Western Book Concern, is one of the most affable and kind-hearted gentlemen. It is a real pleasure to be associated with him in matters of trade.

—Dr. C. H. Collins, late of Colored Methodist Church in America, of Angusta, Ga., has become a member of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and been stationed, by Bishop Turner, at Cynthiana, Ky.

—Bishop Warren is one of the hardest working members of our Episcopal force. His hands are always full of matters looking to the improvement of the Lord's poor, and he generally succeeds. Viva la Warren.

—Rev. E. W. S. Peck, of the Baltimore, and S. G. Griffin, of the Staunton district, Washington Conference, having served their terms as presiding elders, have been stationed, in the order named, at Sharp Street and John Wesley churches, Baltimore, Md. They are both old friends and excellent ministers.

—We are pleased to note the return of Dr. John P. Newman to his old conference again. Dr. Newman is in many ways endeared to the colored people, and has yet an important work before him to do for them and for Methodism. Long may he live and flourish to do it.

—Rev. Bidwell Lane, a true friend to the SOUTHWESTERN, and one greatly revered by its editor as well as all who have the good fortune to know him, having closed a successful term of the pastorate in Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Covington, Ky., now goes to an important charge in New York City.

—Miss Viola Crapsey, of the Western Book Concern, at Cincinnati, is a fixture there. It would seem lonely were she absent. There are few Methodist preachers indeed who have not found her polite attentions equal to the creation of a want and the consummation of a sale where there would otherwise have been none. Her presence in the sales-room is of great value to the business of the Concern.

—W. J. Gaines, Esq., is, without any real or intended disparagement to others, the most popular young colored man in Northeastern Kentucky, so far as our chances of observation go, which is pretty extensive for we see over a wide scope of country in our pilgrimages. Upon his invitation we visited that fine old Kentucky town Cynthiana, and were presented to one of the largest congregations we have ever met on an evening in the week. Mr. Gaines' personal influence and popularity was the direct cause of it all. He belongs to no church, but stands well with all. He likes the SOUTHWESTERN, and the visit was a profitable one through his aid. He is in Government service, and if merit and competency is a sufficient title to retain it when one has a place he will hold his for some time to come, or go higher. He is happy in the possession of one of the most handsome, well-preserved and cultivated mothers, and she is perfectly devoted to him. They reside in Covington, Ky.

Church Polity.

What are the conditions of membership into the Methodist Episcopal Church? SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—They are as follows:

1. For probationary admittance into a Methodist Episcopal Society or class the only condition is "A desire to flee the wrath to come," and when this desire is so fixed in the soul that it can be seen by the fruit, then the probationer may be admitted to membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church. The continuance of this membership so gained will depend upon a continuance of this desire to flee the wrath to come, which wrath hangs continually over the heads of sinners.

Notice

To the Presidents and Secretaries of the Local Societies of the Methodist Preachers' Mutual Aid and Beneficiary Society, of the United States of America.

BY REV. L. N. TAYLOR.

I cannot urge npon you too earnestly the importance of reporting the death of co-members immediately, for when a member of a beneficiary society dies the growth of that society generally stops until the benefit is paid. We have had only a few deaths, and of those only two were reported within a week or ten days after the occurrence. Some have waited five, six or more weeks before reporting. Here I give one example: A sister died at Canton, Miss., Aug. 29th, but the affidavit of her death was not made out until Oct. 27th. This great delay is no doubt due to the absence of the secretary and to the illness of the president, our departed brother, the Rev. A. K. Davis. And yet I owe it to the Southern division to day that, although the assessment was not made until two months after the death occurred, we have had a steady increase of members all the while. An agent wrote me that he was crippled in his work on account of Dr. Taylor striking down one of the leading men of the Society. I wish to say that that is a mistake. Dr. Taylor, as I know him, is the last man to strike down a fellow man; no one will go farther to defend a brother; and when he strikes he believes, and those who know him believe, that he does so in defense of himself and the people. One man should not use another man's name without his consent; or, if he does use it, do so in a way unobjectionable. These words will have more effect when it is remembered that that they are not for flattery or for favors, for I have no favors to ask any one at the sacrifice of truth and manhood as I understand them. But I only speak of the Doctor as I have learned to regard him. Again, Mr. B. P. Toley is my wife's brother, and so far as I know is a trusty young man. But he is not the Secretary of our Society, neither does he hold any official relation thereto. He was Secretary when we first organized. For reasons which it is not necessary to state he was chosen for that position; but in order that he might attend the Central Tennessee College, his official relation terminated at the expiration of four months. He traveled with the writer summer before last on Dr. Taylor's district in the Lexington Conference, and much of the time was spent at the Doctor's home, and during that time the Doctor had a chance to study the young man closely, as I had to study the Doctor, and no doubt he learned more of Mr. Toby than it has been my privilege to learn, for he would smoke in the Doctor's presence, something he never did in my presence. All I mean by the above remarks is, that Dr. Taylor has not stricken down one of the leaders of the Society, and to say that the standing and character of all men are safe so far as Dr. Taylor is concerned, and will be defended by him. I am sorry that the Doctor felt called upon to publish the notice, yet right is right, and Dr. Taylor, or any one else, can always have my support in the right. I saw the letter which the Doctor wrote to Rev. J. W. Hughes, and it has controled me to some extent in regard to commissioning Mr. Toby; and if he has a commission for Texas or Arkansas, or if he was ever sent to either of these States in the interest of our Society, I do not know where he received the commission, nor do I know when or by whom he was sent.

Notwithstanding all this the Society will honor all the applications sent in by him from either of those States in the past, and the General Manager will look after him in the future. Being not yet 24 years of age, he has a good chance to regain lost ground, yet I am inclined to the opinion that his greatest mistake is in not continuing with Dr. Braden at the Central Tennessee College.

Evanston, Ills.

[I approve all that Dr. L. N. Taylor has said above. I wish it understood that in all I said of Mr. Toley the Association was excepted.—ED.]

The Ministry.

H. W. SIMMONS.

Feeling much interested in this subject, I thought, for my first time, to present it to the public. There are many much more acquainted with the subject than I am, having had a longer experience, but I am confident that the ministry of Christ is a matter of vital importance. The lawyer seeks to preserve the social welfare of the people; the physician the physical, but the minister of the Gospel the spiritual, which is not for this life, but for the eternal life which sets in afresh after we have put off this mortal. It is not a profession, but a calling, louder than any of earth's. He is commissioned by Christ and feels, as St. Paul said, "Woe unto me if I preach not the Gospel." Notwithstanding we see our day crowded with those who say that they have been called to be fishers of men, and after having spent a few hours on the shore without any apparent success, they fold their nets and make their way back to the places from whence they come." "No man having put his hand to the plow and looketh back is fit for the kingdom." How, then, can any say that there is no profit in it when the master has promised us his protection and also a crown of righteousness if we are faithful nuto death? What a thought to inspire our hearts to think that we have been set apart by the Master to preach the truths of the Gospel to the perishing world; that we are organs through whom the Holy Ghost speaks! Will not all the sciences and arts of this world fail? Will not all its grandeur crumble into dust? bnt will the plain truths of the Gospel go into oblivion? No, never! It is God's word; He who is from everlasting to everlasting; who says it is easier for the heaven and earth to pass away than one tittle of the law to fail. We need to remember this. Preaching the Gospel is not man's authority, bnt God speaking through him. There is a strong tendency in the human heart or mind to lean on human authority. Hence it has come to pass that thousands of preachers throng into the Christian Church who have not the real power of the word of God. This is a most dangerous error, and its roots lie far deeper in the heart than many of us are aware. We must understand that God's word carries its own credentials with it, and only needs men who are not afraid to tell it. It bears its own evidence on every page, in every paragraph, in every line. The world cannot furnish so high a position to human beings as heralds for Christ. His word gives rest and peace; strength and fixedness to the believing heart and mind. We may not be able to tread our way through the labyrinth of human systems of theology, but God's voice speaks in Holy Scripture, speaks to the heart directly to me. This is life and peace, all other writings may go, since I have all I want in the ever flowing fountain of God's truths, the peerless, precious volume of his word. Many were they that started with Christ in His ministry, but few were they that held out. No doubt this is his reason for speaking as we find in Luke ix, 62. The more spuriousness there is the closer should we stick to the ministry. A vacillating man is never peaceful; he is tossed to and fro. "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways," He tries to please everybody, and in the end pleases nobody. The decided man, on the contrary, is he who feels he has but One to please This gives unity and fixedness to the character. It is an immense relief to be thoroughly done with men, pleasing and eye-service, to be able to fix the eye on the Master alone and go on with Him through evil report as well as good report. We are persuaded that earnest, faithful preaching is one of the special needs of our day—men who are really bent on their work, bent, not merely on preaching and teaching, but on saving souls.

We are convinced that the firm decision is the only thing for the servant of Christ at the present moment, for so surely as the devil finds us wavering he will bring every engine into action in order to completely drive us off the field May God's Spirit work more mightily in our souls and give us increased ability to say, "My heart is fixed, O, God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise."

Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Schools and Colleges.

Memorial Services at Wiley University.

Memorial services to Bishop Isaac W. Wiley were held in Wiley University Chapel at Marshall, Texas, at 11 o'clock a. m., Sunday, April 19th. A large number of the friends of the departed Bishop, with tender recollections of that great and good man, gathered to do honor to his memory.

Bishop W. F. Mallalieu was present and made the principal address: brethren from the Texas and Louisiana conferences were also present, and participated in the exercises.

The services were conducted by the President of the University, and opened by singing two verses of hymn, number 656, after which Prof. N. Coleman read the 90th Psalm. Prayer was then offered by Rev. H. Webb, presiding elder on Marshall district, followed by singing the 638th hymn.

Appropriate resolutions were introduced, following which F. Parker, a student and preacher of the conference, presented a paper on the relation sustained by Bishop Wiley to the Freedman's Aid Society. It was an affectionate tribute to one who was the sincere and devoted friend of the colored people.

After singing the 1038th hymn, Rev. R. H. Harbert, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, made a brief and appropriate address. Hymn number 991 was then sung, and Bishop Mallalieu was introduced, who delivered an address of remarkable beauty and fitness. After reading the official obituary notice, he proceeded to speak of the closing scenes of the late General Conference, the feelings inspired by the entrance of Bishop Simpson; and the prayer by Bishop Wiley. He then gave a brief analysis of the qualities of mind and heart that fitted the Bishop so eminently for his great work, and expressed the hope and conviction that that work among the freedmen so worthily begun and continued under the good Bishop's fatherly care, would continue to grow in magnitude and influence, and that Wiley University might become in every respect a fitting memorial to his name.

His address awakened deep interest and held the closest attention, and we almost felt that the spirit of the departed Bishop was present, kindling our zeal, and inspiring our faith. After singing again, Rev. H. Webb spoke briefly and touchingly of Bishop Wiley's last visit to the University, and the words of encouragement he left behind.

The doxology was then sung and the benediction pronounced by Bishop Mallalieu. The services were deeply impressive and the interest manifested, showed how large a place Bishop Wiley held in the hearts of the colored people. The fact that our University is the only school bearing his name, and that it is especially devoted to the elevation of the Negroes, increases greatly their reverence for his memory and caused them to cherish fondly every word or act that gives promise of making the University worthy and placing it upon the highest plane of influence and usefulness.

The following are the resolutions presented and adopted during the services:

Whereas, Bishop Isaac W. Wiley was one of the signers to the call, inviting all Methodists of Cincinnati who were interested in the emancipated slaves to meet for consultation in their behalf, and took an active part in the deliberations of the convention which organized the Freedman's Aid Society; and,

Whereas, he advocated on all appropriate occasions the necessity of this organization and its claims upon the church, and was for many years its honored president, and watched over its interests with a father's love and care; and,

Whereas, in administering the duties of his Episcopal office he sought every opportunity to give dignity to the Society and to advance its interests, and by his earnest appeal in behalf of education at the Texas Annual Conference held at Galveston, in 1873, aroused the members of this conference to take active steps in forwarding this University in which we believe he was especially interested; and,

Whereas, this is the only institution that bears his name, and as such, is the only monument to his memory; therefore,

Resolved, That we recognize in his death the great loss sustained by the church and its educational interest in the South and especially by this institution.

Resolved, That we invite the hearty co-operation of his colleagues, the Freedman's Aid Society, all his friends, relations, and the freedmen in all the land to assist in making this University worthy the name it bears, and to erect such buildings and provide such endowment as he proposed in his life.

Resolved, That we extend our deepest sympathy to the family and friends of our beloved Bishop in their bereavement.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of Bishop Wiley, and be presented for publication in the Christian Advocate, the Western Choistian Advocate and the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

N. D. CLIFFORD,
W. RIPETOE,
W. WESLEY,
R. H. HARBERT,
H. WEBB,
Committee.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Public Education in Louisiana.

Without that intellectual training, that training which comes to the masses through the agency of the public school system of the State, we may expect to be shocked be frequent reports of murder, corruption deified, and ignorance in high place; the ascendency of the liquor trade over the benign influence of religion.

Intelligence is modest, having great regard for the civil law, and greater regard for the moral law. Ignorance is boisterous, desecrating, spreading terror in its path to the discredit, and disquiet of communities, to the prevention of intelligent emigration, and immigration to the State. No State can grow agriculturally or intellectually where there is no wholesome legislation for the maintenance and perpetuity of the public educational system of the State. The Democrtic State convention held one year ago, in the city of Baton Rouge, gave this all important subject meager and hurried attention, without any defined educational method in view, without even a word for the better organization of the schools throughout the State. The convention "straddled the blind" on education. Public education cannot be scouted; the civilization of both races depends on the masses.

The Negro population of the State is steadily increasing. In 1870 the State had a total population of 726,275, and in 1874 the number had diminished only two hundred, while during the same period the number of blacks in the State had increased nearly ten thousand. Of the 726.275 inabitants, 298,000 can neither read or write; of these 68,000 are whites, and 230,000 blacks. This statement, including infants and young children, is, of course likely to mislead as to the real state of affairs; but the actual fact is that of the children old enough to attend school unmbering in all 250,000, only 82,000, not quite one third, attend school. Appallding enough is this statement, to awaken the most strenuous, and serious apprehensions for the future of our State. Ten years have elapsed. What is the actual condition now?

Greater educational activity must now be manifested by the friends of education than heretofore. The struggle of the public schools throughout the State, show that both people and educators are getting clearer ideas of what the public school system means to the bottom strata of society in the State. Its importance to the exercise of suffrage, to citizenship, and the pertetuity of republican national, and local institutions. Our public school system permeating the States is the breath of life to American government. In every section of the State, public interest in education has been more manifest, and distinguished gentlemen, usually active during the current year.

City and parish papers have been characterized by a striot regard for facts. The Constitution of 1879 provided very small support for public education, and its restrictions of local taxation influenced greatly the educationaly progress of the State and parishes. Hence, the necessary, inevitable check on the educational progress of the State, and its present sickly condition. Hon. Easton, we trust will prove himself to be the educational redeemer of Louisiana—sublime opportunity—if not affected with political per-blindness, and partiality to the New Orleans schools. The parishes are hoping that our honorable superintendent will remember the balances to their credit, and remit, now that he is in the kingdom; which remitance will help the public education of the parishes not a little. If the poll tax law in the State and parishes were enforced the State quota certain, the schools could be kept open nine months in a year; whereas, now only thee months in the year, in the parishes. If such a condition of things as mentioned, could be depended on, the parishes could and would employ the best talent in her schools; but just now it is as scarce as "hen's teeth."

For primary training, the best talent should be employed. Our colored schools in the State are taught mostly by colored teachers; it must be remembered that the number employed having received the benefits of better education or instruction is a very small fraction of the entire number employed. The reason is public schools in the parishes are given as a reward for political jobbery, regardless of efficiency. So that to all the other disadvantages must be added a large number of incompetent teachers employed. Even these teachers have zeal, but it is without knowledge. Free the schools from politics; better pay; and then better teachers. The houses occupied by these schools are the churches of our people; few school houses.

The lack of well fitted buildings and appliances for the school room add another special embarrassment to the progress of public education in the State. Each parish should have its public normal high school; such a school should be centrally locacted, easy of access. The most promising students in the various ward schools should be transferred to this normal high school if the necessary examination is sustained, for a more thorough preparation, especially if teaching is to be their vocation. The Local Board of education composed of best citizens, should have the management of such schools; if such schools are not organized in the school districts of the State, the local board should adopt some school, best fitted to meet this great want, and delegate authority to this adopted school. Which adoption would enable it to act in the capacity of a parish or district normal high school. The remarks of that eminent divine, Henry Ward Beecher, on public education are apropos here:

"Take care of the schools and have more of them, and if you are going to take care of the schools, take care of the school teachers. If you are going to take care of the school teachers, understand one thing: You never will be able to have the best schools for the children of the poor, until you make it the interest of men and women to devote their lives to that business, just as professional men devote their lives to their occupation."

GEORGE W. WELLS.

Who Will Help?

We are in great need of a new building at Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., for the accommodation of students. The plan of a commodious edifice has been prepared, which will cost $27,000. It will be a neat brick building, in harmony with the buildings already erected upon our commanding campus, and will furnish such accomodations as are imparatively demanded for the future usefulness of this promising institution of learning. The great work God has given us to do in this section of the South cannot be accomplished without this additional building.

Rev. E. H Gammon, of Batavia, Ill., who has already given very liberally to this enterprise, has carefully studied the condition and wants of the university, and has become so deeply impressed with the necessity of increased accommodations for the students that he has offered to give one-half the entire cost of the building, as the money may be needed in its construction, provided the friends of the university will raise the other half.

Bishop Warren has collected $2,000 towards the other half, and another brother, who declines to have his name mentioned, promises $1,000 more. There are $10,500 to to be provided for, or the building can not be erected, as the debt of the Freedmen's Aid Society is already too large to allow it to assume any additional financial responsibility for the erection of buildings. All it possibly can do is to meet the current expenses of the schools, and complete the buildings in other places already in course of erection. Unless the balance of $10,500 on this building can be raised at once the half already promised will be lost. Who will contribute to this noble enterprise? Responses may be sent to R. S. Rust, corresponding secretary, Freedmen's Aid Society, Methodist Book Concern, Cincinnati, O.

J. M. WALDEN, President.
R. S. RUST, Cor. Secretary.
April 15, 1885.

Cheap Bibles.

MR EDITOR—Will you please inform your readers that the American Bible Society, at their space in the Exposition, RR 15, will sell a lot of their Bibles and Testaments at half the cost price? Any individual, church or Sunday-school desiring Bibles or Testaments will please call or send note as above, as soon as convenient, as I may be called to New York.

A. C. ARNOLD, Agent.

Books and Current Literature.

It is a curious fact that one of the most famous poems in our language appeared originally in a magazine that seldom touches poetry at all, and the same period ical, after an interval of sixty six years, now brings out another poem very simular in theme. Bryant's "Thanatopsis" was first printed in the North American Review for September, 1817. The May number of the Review just out has a poem by Robert Buchanan on "The New Buddha." The critics found fault with Mr. Bryant's poem on the ground that it was un Christian; it remains to be seen what they will say of Mr. Buchanan's. The question, "Has Christianity Benefited Women?" is ably discussed in this number by Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Bishop J. L. Spalding. President J. L. Pickard writes on "Why Crime is Increasing," and David Dudley Field on "Industrial Co operation," while Prof. Andrew F. West, of Princeton, contributes an article of great clearness and strength on "What is Academic Freedom?" James Payn, the English novelist, discusses "Success in Fiction," and T. F. Thiselton Dyer "Superstition in English Life." The new department of Comments keeps well up to the standard with which it started.

The ideal Easter design is the symbolic one. Charming as figures of dainty children are, there is no question that the meaning breathed by flowers and buds, by the floating butterfly and singing bird, carry the lesson of Easter into a thousand hearts. In such designs it would be hard to find any to excel in significance and beauty the latest publications after Mr. Hamilton Gibson, and Miss Fidelia Bridges. Their names guarantee excellence, and the reproductions are essentially good. Walter Satterlee may be regarded as among the foremost of those who, taking a somewhat lower note reach the public by more realistic conceptions, and the Easter cards which bear his name form no exception to this rule. L Prang & Co., Boston, have favored us with fine specimines of these.

The numbers of The Living Age for April 11th and 18th contain, Organic Nature's Riddle, and Tasso, Fortnightly; Native Faiths in the Himalayeh, Contemporary; The Lennox, Scottish Review; The Hero of Lepanto and his Tunes, Blackwood; Some Gossip about Dante, and Land Moles and Water Moles, Month; The Diamond Duke, Temple Bar; In Lithuania, and R. L. Stevenson's Verse for Children, Spectator; Chantries, and A Female La Trappe, Saturday Review; Herrings and their Haunts, Field; Ice Palaces at Montreal, Engineering; A Professional Visit in Persia, St James Gazette; Hertfordshire, All the Year Round; with the conclusions of "Plain Francis Mowbray" and "The New Manager," and installments of "A House Divided Against Itself" and poetry. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The Chautauquan for May contains a very able lecture on "The Machinery of our Foreign Service" by the Hon Eugene Schuyler. It is a popular exposition of a very interesting and not very well understood subject.

Babyhood, the only periodical in the world devoted wholly to the care of young children, has succeeded in securing the services of eminent specialists in every subject with which it deals. The April number contains articles on "The Care of Children's Hair," by Prof. George H. Fox, M. D., "Isolation in Contagious Diseases," by Dr. L. Emmett Holt; "True Croup," by Prof. John H. Ripley, M. D., etc. "Nursery Problems," and other departments contain the accustomed variety of useful hints. [15 cents a number; $1.50 a year. 18 Spruce Street, New York.]

"Lieutenant Greely at Cape Sabine" is the title of an article which is to appear in the May Century, written by Ensign Harlow, of the relief expedition. That part relating to the history of the Greely party has been approved, as to the facts given, by Lieutenant Greely.

Lord Wolseley, who plays an unusually important part in English military affairs at the present time, forms the subject of "A Character Sketch" by Mr. Archibald Forbes, which will appear in the May number of The English Illustrated Magazine. It will be illustrated by a portrait from a photograph, engraved by O. Lacour.

General D. C. Buell, at the urgent request of many members of his old command, the Army of the Ohio, has prepared an account of the battle of Shiloh, which will appear as part of the war Series in The Century Magazine, together with important maps and newly found views of the field.

The M. E. Church.

Woman's Home Missionary Society.

On Monday, March 16th, as appointed, a large number of ladies met at Wesley Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church, on Liberty street, to meet the several mission schools of that district and talk and draw plans for Woman's Home Missionary work in the New Orleans district, for this year. We are glad to say that Bishops Walden, Mallalieu, Dr. Rust, also Mrs. Dr. Rust, corresponding secretary of Woman's Home Missionary Society and Mrs. Bishop Waldeu were present. A few minutes after 11 the following schools marched in: First Street Church school, Sixth Street Church school, Mt. Zion Church school, Pleasant Plains Church school, Wesley Chapel school, numbering in all 220 scholars; the children behaved well and made a very good appearance. Bishop Mallalieu, Dr. Rust and Mrs. Dr. Rust, addressed the schools, with words of encouragement; the schools retired after which Mrs. M. L. Dale, gave out a hymn which was sung, prayer was offered by Rev. L. P. Cushman. Mrs. M. L. Dale then said: "Ladies we are here to talk over the important matter of establishing an Old Folks Home. Mrs. Dr. Rust, the corresponding secretary of Woman's Home Missionary Society is with us, and will give some explanations touching the work of Woman's Home Missionary Society, as laid out by the parent board.

Mrs. Dr. Rust was introdnced, and with great pains explained the workings of the Society. The question was asked Mrs. Rust, if the auxiliaries were required to send to Cincinnati, all the monies raised by each auxiliary as has been said by one representing the present board, and if so, would the present board send any funds back to the societies to enable them to carry forward home work. Mrs. Dr. Rust, assisted by Bishop Walden, explained to the satisfaction of all, that the auxiliaries were not to send any monies to Cincinnati, except 25 cents per quarter, or $1 per year, for each member which is the actual tax of each member, and that all other monies raised in various ways by each auxiliary should be used by themselves to keep up their church schools and other work among themselves, and that out of a fund created by $1 from every member, and model homes are building and will be built in connection with our universities, in which trades will be taught and girls trained. After the above explanation perfect satisfaction reigned. Upon resolution it was resolved to meet at Preacher's Meeting Monday, Mar. 23d, and discuss plans for caring for the old decrepid of our several churches of the city. Adjourned.

OFFICIAL.

It encourages sleep, creates an appetite, braces up the system, and renewed health is the result.

"Every clond has a silver lining."

HUNT'S Kidney and Liver) REMEDY cures Pain in the side, back or loins, general debility, female diseases, disturbed sleep, loss of appetite and Bright's Disease.

"Shallow brooks are often noisy."

HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY Is purely vegetable, and meets a want never before furnished to the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it.

'Disease is soon shaken by Hunt's Remedy taken,'

OFFICIAL TESTIMONY.

Postmaster.

H. S. Whitney, Assistant Postmaster, Putnam, Conn., writes—"I have suffered untold agony with kidney and liver complaints; my water was very bad, at times I actually passed blood. HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY has benefited me more than all other medicines I used."

"Home love is the best love."

Town Clerk.

Mr. Othniel Gager, Town Clerk, Norwich, Conn., 69 years old, writes—"For years I have suffered with diseases of the kidneys and bladder, and have no hesitancy in recommending HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY as a specific for these complaints."

"Punctuality begets Confidence."

Deputy Sheriff.

HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY is a wonderful medicine. I cordially recommend its use to those suffering from dropsy or kidney troubles.—Geo. B. Robinson, Deputy Sheriff, Bangor, Me.

"A willing heart lightens work."

Sheriff.

Mr. Isaiah Cook, Sheriff of Skowhegan, Me., writes—"I have been afflicted for over twenty years with a weakness of the kidneys and liver. The first bottle of HUNT'S (Kidney and Liver) REMEDY relieved all pains in the back and sides."

Price $1.25. Send for Illustrated Pamphlet to HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I. Sold by all Druggists.

C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, New York.

WOMAN'S TRUST.

"Good wife, what are you singing for?
You know we've lost the hay,
And what we'll do with horse and kye is more than I can say;
While I'ke as not, with storm and rain, we'll lose both corn and wheat."
She looked up with a pleasant face, and answered low and sweet:
"There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we feel, we cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be!"

He turned around with sudden gloom. She said, "Love, be at rest,
You cut the grass, worked soon and late, you did your very best.
That was your work; you've naught to do with wind and rain,
And do not doubt but you will reap rich fields of golden grain;
For there's a Heart and there's a Hand, we feel, we cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be!"

"That's like a woman's reasoning—we must because we must."
She softly said, "I reason not; I only work and trust;
The harvest may redeem the hay—keep heart whate'er betide;
When one door's shut I've always found another open wide.
There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be!"

He kissed the calm and truthful face; gone was his restless pain,
She heard him with a cheerful step go whistling down the lane;
And went about her household tasks full of a glad content,
Singing to time her busy hands as to and fro she went;
"There is a Heart, there is a Hand, we feel, but cannot see;
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be!"

Days come and go—'twas Christmas-tide, and the great fire burned clear.
The farmer said: "Dear wife, it's been a good and happy year;
The fruit was gain, the surplus corn has bought the hay you know."
She lifted then a smiling face, and said, "I told you so!
For there's a Heart, and there's a hand, we feel, but cannot see,
We've always been provided for, and we shall always be!"

[An aged brother stopped in our office, a few days since, and drawing the above well-worn lines from his pocket, remarked "That was me."—Ex.

Domestic Hygiene.

The Heart and Its Diseases.

GEO. L. CURTIS, M. D.

The heart is a combination of tough muscular fibers so arranged as to give the organ at each beat a spiral motion. The apex of the heart points downward towards the left side, and the base is upward looking towards the right side of the neck. The base of the heart is held in its place by the large vessels passing to and from it to the lungs and to the circulation of the system. A heart beat is the sudden contraction of the muscle to expell the blood from itself, driving a part to the lungs to be purified, and the pure blood to the system. At that moment, as the muscle contracts, the apex of the heart is thrown up and out and strikes against the wall of the chest. Following each contraction is a pause of a moment, and the heart relaxes, falls back to its place, and fills with blood on the right side from the body, and on the left side from the lungs. After another pause of a moment the valves in the heart close and the heart contracts or beats, by which the blood is expelled. So it keeps on successively contracting and expanding.

The heart is divided from base to apex, by a muscular wall, into two parts, and each part is divided into two cavities. Between the two sides there is no communication except by way of the lungs. Between the cavities of each side there is a communication by an opening nicely closed by valves. While this heart in muscle, walls and valves remains perfectly free from disease it will perform its functions for years. It will make in the infant 130 beats per minute, while in the aged it may be reduced to 65 beats. We may calculate the beats to average through life 75 per minute for 75 years. That would be 4,500 beats per hour, 108,000 beats each 24 hours, 39,420,000 beats every 365 days, and 2,956,509,000 in a life of 75 years. It is the beating or forcible contraction of the heart that throws the blood out to the whole system, to hands, feet, body, and head, and then forces it to return to the heart. The force exerted to accomplish this is not small, though variously estimated. In an average sized man, standing erect, it will amount to a pound of power, (some say more;) when sitting it requires one-third less, and when lying down only one-fourth of standing. If the same man is walking it will increase the required power one-fourth. If walking rapidly it will increase to one and a half pounds. If running it is increased to one and three-fourths pounds. If running up a grade and carrying a burden it is increased to two pounds. When one is startled or scared the heart suddenly commences to beat rapidly, increasing from one fourth to one third times per minute.

Where the blood leaves the heart to go out to the system there are placed three valves which fold back when the blood is passing out of the heart, but the moment it ceases they shut down tightly and and prevent the blood from rushing back into the heart. Behind two of these valves are openings to two arteries of the heart which supply it with blood for its own nourishment, for it needs nourishment as well as other prrts of the body.

Now we are prepared to speak of the diseases of the heart that cause sudden death:

1. The heart may be loaded with fat, which accumulates around the base of the heart and extend down towards the apex. This fat impedes the heart's movements, and may finally stop its motions entirely.

2. The muscle may become degenerated by a deposit of fat in its tissue. Then the muscle or fiber gives place to fat, the heart loses its power to beat, or throw the blood to the system, and death ensues by drowning in its own blood. This is called fatty degeneration of the heart. Animals are sometimes so affected. An elephant of Van Amburgh's menagerie died suddenly at Connersville, Ind. He had not lain down for two years, but slept leaning against a brick wall. On taking out the heart it was seen it had become so enlarged by fatty deposit and degeneration as to require two men to lift it. The animal had been frightened about two years before by the falling of a roof, and never recovered.

3. The muscular fibers may become absorbed or lessened in number and size, the walls become thin and powerless. Being called one night suddenly to a neighbors, we found the lady just dead. She had been unwell of chills, but not in any sense dangerous. On rising up in bed to take a drink of water she fell back dead. The body remained warm for twelve hours. On making a post mortem examination the heart was found much reduced in size. On the left side where the muscle ought to have been over one inch thick it had become about one-sixteenth of an inch. As she made an effort to rise in bed the heart exerted itself to beat, which exhausted it and it never rallied, and instant death followed.

4. The valves in the heart sometimes become loaded with excrescences, calcarious deposits, and fail to close properly to prevent regurgitation or palpitation. This condition is largely caused by rheumatism.

5. The muscle of the heart may be attacked with neuralgia just as any other muscle may be, and then the pain becomes acute. Powerful remedies must be used by a skillful physician in such cases, and even then he may fail.

6. Closely allied with neuralgia is "Angina Pectoris," or painful heart. It is spasmodic, comes quick as a flash, and holding on with terrible power for a time in recurring spasms, leaves as quickly. Death often follows this.

7. The membrane surrounding the heart may become diseased and secrete great quantities of serum or water, and the heart be drowned in its own heart ease.

Whatever is the matter with the heart it is well to consult a good physician. Better not attempt to do much for it yourself. There is but little that can be done, and that needs to be intelligently done.

Alcoholic liquors cause great damage to the heart, of which more hereafter.

* * * Rupture, pile tumors, fistulæ, and all diseases of the lower bowel (except cancer), radically cured. Send 10 cents in stamps for book. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my son, Charley Sanford. The last time I saw him he was at Memphis. That was in 1879; and he was then 19 years of age. Address any information to William Sanford, Murfreesboro, Tenn.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my son, Daniel Nathaniel Johnson. He used to belong to Dr. Monette, of Washington, Adams county, Miss. My name is Millie Johnson; his father's name is Gabriel Johnson. We have another son whose name is Willis Johnson, who left at the same time, but has returned, saying that he left Daniel in Nashville. Any information information concerning him will be gladly received by Millie Johnson.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my people, who lived in Virginia about 30 years ago. We were separated from each other in New Orleans, and sold by the trader George Davis. My mother, sister and eldest brother were left in Virginia, and I have not heard from them since. We belonged to Ned Hicks. My mother's name was Mary Collins, sitsers names were Edith and Diana Collins. My brothers were Arthur, Benjamin, Jack, Greene, Philas, Dick and Caesar Collins. Address Nelson Collins, 209 Jeanette street, New Orleans, La.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my son, Robert Grippit, who left me in the year 1837. He belonged to a man by the name of Raip Grippit. He was seven years old at that time, and was carried away by Edward Grippit, who took him to Kemper county, Miss. I belonged to Raip Grippit at that that time, but was afterwards sold to David Burrell, We were living in Liberty, Texas; my name was Sally Ann Grippit, but is now Sally Ann D. Burrell. Any information concerning him will be gladly received by me. Address me at Beaumont, Jefferson county, Texas, care of L. J. Hogan.

When Tried Alway Preferred

When they once become acquainted with it, ladies invariably prefer Parker's Hair Balsam to any similar preparation. It makes the hair soft and glossy, arrests its falling off, promotes new growth, restores the original color, and has no rival as a dressing. Not a dye, not oily, highly perfumed. Only 50c., at druggists.

The essential characteristic of faith is that it is an "assurance of God's love" to us.—Christian Observer.

From the Bloody Ground.

TOLLESBORO, KY.

DR. S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, Ohio.—I keep the largest stock of medicines of any store in Lewis county, with the exception of a drug store at Vanceburg, our county seat, and am selling a great deal of your PERUNA and MANALIN. It is giving the best satisfaction of any medicine that I ever handled. In one case the constable for the precinct, has been very sick and low spirited for a long time. For several years he has tried all the doctors here, and we have some good ones, and they did him no good. After much persuasion I sold him two bottles of PERUNA and MANALIN. He took half of the medicine. I could see a great change in him, and now he is as sound a man apparently as there is in this vicinity, and he says he is entirely well. He is a number one man and is highly respected. He is satisfied that your medicine saved his life, after all the doctors and all medicines had failed. Being unacquainted with you, I refer you to John Shillito & Co., Altor, Pinckard & Co., and other business houses of Cincinnati.

R. L. GILLESPIE, P. M.

Messrs. Adamson & Shipley, of Waynesburg, Pa., write: "Please send us some "Ills of Life" immediately. We are having a big run on your medicine, PERUNA. Instead of dying out, like most medicines, in course of time, it seems to be growing in favor. We sell lots of it. Please send the books soon."

Messrs. Wirthorn & Urban, of Allegheny City, Pa., write: "Having a large sale for your PERUNA and MANALIN, we have also many calls for your book, "Ills of Life." Please send us a supply of them, German and English, and oblige."

S. Wolf & Son, Wilmot, O., write: "Gentlemen: We handle your goods, and they give good satisfaction."

A. G. Sellards, Greenup, Ky., says: "Gentlemen: I am handling your medicines, and having a good trade on them."

J. C. Saunders, Martinsburg, W. Va., writes: "Gentlemen: Your PERUNA sells fast and gives good satisfaction here. We sell more PERUNA than any other preparation we handle."

W. Bauer, St. Mary's, Pa., writes: "My son is still improving in health. Your PERUNA is just the thing for him."

H. L. Day & Co., New Vienna, Ohio write: "S. B. HARTMAN & Co., Columbus, Ohio.—Gentlemen: Your PERUNA sells as well as any medicine with us. Quite a number have told us that PERUNA is the best thing they ever used."

FOR THE BLOOD

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Combining IRON with PURE VEGETABLE TONICS, quickly and completely CLEANSES and ENRICHES THE BLOOD. Quickens the action of the Liver and Kidneys. Clears the complexion, makes the skin smooth. It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—ALL OTHER IRON MEDICINES DO. Physicians and Druggists everywhere recommend it.

DR. N. S. RUGGLES, of Marion, Mass., says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters as a valuable tonic for enriching the blood, and removing all dyspeptic symptoms. It does not hurt the teeth."

DR. R. M. DUNKLE, Reynolds, Ind., says: "I have prescribed Brown's Iron Bitters in cases of anæmia and blood diseases, also when a tonic was needed, and it has proved thoroughly satisfactory."

MR. WM. BYRNE, 26 St. Mary St., New Orleans, La., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters relieved me in a case of blood poisoning, and I heartily commend it to those needing a purifier."

The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

LADIES' HAND BOOK—useful and attractive, containing list of prizes for recipes, information about coins, etc., given away by all dealers in medicine, or mailed to any address on receipt of 2c. stamp.

OUR CLUBBING LIST, —1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.
Sixty Addresses by American Educators.
Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.
8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1.25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

THE NEW CORSET.

The most Durable, Comfortable, and Healthful Corset ever sold for its price.
Every pair warranted to give satisfaction or money returned.
J. G. FITZPATRICK & CO., Mfrs.,
71 Leonard Street, NEW YORK.
Please mention this paper in ordering.
apr23-4teow

Pianos & Organs

Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address
JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schednle in effect October 12, 1884

EASTWARD.	No. 4, Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	8 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 mnt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 23 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 25 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 run daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.

No 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m, Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m.

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH, Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt.

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—

Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, New York and the East,

In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent,
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Kniskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M. Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.
a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

☞ See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav. Pass. Ag't., Wilmore Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
J Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains:

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3..9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5..8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.
J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.
Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	8 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.

Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or, H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS As seen by all the great Tropical and Polar Explorers, with Official History of the Greely Expedition. Grandest New Book published; outsells ALL others. Agents wanted, on Salary or Commission. Write for Special Terms and Fict. Circulars. HISTORICAL PUB. CO., Philadelphia, Pa. feb19 13t

Cleveland and the Methodists.

Delegates to the African Methodist Zion Conference, which has been in session in Washington lately, called upon President Cleveland. They were cordially received by the President, and Prof. Howard Day delivered an address on behalf of the delegates in which he said they were not politicians or seekers of official place, but interested in whatever concerns men, and especially desires that in this country there maybe good government for even the poorest citizens. He referred to the extent of the Methodist Church and school work among the colored people, and said:

"This extended working Church comes to-day to congratulate the President upon his election. Some of our men voted for him, but voting for him or against him, we recognize the fact that he is the President not only of a party merely, but of the Nation. For the first time in many years we cheerfully pay our respects to a President who is a Democrat. We believe him to be a Democrat in the true sense of the term. We trust the President; we have asked and will ask our people to trust him."

Continuing, he said that the Democracy of the President was of that character which asks nothing but what it concedes, and concedes nothing but what demands, which is destructive only to despotism and the sole conservator of liberty, labor and property—the law of equal rights and equal obligations. "To such a President," he said, "we pledge our support and earnest prayers that his life may be preserved and his heart strengthened to maintain his earnest purposes."

The President responded substantially as follows:—Bishop Day and gentlemen of the conference—I am very much pleased to see you here, and am exceedingly gratified with the address which has just been delivered. I am glad to know that this goodly number represents a large portion of my fellow-citizens belonging to a particular race. As religious teachers your mission is a most important one and one which cannot be ignored, and should not be underestimated by the Chief Magistrate of the Nation or by any other person in official place. In church and in Sunday-school are taught religion, good morals, honesty, and a proper regard for established authority, all of which are exceedingly necessary to good citizenship. You have seen fit to refer to the Democratic party, to which I belong. My conception of Democratic principles embraces equal rights and privileges to all who are citizens of the United States, and I am glad to know that in the endeavor to enforce such a principle I shall have your confidence and support. I am pleased to greet you all and take you by the hand.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not exactly a "cure-all," but admirably fulfills a single class of purpose, being a most potent agent in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's large treatise on Diseases peculiar to women, 100 pages, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

New Orleans is par excellence, the city where one can amuse himself in winter. In no other cosmopolitan city on this continent are so many and such varied attractions offered to the visitor. While all the country north of the Tennessee river is locked in ice and snow, while their trees are leafless and their homes stormed by fierce arctic winds, New Orleans smiles through the green of orange and magnolia trees. Our gardens are bright and odorous with flowers, and the soft winds from the Gulf of Mexico fan us into luxury. Our streets are filled with loungers and sight seers; all the open-air resorts are crowded; there is a busy hum of gaiety [illegible] and laughter everywhere [illegible]

A man [illegible] Bright's, or any kidney [illegible] "Just the words—but its [illegible] Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

History of St. Paul Methodist Episcopal Church.

REV. M. HENSON.

As this church is regarded as one of the oldest and best charges in bounds of West Texas conference, I deem it very appropriate to give the readers of the SOUTHWESTERN a historical sketch of it. However, I am much indebted to Father L. Carper, for many of the following facts etc.: St. Paul Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in October, 1865, by Rev. Joseph Welch now of Philadelphia Conference, who was presiding elder of what was then known as the Western portion of Louisiana Conference. Rev. Larkin Carper was first pastor in charge. Membership—20 full members; probationers 16, and 23 Sunday-school scholars; officers, Rev. A. W. Jones superintendent; Misses Fannie Sappington and M. M. Vaughan, teachers. Father Carper served this church nearly 6 years, from October, 1865 to 1871, as this was all mission field at that time. Second pastor, W. G. Webster, (deceased) from 1872 73; third, Rev. W. W. Brown, 1873 75; fourth, Rev. L. Carper, 1876 78; fifth, Rev. A. R. Norris, 1879 80; sixth, Rev. Primus Gates, 1880 81; seventh, Rev. J. R. Carnes, 1882 83.

The first church edifice was built on a lot owned by Mr. Richard Brooks, about 365 years Northeast from where the present stone building stands. The first was a California box, 20x40. The writer was the third superintendent of this Sunday-school. As we expect to continue the sketch we close at this period.

San Antonio, Texas.

"The Dyspeptic's Refuge,"

"I am thirty-five years old," writes Mr. Charles H. Watts, of West Somers, Putnam county, N. Y., "and had suffered from dyspepsia for 15 years. The current treatment did no good. Listlessly and without hope I gave Parker's Tonic a trial. I can give the result in three words, it cured me." It will cure you.

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The TIMES DEMOCRAT,

NEW ORLEANS,

—AND—

THE WEEKLY EDITION

—OF—

The NEW YORK WORLD,

NEW YORK,

FOR ONE YEAR

Only $2.20.

OR

THE TWO WEEKLIES

—AND A—

Waterbury Watch and Chain FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stem-winder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

J. T. Newman, M. D.,

—PRACTICING—

Surgeon and Physician,

315 Felicity Street,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jefferson, Wmar5-52t

THE PILLOW-INHALER!

ALL-NIGHT INHALATION.

[The above Picture shows a person using the Pillow-Inhaler.]

THE PILLOW-INHALER is one of the most effective inventions of the age. It does what never has been done before, viz.: batters down the stronghold of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption by a continuous application of Medicated and Curative Air to the diseased mucous membranes of the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs.

A Radical and Permanent Cure.

Most people who have Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption have tried from one to a dozen different remedies without being cured. Why have they not been cured? Simply because what they took were not cures. How is a snuff to be got into all the intricate air-passages and in the blood (for Catarrh is a constitutional disease)? or, how will inhaling medicine for a few minutes a day dislodge the enemy from its stronghold of decaying tissue? Everybody knows that medicine taken in doses has very feeble effect on diseases of a pulmonary character. They have to take each a roundabout way to get into the blood that they miss their power. Yet after all there is an Absolute Cure, and that is the PILLOW-INHALER—a means of all-night or continuous inhalation. The testimony to its results is beyond all question, by the experience of thousands. The cures it has effected seem almost incredible. It is a comfortable pillow of soft hair, with receptacles in which is put the evaporating medicine, the fumes of which the diseased person inhales all night long, whilst sleeping as usual, without being annoyed and without noticing that he is taking medicine. There is no dosing the stomach, no-douching or douching; but, just as a smoky lamp, during the whole night, will leave a thick deposit on a whitened wall, so the PILLOW-INHALER, for eight hours at a time, spreads a powerful healing balm or salve on the inflamed inner coating of the diseased air-surfaces, from the nostrils to the bottom of the lungs, and hence into the blood. It is a constitutional and local cure at the same time. The medicine is applied directly, like a salve, at the seat of the disease, besides going into the blood during its aeration. It is inexpensive and within the reach of every one. No matter what you have tried or how despairing you are, call and see it, or write for Pamphlet and Testimonials. Address,

CATARRH. BRONCHITIS. CONSUMPTION.

THE PILLOW-INHALER CO., 1520 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

jan1-tf

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.

503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.

jan1-1y

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880

CASH CAPITAL..... $600,000.

Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.

W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolsen, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Sec'y.

TRUSTEES

Joseph Bowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. R. Lyman,	U. Marinoni,	Chas. H. Dolsen,	John Calder,	A. H. Stewart
S. O. Coulon,	Harry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucien Delery,	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Gillis
R. F. W. Bachman,	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Rossnfeld,	John D. Fishe
Chas E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South. oct9 1y

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez Street.

LA BARPE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday Services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Franklin street; Rev. J. J. Kiesle pastor Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street; Rev. Charles Schuler, pastor. Services: Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E CHURCH—On Varnet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 8; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. R. O. Barrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 8 p. m. 7½ p. m. Sunday school at 1 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev. Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting, 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings Thursday evening.

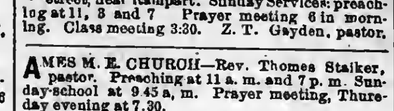
HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Plum street. Rev. M. O. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., Sunday. Sunday-school school, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F. Moyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. J. C. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Poet street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7 Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.



AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9 45 a, m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Prieur streets, Rev. W. P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m, Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine. feb15-26t this Celebrated Horse by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL. jan22 26t

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings,

CHURCH BELLS.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
26 inches	175 lbs	325 lbs	$45 00
28 "	225 lbs	375 lbs	55 00
32 "	350 lbs	550 lbs	80 00
36 "	550 lbs	800 lbs	120 00
40 "	750 lbs	1050 lbs	160 00
44 "	1000 lbs	1350 lbs	200 00
48 "	1360 lbs	1800 lbs	260 00
54 "	2100 lbs	2900 lbs	400 00

SCHOOL BELLS.

18 inches	100 lbs	$13 00
20 inches	130 lbs	18 00
24 inches	190 lbs	26 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,

tf 31 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Sole of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O. mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.

The Finest Grade of Church Bells

Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.

Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.

Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,

TROY, N. Y.

nov29-1yr

McShaneBellFoundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address HENRY McSHANE & CO. oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

Baltimore Church Bells

Since 1844 celebrated for Superiority over others, are made only of Purest Bell Metal, (Copper and Tin,) Rotary Mountings, warranted satisfactory. For Prices, Circulars, &c., address BALTIMORE BELL FOUNDRY, J. REGESTER & SONS, Baltimore, Md. apr30 26teow

INCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY

SUCCESSORS—IN BELLS—TO THE

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.

CATALOGUE 1500 TESTIMONIALS

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY Co

CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM &c.

july3-26teow

BARNES'

Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business. Lathes for Wood or Metal. Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free. W. F. & JOHN BARNES, Rockford, Ill. No. 187 Ruby St. jan29-eow 2

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn. dec30-52t

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga. apr2-52t

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Harper's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Summer-Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," for the health of home and amusement of the little ones.

NOW, NOW, NOW IS THE TIME!

SPRING TIME!

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

DR. J. H. McLEAN'S

Strengthening Cordial AND BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the greatest Blood Purifier in the world.

TRY IT, AND YOU WILL USE IT EVERY SEASON.

It acts as delightfully on the tender Babe, the most delicate Lady and infirm old age, as on the strong man, in imparting Health and Vigor to Nerves and Brain, Blood Vessels, Heart and Liver. When taken, you can feel its life-giving power course through every artery, destroying all diseases of the Blood, and giving Health, Vital Power and Strength to every part of the body. Who will suffer from Liver Complaint or Diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, or Bladder, when such a great Remedy is within their reach?

IT WILL CURE:

Sleeplessness,	Falling of the Womb,	Diarrhœa or Bloody Flux,
Night Sweats,	Bad Blood,	Lung and Liver Diseases,
Sallow Complexion,	Biliousness,	Kidney Troubles,
Hot Flushes, Fainting Spells,	Pimples,	Weak Back,
Nervousness,	Loss of Memory,	Neuralgia,
Failing Eyesight caused by Weakness,	Feverish Skin,	Pains in Bones,
Dyspepsia,	Sluggish Circulation,	Sick Stomach,
Hectic Flushes,	Cold Feet and Hands,	Depression, Blues,
Scalding Hot Urine,	Rheumatism,	Dyspepsia,
Brick Dust Deposit,	Feverishness,	Female Weakness,
Frothy Urine,	Obstinate Constipation,	Pimples, Sores and Blotches on the Face and Skin.
Uterine Weakness,	Heart Troubles,	Colic Pains.
	Bladder Fever,

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.

DEAR SIR:—Having been troubled with Female Complaint for some time, by the advice of a St. Louis lady, I tried Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and am happy to say that it has cured me completely, and I am as well now as ever. I consider it the best medicine for that purpose in the world.

MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKS.

G. W. Nowlin, Greenfield, Tenn., writes:—Send me another supply of Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It gives such satisfaction and sells so well here that we are unable to keep a supply on hand.

Mingsville, Mo., Jan. 4th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis Mo.

DEAR SIR:—I look upon your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier as the finest medicine in the market. I use it in my family and all my customers speak of it in the highest terms. I would not be without it in the house if it cost ten dollars a bottle.

Yours truly, JOSEPH W. MINGS.

John O. K. White, San Angelo, Texas, says:—Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is the most rapid selling medicine we have here. It is used by all classes with the happiest result.

Dr. Fonda, of Jefferson, Cook County, Ills., writes:—I have used Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier in my practice for years without a single instance of its failure. For Female Complaints I consider it unequalled, being rapid and certain in its action.

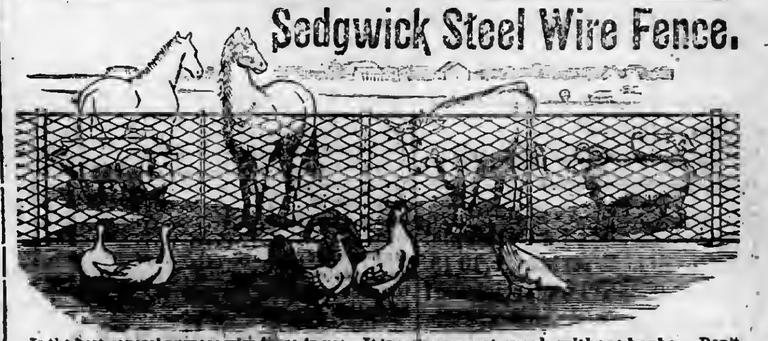
From Mess. R. W. Mackie & Son, Yadkinville, N. Carolina:—Your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is in great demand. It gives universal satisfaction and is almost as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.

Leroy, Minn., March 5th, 1885.

DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic diarrhœa and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been as well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.

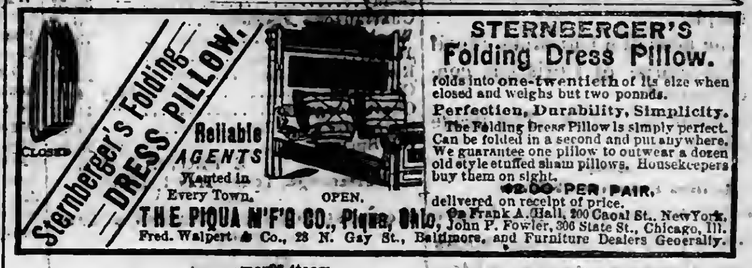
Yours truly. HAST. MERCHELL.



Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a Never-Failing Remedy, and Can Be Relied on.

$1.00 PER BOTTLE. SIX BOTTLES, $5.00.

Dr. J. H. McLEAN, S. E. Corner Broadway and Biddle Street, St. Louis, Mo.



jan1-6m

Sedgwick Steel Wire Fence.

Is the best general purpose wire fence in use. It is a strong net-work without barbs. Don't injure stock. It will turn dogs, pigs, sheep, and poultry, as well as horses and cattle. The best fence for Farms, Gardens, Stock ranges, and Railroads. Very neat, pretty styles for Lawns, Parks, School lots, and Cemeteries. Covered with rust-proof paint, or made of galvanized wire, as preferred. It will last a life-time. It is better than boards or barbed wire in every respect. Give it a fair trial; it will wear itself into favor. The Sedgwick Gates made of wrought iron pipe and steel wire, defy all competition in lightness, neatness, strength, and durability. We make the best, cheapest, and easiest working all-iron automatic or self-opening gate, and the neatest cheap iron fences now made. The Bone folding poultry coop is a late and useful invention. The best Wire Stretcher, Cutting Pliers, and Post Augers. We also manufacture Russell's excellent Wind Engines for pumping, and Geared Engines for grinding, etc. For prices and particulars ask Hardware Dealers, or address, mentioning paper,

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.

STERNBERGER'S

Folding Dress Pillow.

folds into one-twentieth of its size when closed and weighs but two pounds.

Perfection, Durability, Simplicity.

The Folding Dress Pillow is simply perfect. Can be folded in a second and put anywhere. We guarantee one pillow to outwear a dozen old style stuffed sham pillows. Housekeepers buy them on sight.

$2.00 PER PAIR,

delivered on receipt of price.

THE PIQUA M'F'G CO., Piqua, Ohio. Or Frank A. Hall, 200 Canal St., New York, John P. Fowler, 206 State St., Chicago, Ill. Fred. Walpert & Co., 23 N. Gay St., Baltimore, and Furniture Dealers Generally.

mar26-4teow

The Great Church LIGHT.

FRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884

In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings:

One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,

E. A. BURKE, Director General, New Orleans, La.

JEWETT'S REFRIGERATORS.

Established 35 Years.

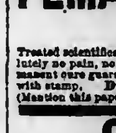
Largest Refrigerator Works in the World.

STYLES AND SIZES

Sold by first-class Dealers everywhere.

The internal construction of our Refrigerators is our own, and the subject of patents; consequently, not available to other manufacturers. A 16-page book of testimonials free to all on application.

John C. Jewett & Sons, BUFFALO, N. Y.



feb19 3t

FEMALE COMPLAINTS

Treated scientifically at home, at very small expense, with absolutely no pain, no caustics, no unnecessary examinations. Permanent cure guaranteed. Book and question blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 809 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CATARRH

Causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough and Consumption, cured in from one to three months, even though bones of nose are affected. No snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Book and blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, [Mention this paper.] 809 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky. oct2-1yr

MILLERS and FARMERS

Send for new catalogue of our Water Wheels and Milling Machinery. Simplest and cheapest in the market. Write us before buying. A. A. DeLoach & Bro. Mention this paper. Atlanta, Ga. may22-1y

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS

Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. Z. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga. feb26-13t

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

ap23-1y

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES. Lesson VI. A. D. 63. May 17. Christian contentment; Phil. 4, 4-13. Golden Text, Phil. 4, 9.

HOME READINGS.

M.—Christian contentment; Phil. 4, 4-13.

Tu.—Trusting faithfully; Phil. 3, 17-30.

W.—Rejoice always; Phil. 3, 1-12.

Th.—Content to press on; Phil. 3, 13-21.

F.—Faith brings peace; Rom. 5, 1-11.

S.—Contentment with Godliness; 1 Tim. 6, 1-12.

S.—David's contentment; Psa. 16, 1-11.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. The Christian Triumph, v. 4-7.
   What exhortation is twice given?
   What grace is to be made known?
   What is to be avoided?
   What is urged as an antidote for care?
   What is the result of faithful prayer?
2. The Christian Standard, v. 8, 9.
   What elements of Christian character are given?
   Will you define each of them?
   What do they secure?
   How should they be treated?
   Who had furnished an example?
3. The Christian Experience, v. 10-13.
   What occasioned Paul's rejoicing?
   What lesson had the apostle learned?
   What is true contentment?
   What did Paul say he knew?
   What was he able for in Christ?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

Where does this lesson teach—

1. The source of Christian triumph.
2. The need of a Christian ideal?
3. The source of Christian contentment?

Doctrinal Suggestion—The peace of God.

Letters From the Children.

Dr. M. W. Taylor, D. D.—I have heard our preacher in charge speak so much about our colored editor, then I read then SOUTHWESTERN every week, and I see it speaks the Negroe's sentiments in every way. I know the General Conference acted wisely when it elected a Negro editor; and through your wisdom you will always speak for the Negro race, and advocate his rights. Mother and father told me that you would notice my letter, so I write it. I am young and can't do much, but I am trying to prepare myself to go out to teach. Every time I read the SOUTHWESTERN it makes me a stronger mother Methodist, as we are sometimes called, and I like that name. I have two brothers and two sisters, and I am the youngest, and I have been elected secretary by the Sunday-school board. I wish that your "Recitation Melodies" were in every Methodist Sunday-school in the Negro Sunday-school. We have a large Sunday-school, and it has been organized into a [illegible] society. Yours,

ELMNOA IRVIN.

[illegible], Tenn., Mar. 17, 1885.

[You have made a real good [illegible]. Write again; we will always [illegible] you say.—ED.]

The New Orleans University ex[illegible] will be held at First [illegible] M. E. Church, at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, May 20, 1885. Admission 10 cents.

Marriages.

Mr. Brewslow Herdman and Miss Ellen McLaidge were married, at the residence of the bride, near Franklin, Tenn., by Rev. H. Primm, April 9, 1885.

Mr. Wm. McCellan and Miss Nannie Flemming were married, at Wiley Chapel M. E. Church, in Franklin, Tenn., April 17, 1885. Rev. H. Primm, officiating.

Obituary.

Mr. Jefferson Polk, a member of Wiley Chapel M. E. Church, died in Franklin, Tenn., April 2, 1885. He leaves a wife and two children. H. PRIMM.

Mrs. Lena Jackson died in Kildare, Texas, March 30, 1885. She was a member of St. Paul M. E. Church.

Mr. Oliver Youngman died in Franklin, Tenn., April 25, 1885. He was a member of Wiley Chapel M. E. Church. H. PRIMM.

Mrs Nep Marshall died, near Franklin, Tenn., April 25, 1885. She leaves several young children to mourn her loss. H. PRIMM.

Brother Joseph Brown, a member of the M. E. Church on the Mt. Vernon circuit, whom God had blessed with the ripe old age of 102 years, fell asleep in Jesus on the morning of April 21, 1885. He leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss, but not as those having no hope. May God help his children to follow his Christian example. J. T. GIBBONS.

Conference Notices.

Gulf District—Mississippi Conference.

Rev. J. M. Reid, D. D.—I hereby approve the proposition for a million dollars to be raised this year. I will do all I can to raise the apportionment on my district. I have already aroused the charges of the District I have visited to do all they can for Missions. Truly your Bro. in Christ,

W. McDONALD,
P. E. Gulf District, Miss.

Brookhaven, Miss., May 1, 1885.

LaTeche District—Louisiana Conference.

Second Round.

Eola	June	6- 7
Cheneyville	"	7- 8
Rigolet	"	10
Avoca	"	11
Alexandria	"	13-14
Pineville	"	14
LeCompte	"	15-16
Spring Creek	"	17
Stewart Chapel	"	18
Bunkie	June	19-20 21
Booneville	June	21-22
Cotton Port	"	23
Birdlong Point	"	24
Waxia	"	26
Washington	"	27-28
Opelousas	"	28
Belleview	"	29-30
Ville Platte	July	1- 2
Lafayette and Scott	"	3- 4
New Iberia	"	5- 6
St. Martinsville	"	5- 6
Cade	"	7- 8
Hubertville	"	9-10
Jeanerette and St. Peter	"	11-12
Glencoe and Cote Blanche	"	12-13-15
Sorrell	"	15-16

A. E. P. ALBERT, P. E.
1965 St. Charles st., New Orleans.

Chattanooga District—East Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Kingston	May	9-10
Robertsville	"	16-17
Ebenezer	"	23-24
Sweetwater....by P P Brooks,	"	23-24
Derby	"	30-31
Chattanooga station	June	6- 7
Washington	"	13-14
Jasper	"	20-21
Riceville	"	27-28
Cleveland	July	4- 5
Chattanooga st.	"	11-12
Georgetown	"	18-19
Big Spring	"	25-26

E. PROVINE, P. E.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 1, 1885.

Houston District—Texas Conference.

Third Round.

Hockley	May	30-31
Trinity, Houston	June	5- 7
St. James, Houston	"	7- 8
St. Paul's, Galveston	"	13-14
Tabernacle, Galveston	"	14-15
Mt. Vernon, Houston	"	19-21
Sloan Street, Houston	"	21-22
Harrisburg	"	27-28
Richmond	July	4 5
Spring	"	11-12
Columbia	"	18-19
Brazoria	"	25-26
Pittsville	"	1- 2

F. C. MOORE, P. E.

Greenwood District, Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Lodi	May	16 17
Vaiden	"	23-24
Durant	"	23 25
Lexington	"	30-31
Goodman	June	6- 7
Pickens	"	9
Carthage	"	13-14
Kosciusko	"	16
Lonisville	"	20-21
French Camp	"	24
Benton	July	4- 5
Yazoo City	"	11-12
Yazoo City circuit	"	4- 5
Green Hill	"	18-19
Roseneath	"	25-26
Robuck	Aug.	1- 2
Greenwood	"	8- 9

I hereby notify my brethren, and especially those who may not be acquainted with my manner of proceeding, that on visiting their respective charges, I shall fully co-operate with them in advancing the temporal and spiritual interests of the Church. H. R. REVELS, P. E.

The New Orleans District Conference

will convene at Mt. Zion Methodist Episcopal Church in New Orleans, Thursday, May 21, at 9 o'clock a. m. The opening sermon will be preached Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It is hoped that all the members of the conference will be present. Those who have not attended to it will please collect their apportionment of the Episcopal fund and bring it along with them.

L. P. CUSHMAN, P. E.

April 25, 1885.

Jackson District—Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Steen's Creek	May	9-10
Madison	"	12
Mayersville	"	16-17
Westburg	"	20-21
Rolling Fork	"	23 24
Vicksburg	"	30-31
Vicksburg circuit	"	30-31
Edwards	June	2
Bolton	"	4
Clinton	"	6- 7
Jackson circuit	"	11
Jackson	"	13-14
Canton	"	20-21
Canton circuit	"	20-21
Brandon	"	25
Pelahatchie	"	27-28
Trenton	"	30
Forest	July	2
Hickory	"	3
Chunkey	"	3
Lake	"	4- 5

Brethren of the district will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly. J. M. SHUMPERT, P. E.

Programme

Of the District Conference of the Columbus District, West Texas Conference. The following is a list of the pastors and their subjects:

Presiding elder of the distsict—The Soul of Man.
Rev. E E Cooper—Operation of the Holy Spirit.
Rev. E Cogswell—To Preach the Missionary Sermon.
Rev. S Gates—To Preach the Opening Sermon, and how to conduct revivals
Rev. P Gates—How to Raise Benevolent Money.
Rev. H. Harris—The Woman's Home Missionary Society.
Rev L Reed—What is Perfect Love?
Rev W H Stevens—Can we Fall from Grace?
Rev. W H Mosbey—How many points need Missionary money.
Rev. E Henderson—Freedman's Aid Society, and the good work it is doing.
Rev. J Jarmon—Who ought to Attend the Sunday-school?
Rev. M C Cavenas—Church Extension Society.
Rev. P. Johnson—Divine Call to the ministry.
Rev. E M Hall—How and Where can we open New work?
Rev. J Browley—Infant Baptism.

Dr. N. H Middleton will conduct the Sunday-school exercises. All local preachers and exhorters are expected to be present and bring up something.

E. E. COOPER,
E. COGSWELL,
Committee.

Tennessee Annual Conference.

Dear Brethren—Having been transferred, I placed the minutes and affairs of the Secretary in the hands of Dr. J. Braden, who kindly consented to take charge of them. All monies for minutes must be forwarded to him at the Central Tennessee College. All matters pertaining to conference affairs in the hands of the Secretary will be attended to by him. Brethren, please forward to him the money for minutes as soon as possible as there is yet due the printer $9 outside of that already paid. Respectfully,

L. M. HAGOOD.

West Tennessee District—Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Bells ot	Apr.	11-12
Friendship	"	15-16
Mason	"	18-19
Memphis station	"	23-24
Memphis circuit	"	25-26
Pleasant	May	2- 3
Dyer	"	7- 8
Martin	"	9-10
Paris	"	16-17
Mansfield	"	19-20
Clarksburg	"	23-24
Henderson	"	25-26
Linden	"	30-31
Lawrenceburg	June	6- 7
Waynesboro	"	13-14
Clifton	"	20-21
Purdy	"	27-28
Brownsville	July	4- 5

I shall require each preacher to see that each committee on the various benevolent societies of our Church be strictly organized as required by the Discipline, and meet monthly and report the same to each quarter. Do not forget the committee on temperance, paragraph 83, sec. 21. Bring your church records out for examination at each quarter. Be careful in everything. Push your work forward.

JESSE P. PRICE, P. E.

Lexington District—Lexington Conference.

First Round.

Paris	May	2- 3
Boyd's	"	5
Butler's	"	6
Lair's Station	"	7
Falmouth	"	9-10
Washington	"	12
Germantown	"	13-14
Dover	"	15
Tolesburg	"	16-17
Orangeburg	"	18
Mount Carmel	"	19
Pleasantville	"	20
Flemingsburg, including the District Conference	"	21-25
Winchester	"	27-28
Hedge's Corner	"	29
Gun's Chapel, Lexiogton	"	30 31
Corinth,	June	2- 3
Marble Creek,	"	4
Asbury, Lexington,	"	6- 7
New Providence,	"	9 10
Moorfield,	"	12
Sharpsburg,	"	13-14
Shrubrun,	"	15

H. W. WHITE, P. E.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

General John D Imboden, who, with other ex-Confederate generals, will contribute to the May Century, was one of three officers appointed to examine into the condition of the transportation and commissariat of the Confederate army after the battle of Bull Run, and report upon the reasons why the success of that fight was not followed up by an attack on Washington. General Imboden tells in The Century the result of the investigation, which, he relates, was embodied in a report to the Confederate Administration—and suppressed.

Constant consumers of RIDGE'S FOOD will find the $1.75 the most economical size to buy. Druggists should keep it, but if you cannot procure this size of your Druggist send the amount with full address to Woolrich & Co., Palmer, Mass., and they will forward a can, express paid.

For the Cheapest and Choicest Family & Fancy Groceries,

SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,

—GO TO—

N. E. Sullivan's

GROCERY!

Corner of Washington and Hampson Streets

CARROLLTON, LA.

nov23-1y

E. W. Scheffel,

GENERAL

Book-Binder,

Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.

37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.

Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment,"

"Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.

nov13-1yeow

ROOSEVELT PORTABLE

PIPE ORGAN.

We have succeeded after many years of study and experiment in producing a portable GENUINE PIPE ORGAN which fills the place between the best reed organ and the church (pipe) organ.

As the various pipes are secured in their places the instrument requires no setting up, but is at once ready for use when unpacked.

It can be sold at a moderate advance above the price charged by reliable makers for their better class of reed organs, and it is just what has long been needed for small Churches, Chapels, Lodges, Sunday Schools and the Parlor.

HILBORNE L. ROOSEVELT,
Manufacturer of Church Organs,
145-147-149 West 19th St., New York.

ap16-6t ow

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

Bells For Churches, Schools, Etc.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
24 inches	165 lbs.	300 lbs.	$80 00
26 "	200 lbs.	350 lbs.	45 00
28 "	275 lbs.	375 lbs.	35 00
32 "	375 lbs.	550 lbs.	80 00
36 "	525 lbs.	750 lbs.	100 00
40 "	800 lbs.	1100 lbs.	145 00
44 "	1000 lbs.	1400 lbs.	180 00
48 "	1325 lbs.	1800 lbs.	230 00
54 "	2050 lbs.	2800 lbs.	350 00

Bells for Schools, Farms, Etc. without mountings.

18 inches	75 lbs.	$12 00
20 inches	100 lbs.	18 00
24 inches	165 lbs.	35 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
tf 32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS,

17 & 29 West 23d St., New York.

Have now ready

The History of the Negro Race in America.

From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens,

Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Government of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R., of Ohio.

Popular Edition; two volumes in one large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.

"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it.—World, New York

"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.

"He has accomplished a noble service for his race."—Zion's Herald, Boston.

☞ This book can be ordered through the office of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, New Orleans, La.

Bibles at 1-2 and Old Testaments at less than 1-2 the prices of the English editions and equal to the English in type, paper, printing and accuracy. First agent sent out reports an order at every call for two weeks. Rare chance for agents to make money. Send $1.50 for outfit. Terms VERY LIBERAL. The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.

may14-1y

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE, May 2, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8 11-16; Middling 10 3-16; Good Middling, 10 7-16; Middling fair, 10¼.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5⅜@5⅝; White clarified, 5½@5¾; Common 4¼@5c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4¾ fair, 5¼@5⅜; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8; prime, 10.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4½@8.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 5 50; Choice, 4.90; Family, —@—.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7¼.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 82½c.; Fine, 10½c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $2.00@4.00; sweet potatoes, $2.25@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $2.50@3.25; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.00@$4.00; cabbages, $3.50@$3 75 per crate; sour kront, $4.50@7 50 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $12.50.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders 4¼@—; sides, short rib, 7⅛; sides, long clear, 6¾; hams, sugar-cured, 10@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6; clear sides, 6; shoulders, 4 4@.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3,00@$3.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@$4 50; turkeys $12.@15.

Western Eggs 12@12½c per dozen

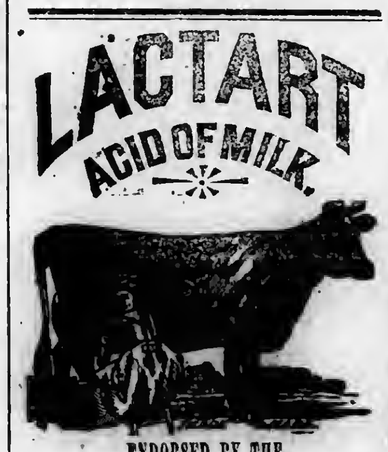
Louisiana Eggs 12@13c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.25@$4.75 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.25@3.75; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5 00, turkeys $15.00@18.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 60; white, 62; mixed, 60.



OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 50@—.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, $97½@1.00.

What an appetite it gives; how restful it makes my sleep, by using Hunt's Remedy.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

July 17-1y.

ENDORSED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Healthful and Delicious Beverage and Tonic for Family Use.

Superior to Lime Juice or Lemons.

A Remedy for Dyspepsia and Ills arising from a Disordered Stomach.

Specially recommended as a preventative and relief for Cholera, Sunstroke, Fevers, and valuable in Urinary difficulties.

A Specific for Sea-sickness.

Sold by Druggists.

Avery Lactate Co.,

BOSTON, MASS. apr30-3m

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Stamps. Send for samples. TAYLOR BROS. Cleveland, Ohio. ap130-13t

Dr. Sterling P. Brown

365 Chippewa Street,

NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. } mar19 3m

Plantation Melodies —AND— REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.

Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON,

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

mar26-6m

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress, 1861—1881, by James G. Blaine. Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." Agents make from $200 to $1000 per month. Address, The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.

apr8-1y

CHRISTIAN MEN and WOMEN ae Want d AS AGENTS

For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Nauss & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended.

mar5 39t

HEADQUARTERS —FOR— Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Unico Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent

94..... Camp Street, ...96

25tf NEW ORLEANS.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.

Pure in sentiment, rich in music Sample copy, in boards 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3.60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.

FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

10-Ten-10-Ten-10-Ten-10

DIO LEWIS'S NUGGETS,

—A REMARKABLE MAGAZINE.—

Crowded with Brief Articles on Sanitary Subjects, by that most sensible, terse and humorous writer,

DR. DIO LEWIS.

Worth its Weight in Gold.

YOU CAN GET A

Sample Copy for 10 Cents,

By sending to the

NEW

Dio Lewis Publishing Company

69 & 71 BIBLE HOUSE,

NEW YORK CITY.

10-Ten-10-Ten-10-Ten-10

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER. They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo, as sample, or a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS, GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE, For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists' Black for Mounting. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

mar5 13t

MADAME FOY'S CORSET AND Skirt Supporter.

Combines the most ELEGANT FITTING CORSET with a PERFECT SKIRT SUPPORTER and is one of the most popular and satisfactory corsets as regards HEALTH and COMFORT ever invented. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress.

For sale by all leading dealers. Price by mail $1.30. FOY, HARMON & CHADWICK, New Haven, Conn.

mar19-12teow

WHETHER CHOLERA

Is coming or not every householder should know that cleanliness and disinfection are the greatest preventives. The principal and surest factor for this purpose is a perfect cleansing, bleaching and purifying soaps, making clothes beautifully white and sweet. It should be exclusively used in all departments of a household. DREYDOPPEL'S SOAP is sold in full pound bars only by all wholesale grocers and first-class retailers.

DREYDOPPEL'S BORAX SOAP,

SKIN DISEASES,

Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, and all Itching Skin Eruptions, are surely cured and prevented by the exclusive use of BEESON'S AROMATIC ALUM SULPHUR SOAP, an exquisite beautifier of the complexion and toilet requisite. 25 cents, by druggists or sent by mail.

Address WM. DREYDOPPEL, M'f'r, 208 North Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dreydoppel's Disinfecting Powder, 15 cents a large box.

apr30 4teo

Send for Price List and Circular!

AUTOMATIC

"NO TENSION" SEWING MACHINE.

NOISELESS—LIGHTEST RUNNING. Most Beautiful and Durable Work, AND DOES NOT INJURE HEALTH.

Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Broadway, N. Y.

nov6-16t ow

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 21. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MAY 21, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 810.

THE SOUTHWESTERN
PUBLISHED BY
THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,
2 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cash

Editorial Notes.

"America! though thy fame art brightening
By deeds heroic, marvels of the age,
Thy brightest chapel is the conquered lightning;
A halo round thy name on glory's page.
Honors immortal to thy son, the sage,
Who seized with giant hand the thunder-horse,
And pent him like a lion in a cage.
But thine the feat, great lightning-tamer, Morse,
To rule the steed of fire as with thy finger's force!"

Dr. Bayliss says we are doing well.

Jesse Price says it never was as good as now.

Bishop Bowman says we are going on nicely.

Bishop Harris says he congratulates our readers.

"The SOUTHWESTERN gets better and better all the time."—Rev. A. McDade.

April dallies in the embrace of May, and the hoosier farmer impatiently awaits a chance to plant.

Some parlor birds can't fly in the kitchen, From kitchen to parlor is a normal growth; from parlor to kitchen, never.

The meaning of the location of the Ohio State Republican Convention at Springfield will prove in the end to be not favorable to the candidacy of Judge Foraker. General Beatty is a good man.

Napoleon was wont to call the cares of State with which he was charged "The yoke of misery." Nevertheless it was a yoke which he in his, and many in our day assume voluntarily and relinquish most reluctantly.

God is not a Democrat, and He is not a Republican as Republican politicians in the United States are now. God is a Prohibitionist. Therefore are ———. If you say we are a Prohibitionist will it be true that we said so herein or not?

The Methodist is the best society on earth. Its rules are the most equitable of any, they have stood the test of a hundred years of severe trial by all Christendom without the least deterioration, and they now only require faithful administration to make the Methodists the best of people.

Because we neither believe in nor concede that the amalgamation of the white and Negro races of men is essential to the good elevation and progress of the latter, but is on the contrary a prolific and dangerous source of the most demoralizing and destructive influences, we oppose it.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Bishop Mallalieu on the La Teche District.

REV. A. E. P. ALBERT, B. D.

Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, D. D., recently favored the La Teche district with his presence and words of inspiration. In company with Rev. A. H. Gillet, Sunday-school Agent for the Southwest, and Revs. E. Lyon and M. C. B. Mason, of New Orleans, he visited New Iberia and Jeanerette. The visit was in the general interest of the Church and the special interest of the Sunday-school. Crowded houses of both races greeted and welcomed him at both points. Alexandria and Washington also expected his episcopal visitation, but unforeseen circumstances denied it to them. The disappointment was withering. Bro. Gillet was on hand, however; his presence and words of charming interest, and the hope of seeing and hearing the Bishop in the near future, mitigated very much the shock resulting from his absence. Flowers, wreaths and mottos expressive of a hearty welcome were abundant everywhere. At New Iberia the Sunday-school workers, reinforced by the Congregational Sunday-school of that town, with floating banners, headed by their pastor, Rev. B. Gunner, and a general outpouring of the masses greeted the Bishop. The welcome extended was enthusiastic and genuine. Revs. E. Fields, of St. Martinsville, A. Luster of Jeanerette, Wm. Smith, of Glencoe, E. B. Richards, of Hubertville, A. E. P. Albert, the presiding elder, and other ministers and Sunday-school workers from neighboring charges were present to drink down the words of wisdom and catch the fire of inspiration and devotion as they emanated from the Bishop and his able and eloquent companions. For once, indeed, New Iberia enjoyed a time "long to be remembered and never to be forgotten." Rev. A. J. Pickett, our worthy pastor, and his devoted wife, were filled with sunshine in the possession of a Bishop enjoying their hospitalities in their neat and cosy parsonage. It was a happy day for Bro. Pickett. The only shadow across his sky grew out of the fact that the occurence did not take place before the last conference.

In the meetings held the importance of the Sunday-school work was made so forcible and impressive that already marvelous results are reported. Great importance was also given to the revival work. In these efforts the Bishop showed himself to be a devoted and consecrated Christian minister, who believes that every minister of the Gospel should be a revivalist, and that every service should, in effect, be a revival service. In that role he manifested such fervency and power as to compel sinners to crowd the altar for prayer. A further effort brought nearly the whole house, of those who were unconverted, to their feet to beg the church to pray for their salvation. With that start, Bro. Pickett has continued a series of services, in which he has already realized glorious results.

Leaving New Iberia for Jeanerette, a distance of twelve miles, in a hack, riding amid fragrant roses and blossoms, stately groves of Magnolias and pecan and other trees, made musical with the warbling notes of mocking birds, along the classical banks of the Teche, immortalized in Longfellow's "Evangeline," the Bishop seemed enchanted. Arriving at Jeanerette, the services were opened at 12 o'clock, Wednesday. Revs. E. Lyon, M. C. B. Mason and A. E. P. Albert spoke with much earnestness in the interest of the Sunday-school work. The Bishop concluded with a few telling points upon the same line, after which he preached from the text, "Who is sufficient for these things," 2 Cor. 2, 16, a sermon, which it would be impossible for me to describe, but which, having been heard, can never be forgotten. It was able, deep and clear; full of pathos, life and power; one that brought conviction and comfort to all. Under its influence nearly every sinner in the house was moved to beg the prayers of the Church. The church was beautifully decorated, and appropriate mottoes welcomed the Bishop, but these were all lost sight of in the spellbound power with which he moved the congregation, like tree-tops in a forest, swayed by the gentle breeze or the rushing wind. Rev. A. Luster and his wife also had cause to rejoice in the privilege of entertaining the Bishop. They had prepared to take sole possession of him, but Dr. Richardson, a prominent member of the M. E. Church South, and an excellent friend of our Church in Jeanerette, craving the pleasure of the Bishop's company at his house, Bro. and Sister Luster notified the Bishop that they would relinquish a part of their claim on him in order to favor the Doctor.

From here the Bishop and his colaborers, whose words of instruction and power have been a benediction to us, left for Baldwin, La., having accomplished a work and setting influences in motion on this district which will continue to bless our work for years to come. God bless Bishop Mallalieu with many such days of usefulness and power.

Eola, La., April 23, 1885.

The Progress of Civilization.

BY JAMES T. NEWMAN, M. D., NEW ORLEANS.

Seventh Paper.

A boundless reverence for antiquity caused the Hindoos to refer every important event to times the most remote and bewildering imaginable. "The Institutes of Menu," their great and sacred collection of laws, is known to be less than 3000 years old, but the Indian chronologist gives them as revelations two thousand millions years old. The Hindoo intellect is indifferent to the present, but deifies the ancient and indefinite. In religion and in art it is the same as in literature. The national trait is to exalt the imagination and subjugate the understanding. Buckle writes that "in the dogmas of their theology, In the character of their gods, and even in the forms of their temples, we see how the sublime and threatening aspects of the exterior world have filled the minds of the people with those images of the grand and terrible."

In nearly all things ancient Greece was the opposite of India. Like India, Greece is a peninsula, but while nature is grand and terrible in India, every formation in Greece is pleasant and simple. The climate is more healthy, earthquakes are less frequent and less terrible, the hurricanes are less destructive, the wild beasts and serpents are less numerous, and the same rule operates in all other regards, in relation to extent of country, mountains, rivers, etc. As nature differs in these two states, so did mind. The phenomena and the works of nature in India inspire fear, but in Greece they give confidence. Man was intimidated in India, while in Greece he was quieted and encouraged. The obstacles to human progress and quiet were so numerous, disquieting, and seemingly inexplicable in India as to render the troubles of life only soluble by constant appeals to supernatural agencies, and the imagination was daily taxed in all its resources in contemplating them. In Greece mind was less alarmed and far less tinctured by superstitions, because nature was more calm and far less mysterious; natural causes were studied, and physical science became possible, and man assumed to investigate events with confidence. The mythology of every tropical country is founded on the most extravagant terrors. The prevalence of this is fully illustrated by the Hindoo's sacred books, by their traditions, and by the character and forms given to their gods, and their terrible deities are the most popular. Siva is represented as a most hideous being, girded with serpents, holding a human skull, wearing a necklace of human bones, and having three horrid eyes in his uncouth head. Turning to Greece, we find an entire freedom from all that can alarm or startle. The gods of the Grecian mythology were human in form and in attributes, pursuits and tastes, large, powerful and beautiful. The Greeks studied the traits and qualities of the human mind, and applied the results in giving character to their deities. In India the imagination was taxed and wearied in detailing the wonderful and impossible feats of the gods, and the more obscure and impossible the achievements the greater the delight and confidence in their ascriptions. Hero worship, or the deification of mortals is first met with in Grecian history.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Contracts—No. II.

W. H. YOUNG.

A poor man, of all others, ought always, if possible, before entering into any undertaking, go into a written contract with a man of means or standing. By it the humblest person's rights are protected; without it, in a contest in the courts with a man or woman of standing, influence and wealth, he is almost as chaff before the wind. Because the rich have money to fee able lawyers and have, by virtue of their standing, the rule as to the weight of evidence in their favor in all law suits; and, by a wink, can get almost any kind of witnesses he needs by which to make out his case. But this is not true where you are protected by a plain, well-written contract. Its terms must be complied with. It is a painful fact, yet true, that no man or woman in this country in humble circumstances is the equal of those whom fortune and success have favored. The higher and the more favored your condition the better your standing in law. Hence, the equality of rights between the rich and the poor, the great and the small, in the courts are in no other way obtained than by first entering into a plain written contract, and then complying with your part thereof. It not only prevents frequent lawsuits, loss of time, money and friends, but also much loss of opportunity to earn money.

Laboring men, mechanics, and the inexperienced business men, etc., would, in my opinion, more easily protect themselves by in some way getting up a list of those in their immediate vicinity and agree upon some good lawyer to whom all could apply for advice, etc. Having presented any attorney with a neat sized list of working and business men and women who propose strictly to have their business done in his office, you will find some of the best lawyers accepting such a proposition at a very reasonable fee per head per annum. I say that any lawyer would accept such a proposition at a reasonable fee, yes at from $2 to $10 per annum, for the reason the contracts for this class of persons are seldom ever difficult or tedious to draw up, and are usually very short and hardly ever undergo any very material changes. Hence, when once properly formulated to suit one's business or vocation, all others thereafter are but little more than copying, with probably a few technical changes. So, you see, a list of only 100 persons at $2 per head would be a fee of from $200 to $500 per annum. And so the larger the list the better for all concerned.

Never sign a paper until you have read it, and if you cannot read, have some disinterested person or friend to read while you listen carefully, and understand every word before you touch your hand to the pen.

Nashville, Tenn.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Letter from Houston, Texas.

PROF. O. A. C. TODD.

Dear Southwestern—Your editor, just after the adjournment of our first Texas Annual Conference ushered in a golden morn of Gospel showers. Scarcely had his eloquent and shepherd like voice ceased to echo the walls of Trinity Church ere an eminent divine of the M. E. Church South Conference entered our sanctuary and reasoned with us concerning "consecration to God's service." Subsequently came our noble young man, I. B. Scott. Though not in vigorous health, he did justice to his subject, "Faith in God." On his way to the Austin Conference Dr. Gillet could not withhold his elegant thoughts on the "Training of our youth," and the importance of the entire church's attention to the Sunday-school work. Our beloved pastor took pleasure in introducing Bishop Mallalieu, whose delight it was to speak with us of Paul's beseeching to render our bodies, etc. The Bishop's talk was plain, impressive and quite refreshing to the Christian worker. Nor did the celebrated Brooklyn lecturer, Talmage, disdain the Bayou City. At the Opera House where, on the 13th, he spoke of the "Bright side of things," to a large number of our most intelligent ecclesiastics and other professionals. It is unnecessary here to add that Dr. Talmage's lecture was not only a literary but a spiritual treat to the citizens of Houston. Our colored people have now a growing interest in instructive and intelligent sermons and lectures. We appreciate them. Some of our Northern friends and brothers seem to have the opposite opinion of their Southern brethren and friends, that anything, since it drops from the lips of a pious man or some one of note, will do, will accomplish the necessary end, or interest us. To this it is well to say that we want both piety and intelligence combined; one is dead to success without the other.

Our common schools, seminaries, and colleges, have been, for some few years, and are becoming more crowded daily; and though the faculties of these institutions are not, for the most part, what they ought to be, still it is no trouble to find the girl, boy, a young lady or a young gentleman that is intellectually above the average minister. These young people have souls to be saved, and it is the ministers' duty to remind them of this very important fact. But if the clergyman be ever so pious, which is essential to any pastoral work, and yet addicted to the improper usages of our common English language, continually making grammatical errors in very nearly every sentence, and refuses to take the pains and time to learn to read a hymn correctly, why, these young people of to-day, who must make up the church of the future, will naturally lose confidence in him, and in the pulpit generally; especially in this section of the country; and the consequence will be that the minister can't get near enough to the young and partially intelligent people, whose prerogative it is to think what they are pleased to think of the pulpit, to tell them "they must die." The time was, and is now, rapidly drifting into oblivion when the appearance of a man, if pretty decent, would suffice; or if he was a white man, having been always free is bound to be educated because he is a white man, or he is from the North. Now he is known only by his qualifications, and not by color or appearance. We want a pious and educated or intelligent ministry for the benefit of not only our church departments but for our Sunday-schools. We want teachers for our schools and seminaries, not only for the sake of their acquaintance with mathematics, grammar and the classical branches, but want that if they will come from afar, that they be teachers of polished manners and deportment worthy of commendation, such as our daughters will delight in trying to copy. We have some teachers here in certain parts of the South of our own manufacture, if you please, with far better tact and ingenuity to instruct the young in every way than some of the so-called educated who are said to have come from the Northern institutions; some of whom are so rough in their manners, and, indeed, are the most uncouth objects that were ever allowed within the walls of modern educational institutions. We are not all able to send our children off to better schools, and therefore ask that such teachers seek positions in wholesale or retail grocery stores, where their services would be of far more benefit to the public, for they are too expensive to people like these who are undergoing continual and critical reprehension because of their lack of refinement, which, of course, is a result of our former and unfortunate conditions. Shall we not have better teachers in this respect?

Houston, Texas.

Every plant begins life like an animal—a consumer, not a producer. Not until the young shoot rises above the soil and unfols itself to the light of the sun, at the touch of whose rays chlorophyl is created, does real constructive vegetation begin. Then the plant's mode of life is reversed; carbon is retained and oxygen set free.

From the Districts.

Rev. D. F. Dudley, P. C. at Hattiesburg, Miss., writes: "Our Gulf District, Mississippi Conference, convened at Moss Point, April 23, 1885, and continued four days. Our beloved elder, W. McDonald, presided; Rev. N. Canuon, secretary. I took the 2 o'clock train from Hattiesburg, en route to Moss Point. At daylight I found myself crossing the long bridge across Lake Pontchartrain; next I arrived in the city of New Orleans. While I was waiting for the Mobile & New Orleans mail train I met Rev. J. H. Cook and S. H. Nevils, and we then pulled out for Moss Point, that nice little town, where we were cordially received by the Rev. O. Gillespie and his hospitable people. And, I must say, the people of Moss Point did just what their pastor bid them, and just what they ought to have done, and just what everybody can't do. They had preparations sufficient for an annual conference. On Friday, the 24th, the citizens gave a fine dinner, at the parsonage, for the benefit of all the ministers, and it was a grand affair. The tables were decorated with flowers by Sister Mattie Honse and others. On Saturday we were all invited back to the same place to partake of a nice dinner consisting of everything to make it first-class. Allow me to congratulate the pastor and people of Moss Point, and to say to them in the language of the Bible, "Well done." I hope to meet them again. On my return home I stopped at Pearlington and preached to many of my old friends and acqnantances, and our hearts were made glad. I found the seats of many beloved friends vacant by death, and when I inquired how they had left this world the answers led me to believe that their spirits are resting in the city of God. In conclusion, God bless the old SOUTHWESTERN.

Rev. P. M. Carmichael, of Columbus, Texas, writes: "When you last heard from me I was on the way to Schulenburg and Flatonia work, where, on the 31st of January, I met Bro. Browley and nearly all the official members. The estimating committee estimated for his support $150. There being about 61 full members you see they are giving a little over $2 per member. Collection for presiding elder, $6.65. From here we went to Waelder and Peach Creek, where we met Bro. W. H. Stephens at the depot with a horse and buggy awaiting our arrival. After a 3 or 4 mile drive we came to the parsonage, and Feb. 7th we met the quarterly conference and had a very good time. The committee estimated at this place $300, with 130 full members, a fraction over $2 per member. The collection for the presiding elder was $5 30. From here we went to Luling, where, on the 14th we met the quarterly conference, and had a nice time. Here I found our new church under headway, though work had been stopped on account of not having doors and window sashes. By the next Monday morning we were able to have in hand $220 to pay on the same. Though the times are hard and money scarce, I think we will soon have this house finished. On Sunday I preached to a good congregation, though the day was a little disagreeable, and there being an excitement in town about a shooting affray that took place on the night before. The collection for the presiding elder, $10.95. On the 21st I met Bro. Harris and his brethren on the Lockhart circuit. I found this work all broken up, but we managed to get it a little better. They promised their preacher $300; there are about 80 members, about $3.75 apiece. There is a vast difference between this work and the Luling work. They have 336 full members members and are only giving $400, a fraction over $1 apiece. From Lockhart we went to the Weimar circuit where we have a neat little church. A few faithful members met the quarter on Feb. 28. On Sunday we had a good time, though the weather was very inclement. There are 46 full members on this circuit, and they promised to give $200 to Bro. Caveuas, a fraction over $4 per member. This place almost doubled Lockhart. For presiding elder Lockhart gave $5.25, and Weimar $10.10. On the 7th of March we met Bro. Jas. Jarmon, on the Ellenger and Industry circuit, where we had a good time. They promise Bro. Jarmon $220, a fraction over $2 per member. Collection for presiding elder at this place $5.15. We are expecting something of Ellenger and Industry this year. On the 14th we met Bro P. Gates, on the Columbus circuit, Though it rained hard the brethren turned out, and we had a splendid session. This is a good work. They promissd Bro. Gates $500, nearly $2.50 per member. I can not at this time say anything about Caney and Providence, as I was not able to get there. I trust, however, that they are doing well. I think the district is doing as well as could be expected. We intend to raise all we are asked to raise for missions. Also our part of the amount necessary to increase the whole to one million dollars this year. I must here return thanks to Rev. Mr. Logan, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, Houston, Texas, for his kindness to me while in his city.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. C. H. Nicols, pastor at Washington, Mason county, Ky., writes: "The church at this place is still alive, at work and moving on well. We had a class rally recently—classes Nos. 3 and 4. They worked faithfully. No. 3 raised $5.25 and No. 4 raised $2.25. We are still alive and at work, and we will work while on earth we stay. Pray for us that we may continue in the faith and good work of the Church of God. Paul says, "If man work not he shall not eat."

Rev. Neptune Randolph, Bunkie Station, La., pastor at Bayou Dulac, writes: "I have 9 members, but it is a wilderness; it needs the light of day in the midst of them. I held ten prayer meetings, preached once, and have taken in one member and returned to Bunkie on the 15th. Held one prayer meeting and took in two members. I have not, as yet, done much at Bunkie because I had no house to preach in, but now I have made arrangements to rent a house at $5 per month; it is large enough to accommodate 250 persons. With help from the Church Extension Board Bunkie can be made a fine place for an M. E. Church."

S. B. Dauley, of Martin, Tenn., writes: "Our second quarter was held Feb. 21-22. Our much loved elder, J. P. Price, was with us and preached, as usnal, one of his best sermons, and we felt our hearts strangely warm. The members were present with splendid reports. We have paid on traveling and moving expenses: $24,40 for pastor, $51; elder, $12, Bishop, 50c.; missions, $1; Church Extension, $1; Freedmen's Aid, $3. Something on all the claims has been raised for church debts. We are doing all we can to accomplish the work of liquidating our church debts. Will our more favored points help us in this hour of distress? Any one sending us aid will do much good, and we will acknowledge the same through the SOUTHWESTERN. Any amount, from 25 cents up, will be thankfully received."

Rev. G. W. Townsend, Hallettsville, Texas, writes: "Elder G. W. Richardson was here and held our quarterly conference; business passed off nicely. We made our reports. We had to show that there was a mistake in last year's report by Rev. E. Jones. He said he had 254 members, and we find 271 members. All the class leaders reported. Elder Richardson said he got more reports from class leaders here at one time than he got on his whole district this year. Our Sunday-schools are prosperous."

Rev. W. J. Mitchell, Bremond, Texas, writes: "This is my third year on this work. The first year we bought a house and lot for parsonage uses, which cost us $135, this we have paid for, and besides had 35 converts. The second year, having no meeting house, we set to work to raise money to build one, and in this the Lord encouraged us, and with the aid of Mrs. Mary A. F. Perkins, at a leap year party, we raised $128, and in addition to this we collected a sufficient sum to begin our building, and on the 10th of September, 1884, we were able to occupy the new structure for our district conference and Sunday-school convention, on which occasions the Lord was with us in power. We had 43 conversions, in all 73 in the two years, and by the grace of God we are still moving onward. Our third year has been a success, and among other cheering things done was a donation party for the benefit of the pastor. At this $100 was realized and we are happy. I am trying to raise the standard of Methodism in this corner of the Lord's vinyard. Our beloved presiding elder, Rev. C L Madison, is held in the very highest esteem by our people, and justly so, for he is a grand man. We do not forget Elder Gates who served us in that office faithfully, and retires beloved by all who are acquainted with him." Our school here, tanght by Mrs. Mary Perkins, of Central Tennessee College, is one of the best in Texas. Her work stands the test of rigid examination, and proves that she seeks not only her salary but also the good of the people, and aims to to raise her race higher in intellect and morals. She devotes her Sabbaths to work in our Sabbath-school, of which she is superintendent. We have organized it into a missionary society, and it is doing finely. We will vote on the temperance question here soon, and I am determined, with my church, to make a record on that subject on the right side. I shall open fire upon intemperance from the pulpit and hope every fireside will pray for us." [We will. Go on, that is sound talk.—ED.]

Rev. G. Carr, of Ripley, Miss., writes: "I was appointed to this charge in February last, and arrived here on the fourth Sunday in February. On the first Sunday in March I met a large congregation as could be expected under the prevailing circumstances. Thus far everything has moved on nicely both spiritnally and temporally. Our beloved presiding elder was with us on the 18th and 19th of this month, whose pleasant face we are always proud to see, and regret the hour of his departure. We had a loving conference, which was well attended. The reports showed that they had been at work for the great cause in which they are enlisted. On Sunday, at 3 o'clock, the elder preached a glorious sermon from the 5th chapter, 2 Cor., 19th verse, after which he administered sacrament to 85 souls. Collections $13.10."

Rev. S. S. Wright, of Campte, La., writes: "I am sorry to inform the readers of the SOUTHWESTERN that, on the night of the 11th of this month, a storm passed through this parish, blowing down several fine buildings, and with them our Mount Zion Church. But I am glad to say we are hard at work trping to raise money enough to build it up again. The following is a list of those who have already given us aid: S. S. Wright, $2; Jas. Brook, $2; W. H. Telplea; $1; A. Kempt, $1; Willis Chapman, $8; H. Raphael & Bro., $1, S. P. Raines $2; J. P. Reodhimer; $1; Mrs. S. Raphael, $1; Robt. Harts, 50c; Robert Raphael, 50c.; S. Freeman, 50c.; L. Perot, $1; J. W. Wadlowe, J. P., 25c.; S. Fontaine, 25c.; John Shuing, 25c.; A. Neal, 50c.; Joseph Henry, $5; John H. Henry, $1; J. C. Henry, $2; C. W. Anderson, 50c.; A. L. DeBliew, $1; A. E. Sampraii, $1; N. Robert, $1; Joseph Batties, $2; K. Davis, $1; R. White, $1; A. Rogest, $1, Mary Stephen, $1; S. Timuon, $1; Eliza Tilman, $1; Thos Flemion, 50c.; C. Wallace, $1; Jas. Freeman, 50c.; C. A. Metoyer; 50c.; total, $44.75. Now, dear friends of our wide spread connection, to rebuild this church in a good Methodist style, it will cost at least one hundred dollars. So we, the undersigned trusttes, ask our aid, and any amonnt you give will be thankfully received. Address S. S. Wright, pastor, Campte, La. S. S. Wright, Willis Chapman, J. Brock, A. Kempt, A. Rogest, trustees."

Rev. W. H. Moseby, Lagrange circuit, Columbus district, of the West Texas Conference, writes: "At our second quarterly conference the following resolutions were offered by the writer: Brethren of the Quarterly Conference—Whereas, The SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE is the official organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church, especially among the colored people; and, Whereas, It is the medium through which we can speak to the world of our work in all parts of the earth; and, Whereas, so many of our local preachers and officers of the Church, now in the dark as to the working of the different churches, can get the desired information from its pages; therefore, be it, Resolved, That every local preacher, exhorter, steward, class leader and Sunday-school superintendent take the paper. Resolved, That they will use their utmost influence in circulating it in every family on the circuit. Resolved, That we highly commend the action of the General Conference in selecting Dr. M. W. Taylor as its editor, and that he as its editor will prove a blessing to the Methodist Episcopal Churches in this part of the country. Some of the brethren thought that some of the resolutions were hard ones. You see some of the people say we have no men among them who can hold the places, but we mean to show them."

Rev. A. G. Miller, of Shreveport, La., writes: "It affords me great pleasure to say that our new presiding elder, Rev. P. Laudry; was with us April 11-12. He was warmly received in our midst, and held our first quarterly conference. The people were well pleased with his ruling, and think the conference did wise in sending him to supercede Elder Duncan. Elder Duncan did a wonderful lot of work in the four years, and we hope that Elder Landry will have as great success in the coming four years. We also hope that the SOUTHWESTERN will have her full number of subscribers, or as many more, during his administration on the Shreveport district. Our pastor did not do much here last year, but we hope the Lord will give them a year of success this year."

Letters From the Laity.

W. H. Rector, of Taylor, Texas, writes: "It is not often that I write articles for publication in the SOUTHWESTERN. I believe this one which I am going to write, is worthy of consideration and attention. This is a thriving little town of two thousand inhabitants. There is only one thing which I regret about our prosperous city: for the want of proper management, energy and efficient leadership our church has been drifted on the shores of Salt River. We have a church house, destitute of benches, at a valuation of $100, more or less, and it is in a critical condition. There are only two colored churches here, viz: the A. M. E. Church and the Campbellite. Our city is rapidly increasing with colored people; some of whom are members of the following denominations: A. M. E. Church, Campbellite, Baptist and Methodist. Those who desire to become members of the latter two churches are deprived of the much needed privilege; they must join one of the former two regardless of wishes. Some of the so-called Christians (Campbellites) have been boasting that "the Methodist Episcopal Church will never be revived here." Poor, thoughtless creatures! unconscious of our ability and influence. I hope the time will come when our work will be revived. We need a preacher—who is willing to accept this field? Who will answer to this summons saying, "Here am I, send me!"

The M. E. Church.

Programme

Of Sunday-school and Church work at Texarkana, Ark., April 25 and 26: Saturday, April 25—8 p m, preaching, St. Paul's M. E. Church, Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, D. D. Fourth Street M. E. Church, Rev. A. H. Gillet.

Sunday, April 26—8:30 a. m., Sunday-school service, Wheeler Chapel, A. H. Gillet. 11 a. m., preaching, Fourth Street M. E Church, Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, D. D. M. E. Church South, Rev. A. H. Gillet. 3 p. m., Union Sunday-school service. Fourth Street M. E. Church, addresses, Bishop W. F. Mallalieu, Revs. G. E. Cunningham and A. H. Gillet. 3:30 p. m., preaching, Wheeler Chapel, Bishop W. F. Mallalieu. 5 p. m., Chautauqua Vesper Service, Fourth Street M. E. Church. 8 p. m., preaching, St. Paul's M. E. Church, Bishop W. F. Mallalieu. Fourth Street M. E. Church, Rev. A. H. Gillet. M. E. Church South, Prof. J. T. Clark.

Mrs. Hester Williams, of Baton Rouge District in Louisiana reports thirty-one auxiliaries on a District that has only twenty-three charges. Nearly half of them are children's societies. That is among a people recently out of slavery, most of the women earning their money by washing, or in some other hard way. She has her children's societies organized under a constitution that forbids the use of liquor, tobacco and bad language, and in fact an epitome of the ten commandments. If all these children "live up to" that constitution there will be healthful morality on Baton Rouge District in the church of the next generation. Perhaps some of our northern districts will take the banner from this one in the South, but they are not yet heaad from. Presiding Elder Duncan, in the same conference, has organized eight auxiliaries for us. Has any one heard of any northern presiding elder doing better than that? —Woman's Friend.

The first Methodist Church in Texas was organized in 1834, near San Augustine, East Texas. The same year a Methodist camp meeting was held in Austin county. By the above it will be seen that the year 1884 was the Jubilee of Texas Methodism.

Mrs. Willing's first monthly report gives the complete organization of the Philadelphia and Newark Conference Societies, and a partial organization of that of the New York Conference, with the District Associations well under way. Over six hundred persons had taken our annual membership pledge and thirty-seven that of life membership—twenty dollars each. Six had named each a room in one of our Industrial Homes at one hundred dollars each. Mrs. Bishop Simpson gave twenty-five dollars and a valuable box of clothing for the frontier preachers. The work is everywhere kindly received, and the outlook most encouragiug.

Minneapolit Methodists gave nearly $4,000 to missionary societies last year.

It is stated that no steps will be taken to carry into effect the bequest of the late Bishop Simpson relative to the endowment of an Episcopal chair, as it is not thought practicable. Furthermore, the impression is that the family of Bishop Simpson should receive the full benefit of his estate.

About one out of twelve in the Methodist Episcopal Church—that is, about half of our families—do not take a church paper. Our missions and all other benevolent work are supported chiefly by our reading and intelligent members. Bishop Fowler once estimated that 700,000 of our members gave nothing of consequence to missions. The secret of all of our deficiencies is to be found right here—that is, not among those who give, but those who do not. They do not take the papers, and do not help the Church.

Rev. C. P. Hard writes that the South India Conference, held at Chadargat, was spiritnal, evangelistic, thorough, and graciously guided by the Holy Spirit. Dr. Thoburn was appointed Conference evangelist.

In the M. E. Church, Danbury, Ct., J. Pegg, pastor. 50 conversions reported.

Dr. Chas. H. Payne is putting forth herculean effort in behalf of the Ohio Wesleyan University this Centennial year. May he be rewarded by yet seeing great enthusiasm and success.

We doubt if our people understand that the Methodist Book Concern sells all current books on general topics. While not all made up of religious books, their stock has no unclean or poisonous material.

The Book Committee was able to do clear a dividend of $15,000 from the proceeds of the Book Concern for the superannate, and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers. This shows what vast resources will be at our command for this purpose when all our pastors are diligent to circulate our own publications.

Chaplain McCabe has prepared a Missionary Chart, with a map of each of our mission fields, accompanied by a statement of the present condition of each mission. On the reverse side is the table of possible collections from the districts showing how a million dollars can be raised for missions in 1885.

These charts cost 2½ cents each. They are for sale at 5 cents each. The money made on them will be used to print more. Presiding elders and parties purchasing them can sell them like "hot cakes" at 5 cents apiece.

Order 20 copies and try it. They will cultivate "the spirit of the corps" from Dan to Beersheba. Order them from

C. C. MCCABE.
805 Broadway, New York.

General debility, female weakness, loss of physical power, Bright's Disease, and nervous diseases are speedily cured by Hunt's Remedy.

New Orleans Preachers' Meeting.

The New Orleans Preachers' Meeting met at 10.40, May 11, 1885, J. W. Hudson in the chair. The meeting opened with singing by the President, and prayer by Rev. J. Benn.

The following members were present: J. W. Hudson, T. P. Jackson, R. C. Barrow, T. J. Johnson, Thos. Stalker, L. P. Cusl man, W. Murrzell, S Osborn, E. Clark, M: Dale, M. C. B. Mason.

The minutes were read and approved. The Sunday-school lesson for May 17 was read alternatively, and several opinions advanced. Bro. M. T. Fairfax being absent the order of the day was dispensed with, and Rev. M. Dale was appointed to conduct the discussion May 18, 1885. The President was requested to notify Bro. E. Lyon, Secretary of the Committee on Sunday-school Convention, to call that committee together as soon as possible for the purpose of transacting business of importance.

Meeting adjourned by singing the doxology, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. M. Dale.

J. W. HUDSON, Pres.
A. J. FORD, Sec'y.

"The Dyspeptic's Refuge,"

"I am thirty-five years old," writes Mr. Charles H. Watts, of West Somers, Putnam county, N. Y., "and had suffered from dyspepsia for 15 years. The current treatment did no good. Listlessly and without hope I gave Parker's Tonic a trial. I can give the result in three words, it cured me." It will cure you.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

The Weightier Matters.

REV. L. M. HAGOOD.

For a long time I have wondered if we have not been putting too much stress on numbers, both in membership and "professions," and neglecting systematic work and in doctrination of those who do make professions amongst us. As to membership it is possible for a Christian minister to lose his reputation for religion and veracity when he uses questionable means to "get the people to join us." Sometimes they may mistake and join the preacher, having lost sight of the church; if such means are used and persons from the Baptist, Presbyterian, Campbellite, Roman Catholic or other churches are received, without taking the obligations pre requisite to membership from probation, will it not militate against the work of the church?

Will not the outgrowth be pernicious and apparent in their desire to conduct church affairs as from whence they came? It will undoubtedly be seen in their mode of singing, praying, exhorting, preaching, and too often in a more positive way. Such of course are "in Israel but they are not of Israel." When some pastors find matters thus they become scrupulous about preaching on the subject of Baptism, adult or infant, or in checking irregularities in them along the line of temperance. If any of these were brought into our church in this unwarranted manner for the sake of their influence, education or money, it resolves itself into a very delicate affair, indeed; such in our church often "quench the violence of fire, stop the mouths of lions, wax valiant in fight, obtain promises and turn to flight" the minister, and as he feels, tell him to add wings to his speech. Is it any wonder, such a state of affairs have existed, or do exist, that bitter opposition is met in our efforts to systematize the work of the church? Those who now suffer because of these things are not wholly to blame, but do we not find a trite verification of Aesop's fable of the bird slain with an arrow tipped with its own wing feather?

Indeed the word of God is as applicable to us; as to those we are sent to, when it declares "Whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap." If ministers among us are taught, or allowed to believe, that "they are preaching for a living," their acceptability depends upon the amount of noise their members make when they preach, or the number of "professions" they report, and the time they spend gossipping, as they sit on drygoods boxes or at the homes of the people, that they may see "they are not above them," "we will never leave this slough of despond."

On account of this great desire for "vain show" and carelessness combined, our statistics too often appear as Gehazi. As to "professions" if they have been what they would have been if proper instruction, before and after conversion, had been given the subjects, our membership in the State of Tennessee, would have been over 30,000! But in too many cases we labor all winter to get them into and all summer to get them out of the church. I fear in some cases we report the "conversion" of the same person more than once in a conference year. This may not be so; one thing is certain, if our converts are brought into the church ignorant of her polity, history and doctrines, and are not put into hands that will systematically [illegible] for God and Methodism [illegible] in too many cases will [illegible] "Jonah's gourd vine." I ask again, why is it that young [illegible] promising intelligence do not [illegible] at the door of our con[illegible] for admission on trial?

[illegible] up a regular [illegible] and indeed even [illegible] transfers themselves [illegible] against such sin[illegible] time every [illegible] hands not devoid [illegible] we hasten, see [illegible] territory [illegible] we were open[illegible] ing our eyes, brethren, for the Missionary Committee and Board of Church Extension are not asleep. Our missionary appropriation in two years has fallen from $3,000 to $2,700, and this $300 is a clear loss to those pastors who have been and are now needing aid. We had $1,600 last year and only $800 this year from the Board of Church Extension, beyond the amount they asked us to raise. Notwithstanding this, in Nashville and Memphis the two largest cities in the State, we to-day, have not 800 members. Lack of system is the only skeleton in the closet we now name. I know these are sad facts, but we must face them. Every person who watched the proceedings of the General Conference knows that every colored conference in the South, outside of ours, is represented on some board or very important committee. This seems strange too when we had a delegate inside and an alternate outside of the committee room. To say it was a discrimination against our conference is to raise suspicion at once either against the management of the conference or the intelligence of our delegate, either of which is unpleasant to think of much more to speak of. It can not be that internal war is about to destroy us, or that personal preferences have precedence at the jeopardy of God's Church, or that desire for personal aggrandizement makes us jealous of moral or intellectual worth if found outside of self. I think if we search diligently we will find the "golden wedge in Achan's tent, wrapped in paper marked "the result of neglecting the weightier matters of the law."

Lebanon, Tenn.

To encourage sleep, create an appetite, brace up the system, and to purify the blood, take the unfailing Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy.

The National Sunday-Schools.

The "International Lesson Committee," regulating the Sunday-schools of the United States and Canada, met April 16, at the Grand Hotel, in the morning, afternoon and evening, in conclusion of their grand work in the preparation of the series of lessons for the Sunday-schools. Besides those already mentioned as attending the convention, Mr. B. F. Jacob, of Chicago, was present as chairman of the committee.

In the evening a mass meeting was held at the Trinity M. E. Church. Among the members of the committee present were: Chancellor S. H. Blake, of Toronto, one of the leading laymen of the Canadian Church; Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Montreal; Mr. B. F. Jacob, of Chicago; and the Rev. John H. Vincent, D. D., of New York.

Mr. Abner L. Frazer presided over the meeting, assisted by Mr. H. Thane Miller.

Those who made addresses were Chancellor S. H. Blake, of Toronto; the Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Montreal; Mr. B. F. Jacob, of Chicago, Ill., and the Rev. John H. Vincent, D. D., of New York. They referred in eloqnent language to the necessity of Sunday-school work among the Christian Nations.

The address of Rev. Dr. Potts was aglow with the fervor and animation of the heart. He would tell all the reason of life, the reason of Christianity. "Did not my heart burn as the book of the Scriptures was opened to me?" The children were the future of humanity, the blessing of Christianity.

Mr. B. F. Jacob, of Chicago, made his remarks pertinent to the necessities of a large city. There were many vacant pews in the churches, because the children were not properly instructed and educated. There were fifty million inhabitants in the United States, and in that number how very few were receiving the education which would build them up for earth and heaven! There were seven hundred thousand children in the Empire State of New York, and thousands of these were not receiving a Christian education. He illustrated the Sunday-school work going on in Dakota, and made his remarks felicitous by several anecdotes. He advised the mapping out of the city into districts for the purpose of bringing the children into the Sunday-schools.

Rev. Dr. Vincent made a most eloquent appeal. It was in the direction of emphasizing the powers of the individual over classes. In America, at least, the influence was not for the suppression of individual power. Personal service, personal conviction was required for permanent good, especially in the Sunday-school work. Organizations were of no utility unless supplemented by the power of individuals. Christ was not in the "mass," nor in the work of a class. It was the work of units to units—the power of one individual over the other.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a commitee of seven be appointed by the chairman to propose, perfect and prosecute a plan for a more united and intimate association of the Sunday-school workers of Cincinnati and vicinity.

The following committee was appointed: Morris S. Shipley, Louis Manns, Dr. Wm. B. Davis, Francis Perry, Henry Martin, Robt. T. Bonsall, Ed. Worthington.

Lessons which have been mapped out from the Scriptures will be published. The Committee adjourned.

Symposium of the Weeklies.

There is a large class of colored girls who need employment, but their parents prefer to deprive themselves of many wants rather than subject them to such treatment as domestic employment offers.—Kentucky Republican.

Cleanliness, abstemiousness and wholesome food makes the Jew the superior in health to the average men of other races.—Houston Daily Post.

The London Spectator has an article on the question of mormonism in the United States. The Spectator thinks "it is impossible not to be amused at the thought of the latest and most advanced of nations watching in helpless perplexity the establishment of oriental harems in its midst, and the proudest of democratic governments finding itself menaced by the growth of an eclesiastical autocracy under its protection."—In the Northwestern.

Why not begin to look for a revival now!—Lamp of Life.

"Some of the very men whom we may expect to preach in demonstration of the Spirit,' have the effrontety to stand up before our congregations and read from a time-tanned manuscript, what they think is a splendid discourse, but proves to be in nine cases out of ten, a 'wet blanket' on the interests of the meeting."—Ocean Grove Record.

Wesley says it was the practice of all the Oxford Methodists to give away each year all they had after providing for their own necessities.—Northern.

Use Dr. Pierce's "Pellets" for all bilous attacks.

German Exploration of Africa has suffered a fresh and severe blow. A dispatch of the German Consul General Rohlfs, just received from Zanzibar, announces the death of the leader of the East African expedition, Dr Bohm. The explorer who was a bold man, not yet thirty years old, was at the end of December, in company with Dr. Reichardt, in the country lying west of the Moero Lake, which had never been traversed before by a white man. The laconic dispatch, which simply says: "All lost, scarcely escaped death myself, Bohm dead," seems to point to a murder by the natives.

Don't Eat in a Hurry.

A health journal says that the people ought to take three quarters of an hour for dinner. This is well if there is enough dinner to hold out so long. The penalty for hurrying meals, as most people do, is a grevious attack of dyspepsia. In such a case you will have to resort to Brown's Iron Bitters for cure, as did Mr. J. R. Pinkerston, Shorter's Depot, Ala., who writes, "I found relief in Brown's Iron Bitters after years of suffering from dyspepsia.

Is This Possible?

Report comes that Gen. Grant's improved condition is dne to the fact that he is using a "simple vegetable preparation" forwarded by one of our consuls from South America, and sent him by the Surgeon General! Is this possible! By an "unauthorized" remedy? Shocking!

And yet, if this "simple vegetable preparation" were owned and advertised by any one as a specific for this terrible disease, certainly the Surgeon General would not commend it, nor would bigoted physicians prescribe it!

Nevertheless, it is a fact that many of the best proprietary medicines of the day, as the late Dr. J. G. Holland stated in Scribner's Monthly, were more successful than many physicians, and most of them, it should be remembered, were at first discovered or used in actnal medical practice. When, however, any shrewd persons, knowing their virtne and foreseeing their popularity, secured and advertised them, then, in the opinion of the bigoted, all virtue went out of them!

Isn't this absurd!

We believe that a remedy, if properly made, is just as effective when put up, advertised and sold in bulk, as when doled out to patients at enormous expense by their physicians.

Why not?

If General Grant is getting better through a simple unauthorized vegetable preparation, where is the vaunted exclusive skill of the medical profession?

Apropos of the suspension of some very prominent members by the Medical and Chirngical faculty of Maryland, for endorsing advertised remedies, the Baltimore American (April 25th) says that "when a patent medicine goes on year after year widening its circle of believers, it is a pretty fair evidence that there is merit in it. The regular doctors may ignore it, and expel any of their members who use it, but when they do so their action looks more like envy against a successful remedy than a true desire to protect the public." The failnre in the Garfield and Grant cases, the American thinks, and properly, has knocked professional pretensions higher than a kite.

But this is not a singular instance of unprofessional power over "incurable diseases." That "simple vegetable preparation" now everywhere known as Warner's safe cnre, was once an authorized remedy; and pronounced a "god send" to the medical profession for the cure of kidney and liver disorders, malaria, general debility spring feebleness, female irregularities, etc., by many leading physicians, but when the formula was fully perfected, and the medicine was put up in bulk and advertised so that every sufferer might know of it and treat himself, then the profession turned upon it and let their patients die rather than to use it.

Tfis is certainly a strange proceeding, but it is on a level with all the rules and regulations of a code which has gone so far as to forbid a physician displaying beyond a certain size his name and profession upon his sign!

Bnt the world moves, and merit wins the fight!

Pay as You Go.

The best of all rules for successful house-keeping and making both ends of the year meet is, "Pay as you go." Beyond all countries in the world, ours is the one in which the credit system is the most used and abused. Pass-books are the bane and pest of domestic economy—a perpetual plague, vexation, and swindle. Abnsed by servants at the store and house, disputed constantly by housekeepers and dealers, they are temptations to both parties to do wrong. "I never had that." "We neglected to enter this." "I forgot to bring the book." "Never mind, we'll make a note of it," and so it goes. But the worst of it is that the housekeepers are tempted to order what they have not the means to pay for, and when the time comes they are straitened. A family can live respectably on a very moderate income, if they always take the cash in hand and buy where they can buy to the best advantage. Then they will be carefnl first to get what is necessary. Extra comforts will be had if they can afford them. But it is bad policy to buy on credit. No wise dealer sells so cheaply on credit as for the cash. —Hearthstone, Farm and Nation.

When Tried Alway Preferred.

When they once become acquainted with it, ladies invariably prefer Parker's Hair Balsam to any similar preparation. It makes the hair soft and glossy, arrests its falling off, promotes new growth, restores the original color, and has no rival se a dressing. Not a dye, not oily, highly perfumed. Only 50c., at druggists.

New Course of Study.

The Bishops, at their meeting held immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, arranged the following course of study to be pursued by candidates for the Methodist ministery. All examinations made after May 1, 1885, will be upon this new course of study:

For Traveling Preachers.

FOR ADMISSION ON TRIAL.

Common English Branches.
History of the U. S.—Ridpath $3 00
Scripture History.—Smith. (Abridged edition in one volume.) Net 56
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3.) Net 5
History of ethodism.—Stevens. (Abridged edition.) 3 00
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Edition of 1884. .....
Compendium of Methodism.—Porter. 1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I) sett 5 00
Books of reference:
Whitney's Hand-book of Bible Geography 2 25
Freeman's Hand-book of Bible Manners and Customs 2 25

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scripture shapters I.XXX—Harman. 4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol I) sett. 7 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley 30
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. Net 1 60
Rhetoric.—Hill, Net 1 00
Written Sermons.
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons (Vol II.) .....
Christian Purity—Foster 1 50
Introduction to the Gospel Records—Nast 1 75
Ecclesiastical Law and Rules of Evidence—Henry and Harris 3 00
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol I.—Reid. 3 00

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. (chapters XXI-LII)—Harman. .....
Systematic Theology.—Compendium of Christian Theology. Vol. II.—Pope. 1 75
Medieval and Modern History.—Thalheimer. 1 60
Lessons in Logic.—S ymons. Net 10
To be read:
Checks to Antinomianism—Fletcher 5 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged).—Stevens 3 00
Defense of our Fathers—Emory 85
History of Mistions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol. II.—Reid. 3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament. Chapters I.XIII.—Harman. 4 00
Systematic Theology. Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope Vol. III. ... 7 50
Atonement in hrist.—Miley 1 25
History of the Church.—Blackburn 2 50
Intellectual Science.—Porter 3 00
Homiletics.—Kidder 1 50
Written Sermon.....
To be read:
Theological Encyclopedia and Methodology. —Crooks and Hurst. 3 50
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson 1 25

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XIX-XLIV Harman. 4 00
Systematic Theology. Theological Institutes Part II.—Watson. 6 00
Analogy of Natural and Revealed Theology. —Butler. 1 50
Written Exegesis. .....
To be read:
Life and Epistles of St. Paul.—onybeare and Howson (Abridged Edition). 1 00
Biblical Hermeneutics.—Terry. .....
History of Rationalism.—Hurst 3 00

For Local Preachers.

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: History. Outlines of Bible History.—Hurst. ..... $ 50
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3) 05
Christian Theology. Introduction and Book I.—Wakefield. 2 50
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (Edition of 1884). .....
Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation.—Walker. 1 25
To be read:
Hints to Self-educated Ministers.—Porter 1 25
A Hundred Years of Methodism—Simpson 1 50
Portrait of St. Paul.—Fletcher. 75

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
Th Bible: Doctrines. .....
Christian Theology. Books II and III.—Wakefield 2 50
Christian Baptism.—Merrill. 1 00
Church History: Outlines of Church History.—Hurst. 50
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. .....
To be read:
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson 1 25
History of the United States.—Ridpath 3 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged Edition). —Stevens 3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible. Sacraments. .....
Christian Theology. Books IV and V.—Wakefield 2 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley. 30
Aspects of Christian Experience.—Merrill.. 1 00
Rhetoric.—Haven. 90
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer. 1 60
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I.) Introduction 5 00 to the Gospel Records.—Nast. 1 25
Era of the Protestant Revolution.—Seebohm. 75

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Christian Theology. Books VI and VII.—Wakefield 2 50
Logic.—Jevons. (Science Primer Edition.). 45
Elements of Intellectual Science.—Porter.. 3 00
Review of the course for the three preceding years. .....
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. Vol. II. hecks to Antinomianism.—Fletcher. 5 00
History of the Reformation.—Fisher. 2 10
Protestant Foreign Missions.—hristlieb... 1 00

Terms, cash with order. Address,
PHILLIPS & HUNT.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.

For Teachers and Young People.

To clubs of six or more, one address, 55 cents each. 65 cents a year.

The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.

For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.

50 Cents a Year.

It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.

For Bible Classes and the Adult Department.

20 Cents a Year.

The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs, besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.

For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.

6 Cents a Year.

The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Songs (with music) in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.

For the Younger Scholars.

6 Cents a Year.

The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.

For the Little Folks.

$4 a Year; $1 a Quarter.

The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.

For Infant Classes.

25 Cents a Year.

The Pictures Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.

For the Children.

Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each. The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.

For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.

Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.

This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people.

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

Juvenile Periodicals.

We are now prepared to furnish th following Juvenile Periodicals for 1884 at the regular subscription price:

WIDE AWAKE,

The Great Pictorial Magazine,

$3.00 a Year.

WIDE AWAKE, the best, the most entertaining, the most beautifully illustrated of all magazines for young people.

BABYLAND.

The Only Magazine in the World Expres for Babies.

Only 50 Cents a Year.

It will have its baby music, its bab stories, and its large, beautiful picture

Our Little Men and Women

For Youngest Readers at Home and at School.

Only $1.00 a Year.

Little men and women just beginning to read, will find this monthly filled with charming stories and poems. It is the aim of the editor to give entirely true stories, or stories based on facts.

THE PANSY,

An Eight page Weekly, for Boys and Girls

Only 75 Cents a Year.

This illustrated paper, edited by "Pansy," is equally suited to week day as Sunday reading.

Subscriptions received by

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1885.

Notice to Agents.

DEAR BRETHREN—It is usual for us to call upon you at this period of the year to make a special effort for your Church paper. The general prevalence of dull times makes it imperative that we call upon each agent to send a sum of money to this office within the next few days. Do not hesitate to send small amounts. Every dollar will count. Give old accounts the preference, and if an agent owes nothing let him secure a cash subscriber or two and forward the money to

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans, La.

Coming Events.

Under the chief direction of Rev. A. H. Gillet, Sunday-school Agent of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the South and West, a Sunday-school Assembly will be held at Clark University, Atlanta, Ga., from May 28th to June 6, 1885. It is desirable to make this a representative meeting of Sunday-school people, both in point of numbers and interest. To this end a cordial invitation to all lovers of the Sunday-school to cotribute to the enterprise by their presence, prayers and work.

Assimilation.

Mr. R. M. Lowry, the silk manufacturer of Huntsville, Alabama, stated explicitly, in answer to a question as to whether he believed in the assimilation of the white and black races for business purposes only, that he believed in assimilation in all things where the races naturally come together. Though this is an evasive reply, it is against antheogamous marriages, for these are unnatural, and to be greatly deplored by every Negro who loves and believes in an honorable and useful future for his race.

Blood Will Tell.

There is something in blood after all. There are people with an admixture of African and Caucasian blood moving in every sphere of social and political life in this country, from the United States Senate Chamber to the notion stores of Canal street they are found, and the Negroes know them although they deny their Negro blood, and refuse to be identified in any way with Negro affairs. There must be something in blood, after all, or these very light complexioned Negroes would not entirely forsake the race from which their mothers came. But since this is what they do it shows clearly enough what would be the outcome should amalgamation become prevalent, legal and general.

Outlook in the Soudan.

What is to come of all this fighting and loss of men and money in the Soudan, if Buller and Stewart are not rescued and some decisive fighting does not signal the advent of Lord General Wooleley into the interior? El Madhi will declare himself king of the Soudan, England will admit it, and form an alliance with him, and alliances with Italy and Turkey may follow. Then will come the absorption of the Barbary states in North Africa; Egypt will [illegible] others, and a mighty [illegible] more cover the soil [illegible] ancient [illegible] will fall [illegible], and a Christian [illegible] toll the funeral notes [illegible]. Meantime, if [illegible] really disposed to [illegible] slavery the [illegible] them an [illegible] of their [illegible] this inhuman

Church Periodicals.

The following action of the Book Committee touching our periodicals must commend itself to the favorable judgment of our preachers and people who feel an interest in the diffusion of denominational information and the success of our publishing interests. It is as follows. Read it:

The following, presented by C. B. Fisk, W. H. Olin, and J. B. Cornell was adopted:

Whereas, Our system of Church periodicals has evidently been providently developed to meet the wants of our people; and,

Whereas, These periodicals, now well established, are so distributed over the country as to be able, with general support, to render efficient service in behalf of both local and general Church interests; and,

Whereas, The united support of the several groups of so-called "patronizing conferences" is necessary to sustain these papers at their present price, and at a grade of merit commensurate with the needs of the Church; therefore,

Resolved, That we urge the several annual conferences; and all our preachers and people everywhere, to support our Church periodicals, and to use their earnest and united endeavors to increase their circulation; and we further respectfully urge them to discourage the establishment of local and independent Methodist papers, or papers especially soliciting the patronage of Methodist people, except in what may be regarded as missionary territory, or where present and prospective needs of fields far removed from our present publishing centers may require.

A communication referring to Swedish publications, and all matters pertaining thereto, except the election of an editor, were referred to the Western agents and local committee with power. Cincinnati was fixed upon as the place of the next annual meeting of the Committee.

What Others Think of Us.

The Religious Telescope, official paper of the United Brethren, has this to say of the Methodist Episcopal Church. If there is anything in this short of the real facts in our case we hope our readers will see to it that the deficiency is brought up:

"The Methodists came to this country with a closely organized administration, with a phenomenal success in England to back them. The very opposition they met only more thoroughly unified them, and their marvelous success developed church-pride and enthusiasm. They read of themselves in the papers. Wherever they go they find their Church. They are born Methodists, rocked in Methodist cradles, and lulled to sleep by the singing of Methodist hymns. They are converted in a Methodist church, under Methodist preaching, at a Methodist altar, in the midst of Methodist shouting. They join the Methodist Church, go to Methodist prayer-meeting, hear Methodist sermons, and read Methodist books. They die in a Methodist home, and their funeral is held in a Methodist church by a Methodist preacher, who eulogizes them as faithful Methodists, and speaks of them as having gone to the heaven of the Methodists. All these things unite to create a good working Methodist church-spirit. But these are not enough. The Methodist clergy all over the land lecture on the history of their church, glorifying its beginnings, and landing its wonderful progress, which they illustrate by statistics carefully prepared for them at their headquarters. The recent centennial has been utilized to the fullest extent, and gave opportunity for thousands of lectures and the sale of tons of Methodist books.

The Solid South Once More.

We have quite often wished that it lay in our power to divide the solid South for the nation's good. But just now we see evidences of dissolution which we judge to be opposed to the best interests both of this section and the whole country. We have a great National Exposition under way in New Orleans. It is a fine show. It has been, so far, ably directed. It is truly national in its character, though of course there are things connected with it we would like to alter, and we think for the better. Nevertheless, as it is, it is bound to do a great deal of good for the whole country, and especially for the South, if its success can be fully assured, which is not now the case. We are led to make these remarks by the appearance of a finely executed circular, bearing a splendid illustration of the stupendous building, with propositions and plans for a great national agricultural exposition in Louisville, Ky. Now, there is no place so well calculated to get up a magnificent agricultural exposition as Kentucky, and no city in the country, that we know of, better prepared to initiate and execute such a design than is Louisville. But we regard the very mention of such a thing as an exposition to be in any sense dependant upon Government aid as especially unfortunate at this time. First, because it cannot fail, even though unintentionally, so to antagonize the New Orleans Exposition, which must have aid from some source, or be seriously hindered or ruined. Second, if both enterprises should appeal for national aid just upon the eve of the inauguration of a Democratic government, it might be regarded as outlining a purpose to raid the treasury rather than to husband our resources for the payment of national obligations, and thereby lessen the burdens of taxation. We are now apparently upon the eve of inviting slave labor to compete with free labor in the South by opening the door wide for the entrance of Spanish slave-produced sugar. In view of this and the injury it must work to an important Southern industry, we cannot afford to divide, or even seem to do so, on other great affairs of commercial importance. Let us finish our present undertaking with thorough success before we proceed to inaugurate another. If we must have another, let the business men of the country subscribe for it a guarantee fund, and go ahead, with the United States treasury well aside.

The Essence of It.

Our readers will remember our reprint and reference to the Bayard-Williams embroglio, and they would probably be interested in reading what seems to be the true inwardness of it. It is alleged to be as follows:

Mr. Williams was appointed Minister and Consul resident at Hayti by President Arthur in the last days of his term. It is supposed that Mr. President-elect Cleveland knew of this, and had allowed it to be understood that the appointment would be acceptable to him, as he previously had a long interview with the Hon. Geo. W. Williams before his appointment. Mr. Williams has lately been a very independent Republican, if not a mild sort of a Democrat. He was formerly a Radical Republican, and as such was elected to the Ohio Legislature, and aided in several campaigns there and elsewhere. During his residence in Ohio he in some way lost favor with old leaders of the Republican party among the Negroes, chief of whom was Prof Peter H. Clarke. Later Mr. Clarke became Democratic, and suffered a good deal, at least in his peace of mind, in consequence of his reception at the hands of the colored Republican leaders thereafter. After the inauguration of President Cleveland Mr. Cleake went on to Washington, and, it is supposed, represented his case, and made known the political history and antecedents of Minister Williams, not omitting reference to any little personal eccentricities with which, in full, of the home life of the man, he may have been acquainted. As a result of this it is thought Mr. Bayard was willing to mention Mr. Clarke for Mr. Williames place, if the way was open, and to do what he could to open the way. The difference between them is that Mr. Clark is, and Mr. Williams is not an avowed Democrat.

Mr. C. S. Smith, Sunday-school Agent of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, has shown a willingness to take the place at so high a price as personal controversy with Mr. Williams, but Mr. Williams will have nothing to lose in any sort of a controversy with Mr. Smith, if he makes up his mind to notice it. There is very very little probability of Mr. Smith getting the appointment. In connection with this matter we may in passing notice the fact that the the Church of which Mr. Smith is a distinguished minister, is quite prolific of General Conference officers who are also effective campaigners. Among them we may mention Secretaries Townsend, Smith and Arnett, the latter being on active candidate for the legislative nomination from Green county, Ohio, before the coming convention at Springfield in that State. He is also financial agent for his Church, and has directed the brethren to send funds to Zenia where his office is for the present:

We have often heard of the statement being made that the ministers of the African Methodist Episcopal Church were freer than those of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and in view of these things we believe it is true, for no General Conference officer in our Church is free enough to accept an engagement as speaker in any political canvass, or become a candidate for election to any political office without first resigning his church office. Indeed, if the financial agents of our Church, for example, if Messrs. Phillips and Cranston, who are the financial men of our Church, were to become candidates before any political body, they would be compelled to resign, if their sense of propriety did not impell them to do so. We do not envy the African Methodist Episcopal Ministry and membership this freedom, which the men next in office to their Bishops enjoy. We are willing to render to Cæsar the things that are his, but we are not willing to become chief men in Cæsar's service, lest it should militate against faithful service to God. "Ye cannot serve two masters." A divided house will ultimately fall.

Kindly Words from a Revered Friend.

We clip the following from the American Baptist, and judge it to be the production of Rev. Allen Allensworth, the kindness and greatness of whose heart would make all others great. Our latch-string always hangs out freely to him and his:

IN AN EDITOR'S SANCTUM.

Here we found our noble Kentuckian, Rev. M. W. Taylor, D. D., seated in his office, 32 Natchez St. In a real editor's office, and a salary of ——— thousands per year, in charge of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and I was "real down glad" to find one colored editor in the United States receiving more than one thousand dollars per year for his services. All honor to Bro. Taylor for his example of prudence, fortitude, fidelity, gentleness and industry in overcoming obstacles and removing difficulties in the road to success. As he has done, is and has, others can be, do and have. From his office to his "workshop." In this we found him surrounded with a splendid library of books. In this we found Mrs. Taylor, after having prepared one of our Kentucky suppers and seen that Bro. Taylor, his guest and myself had carefully put it away, arranging clippings as the editor clipped them from exchanges That's the kind of wife for pastors, professors and editors to have, a helpmeet indeed.

A Meritorious Call for Aid.

The Chicago French Evangelical Tabernacle, Rev. P. A. Seguin, pastor, who was fourteen years a Catholic priest, and has been four years a Protestant minister, has preaching every Sabbath at Maskell Hall, cor. Desplaines and Jackson street, at 4 o'clock p. m. This enterprise is highly commended, and is, we believe, both needing and deserving of the assistance of Christian people all over the country. So far as we know this is the only effort of the kind being made to reach this class of our citizens, which is quite numerous. It ought not to fail for want of sympathy and help. La Trompette Evangelique is published twice a month in the interest of this work, and it is said to be the only French evangelical paper published in the United States. It has a circulation of 1,200, which ought to be greatly enlarged. We believe it would do good if twice as many copies were in circulation in this city, and hope ways and means will be found to circulate them. We see no reason why there should not be an earnest, determined effort to reach the large French population here. They, like all men without it, should be brought under the power and influence of the Gospel, and it is the work of English speaking people to greatly aid in accomplishing it. The Lord hasten it in his time.

National Prohibition.

"Have you read the charges against ex-Gov. St. John?—Ex.

No. We had a pretty leverage of unbelief in what might be said about a political candidate at the start, and the progress of the insane vituperation against St. John has not lessened it. We have been able to maintain, if not a blissful ignorance, then certainly something akin to a sullen indifference to any charges which might come against him because of his firmness in giving in himself personal leadership to the greatest living question of the age. The opposition to and aspersions of Mr. St. John eminate from the wrong source, and evidence a spirit in our political structure which has no reasonable right to survive. We are bound to unite all men, of whatsoever race, church or political cast in one great national prohibition, Sabbath observing, labor-elevating party, no matter by what name it may be distinguished.

Bibles at the Exposition.

The exhibit of the American Bible Society at the Exposition is meeting a great want on the part of many visitors. The Bibles and Testaments, in twelve languages, are for sale at cost, in some cases a reduction has been made, and books are offered at less than cost. Many copies of the Spanish Scriptures have been given away, and it is the purpose of the Society to distribute largely of the books remaining at the close of the Exposition to needy Sunday-schools and individuals. The Society has two exhibits for the sale of its publications in the main building, R.R. 15 and V.V. 27. The specimen verses published as a souvenir of the Exposition, containing 242 different languages, of sample verses in which the Society prints its publications, is very much sought after. Mr. A. C. Arnold, of New York, is in charge of the Society's work here, and will be pleased to meet all friends of the Society at R.R. 15.

Wherefore Should They be Censured.

The New York Tribune thinks that General Gordon was stabbed in the back by a Negro. Well, may be he was, and admitting it to be so, without stopping to question the reliability of the sources from which the Tribune gains its information, we affirm that this instance adds another to the long catalogue of proofs that, chances being anything like equal, the Negro is positively incorruptible when acting in what he conceives to be the defense of his home and country. England is not at war with Mohammedanism. One parliamentary act would sweep this moral cancer-eating out of the nation's heart from all the Indias Great Britian rules, but this iniquity prevails there, nevertheless. The English are pushing in Africa a war of conquest, and the great Gladstone may well falter when he attempts its defense.

The gift of a Savior is the measure of God's love for man in the aggregate. But man in the aggregate is only repetitions of the individual man. Therefore the measure of God's love to man in the aggregate is the measure of his love to every individual. Jesus died for all and for each. Christ died for all, and he would not that any should perish. "Unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ."

New Minister to Hayti.

We have to revise our view about the President's appointment of Minister to Hayti, so far as the name is concerned. We thought it would be Clarke, and knew that it would not be Smith, but who could have thought of Dr. Thompson? But Mr. Cleveland found him out, and, on the 8th of May appointed Dr. John E. W. Thompson Minister Resident and Consul General of the United States to Hayti. He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and is at present a resident of New York city. Dr. Thompson is a graduate of the Medical Department of Yale College. After leaving Yale he pursued his medical studies in Paris, where he became proficient in the French language, which knowledge will serve him in his new sphere, as the Haytiens are French speaking people. Dr. Thompson is a young colored man; and was highly recommended for the position by the Faculty of Yale, as well as by many leading citizens of his native State. Dr. Thompson is said to to have been a life-long Democrat. It is clear that Negroes are to be recognized, but Democratic Negroes will be found to fill the offices. We find no fault with a Democratic President for that.

Colored Democrats.

It does seem mighty queer how many colored Democrats we can find now. We only know of three who were pronounced Democrats of national reputation Peter H. Clark, Ohio, and O S. Smith, Illinois, George T. Downing, of Connecticut, (we believe), all the others must have been only ward grumblers that now thrust themselves under the microscope of public notice to be magnified for office under Cleveland. Next man.—American Baptist.

Halt there, Doctor! The Rev. J. Allen Ross, said to be a relative of Hon. J. C. Breckinridge, a man of sterling parts and pronounced ability of a high order, has been a fearless, outspoken, active and original Democrat for several years. He is well-known in Kentucky and has held prominent offices in the South, and will receive an appointment, with Peter H. Clark, from President Cleveland if party fealty counts for anything with the new regime.

The New York Nation is fast nearing the close of its fortieth volume, and twentieth year of existence. It was founded in July, 1865, in recognition of the new order of things which was sure to follow the end of the war and the abolition of slavery. It at once espoused the cause of nonpartisan administration of the National Government, and the present condition of civil service reform is largely owing to it. It has been conducted in its two leading departments, Politics and Literature, by the same editors from the first number, and holds to-day, as for the past twenty years, first rank in each. It is the medium of thoughtful and cultivated discussion. Its foreign correspondence is valuable. Its book reviews (by leading scholars of the country) possess high authority. Each number contains a careful news summary; and the bound volumes are prized as a useful chronicle of current history. 24 pp., quarto. 10 cents a number; $3 year. 210 Broadway, New York.

The apparent tendency on the part of most young people to avoid the practical, and seek the soft places in life, is based upon a false idea of life's purposes. Nothing so fits one for the exalted stations as a rough and tumble, rugged and bare handed tussle with the more humble and practical ones.

"Lives of great men all remind us
That we may make our lives sublime.

Our Democratic administration have concluded their overhauling of cash in the United States Treasury, and in the face of all the campaign allegations to the contrary, the books and cash for 25 years of Republican rule tally without the deficit of cent. How vast the contrast between this and the count 25 years ago when the Lincoln succeeded the Buchanan regime.

Personal.

—Rev. W. R. Butler's post-office address is Robelene, La.

—Queen Ranavalonci II. of Madagascar, was quite a mild-featnred, intelligent looking, brown colored lady.

—Dr. John Abernathy, the celebrated medical lecturer, delivered a public lecture in the latter part of the same day he was married.

—The Archduchess Maria Theresa of Anstria, is learning to make jewelry in the shop of a Tyrolese worker in gold and silver.

—Senator Vance, describing the present illness of his wife, says that she is "snffering from a regular old fashioned, ten commandment cold."

—A Bridgeton, N. J., man has planted over 200,000 cocoannts at Biscayne Bay, Fla., and will make the number 1,000,000 before he stops operations.

—Rev. C. L. Fields, of Centenary M. E. Church; Rev. S. R. Reid, of Providence Chapel, and Rev. H. C. Ashley, of St. Andrew Chapel A. M. E. Church, Memphis, Tenn., were among the callers attending the Exposition.

—Rev. Wm Dawson, pastor of M. E. Church, Manhattan, Kansas, called last week. He came to see the Exposition. Bro. Dawson is a gradnate of Middlebury College, Vt., and also of the Boston School of Theology, having worked his way through in a most honorable way.

—We are under renewed obligations to Rev. M. M. McKinney, of Scottsboro, Ala. They were holding a district conference there lately, and we are sure they enjoyed it. From a short residence there we learned that the Alabamians are whole souled, and never do things "grudgingly or of necessity" when it comes to entertaining the Lord's host. Viva la Huntsville District.

—Rev. Alfred Mason, late of the Lexington Methodist Episcopal, now of the African Church, has been appointed to Dublin, Cambridge City and New Castle, Indiana, and has, at the latter point, organized a society of members who were formerly members of our Church in that place. Bro. Mason has brought a good many members into our Church, and probably proposes if he can to take as many out. Generally it is not safe to follow a minister from church to church, for in these last days it is hard to tell how long a minister will remain, if he is looking for any particular kind of position, and a good many are, though probably Bro. Mason is not. One of the unfortunate elements connected with this touring from church to church is the depressing effect it has upon the people. After a man spends ten or twenty years persuading people to join one church and not to join another, and then reverses the order of his persuasion because some appointment does not suit, or some honor desired, it may be, but failed to obtain, missed him. The people will find it difficult to believe in the single-mindedness of the minister or yield to his persuasions under such circumstances. It is, indeed, a calamity.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR.—Ain't it the duty of the elders to advise the Bishop to put every man an appointment? Then why do we hear them so often say, "I have no place for this man or that one?"—SUBSCRIBER.

Answer—1. It is the duty of the elders to inform the Bishop of the characteristics of all churches and preachers on their districts, because the Bishop have no other legal means of gaining this information necessarily under our system but through them. When so informed it is the duty of the Bishop to give any objection a member of any conference an appointment.

2. It is the duty of the elders say they have no place for this or that man" when they see some man who is unfit for the place, and so persist in recommending him, that the churches have to bear them. Some are so particular in the matter of dress and manners that they are not acceptable, even if they are so, and light in their conduct, as well as rude in their manners that the people refuse to have them. So the elders are informed, and then, though a man's character be otherwise fair, it is better that he should have his relation changed, for unless he corrects these faults neither Bishop, elders or conference can make the people have him.

Schools and Colleges.

Gammon School of Theology.

BY REV. S. A. COWAN.

Through the providence of God it is my profitable privilege to be a student of Gammon School of Theology, and receive that which I have longed for—a thorough systematic drill in the great and glorious doctrines of the Gospel. The Gammon Hall is an elegant brick building, trimmed with stone, which cost the society $25,000. The rooms are large, well ventilated, and comfortably furnished; each floor is provided with bath rooms, the water being furnished by means of water pipes. The Theological library contains more than 2000 volumes of the best theological works, to which the students have free access. The University is situated about two miles south of the city in a beautiful grove, the land sloping gradually in each direction from the building, which carries off the water and leaves the ground dry in a short time after a rain, thereby making the locality perfectly healthy. A spring of very excellent water is near by, which bountifully supplies more than 300 students. Rev. Wilbur P. Thirkield, D. D., Dean of this department, is an earnest and efficient instructor. His whole heart and soul is in the work, and his words seem divinely inspired, and full of the Holy Ghost. The very atmosphere in which he moves seems to be pure and heavenly, and no one can help but feel that in his presence he is under the care of a friend and brother, one who is ever ready to cheer and comfort. The theological class consists of twenty-six members, who are earnestly striving to fit themselves for the great, responsible work of the ministry. Several others who came to enter this call are in the college department and will not enter this class until the fall term. No one who is acquainted with the rapid progress of our Southern work can question the necessity of a well trained ministry. When we think of the 6000 young men and women in our colleges and institutions, and the hundreds that are gradnating yearly from these institutions, we see clearly that the next generation will demand a more efficient ministry than what we find in our fields to-day. In many places throughout the South our Church is at a stand because the congregations have advanced in intelligence more rapidly than the ministers. Those who are to lead God's hosts in the next generation must fully equip themselves for the work by taking a systematic course in some one of our theological seminaries.

Bennett Seminary—Greenboro, North Carolina.

E. V. THAYER.

Bennett Seminary had a very humble beginning in the unfinished basement of the church in Greenboro. Rev. E. O. Thayer, now of Clark University, took charge in December, 1875. In the fall of 1878 the school was removed to its present elegant building, erected by Lyman Bennett, of Troy, N. Y. The site is twenty acres, on one of the highest points near the town. The patronage, which was at first only local, has extended until it embraces North Carolina and parts of Virginia. In 1881 the present Principal, Rev. W. F. Steele, was elected. Under his management the school has continued to grow in excellence and influence, which is only limited by lack of room for increase of students. A new Model Home is now in process of erection which will add much to the power of the Seminary. Many of the strongest men in the North Carolina Conference have received their instruction here, and nearly all have reaped good indirectly. Bennett Seminary is located at such a distance from all other schools that it deserves special recognition from the Church.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

"Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance."

R. THOMAS SAVIN.

The fifth convention of the "Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance was held at Princeton, New Jersey, October 24, 25 and 56. The object of the Alliance is the unifying of the missionary forces as represented by the different religious denominations of the United States. Fifty years ago such an alliance would have been an impossibility, twenty years ago it might have been probable, five years ago the problem before us was unsolved, to-day the question has been settled.

In the Alliance there are represented eighteen different denominations, fifty-one theological colleges and seminaries, and nearly one thousand theological students. At the convention held at Princeton there were represented fourteen denominations, thirty-six seminaries, four hundred and thirty-eight students. These statistics prove prima facie the coming together of churches which for years have been alienated, and a genial fellowship between their representatives. On Friday morning the first session was opened with reading of the Scriptures and a season of prayer. Rev. Dr. W. M. Paxson, Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology in the Princeton Theological Seminary, next made an address of welcome to the assembled delegates. He brought the cordial greetings of the Princeton homes and churches, and with the warmth of his own heart warmed all. In the evening the Rev. Dr. George R. Crooks, Professor of Historical Theology in Drew Theological Seminary, delivered a very able and scholarly address upon the "Relations of Missions to the life of the Church." Dr. Crooks has the spirit of younger Methodism. All were captivated by the scholarly cast of the address, and convinced by its logic; while, at the same time, that strange something, called by St. John "unction," carried the great truths home and moved all to a greater consecration, a deeper sense of the needs of the world, a nobler motive for future work in the evangelization of the world.

Saturday evening Rev. Dr. Morehead, of the Xenia, Ohio, United Presbyterian Seminary, delivered a sermon of great force upon the "Manward qualification of the missionary." During these two days papers were read upon "The Pioneer Missionaries," "Our Missionary Work among the North American Indians," "Denominationalism in Missions," "Work in Central Africa," "Systematic giving in regard to Missions," and "The Outlook," which were packed full of valuable information. This was proven by the enthusiastic discussions which followed the reading of each paper. Deep impressions were made as addresses were received from returned missionaries who spoke of the trials, struggles, needs and disappointments of the missionary, and contrariwise of the triumph of the cross. The North American Indian, the Hindoo, the Japanese, the African were all represented by members of their races, and the needs and longings of that "nation that hath no country," and out of whose loins our Lord came, the Jew, were voiced by Mr. I. J. Peritz, a converted Jew, who is preparing for the work of the ministry at Drew.

Sunday was a royal day. Royal because it was a day foreshadowing the final coming of our Christ. Each heart, inspired anew would gladly have placed a diadem upon the brow crowned once with thorns. Old Princeton, that place of the Alexanders, the Hodges, of Jonathan Edwards, and the saintly Burr; the place of military fame, of literary refinement and of religious work and culture, appeared at its best. The stately college buildings of antique architecture, the plain churches, the broad streets lined on either side with heavy trees; the old graveyard, that "Westminster" of America; the old-fashioned houses with gable roofs and ivy covered sides; the "time honored wells," the solemnity of autumn, and the historic glory of the place were potent in solemnizing, subduing, inspiring. Early in the morning, in the Second Presbyterian Church, a missionary consecration meeting was held, which proved to be a season of special blessing and power. At 11 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, the Alliance assembled to hear the Rev. Arthur Mitchell, D. D., the recently elected Missionary Secretary of the Presbyterian Church. Dr. Mitchell presented the needs of the heathen world to-day, our ability to reach the heathen, the onward movement of the Church of Christ, in a manner which set on fire all hearts. All partook of the real missionary spirit, and many resolved at that time to enter the foreign work. This proves the success of the sermon—it moved and captured men. In him our Durbin, Fowler and McCabe have a companion.

Sabbath afternoon the Rev. Dr. Pattison, of Rochester (Baptist) Seminary, delivered a sermon of great beauty and grace, upon "What the life that now is owes to missions."

In the evening the capstone was set by Dr. Tucker, of Andover Seminary, as he preached a sermon upon "The Christian Measure of Consecration." The Doctor formulated personal consecration under three heads as suggested by St. Paul in his letter to the Romans, chapter 1, verses 14 16. "I am a debtor; * * * I am ready; * * * I am ashamed." No "new departures" were suggested by this Andover professor, for the whole discourse abounded with rich spiritual findings, and was accompanied with that "thrust of power" which Mr. Beecher so frequently speaks of as a necessary element in effective preaching. The sermon was followed by a consecration meeting. In this meeting every moment was at a premium, for all wanted to testify to the inspirations they had received and the resolutions they had made. After several testimonies all had an opportunity to testify to a common faith in a common Lord, as all present recited in concord the Apostles Creed. Denominational veils were dropped, and we saw "face to face." Episcopalians, Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists looked in each others eyes and caught new sight, learned more of a common brotherhood and a blessed Fatherhood. That one from the "Land of the Veda," that one from the "Dark Continent," that one from Japan, that one whose fathers tracked our trackless forests and held in trust our country, that one who came from Israel's race felt that "in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything nor uncircumcision, but faith that worketh by love;" "that there is neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, neither male nor female, neither barbarian nor Scythian, for all are one in Christ Jesus." Before the foe we stand a compact. In the presence of dark heathenism we have but "one Lord, one faith, one baptism."

The influences of the convention cannot be counted or written down. Not until the seals are broken and the book opened will the good work of the meeting be known. We leave Princeton but hold fast to the inspirations there received. "The tent removes, the vision stays."

Wendell Phillips—IX.

JAS. T. NEWMAN, OF NEW ORLEANS

Farewell, thou great apostle of freedom; thy voice will no more be heard pleading the cause of the oppressed—never be heard again demanding of the greedy capitalists, an increase of reward for the poor laborer who coins his blood into gold, to fill their coffers.

No more will thy voice be heard pleading the cause of lovely woman.

Wendell Phillips would have thrown open to woman the doors of every opportunity, of every career.

He would have them free as air in the streets which he wished to see pure enough for the presence of angels, and which, we know will only attain that purity when the angels of humanity should walk in them.

But let no one think that this heart's desire of his, involved the desertion of home and the neglect of its duties.

Wendell Phillips has gone to his reward in Heaven, he is with Garrison, Sumner and Lincoln.

He is in the company of Wilberforce and Clarkson. He has met Phocion, Aristides and Demosthenes and Sciplo, and the Roman Gracchi and Howard, John Brown and Toussaint L'Ouverture.

Listen at the tribute he pays to that illustrious Negro Chieftain, Toussaint L'Ouverture.

In 1791 St. Domingo was convulsed with a war of nations. The white race against the mulattoes and blacks, the blacks against both, and step by step he leads us down the years in which he was at once a Metternich and Washington; calmed the insurrection, created an invincible army out of the Negroes, demoralized by two centuries of slavery, hurled them like a thunderbolt against both Frenchmen and Spaniards, conquering both.

He sent the English skulking home to Jamaica, and restored to the Negro the liberty God gave him.

"Fifty years hence," says Wendell Phillips in the sublime peroration of his marvelous lecture, "when truth gets a hearing, the muse of History will put Phocion for the Greeks, and Brutus for the Roman, Hampden for England, and Lafayette for France, George Washington, that fair, consummate flower of our earlier civilization, and John Brown, as the ripe fruit of our noon day, and then dipping her pen in the sunlight, will write in the clear blue sky above them the name of the soldier, the statesman, the martyr Toussaint L'Ouverture."

He further says of this noble Haytian, the world would proudly remember him in marble, but for his unpardonable crime of wearing a black skin over a white soul.

Once more farewell thou great advocate of humanity.

May the daughters of the Christian church be requested to baptize thy natal day with prayers and consecration, and let thy name ever ascend with the holy incense which daily arises from off the Christian altar, and the mournful anthem of the once down trodden slave will ever chant thy becoming requiem.

General Church News.

Colored Presbyterians.

The following exhibits the prosperity of our colored Presbyterian brethren in the Synod of Atlanta, for 1884:

STATISTICS, APRIL 1, 1884.

Ministers	94
Licentiates	9
Teachers	108
Churches	175
Communicants	12,958
Sabbath-school Scholars	12,058
Parochial Schools	43
No. of pupils in Parochial Schools	5,915
No. of students in the Chartered and Higher Schools	575

Chartered institutions of learning: Biddle University, Charlotte, N. C., Wm. A. Holliday, President. Scotia Seminary, Concord, N. C., Luke Dorland, President. Wallingford Academy, Charleston, S. C., Rev. T. A. Grove, Principal. The Synod's organ, The Africo-American Presbyterian.

The following is the Bible distribution in Texas in February, 1885, by eleven colportenrs of the American Bible Society: Days of service, 207; miles traveled, 2,556; families visited by them, 3,009; families found without a Bible, 315; families supplied by gift or sale, 261; destitute individuals supplied in addition, 104; number of books sold, 841, value, $432.94; number of books distributed by gift, 265, value, $73.87; contributions received from churches and individuals, $8.30. Returns were received from eight auxiliary societies. To mission churches were given 100 Bibles. A new auxiliary was organized at Luling. A new colportenr, Mr. Richard Adams, was put in Farrant county. The fourth general supply is being vigorously carried on. Help is greatly needed. Contributions may be sent to A. L. Taylor, Assistant Treasurer, Bible House, New York, or to W. B. Rankin, District Superintendent, Austin, Texas.

Mrs. Rust writes Dec. 13th:—I enclose to you a list of Mothers Jewels furnished by Mrs. Guernsey, of Ithaca, New York. The W. H. M. S. at Ithaca has raised one hundred dollars to name a room in the Industrial School at Holly Springs, Miss., in memory of Mrs. H. W. Green, the wife of their former pastor, a lady much beloved by all. The children whose names I send have organized a Juvenile Society and have pieced a beautiful quilt which is to be placed in this memorial room.

Missions by the London Missionary Society were commenced in the Samoan Islands, Polynesia, in 1836. The society has now on eight of the islands, nine male and seven female missionaries, and 184 native pastors and teachers. These islands, sixteen in number, have a population of 10,000, with 2,124 church members, and 2,461 children in schools. The people, besides paying for the saleries of their teachers, either in money or produce, contributed last year £308 to the London Missionary Society.

A great number of revival meetings are reported in progress all over the Northwest.

Bishop Wilson of the Church South is in ill health, and has gone to the Hot Springs, Ark for his health.

Books and Current Literature.

Wide Awake for May gives a charming home life frontis iece by St John Harper, "The Baby in the Library," illustrating a witty poem by Edward P. Anderson. "Baby" is also celebrated in another poem, "Wasis, the Conquerer," with four full page drawings by Garrett; and in yet another, by "M. E. B.," "What do we call the Baby;" this also has a beautiful illustration. There is much other good work from C. P. Cranch, Ernest Ingersoll, Dr. Hale, Celia Thaxter and Will M. Clemens; and the Chautauqua Readings furnish fine art, temperance, historical and literary papers from Edward Everett Hale, Rose Kingsley, Prof. Palmer, Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, Mrs. Whitman, and Oscar Fay Adams. $3,00 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

I. Edgar Jones has a poem entitled "Find your Level" in The Current of May 16, which is remarkable for epigrammatic expression of the true philosophy of life. It embodies a forcible sermon in a ringing metre.

The numbers of the The Living Age for April 25th and May 2d contain, Echoes of the Eighteenth Century, Scottish Review; The Black Death in East Anglia, Nineteenth Century; On Style in Literature; its Technical Elements, Contemporary; On Pattison's Memoirs, March in Magna Græcia, and the Astrology of Shakespeare, Macmillan; Sir Henry Taylor's Antobiography, Longman's; A Soldier of Fortune, Blackwood; Mr. Gladstone's Thoughts, and Arab Courage, Spectator; Inside a Catholic College, Chambers' Journal; Some Secrets of a Silk Trade, St. James's; with instalments of "A House Divided Against Itself," "Mrs Dymond," and "The Blue Posts of Chester," and poetry. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

The World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, and the chief features of interest connected with the various apparatus, appliances and machinery to be seen there, will be found tersely and ably treated, in popular language and with many handsome illustrations, in the March 14th and 28th issues of Industrial America. These two editions are Special Exposition Numbers, the publisher having himself visited New Orleans, and personally superintended the preparation of the report. Copies may be ordered through any newsdealer at 10 cents each, or the paper will be supplied regularly by newsdealers at a cost of 10 cents every other week. The subscription is $2.00 a year, and the office No. 9 Murray St., New York.

DEATH'S PRIME MINISTER.

IMITATED FROM THE GERMAN OF PFEFFEL.

Earth's despot, of resistless might,
(Not Sultan, Czar, or Great Mogul I mean,
But Death, the eldest born of Night.)
Did, on a time, his sable court convene:
From preface short he thus proceeds—
"Our state a faithful vizier needs:
Who shows best service to us render'd,
To him the office high is tender'd.
Now let the candidates appear!"

Straight, Fever, Gout, and murd'rous War
Strove first to gain their monarch's ear,
And stalked, with conscious dignity,
Before the throne of ebony.
"I am," said each, "most faithful shown
Of all that serve around thy throne;
The earth, and, too, this land of shades
Confirm it."

Death on these his aids
Smiles graciously.
His council find
No easy task to fix their mind.

Pale Plague then rises from his seat—
"Dread King," said he, with caustic wit,
"To self I need no incense raise,
The Litany best speaks my praise."

This brought relief in time of need,
And all seemed heartily agreed
On Plague the office to bestow:—
But speaks another claimant now,
—The Doctor of the healing art,—
"That I long service, Sire, have done,
Is to thyself and council known;
And with what skill I do my part,
Let countless grave-yard trophies tell,
And thousands, here, the proof could swell."

While now the council, deep in thought,
To this new plea attended;
Another still, his claim has brought,
Which all their doubtings ended.

He long unnoticed, from the rear
Had view'd the contest with a sneer:
Now striding forth, he says—
"My Lord,
Wouldst thou the claims of worth regard,
Thou wilt to me the prize award;
For all these boasters that we see,
Are bunglers, when compared with me.
To thee, libations I am ever pouring,—
Thy festival,—I keep it night and day;
And, while each year the seasons is restoring,
My thousand hecatombs to thee I slay."

Death smiled,—then said—
"Thy worthy name, now show, sir!"
The stranger answer'd—
"Sire, the Whiskey-Seller."

APOLOGY.

To all concern'd, who are disposed to grumble
At record or result of Death's council meeting,
The writer these apologetics humble
Sets forth, with due respect, and friendly greeting.

If breath of harmless wit, like stormy pa- ocean,
Can set a Doctor's mind in wild commo- tion:—
Or, if a Doctor find himself offended,
That Doctor's suit should have no better ended,
And that the Grocer beat him in the duty
It pleases me,—and he has my earnest duty.
To whiskey-drinkers,—and ye whiskey-sellers,
Ye Grocery-idlers,—Grocery scandal-tellers,—
I've wronged you not;—then, be not quite so frisky!
And do you scorn to serve the Master's tertion?
Then to do his work—amend your errors—
Nor smell no more of whiskey.

Domestic Hygiene.

Alcohol and Its Physiological Action.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

The base of all intoxicants is alcohol. An ounce of pure alcohol poured into the stomach will, in many cases, produce death in a few minutes. In many cases a few minutes death would occur, but ten or fifteen minutes elapse. But come when death would be sudden! alcohol is a rank poison. The world calls it a stimulant, and say that one under its influence is intoxicated, meaning that such are but poisoned and the effect of the poison. In order to prepare alcohol for drinking it must be diluted with water. The different strengths of alcohol make the different kinds of alcoholic drinks. In whisky alcohol amounts to 50 per cent; in porter, to 4; in wine from 10 to 25 per cent; in brandy, gin and whisky from 50 per cent. Even more than this can be found from time to time, and in some cases as high as 75 per cent. At this point [illegible] with a physician: "The victims are poisons of other characters. The following was the result of an analysis of a specimen of whiskey of which a man drank and soon died, viz:

Alcohol	25 per cent
Fusil acid, a poison	10 "
Pierotoxim, a deadly poison	4 "
Acetic acid,—vinegar	10 "
Water	45 "

In some cases sulphuric acid is introduced to add fieryness and and sparkle. India cockle is added to beer. Tobacco has been soaked and the liquor added to give a rich color. Juniper berries are said to add to the flavor of gin, while adding to its deadliness. The word alcohol is of Arabic origin, and means "to paint." While pure it is a colorless fluid, of a pungent taste, agreeable smell, and burns with a lurid blue flame, yielding great heat without smoke. It is obtained from distilling fermented or rotting grains of different kinds. Anything that will ferment or rot can be distilled and produce alcohol. To generate alcohol it is not necessary to distill, for it is found in beer, ale, wine and cider.

Alcohol is the antagonist of every organ of the body, and impedes or wholly prevents their functions. Not an organ escapes. When used as a beverage, or in any manner taken into the system, it attacks either the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys or uriuary organs, the heart, lungs, brain, nerves or muscles, the skin, arteries, lymphatics or veins. It is not known that any part of the system escapes unless it be the bones, and I am sure it attacks even these. Of course, in the same individual, it does not attack all the organs alike, but it seems to select the weakest, the most defenseless, and corrupts it. In its attacks upon the stomach it exhausts the fluids secreted by the gastric tubules, so changing them as to destroy their power to digest. It irritates the mucous membrane of the stomach, inflaming the gastric tubules lying in this membrane, and causing this delicate membrane to slough away, leaving the muscles and blood vessels directly exposed to the action of the alcohol. Now comes ulcers of the stomach, and finally cancer. Alcohol prevents digestion, preserving the food in the stomach in much the same condition as a piece of meat or a dead snake is preserved in a bottle of alcohol and water. In attacking the liver it may produce several diseases, perhaps the most terrible is the "hobnail liver." The alcohol causes the substance of the liver to shrivel or shrink up and leave the hard capsules of glisson sticking out, giving the appearance of the bottom of an Englishman's shoe full of hob nails. Secret drinkers of gin and whisky, those who drink slily, unknown to family or friends, and attempt to kill the odor of the gin breath with cardamon seeds and the like, have the "hob-nail liver."

While alcohol attacks the kidneys it may produce any of the various forms of Bright's Disease. It may be albuminuria or the sloughing of casts or membrane of the uriniferous tubes whose office is to eliminate from the blood urea; or it may produce the waxey or lardacious kidney, or even cancer of the kidney. Most of these diseases are followed by dropsy. Few deaths are more horrible or painful than by dropsy. Should it attack the brain it soon hardens the albuminous fluid in the ventricles of the brain, and then attacks the brain substance. It attacks the heart, prodncing rapid and unnecessary action. If a heart beats normally 70 times a minute alcohol may cause it to beat 20 or 30 additional beats per minute, or 90 or 100 per minute. The addition of 20 beats is equal to making the heart lift two ton of stone one foot high in 24 hours. It attacks the whole external system, making its victim bloated, red-nosed, pimply-faced, bleareyed, shaking, trembling, slobbering, jabbering, idiotic and staggering. Alcohol attacks the lungs and produces the "alcoholic consumptive," graphically described by Dr. Richardson. He gathered his facts from the careful study of cases in a hospital when he was a physician: "The victims are in middle life of great endurance and often models of organic symmetry and form." "The countenance of the alcoholic consnmptive differs as much from the ordinary consnmptive as it does from the confirmed sot." "I remember being actually taken aback on finding, in a man who seemed from his face in perfect health, a complete destruction of the lungs." Alcoholic consnmption is snre death.

The post mortem of 70 cases dead from "the excessive use of ardent spirits revealed the following:

1. Congestion of the scalp and of the membrane of the brain, with much serous (watery) effusion. The snbstance of the brain white and firm, as if it had lain in alcohol for one or two hours.

2. The lungs not always bnt frequently congested or inflamed.

3. The heart flabby, enlarged, dilated, and loaded with fat outside; the blood in it of a cherry-red color, and with no tendency to coagulate.

4. The stomach perfectly white, and thickened in some cases, in others having patches of chronic inflammation. In the worst cases a large portion of the stomach covered with that species of inflammation which causes the blood to be poured from the minute veins.

5. The liver enlarged—in old drunkards weighing from six to twelve pounds.

6. The omentum—a sort of apron which immediately covers the abdomen in front—loaded with a gray, slushy fat.

7. The kidneys enlarged, flabby, and infiltrated in numerous spots with whitish matter.

8. The small intestines filled with bile, and coated with a tenacious mucus.

9. The blood in a very fluid condition, having but little fibrine, but much albumen and fat.

10. The whole body, except the brain decomposing very rapidly."

An Oracular Observation.

A delegation of colored men from Virginia called upon the President to present a petition asking him to appoint to positions in their State men who would not use their offices for political purposes. The President received them cordially, and in reply to their representations said:

"I have listened with much interest to the words in which you have addressed me, and am glad to learn that you are determined to claim only the rights and privileges of citizens by a proper performance of your duties as such citizens. It has been said that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. I desire to remind you of this, and to say that the vigilance to which I refer is based upon the intelligence and thoughtful consideration which induce you to see and apprehend the things that pertain to your interests as citizens, and to gain a knowledge of these things in your own way, and without being blindly led or cunningly deceived. And when this is fully accomplished the day will come which I for one, will be glad to see, when something better than race or color will divide the political action of those who are citizens of the United States."

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.

By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.

Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY
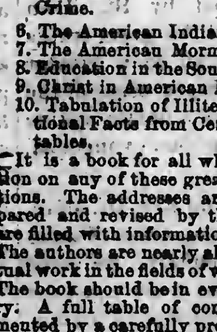
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
nov20-1y

OH! MY BACK
Every strain or cold attacks that weak back and nearly prostrates you.
BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.
QUALITY—P—PURITY—NOT QUANTITY.
On Every Bottle.
Trade Mark
THE BEST TONIC
Strengthens the Muscles,
Steadies the Nerves,
Enriches the Blood, Gives New Vigor.
DR. J. L. MYERS, Fairfield, Iowa, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is the best Iron medicine I have known in my 20 years' practice. I have found it specially beneficial in nervous or physical exhaustion, and in all debilitating ailments that bear so heavily on the system. Use it freely in my own family."
Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.
A Lasting Hand Book—useful and attractive, containing list of prizes for recipes, information about coins, etc., given away by all dealers in medicine, or mailed to any address on receipt of 2c. stamp.

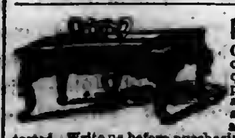
OUR CLUBBING LIST,
—1885—
Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75



PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.
Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.
Sixty Addresses by American Educators.
Edited by Rev. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.
8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1.25
Cloth..... 1.75
The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:
1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.



It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.
Sent postpaid on receipt of price.
Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.
292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

THE NEW CORSET.

THE TRICORA RELIEF
Having elastic side sections, adapts itself to the various positions of the body in stooping, sitting & reclining. It affords great relief and comfort to the many who find ordinary Corsets oppressive. The "TRICORA" stays used for boning are unequaled for durability & comfortable support, & are absolutely unbreakable.
Price $1.00
Ask for it
The most Durable, Comfortable, and Healthful Corset ever sold for its price.
Every pair warranted to give satisfaction or money returned.
J. G. FITZPATRICK & CO., Mfrs.,
71 Leonard Street, NEW YORK.
Please mention this paper in ordering.
apr23-4teow

Pianos & Organs
Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till Instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address
JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.
—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.
Schedule in effect October 12, 1884

EASTWARD.	No. 4. Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 35 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	8 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

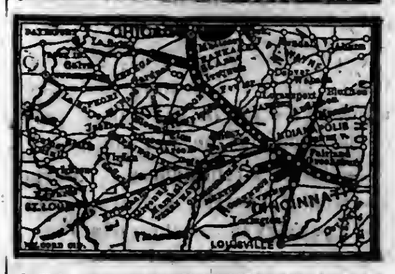
WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 40 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 21 p m	12 45 n m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 24 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.
Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.
Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.
Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.
No. 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.
No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m, Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m
Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.
For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of O. & O. R'y, or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.
C. W. SMITH Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R
—The Direct and Fast Line to—
Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, New York and the East,
In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS. Leave	Daily
New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.
Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.
The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.
2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.
This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.
The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.
The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.
W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf



Louisville and Nashville Railroad.
The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. O. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.
W. R. Knaken, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division.
a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.
3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.
2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.
Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.
Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria, Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.
The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS
At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.
At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,
Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav. Pass. g't., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
J Great Jackson Route.
Illinois Central R. R. Co.
Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..6:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m.
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3. 9:00 a.m.
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m.	Express No. 5. 8:05 p.m.

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.
Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)
WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.
J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O
The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.
C. O. & S. W. R. R.
THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.
Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.
For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 23 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?
If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,
J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.
Or, H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Stamps. Send for samples. TAYLOR BROS., Cleveland ap30-13t

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Persons will please send their requests published below from time to time, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my daughter; her name is Mary Elizabeth Catherine. I left her in Upson county, Georgia, 7 miles east of Thomaston, and two miles from the Upson camp grounds. Her mother's name was Ellen Holaway; she had a baby, when I left, about three weeks old, but Mary Elizabeth Catharine was one year and three months old. This was about 56 years ago. I heard that they had moved to eastern Texas. Her and the babies, if living, are going by the name of Catherine Flewellen. My name was Anthony Flewellen, and I married her mother, whose name was Ellen Holloway. I belonged to Dr. Ed. Flewellen. I was then called "Anthony Flewellen, the blacksmith." Address any information to Anthony Flewellen, Brenham, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my son, whose name is Samuel Allen. I received a letter from him in January, 1884; he was then in Shawnetown, Ills. My name is George Green, instead of George Dobins. Thomas and Amanda, my son and daughter, are here with me. They lived near Lewisburg, Tenn. Address George Green, Troy, Ohio.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my father, mother and brother. My parents were named Fannie and Simon Toda, and brother was named Heddrick Toda. I left them in Thomasville, Ga. They belonged to a company by the name of Toda, Baley & McLennan. I have another brother and sister whose names are Mat and Suckey. They are living here. Address any information to Dick Bartett, Marlin, Tex.

Springfield, Ohio, April 2, 1885. Samuel Jackson's mother was named Rachel and was owned by the Webb family of Fayette county, Ky. She had a sister named Phyllis, and went with her to Mexico a long while before the war. She returned to Lexington, Ky., once, and afterwards left with a woman, named Cordelia Plummer, for New Orleans. She left three children, Samuel, Eliza and George, and took two, William and Lucy, to Mexico. She also left two sisters in Kentucky: Winnie, who married Louis Cleggett, and Hannah, married Jos. Small. Any information that may be obtained of the above Rachel Jackson will be thankfully received by Samuel Jackson, Springfield, Ohio.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my son, Sandford Terrell. The last time I heard from him was in 1883, at which time he was in New Orleans, and I was in Arkansas, but now I am in Mississippi, ten miles west of Grenada. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received. Ministers will please read this from their pulpits. My name is Dock Terrell. Address me at Grenada, Miss., in care of Rev. A. D. Payne.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my brother. His name is William Brown; his mother's name is Mary Brown; and father's name is Charles Brown; brothers, George, Eugene and Stadrick Brown; sisters, Lucy and Susan Brown. We all belonged to Andrew Crew, of Richmond, Va., but Andrew Crew sold brother William to Chiny Carter, and he sold him down South. I am his younger brother. Mother had one child after he was sold, Isaiah Brown. Pastors will please read this letter to their congregations. His brother George Brown is on Third street, Richmond, Va. His brother Isaiah Brown is on Pandido street, New Orleans, La. A friend told his brothers that William was in Key West, Fla. 2t

The famous, rapture and [illegible] cured by improved [illegible] Medical Association, [illegible]

The Discomfort of being a Prince.

I can not suppose that any rational being would envy princes when they are travelling officially. the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh left London last Wednesday night for Berlin, and, having traveled without stopping, they arrived there after a journey of twenty seven hours. When the Princes left Charing Cross they were dressed comfortably in shooting suits; but next morning they were obliged to change their costumes in the railway carriage, for the rigor of etiquette would have been outraged if they had not been arrayed in Prussian uniforms on arriving at Cologne. After a long night journey it must be a right pleasant thing to have to travel all day buckled up in a stiff uniform.

This, however was not the end of the botherations exacted by German usage. A uniform which is quite correct for the Rhine provinces is by no means the right thing for Berlin; so in the evening, after passing Magdeburg, it was necessary for the Princes again to change their attire; and when they arrived at the capital the Prince of Wales wore the uniform of the Blucher Hussars, of which he is nominally Colonel, and the Duke of Edinburgh that of the Thuringian Regiment.

Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute.

This widely celebrated institution, located at Buffalo, N. Y., is organized with a full staff of eighteen experienced and skilful Physicians and Surgeons, constituting the most complete organization of medical and surgical skill in America, for the treatment of all chronic diseases, whether requiring medical or surgical means for their cure. Marvelous success has been achieved in the cure of all nasal throat and lung diseases, liver and kidney diseases, diseases of the digestive organs, bladder diseases, diseases peculiar to women, blood taints and skin diseases, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous debility, paralysis, epilepsy (fits), spermatorrhea, impotency and kindred affections. Thousands are cured at their homes through correspondence. The cure of the worst ruptures, piles tumors, varicocele, hydrocele and strictures is guaranteed, with only a short residence at the institution. Send 10 cents in stamps for the Invalids' Guide-Book (168 pages), which gives all particulars. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, New York.

What an appetite it gives; how restful it makes my sleep, by using Hunt's Remedy

An Offer Never Equaled!

THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The TIMES DEMOCRAT,
NEW ORLEANS,
—AND—
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The NEW YORK WORLD,
NEW YORK,
FOR ONE YEAR
Only $2.20.
OR THE TWO WEEKLIES
—AND A—
Waterbury Watch and Chain
FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a

First-class Family Newspaper.

The subscription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the

NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKEL-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez Street.

LABARRE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7:30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Audrew and Franklin streets; Rev J. J. Kienle pastor Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street; Rev Charles Schuler, pastor. Services Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Varnet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday-school at 1:30. M. C. Barrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 3 p. m. 7½ p. m. Sunday school at 1 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Dunova, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev Marcus Pale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a m; prayer meeting, preaching 11 a m; 8 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve, 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lyon, pastor. Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening.

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Plum street. Rev. M. C. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m, 3 and 7 p. m, Sunday. Sunday-school, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m, and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F Hoyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. J. G. Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening. General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

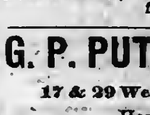
MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W. Hudson, pastor. Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Foot street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7. Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

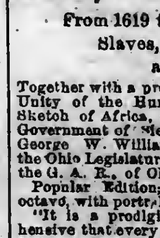
AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9:45 a. m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7:30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, between Johnson and Pilcar streets, Rev. W.P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m: class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Love feast quarterly.

General Church Directory.



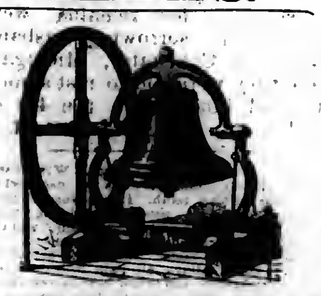
CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Gasquet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m. Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.



A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine, feb19-26t

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS,
17 & 29 West 2d St., New York.
Have now ready
The History of the Negro Race in America.
From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens,
Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Government of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R., of Ohio.
Popular Edition; two volumes in one, large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.
"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it.—World, New York.
"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.
"He has accomplished a noble service for his race"—Zion's Herald, Boston.
☞ This book can be ordered through the office of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, New Orleans, La.

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y



PAYSON'S INDELIBLE INK.
No preparation and only a common pen needed. Established 50 Years. Superior and popular for decorative work on linen. Received Centennial Medal & Diploma. Sold everywhere. jan29-26t-eow

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success
J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL. jan22 26t

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER." FOR PRESERVING, RESTORING AND Beautifying the Complexion FOR REMOVING SUNBURN, TAN, FRECKLES, PIMPLES, SALLOWNESS, BLOTCHES, &c. OPINION OF NOTED LADIES. LOTTA.—It is the best preparation for the face that I ever used. I now use no other. CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.—It gives me pleasure to add my name to the list of those who recommend your "Liquid Pearl," and express the satisfaction it afforded me. The LIQUID PEARL has been received by the ladies of all countries with the highest marks of appreciation. Only 50 cents a bottle, sold by all Druggists & Perfumers. CHAMPLIN & Co., Props., BUFFALO, N. Y. oct28-2

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

Bells For Churches, Schools, Etc.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
24 inches	165 lbs	300 lbs	$35 00
26 "	200 lbs	350 lbs	45 00
28 "	325 lbs	375 lbs	55 00
32 "	375 lbs	550 lbs	80 00
36 "	595 lbs	750 lbs	100 00
40 "	800 lbs	1100 lbs	145 00
44 "	1060 lbs	1400 lbs	180 00
48 "	1335 lbs	1800 lbs	230 00
54 "	2050 lbs	2600 lbs	350 00

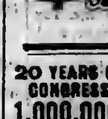
Bells for Schools, Farms, Etc.
without mountings.

18 inches	75 lbs	$13 00
20 inches	100 lbs	18 00
24 inches	165 lbs	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.



PHILLIPS & HUNT,
Etf 30 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.
mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY.
The Finest Grade of Church Bells
Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.
Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.
Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,
TROY, N. Y.
nov29-1yr

McShane Bell Foundry

Manufacture these celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address
HENRY McSHANE & CO.
oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO
SUCCESSORS IN BELLS TO THE
ARMSTRONG MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 3000 TESTIMONIALS
BELLS FOR CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE ALARM
July2-26t-eow

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE
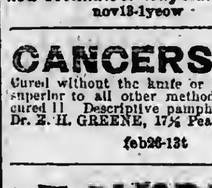
1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $1200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once. The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn. dec30-52t



OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free. B.M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga. apr2-52t

CATARRH
{Send 50 cts. and symptoms for Trial Treatment, to last 20 days, by mail post-paid.}
Which will convince the most incredulous that Dr. Brockington positively and permanently cures at small expense, by a pleasant treatment, the worst cases of Catarrh, though the bones of the nose have become affected, causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption. No Snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Over 7000 cases cured. The best internal treatment ever discovered for this dangerous disease. Address Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, [Mention this paper.] 625 FOURTH AVENUE, LOUISVILLE, KY.
oct2-1yr

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment," "Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1yeow

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS
Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured!! Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. Z. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.
feb26-13t

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION
Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884
In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.
The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!
Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings:
One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.
90 Acres of Space Under Cover!
Low Transportation Rates from all Points.
Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.
During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.
Full information promptly furnished. Address,
E. A. BURKE, Director General,
New Orleans, La.

BARNES'
Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business, Lathes for Wood or Metal, Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenoners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.
No. 187 W. F. & JOHN BARNES, Ruby St. Rockford, Ill.

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN, Jefferson, Wis. mar6-52t

PHILLIP SAAL,
Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.
503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.) New Orleans, La.
jan1-1y

Crescent Insurance Company.
Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.
CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.
Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.
W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolson, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Secty.
TRUSTEES

Joseph Bowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W. Sentell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Conger
W. R. Lyman,	D. Morlenoi,	Chas. H. Dolson,	Julius Meyer,	A. R. Steward
S. C. Conlon	Jerry L. Flash,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucien Lockey	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Grille
R. F. W. Rasmus,	C. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Schofield,	John D. Fisher
Chas E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn.	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd.

☞ See our Agents throughout the South. oct9 1y

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.
The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.
Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.
Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cramp Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send two cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," the Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia. wonder of boys and amusement of the little ones.
apr13-1y

NOW, NOW, NOW IS THE TIME!
SPRING TIME!
PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.
DR. J. H. McLEAN'S
Strengthening Cordial
AND
BLOOD PURIFIER
Is the greatest Blood Purifier in the world.
TRY IT, AND YOU WILL USE IT EVERY SEASON.

It acts as delightfully on the tender Babe, the most delicate Lady and infirm old age, as on the strong man, in imparting Health and Vigor to Nerves and Brain, Blood Vessels, Heart and Liver. When taken, you can feel its life-giving power course through every artery, destroying all diseases of the Blood, and giving Health, Vital Power and Strength to every part of the body. Who will suffer from Liver Complaint or Diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, or Bladder, when such a great Remedy is within their reach?

IT WILL CURE:

Sleeplessness,	Falling of the Womb,	Diarrhœa or Bloody Flux,
Night Sweats,	Bad Blood,	Lung and Liver Diseases,
Sallow Complexion,	Biliousness,	Kidney Troubles,
Hot Flushes, Fainting Spells,	Pimples,	Weak Back,
Nervousness,	Loss of Memory,	Neuralgia,
Failing Eyesight caused by	Feverish Skin,	Pains in Bones,
Weakness,	Sluggish Circulation,	Sick Stomach,
Dyspepsia,	Cold Feet and Hands,	Depression, Blues,
Hectic Flushes,	Rheumatism,	Dyspepsia,
Scalding Hot Urine,	Peevishness,	Female Weakness,
Brick Dust Deposit,	Obstinate Constipation,	Pimples, Sores and Blotches on the Face and Skin.
Frothy Urine,	Heart Troubles,	Colic Pains.
Uterine Weakness,	Bladder Fever,

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6th, 1885.
DR. J. H. MCLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.
DEAR SIR:—Having been troubled with Female Complaint for some time, by the advice of a St. Louis lady, I tried Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and am happy to say that it has cured me completely, and I am as well now as ever. I consider it the best medicine for that purpose in the world.
MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKS.
G. W. Nowlin, Greenfield, Tenn., writes:—Send me another supply of Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It gives universal satisfaction and is almost as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.
Leroy, Minn., March 5th, 1885.
DR. J. H. MCLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.
Dear Sir:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic diarrhœa and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been as well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.
Yours truly. HAST. MERCHELL.
Mingsville, Mo., Jan. 4th, 1885.
DR. J. H. MCLEAN, St. Louis Mo.
DEAR SIR:—I look upon your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier as the finest medicine in the market. I use it in my family and all my customers speak of it in the highest terms. I would not be without it in the house if it cost ten dollars a bottle.
Yours truly, JOSEPH W. MINGS.
John O. K. White, San Angelo, Texas, says:—Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a most rapid selling medicine we have here. It is used by all classes with the happiest result.
Dr. Fonda, of Jefferson, Cook County, Ills., writes:—I have used Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier in my practice for years without a single instance of its failure. For Female Complaints I consider it unequalled, being rapid and certain in its action.
From Mess. R. W. Mackie & Son, Yadkinville, N. Carolina:—Your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is in great demand. It gives universal satisfaction and is almost as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.
Leroy, Minn., March 5th, 1885.
DR. J. H. MCLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.
Dear Sir:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic diarrhœa and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been as well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.
Yours truly. HAST. MERCHELL.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a Never-Failing Remedy, and Can Be Relied on.
● $1.00 PER BOTTLE. ● SIX BOTTLES, $5.00.
Dr. J. H. McLEAN, S. E. Corner Broadway and Biddle Street, St. Louis, Mo.
jan1-6m

Newspaper Advertising Agents.
Edwin Alden & Bro.,
N. W. Cor. 5th & Vine Sts., CINCINNATI. 140 Nassau Street, NEW YORK.

Our Lists.
We have, for the convenience of advertisers, made up our Religious Lists containing the names of all the leading denominational papers with prices. Our Geographical Lists containing the names of all the leading City Weeklies and Dailies, arranged by States with publishers' prices. Our Local Lists of 1,500 County and City Weeklies and Dailies, arranged by States with prices. Our Professional Lists comprise the best papers devoted to the various professions. These Lists are mailed free on application.

Estimates.
We will furnish to any reputable advertiser who will apply, an estimate showing exact cost of any proposed line of advertising, and when desired, will make up lists and write advertisements, provided the amount decided to be expended is named. We have had a wide experience, and can suggest lines of papers best adapted to the wants of an advertiser.

Printing Office.
We keep constantly supplied with the newest styles of type best adapted to the display of advertisements. Send us your copy and we will return with estimate a proof from type without extra charge.

Our System.
Our organization for correctly following an advertisement in the newspapers is perfect, and our patrons can be assured that correct work from every publisher will be exacted.

Payment.
To any advertiser entitled to credit, or any one who can furnish us proper references, we will extend any reasonable line of credit. Publishers pay us a commission for all the business we send them, and any advertiser can be assured of obtaining through us lower prices than can be obtained from publishers direct. In no instance do we charge advertisers any addition to publishers' rates.

Newspapers.
We receive and keep on file over 13,000 Newspapers published in every State and Province in America. Over 1000 Daily papers arrive every morning. Each paper is examined by careful clerks and the insertions entered in record books. Under our system an advertiser is sure to receive the full value for his money.

Catalogue.
We publish the "American Newspaper Catalogue," a volume of 900 pages elegantly bound in cloth, and containing a complete list of the publications of every character in the United States and Canada. On one line we give place of publication, name of paper, class or denomination, age and circulation. If it is catalogued 14,000 periodicals. Sent free on receipt of $1.50.

Advertisement.
We can secure the prompt insertion of any advertisement in any publication at the lowest attainable prices. We keep constantly invested over $200,000 in space" in the best lines of newspapers. Our special lists of papers will be found especially useful in making up lists for pushing any special lines.

AN ADVERTISING AGENCY.

Established 1857.
The GREAT CHURCH LIGHT
FRINK'S Patent Reflectors for Gas or Oil, give the most powerful, softest cheapest & Best light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Banks, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A Liberal discount to churches and the trade. Don't be deceived by cheap imitations.
I. P. FRINK, 551 Pearl St. N. Y.
aug28-20t eow

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress.
1861—1881,
by James G. Blaine.
Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole."
Agents make from $2000 to $1000 per month. Address, The Henry Bill Pub. Co. Norwich, Conn.
apr9-tf

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co. 106 Wall Street, N. Y.

Sunday-School and Children.

SECOND QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES. Lesson VIII. A. D. 63. May 24. The Faithful Saying; 1 Tim. 1 15-20, and 1 Tim. 2, 1-6. Golden Text, Tim. 1, 15.

HOME READINGS.

M—The faithful saying; 1 Tim. 1, 15 20; 2, 1-6.

Tu—The Mission of Christ, Matt. 9, 1-13.

W—The office of Christ, John 3, 1-17.

Th—Mercy in salvation; Titus 3, 1-8.

F—Justification through belief; Acts 13, 38 52.

S—The Christian warfare; 1 Tim. 6, 1-16.

S—The ransom for all; Isa, 53, 1-12.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

1. A Faithful Saying, v. 15, 16.
What saying does the Apostle quote?
How does he characterize the saying?
What does he say of himself?
What did the conversion of Paul reveal?
For what was Paul thus fitted?

2. A Solemn Charge. v. 17-20.
How does Paul express his adoration?
What charge did Paul give Timothy?
To what must he hold fast?
Who had made shipwreck of faith?
What had Paul done to them?

3. An Earnest Exhortation, v. 1-6.
For whom should prayer be made?
What result would likely follow?
What does God desire for all men?
Who is the mediator between God and men?
For whom did he give himself a ransom?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

Where does this lesson teach—
1. Paul's faith and humility?
2. The danger of unbelief?
3. The duty of prayer for others?

Doctrinal Suggestion—The mediation of Christ.

Extract from Programme For Children's Day June 14, 1885.

1—Hosts of the Children of the Church.

Sunday-school.—Is it not a high honor to be permitted to be co-laborers with God in doing good and saving souls.

Soldier.—No earthly honor can be compared to it, since such honor comes from God himself.

3. S.—May children be co-workers with God?

Teacher.—Youth is the time to serve the Lord to insure his great reward."

4. S.—What must we do to inherit eternal life?

Pastor.—Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you shall be saved.

5. S.—What then can we do to show our love to Christ?

Soldier.—Enlist in the army of the Lord, under the great Captain of our salvation.

6. S.—But what will that imply?

Pastor.—That you join his Church and follow examples of the best.

7. S.—In what way may Christians work for God and humanity?

Teacher.—Set a good example: pray for the army; by being witnesses for the truth; by doing good to all witin their reach; by studying to acquire sacred knowledge.

S. S.—At what period of life should all this begin?

L.—In infancy itself. Very little children are the joy and hope of the Church. Of such is the kingdom of heaven.

Marriages.

Mr. Arthur Morris and Miss Ebbie Forceman were married in Hahnville, St. Charles parish, La., Wednesday, March 25, 1885. Mr. Morris is a local preacher at this place. Miss Forceman was formerly of Shreveport, La., but is now a member of the Church here.

Obituary.

Miss Mollie Tabor, daughter of Jerry and Sicily Tabor, departed this life, in Hardinsburg, Ky., April 15, 1885. She died as she had lived a bright and faithful Christian.

Mrs. Martha Fisher died, in Cloverport, Ky., April, 1885. Sister Fisher was one of the original members of the Church at Cloverport, and was a good Christian lady.

Miss Lily Fisher, daughter of Sister Martha Fisher, was accidentally drowned a few days after the death of her mother. She professed faith in Christ two years ago under the pastorate of Rev. C. T. Jones. She was a bright young Christian. They leave a father and six little children to mourn their loss.

A. BOOKER.

Mrs. Sarah C. Daugherty.

Touched with tenderest sentiments of sympathy for Bro. Daugherty in his almost insupportable bereavement in the loss of his most estimable companion, now deceased, we are nevertheless happy to reproduce this sketch of her Christian efforts and final triumph, as a slight testimonial of her fortitude, and as an inspiration to us who remain. Bro. Daugherty is widely known and revered in the Church, and his wide circle of friends now sympathize with and pray for him:

Sarah C., wife of Rev. M. A. Daugherty of the Austin Conference, was born in Keesville, N. Y., Feb. 29, 1829, and died in Austin, Tex., Feb. 26, 1885, at the age of 56 years.

She was the daughter of Rev. E. Orane, of Ohio, who in her early life, moved to Michigan, and was at one time presiding elder of Detroit district.

Mrs. Daugherty was educated at Albion college, and, while attending college, became acquainted with Rev. M. A. Daugherty, to whom she was married Nov. 14, 1848. She was the mother of four children, three of whom preceded her to the land of light and glory. A husband and son are left to mourn her death.

Mrs. Daugherty was a woman of beautiful christian spirit, culture and refinement. Her natural endowments were of a high order. She was bright and witty, and these, coupled with cheerfulness, made her attractive in any social circle. She was a woman of strong faith, and her life was one of consecration to the pure and good. Therefore her character was radiant with the christian graces, and her influence and life was a great help to her husband in the work of the pastorate. All that came in contact with her felt the charm and power of her pure life. Nine years of her busy and useful life were spent in Texas, during her husband's pastorate at Denison, San Antonio and Austin. During a weary and painful illness of seven months, she bore all patiently and never failed to be grateful for every attention, and so rendered her sick room radiant with the beautiful graces of a Christian spirit.

Among her last utterances—written when she could no longer speak—were the following: "Jesus not only can, but does, make a dying bed soft as downy pillows are." "My good-night to earth will be my good-morning to all the bliss of the saved." "Most unworthy, but washed in the all-cleansing blood." In less than an hour before she breathed her last, she wrote: "Do not think my Savior has failed to keep His promise with me. I cannot talk much with you now, but it is all bright beyond the river, and I do not fear the passage." "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." These are farewell messages of a precious sufferer sweeping through the gates of pearl.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Falkinburg, of San Antonio, Texas, who paid a touching and glowing tribute to the worth of the deceased. Several of the city clergymen of Austin were present, as well a large congregation, to show their regard for the memory of the dead. After the services, her remains were taken by the sorrowing husband and son, to Coldwater, Michigan, where they were laid to rest among her dead kindred, on the 4th of March. A. A. JOHNLON.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; It produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. July 17-1y.

Conference Notices.

Notice.

The Palestine District Conference, of the Texas Annual Conference, will convene at Palestine, on July 8, 1885. The following is the programme:

To preach the opening sermon—R. Williams.
To preach the missionary sermon—Samuel Johnson.
Preaching demanded for the times—Wm. Allen.
Duty of local preachers—R. K. Whiting.
Centenaial Sermon—Tenola Edwards.
Best mode of conducting Sunday-schools—C. C. Minnegan.

G. W. SMITH,
WM. ALLEN,
C. C. MINNEGAN,
Committee on Programme.

Van Buren District.

Second Round.

Fayetteville station and cit...	June	20-21
Russellville	"	24-25
Morrillton	"	27-28
Conway	June 30, July	1
Batesville	"	4- 5
Jacksonport	"	11-12
Argenta	"	15-16
Little Rock	"	18-19
Sweet Home	"	25-26
Alma	Aug.	1- 2
Fort Smith	"	8- 9
Van Buren	"	15-16

Brethren, the district conference will convene at Newport, July 10, at 7 o'clock a. m. Every member is expected to be in attendance. I think you will be nicely cared for. This is a place where we can do great good. W. R. R. DUNCAN, P. E.
Sweet Home, Ark.

Notice.

To the District Managers of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Louisiana Conference:

Dear Sisters—Will those of you who have not sent in your reports to me for the past quarter please do so at once and oblige,

Yours in the work,
JOSEPHINE COWGILL,
Corresponding Secretary.
1428 St. Charles ave, New Orleans, La.

Murfreesboro District—Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Lebanon station	May	1- 3
North Lebanon ct	"	2- 3
Alexandria ct	"	9-10
Caney Fork	"	16-17
Martin's Creek	"	23-24
Liberty	"	30-31
Cookeville	June	6- 7
Sparta	"	13-14
McMinnville sta	"	19 21
McMinnville ct	"	20-21
Manchester ct., W. C. Miller..	"	27-28
Shelbyville station	"	27-28
Leesburg	"	30
Tullahoma	July	4- 5
Petersburg	"	11-12
Spencer and Eagleville	"	18-19
Murfreesboro ct, at night	"	18-19
Murfreesboro station	"	23-26
Stone River	"	25-26
Woodbury, by T. E. Woods...	"	25-26

C. H. BULLINGTON, P. E.

Huntsville District—Texas Conference.

Third Round.

Montgomery	June	6- 7
Willis circuit	"	13-14
Danville	"	20-21
Huntsville station	"	27-28
Huntsville circuit	July	4- 5
Walker	"	11-12
Lovelady	"	18-19
Groveton	"	20 21
Livingston	"	25-26
Swartout	"	27
Cold Springs	"	28
Liberty	Aug.	1- 2
Wallisville	"	8- 9
Beaumont	"	15 16
Town Bluff	"	18
Bevelport	"	19
Orange	"	22-23
Harden	"	24-25

EDWARD LEE, P. E.

Gulf District—Mississippi Conference.

Rev. J. M. Reid, D. D.—I hereby approve the proposition for a million dollars to be raised this year. I will do all I can to raise the apportionment on my district. I have already aroused the charges of the District I have visited to do all they can for Missions. Truly your Bro. in Christ,

W. McDONALD,
P. E. Gulf District, Miss.
Brookhaven, Miss., May 1, 1885.

LaTeche District—Louisiana Conference.

Second Round.

Eola	June	6- 7
Cheneyville	"	7- 8
Rigolet	"	10
Avoca	"	11
Alexandria	"	13-14
Pineville	"	14
LeCompte	"	15-16
Spring Creek	"	17
Stewart Chapel	"	18
Bunkie	June	19-20-21
Booneville	June	21-22
Cotton Port	"	23
Birdlong Point	"	24
Waxia	"	26
Washington	"	27-28
Opelousas	"	28
Belleview	"	29-30
Ville Platte	July	1- 2
Lafayette and Scott	"	3- 4
New Iberia	"	5- 6
St. Martinsville	"	5- 6
Cade	"	7- 8
Hubertville	"	9-10
Jeanerette and St. Peter	"	11-12
Glencoe and Cote Blanche	"	12-13-15
Sorrell	"	15-16

A. E. P. ALBERT, P. E.
1935 St. Charles st., New Orleans.

Chattanooga District—East Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Kingston	May	9-10
Robertsville	"	16-17
Ebenezer	"	23-24
Sweetwater....by P P Brooks,	"	23-24
Soddy	"	30-31
Chattanooga station	June	6 7
Washington	"	13-14
Jasper	"	20-21
Riceville	"	27 28
Cleveland	July	4- 5
Chattanooga et	"	11-12
Georgetown	"	18-19
Big Spring	"	25 26

E. PROVINE, P. E.
Chattanooga, Tenn., May 1, 1885.

Houston District—Texas Conference.

Third Round.

Hockley	May	30-31
Trinity, Houston	June	5- 7
St. James, Houston	"	7- 8
St. Paul's, Galveston	"	13-14
Tabernacle, Galveston	"	14-15
Mt. Vernon, Houston	"	19 21
Sloan Street, Houston	"	21 22
Harrisburg	"	27 28
Richmond	July	4 5
Sprieg	"	11-12
Columbia	"	18-19
Brazoria	"	25-26
Pittsville	"	1- 2

F. C. MOORE, P. E.

Greenwood District, Mississippi Conference.

Second Round.

Lodi	May	16 17
Vaiden	"	23-24
Durant	"	23 25
Lexington	"	30-31
Goodman	June	6- 7
Pickens	"	9
Carthage	"	13-14
Koscinsko	"	16
Louisville	"	20-21
French Camp	"	24
Benton	July	4- 5
Yazoo City	"	11-12
Yazoo City circuit	"	4- 5
Green Hill	"	18-19
Rosencath	"	25-26
Robuck	Aug.	1- 2
Greenwood	"	8- 9

I hereby notify my brethren, and especially those who may not be acquainted with my manner of proceeding, that on visiting their respective charges, I shall fully co-operate with them in advancing the temporal and spiritual interests of the Church. H. R. REVELS, P. E.

The council of the A. M. E. Sunday school which was in session at New Castle Ind., on Thursday and Friday of last week, was presided over by Elder Jason Bundy. On motion Mrs. A. L. Mason was elected vice president; W. H. Stokes, secretary; Miss Sallie Pickle, assistant secretary, and Miss Emma Brown, treasurer. The council discussed many matters of interest to Sunday-school workers and the sessions were made seasons of profit to all concerned. Miss Sallie Pickle of New Castle, and W. H. Stokes of Muncie, were elected delegates to the annual convention of the A. M. E. Sunday School Council. The concert on Thursday evening was praised by those who attended.

A hailstorm at Corsicana, Texas, a week or two ago dropped hailstones that are declared to have weighed nearly twelve ounces, and wild geese and small birds were showered around town promiscuously. A local paper thinks that, "in competition with other States," Texas could do even better than this America Ahead.—Peculiar Characteristics of Americans—The Evils and How Restored.

In this age of bustle and hurry, an age devoted to great projects and enterprises, the American people are taking the lead in the furtherance of noble works, and in the advancement of the sciences and arts. In these they deserve to take a high rank, and through the united works of millions, the American continent is fast being transformed from its untamed state and being placed on an equality with the older continents beyond the ocean. The American people are fast, under these influences developing into a nervous, energetic race, remarkable for its vim and business qualifications; yet there is danger that in the course of years these very elements may combine to the ruination of the physical character of the people, and leave them feeble and altogether different from their forefathers. General debility is now much more common than formerly, and seems to be on the increase among the masses. Many remedies have been extensively advertised for this wide-spread complaint, but none of these have been so successful or met with such general favor as the remedy manufactured by Dr. S. B. Hartman, and named by him PERUNA.

Mr. S. S. Goudy, of Massillon, Stark county, Ohio, writes: That he has been troubled with general debility and dyspepsia for several years; that he was induced to try PERUNA for his complaints, and that after using three bottles of the medicine he was greatly relieved. It braced him right up and gave him energy, and restored him to his youthful vigor. He ascribes his cure to PERUNA, and says it is a wonderful remedy.

Adolph Bakhaus & Co., Springfield, O., writes: "We are having a good sale for PERUNA. It sells as well as any medicine we have, and gives the very best satisfaction."

Mrs. G. W. Needham, Newtonville, Clermont County, Ohio, says: "I have been a great sufferer for the last six or seven years, with general debility and change of life. I was very much reduced. I have taken four bottles of PERUNA, which has restored me to perfect health and strength. We think PERUNA a safe and grand medicine."

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE, May 16, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8 15-16; Middling 10 7-16; Good Middling, 10 11-16; Middling fair, 11.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5⅞; White clarified, 5¼@5⅞; Common 4¼@5c.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4¼@4¾ fair, 5¼@5¾; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 7¼; prime, 9¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4@8.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 5.40; Choice, 5.15; Family, $5@——.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7¼.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 82½c.; Fine, 10½c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $2 95@4.00; sweet potatoes, $2.25@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $2.25@2.75; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.00@$4.00; cabbages, $3.50@$3.75 per crate; sour kront, $4.50@7 50 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $12.12½.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 4½@4¾; sides, short rib, 6½; sides, long clear, 6¾; hams, sugar-cured, 9½@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6; clear sides, 6; shoulders, 4 3@4½.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; yonng $2,00@$2.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@$4 50; turkeys $12.@15.

Western Eggs 11@12c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 12@12½c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50@$5.00 ℔ dozen; young do. $3.25@3.75; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5.00, turkeys $15.00@18.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 68, white, 68; mixed, 64.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 48@—.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, 85.

See change in form of Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co's advertisement in this issue.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.

[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

Rescue Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED.

It cures Biliousness, Headache, Jaundice, Sour Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles.

IT WORKS PROMPTLY and cures Intemperance, Nervous Diseases, General Debility, Excesses and Female Weakness.

USE IT AT ONCE.

It restores the KIDNEYS, LIVER and BOWELS, to a healthy action and CURES when all other medicines fail. Hundreds have been saved who have been given up to die by friends and physicians.

Price $1.25. Send for Illustrated Pamphlet to HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.

5 SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

RECIPE FOR R'DOR'S FOOD BLANC MANGE.—Take a table spoonful of Ridge's Food to a quart of milk; first mix the food with a little cold milk add a little salt and 2 well-beaten eggs, heat the remainder of the milk and when nearly boiling add; then return all to the fire and stir briskly till it boils; flavor to suit the taste; pour into a mould; eat cold with sugar and cream. In cans, 4 sizes, 35c., 65c., $1 25 and $1 75 Sold by Druggists and Grocers. WOOLRICH & CO., Palmer, Mass.

P. P. ALBERT,

(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager.)

Produce Merchant,

And Dealer in Groceries,

8 ..... Toulouse Street,..... 8

P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.

☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

CHRISTIAN

MEN and WOMEN Wanted are

AS AGENTS

For the New and Fast selling Edition of the JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN BIBLE COMMENTARY.

4 vols., nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.

Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.

Jerome B. Names & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.

The work is heartily recommended. mar5 3m

LACTART

ACID OF MILK.

ENDORSED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Healthful and Delicious Beverage and Tonic for Family Use.

Superior to Lime Juice or Lemons.

A Remedy for Dyspepsia and Ills arising from a Disordered Stomach.

Specially recommended as a preventative and relief for Cholera, Sunstroke, Fevers, and valuable in Urinary difficulties.

A Specific for Sea-sickness.

Sold by Druggists.

Avery Lactate Co.,

BOSTON, MASS. apr29 3m

ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body while the ball in the cup presses back the Intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Rupture is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. ELASTIC TRUSS CO., Chicago, Ill.

ma, 2:-8

HEADQUARTERS

—FOR—

Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with music without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12.00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent

94..... Camp Street, ...94

25tf NEW ORLEANS.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!

A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.

Pure in sentiment, rich in music Sample copy, in boards 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3 60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free

FILLMORE BROS.
No. 185 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dr. Sterling P. Brown

365 Chippewa Street,

NEW ORLEANS LA.

OFFICE HOURS { From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. mer19 3m

E. W. Scheffel,

GENERAL

Book-Binder,

Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.

37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.

Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

OLD ONE HUNDRED.

MRS. TENA BURTON,

100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,

With or Without Board.

mar26-6m

NEW USES OF

DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.

They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo, as sample, or a package of Any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors, WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,

GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE.

For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

may5 13t

Bibles at 1-3 and Old Testaments at less than 1-3 the prices of the English editions, and equal to the English in type, paper, printing and accuracy. First agent sent out reports an order at every call for two weeks. Rare chance for agents to make money. Send $1.00 for outfit. TERMS VERY LIBERAL. The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.

may14-ty

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 22. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MAY 28, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 811.

THE SOUTHWESTERN
PUBLISHED BY
THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,
2 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana
PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.
MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.
Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.
Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.
All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:
(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)
One time or more..... 8 cents,
One month (4 times)..... 7 "
Three months (13 times)..... 6 "
Six months (26 times)..... 5 "
One year (52 times)..... 4 "
Marriage Notices..... 25 "
Special Notices..... 8 cents, net cash

Editorial Notes.

If burning beams of noon conspire
To dart a pestilential fire,
God is their life, his wings are spread,
To cover them with a healthful shade.
If vapors with malignant breath
Rise thick, and scatter midnight death
Israel is safe, the poisoned air
Grows pure, if Israel's God is there.

Have a conviction and declare it. Then, whatever comes, take the risk and follow it.

Give me some money, says the professional philanthropist. Give me some work, says the practical one.

Never mind whether you are loved, only keep yourself worthy of being loved by both God and man.

If you fail to save any money from your earnings make a change in the manner and cost of your living.

"Our people love the SOUTHWESTERN as well as they ever did, and will stand by Dr. Taylor."—L. F. Cushman, in Christian Advocate.

My heart's desire and prayer for [illegible] is, that they might be saved. [illegible] with myself, accursed for my brethren and my kinsmen's sake.—Paul.

Rev. Joseph Courtney says, "there is no paper as useful to our [illegible] ministers, or calculated to do more good in our general work than the SOUTHWESTERN."

The thing of first importance to a Christian is to obtain a good conscience, and the next is to keep his conscience pure and his conduct consistent in it.

[illegible] thyself and make sure [illegible] whom thou art in his [illegible] This is Solomon's advice [illegible] until it is wonderful [illegible] the present condition [illegible] colored people touching [illegible]

[illegible] to be great must [illegible] from evil women and [illegible] of the tongue of a [illegible] too, by means of [illegible] is brought to a place of [illegible] The adulteress will hunt for the precious life.

The Shumperts are a large and [illegible] a family of great power [illegible] in the Mississippi [illegible] J. M. Shumpert is the [illegible] of the young men, and is greatly beloved by all.

To interfere with a neighbor's [illegible] is the same as to take fire in [illegible] or to endeavor to walk [illegible] and not have your [illegible] feet burned. So [illegible] cannot be innocent, [illegible] his own soul, that

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

One Hundred Years of Methodism.

REV. J. H. STEVENS.

Shortly after the war, even before the smoke of the battles had entirely cleared away, and when things were raging hot and excitements ran to the highest pitch over the result of the war, and when it was almost certain death for a Northerner to be found here in the South who seemed to sympathize with the Negro, the true members of the Church braved the dangerons threats and scorns of this Southern element, and came and planted the Church of God among us, and we are beginning to learn to worship God in beauty and holiness. Wonderful changes have taken place. Wherever the influence of the church has gone, schools were also established. In 1866 she established her first school in the South for the colored people in the city of Nashville Tenn., which has since become the famous Central Tennessee College from the halls of the great to the cabins of the poor. So the great works of the church have moved on from 1784 to 1884, with the achievement of the grandest victories that have ever been won.

Over these great plans of the church, God in his infinite power has kept his all seeing eye and crowned every noble effort with the greatest success. And all Methodists are a part of the fruits of these hands. What a grand church are we members of, and how happy ought we be that belong to such a strong band of soldiers fighting for the cause of Christ. There cannot be words used to express our sense of gratitude. She was one of the greatest factors in snatching the fetters and chains which bound four millions of poor degraded and miserable creatures and made them four millions of freed human beings, and now we behold, all over this country, magnificent fruits growing out of the works of this plan. Though the church had many opposing forces in this work, she continued to work at the roots of this great evil which was rooted and ground so deep as to seem immovable, but reaching the main root, she grasped it with all the power and strength she could summon, combined with other agencies. She threw herself against the great institution or slavery and prostrated it to the ground never to be restored. And many places where slavery swayed with all its degrading oppresive and soul filling powers, are to be seen among our people many intelligent faces beaming with the brilliant light of educated head and hearts. From among them are coming many of the leaders of our people. Before the great work of the Methodist Episcopal Church, darkness, superstition, and vanity, are passing away. From the Halls of Meharry Medical College, have come forty colored Dr's; many of these are going to the bed-side of the sick along with their Brothers in white. Not only the Central Tennessee College has the church, but her schools are established in many of the States and Territories. To these places she brings her facilities of education not only for her own members, but for all who will accept it. Here we have the Wiley Univerty in the city of Marshall the doors of which stand wide open and invite you to send your sons and daughters to receive the instruction which she offers. Last year was one of success and we anticipate greater success this year. The important positions to which some colored men were elected during the late General Conference shows us that things are rapidly turning in our favor. Among such instanoes the most noteworthy of which is the election of Dr. Marshall W. Taylor as Editor of the SOUTHWESTERN. This action has been hailed with joy throughout the whole church. It came unexpected, but not unwelcome, it has illuminated the whole church, and many of the brethren who have been laboring many years for the success of the church, and become weary, will take fresh courage and go forth in the work with renewed vigor, looking for greater blessings to come.

Rusk Texas.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Character—No. III.

BY REV. GEO. W. WELLS.

We must abandon those evils which are most generally practiced, and which have a tendency to dwarf our higher nature. To have respect for ourselves guards our morals, and to have a deference for others governs our character. Intemperance, chief of evils; gambling, the destrayer of so many lives and princely fortunes; stealing, the meanest in the catalogue of crimes; profaning the Sabbath day, which robs the Church of our presence; duty and loyalty, which will ultimately corrupt the entire population of the developing South unless speedily checked. Chemists tell us that a single grain of the substance called iodine will impart color to seven thousand times its weight of water. It is so in higher things; one companion, one book, one habit may effect the whole of life and character. We speak of the heroes of great battles, ancient and modern; of Hannibal and Caesar, of Washington and Grant. We applaud; it is patriotic that we should. But who are the greater heroes? Ridley, Latimer, Luther, Wesley, Stanley, Livingstone? Those who returned from the field of battle, with banner unfurled to the breeze, or those who, on the battle field of the soul have conquored every passion and, with a holy integrity, have overcome the besetments of life? We can never be what we should be until we adhere strictly to the true principles of education, morals and religion. The yonng man who has no higher aspirations than a limber cane, shining boots and beaver hat, and whose head may be as empty as a balloon, and contented with its emptiness, is regarded by men of thought as merely dressed advertisements for olothing establishments—specks on the face of society. A healthy body, and not clothes; a fine intellect, and not vulgar pride; a heart full of religion, not frivolous ambition. These are the marks of true manhood; these indicate omnipotent self-hood. It is the nature of the plant to assimilate the crude elements of the soil and air, and by the shuttle of the sunbeam to weave them into the delicate fabric of the leaf and blossom. So character may be developed in the man if he but use the means within his reach. Character is the most priceless gem we can possess in this world. The most beautiful flowers fade away, the grandest structures of brick and stone crumble beneath Time's hand, but character will ever remain a mounment of worth and beauty. Influenced by the power of Christ in the heart, character is the world's vestal flame, kept alive by the world's noblest, purest and best in all ages. We are all sculptors, with the marble in front of us. In ungainly stone is the sleeping angel whose resurrection depends upon the use of the chisel. Careful and steady blows will bring out the perfect form, while rash and thoughtless ones may destroy it forever. "We cannot dream ourselves into a character; we must hammer and forge one for ourselves." Let us, trusting in a Divine Providence, carve ourselves a noble and divine character.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Old Fashioned Parents.

MRS. L. C. BRADEN.

I read an article, not long since, in one of our papers, entitled ashamed of parents, the writer had known young people to treat their parents with neglect, and often with rudeness, because they deemed them beneath themselves in intellectual culture, and because they were ashamed of their unfashionable dress and homely ways. These parents had in early life, been deprived of advantages for education, but in their love for their children, they had worked hard, and practised much self-denial that their children might have privileges of which they had been denied. In a copy of the same paper I read, soon after, another article on the same subject, in which the writer was disposed to make some allowance for the ungrateful children, because parents too often allow themselves to get behind the times, in their dress, manner, etc. There was an instance given of a care-taking mother who had a sweet little daughter who loved her mother dearly. She was sent from home to school, and while there her mother visited her. The mothers dress was by no means a la mode, and she plainly showed she was not accustomed to all the usages of modern society. The little girl was much mortified, and the mother was deeply grieved because of the change she saw in her child. The writer of the article thought that mothers ought not to grow so indifferent to their personal appearance as to mortify their sensitive children.

Now we know that there are ungrateful children, who do not appreciate their parents, who have loved them, and who have done so much for them; and we know, too, that there are parents who are behind the times, and who are so unfashionable that if they even follow the fashion at all, it is a long way afterward, but that does not prevent their being kind and loving and unselfish. They are willing to work early and late for their children, and often mothers will take of their own scanty wardrobes, to make garments for their daughters, so that they may make a good appearance. I know one mother who has an interesting daughter whom she is trying to educate. She earns the support of herself and family at the wash-tub. Some one has suggested to her that she would educate her daughter above herself, and then she would be ashamed of her hard-working mother. She replied, "I am not thinking about that. I am determined my daughter shall have an easier time in life than I have had. I will work my fingers ends off before she shall suffer what I have had to suffer." That is just the way mothers feel. They forget themselves, and think only of doing for their children.

Now, I have been thinking that the only way to manage these old-fashioned parents is to make them fashionable just as they are. Whatever is in the fashion is all right, you know. That is the way things are in this world. We have all heard that, now-a-days, old-fashioned furniture has become fashionable. The old chairs, and tables and bureaus that were put away in garrets years ago, because they were so ugly, have been hauled out of their hiding-places and have become very beautiful. Furniture makers see in it a bonanza, and are now manufacturing imitations of old furniture, which they sell at a high price for no reason in the world only because it is fashionable. What is it to be fashionable? Why, it is to do as other people do: Now, suppose we all love our old-fashioned fathers and mothers, and care for them and appreciate them, and give them places of honor in the home. If everybody does so, you see, it will make them fashionable, and then they will be "just too nice for anything," and their children will have no reason to be ashamed of them, and then, too, parents will have no right to be ashamed of their children.

Nashville, Tenn.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Methodism.

MISS C. D. MCKIE.

If denominations of Christians are to be judged by the amount of good they do (and we know of no other way to judge them) the Methodist Church will be placed very high on the standard of excellency. In fact there is no human power can judge of the vast amount of good done, and none but the good can ever know what the followers of Mr. Wesley have done in the world in the accomplishment of good. When we try even to consider the souls saved, the drunkards restored to new manhood, the mother made happy by the son's salvation; the wife made joyful over a happy husband, the amount of vice driven from the land through its agency, and the communities revived and rendered peaceful, we are simply lost in trying to grasp in our minds a small fraction of what has been accomplished.

And, further, suppose we remove the Methodist Church, with all its influences, from our midst, what a void there would be in society! We would be thrown back at least one hundred years from our present standard of progress. These Christians have braved the malarial fevers of the swamps, gone into the worst epidemics, sacrificed their lives to cannibals in foreign lands, severed from wives and children, been thrown into loathsome prisons, and gave up their lives cheerfully for even a chance that a soul might be saved. We to day know no land or country, be it hot or be it cold, sickly or abounding in health, civilized or unolvilized, Mohammedan or Christian, of whatever government and every condition, we find methods to point the way to better lands, to succor the poor and afflicted, and restore the sick; and at all times showing the hand of mercy and doing the Master's work.

What mind can contemplate the sacrifices they have made and the good accomplished, without thinking of what the Master will say when he receives them, "Well done, good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful in small things, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Violation of the Sunday Law

ELLA J. WILCOX.

It is claimed by some that Sunday laws are not intended to force men to be religious, but that they are intended simply to set apart one day out of seven, for a general rest day, on which all labor shall be dispensed with and peace and gentleness reign. Some on the other hand, claim that they are intended to force a man to respect the day as a religious day, set aside in accordance with a divine command, to draw the busy mind of man from toil to rest, and thereby lead his thought to his Maker. Whatever may be the true theory of the Sunday law, we find them among our enlightened people, and we also find them violated every Sabbath. Sometimes we see a citizen before the courts for breaking these laws, and perhaps he will pay the penalty, while on every hand we find giant manopolies openly and with impunity violating them. Take one state (Virginia for instance,) where it is laid down clearly that if a person on a Sabbath day, be found laboring at any trade except household, he shall pay a fine. Yet in the face of these laws we see at every shipping port, and nearly every railroad station the handling of freight; and in some places it appears as if Sunday was the busiest day of the week. Is this a fit scene in a Christian land, carried on as it often is by companies whose directors and owners are in some cases, professing Christians. The Sunday excursions are, and have been for some time nuisances. On these excursions hundreds and thousands of people leave the cities and flock for the day to some otherwise quiet place, and the sabbath that should be a day of quiet and devotion to God, is changed to a day of revelry and sin. The good people in these places complain to the company and the law with like effect. The former thinking of money made last Sunday, will have another excursion next, the latter cannot or will not help them. To their eternal shame be it said, a large number of these Sunday pleasure seekers are nominally church members. We have laws sufficient to protect the Sabbath and every worshiping congregation, but as long as money rules and those who call themselves Christians encourage such things, so long will the laws remain a dead note. Oh, for the day when corporations, government and people shall remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

The Missionary Chart.

Tucson, Ariz., Apr., 23, 1885.

Rev. C. C. McCabe:—Having returned from the mountains I find your "chart." It is a magnificent affair. It ought to be hung up on the wall in every Methodist home in the land. I shall urge all my preachers to send for a supply for their people. Arizona will raise her share of the million, although it will tax us more than two dollars per member to do it. Yours truly.

G. H. ADAMS.

A signal revival has been in progress in the Presbyterian church at Staunton, Va., resulting in 150 conversions.

From the Districts.

Proceedings of the Navasota District Conference.

Held on the Brenham circuit, at Pleasant Grove Church:

First day, morning session, Mar. 12, 1885—The meeting was called to order by Presiding Elder W. B. Pullam, at 9 o'clock a. m. After devotional services by the presiding elder, the secretaries not being present, the conference looked over the programme of the religious and literary exercises, after which they took a recess to await the arrival of the secretaries. At 12 m. the conference reconvened, and finding the secretaries still absent, the conference adjourned to meet again at 1:30 p. m.

Evening Session—The conference was called to order at 1:30 p. m., Presiding Elder W. B. Pullam in the chair. After devotional services by the presiding elder, John A. Tillory was elected secretary and G. W. Young assistant. The following members answered to their names: W. B. Pullam, presiding elder; Enoch Jefferson, Mason Reddick, Aaron Alexander, J. H. Holland, S. Bolden, Frank Gilmore, W. H. Jackson, J. A. Tillory, Wm. Posey, H. Cherry, A. A. Eckles, Richard Nelson, H. Brooks, H. Clay, G. Alexander, E. Mishow, J. W. Young and Sister M. M. Escoe. The different committees were then appointed, and the preachers in charge made their reports, as follows: Bro. A. Alexander reports his church as being in debt to the amount of $210, but says that two of the brothers have bought the debt for $160. He reports the church as in a good spiritual condition. The Sunday-school is not doing as well as it might, but still we have 125 scholars. I have preached 30 times."

Belleville, reported by R. J. Campbell: "I have not done much; preached 7 times; had no converts and few deaths; did the best I could under the circumstances.

Brazos and Burleson, reported by M. M. Muldrew: "I have no [illegible] members, one Sabbath-school; 2 on probation, and have preached 6 times; my church was destroyed by fire.

Brenham, reported by M. Reddick: "Two Sabbath-schools in good condition; 6 probationers, 1 converted, preached 21 times.

Brenham circuit, reported by W. H. Jackson: "Members received, 4; probationers, 13; made 35 visits."

Caldwell, reported by A. Thomas: "The times are hard, have had 3 additions to the church, one from the Baptist Church, a local preacher, organized one Sunday-school."

Courtney, reported by John A. [illegible]: "Members, 75; withdrawals, [illegible] received into the church, 2, one from the Baptist Church; probationers, 3; preached 31 times, [illegible] 93 miles, and travelled in [illegible] miles."

J. K. Loggins being absent from circuit was reported by L. [illegible], but as he gave the presiding elder his report, and the presiding elder having vouched for [illegible], his report was received and his name placed on the roll as present the first day.

Franklin, John L. Smith, P. C., no report.

[illegible], W. Hamilton, absent, no report.

[illegible]pstead, reported by Enoch [illegible]: "Received on probation, [illegible] members, 169; one Sunday-[illegible], 149 scholars; 7 deaths.

[illegible], F. D. Bookman, P. C., was [illegible]; no report.

[illegible], reported by Thomas [illegible]: "Received one from the A. M. [illegible] and he being a preacher [illegible] ordained, we gave him a [illegible], and we have his cre-[illegible].

[illegible], J. E. Shackleford, P. [illegible] no report.

[illegible], reported by F. Gil-[illegible]: "The work is in a very good [illegible], have two Sunday-schools [illegible] received three from the [illegible]h.

[illegible], W. W. Brown, P. [illegible] report.

[illegible], L. H. Horn, P. C., [illegible] no report.

[illegible] and Kaley, reported by S. Belden: "My work is spiritually very good, but not so financially; have a few Methodists here and a Sunday-school.

On motion, a committee was appointed to investigate the reports against the absent and delayed preachers. The following are the reports of said committee:

We beg to report to the presiding elder and conference brethren of the District Conference of the Navasota District, held March 12, 1885, that your committee has carefully investigated the case of each preacher, and find three tardy, as follows: Revs. A. Thomas, pastor at Caldwell; R. J. Campbell, pastor at Belleville; Thos. Cole, pastor at Millican. We find absent from conference as follows; John L. Smith, pastor at Franklin; W. Hamilton, pastor at Hearne; J. K. Loggins, pastor at Bryan; J. E. Shaokleford, pastor at Navasota; W. W. Brown, pastor at Plantersville; L. H. Horn, pastor at Poairie Plains; F. D. Bookman, pastor at Iola. After a careful examination of the law of the Discipline and the cases of these brethren, we find that we have no lawful reason to make any charges or complaints. We find seven absent, but not knowing the facts or cause of their absence or neglect, we therefore recommend that the law of the Church be observed as on page 133 p. 233 of the Discipline of the M. E. Church, and also Baker on the Discipline, page 145, sec. 12. We further recommend that the presiding elder personally notify each pastor in charge not to absent themselves again under penalty of the law in full.

Signed, ENOCH JEFFERSON,
Chairman of Committe.

The local preachers made favorable reports, and some have had one or two converts, They will be a power in the Church if they continue. Some of the exhorters made very favorable reports, and will make good peachers. Class leaders and superintendents of Sunday-schools made very favorable reports, and they are very useful men and women to the Church.

The conference was well cared for; the people came in wagons and asked the preachers to accompany them home. It was the most pleasant conference we ever attended, and it was the first that was ever held in the country on this district. The next district conference will be held at Anderson, the capital of Grimes county. Take notice, the brethren who come to the fall conference will bring enough money to pay their fare from Navasota to Andersou at the rate of three cents a mile. This is the understanding of the conference held March 12th.

Report ot the district steward and apportionments to be raised for the presiding elder's support and traveling expenses: Anderson, $50; Belleville, $25; Brazos and Burleson, —; Brenham, $85; Brenham circuit, $50; Bryan, $50; Bryan circuit, $25; Caldwell. $50; Courtney, $40; Franklin, $40; Hearne, $40; Hempstead, $75; Iola, —; Millican, $45; Navasota, $80; Patterson, $65; Plantersville, $65; Prairie Plains, $60; San Felipe and Kaley, $25; total, $870.

Mr. Editor, the district conference asks yon to please publish this just as it is.

A resolutiou was offered by Thos Cole thanking the members and friends of Pleasant Grove Church and the Baptist members for the kind manner in which they took care of the conference. After which the minutes were read and approved, and the conference adjourned. W. B. PULLAM, P. E.
JNO. A. TILLORY, Secretary.

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. E. E. Cooper, of Oakland, Texas, writes: "I am in the midst of a revival. The best portion of the people are converted, and the altar is crowded with sinners every night. Pray for our success."

Rev. Jat. Ellis, preacher in charge at Eutaw, Ala,, writes: "There seems to be a grand rally amoug the people here. All they want is a chance, and though they may be poor, they will do as much as the rich. In three months we have raised the $200 sent in Dec. 7th for for building purposes. I want to commence my protracted meeting at as early a date as possible. We have already received three into the church this year."

Rev. M. Williams, of Gallatin, Tenn., writes: "Our presiding elder, Rev. James Pickett, was with us March 21-22. He found us in a protracted meeting. He preached to the satisfaotion of all who heard him. In our meeting of three weeks the church was greatly revived. There were 16 conversions, and 15 joined the church, most of whom are members of the Sunday-school. Elder H. Primm, pastor of our Church in Franklin, Tenn., was with us most of the time during our meeting, preaching every night. His sermons will not soon be forgotten."

Rev. H. Dunlap, of Atoka, Tipton county, Tenn., writes: "Presiding Elder Price held my second quarterly conference on the 1st and 8th of February, 1885. We had a good time. The elder preached a nice sermon on Sunday, and we had three converts. We paid the presiding elder $12.50, the pastor $65, and raised $10 for benevolent purposes. Our Sunday school is in good condition. We did not go into winter quarters this year. I have built one new church this year and expect to dedicate it to the Lord at an early date. I an ceiling the church at Atoka now."

Rev. W. R. Butler, Robelene, La., writes: "We had a good time at our quarterly conference. All we need at Robelene is a good church in town. We have a splendid lot here and a parsonage on it. The elder called the building committee together Monday to devise plans for building a church on it at an early date. Our presiding elder is a fine man, and the people all like him. We took up $7.70 for the presiding elder, and had two to join the church."

Rev. A. D. Payne, of Grenada, Miss., writes: "A few Saturday nights ago, while myself and wife were sitting in the parsonage, we were surprised to hear the bell ring; for the night was rainy and the weather very bad. But we were still more surprised when we opened the door and in walked quite a number of the sisters of the church, singing "We will Crown Him Lord of all," and deposited a great many nice things on my table. You may imagine how it filled our hearts with joy and thanksgiving to God and these beloved and kind-hearted sisters. It was what they called a pound party, but the things they put on the table could have been measured by the bushel. In my joy all I was able to say was, 'Sisters, I will be glad to have you come again.' My wife could not say much, but when the sisters were gone, finding that some of the things were cooked, she fell to eating them."

Rev. J. E. Shackleford, of Navasota, Texas, writes: "Rev. W. B. Pullam held our first quarterly conference on the 23th of February. All the members were on hand. The class-leaders, stewards, etc, made respectable reports. The presiding elder seemed to enjoy the meeting very much. He spoke forcibly on those lines which tend to show the members their duty toward the church. He says he has not got much hope for those members who will not attend Sunday-school. The Sabbath being rainy, many were prevented from attendance. We administered the sacrament to abont 100, however, and collected $14 for the presiding elder. Our church is still in the ascendant."

Rev. Robt. P. Greene writes the following concerning his charge: "Rev. Stephen Priestley held our first quarterly conference March 18. This quarter is pronounced by all as being the most inspiring we have had for some time. The elder presided with ease and grace, and handled difficult disciplinary questions like a man who had been presiding elder before. His sermon was full of many practical suggestions, and highly flavored with that pathos which can only come from a heart flaming with the love of God. Our school was visited and pronounced first-class. We knew this, because we have a teacher who is well drilled in the moral and literary training of children. The church is reported as being in a good condition; all our interests being properly cared for. We have a membership of 1116; Sunday-school 101. The church lot in East Rosedale has been improved at a cost of $63.25. We have now on the ground 3,000 tree foot boards. We hope that the Church Extension Board will remember us. Never in the history of this church has any outside help come to us. Now that we are needy this will be one of our strongholds on the society."

Rev. H. Swann, of Austin, Texas, writes: "Financially we have not been able to do as much as we hoped to accomplish before now. When the city of Austin was laid ont certain half blocks were designated and reserved for church purposes, which were donated to the city by the State. Our church was built upon one of these reserved sites, which we hold by a deed from the city; but a resident of this place who was opposed to central and eligible locations for colored churches, raised a question as to the validity of our title. A bill was introduced in the State Senate to set aside our title, together with that of other societies, on the ground that the city had permitted these sites to be used for parsonages, which, the bill assumed, were not church property. The sentiment of the city, of the council and of the Legislature were on the side of the church, so that the scheme was a failure. The agitation of this question, however, hindered us for some time from raising anything for the completion of our church. Our first financial rally was on the fourth Sunday in March, at which time our second quarterly meeting was held. We had planned in advance for the collection, and the people rallied to the call. Our beloved presiding elder, Rev. C. L. Madison, was not very well, but notwithstanding, at 3 o'clock p. m., preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion; after which $231 was taken up. Rev. A. R. Norris conducted the communion service, in which 191 persons participated. A week before the quarterly meeting we began a protracted meeting, which has just closed, with 52 conversions, 51 of whom joined the church. Our Sunday-school is quite prosperous, and has an average attendance of 175. Our Easter exercises exeited much interest; 226 teachers and scholars and a number of visitors were present. Our superintendent, W. G. Wilson puts his heart into his work and is highly respected and much loved by both teachers and scholars."

Rev. J. J. Garrett, of Forest, Miss., writes: "Everything is encouraging here. Rev. J. M. Shumpert, presiding elder of this district, was with us on the 11th and 12th of April and held our quarterly conference at Ebenezer Church, abont four and one half miles from town. The conference was well attended, and the reports show that the work is in good condition. We have a fine Sunday-school, with an average attendance of 155. We have received in full membership this quarter 33, baptized 3 adults and had one death. We raised $34.75 for the pastor, and $11 for the presiding elder, making a total of $45.75. The estimating committee estimated the pastor's salary at $435, and $12 for traveling expenses. The presiding elder preached an excellent sermon, which held us three-quarters of an hour, taking his text, "What think ye of Christ?" He then administered the Lord's supper to 75 souls, after which we came to town. At 7:30 o'clock he preached again, taking as his text, "Your sins will find you out." We then took up a collection for the pastor and in abont ten minutes time collected $10. The Lord's supper was administered to 125 persons."

Rev. Walter Duncan, Brentwood, Tenn., writes: "God's people, notwithstanding the Lord in his wise providence saw fit to move Bro. S. P. Bell from his work at Brentwood, having two charges, the above named place and Flatrock, two miles south of Nashville; He placed me at the helm and we are moving along smoothly. As Bro Bell remained sick on his languishing couch for some time, his work not being attended to, and also the inclemency of the weather caused me to find things not in the best style; but God, in his quiet and calm way, has worked the miracle too wonderful for man. I thank God for opening the way for me. Leaving as I did the far Texas west, seeking a field of knowledge, away from wife and children, from friends and loved ones, I am compelled to ask, what has God wrought. My church at Brentwood is 60x30 feet, a magnificent structure. Our pews having been ordered before Bro. Bell took sick, we have not put them in our church yet, only waiting to have a grand rally which will be very soon. My congregation consists of abont 125 heroic laborers for Christ. They are as busy as bees, and of course the greater portion are in good circumstances—on the whole they are quite industrious. They have manifested much love and appreciation for me, and seem very much interested in their shepherd. On last Sabbath I received into the church at Brentwood six, and they are promising Christians and laborers in the vineyard. My church at Flatrock is a beautiful frame building, having quite a pleasant site. My congregation is large, but membership only about 38; they are good people, and have promised, with the help of God, to go with me. We have stacked our camp against Satan, and God has manifested his presence with us. Being in college, as I am, I attend my charges alternately. We have had one to profess hope in Christ, and indications are favorable for a glorious success. The session of Central Tennessee College, our Methodist home, will soon come to a close, when the students will leave for their respective homes in the North, East, South and West. I shall continue to labor in the Master's vineyard, pointing the children of men to the Lamb of God."

The following is the report made by Rev. A. N. Jackson, pastor of Todd Temple, M. E. Church, who went abroad to solicit aid in behalf of that church: Chattanooga, Tenn. —Rev. John Crawford gave 25c.; Mrs. Fannie Turks, 10c.; Mr. and Mrs. Payne, 25c.; A. M. E. Zion Church, Rev. J. W. Wright, pastor, $3.05; Wesley Chapel M. E. Church Rev. B. H. Johnson, pastor, $6.51; Warren Chapel, A. M. E. Church, Rev. Lee Mitchell, pastor, $4.75. Murfreesboro, Tenn.—Rev. Wesley Lillard, 25c; Rev. Thornton Woods 25c.; Rev. H. Simmons subscribed $1; Rev. Braxton Jones, 10c.; Key Chapel M. E. Church, Rev. C. L. Seward, pastor, $4.30; Miss Susan Rogers subscribed $1; Allen Chapel A. M. E. Church, Rev. J. A. Farrier, pastor, 20c. Nashville, Tenn. —Clark Chapel M. E. Church, Rev. A. Phillips, pastor, $6.00; St. Johns A. M. E. Church, Dr. G. W. Bryant, pastor, $3; Braden Chapel M. E. Church, Rev. F. J. Moreland, pastor, 50c. Huntsville, Ala., M. E. Church, Rev. A. M. McKinney, pastor, $3.55. We, the trustees of said church, wish to tender our most sincere thanks to all concerned. Your obedient servants, J. M. Smith, J. H. Smith, Dock Berry, R. Hickmon, John Crittle.

Letters From the Laity.

W. S. Hawthorne, of Houma, La., writes: Friday, April 5th, the Sunday-school Convention met at 7:30 p. m., in Wesley Chapel. Singing, "How beauteous are their feet," etc. Rev. Willis Carr presided. The pastor conducted the devotional exercises. There was a large number of adults and children present. Music was rendered by the choir. Revs. M. C. B. Mason and E. Lyons, after having been introduced, each made stirring addresses. All seemed to be pleased with the meeting; Pastor, officers, local preacher, exhorters, superintendents of the school, all promised to do their best in the interest of the Sunday-school work at Houma."

Bro. H. O. Williams, of Camp Parapet, La., writes: "Since the arrival of our beloved pastor, Rev. T. Johnson, we have had 27 converts. The sisters went to work, with Miss T. J. Johnson as chairman, and put up a light in front of the church. The mourners bench is crowded every night. I believe that Bro. Johnson is a teacher sent from God, for no man, unless God be with him, could do the work he does."

Miss Leana Bess, of Galway, Tenn., writes: "A temperance society is one of the grandest organizations of the age, and if we ever expect to become men and women of intelligence we must be temperate people. Temperance is the road which leads to virtue. It should be taught in every school-room and church on the globe. By so doing we can be able to take our place in the highest ranks and there strike arms with the ablest men. There is spent, in the State of Tennessee alone, three millions of dollars for whiskey and tobacco. God grant that the day may come when this money will be used in building institutions of learning."

The M. E. Church.

An Address to the North Carolina Conference.

To the Sunday School Scholars, Friends, Members, Officers and Preachers of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

DEAR FRIENDS: I want to help you. Perhaps I can ease your burdens by telling you what they are, and why for Christ's sake they are gladly to be borne.

Your preacher probably talks about money as well as souls. If so, he is like God, who said by Mosos about coming up to worship "And none shall appear before me empty." Paul also talked much and often about the "collection." And in truth the work of God takes money. Money is the measure of everything. With money we show how much we love God and His work. Not only is our heart with our treasure, but our treasure will go where our heart is. Those who feel little of God's forgiving love, will give little or nothing. But those who feel much, will always give as much as they can.

The Church which we have joined, and which every one of us on joining, promised to support, needs two kinds of money. They are

(a) Money to save ourselves and
(b) Money to save others.

Let us consider first

(a) Money to save ourselves.

To get our own salvation through Christ we must give money for

1—THE SUPPORT OF THE MINISTRY.

(See Paragraphs 358 380 of Discipline of 1884.)

According to Paul, those who minister unto us in spiritual things are worthy of our support from our temporal things (our money, food, clothes, books, &c). If he does his work well, the minister is as worthy of his pay as is the school teacher, the doctor, the blacksmith (Read 1 Cor. 9 7-14; Gal. 6, 6.)

Hence each church will arange to raise respectable sums of money for

1. The Preacher in Charge, and
2. The Presiding Elder, and.
3. The Bishops, and
4. The old, worn-out Preachers, their widows, and orphans.

Every honest church will honestly pay all its honest debts to those servants whom it has asked to labor and suffer in the Gospel for it.

But the work of God never prospers much or long without church houses, for the people to meet in, and the preacher to live in. Hence money (and perhaps work) must be given for

II—CHURCHES AND PARSONAGES.

(See Paragraphs 384-393,394 Disciplines of 1884.)

To build good churches and parsonages for God's service is as necessary as to build or own houses for ourselves. And all must be deeded to Trustees to hold them for the use of the members and ministers of the M. E. Church.

See paragraphs 381-397, Discipline of 1884.

Thus money should be cheerfully given on each charge.

1. To build a new church, or

2. To repair or enlarge the present one, or

3. To build or repair a parsonage.

4. To insure all of the Church property against fire.

When the Tabernacle was built by Moses, God had everybody give, and give largely, and it was a splendid house for God's presence. Each church should be neatly fenced and painted, and should be the best looking building in the settlement. Moreover, a preacher's house should be built on land properly deeded. For if the preacher's family live with him in a parsonage on each circuit, his heart and time will not be somewhere else.

But all these moneys will not run the church. Each congregation needs raise money for itself for

III—RUNNING EXPENSES.

This means money for

1. Sunday-school books and papers.

2. Lights and fuel, so as to keep out of "winter quarters."

3. Bread and unfermented wine for the Lord's table,

4. The care and beautifying of the grave yard.

5. The relief of the Church poor.

6. Books and lessons in Church singing.

7. Anything else needed,

But thus far we have provided only, for ourselves and our own, just as sinners and ungodly people do. If we stop here, there is no real religion in any of these acts and payments. "The mind which was in Christ" bids us look also "upon the things of others."

Hence the most sacred necessity, and joyful part of our duty as Christian and Methodists brings us to the kind of money which the church calls for,

(b) MONEY TO SAVE OTHERS.

He only is a true Christian disciple who "loves his neighbor as himself." And our neighbors are any in the world whom we can reach with a kindness. And the greatest kindness is the knowledge of a Savior. The preacher has solemnly promised to ask for, and we have solemnly promised to give as much as possible of this kind of money.

Hence, being a Christian means that we shall give to

I—MISSIONS.

Our Church, through its Missionary Society, supports in heathen lands, about 400 of our ministers, and partly supports 2500 ministers in the United States, in places where the people are too poor or stingy to keep them in their pulpits without starving. We are [illegible] to do our part in taking and [illegible] the whole world for Christ. [illegible] therefore the preacher sends [illegible] missionary collectors, and [illegible] preaches his yearly missionary sermon, should we not gladly [illegible] collection dollars instead [illegible] and coppers? Freely we [illegible]ved, why not freely give? [illegible] Sunday-schools should be [illegible] into little missionary societies [illegible] which the young are to [illegible] the blessed art of giving [illegible] money for the wel[illegible] others. The missionary [illegible] Church, added [illegible] by the Sunday-school [illegible] purpose, brought up [illegible] is to be reported as [illegible], Total." No other [illegible] be counted with it.

[illegible] needy world needs [illegible] fed and clothed [illegible], but it needs help [illegible] churches. Loving [illegible], therefore, will, call [illegible] for [illegible] EXTENSION.

[illegible] way raises money to help build churches in the most needy places. It provides the best plans for churches, and has helped into being many of our churches.

But we need everywhere educated preachers to instruct from the pulpits. Hence we may give for

III—EDUCATION,

and thus some godly young man will become prepared to teach the people from the pulpit just as he is needed in years to come. Children's Day money goes to this work, But most of us need higher Christian education than the public schools can or should give. Hence we must do good by giving large amounts to the

IV—FREEDMEN'S AID SOCIETY.

which provides teachers and seminaries. All of these, and grand is their work, take vast sums of money, and it must all come from the people before it can be paid for the people. Put in Dollars here at this collection every time. In helping here, we help ourselves at our own institution.

But Sunday-schools need tracts "Good Tidings," etc. Thus the churches must gives money when the preacher takes the

V—SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION, and

VI—THE TRACT SOCIETY

collections, as well as that for

VII—THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY, which prints Bibles for all heathen lands and brings the cost of a Bible down to the small sum of 25 cents.

VIII—THE W. F. M. SOCIETY, and

IX—THE W. H. M. SOCIETY, are ways in which the women privately can raise money for work among women abroad and at home. They will do this begging themselves.

Now these seem to be many collections; and to fret us all the time. But God is giving His great things all the time and why should not we, His children, be giving our little things all the time. A well seldom used gets foul and stagnant. A well used hard every day gets more and gives more and better water.

I cannot close without giving you Mr. Wesley's great sermon on "money." If you do each part in its order, the next part will be very easy and joyful.

Here it is! Study it! Pray over it! Do it!

MONEY.

1. Earn all you can.
2. Save all you can.
3. Give all you can.

Whoever does this will get much treasure, and will lay it up in heaven.

Let all and liberal collections be taken for everything.

Yours for the Master's cause.

WILBUR F. STEELE.

Bennett Seminary, Greensboro, N. C.

The Surrender of Lee.

THE GREAT STORY WELL TOLD.

The outward appearance of Lee and Grant exhibited a marked contrast. The former was in full uniform, and he wore embroidered gauntlets and the burnished sword which the State of Virginia presented to him. On the other hand, Grant was in undress uniform, and he had neither sword nor gloves.

One of Grant's staff was profoundly impressed by his singular contrast, and could not refrain from interrogating Colonel Marshall.

"How is it, Colonel," he said, "that you and your chiefs are so finely equipped, while we bear the evidences so plainly of a hard and rough encounter on the road?"

"That is easily explained," replied the Colonel. "A day or two ago, Sheridan came suddenly upon us and forced us to sacrifice our headquarters' train. As we could save but one suit of cloths, each of us selected the best suit that we had—and that accounts for the difference of appearance."

The allusion to Sheridan's raid caused a little merriment, and, from the one side at least, served to dispel much of the seriousness of the occasion. Gen. Grant joined in the good humor of the moment, and, to explain the absence of his sword, stated that, when he started for Farmville two days before, he had been riding around in camp without a sword; since then he had not visited his own headquarters, and was consequently without his side-arms.

All explanations and apologies being ended the two commanders settled themselves down to business. Lee was stately, grave and perhaps formal; he could not avoid being what by nature he was. Grant, although the victor, was somewhat embarrassed, his manner was simple, his voice was reassuring, mild, but unmistakable in its firmness. One would never have mistrusted that they were discussing the surrender of an army.

Gen. Grant had not personally met Lee since the two were in Mexico together—the latter then on the staff of Scott, the former a subaltern. The conversation naturally hinged at first upon these old recollections, and continued for about five minutes on the same line of thought. Then there was a slight pause, which was broken by Gen. Lee, who said:

"I asked to see you, General, to find out upon what terms you would receive the surrender of my army."

General Grant thought a moment and replied: "My terms are these: All officers and men must become prisoners of war, giving up of course all weapons, munitions and supplies. But a parole will be accepted binding officers and men to go to their homes and remain there until exchanged, or released by proper authority."

Lee responded to this with a remark not particularly pertinent to the occasion, whereupon Grant continued, asking:

"Do I understand, General Lee that you accept these terms?"

"Yes," replied Lee faltering, "If you will put them in writing, I will put my signature to them."

General Grant, without saying more, again took a seat at the table, and wrote the following:

"APPOMATTOX COURT HOUSE, VIRGINIA, Apr. 9, 1865.

"General—in accordance with the substance of my letter to you of the 8th inst., I propose to receive the surrender of the army of Northern Virginia on the following terms to-wit: Roll of all officers and men to be made in duplicate, one copy to be given to an officer to be designated by me, the other to be retained by such officer or officers as you may designate. The officers to give their individual paroles not to take up arms against the Goverment of the United States until properly exchanged, and each company or regimental commander to sign a like parole for the men of their commands. The arms, artillery and public property to be parked and stacked, and turned over to the officers appointed by me to receive them. This will not embrace the side arms of the officers, nor their private horses or baggage. This done, each officer and man will be allowed to return to his home, not to be disturbed by United States authorities so long as they observe their paroles and the laws in force where they may reside.

U. S. GRANT, Lieut. Gen.

"Gen. R. E. LEE.

It was noticed by those who were present that, while Grant was penning these words, he chanced to look up, and his eyes fell upon the bright glitter of General Lee's sword. He paused for a moment, his mind conceived a new thought and he inserted in the document the provision that "this will not embrace the side-arms of officers nor their private horses or baggage."

It must be remembered that General Lee had verbally accepted the terms of surrender without this provision, and of course he expected, as was highly proper, to surrender his sword to the victor. Grant's magnanimity, however, again got the best of him. The wish was farthest from his heart to humiliate even his enemy. In accordance with this wish General Grant made no demand for General Lee's sword, and no tender of it was offered.

General Lee put on his spectacles to read what Grant had written. He was touched by the clemency of the victorious commander, and, on laying down the paper, said simply, in a husky tone of voice, "Magnanimous, General."

But he essayed to gain a few points, and remarked:

"The horses of my cavalry and artillery, General, are the property of the soldiers. It is, I hope, within the terms that they shall retain their property."

"It is not within the terms," re-General Grant.

Lee glanced at the paper again and then said:

"No. You are right. The terms do not allow it."

"And now," said Grant. "I believe the war is over, and that the surrender of this army will be followed soon by that of all the others. I know that the men, and, indeed, the whole South, are impoverished. I will not change the terms of the surrender, General Lee, but I will instruct my officers who receive the paroles to allow the cavalry and artillerymen to retain their horses and take them home to work their little farms."

"Such an act on your part, General," replied Lee, "will have the best effect in the South."

He then sat down, and wrote out the following letter:

"HDQRS ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA, April 9, 1865.

"General: I recieved your letter of this date containing the terms of the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia as proposed by you. As they are substantially the same as those expressed in your letter of the 8th inst., they are accepted. I will proceed to designate the proper officers to carry the stipulations into effect.

R. E. LEE, General.

"Lieutenant General U. S. GRANT."

While duplicates of the two letters were being made, the Union Generals present were severaly presented to General Lee. They were received rather coldly, but yet courteously.

Pending the signing of the formal papers, General Lee stated that his men were starving, and requested General Grant to provide rations for them. Grant inquired how many rations were wanted. Lee could not answer the question, for the reason that he had no idea of his own strength.

"Will twenty-five thousand rations suffice?" asked Grant.

"I think it will," replied Lee; and that number he received. Before the Confederates gave up their guns, they were fed by their enemies.

The papers were now signed. A few more words were exchanged, the two commanders shook hands, and Lee went to the vernandah. The Union officers followed and saluted him. One moment more the military chieftain of the Southern Confederacy had mounted his horse and was gone—he and his whole army prisoners of war.

As he came within his own lines the soldiers crowded around him. With tears in his eyes he confronted them. "Men," he said, "we have fought through the war together. I have done the best I could do for you."

General Grant returned to his headquarters, where the firing of salutes welcomed him. He gave orders to have it stopped at once.

"The war is over," he said; "the rebels are our countrymen again, and the best sign of rejoicing after the victory will be to abstain from all demonstrations in the field."

He dismounted by the roadside, sat down on a stone, and called for pencil and paper. An aid-de-camp offered him his order book, taking which he wrote:

"Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War; Washington;

"Gen. Lee surrendered the army of Northern Virginia this afternoon on terms proposed by myself. The accompanying additional correspondence will show the condition fully.

"U. S. GRANT. Lieut. Gen."

Another Life Saved.

About two years ago, a prominent citizen of Chicago was told by his physicians that he must die. They said his system was so debilitated that there was nothing left to build on. He made up his mind to try a "new departure." He got some of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and took it according to directions. He began to improve at once. He kept up the treatment for some months, and is to-day a well man. He says the "Discovery" saved his life.

"The Dyspeptic's Refuge,"

"I am thirty-five years old," writes Mr. Charles H. Watts, of West Somers, Putnam county, N. Y., "and had suffered from dyspepsia for 15 years. The current treatment did no good. Listlessly and without hope I gave Parker's Tonic a trial. I can give the result in three words, it cured me." It will cure you.

A long-haired elephant, larger and more perfect than any specimen hitherto secured, is being extricated from the ice at the mouth of the Lena delta.

When Tried Alway Preferred.

When they once become acquainted with it, ladies invariably prefer Parker's Hair Balsam to any similar preparation. It makes the hair soft and glossy, arrests its falling off, promotes new growth, restores the original color, and has no rival as a dressing. Not a dye, not oily, highly perfumed. Only 50c., at druggists.

New Course of Study.

The Bishops, at their meeting held immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, arranged the following course of study to be pursued by candidates for the Methodist ministry. All examinations made after May 1, 1885, will be upon this new course of study:

For Traveling Preachers.

FOR ADMISSION ON TRIAL.

Common English Branches.
History of the U. S.—Ridpath	$3 00
Scripture History—Smith. (Abridged edition in one volume.) Net	60
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3) Net	5
History of ethodism.—Stevens. (Abridged edition.)	3 00
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Edition of 1884
Compendium of Methodism.—Porter	1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. 1) sett	5 00
Books of reference:
Whitney's Hand-book of Bible Geography	2 25
Freeman's Hand-book of Bible Manners and Customs	2 25

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scripture chapters I XXX—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol I) sett	7 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. Net	1 60
Rhetoric.—Hill, Net	1 00
Written Sermons.
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons (Vol II.)
Christian Purity—Foster	1 50
Introduction to the Gospel Records—Nast	1 75
Ecclesiastical Law and Rules of Evidence—Henry and Harris	3 00
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol I.—Reid	3 00

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. (chapters XXI-LII)—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology. Vol. II.—Pope	1 75
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 60
Lessons in Logic.—Sevens. Net	40
To be read:
Checks to Antinomianism—Fletcher	5 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged). Stevens	3 00
Defense of our Fathers—Emory	85
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol. II.—Reid	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters I-XIII—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope. Vol. III	7 50
Atonement in hrist.—Mil s y	1 25
History of the Church—Blackburn	2 50
Intellectual Science—Porter	3 00
Homilectics.—Kidder	1 50
Written Sermon
To be read:
Theological Encyclopedia and Methodology.—Crooks and Hurst	3 50
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XIX-XLIV Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Theological Institutes. Part II—Watson	6 00
Analogy of Natural and Revealed Theology.—Butler	1 50
Written Exegesis
To be read:
Life and Epistles of St. Paul.—onybeare and Howson (Abridged Edition)	1 00
Biblical Hermeneutics.—Terry
History of Rationalism—Hurst	3 00

For Local Preachers.

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: History. Outlines of Bible History.—Hurst	$ 50
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 2)	05
Christian Theology. Introduction and Book I.—Wakefield	2 50
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (Edition of 1884)
Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation.—Walker	1 25
To be read:
Hints to Self-educated Ministers.—Porter	1 25
A Hundred Years of Methodism—Simpson	1 50
Portrait of St. Paul.—Fletcher	75

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: Doctrines
Christian Theology. Books II and III.—Wakefield	2 50
Christian Baptism.—Merrill	1 00
Church History: Outlines of Church History.—Hurst	50
Ancient History.—Thalheimer
To be read:
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25
History of the United States.—Ridpath	3 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged Edition).—Stevens	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible. Sacraments
Christian Theology. Books IV and V.—Wakefield	2 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Aspects of Christian Experience.—Merrill	1 00
Rhetoric.—Haven	90
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 60
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol I.) Introduction to the Gospel Records.—Nast	5 00
Era of the Protestant Revolution.—Seebohm.	1 25
	75

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Christian Theology. Books VI and VII.—Wakefield	2 50
Logic.—Jevons. (Science Primer Edition.)	45
Elements of Intellectual Science.—Porter	3 00
Review of the course for the three preceding years
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. Vol. II. books to Antinomianism.—Fletcher	5 00
History of the Reformation.—Fisher	2 50
Protestant Foreign Missions.—hristlieb	1 00

Terms, cash with order. Address,

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St. New Orleans.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.

For Teachers and Young People.

To clubs of six or more, one address, 55 cents each. 65 cents a year.

The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.

For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.

50 Cents a Year.

It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.

For Bible Classes and the Adult Department.

20 Cents a Year.

The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs, besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.

For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.

6 Cents a Year.

The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Songs (with music) in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.

For the Younger Scholars.

6 Cents a Year.

The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.

For the Little Folks.

$4 a Year; $1 a Quarter.

The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.

For Infant Classes.

25 Cents a Year.

The Pictures Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.

For the Children.

Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each. The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.

For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.

Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.

This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people.

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

Juvenile Periodicals.

We are now prepared to furnish the following Juvenile Periodicals for 1884 at the regular subscription price:

WIDE AWAKE,

The Great Pictorial Magazine,

$3.00 a Year.

WIDE AWAKE, the best, the most entertaining, the most beautifully illustrated of all magazines for young people.

BABYLAND.

The Only Magazine in the World Expres for Babies.

Only 50 Cents a Year.

It will have its baby music, its bab stories, and its large, beautiful picture

Our Little Men and Women

For Youngest Readers at Home and at School.

Only $1.00 a Year.

Little men and women just beginning to read, will find this monthly filled with charming stories and poems. It is the aim of the editor to give entirely true stories, or stories based on facts.

THE PANSY,

An Eight page Weekly, for Boys and Girls

Only 75 Cents a Year.

This illustrated paper, edited by "Pansy," is equally suited to week day and Sunday reading.

Subscriptions received by

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1885.

Notice to Agents.

DEAR BRETHREN—It is usua for us to call upon you at this period of the year to make a special effort for your Church paper. The general prevalence of dull times makes it imperative that we call upon each agent to send a sum of money to this office within the next few days. Do not hesitate to send small amounts. Every dollar will count. Give the old accounts the preference, and if an agent owes nothing let him secure a cash subscriber or two and forward the money to

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans, La.

We have heard of a preacher and his wife, not in the South, who went a whole day in the coldest winter weather without food or fire. The wife has since died. The days of the heroes are not over.

On the death of his wife John John Calvin wrote to his friend Farel, "I swallowed my grief in such a manner that I have not intermitted my function for a moment." In this he should be the last of his line.

"As David's did, so will our enemies say if the SOUTHWESTERN goes down, 'Aha! aha! I told you that the Negroes could not run the paper without a white man to lead them.' We must make this paper live and live grandly."—Ansel Wanton.

Before a girl consents to become a member of any man's family she ought to carefully inquire into his plans and ideas about a family. She might not be able to agree with and any difference of views ought to be ascertained before, as it cannot be corrected after marriage.

The Lord hateth, first a proud look; second, lying tongue; third, hands that shed innocent blood; fourth, minds that devise wicked imaginations; fifth, feet that be swift in running to mischief; sixth, a false witness that speaks lies; seventh, him that soweth discord among brethren.

"I once worked for white men and sawed wood for their wives; now I work for myself and think it quite right to saw wood for my own wife," said Mr. Robert Willis in response to an interrogation of his wife at their home in New Castle, Indiana.

There is a red hot political campaign up North, but it has not yet struck the South. One can hardly keep trace of the election days down here. Everybody understands that Mr. Cleveland will receive our votes, nicely done up in packages, so that only work is to make things hot where there is a probability of counting all the votes cast for those whom they are cast.

Said the father of Rev. John Foster, of Halifax, England, to his daughter, "I cannot keep a wife." "Then I will work and keep my husband," said the noble-minded girl. How often we find the repetition of this in acts without the manly frankness of the elder Foster to declare such incompetency as would create the need of it before marriage.

Rev. L. M. Hagood is the first elected than ever elected to the [illegible] of the Tennessee [illegible]. Dr. Readen has filled [illegible] responsible position almost [illegible] organization. At the late [illegible] he gracefully nominated [illegible] and the conference [illegible] and unanimously elected [illegible] Methodist Epis[illegible] and inducted [illegible] into places [illegible] and usefulness [illegible] service.

The Object of Church Trials.

The object of Church trials is to save and not to destroy men. If they were always conducted in the way, and preceeded by the preliminary labor prescribed in the Discipline, there are few ministers in our Church whose official life would be long enough to witness more than two or three of them in their own charge. If the object is forgotten, and the administrator allows himself to be swayed by petty prejudices or resentful if not a revengeful spirit, they may become very frequent. Under such circumstances these trials become as prejudicial to sound discipline as rightly administered they are helpful to it.

The person to be tried should be always made to feel that those connected with a trial are his friends; that their aim is to cure him of a fault and maintain the purity of the church. How often does their conduct leave the contrary impression and consequently beget a spirit of indifference or determined and technical opposition on the part of the accused?

Committees should be carefully chosen, and the greatest deliberation, calmness and Christian sincerity mingled with earnest firmness, should always characterize their action. No levity, boasting, lightness, foolish jesting or unbrotherly conduct should ever take place at these trials.

The ministerial call is to "seek and save that which is lost." When it appears from the frequency of church trials in his charge that any minister has construed his call to be an order to expell as many members as he can on as light provocation as possible, it should be made the subject of diligent inquiry for the good of the Church. If ministers have the "keys of the kingdom of Heaven," it is for the purpose of finding more souls than they lose. It is not a small thing to "deliver up a soul to Satan." This is what a real expulsion from the church amounts to, when the expulsion is not justified by the conduct of the accused or there is not sufficient preliminary effort to save the offender. Then the administrator shoulders a fearful responsibility which he must meet not only in the Church but also in the judgment before God. Where church trials are too frequent and for trifling causes there is just danger of bringing the church into ridicule if not contempt, they are intended to be the last of a long line of earnest efforts to save souls. Only the finally incorrigible are proper subjects for these trials. The Lord help all ministers to ponder these things carefully in their minds, and to act with moderation.

The Christian Sabbath.

1.—A day of secular rest.—The Fourth Commandment is conclusive to the point that the seventh or any day substituted for it must be a day of rest from all forms of secular employment. We argue not now the question whether the substitution of another than the seventh day of the week for the Sabbath is warranted by either Scripture practice or precept. For the present we assume that there is such warrant, and then maintain that true Christianity involves a suspension of all secular matters under our control, and the rest of children, servants, beasts of burden and possessions. Every violation of this order brings the offender into condemnation.

2.—The Christian Sabbath a day of religious activity.—The command to rest from secular pursuits, must not be construed into a license to devote one-seventh of our time to indolence of idleness. We must be religiously active. The "Sabbath is a blessed and a hallowed day." We must employ our minds meditatively upon the mercies we have received during the week. We must bring all our concerns into such condition that we can attend the house of worship, the bed-side of the sick, the places of sorrow, and in all be constantly engaged in a service.

Church Debts.

We are often reminded of the evil effects of allowing debts to individuals, contracted in the building of churches, to run an unreasonable length of time. In the first place, it is better not to contract debts, but when they are contracted should be promptly paid when due to preserve the purity and influence of the church and to prevent inconvenience and suffering on the part of the creditors. The old Wesleyan rule to build churches plain, though honored more in the breach than in the practice, is a good rule for the present, as it proved to be in the past, and even with this rule observed good business tact is needed, and should be employed to avoid indebtedness. A case illustrating the truth of these statements has recently come to our notice in relation to the church at Handsboro, Miss. The sum of $28 was borrowed of a sister, and still remains unpaid, causing a very agrieved feeling; and still another amount from another person. We are told that both of these debts have been running now for fifteen years.

Eye Service.

The Mississippi Conference received a voluminous amount of teaching, useful exhortation to abstain from the use of tobacco. This advice was accepted with many an amen and implied pledge to exemplify the same in practice. But, alas for many of the most enthusiastic anti-tobaccoists, they were no sooner clear of the Bishop's sight than they situated themselves at the end of a lighted cigar. One of them, who could not pay his bill to the SOUTHWESTERN, gave this writer a fine cigar, as he called it. The use of tobacco may be, but the use of this sort of hypocrisy, undoubtedly is a most unbecoming and censurable thing, especially in ministers. We should be servants of God, and if we be not ashamed to have God see us use tobacco it shows a depth of slavish unmanliness to hide it from a fellow mortal, that only men quite unfit for the Christian ministry could be guilty of. Such cowardly shams as these will not soon be able to elevate a race or overcome the doubting of unbelievers. They are the merest eye-servants of men, and the love of God abideth not in them.

Bishop Taylor's Salary.

Bishop William Taylor has written, and caused to be read before the Book Committee at its recent session in New York, a long letter, the purport of which was, as it seems to us, an effort to show that he is a real Bishop when in Africa and therefore entitled to pay in the same amount and manner as the other Bishops. But this is obviously an erroneous assumption not warranted by anything in the constitutional provisions by which his office was created, neither has it any just warrant by word or implication of any word or act of the two precedents of Burns and Roberts; or in anything connected with his consecration. We think the nature of his work will make it needful that he receive the salary of a full Bishop, but that in the nature of things it must be paid by either the Liberia Conference or the Missionary Society. We regretted his declination to accept the offer of a salary from the Missionary Society, and knew at the time he had made a mistake. He is a missionary, so elected, consecrated and accepted, and should be properly paid out of the missionary treasury.

The time has come for our patsors to leave the schools or retire from the pulpits until they can, by the usual habits of pastoral study, keep up their charges. It depreciates from any pastor's power to be a fellow-student in the same school, and perhaps at the foot of a class, with members whom he professes and is expected to teach. If it is needful to attend school the correct thing to do is to take the supernumerary relation or locate, and go from the scenes of pastoral work until the school days are ended.

General Grant.

The following explains itself:

Whereas, General Ulysses S. Grant, the matchless commander, the immovable patriot, and the exalted philanthropist, whose labors for his country will stand ever green in the history thereof, whose indomitable courage and heroic firmness saved it from dismemberment in the days of its dire necessity, now upon the bed of affliction, is rapidly nearing the end of his noble career; and,

Whereas, The simple trust Gen. Grant reposes in his God, and the invocation of the blessings of the Deity upon those of his household affords an example worthy of consideration, and is a signal triumph of our holy religion over the skepticism and unfaith which is widely prevalent in these times; therefore, be it,

Resolved, That this conference hereby records its prayerful sympathy with General Grant and his family in this hour of affliction, and commends them to the mercies of that God upon whom they are now so faithfully and beautifully leaning.

Resolved, That the deep concern manifest in many sublime words and deeds of General Grant in behalf of the Negro population of this country, exhibits a degree of philanthrophy which demands and will ever secure to him the gratitude of the thoughtful of that race.

Resolved, That the above be spread upon the journal of this conference, printed in our minutes and that copies be sent by the President and Secretary to General Grant and family in our behalf.

Signed: Marshall W. Taylor, E. W. S. Hammond, Jos. Courtney, J. L. Perrine, G. A. A. Sissle and Henry W. Tate.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted by the recent session of the Lexington Conference, and forwarded with the following result:

REPLY FROM GEN. GRANT.

New York, Apr. 20, '85.

Rev. H. W. Tate—

Dear Sir—Mrs. Grant requests me to write and thank you, and through you thank the Bishop and ministers of the Lexington Methodist Episcopal Conference for the expressions of sympathy and condolence contained in your communication of the 17th inst.

Respectfully.

F. D. GRANT.

Righteousness Exalteth a Nation.

It appears from a letter written to us, unfortunately without any name to it, that there is cause for complaint at the tardiness of justice in the courts of Hempstead, and, indeed, of Waller county, Texas, where colored people are concerned. It also shows that the attempt of Negroes to vote as they choose in that county is a farce. We do not generally give credence to all that we hear on these lines, but there seems ample reason to believe that an abnormal condition of things exists at Hempstead.

Long Time the Scales in Even Balance Hung.

It is a close shave between West Texas and the Mississippi Conference, and we cannot decide between the two. One thing we can say is that Washington, Delaware and Lexington have no time to play if they would remain in the lead of these conferences.

The attitude of Catholicism toward our public schools—a problem of grave concern at the present time—is to be discussed from opposite premises in the June number of the North American Review, by M. C. O'Byrne, of North Carolina, against the Roman Catholic Church and Bishop Keane, of Virginia, in defense of its policy.

Our collections in the Tennessee Conference were one hundred per cent. better this year than last, in spite of the panic, poor crops, political excitement and all. This conference now owes less than one hundred dollars, and they might as well push things, pay that and be free, owing no man anything.

Personal.

—Rev. M. O. Fox, of the South India Conference, arrived in New York City on May 2.

—Rev. J. L. Humphrey has been appointed to Richfield Springs, N. Y., since his return from India.

—Dr. I. W. Joyce is preaching a series of special sermons in Trinity Church, Cincinnati, Sunday nights.

—Revs. J. B. Smith, of Enterprise, L. J. S. Bell, of Quitman, Miss., R. H. Harbert, of Marshall, Texas; and Messrs. R. Cutts and G. Ware, of Hushuqua, Miss., called to see us last week.

—Bishop Hurst arrived safe and well in Italy. The conference has been postponed from the 9th to the 23d inst., and is to meet at Bologna. The new church at this place will be dedicated during the session of conference.

—The Rev. Thomas Harrison is conducting a successful revival in Lonisville, Ky. One feature about Mr. Harrison's revivals is that they cling to the mourners bench as one of the elements in their progress, and are without any discriminations as to persons attending them.

—M. V. P., R. L. Harris, No. 1336; P., C. P. Beck, No. 1990; M. V. P., C. B. Wilson, No. 1640; G. M., E. D. Burke, No. 1971, and P. N. F., Wm. H. Penn, Household No. 26, G. U. O. of O. F., of New Orleans, La., will please accept the thanks of the SOUTHWESTERN for recent courtesies, of which absence from home alone deprived the enjoyment. Sirs, Brothers and Sisters, we are yours in A. A. et V. Some day we will greet you when Capricornus is in his festive ways. Until then, whang bang.

—Mr. John J. Goode is a honored young man of Evanston, Ills., and a student within one year of graduation from the classical course in Northwestern University, after which he expects to enter the educational work of our Church. Last fall he, with one hundred of others, stood the competitive examination for a clerkship in the War Department, and on April 2d he received notice that he was the successful contestant. He has gone to Washington to enter upon his new duties. Thus, one by one, here and there, in this way and that, are we solving the so-called problem of Negro possibility with opportunity. While we regret that the Church must lose so efficient a workman as this young man promises to become, we are proud of his attainments, and vote him hearty success.

—There are few more faithful, cultivated and deserving ministers anywhere within the scope of our acquaintance than the Rev. D. W. Hays, of the Knoxville charge, East Tennessee conference. His faithful ministerial services made all the more useful by his rich fund of learning and his rare Christian graces, it seems has full recognition and merited appreciation by the people he so satisfactorily serves. Recently one evening, shortly after divine service at the Church, a party of members with a number of friends, headed by Mrs. Mary Coffin, proceeded to the parsonage and agreeably surprised the pastor and his family. The callers entered the house bringing presents of various sorts which were piled upon the table in rich profusion and left as testimonials of affectionate esteem. Some time was spent in exchanging friendly greetings; after which the party retired, leaving behind hearts beating lighter than before. Such acts of appreciation on the part of our people toward their ministers are eminently becoming and merit public acknowedgement.

—Dr. J. C. Hartzell, assistant corresponding secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, returned to his home in this city last week, from an official visitation of twenty annual conferences in the East. Beginning with the Virginia Conference, in the latter part of February, the Doctor's trip extended to the extreme North, and beyond Boston to the eastern shores of Maine. In addition to addressing conferences and holding anniversaries, he presented his cause in several of our principal Churches in New York, Brooklyn, and Boston. We are glad to learn that the outlook for this society in the East is encouraging. In spite of the hard times, the Eastern Conferences will make some advance in their collections over last year. Pastors and people are feeling the great importance of helping more largely in the work of giving educated Christian ministers and teachers to the multitudes in the South who do not have them. The broadened work of the society in aiding the needy and neglected whites as well as the negroes commends itself to the thoughtful and aggressive sentiment of the Church.—Western.

Church Polity.

Is the Sunday-school designed to benefit grown people, and if so, why are they neglected in ours when they attend it?

SUBSCRIBER.

Answer—1. The Sunday-school is designed to benefit all people. In all the Sunday-schools we know of efforts are made to secure the attendance of adults just the same as children, and so it should be.

2. Why are they neglected in ours when they attend it? By "ours" you mean, of course, the one you attend, for in the sense that all Sunday-schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church are "ours" it would not be true that grown people are neglected. Just why they are neglected in yours is hard to tell. Maybe the officers and teachers can't see well. It may be their conduct makes them ashamed to teach old people. We once knew a very rude boy who made the habit of hiding himself from older people who were pious and knew of his impiety, and we thought him a very sensible boy for doing so. Seriously, it is very improper and detrimental to the school to neglect any one, old or young, who wishes to attend any Sunday-school. If teachers or officers do so designedly they should be removed at next Board meeting afterwards.

American Bible Society.

The stated meeting of the Board of Managers was held at the Bible House, on Thursday April 2d, 1885, the Hon. E. L. Fancher, L.L. D., Vice-President, in the chair.

Religious services were conducted by Secretary McLean.

The sad announcement was made that since the last meeting of the Board two of the resident Vice Presidents of the society, namely, Frederick S. Winston, Esq., and Charles Tracy, Esq., had been removed by death. The managers placed upon the record of the Board an expression of their sincere regard for their late associates, and of the great loss which the Society has sustained in their decease.

Letters and reports were presented from most of the Foreign Agents of the society, giving interesting and, for the most part, encouraging accounts of work in their respective fields.

Grants of books were made for benevolent distribution, chiefly in the United States, of the aggregate value of about $8,300. Appropriations of funds were made for printing and circulating the Scriptures in the foreign lands, to the amount of $109,048.85. This includes grants to the agencies of the societies in Mexico, Brazil, Japan, and Levant, also to the American Board for its Mission in Spain and Ceylon; to the Presbyterian Board for its Siam and Lodiana Missions; to the Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for its work in Germany and Switzerland; the Russian Bible Society of France; and to the Waldensian Committee of Evangelization.

Two Bible societies were organized as Auxiliaries in Nebraska, one in Illinois, and one in Colorado.

The total receipts for March were $76,578 21. The issues from the Bible House during the same period were 68,440 volumnes.

Hens about Simpsonville are quite busy attending to family affairs, and eggs for eating are consequently very scarce.

Schools and Colleges.

Clark University.

E. V. THAYER.

Clark University was, in its infancy, merely a primary school, continnons in this State from the date of its birth, 1869, till the spring of 1871, under the charge of several persons. Rev. J. W. Lee was the organizer, and was followed during these two years by Rev. D. W. Hammond, Miss Lon Henley, Mr. Uriah Cleary, and Rev. I. Marcy—nurses enongh to kill any ordinary child. During 1870, Rev. L. D. Barrows conducted a theological class, which might legitimately be considered the childhood of the present well-developed Gammon School of Theology. In the Spring of this year a fine property on Whitehall street was purchased and the school at once took a higher grade. Rev. J. W. Lee again became Principal and continued in this office until the Fall of 1874, when the elegant preacher, Isaac J. Lansing succeeded him. The people of Lloyd Street Church will never forget his sermons. After two years he songht a broader field for the exercise of his pulpit powers, and Mr. J. V. Martin, assisted by W. H. Crogman and Miss Mary Owen, took charge. During this year, 1877, a charter was obtained giving the institution full powers as a university. In the fall of this year Rev. R. E. Bisbee was elected President. He remained long enough to see the beautiful site of 450 acres purchased and Chrisman Hall dedicated, and spent one year within its walls. The present President, Rev. E. O. Thayer, took charge in the Fall of 1881. Clark University has taken the lead of the other schools of the Freedmen's Aid Society in its Industrial Departments, being the first to put in operation the "Model Home" idea. There are now in successful operation departments of carpentry, farming, painting, carriage-making in every particular, blacksmithing, harness-making, shoe-making, house-work and dress-making. The Gammon School of Theology has already been illustrated and described in the SOUTHWESTERN. The Collegiate and Normal Departments are doing good work, and a large attendance from seven States attests the popularity of the school. With it will ever be associated the names of Bishop Clark, who inspired its beginning, of Bishop Haven, who laid its foundations so wisely and broadly, and of Bishop Warren, who has built so grand a superstructure. We are now awaiting the generous soul who will snpplement Mr. Gammon's latest generous offer and enable us to erect the much needed Warren Hall.

Rust University.

The annual examination of classes in Rust University will begin Monday, June 1st and close Monday, June 8th. The Board of Trustees will hold their annual meeting in Room B of Rust Hall, at 3 p. m., on Monday. A full attendance is earnestly requested. At 8 p. m., in the Chapel of Rust Hall, the Literary Societies will give their annual entertainment. Tuesday, 10 a. m., the graduating exercises of the senior class will take place in the Chapel of Rust Hall. Bishop Mallalieu, Dr. E. S. Rust, Rev. W. P. Tolefield, Dr. Marshall W. Taylor and others are expected to be with us during commencement week. All friends of the institution are cordially invited to be present. W. W. HOOPER.

Commencement—Central Tennessee College.

The annual examinations will begin Tuesday, May 14th, and continue till May 20th. Members of the pastor's course who propose passing examination at the College will be present during these days. Sunday, May 17th, at 11 a. m., the annual love feast. At 8 p. m. the Baccalaureate sermon; at 7:30 p. m. the annual sermon, by Rev. I. B. [illegible], of the West Texas [illegible]. Monday, 7:30 p. m., [illegible] and the Students' Association, [illegible] exercises of the undergraduates. Wednesday, 2 p. m., meeting of the Board of Trustees; 7:30 p. m., public exercises of the theological department. Thursday, 10 o'clock, a. m., addresses of the graduating classes; 7:30 p. m., annual meeting of the Alumni Association.

J. BRADEN.

Nashville, Tenn., Apr. 27, 1885.

The announcements for commencement weeek at Lassel Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., are as follows: Wednesday evening, June 10, Mrs. J. C. Croly, "Jennie June," of New York City, literary address before the school. Sunday morning, June 14th, Baccalaureate sermon, Henry B. Ridgaway, D. D., Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. The commencement address, Wednesday morning, June 17, Rev. Edward Everett Hale, Boston, Mass.

Commencement Exercises of Clark University.

May 28 June 6, Sunday-school Institnte.

Sunday, June 7, 10:30 a. m., Baccalaureate sermon. 7:30 p. m., Annual missionary sermon.

Monday and Tuesday, 8:45 a. m. to 1.45 p. m., Examinations of classes.

Monday, 7 p. m., Class day exercises, class of 1885.

Tuesday, 3 p. m., Trustee meeting. 8 p. m., Prize declamations.

Wednesday, Commencement day. 10 a. m., Orations by graduating class. Annual address by Rev. A. G. Haygood, D. D.

Philander Smith College.

The following is the programme of commencement exercises of Philander Smith College, June 1-10, 1885:

June 1-5, Examination of senior preparatory class.

Friday, June 5. 8 p. m., Lecture before the Y. M. C. Association of the College, by Rev. S. Cornelius, D. D.; subject, "The Lessons of History."

Sunday, June 7, 3 p. m., Annual lecture by Hon. Wm. G. Whipple; subject, "The Growth of Common Education." 8 p. m., Annual sermon, by President T. Mason, A. M.

Monday, June 8, 9 a. m. to 12 m. Annual examinations. 6 p. m., Entertainment, fair and sale of goods by Industrial Department.

Wednesday, June 10, 6 a. m. to 15 m., Annual examinations. 8 p. m., Commencement exercises.

The Essay Contest.

In accordance with the conditions of the gift of Rev. W. F. Stewart of the Rock River Conference, a prize contest for the students of the New Orleans University, was held last Wednesday night in First Street M. E. Church, superintended by President A. F. Hoyt. Revs. Norton and A. E. P. Albert and Mr. Emerson Bentley were the judges on the part of the trnstees to award the prizes. These consisted wholly of books, and about $30 worth of substantial and excellent books were distributed among the eight competitors under the judges' decision. The merits, names of students and snbjects were as follows;

1. Rev. M. C. B. Mason, "Filial Affection."

2. Rev. Ernest Lyon, "Falsehood."

3. Miss E. M. Williamson, "A Young Woman's Education."

4. Mr. A. P. Camphor, "A View of Life."

5. Miss Eloise Bibb, "An Evening at the Spanish Fort."

6. Miss Emma Carter, "Ambition."

7. Mr. Philip C. Read, "A View of School Life."

8. Rev. A. J. Ford, "The Eloquence of the Sacred Scripture."

Rev. A. E. P. Albert, for the judges, delivered the prizes and commended the efforts of the students.

The audience were pleased with the essays, and also with the excellent vocal and instrumental music by Mrs. E. Lyon, wife of the pastor of Sixth Street M. E. Church.

A Catholic lady in Mt. Vernon, O., has been excommunicated for attending a skating rink.

Our Colored Conferences and the Benevolent Collections.

BY A. E. P. ALBERT.

According to the statistics given in the General Minutes for the spring and fall conferences of 1884 we find that the colored conferences gave to the geneaal benevolent collections of the Church, exclnsive of what is paid to bishops and conference claimants, the snm of $20,584.36 annnally—an average of nine cents and a fraction over six mills per member for the 214,172 colored members in the Church, in the United States. This amount may seem an extravagant sum by thoughtless ones, bnt how little does it appear when compared with the $69,900 which the Church gives us from the missionary and Church Extension treasuries alone!—without counting the multiplied thonsands of dollars annually expended throngh the Freedmen's aid, Snnday-school Union, Tract Society and the other benevolent agencies of the Church for the benefit of our colored membership! The thonght should inspire us to do more and more, nntil we may not only become self-snpporting bnt may join hands in spreading the Gospel to the regions beyond.

The following, showing what each conference did for the benevolent causes per member, may not prove unprofitable reading. Let the pastors "read, mark and inwardly digest" it, and then call the attention of their members to it. Let it be a source of encouragement to those in the front rank, and of instrnction to those lagging behind:

Conference	Per member
Florida pays	20cts.	7 mills
Louisiana	16	5
West Texas	13	5
Washington	11	1
Texas	10	8
Savannah	10	3
South Carolina	10	1
Lexington	10	0
Tennessee	9	4
East Tennessee	8	9
Little Rock	8	5
Delaware	7	2
Central Alabama	3	7
North Carolina	3	6
Mississippi	3	1

The above plan shows the relative position of the colored conferences in the matter of their benevolences. It shows within a fraction of a mill what each collected as reported in spring and fall conferences of 1884. Wake up, brethren! Let us all strive to make a better showing.

New Orleans District.

REV. L. P. CUSHMAN.

There are a few persons who have found their way into the Methodist Episcopal Church who seem to think that the Church requires too much watching, praying, and self-denial. They make frequent reference to a day that they hope is to come when a large measure of love and saving power shall be manifest, and men and nations shall be saved without the nse of money or the agency of the church. So now they are looking for the time when, by some ecclesiastical arrangement they shall be relieved from the performance of so much that is nnpleasant in connection with their religious life. Rev. Ernest Lyon, pastor of the Sixth Street Church, does not belong to this class. He does not think that any arrangement by which either the ministry or membership of the Church could be relieved from their present state of watchfulness, prayer and self denial would be considered an improvement. "Work while it is day" and "watch, fight and pray," is his teaching by precept and example. Under his counsel all parties have become one, and every one seems in earnest to help on in the work of repairing and enlarging the church now going on which, when completed, will put this church among the first in the city. The entire cost of this enlargement will not be less than $1,200, bnt when the work is once completed every friend of the church will surely thank God. The reports at the last quarterly conference, held May 18th, showed that during the quarter full $460 had been raised for all purposes. Let each member of the church earnestly pray that the sound of the saw and the ring of the hammer may be followed by a pentecost of the Holy Spirit, and the salvation of mnltitndes of men and women.

Simpson Chapel, nnder the pastoral direction of Bro. Jackson, is rejoicing in another year of prosperity. The spirit of unity is among the people, and a glorions work is being done. Thns far dnring his pastorate, the membership has more than donbled; the debt that had been annoying the trustees for so many years has been nearly all paid, and the church neatly painted. A nobler band of earnest Christian workers one will rarely meet with than the members of Simpson Chapel.

It is said by some writers that "when an Episcopal bee gets into a preacher's bonnet it is sure to sting him to death." As to the correctness of this statement we are not able to speak. We do know, however, that when a "presiding elder bee" gets into a preacher's bonnet it not only makes him exceedingly restless and nneasy, bnt to say and do things very unbecoming in a Methodist minister. A gracious Providence seems to have preserved both Bros. Lyon and Jackson from the sting of this bee.

Next to a honse of worship there is no investment that a pastoral charge can make that yields so rich a retnrn as a snm snfficient to secure a good parsonage for the preacher. There are special reasons why every charge or circnit in the conference should have a parsonage. It is something more than bad economy, it is unchristian, it is cruel to let the preacher each year occnpy some old rented house destitnte of comfort, because it can be gotten cheap. We note with great pleasure the fact that the parsonage building is abroad in the land. At LaHarp oure people have just completed a cottage with sufficient room to domicile any preacher and his family in the Louisiana Conference. We know of no part of Louisiana so poorly snpplied with parsonages as the New Orleans District. It is a fact worthy of attention that our oldest and strongest appointments have provided no home for their preachers. LaHarpe has done well, and we hope that other churches will catch this spirit and the good work go on until every pastoral charge shall be able to domicile its pastor comfortably.

We think that the Church should be distinctly separate from the world and noted not half so much for its recreations as for its piety. Here in Louisiana there are fearful odds against the Church. We have need of intelligent, honest, earnest workers, who themselves know the saving power of the Lord Jesus and will find it easy to keep a hot fire at home. Jason, when sailing by the island of the sirens, was not troubled because he had better music on board.

At Clinton Street all departments of church work are flonrishing. A good religious interest prevails among the people. At the last qnarterly love feast over one hnndred spoke in less than one hour. The trnstees have resolved to paint the church inside and ont. With Bro. Ford in the pulpit it is expected that this church will do this year valiantly for Christ and Methodism.

The Methodist Men and Womens Mutual Aid and Beneficiary Association.

One Rev. S. N. Taylor came to Georgetown and organized what he called a Methodist Aid and Beneficiary Society, and claims for its foundation the Methodist Church, or the M. E. Church connection. In the law special promises were made, among them was that any member of the Society who died in good standing shonld have as mnch as 60 cents in the male department, would amount to each member's being assessed 60 cents a piece 30 days after the death of the member. The same rule in the female department. Their assessment being 40 cents. One of our members died Nov. 12, 1884., in good standing both with the church and society. We informed Revs. Taylor and Hnghes according to law and have not heard a word from them, except, throngh Rev. McDade, stating that the member had not paid her assessment. We have not been assessed at any time on the part of the female department. We male members were assessed once by Bro. McDade. We have been writing to them (Taylor and Hnghes) for four months, bnt have not recieved a word from them. They collected $80, from the women alone, we buried the sister at a cost of $30. The undertaker is waiting for his money.

The total amonnt that these two gentlemen received was $100 off of this church. Please look into this matter. Both of these men claimed to be preachers in good standing in the M. E. Church, No. 1008 or 1203 Linden street, St. Louis, Mo. I am a member of said organization, also a steward of the M. E. Chnrch in this town. Our presiding elder of this (Lexington) district and several of his local preachers were members of said organization till the death of onr Sister, which occurred Nov. 12, 1884, then they seemed not to know anything abont it. If onr pastor, McDade, had not advised us that it was all right we wonld not have gone into it; as he was our elder, we thonght he knew what was best for ns to do.

SAMUEL KIRBY,

Steward M. E. Church, P. O. box 221, Georgetown, Ky.

P. S.—I herewith inclose my policy from said organization. You will please return the same to me,

[The Lexington Conference, at its recent session, directed Rev. E. W. S. Hammond, Samnel Jones and Marshall W. Taylor to visit St. Louis, inqnire into and pnblish a a full statement of all that concerns members of this society, and authorized the presiding elders to provide for the expenses of the trip by personal advances and general assessment of their several districts. The former direction will be executed immediately after the latter is.—ED.]

General Church News.

Baptist churches are rapidly increasing in Dakota. At the beginning of 1880 there was only seventeen in the Territory; now there are over ninety-three.

At Stratford, Ont., the Methodists, Presbyterians, Baptists, and Congregationalists recently joined in union revival meetings. Over 350 were converted, about 140 of whom joined the Methodist church in the town and several with the churches in the country.

Rev. J. E. Starr, of the Berkeley Street church, who is not in favor of bazaars and socials for raising money, asked his congregation for $500 to meet certain expenses, and the amount contributed was $600.—Toronto Guardian.

During the past month revivals of religion have been more general throughout the churches of Washington than for years past. Immediately after the departure of Mr. Moody an earnest effort was made to conserve and intensify the interest already awakened.

A revival at Miami City, O., still continues unabated, in which the Presbyterians, United Bretheren, and Methodists fully share. Saloonkeepers have in some instances poured their liquors into the gutters and joined the Church, and gamblers have been converted. The whole theme of conversation in stores and shops is the snbject of religion. Several all-day prayer meetings have been held of late.

The union revival meeting under the direction of Dr. L. W. Munhall of Indianapolis, was concluded at Racine, Wis., last Thursday evening. The meetings lasted six weeks. Quite 750 professed conversion. Six hundred and fifty-seven had already handed in their names and indicated the churches they desired to attend or unite with.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
July 17-1y.

Books and Current Literature.

The North American Review concludes its seventieth year with its June number. It never had so large a circulation, nor greater influence, nor a more brilliant staff of contributors. This number discusses seven topics of vital public interest by no less than fourteen eminent writers, not including the short contributions in "Comments." "Shall Silver be Demonetized?" is answered pro and con, by three distinguished economists, Sumner, Laughlin and Walker, representing Yale and Harvard Colleges, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "The Tardiness of Justice" is discussed by Judge W. L. Learned, and "Probition in Politics" by Gail Hamilton; "The Swearing Habit" by E. P. Whipple, and "French Spoliation Claims" by Edward Everett. The policy of the Roman Catholic hirearchy toward our Public Schools is assailed in a learned essay by a new polemic, Mr. M. C. O'Byrne, of North Carolina, and defended by Bishop Keane, of Virginia, with equal erudition. It is a most interesting double presentation of an impending issue. "How Shall Women Dress?" is answered by Charles Dudley Warner, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Dr. W. A. Hammond, Dr. Kate J. Jackson, and Mrs. E. King, the English leader of the dress reform movement.

Harpers' Magazine for June is in every way a strong and entertaining number. The Frontispiece is a remarkably good engraving by W. B. Closson from G. F. Watts' painting, Paolo and Francesca, illustrating an article by F. D. Millett on the Watts Exhibition; in which the writer asks and answers the significant question "What shall our artist paint?" This number contains the sixth part of Miss Woolson's interesting novel, "East Angels," and the concluding part of "At the Red Glove," illustrated by C. S. Reinhart. We are promised in the July number the first part of a new novel by W. D. Howells, entitled "Indian Summer." Mr. Millet's quaint and entertaining Baltic sketches are concluded with rambles in Jutland and Vierlande, illustrated from drawings by the author R. Swain Gifford. The number is especially rich in illustrated articles on American subjects. Among the important articles of the number are "English in Schools," by Professor A. S. Hill, and "How Earthquakes are Caused," by Richard A. Proctor. Mr. George William Curtis, in the Editor's Easy Chair, discusses the nature of newspaper pictures of life, the acting of Henry Irving, the evil spell upon our geography of classic nomenclature, and the abuses of interviewing. The other Editorial Departments are filled with timely and interesting matter.

The Russian government prohibited the erection of a Luther monument at Riga, but it paid $450,000 for the building of an "orthodox" cathedral in that Lutheran city.

PERSONAL.

HUNT'S Kidney and Liver) REMEDY has saved from lingering disease and death hundreds who have been given up by physicians to die.

"Time and tide wait for no man.

Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy cures all diseases of the kidneys bladder, urinary organs dropsy, gravel, diabetes and incontinence and retention of urine.

Strike the iron while its hot.

Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy quickly induces the Liver to healthy action, removing the causes that produce Bilious Headache, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Piles, etc.

"Honesty is a strong staff to lean upon."

HONEST TESTIMONY.

Over 70 Years Old.

Col. Benj. S. Hazard, of Warwick, R. I., over 70 years old, suffered for 15 years with a terrible kidney and bladder difficulty. He was persuaded to try Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY. In less than a week the excruciating pains left him and have never since returned. Mr. Hazard recommends HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY to every one similarly afflicted, with the greatest confidence in its power to cure.

"Use wealth generously."

School Teacher.

Mr. H. L. Soper, principal of the high school at Poquonock, Ct., says: "My kidneys became weak and sluggish. Finding relief in HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY, I continued its use until I had used four bottles, when I became well."

"Economy is the household mine."

Decided Benefit.

Mr. Hiram Franklin, of Naugatuck, Conn., contracted a disease of the kidneys. Not finding any help, as a last resort he began taking HUNT'S [Kidney and Liver] REMEDY. The first bottle giving decided benefit. He continued its use until he had used three bottles, when all symptoms disappeared.

$1.25 at Druggists.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet to HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence, R. I.
C. N. CRITTENTON,
General Agent, New York.

CAREFUL WHAT YOU SAY.

BY W. K. HUSBANDS.

In speaking of a person's faults,
Pray don't forget your own;
Remember those with glass houses
Should never throw a stone.

We have no right to judge a man
Until he has been fairly tried;
Should we not like his company,
We know the world is wide.

If we have nothing else to do
But tell of those who sin,
'Tis better that we commence at home,
And with our own begin.

Now I will tell you of a plan,
You'll find it works quite well,
To take care of our own defects
Before of other people's we tell.

Though I hope some times to be
No worse than others I know,
My own short-comings bid me
Let the faults of other people go.

Some may have faults and who has not,
The old as well as the young,
Perhaps we may, for aught we know,
Have fifty to their one.

Remember faults, like our chickens,
Sometimes roost at home;
So don't speak of others faults
Until we have none of our own.

Domestic Hygiene.

ium and its Preparations—Narcotic Poisons.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

The greatest blessings are some- converted into the greatest . Pain is one of the things human beings never enjoy. jected with injuries and sick- of the body is pain, in some alight and in others often in- In an attempt to cure dis- the first necessity is to allay and place the patient in an comfortable position. A ben- God has provided abund- such remedies as will deaden aid nature to recuperate. these are used and not , they are great blessings, used unskillfully, or at unnecessary, they become a m is one of nature's most l remedies for temporarily pain. It acts promptly. gum of the poppy. It wn among the Greeks 300 C., when Theophrastus "meconion." It was called ," Pliny called it "opion;" led it "The tears of the The Turks called it "mad- Persians called it "khas- Chinese called it "ofu- some orientals label it lah," "the work of God." not what name is given lightful but dread drug, and power remain the ing or a curse.

possesses the power of of the nervous system as a stimulant to a cer- , and then as a powerful overwhelm the whole man. t it quickens the ds a greater flow of eye, cheek and brow, shing and sparkling of flushing of the face. It the brain to quickness brilliancy of thought, gorgeousness of imagina- wild delirium seizes the body, mind and soul on to a narcotized During this time pain loses its power and into a sensation of and pain is delight. st stage is narcotism. The ing lustre; the heart slows becomes dull, and , and at last con- ally suspended, only a beast, ex- breathing, and the nature are all retarded. d person has vital- nally rally from the blow, nature may assert consciousness return, delayed wheels of more, and after a complete. This a few times be- it is called the one of the most dis- some of habits fall. I would good qualities ly adminis- and compe- against it as a toxicant, used in obedience to a habit, when one has become a slave to opium eating. Then it is dangerous. While it may give a species of dreamy satisfaction when under its influence, it finally blunts all the finer senses, crushes all moral notions, removes all depths of piety from the soul, and paves the way with flowers of gorgeous description to the place of despair and death.

Opium in commerce is found in the crude state as an unrefined gum, different specimens varying in amount of the active principle, and also in form of watery preparations, and the alkaloid under the name of morphine, the goddess of sleep. Many of the names deceive people. Paragorio has nearly two grains of opium to the fluid ounce. Laudanum contains thirty-seven and one half grains to each fluid ounce. McMunn's Elixir, Bateman's drops, Godfrey's cordial, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, etc., etc., have opium in different amounts, by means of which they act upon the nervous system and allay pain. The majority of patent pain-killers, soothing syrups, cough mixtures, elixirs and syrups depend upon opium to produce their immediate effect. In early days many mothers depended upon steeping poppy leaves to obtain a tea to feed a colicy child. The reason why this quieted the child was the immediate effects of the opium in the poppy leaves.

The crude gum, laudanum and morphia are the principal forms in which opium eaters take the stimulant. If they would be extra neat and reserved about this vile habit they chose the more refined alkaloid of morphia. If they care not for taste or size of dose they relish laudanum or the gum. When the opium habit is established the victim has no care how it is indulged or whether the world knows of the practice, but cares to take so much as shall produce the stupefying narcotic effects.

Opium effects are marked. "The circulating apparatus is to a certain extent paralyzed and the blood is sent tardily on its life-giving mission. All the secretions save that of the skin are lessened—in fact, a brake seems to be applied to the wheels of life, whereby they are rendered slower in action. The opium eater's skin is clammy, "excepting in the first stage of opium effect the eye is like that of an old person, dull and lustreless. The fine play of light and shade as the pupil contracts or dilates for near or distant vision, and in the excitement of conversation, is lost, and there results a listless, stupid stare."

An old Chinese proclamation says of opium eating, "Having used the drug for some time the men accustomed to it can by no means relinquish it; their faces become as sharp as a sparrows, and their heads sink between their shoulders in the form of a dove; the poison flows into their vitals, physic cannot cure their disease, and repentance comes too late for reform."

There are effects of the opium habit of which we cannot here write, which alone when known may deter many from the vice. The evil effect may be seen everywhere, both in body and mind. Nor does it materially lessen the evil by changing the form of taking it. Smoking, eating the gum, swallowing laudanum or morphia, or hypodermic injection, or injection into the rectum arrive at the same goal—narcotism. Smoking and injection may not affect the stomach, but are equally hard upon the circulatory system.

There is nothing connected with the opium habit but evil.

Why do Doctors Prescribe Liquors?

Because they know not what else to do; or because sometimes a little liquor serves to kindle the exhausted fires of digestion. But this liquor prescription is bad business for the patients, for it makes drunkards out of a large majority of them. Brown's Iron Bitters does not kindle a temporary fire. It nourishes, enriches, strengthens, purifies. It drives out debility and dyspepsia, and sets the invigorated system at work on a basis of health.

Lost Friends.

We make no charge for publishing these letters from subscribers. All others will be charged fifty cents. Pastors will please read the requests published below from their pulpits, and report any case where friends are brought together by means of letters in the SOUTHWESTERN.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my mother and brother. Their names are Febby and Charles Martin. My mother's husband belonged to Wm. Beard. My brother and a sister by the name of Millie Martin were sold at Wood's Gate, to the travelers. I left then in Person county, North Carolina. I then went by the name of Anthony Martin, but now go by the name of Anthony Powell. Any information about them will be gladly received. Address Anthony Powell, care of Rev. E. Henderson, LaGrange, Fayette county, Texas. Box 165.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my uncle, whose name is Robert Brown. He belonged to Dr. Brown, in Gonzales, about 28 years ago. There was three brothers of them, Robert, Spencer and Witison Brown. Robert went to Mexico in 1864 I last heard from him about eight years ago; he was then in Mexico. One of the brothers, Witison Brown, was killed shortly after the war; the other, Spencer, is living at Columbus, Texas; he goes by the name of Spencer Coleman. Any information concerning Robert Brown, or Robert Coleman, will be gladly received by me. Address Stephen Coleman, box 25, Waelder, Gonzales county, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to learn the address of my brother, Napoleon Cooper. He was raised in Clark county, and left for Pachuta on Christmas before last. I do not know what became of him after that. Any one who can give the desired information will please address Rev. M. Cooper, Heidelberg, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my three sisters, Hannie, Betsy and Emma White. Our parents were named John and Susan White; we all belonged to John Campbell, who lived near Haynesville, Lawrence county, Alabama. My oldest sister was in Mobile, where she had gone with her young mistress, who had married a Mr. Evans. I was brought to New Orleans and sold by Mr. Evans. Our mother died in South Carolina. I went by the name of Arthur Snowton, mostly; but since the war I go by the name of Arthur Randall. Address any information concerning them to Arthur Randall, box 163 Plaquemine, La.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my mother and brother, Mamie and Henry Green. I left them in Kentucky; they belonged to Henry Green. I am Jack Green, and was brought away by Lizzie Green. Brother Talmond Evans was also brought away, by Madison Evans. I then went by the name of Harris Green, but am now known as Harris Kneeright, Any information will be gladly received by me. Address Harris Kneeright, care of Rev. E. Henderson, box 165, La Grange, Fayette county, Texas.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my mother and sister. I have not seen them since 1860. We belonged to James Parker Cohen, and in the above mentioned year I was sold to John Burnside, of New Orleans, La; and my mother and sister were sold up in the Blue Ridge mountains. My mother's name was Abey Fox at the time she was sold, and her daughter, who was my half sister, was named Matilda Jebson. Both of our fathers were dead. My name was Andrew Fox. Any information concerning them will be gladly received by me. Address Rev. Andrew Fox, pastor of Galilee Baptist Church, Rayns Station, Lafayette parish, La.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my relatives. I was born on the Ford place, 8 miles from Tarboro Town, near Hart's mill race, in North Carolina. My father's name was Jack Adkison, and is now dead. My mother was named Edie Clark; she was sold to Willie Baker. I had several brothers who were sold as follows: Jackson, Joshua, Louis and John Samuel were sold to unknown parties; John Henry to Harris Cotton; Louis to a man by the name of Shelly; my sister Eliza to Joe John Daniel. I was six years old at that time, and was sold to Susan Ruffins. We were all sold by Henry Hyman, the high sheriff of Tarboro Town, Edgecomb county, N. C. Susan Ruffins, my old mistress, married Henry D. Nichols. I have been here 34 years. My name was Sarah Clark. William Clark is dead, and Amos went to Louisiana. I am living near Starkville, Oktibbeha county, Miss. Address any information to Sarah Zuber, Oktoc, Miss.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my father, Rev. Emanuel Price, and my mother, Emily Price. The last I heard of them they were in St. Louis, Mo. My father is a Baptist elder, and has only one eye. Any information of them will be gladly received by their daughter. Address Mrs. Josephine Alfred, care of Rev. J. August, Washington, La.

MR. EDITOR—I wish to inquire for my brother. His name is William Brown; his mother's name is Mary Brown, and father's name is Charles Brown; brothers, George, Louis and Shadrick Brown; sisters, Dolly and Susan Brown. We all belonged to Andrew Crew, of Richmond, Va., but Andrew Crew sold brother William to Chiny Carter, and he sold him down South. I am his younger brother. Mother had one child after he was sold, Isaiah Brown. Pastors will please read this letter to their congregations. His brother George Brown is at 716 Third street, Richmond, Va; his brother Isaiah Brown is at 105 Perdido street, New Orleans, La. A friend told his brothers that William was in Key West, Florida. 2t

SPRING FEVER

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

QUALITY PURITY NOT QUANTITY On Every Bottle.

Trade Mark

—THE BEST TONIC.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only Iron medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Aids Digestion

It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do

DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, O., says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action excels all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

LADIES' HAND BOOK—useful and attractive, containing list of prizes for recipes, information about coins, etc., given away by all dealers in medicine, or mailed to any address on receipt of 2c. stamp.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.

Sixty Addresses by American Educators. Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.

8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1. 25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE

1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once, The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn.

dec30-52t

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.

—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE,
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.

Schedule in effect October 12, 1884

EASTWARD.	No 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	0 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 20 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 25 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 a m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	2 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 10 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 00 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 43 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 20 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	0 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond

No 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 9 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 p m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m, Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH, Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R

—The Direct and Fast Line to—

Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, New York and the East,

In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L. & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:29 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS
FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves.	Arrives.
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 p m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. C. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Knickern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division. a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankake, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway. (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Coupon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lowry, Trav Pass. Agt., Wilmore Ky.
JOHN EGAN, Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
Great Jackson Route.

Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1. 7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3. 9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5. 8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office: Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.

J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No. 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.

THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.
The Direct Route to
Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R.

For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 28 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or, H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
34 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Stamps. Send for samples. TAYLOR BROS ap30-13t Cleveland, Ohio.

General News Items.

There are 700,000 cats in London.

The banking capital of the United States to-day is $738,000,000.

Alabama physicians say that pneumonia is now worse in that State than ever before within thirty or forty years.

The house of Mr. A. J. Oaks was destroyed by fire in Yazoo City, Miss., Sunday night May 10th, about 9 oclock.

A bill has been favorably reported in the Pennsylvania Legislature to impose a license of $1,000 on skating rinks.

Rusia has a population of about 100,000,000; has a public debt of $350,000,000,000; she spends about $10,000,000 a year above her revenues.

Sixteen thousand eight hundred and twenty-five families in Boston were provided with free soup during the past winter.

Philadelphia consumed during the year 1,273,501 barrels of beer and ale. This is a little over 500 glasses a year for each man, woman and child in that city, or about two glasses a day all round.

The number of railroad accidents in the United States during 1884 is given at 1,191. Of these 445 were collisions, and 661 derailments; 65 are recorded as "various." There were in all 389 persons killed and 8760 injured.

During the last twenty-five years Dr. Cuyler, of Brooklyn, has preached 2,300 times and made more than a thousand addresses, officiated at 570 marriages, and received into the church 3,610 persons, of whom 1,566 were converts. He has written 2,700 articles for religious journals, and published ten volumes.

The school census, which was completed this week, shows an enrollment of 836 pupils. Of these 798 are white—males, 386; females, 412; colored—males 13; females, 15. The last enumeration showed 902 enrolled. Compared with the last census, it shows a falling off of 66. This includes all pupils within the corporate limits and those attached thereto. Taking three as an average to each family, it indicates that twenty-two families have left our town or withdrawn their children from school.—New Castle, Indiana, Courier.

"Frailty, they Name is Woman."
—Hamlet.

That she is frail, often in body,
"'Tis true, 'tis true 'tis a pity,
And pity 'tis, 'tis true."

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is the best restorative tonic for physical frailty in woman, or female weaknesses or derangements. By druggists. Price reduced to one dollar.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The question of Minster Williams and the mission of Hayti has been settled by the nomination of another colored man, this time a Democrat. Mr. Williams conduct here has not been such, since his nomination, as can be defended. Even if he had been able to obtain bondsmen, his late attacks, over his own name through interviews of his own [illegible], upon the Secretary of [illegible], were so frequent and of such character as to make it impossible for the President to retain him [illegible] had so desired. There is [illegible] that either the Secretary or the President wanted to retain him, and if he had been more discreet, they would have been left without any excuse except a political one, for removing him, provided he had been able in the end to give the required bond.

"How my back does ache!" All disorders of the kidneys, retention of urine and female weaknesses, are cured by Hunt's Remedy.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth [illegible] Cincinnati, O., and 140 [illegible] street, New York, making them our General Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foreign advertising [illegible] paper. All communications [illegible] to this department will be addressed to them. tf

A Million for Missions.

Further responses of the presiding elders to the appeal for one million dollars in 1885:

Simon Welch, Gainesville District, Florida Conference: "I believe the time has come to work, and will do all I can to work this plan. We will try to raise our amount."

Charles G. Key, Lynchburgh District, Washington Conference: "Am much pleased with the suggestions, and do most heartily co-operate in the movement. The Lynchburgh District is already in line, yet we can press a little stronger. We are ready; we are coming; look for us."

Eli Provine, Chattanooga District, East Tennessee Conference: "Your suggestions are good, and we accept them and will do all we can to carry them out."

Hugh Boyd, Dalton District, Georgia Conference: "Allelnia! The Lord God Omnipotent reigneth, and our great Church is taking steps in the right direction. We will certainly raise the amount asked of our District. You may depend upon it."

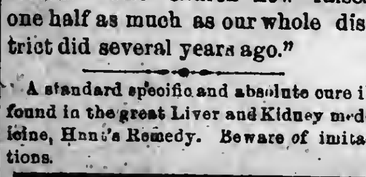
E. W. S. Hammond, Indiana District, Lexington Conference: "I am in full accord with your proposition to raise a million for missions. I feel certain it will meet with a hearty response all over the District. Our people are poor. There is not a wealthy person in our membership. Nevertheless I am certain they will meet the increasing demands upon them."

H. Webb, Marshall District, Texas Conference: "I heartily second your move, and will aid both with prayer and labor. I will at once add to my district the amount needed, and believe we can reach the end. We must have the million."

S. J. Harris, Morristown District, East Tennessee Conference: "I like your plan, and think this a reasonable request to make of a Church with nearly two millions of members and a host of friends. I can say with confidence in the Lord and in the faithful workers of the District that, as we are young as a District, and believe in growing in grace, we can and will grow from $79 to $123.

O. L. Madison, Austin District, West Texas Conference: "The plan is good and will work well. You ask for less than we had apportioned. I hope to report a full collecton. One church now raises one half as much as our whole district did several years ago."

A standard specific and absolute cure is found in the great Liver and Kidney medicine, Hunt's Remedy. Beware of imitations.



OUR CLUBBING LIST,
—1885—

Persons sending us cash with their orders can have the SOUTHWESTERN one year together with any one of the following publications, for amount opposite each as named:

Littell's Living Age	$9 00
Outing	3 00
Wide Awake	4 25
Babyland	1 75
Our Little Men and Women	2 25
The Pansy	2 00
Our Little Ones and the Nursery	2 25
American Agriculturist	2 50
Southern Cultivator	2 75
Popular Science Monthly	6 00
New York Medical Journal	6 00
Illustrated Christian Weekly	3 25
Harper's Magazine	5 00
Harper's Weekly	5 00
Harper's Bazar	5 00
Harper's Young People	3 00
American Reformer	2 00
Weekly Inter-Ocean	2 25
Babyhood	2 75

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez street, New Orleans.

Sedgwick STEEL WIRE Fence

Is the best general purpose wire fence in use. It is a strong net-work without barbs. Don't injure stock. It will turn dogs, pigs, sheep, and poultry, as well as horses and cattle. The best fence for Farms, Gardens, Stock ranges, and Railroads. Very neat, pretty styles for Lawns, Parks, School-lots, and Cemeteries. Covered with rust-proof paint, or made of galvanized wire, as preferred. It will last a life-time. It is better than boards or barbed wire in every respect. Give it a fair trial; it will wear itself into favor. The Sedgwick Gates made of wrought iron pipe and steel wire, defy all competition in lightness, neatness, strength, and durability. We make the best, cheapest, and easiest working all-iron automatic or self-opening gate, and the neatest cheap iron fences now made. The Best folding poultry coop is a late and useful invention. The best Wire Stretcher, Cutting Pliers, and Post Augers. We also manufacture Russell's excellent Wind Engines for pumping, and Geared Engines for grinding, etc. For prices and particulars ask Hardware Dealers, or address, mentioning paper,

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.
jan22-26t-eow

Diabetes Cured.

New Orleans Picayune, Jan. 20, 1884.

Mr. Mathias Doll, business place No. 23 North Peters street, residence Royal street, between Jeanne and Bartholomew, New Orleans, has been a most intense sufferer from kidney trouble (diabetes) for the last six long and weary years. He said to us: "Even earlier than that I frequently suffered from pain in the back, and frequent making of water, but gave it no thought until about the time stated, when the almost constant desire to make water became unendurable. The pain in the back, and sometimes in the legs, made me so lame at times that I could scarcely walk. I consulted one of the best doctors in this city, and was under his constant treatment for one entire year without deriving the least benefit. I then consulted from time to time, during the last five or six years, six other physicians, each one standing in the front rank of the medical profession in New Orleans, and though I sometimes was a little relieved of some excruciating suffering, yet upon the whole I was not only no better, but in many respects much worse. My limbs became so swollen and sore that I could not cross my legs when sitting on a chair—all of which, they said, was caused by diabetes. I then tried some highly lauded patent medicine. But they all turned out to be humbugs. I had given up all hopes of ever getting relief, much less being cured, when I noticed in the papers some wonderful cures that PERUNA had made in this city, as prescribed by Dr. Hartman, giving the name and address of each person treated. I called to see him; he at once prescribed his PERUNA, which is not over three weeks ago. I am so much better that if I would not improve any more, I would not for any amount that I had not placed myself under his treatment. All my pain and lameness is gone. The swelling and stiffness in my legs has disappeared, and instead of making water every fifteen minutes, I now make it once in three hours during the day, and only twice in a whole night. I am, indeed, quite well again. Don't hesitate, don't say humbug, but get the PERUNA at once and take it as its printed label directs, or, if you think this is only an advertisement, and not strictly true, call and see me and see for yourself."

Mrs. Huldah Riple, Smethport, McKean county, Pa., writes: "DR. S. B. HARTMAN, & Co., Columbus, O. I have used your PERUNA and it has done me a great deal of good. Have recommended it to many of my friends, who have since expressed themselves as wonderfully pleased with its virtues."

M. E. Church Directory.

Southwestern Christian Advocate. Office 32 Natchez street.

LA HARPE STREET CHURCH—Rev. Elijah Clarke, pastor. Sunday services—Prayer meeting, 6 a m; Sunday-school, 9 a m; preaching at 11 a m, 3 p m, and 7 p m; Class-meeting Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock; preaching Thursday night at 7 o'clock; Communion first Sunday evening of each month, at 7.30.

FIRST GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Corner St. Andrew and Franklin streets; Rev. J. J. Kienle pastor. Preaching at 10:30 a m, and Sunday-school at 9 a m. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SECOND GERMAN M. E. CHURCH—Eighth street; Rev. Charles Schuler, pastor. Services: Sabbath at 10:30 a m, and 7 p m; Sunday-school at 9 a m; Prayer meeting Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

ST. MATTHEW M. E. CHURCH—On Varnet Street, Algiers, La. Sunday services: Preaching at 11 and 3; 7:30 at night. Prayer meeting 6:30 in the morning. Class meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 1:30. E. O. Barrow, Pastor.

UNION CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Services: Sundays, preaching 11 a m., 3 p. m. 7½ p. m. Sunday school at 1 o'clock. Class meeting Tuesday nights. Preaching Thursday nights. Prayer-meetings Friday nights. Stephen Duncan, Pastor, 42 Robinson street.

WESLEY CHAPEL—Liberty street, between Perdido and Poydras; Rev Marcus Dale, Pastor. Services: Sunday 6 a m; prayer meeting preaching 11 a m; 3 and 7:30 p m; General Class and Love Feast monthly; preaching Thursday eve. 7:30; Class, Monday eve.

SIXTH STREET CHURCH—Between Laurel and Annunciation; Rev. E. Lynn, pastor Services—Public worship Sabbath 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p m. Communion every second Sunday at 7 p. m. Sunday-school, 1 p. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. Preaching Wednesday evening. Prayer-meeting Friday evening. General Class first Monday night in every month. Prayer service at 5:30 a. m.

CAMP PARAPET CHURCH—Rev. Thomas J. Johnson, Pastor. Sunday services—Prayer-meeting 6 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. Sabbath at 1 p. m. Class-meetings. Thursday evening

HAVEN CHAPEL—JEFFERSON STREET, Carrollton, corner of Pinm street Rev. M. O. B. Mason, Pastor. Services—Public worship at 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m., Sunday. Sunday-school ohnol, 9 a. m. Class-meeting Monday evening. General Class, second Sunday at 11 a. m., and communion at 7. Preaching Thursday evening.

New Orleans University. A. F. Hnyt, M. A., Acting President, 1428 St. Charles Street.

First Street—Rev. [illegible] Montgomery, Pastor. Church corner First and Dryades Streets. Services: Sabbath—5 a. m., prayer meeting; 11, 3 and 7, public worship; communion monthly, on the first Sunday. Sunday-school 1 p. m. Class meeting Monday evening General class every fourth Monday evening. Preaching Thursday nights.

MOUNT ZION M. E. CHURCH—James W Hudson, pastor Regular services 11 a m, 3 and 7 p m; prayer meeting Monday eve at 4 p m. Tuesday night class meeting. Preaching Wednesday eve at 7 p m, and sacrament the third Sabbath of every month.

THOMSON CHAPEL M. E. CHURCH—Post street, near Rampart. Sunday Services: preaching at 11, 3 and 7 Prayer meeting 6 in morning. Class meeting 3:30. Z. T. Gayden, pastor.

AMES M. E. CHURCH—Rev. Thomas Stalker, pastor. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday-school at 9.45 a, m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7.30.

PLEASANT PLAIN CHURCH—Perdido, bet. Johnson and Friend streets, Rev. W.P. Forest, pastor. Services Sabbath: Preaching at 11 a m, 3:30 and 7:30 p m. Sunday-school at 9 a m; early prayer meeting at 5:30 a m; class at 5:30 p m; preaching Wednesday and prayer meeting Monday evenings. Sacrament every second Sabbath. Lovefeast quarterly.

General Church Directory.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Also College Church of Straight University A. M. A., corner Ga quet and Liberty streets, one block off Canal street. Services—Preaching Sundays at 11 a m and 7 p m; Sabbath-school 12:15 p m. Prayer meetings Tuesdays and Friday evenings at 7:30 p m. This church has a fine choir under good leadership, and is centrally located. Northern visitors and all true friends of the colored people are cordially invited to attend its services. Rev. G. W. Bothwell, M. A., pastor.

Skin Diseases.—"Swayne's Ointment,"
"Swayne's Ointment" cures Tetter, salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing.
nov13-1yeow

BELLS.

The following prices include the Mountings.

Bells For Churches, Schools, Etc.

Diameter.	Weight.	Bell & Mounting.	Price
24 inches	165 lbs	300 lbs	$350 00
26 "	200 lbs	350 lbs	45 00
28 "	225 lbs	375 lbs	55 00
32 "	375 lbs	550 lbs	85 00
36 "	525 lbs	750 lbs	100 00
40 "	800 lbs	1100 lbs	145 00
44 "	1060 lbs	1400 lbs	180 00
48 "	1325 lbs	1800 lbs	230 00
54 "	2050 lbs	2800 lbs	350 00

Bells for Schools, Farms, Etc.
Without mountings.

18 inches, 75 lbs	$13 00
20 inches, 100 lbs	18 00
24 inches, 165 lbs	25 00

We have arranged to furnish our churches and schools with these bells at the prices named, which is the same as they can be bought for in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they are made.

The bells are too well known to need any recommendation from us.

On receipt of the price we will at once order the bells shipped.

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez st., New Orleans, La.
tf

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free.
VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinnati, O.
mar5-1y

MENEELEY BELL COMPANY
The Finest Grade of Church Bells
Greatest Experience. Largest Trade.
Illustrated Catalogue mailed free.
Clinton H. Meneeley Bell Co.,
TROY, N. Y.
nnv29-1yr

McShane Bell Foundry

Manufacture those celebrated Bells and Chimes for Churches, Tower Clocks, &c., &c. Price-list and circulars sent free. Address
HENRY McSHANE & CO.
oct23-1y Baltimore, Md.

CINCINNATI BELL FOUNDRY CO
SUCCESSORS IN BELLS TO THE
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO
CATALOGUE WITH 1500 TESTIMONIALS
BELLS CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE ALARM
July3-26teow

Baltimore Church Bells
Since 1844 celebrated for Superiority over others, are made only of Purest Bell Metal, (Copper and Tin,) Rotary Mountings, warranted satisfactory. For Prices, Circulars, &c., address BALTIMORE BELL FOUNDRY, J. REGESTER & SONS, Baltimore, Md.
apr30 26teow

An Offer Never Equaled!
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The TIMES DEMOCRAT,
NEW ORLEANS,
—AND—
THE WEEKLY EDITION
—OF—
The NEW YORK WORLD,
NEW YORK,
FOR ONE YEAR:
Only $2.20.
OR THE TWO WEEKLIES
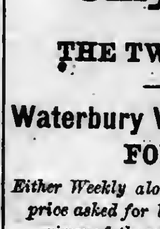
—AND A—
Waterbury Watch and Chain
FOR $4.20.

Either Weekly alone is worth more than the price asked for both, as they contain reviews of the news of the world, a vast amount of select literary matter, exhaustive commercial reports, in fact everything is embraced that tends to make a
First-class Family Newspaper.

The sub-scription price to Weekly Times-Democrat alone is $1.50 for 12 months; 75 cents for 6 months, or 50 cents for 3 months.

Every family in New Orleans not taking the Daily TIMES-DEMOCRAT should keep posted in the



NEWS OF THE WORLD,

by taking these Weeklies, and as an inducement we offer a good serviceable watch for the small addition mentioned above.

The WATERBURY WATCH is a stemwinder, and will run twenty-eight hours. The case is NICKLE-SILVER, and will always remain as bright as a new silver dollar. The Watch has a heavy beveled edge and a crystal face. The works of the Watch are made with the finest automatic machinery. Every watch is tested in varying positions, and is perfect before leaving the factory. Each Watch is put up in a handsome new improved SATIN-LINED CASE, for safe transportation through the mails.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Taken at the office of THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, or by mail, when accompanied by subscription price.

BARNES'
Patent Foot and Steam Power Machinery. Complete outfits for Actual Workshop Business. Lathes for Wood or Metal, Circular Saws, Scroll Saws, Formers, Mortisers, Tenners, etc., etc. Machines on trial if desired. Descriptive Catalogue and Price List Free.
W. F. & JOHN BARNES,
Rockford, Ill.
No. 187 Ruby St.
jan29-eow 2

CANCERS TUMORS AND ULCERS
Cured without the knife or loss of blood. Vastly superior to all other methods. Hundreds of cases cured. Descriptive pamphlet sent free. Address Dr. E. H. GREENE, 17½ Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.
feb26-13t

PHILLIP SAAL,

Dealer in Fancy and Staple Groceries. A Specialty of Butter, Tea, Coffee, and Fine Family Groceries.
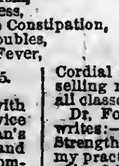
503 Dryades Street, (near St. Andrew st.,) New Orleans, La.
jan1-1y

Crescent Insurance Company.

Incorporated as a Mutual Company in 1849. Re-organized as a Stock Company in 1880.
CASH CAPITAL.....$600,000.
Has paid paid nearly TEN MILLIONS for losses since 1849. Annual and Term Policies issued on Desirable Fire Business.
W. R. Lyman, President, Chas. H. Dolsen, Vice President, Chas. E. Rice, Secty.

TRUSTEES



Joseph Dowling,	Sam H. Kennedy,	Geo. W Santell,	Alfred Moulton,	W. B. Cooper
W. R. Lyman,	G. Marinoni,	Chas. H. Dolsen,	Jos. Chilton,	A. H. Harwood
S. C. Conlon,	Jerry L. Clark,	Wm. A. Phelps,	J. J. Reiss,	Louis Prados
Lucien Dubery,	Charles Newman,	N. D. Wallace,	Sigmund Katz,	M. Grilla
R. F. W. Buchanan,	O. K. David,	Wm. Garig,	A. Roos et Id.,	John D. Fiche
Chas. E. Rice,	Joseph Kohn,	Chas. M. Whitney,	James T. Rodd,

☞ See our Agents throughout the South.
oct9 2s

THE LITTLE HUCKLEBERRY, FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

The soldiers in the late war established the fact that the Huckleberry was much more efficacious in chronic bowel troubles than the Blackberry.

Every one knows the Huckleberry growing alongside the hill, but few have realized the fact that the purple berry contains one of the most valuable astringent healing principles to the bowels.

Dr. Bigger's Huckleberry Cordial is the great Southern remedy for curing Diarrhea, Dysentery, Cramp-Colic and all bowel affections, and restoring the little one suffering such a drainage upon the system from the effects of TEETHING. For sale by all druggists at 50 cents a bottle. Send Two Cent stamp for "TAYLOR'S LITTLE RIDDLE BOOK," the health of home and amusement of the little ones.

Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Georgia.

NOW, NOW, NOW IS THE TIME!
SPRING TIME!
PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.
DR. J. H. McLEAN'S
Strengthening Cordial
AND
BLOOD PURIFIER
Is the greatest Blood Purifier in the world.
TRY IT, AND YOU WILL USE IT EVERY SEASON.

It acts as delightfully on the tender Babe, the most delicate Lady and infirm old age, as on the strong man, in imparting Health and Vigor to Nerve and Brain, Blood Vessels, Heart and Liver. When taken, you can feel its life-giving power course through every artery, destroying all diseases of the Blood, and giving Health, Vital Power and Strength to every part of the body. Who will suffer from Liver Complaint or Diseases of the Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, or Bladder, when such a great Remedy is within their reach?

IT WILL CURE:

Sleeplessness, Night Sweats, Sallow Complexion, Hot Flushes, Fainting Spells, Nervousness, Failing Eyesight caused by Weakness, Dyspepsia, Hectic Flushes, Scalding Hot Urine, Brick Dust Deposit, Frothy Urine, Uterine Weakness, Falling of the Womb, Bad Blood, Biliousness, Pimples, Loss of Memory, Feverish Skin, Sluggish Circulation, Cold Feet and Hands, Rheumatism, Peevishness, Obstinate Constipation, Heart Troubles, Bladder Fever, Diarrhœa or Bloody Flux, Lung and Liver Diseases, Kidney Troublee, Weak Back, Neuralgia, Pains in Bones, Sick Stomach, Depression, Blues, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness, Pimples, Sores and Blotches on the Face and Skin, Colic Pains.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 6th, 1885.
DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.
DEAR SIR:—Having been troubled with Female Complaint for some time, by the advice of a St. Louis lady, I tried Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and am happy to say that it has cured me completely, and I am as well now as ever. I consider it the best medicine for that purpose in the world.
MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKS.

G. W. Nowlin, Greenfield, Tenn., writes:—Send me another supply of Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It gives such satisfaction and sells so well here that we are unable to keep a supply on hand.
Mingsville, Mo., Jan. 4th, 1885.
DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis Mo.
DEAR SIR:—I look upon your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier as the finest medicine in the market. I use it in my family and all my customers speak of it in the highest terms. I would not be without it in the house if it cost ten dollars a bottle.
Yours truly, JOSEPH W. MINGS.

John O. K. White, San Angelo, Texas, says:—Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is the most rapid selling medicine we have here. It is used by all classes with the happiest result.

Dr. Fonda, of Jefferson, Cook County, Ills., writes:—I have used Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier in my practice for years without a single instance of its failure. For Female Complaints I consider it unequalled, being rapid and certain in its action.

From Mess. R. W. Mackie & Son, Yadkinville, N. Carolina:—Your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is in great demand. It gives universal satisfaction and is almost as staple as sugar and coffee in this vicinity.
Leroy, Minn., March 5th, 1885.
DR. J. H. McLEAN, St. Louis, Mo.
Dear Sir:—Owing to the intense heat last summer in the harvest field, many in this neighborhood were prostrated at work, and many of them are afflicted with chronic diarrhœa and kindred diseases. But by the advice of a friend I used your Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, and have been as well as ever, although I was more exposed than the majority of those who have been more or less sick ever since.
Yours truly. HAST. MERCHELL.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a Never-Failing Remedy, and Can Be Relied on.
● $1.00 PER BOTTLE. ● SIX BOTTLES, $5.00.
Dr. J. H. McLEAN, S. E. Corner Broadway and Biddle Street, St. Louis, Mo.
jan1-6m

The Great Church LIGHT.
PRINK'S Patent Reflectors give the Most Powerful, the Softest, Cheapest and the Best Light known for Churches, Stores, Show Windows, Parlors, Banks, Offices, Picture Galleries, Theatres, Depots, etc. New and elegant designs. Send size of room. Get circular and estimate. A liberal discount to churches and the trade. L. P. PRINK, 551 Pearl Street, N. Y.

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884
In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Barrios, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings;
One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.
90 Acres of Space Under Cover!
Low Transportation Rates from all Points.
Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,
E. A. BURKE, Director General,
New Orleans, La.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM WASHER!

It will pay any intelligent man or woman seeking profitable employment to write for Illustrated Circular and terms of Agency for this Celebrated Washer, which by reason of its intrinsic merit is meeting with such wonderful success
J. WORTH, ST. LOUIS, MO., or CHICAGO, ILL.
jan22 26t

FEMALE COMPLAINTS
Treated scientifically at home, at very small expense, with absolutely no pain, no caustics, no unnecessary examinations. Permanent cure guaranteed. Book and question blank free. Address with stamp. Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, (Mention this paper.) 509 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.

CATARRH
Causing Loss of Smell, Offensive Breath, Sore Throat, Deafness, Hay Fever, Cough and Consumption, cured in from one to three months, even though bones of nose are affected. No snuffs, washes, douches, inhalers or atomizers used. Book and blank free. Address with stamp, Dr. C. N. BROCKINGTON, [Mention this paper.] 509 4th Ave., Louisville, Ky.
oct2-1yr

OPIUM and WHISKY HABITS cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent Free.
B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.
apr2-f2t

NEW USES OF DIAMOND DYES

New uses are constantly being made of them so that, not only is all possible kinds of Domestic Coloring done with them, but also Art Work, Coloring Photographs, Engravings, &c. They are used for Object Teaching in Schools, Coloring Maps, Baskets, Easter Eggs, Bone, Ivory, &c. For making ALL colors of Ink, Wood Stains, Shoe Dressing, Ink Pads, &c. USE NO OTHER.

They are the PUREST, STRONGEST and FASTEST of all Dyes. One package colors one to four pounds of Silk, Wool, Cotton, etc. For special uses given above, no other dyes will answer.

Sold by all druggists. Send stamp for Special Art Circular, Special School Circular, Sample Card of 32 colors, and directions. Colored Cabinet Photo. as sample, or a package of any Color Dye mailed for 10 cents. Address the proprietors,
WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

THE DIAMOND PAINTS,
GOLD, SILVER, COPPER and BRONZE,
For gilding &c., Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work. Also Artists Black for Ebonizing. Equal to any of the high priced kinds and only 10 cts. a package, at the druggists, or post-paid from WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.
mar5 13t

AGENTS WANTED for Twenty Years of Congress,
1861—1881,
by James G. Blaine.
Hon. J. S. Wise of Va. says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will not lay it down until he has read the last line." Agents make from $50 to $1000 per month. Business Sacred. The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.
apr9-tf

Agents wanted
HOLY BIBLE REVISED VERSION.

Bibles at 1-2 and Old Testaments at less than 1-3 the prices of the English editions, and equal to the English in type, paper, printing and accuracy. First agent sent out reports an order at every call for two weeks. Rare chance for agents to make money. Send $1.00 for outfit. TERMS VERY LIBERAL.
The Henry Bill Pub. Co., Norwich, Conn.
may14 tf

OPIUM MORPHINE HABIT EASILY CURED. BOOK FREE. Dr. J. C. HOFFMAN Jefferson, W mar5-52

CHAMPION'S LIQUID PEARL

FOR PRESERVING, RESTORING AND BEAUTIFYING the Complexion
DIRECTIONS FOR USE, TESTIMONIALS, &c.
OPINIONS OF NOTED LADIES.
DELTA—It is the best preparation for the purpose I have ever used, and I have tried them all. [illegible] express the delight I have taken in the use of the LIQUID PEARL and recommend it to the ladies of the profession. [illegible] marks of approbation. Only 50 cents a bottle, sent by all Druggists or Perfumers. CHAMPION & CO., Boston, Mass.
eod28-3

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

...never varies. A marvel of purity, and wholesomeness. More economical ...ordinary kinds, and can not be sold in ...with the multitude of low test, short ... or phosphate powders. Sold only
ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co.
106 Wall Street, N. Y.

...y-School and Children.

QUARTER. STUDIES IN THE ACTS AND EPISTLES. Lesson VIII. A. D. 67. ...Paul's charge to Timothy; Tim. 3, 14-17, 4 1-8. Golden Text, 2 Tim. 3, 15.

HOME READINGS.

...Paul's charge to Timothy; 2 Tim. 3, 14-17; 4, 1-8.

...The former charge; 1 Tim. 1, 1-14.

...Wisdom in Scripture; John 5, 39-47.

...Strength of the work; Heb. 4, 1-16.

...Power of truth; 2 Pet. 1, 12-21.

...Fight for Christ; I Cor. 9, 16-27.

...Reward of the faithful; Rev. 2, 1-11.

QUESTIONS FOR HOME STUDY.

The Holy Scriptures, v. 14-17.

What does Paul exhort Timothy?

What had Timothy known from a child?

What were they able to do?

Why were the Scriptures given?

What are they profitable?

The Union of Righteousness, v. 6-8

For what was Paul ready?

When was at hand?

What does Paul say of himself?

What was prepared for him?

To whom others will it be given?

The faithful teacher, v. 1-5.

What charge did Paul make to Timothy?

Before whom is the charge made?

What kind of hearers would he have?

What additional charge is given?

PRACTICAL TEACHINGS.

What does this lesson teach—

The profitableness of Bible study?

The duties of the Christian teacher?

The reward of faithful obedience?

Spiritual Suggestion—The inspiration of Scripture?

Sunday-School Programme For Children's Day, June 14th, 1885.

CHILDREN'S FUND.

...hool.—Must we always ...children?

...—All Christian children ...to acquire a good and ...education that they may ...strong workers for God in ...years.

...—What helps does the ...offer them in cultivating ...ds and hearts?

...public Sunday services, ...y-schools, her Bible ...her Church Lyceums, her ...Leagues, and her literary ...ocial institutions.

...How can Christian children ...means hope to secure ...sion?

...ving improved all opportunities within their reach, and diligent efforts to go up ...they become in due time entitled from the Children's ... Fund.

...—Why is this called the ... Fund?

...it was founded and ...creased by gifts of children ...friends of children.

...e the children been ...by it?

...students who ...d by the Board of ... all were grown ... children.

...of them risen to become public workers for God and the Church?

L.—Many have become teachers. Forty have become missionaries in Foreign countries, and more than 200 have become ministers in more than 60 Conferences.

S. S.—What special motives have we to give to this fund?

L.—First, as a means of doing good to others; and, second, as a means of acquiring an interest in it against your own possible time of need.

S. S.—Are there not good reasons why we should also ask our older friends to help us in this offering?

L.—Many. Never were the calls for aid in acquiring a Christian education so numerous and urgent as now. Had the Fund been larger, much more good might have been done by means of it this very year. Some good young people, both North and South, have had to leave the schools for lack of a little more help.

The Evening Chronicle

Is the cheapest daily in New Orleans, and has a fair and growing circulation. A series of illustrated matter was recently started. A continued story commenced with last Monday's issue. Price, one year, $6; six months, $3; one month, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents. Address, M. Sagendorph, 23 Bank Place, New Orleans, La.

Marriages.

At the residence of the bride's mother, Pontotoc, Miss., Mr. Robert Tollet to Miss Emma Armstrong, May 4, 1885, Rev. B. H. S. Ferguson officiating. Both are members of the Church, and highly respected by both races. We wish them a grand success through life, and ask the everlasting benedictions of Almighty God upon them. B. H. S. FERGUSON.

Obituary.

Little Maggie Christian died April 17, 1885, after 13 month's suffering. She was only 5 years old and leaves a father and mother, brother and sisters to mourn her loss. Borgia Ranney died April 19, 1884. She was a member of our Sunday-school, a tender-hearted girl, and loved by all. She was 13 years of age, and attended day school. When her mother asked her if she was afraid to die, she answered, "I do not know, but Jesus come now, and come quick," and it is hoped He did come.

REV. I. G. GARRETT.

Conference Notices.

Plan of Episcopal Visitation.—1885. Mall Conferences.

[ALPHABETICAL.]

CONFERENCE.	PLACE.	TIME.	BISHOP.
Alabama	Edwardsville, Ala.	Nov 26	Mallalieu
Arizona Miss	Tucson, Arizona	Sept 17	Fowler
Austin	Denton, Texas	Dec. 10	Foster
Black Hills Miss	Rapid City, Dak	Aug. 20	Ninde
Blue Ridge	Gastonia, N. C	Oct. 1	Mallalieu
Bulgaria Miss	Rustchuk, Bul	Oct. 1
California	Stockton, Cal	Sept. 3	Fowler
Central Alabama	Mobile, Ala	Dec. 10	Mallalieu
Central China mis'n	Kinkiang, China	Oct. 14
Central German	Columbus, Ohio	Sept 10	Harris
Central Illinois	Fairbury, Ill	Sept 24	Warren
Central New York	Syracuse, N. Y.	Oct 8	Merrill
Central Ohio	Fostoria, O	Sept 17	Harris
Central Tennessee	Tullahoma, Tenn	Oct 15	Mallalieu
Chicago German	Manitowoc, Wis	Sept 17	Bowman
Cincinnati	Cincinnati, O	Sept 3	Harris
Colorado	Pueblo, Col	Aug 20	Andrews
Columbia River	Spokane Falls	W. T. July 16	Walden
Dakota miss'n	Hunt. Dak	Oct 8	Foss
Des Moines	Des Moines, Ia	Sept 17	Foss
Detroit	Pontiac, Mich	Sept 10	Warren
East Ohio	Barnesville, O	Sept 17	Foster
East Tennessee	Knoxville, Tenn	Oct 22	Hurst
Erie	Shamokin, Pa	Sept 10	Merrill
Foochow	Foochow, China	Nov 19
Genesee	Lima, N Y	Oct 1	Hurst
Georgia	Ellijay, Ga	Nov 19	Mallalieu
Holston	Johnson City, Tenn	Oct 15	Hurst
Idaho	Canyon City Oreg.	July 30	Walden
Illinois	Kankakee, Ill	Sept 17	Ninde
Indiana	Spencer, Ind	Aug 27	Harris
Iowa	Mt. Pleasant, Ia	Sept 10	Ninde
Japan	Tokio, Japan	Aug 20
Kentucky	Covington, Ky	Oct 1	Harris
Michigan	Grand Rapids, Mich	Sept 17	Warren
Minnesota	Rochester, Minn	Oct 1	Andrews
Montana mis'n	Dillon, Montana	July 1	Walden
Nebraska	Seward, Neb	Sept 17	Andrews
Nevada mis'n	Bishop's Ck. Nev	Aug 20	Fowler
New Mexico mis'n	Santa Fe, N. Mex	Oct 1	Fowler
" "	Spanish Peralta New Mex.	Sept 24	Fowler
North China mis'n	Peking, China	Sept 24
North Dakota	Wahpeton, Dak	Sept 17	Walden
North Nebraska	Ponca, Neb	Sept 3	Andrews
North Ohio	Berea, Ohio	Sept 3	Merrill
North Western German	LeSueur, Minn	Sept 24	Andrews
North Western Indiana	Valparaiso, Ind	Sept 3	Foss
North Western Iowa	Storm Lake, Ia	Sept 24	Foss
North Western Swedish	Dayton, Ia	Sept 3	Bowman
Norwegian Danish	Cambridge, Wis	Sept 10	Bowman
Ohio	Delaware, Ohio	Sept 24	Foster
Oregon	Roseburg, Oreg	Aug 27	Walden
Pittsburgh	Allegheny City, Pa.	Sept 17	Merrill
Puget Sound	Tacoma, W. T	Aug 13	Walden
Rock River	Elgin, Ill	Oct 8	Fowler
St. Louis German	St. Louis, Mo	Sept 10	Foss
Savannah	Savannah, Ga	Dec 3	Mallalieu
South Indiana	Brookville, Ind	Sept 24	Harris
South California	Santa Barbara, Cal	Sept 10	Fowler
South German	San Antonio, Tex	Nov 19	Foster
South Illinois	Edwardsville, Ill	Sept 24	Ninde
South India	Bombay India	Nov 19
South Carolina	Gallatin, Tenn	Oct 23	Mallalieu
Texas	Houston, Tex	Nov 26	Foster
Upper Iowa	Toledo, Ia	Oct 1	Warren
Utah mission	Park City, Utah	July 2	Warren
West German	Claytonia, Neb	Sept 3	Ninde
West Neb. mis'n	Kearney, Neb	Sept 10	Andrews
West Texas	Austin, Tex	Dec 3	Foster
West Virginia	Charleston, W. Va.	Sept 24	Merrill
West Wisconsin	Dodgeville, Wis	Sept 24	Bowman
Wisconsin	Waukesha, Wis	Oct 1	Bowman

By order of the Board of Bishops.

WM. L. HARRIS, Secretary.

St. Louis, Mo., May 18, 1885.

Notice.

The Palestine District Conference, of the Texas Annual Conference, will convene at Palestine, on July 8, 1885. The following is the programme:

To preach the opening sermon—R. Williams.

To preach the missionary sermon—Samuel Johnson.

Preaching demanded for the times—Wm. Allen.

Duty of local preachers—R. K. Whiting.

Centennial Sermon—Tenola Edwards.

Best mode of conducting Sunday-schools—C. C. Minnegan.

G. W. SMITH,
WM. ALLEN,
C. C. MINNEGAN,
Committee on Programme.

Navasota District—Texas Conference.

Third Round.

San Felipe	June	3- 4
Patterson	"	6- 7
Hempstead	"	13-14
Courtney	"	20-21
Plantersville	"	20-21
Franklin	"	20 21
Hearn	"	24-25
Bryan	"	27-28
Bryan circuit	July	1- 2
Burleson	"	1- 2
Caldwell	"	4- 5
Millican	"	4- 5
Navasota	"	11-12
Anderson	"	18-19
Prairie Plains	"	25-26
Brenham	Aug.	1- 2
Brenham circuit	"	5- 6
Bellville	"	8- 9
Iola	"	1- 2

W. B. PULLAM, P. E.

Shreveport District—Louisiana Conference.

Second Round.

Cane River	May	20
Cotile circuit	"	24
Robelene	"	25
Marthaville	"	27
Pleasant Hill	"	29
Natchitoches and Campte	"	30 31
Grand Cane	June	4
Mansfield	"	6- 7
Bastrop	"	13-14
Monroe	"	18
Onachita City	"	20
Fairfield	"	24
St. James, Shreveport	"	25
Scott circuit	"	28
St. Paul, Shreveport	July	1- 2
Dixon's Cross Roads	"	4- 5

Notice to pastors and places not above mentioned will be given later. As a guide the brethren will do well to cut out this notice and keep it in sight.

Dear Brethren—I beg again to invite your serious attention to the importance of pushing our benevolent collections, and to do so cannot find words more appropriate than those contained in the circular issued March 1, 1885.

PIERRE LANDRY, P. E.

Pine Bluff District.

The following are the apportionments for the Pine Bluff District, Little Rock Conference:

	Mis'n	Ch Ex	F. A. S	Epis F'd
Locksburg ct	$12.	$6	$6	$1
Centre Point	10	6	6	1
Washington	6	5	5	1
Fulton station	1	1	1
Texarkana—
First Church	6	5	5	1
Second Church	5	5	5	1
Circuit	2	1	1
Louisville	7	4	4
Pine Bluff	10	6	5
Pine Bluff circuit	3	1	1
Red Fork ct	2	1	1
New Edinburg	1	1	1

G. B. DONNELLY, P. E.

A Grand Basket Meeting.

Ho, every one that thirsteth! Come one, come all, to Arcola Sulphur Springs at Quitman, and take a drink of the health-giving water that floweth by to quench your thirst when you are dry. A Grand Basket meeting for the purpose of building a new Methodist Episcopal Church in Quitman, will be given May 31, 1885. The following is the programme for the occasion:

Sunday-school at 9 o'clock, conducted by Bro. M. E. Cawthorn and Sister M. J. Carmichal.

Preaching at 11 o'clock by Rev. J. B. Smith—text, John 38, 31.

Preaching at 3 o'clock by Rev. M. E. Cawthorn.

Sermon at 8:30 o'clock at night in the court house, by Rev. L. J. S. Bell, subject, "The hand writing on the wall," Daniel 5, 27.

P. SMITH,
S. EVANS,
H. BLAKENEY,
M. J. CARMICHAL,
Committee of Arrangements.
L. J. S. BELL, P. C.

Van Buren District.

Second Round.

Fayetteville station and ct	June	20-21
Russellville	"	24 25
Morrilton	"	27-28
Conway	June 30, July	1
Batesville	"	4- 5
Jacksonport	"	11-12
Argenta	"	15-16
Little Rock	"	18-19
Sweet Home	"	25 26
Alma	Aug.	1- 2
Fort Smith	"	8- 9
Van Buren	"	15-16

Brethren, the district conference will convene at Newport, July 10, at 7 o'clock a. m. Every member is expected to be in attendance. I think you will be nicely cared for. This is a place where we can do great good. W. R. R. DUNCAN, P. E.

Sweet Home, Ark.

Notice.

To the District Managers of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Louisiana Conference:

Dear Sisters—Will those of you who have not sent in your reports to me for the past quarter please do so at once and oblige, Yours in the work,

JOSEPHINE COWGILL,
Corresponding Secretary.
1428 St. Charles ave, New Orleans, La.

Murfreesboro District—Tennessee Conference.

Third Round.

Lebanon station	May	1- 3
North Lebanon ct	"	2- 3
Alexandria ct	"	9-10
Caney Fork	"	16-17
Martin's Creek	"	23-24
Liberty	"	30-31
Cookeville	June	6- 7
Sparta	"	13-14
McMinnville sta	"	19 21
McMinnville ct	"	20-21
Manchester ct., W. C. Miller	"	27-28
Shelbyville station	"	27 28
Leesburg	"	30
Tullahoma	July	4- 5
Petersburg	"	11-12
Spencer and Eagleville	"	18-19
Murfreesboro ct, at night	"	18-19
Murfreesboro station	"	23 26
Stone River	"	25-26
Woodbury, by T. E. Woods	"	25-26

C. H. BULLINGTON, P. E.

Huntsville District—Texas Conference.

Third Round.

Montgomery	June	6- 7
Willis circuit	"	13-14
Danville	"	20-21
Huntsville station	"	27-28
Huntsville circuit	July	4- 5
Walker	"	11-12
Lovelady	"	18-19
Groveton	"	20 21
Livingston	"	25-26
Swartout	"	27
Cold Springs	"	28
Liberty	Aug.	1- 2
Wallisville	"	8- 9
Beaumont	"	15 16
Town Bluff	"	18
Bevelport	"	19
Orange	"	22-23
Harden	"	24-25

EDWARD LEE, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

SOUTHWESTERN OFFICE, May 16, 1885.

LEADING STAPLES.

Readers will remember that the quotations given are for round lots, and higher prices must be paid for small orders.

COTTON, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 8 15-16; Middling 10 7-16; Good Middling, 10 11-16; Middling fair, 11.

SUGAR, ℔ lb—Yellow clarified, 5¼@5⅝; White clarified, 5½@5⅝; Common 4⅝@5⅛.

MOLASSES, in bbls, ℔ gallon—Common, 17@22; fair, 23@25; choice, 41@43c.

RICE, Louisiana, ℔ lb—Common, 4½@4¾ fair, 5¼@5⅝; choice, 5¾@6.

MOSS, ℔ lb—Mixed, 2@2½; gray, 1@2; black, 3@4½.

GROCERIES.

BUTTER, ℔ lb—Western, 18@25.

COFFEE, ℔ lb—Ordinary, 7½; prime, 9¼.

CHEESE, ℔ lb—Western factory 4@8.

CORN MEAL, ℔ bbl—Choice, $2.75.

FLOUR, ℔ bbl.—Fancy, 5.40; Choice, 5.15; Family, $5@——.

LARD, ℔ lb—Choice, 7½.

SALT, ℔ Sack—Coarse, 82½c.; Fine, 10½c.

ESCULENTS—Irish potatoes, ℔ bbl., $2 95@4.00; sweet potatoes, $2.25@$3 ℔ bbl. onions, ℔ bbl. $2.25@2.75; apples, ℔ bbl. $3.00@$4.00; cabbages, $3.50@$3.75 per crate; sour krout, $4.50@7 50 per barrel.

OILS, ℔ gallon—Coal, in cases, 17@—; coal, in bbl. 12@—; linseed, raw, 55@ boiled, 58@—; cotton seed, 32@40.

PROVISIONS.

MESS PORK, ℔ bbl—Choice, $12.12½.

BACON, ℔ lb—Breakfast, 10; shoulders, 4½@4¾; sides, short rib, 6⅜; sides, long clear, 6⅜; hams, sugar-cured, 9½@10½c.

DRY SALT MEAT, ℔ lb—Clear rib sides, 6; clear sides, 6; shoulders, 4.3@4½.

POULTRY AND EGGS.

Louisiana Poultry—Grown chickens 3.50@4.00; young $3,00@$2.50; ducks, $2.00 @2.50; geese $4.@$4 50; turkeys $12.@15.

Western Eggs 11@12c per dozen

Louisiana Eggs 12@12½c per dozen.

Feathers—Best live geese feathers 50@ 75c. ℔ lb. second grades 15@25c.

Western Poultry—Grown chickens $4.50 @$5.00 ℔ dozen; young dc. $3.25@3.75; ducks $3.50@4.00—; geese $4.00@$5 00, turkeys $15.00@18.00.

GRAIN AND FEED.

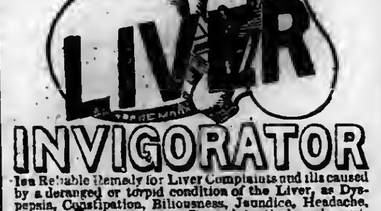
CORN, in sacks, ℔ bushel—Yellow, 68; white, 68; mixed, 64.

OATS, ℔ bushel—Western, 48@—.

BRAN, ℔ 100 lbs—Choice, 85.

Victims of youthful indiscretions, suffering from nervous debility, lack of self-confidence, impaired memory, and kindred symptoms, should send 10 cents in stamps for large illustrated treatise, giving means of certain cure, with numerous testimonials. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Nashville Tenn., Seed Market.



[Seed quotations for each issue furnished by Messrs. Geo. W. Stockett & Co., Seed Merchants, of Nashville, Tennessee, to whom address communications.]

	per bushel
Red Clover seed	$5 55
Sapling Clover seed	6 00
Red Top or Herds Grass	55
Timothy seed	1 80
Orchard Grass seed	1 70
Blue Grass seed, clean	1 00
" " extra clean	1 25
Tennessee raised German Millet	1 25
Hungarian	1 10
	per pound
White Clover seed	25
Lucerne or Alfalfa Clover seed	25
Alsyke Clover seed	25
Tall Meadow Oat Grass	25
Medow Fescue	25

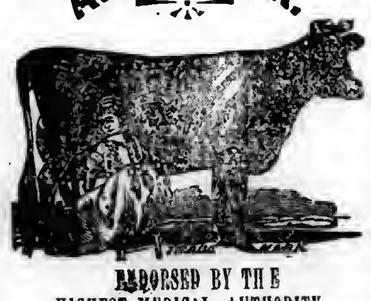
Resone Grass, Italian Rye Grass, and English Rye Grass quoted on application. Sacks are extra.

IF HAVE HEALTH THE LIVER MUST BE IN ORDER.

DR. SANFORD'S

Is a Reliable Remedy for Liver Complaints and ills caused by a deranged or torpid condition of the Liver, as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Biliousness, Jaundice, Headache, Malaria, Rheumatism, etc. It regulates the bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the system, assists digestion.
AN INVALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINE.
Thousands of testimonials prove its merit.
ANY DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU ITS REPUTATION.
apl30-13teownr

CORPULENCY Recipe and notes how to harmlessly, effectually and rapidly cure obesity without semi starvation dietary, etc. European Mail, Oct. 24th, says: "Its effect is not merely to reduce the amount of fat, but by affecting the source of obesity to induce a radical cure of the disease. Mr. R. makes no charge whatever; any person, rich or poor, can obtain his work gratis, by sending 6 cts. to cover postage to F. C. RUSSELL, Esq., Woburn House, Store street, Bedford sq., London, Eng. may21-13t



GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed at moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

LACTART
ACID OF MILK.

INDORSED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Healthful and Delicious Beverage and Tonic for Family Use.

Superior to Lime Juice or Lemons.

A Remedy for Dyspepsia and Ills arising from a Disordered Stomach.

Specially recommended as a preventative and relief for Cholera, Sunstroke, Fevers, and valuable in Urinary difficulties.

A Specific for Sea-sickness.

Sold by Druggists.

Avery Lactate Co.,
BOSTON, MASS. apr30 3m

WEBSTER.
In Sheep, Russia and Turkey Bindings.

Get the Standard.

GET Webster—it has 118,000 Words, 3000 Engravings, and a New Biographical Dictionary.

THE Standard in Gov't Printing Office. $2,000 copies in Public Schools. Sale 20 to 1 of any other series.

BEST aid to make a Family intelligent. Best help for SCHOLARS, TEACHERS and SCHOOLS.

☞ The vocabulary contains 3000 more words than are found in any other American Dictionary.

The Unabridged is now supplied, at a small additional cost, with DENISON'S PATENT REFERENCE INDEX.
"The greatest improvement in book-making that has been made in a hundred years."
G. & C. MERRIAM & CO., Pub'rs, Springfield, Mass.

OLD ONE HUNDRED.
MRS. TENA BURTON,
100.....Franklin Street.....100

Lodging,
With or Without Board.
mar26-6m

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS,
17 & 29 West 2d St., New York.
Have now ready
The History of the Negro Race in America.
From 1619 to 1881. Negroes as Slaves, as Soldiers and as Citizens,
Together with a preliminary consideration of the Unity of the Human Family, and Historical Sketch of Africa, and an account of the Negro Governments of Sierra Leone and Liberia. By George W. Williams, first colored member of the Ohio Legislature, and late Judge Advocate of the G. A. R., of Ohio.
Popular Edition; two volumes in one, large octavo, with portrait on steel of the author, $4.
"It is a prodigious compilation, so comprehensive that every student will welcome it, and so just in its whole scope that criticism of special points can not impair it.—World, New York.
"It ought to be read by every colored man in America."—Journal, Indianapolis.
"He has accomplished a noble service for his race."—Zion's Herald, Boston.
☞ This book can be ordered through the office of the SOUTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, New Orleans, La.

GRATEFUL PRAISE!
A NEW S. S. BOOK. By J. H. Fillmore.
Pure in sentiment, rich in music. Sample copy, in boards 25 cents; per dozen by express, $3 60; per dozen by mail, $4. Specimen pages free.
FILLMORE BROS.
No. 126 Race street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dr. Sterling P. Brown
365 Chippewa Street,
NEW ORLEANS LA.
OFFICE HOURS | From 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.
mar19-3m

E. W. Scheffel,
GENERAL
Book-Binder,
Ruler and Blank Book Manufacturer.
37 Natchez St., [up-stairs] New Orleans.
Magazines, Music, Periodicals and Old Books re-bound, Plain or Ornamental. jan22

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colored people. jan15-1y

Pianos & Organs
Of all makes direct to customers from headquarters, at wholesale prices. All goods guaranteed. No money asked till instruments are received and fully tested. Write us before purchasing. An investment of 2 cents may save you from $50.00 to $100.00. Address
JESSE FRENCH, Nashville, Tenn.,
Wholesale Distributing Dep't for the South.
feb19-1y

Send for Price List and Circular!
AUTOMATIC
"NO TENSION" SEWING MACHINE.
NOISELESS—LIGHTEST RUNNING.
Most Beautiful and Durable Work.
AND DOES NOT INJURE HEALTH.
Wilcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., 658 Broadway, N. Y. nov6-16t eow

CHRISTIAN
MEN and WOMEN Wanted are
AS AGENTS
For the New and Fast-selling Edition of the
JAMIESON, FAUSSET & BROWN
BIBLE COMMENTARY.
4 vols, nearly 4,000 pp. Maps and Illustrations. In cloth, $8; half morocco, $10 per set.
Best terms and exclusive territory. Permanent employment given after a satisfactory trial.
Jerome B. Names & Co.,
154 St. Clair street, Toledo, Ohio.
The work is heartily recommended.
mar5-39t

THIS NEW
ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a Pad different from all others, is cup shape, with Self-Adjusting Ball in center, adapts itself to all positions of the body while the ball in the cup presses back the intestines just as a person does with the finger. With light pressure the Rupture is held securely day and night, and a radical cure certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Circulars free. GALLESTON TRUSS Co., Chicago, Ill.
may21-5t

For the Cheapest and Choicest
Family & Fancy Groceries,
SUGAR, LARD, FLOUR, COFFEE
Hams, Bacon, &c., &c.,
—GO TO—
N. E. Sullivan's GROCERY
Corner of
Washington and Hampson Streets
CARROLLTON, LA.
Nov23-1y

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.
By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.
WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.
Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.
Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

HEADQUARTERS
—FOR—
Sunday-school Supplies
Consisting of
GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.
Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.
Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock
W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94.....Camp Street,.....94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L. Bibolet, Manager.)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
8.....Toulouse Street,.....8
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.
☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & Co., Augusta, Maine.
feb19-26t

MADAME FOY'S
CORSET
AND Skirt Supporter.

Combines the most ELEGANT FITTING CORSET with a PERFECT SKIRT SUPPORTER and is one of the most popular and satisfactory corsets as regards HEALTH and COMFORT ever invented. It is particularly adapted to the present style of dress.
For sale by all leading dealers. Price by mail $1.30.
FOY, HARMON & CHADWICK, New Haven, Conn.
mar19-12teow

WHETHER CHOLERA
Is coming or not every householder should know that cleanliness and disinfection are the greatest preventives. The principal and surest factor for this purpose is a perfect cleansing, bleaching and purifying soap, making clothes beautifully white and sweet. It should be exclusively used in all departments of a household. DREYDOPPEL'S SOAP is sold in full pound bars only by all wholesale grocers and first-class retailers.
DREYDOPPEL'S BORAX SOAP,
SKIN DISEASES,
Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Sores, Pimples, and all Itching Skin Eruptions, are surely cured and prevented by the exclusive use of BERSON'S AHOMATIC ALUM SULPHUR SOAP, an exquisite beautifier of the complexion and toilet requisite. 25 cents, by druggists or sent by mail.
Address WM. DREYDOPPEL, M'f'r, 206 North Front Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Dreydoppel's Disinfecting Powder, 15 cents a large box.
apr30 4teow

ROOSEVELT PORTABLE
PIPE ORGAN.
We have succeeded after many years of study and experiment in producing a portable GENUINE PIPE ORGAN which fills the place between the best reed organ and the church (pipe) organ.
As the various pipes are secured in their places the instrument requires no setting up, but is at once ready for use when unpacked.
It can be sold at a moderate advance above the price charged by reliable makers for their better class of reed organs, and it is just what has long been needed for small Churches, Chapels, Lodges, Sunday Schools and the Parlor.
HILBORNE L. ROOSEVELT,
Manufacturer of Church Organs.
143-147-149 West 15th St., New York.
apr30-6teow

SOUTHWESTERN Christian Advocate

VOL. 20---NO 23. NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, JUNE 4, 1885 WHOLE NUMBER 812.

THE SOUTHWESTERN
PUBLISHED BY
THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,
2 Natchez Street, New Orleans, Louisiana

PHILLIPS & HUNT, Agents.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor

Terms: $1.50 per Year, Cash in Advance; after Three Months, $2; to Pastors, $1. Six Months, $1; Three Months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at New Orleans, La., as Second Class Matter.

All Traveling Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church are authorized Agents.

Subscriptions may begin at any time and the paper will be sent as long as paid for.

Remittances must be made by Registered Letter Money Order, Postal Note, or by Express, addressed to PHILLIPS & HUNT.

All matter not of a business nature must be addressed to the editor.

ADVERTISING RATES:

(Per Nonpareil line, each insertion.)

One time or more	8 cents,
One month (4 times)	7 "
Three months (13 times)	6 "
Six months (26 times)	5 "
One year (52 times)	4 "
Marriage Notices	25 "
Special Notices	8 cents, net cash

Editorial Notes.

Now hearken to your gentle Shepherd's call,
Inviting you to pastures green and broad;
He comes to feed, to lead and shield all
And kindly chides you with his pastoral rod;
"Why, oh, my sheep, the purchase of my blood,
Whom lost I sought and found with great delight,
And make myself a sacrifice to God,
In one your scattered wanderers to unite,
Why, oh, my redeemed flocks, why thus presently fight?"

The change in the time of the Italy Conference will necessarily delay the sessions of the Scandinavian conferences and Denmark mission. The exact date of the latter is not yet known.

There is a great and steady inflow of colored people toward the Northwest from the South. They come not in crowds but in single families, and at once secure farm work in the agricultural regions. They will probably make money faster and die much sooner than if they remained in the South.

Institutions and individuals alike are bound by a consistent adherence to the demands of duty to standards no practical, because opportunity is not afforded for the attainment of some ideal object. The path to desirable ideals is through conflicting practicals. Ideals are celestial, practicals are terrestial. We have to deal with both; one as an end and the other as a means. But the terrestial means precede the celestial ends.

It is a noticeable fact that people who fail to read their church paper are always uneasy about something somebody has said of their church, and keep the pastor busy explaining erroneous impressions made upon them. These [illegible] and read what their church [illegible] instead of furnishing a constant [illegible] to the preachers are generally prepared to give a reason for the faith that is in them. They [illegible] will aid both church and pastor, and sometimes enlighten if they do not cure the would-be preacher.

The Louisiana State Medical So[illegible] requests your presence at [illegible] Dryades street near [illegible] evening, April 21, [illegible] Address [illegible] the retiring [illegible] D. H. Dey. "The [illegible] Medicine;" Rev. W. H. [illegible] Physi[illegible] are intended [illegible] medical as well [illegible] [illegible] hereby to [illegible] courtesy and [illegible] the same.

Address of the Rev. A. E. P. Albert, B. D.

At the International Exposition in New Orleans on Louisiana Day.

Of this able address the New Orleans Times Democrat says.

REV. DR. A. E. P. ALBERT was then introduced and delivered the following address on the part of the colored population:

The address of Rev. Mr. Albert produced a deep effect upon the audience. At many points in his discourse he was interrupted by bursts of applause, showing the appreciative attention of his auditors. His address was truly eloquent, showing both a rare command of expression and a thoughtful, logical mind.

We cheerfully add our testimony to the above; our brief personal acquaintance with (Dr. Albert) we call him so because he merits it confirms the impression already and previously formed that in him the church has a son to whom she may look for valuable future services. He is deservedly popular where he is known.

Mr. President and Fellow citizens—The special occasion, which summons the surging thousands, before whom I have the honor to stand, the celebration of Louisiana Day in this most wonderful of all the exhibitions of the ages, is welcomed with throbbing hearts and patriotic devotion by every colored Louisianian.

The opening day was national and international in its importance; the Colored Department's Day was pre-eminently the Aemerican negro's day. Both patriotism and rare pride prompted the negro's extraordinary attendance on those special days. But on this, the day which Louisiana celebrates, the colored citizens of Louisana have turned out en masse, to share the glory of her marvelous achievments. Forcibly seized and brought upon these pleasant shores in a mournful and darker day by the resistless hand of an erroneous system, and the overruling of an All-wise Providence, we are now here to stay, to enjoy the sunshine of a better and brighter day. Soon after La Salle named Louisiana in honor of Louis XIV, over 200 years ago, we were here.

When Bienville built the Crescent City and named it in honor of the Duke of Orleans, nearly 170 years ago, and when five years later it was made the capital of Louisiana, which then embraced all that territory which has since been organized into fourteen States and Territories, we were here, bought at the rate of three Indians for two negros, clearing the forests, tilling the soil, building cities, navigating these rivers and bayous, fighting Indians, and helping the white man to subdue this country. The negro having fought for the independence of this nation in the Revolutionary war, and having displayed his fighting capacity then, no sooner had the British forces under Gen. Pakenham invaded our shores, in the war of 1812, than Gen. Jackson called upon him again to participate "in the glorious struggle for national rights in which our country was engaged." How well the "black heroes of the battle of New Orleans" acted their part is shown by the applause which they elicited from the two continents and the flattering address of Gen. Jackson, wherein he says:

"I expected much from you, but you surpass my hopes. The President of the United States shall be informed of your conduct, and the voice of the representatives of the American nation shall applaud your valor as your General now praises arder." In the Mexican war, which gave the American nation Texas, Lower California and New Mexico, the negro furnished invaluable services. In your civil war he enlisted 186,017 strong, participated in 249 battles, and fonght nobly for his freedom and the Union; while the millions that remained at home won imperishable fame by their faithfulness in protecting and providing for the families of their masters, then absent in the war. Thus in all the struggles, which, under God, this nation or this State has had to undergo, the negro has proven himself a faithful and valuable ally—one worthy of manly consideration.

In smiling peace, or in grim-visaged war; in bountiful prosperity, or famishing adversity; in drenching floods, or in scorching drouths; in the pestilence that walketh in darkness; or the destruction that wasteth at noonday, except so far as our condition has been modified by our former relations of slaves and masters, freedmen and freemen, we have ever shared a common destiny. Our ancestors came here almost contemporaneously with your ancestors—the only difference being that yours came uninvited, while ours came by force.

Now, here we are, bound to this country and this State by all that is most dear to man. Here are our homes, our altars and the graves of our fathers. The great Henry Clay advocated the freedon of the slaves and their colonization in the land of their fathers. As late as 1862 Brig. Gen. Phelps, of the Union army, thought that the negro should be freed, enlisted in the army, and five years after the close of the war should be sent to Africa. Only a few years ago the Kentucky Live Stock Journal said: "One of the questions to be decided in the near future in Kentucky is to get rid of the redundant colored population." Theoretical statistitians and sociologists of the Gallian type have plead upon the same strain. Prominent negroes have annouced themselves the Moses the Aarons to lead the race to Africa.

The negro, in the meantime, increasing in numbers, education, character and wealth with unprecedented rapidity, is deporting himself so creditably in the walks of life as to change the opinion, command the respect, help and admiration of all good people North and South.

These having concluded, with us that for weal or wo, the American negro has come to stay; have set about the great humanitarian and self-preservative task of assisting himto the means of becoming a better and more valuable citizen. With the proudest Roman of them all, we declare that, if this is a State, we are citizens, and as such we rejoice in American prosperity and boast of her history, while for Louisana we entertain the love that warms the hearts of patriots and strengthens the arms of warriors.

With all her faults, we love her still.
"Yes, it is dear—fair Southern clime
Of genial suns and heart sincere;
And we will cherish it till time
Shall end, at last, our life's career."

To our white fellow-Louisianians, we say, with Ruth to Naomi:

"Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God. Where thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me and more also if ought but death part thee and me."

Years ago, De Bow's Review said: "What the South needs is an aristocracy. We know it takes half a thousand serfs to support one aristocrat. Nevertheless, we want an aristocracy. We practiced on that idea and fought for it. To expect us to change in one decade or two as to treat the serf and the aristocrat with impartiality, is expecting too much."

Such were the prevailent sentimeats of those times. But how changed! When a year or two ago the "civil rights bill" was declared unconstitutional; and when, more recently, the national government passed into the hands of the Democracy, and his Excellency Grover Cleveland was inaugurated as President of the United States, what papers stood more firmly than the New Orleans dailies in defense of, and pleaded more earnestly for the negro's civil rights, under state and common laws; and what papers sought more faithfully to allay the fears of the colored people with the assurance that slavery was dead, its resurrection undesired; and that assured them most emphatically that their rights should be held just as sacred under the administration of President Cleveland, as ever they were under his worthy predecessor, Gen. Chester A. Arthur?

I repeat the question, and ask what papers have done more toward the promotion of these ends than the conservative press of New Orleans, under the leadership of that model of Southern journalism, The Times Democrat? Our presence here to day, where the States and nations of the earth have gathered together to better acquaint themselves with each other, to exhibit the productions of their soils, the texture of their fabrics, their advancement in the industrial and fine arts, in the sciences, and in all the departments of human knowledge and activity; our own gorgeous, educational and industrial, exhibits of the Colored Departments of this World's Fair are convincing evidences of the wonderful changes wrought by the modifying hand of time. Verily, the world moves, and we move with it!

Fellow-citizens, we invite you to visit the Colored Department of this temple, dedicated to human skill and industry. Go through the exhibits of your colored fellow-citizens; examine the evidences of their thrift, industry and intelligence; their aptitude in the arts and science as well as in profitable and useful inventions; and decide for yourselves whether your "brother in black" has made any improvement since the war. These results, let it be borne in mind, have been reached under the most unfavorable circumstances. Freedom found the negro penniless and homeless, his sole capital being the public road for a home, and the pitying sky for a covering. "Not a foot of land did he possess, not a cottage in the wilderness." He was ignorant through no fault of his. He was steeped in degradation and dyed in moral obliquity, having no just appreciation of moral relations, whether they related to the family, the rights of property, or to adherence to the truth. These were the natural fruits of slavery. Such was the condition of that 'nation born in a day," which with lightnig rapidity emerged into freedom, became a soldier, a citizen, and a sovereign without a single preparation for the responsibility of of his new relations.

Such was the legacy willed by the war, to be assimilated into the body politic by the South. Prostrated by the war, bleeding from a thousand wounds, with poverty and destitution stalking everywhere, the South was in no condition, neither was she in such a temper as to undertake the task, nor to lend the helping hand which the freedmen's condition demanded. To expect that she then should be was, indeed, to expect too much of human nature. We are not here to boast, however, over our attainments, because they have not been reached entirely without help. We are here to acknowledge the help afforded us by both North and South. An army of self-sacrificing Northern missionaries, with Bible in one hand and spelling books in the other, scarcely waiting for the smoke of the battle to scatter, followed in the march of the Union army, sought the freedom, extended the help which they so much needed, but which the poverty and temper of the South at that time could not afford. Northern benevolence then and since has planted over $25,000,000 in this Southland, and has furnished an army of her best men and women to assist the Negro in his dire necessity.

The South gradually sweetening in her temper, and recovering from the sad reverses of the war, has now grasped the Negroes hand, and to-day her meagre and increaing facilities for a public school education are open to the colored as well as the white children. The churches of the South too are, to a limited extent, now engaged in educating the millions. The man that refused the mitre in favor of the school-room leads the movement.

To the credit of the South we can say that she opens her workshops, her factories, her warehouses, her tradesunions, and all the lines of her commercial activity to our hands, while in nearly all her fields we monopolize the labor.

To-day, after twenty-two short years of freedom, many of which have been cloudy, without any apparent silver lining, we present you the results. We present in the United States 7,000,000 Negroes with nearly 1,000,000 children in school; publishing over 80 newspapers; furnishing nearly 16,000 school teachers; about 15,000 students in the high schools and colleges; about 2,000,000 members in the Methodist and Baptist churches; owning 5,000,000 acres of land in the South; producing annually 1,000,000 more bales of cotton since than before the war; a saving of $56,000,000 in the fraudulent Freedmen's Bank, and an assessment of $100,000,000 worth of taxable property. These figures be it remembered, have not been gathered by black, but by white men. With the editor publishing this bit of information, we ask the question: "How do these facts impress you, when you consider that this race did not own itself twenty years ago?" They doubtless show every candid mind that, apart from all help from every friendly source the Negro has been exerting herculean efforts to help himself. In character, no less than in educational and material wealth, his progress has been marked and steady.

Ask the Rev. Dr. Marshall, whose name is a tower of strength in Mississippi; the Rev. Dr. Haygood, that "morning star" of another reformation; read the Vicksburg Herald and other progressive Southern papers. Consult the secular and religious teachers of the race, white or black, then visit again the Colored Department of this Exposition, and we will only ask like old Cromwell, that you grant us but one favor, and that is, that you paint us as we are.

As the representative of that class, I announce, with profound satisfaction, that the native and adopted colored sons of Louisiana are not unmindful of the exceptional helps, recognitions and advantages extended them by their white fellow-citizens. Louisiana leads the Southern rank of States in the recognition of their rights to "life, liberty and the pursuits of happiness." She has not reached the goal, however, "where a man's a man if he only will toil;" and where "the rights of equal justice is enjoyed alike by all;" but when she shall have reached that dizzy height, the color, like rank, shall be recognized to be but "The guinea's stamp,

The man's the gowd for a that."

Under the inspiration arising from what has been accomplished in the past, and the encouragements afforded by this memorable occasion, as Americans and loyal Louisianians, we take our places under the stars and stripes, under the protection of the eagle, and the pelican, to continue to labor to demonstrate our worth as men and citizens. And there we intend to stay until the soldiers of the Northern stars, and the Southern cross; until those who wore the blue and those who donned the gray; until the followers of Grant, and the followers of Lee; until the brother in red, in white and in the blue (or black) shall be blended together in the bonds of common interest as a triune humanity, receiving, in this land of ours, the continual blessings of a triune God.

A Million for Missions.

No appeal for an advance of the army of the Lord has ever met a more cordial response. Read the following:

J. M. Shumpert, Jackson District, Mississippi Conference: "The pastors of this district will, I think, without exception, most cordially co operate to make the plan a success. You may count on our advance."

L. Y. Cox, Eastern District, Delaware Conference: "Our collections so far bid fair to be in advance of any previous year. I heartily approve the plan for a great increase in the missionary collection, and will do all I can to help."

George W. Smith, Palestine District, Texas Conference: "I most heartily endorse the plan, and will do all I can."

W. M'Donald, Gulf District, Mississippi Conference: "I will do all I can on the Gulf District, and will see each pastor, and get him to begin at once."

Dr. Buckley gives us space for these replies, and will continue to do so till they are all in. Let us have a few words of cheer from all the generals of the host.

JNO. M. REID.
C. C. M'CABE.

The Presbyterian Church in the United States at present has fifteen Indian missions, among the following tribes: Senecas, Chippewas, Omahas, Creeks, Dakotas, Seminoles and Nez Perces. These missions have an aggregate of 1,256 communicants.

From the Districts.

The First Round on the Baton Rouge District for 1885.

REV. STEPHEN PRIESTLEY, P. E.

I have just completed my first round, and found everything looking very encouraging. Comite, with Bro. and Sister Kershaw, will do well. At Clinton, on account of the illness of the pastor's wife, Sister King, he could not be present. At Macedonia, Bro. Barnes had been very sick, but was better, and we had a nice time, and administered the communion to 25. At Mount Carmel we had a grand time with Bro. James. Things look bright and pleasant at this point. I next went over the hill to Wesley Chapel, where I found Bro. Rogers with a grand army for the Lord. I found at Jackson, La., that the pastor had been with the people, but as his family was not with him he had returned home. The people, who are much pleased with the newly appointed pastor, gave $15 to pay his moving expenses. Riding 32 miles up the State line, on horse back, I came to Bro. Sylander's charge, where I found him working like a bee making honey. Down at Killbourne I found Bro. Carr, surrounded by woods and water. I preached and had a pleasant time at his new work. My next visit was to Mt. Pleasant, where Bro. Wright has the promise of a fine piece of ground on the mount, by Mr. Hyce, to build a church on. A good man by the name of Mr. Sargent is caring for our preacher at this place. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are at Port Hickey. The people here are anxious to build a church on this beautiful hill, fronting the Mississippi river. I arrived at the Plains on Sunday and gave the Lord's Supper to over 85. On Monday I left for Baton Rouge, the capital of the State. Bro. Thompson was at his post, but not feeling well. He had all of his books, valued at over $300, in moving from Shreveport. After a 24 miles ride on horse back brought me to Stony Point. Having appointed here, I returned to Baton Rouge to meet Bro. Harper on the 28th and 29th. On Wednesday and Thursday we went over to West Baton Rouge and had a fine time with Sister H. Williams and Bro. J. P. Franklin. We found a nice people at Rosedale. Bro. Wills has a nice school and church at this place. I preached to a crowded house at Shiloh. On Saturday morning I left for our new work at Plaquemine, where I found Bro. Franklin. We had love feast and sacrament, after which I started for the hills again, visiting Dutch Town and Stony Point. Leaving those points I next visited Lake Providence and Vicksburg. I found one of the preachers of the Mississippi Conference, Bro. Griffin, very ill and not expected to recover. At Providence Bro. H. Smith is doing well. From there I went to Red River Landing. I was met by the brethren, the pastor having been on the circuit and gone home to visit his family. He was waiting for the steamer to send him means to return to his work again. Passing through a swamp, I reached Bayou Lafourche, where I found Rev. [illegible] Williams with a large field before him but no church property, but we are in hopes that some good man will open his heart soon and give these people of God a place to build a church on. After visiting this point I returned home, having completed my first round of the work in 19 days.

San Antonio District.

G. W. RICHARDSON, P. E.

I promised some of the preachers of this district to try and know the rest of [illegible] are doing this year better than we did last year. This is quarterly meeting day in San Antonio, and it is now after 7 o'clock in the morning, but the old church bell has just called a work about Sunday [illegible] church all this blessed morning. I missed of the music of [illegible] there has been the rain on the roof, with only a few minutes cessation. This is a strange way for me to spend the Sabbath, staying in my room all day. I arrived in the city last night in time to meet the quarterly conference in the new parsonage, while that old veteran, Bro. Larkin Carper, was conducting the revival services in the church. I found that extra meetings had been going on for about three weeks with glorious results. we had a pleasant session of the quarterly conference. Bro. Henson had everything in readiness; all the reports came up in good shape. The pastors receipts are good considering the fact that the weather has been unpleasant for the last three months. The first round this year was the most uncomfortable and discouraging work I ever did. I failed to reach Hondo Dec. 20, because the pastor, Bro. Brawley, said it was too soon after conference and he could not get there. At Seguin the official members came for the quarterly conference, but that was the only service we had. The severe weather kept the people away from church. At Mt. Pleasant we had a fair attendance of the official members on Saturday, but on Sunday there was a cold rain during the whole day and nobody came out. Monday the rain subsided and we had a small congregation at night. The collection was $1.

January 10th I reached Floresville, about 3 o'clock p. m., just in time for the quarterly conference, but found no one at the appointed place. The pastor had reached his work half an hour before I got there, but no one seemed to know anything definite about the quarterly conference, so we had none. We had a small congregation on Sunday, and I administered the sacrament to about 20 persons. I had appointments for preaching at Riddleville and Helena during the week, while on my way to Goliad, but the rain was so constent and the mud so deep there was no meeting at either place. Bro. Jacobs took me to Helena between showers, where I found myself Friday night, January 16, about 30 miles from my appointment the next day at Goliad. There was no stage, no public conveyance of any kind, but I must be in Goliad at 3 o'clock p. m. the next day. I asked Bro. Sullivan, the local preacher with whom I was stopping, to hire a team for me and I would foot the bill whatever it might be. He hired a man and team for $5, and at 9 o'clock Saturday morning I was off for Goliad. Six hours steady driving measured the distance, and I was set down at the Goliad Church in time for the quarterly conference. Bro. Carnes had been at his work four days, but the rain had prevented his getting around among his members, so he had no work to report. The people had heard of him and received him gladly, and made a liberal estimate for his support.

At Victoria the people were pleased with Bro. Mason. The Cuero people were delighted with their new pastor, who had just come with his family.

Bro. Dukes is on the Morales and Edna circuit for the third year and he seems to have a better hold on his people than ever before.

Bro. Townsend went to his work at Hallettsville during the dreary cold weather when everybody was dull. There was no arrangement made for taking care of him, and it was very natural that he should have the blues. But he was not the man to be driven from his work by a cold reception. At the quarterly conference the prospects seemed to brighten, and indicate a prosperous year.

Bro. Goodwin was doing well at Gonzales, and is highly appreciated.

Bro. Gibbons was pleased with his work, and his people were pleased with him. He seemed very much in earnest and determined to make this year a grand success.

Bro. Duncans, on Belmont circuit, had a little trouble in getting hold of a part of his work that had previously been connected with Gonzales. The members were very much attached to Bro. Goodwin and did not want to be weaned from him till he was removed from the circuit.

Bro. Norris is opening up finely on the San Marcos part of his work. But it seems very difficult to start the new mission in West San Antonio, to which he is also appointed.

A week ago to-day I should have been in Pleasanton, in Atascosa county, but my team was broken up by having my favorite horse stolen. That point is 35 miles from San Antonio, and far away from any railroad, and before I could fit up my team again it was too late to reach the appointment. I regret the failure the more because the pastor, Bro. J. H. Holden, is just now in sore affliction. His affectionate wife has passed on to the glory land before him. Pleasanton would have completed my first round, but as I failed to visit the Hondo and Fredericksburg circuit in December I visited that circuit and held their first quarter on the 21st and 22d of March. Bro. Brawley is opening up well; has already had some converts this year. I have organized a new work to be known as Victoria Mission, and have appointed Bro. S. Scraggs, a local preacher, in charge of it. Bro. Moses Green, of Goliad, is hunting up a new field of labor in Refugio, Live Oak and Bee counties.

I could only give a very hasty glance of my trips over the district, which gives a very imperfect idea of the real work that is going on, and indeed there had not been much work done at the time I visited the charges; but in several places the work is starting into new life since their quarterly conferences. I learn that Victoria has been visited with a revival of unusual power. Bro. Mason will, no doubt, give your readers an account of it. At Seguin Bro. Willie Reed is having victory. I have requested all the preachers on the district to write me at the same date at the close of each quarter of the year so I might tabulate the work done each three months, but some have failed to report, so such a table would be imperfect, and I omit it this time. There is one thing that looks very encouraging for the district this year. The quarterly conferences have, as a rule, made higher estimates for the support of the preachers than ever before. The average allowance to each preacher, including what the stewards will pay for rent for preachers' houses, and the rental value of the parsonages, and the little missionary money the preachers get, is $370. Leaving out the rent and the missionary money, the preachers have been allowed an average of $306. Last year the preachers on San Antonio District came nearer getting their allowance than they did on any other district in the West Texas Conference. Their receipts were 71 cents and 8 mills on the dollar, while on the Austin district the preachers received only 55 cents and 4 mills on the dollar according to the showing of our minutes. I state these facts to show the stewards how important it is that they should try to raise every cent of the preacher's allowance, and even then the preachers will receive too small a salary to give them and their families a comfortable support and furnish them the means to keep up their supply of books.

There is a disposition among the preachers all over the district to make this a year of the grandest victory we have ever had. The local preachers, as a rule, are also working to the same end. Many of them are supplying themselves with books and are studying to show themselves approved of God; workmen that should not be ashamed. We are all hoping and praying for a glorious harvest of souls this year.

San Antonio, April 5, 1885.

Beware of imitations, pretended cures and specifics, and spurious preparations. Take only Hunt's [Kidney and Liver] Remedy.

Do not forget to renew your subscription for the SOUTHWESTERN,

Letters from the Pastors.

Rev. Mack Henson, of San Antonio, Texas, writes: "I derive strength always from reading the able productions from the pens of Christian ministers and laymen in the columns of our dear old SOUTHWESTERN. I beg leave to correct a slight mistake which appeared in a good letter from the pen of our efficient and beloved presiding elder, Rev. G. W. Richardson. He, in alluding to action of the General Conference Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Philadelphia last May, says, "I think it was Rev. Mack Henson, of San Antonio, Texas, who arose and said, 'Mr. Chairman, in the name of 200,000 colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, I second that nomination,'" referring to the nomination of Rev. M. W. Taylor, D.D., for editor of the SOUTHWESTERN. I wish to say it was an honor of no small guage for any man to have the exquisite pleasure of rising in such a body as met in Philadelphia and said no longer speech than "Mr. Chairman." I believe it was Dr. J. C. Hartzell that arose, prefacing his able speech with well chosen words, and placed in nomination the name of Rev. Aristides E. P. Albert, B. D., for editor of the SOUTHWESTERN, and my speech and second was made in his support for editor of the paper, in view of the fact that he had held second place on the editorial staff. At that moment I did not know our esteemed Bro. M. W. Taylor. Since I have made the acquaintance it is mine to love and admire him, both in his official capacity and as a true and patriotic brother. The General Conference certainly made no mistake in chosing the man for the place. I am quite sure that my esteemed Bro. A. E. P. Albert will say 'amen!' to all that has been done or said relative to the action of the General Conference and SOUTHWESTERN. We are brethren; we have not a single one to sacrifice upon any altar saving the alter of God and humanity. Let honor be given to whom it is due. Bro. J. T. Gibbons will remember that I was the financial agent in 1879, and in connection with that work I had charge of the Simpson mission, the second charge in Austin. I was the first pastor assigned to that work. I only visited Lockhart in 1879, and our dear bereaved Bro. J. R. Carnes was pastor, and I was very kindly entertained by him and Sister Rosanna Carnes, which made and kindled in my heart undying sentiments of esteem and gratitude. She was an earnest and devoted Christian lady of a saintly type. I am quite sure Bro. Gibbons will fully appreciate the correction thus made."

Rev. B. M. Johnson, pastor of Steward's Chapel, Methodist Episcopal Church, writes: "When I came to this church I found that not one member was of our denomination. I found the Baptists in possession of the Chapel, and when I told them that I must take charge the preacher, who was a deep dyed Baptist, tried to turn the people against me. God seemed to be in the hearts of the people, however, for, though I was in the midst of strangers, I was nicely cared for. I wish to especially thank the two young gentlemen, Messrs. L. E. and M. Smith, for the warm manner in which they received me. I am now in possession of the chapel and doing nicely. Spring Creek is all right. I found 30 members there and was warmly received. We have no church here, but the good white people, as well as the colored ones, say they will help me to build one as soon as they get their crops in the ground. The times are hard, but we are going to build by the help of God."

Rev. J. Browley, of Hondo City, writes: "Our quarterly conference met on the 21st and 22d. Our presiding elder was present, and we had a nice time. The brothers were all present, and three of them administered the Lord's supper to about 50 persons. Two joined the church. Collection for the presiding elder $8. I like the work very well, and the people all seem satisfied. We have commenced our parsonage and will get it done in a few days. We have a lively Sunday-school, and do not intend for Hondo and Fredericksburg to be behind this year."

Rev. M. Adams, Okolona, Miss., writes: Our presiding elder, Rev. D. A. Williams, held our quarterly meeting on March 28 and 29. He preached for us in the afternoon and also at night, and administered the Lord's supper to several. We are in the midst of a protracted meeting, and many came forward to be prayed for. I am glad to say that we have a good Sunday-school here, and that the young men of our congregation are striving to make it a success. Elder Williams addressed the Sunday-school, and the scholars were much pleased to hear him say that we had the best school on his district. He also encouraged us to continue to improve."

Rev. J. H. Pierce, of Allen, La., writes: "The following is a brief sketch of what my people and I are doing for the missionary cause. I laid out a large space of ground on which to plant cotton, the receipts of which are to go to help the missionary cause. The most of my people are raising cotton, corn, chickens and hogs to be sold for the same purpose. We are doing all we can to get along and raise all the missionary money we can. We desire your prayers for our success in this undertaking."

Rev. J. F. Marshall, of Alexandria, La., writes: "My wife has been quite ill, but through the mercies of God, she is now able to get about again. The Lord has blessed us during a series of revival meetings; nine have been converted and several backsliders who had wandered away are returning to the fold of God, while others are penitent."

Rev. T. G. Montgomery, Shreveport, La., writes: "St. James Church is coming to the front. We have paid all the insurance on the church property, and have taken up all the town notes on the old debt on the parsonage except two, and we will take them up soon. We want to finish St. James Church soon, and make it second to none on the district. The brothers and sisters are working hard to save the church parsonage, and when they get this done they will raise money to move my family. We have commenced our protracted meeting, and have received three in full membership, 14 on probation and 5 converts. The Lord seems to be with us so far. The altar is crowded with sinners every night, and the members are doing all they can to save souls. We pray that the Lord will bless us.

Rev. T. Moore writes: "The Sulphur Springs and Boram mission quarterly conference was held at Brookston, March 28, 1885. The meeting was conducted by Presiding Elder Webb. After prayer Rev. S. H. Grant, assistant pastor, was elected secretary. The roll was called and a large number of members answered to their names. The elder preached Saturday night and Sunday. We received into the Church five from the C. M. E. Church, one convert and one in full connection. The presiding elder received $5.10. We have not more than 75 members here, but the field of labor is large and the outlook for the future good. The word is reported as in a good condition in Delta and Hopkins counties. Our next quarterly conference will meet in Charleston, Delta county, May 23rd and 24th. Bro. J. A. Adams was employed to assist on the northern end of the work, but the work being unable to support two, Elder Webb appointed him to the Pittsburgh mission."

On Temperance Principle.

Rev. S. P. Lewis pastor of the Eighth Street Baptist Church, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Parker's Tonic completely cured me of nervous exhaustion and general debility. I never met with anything so effective. It acts on strictly temperance principles. I take it with me on my vacation [illegible] the liquor habit.

Letters From the Laity.

A. A. Lacy, a local preacher at Union Chapel M. E. Church, New Orleans, La., writes: "Our pastor, Rev. S. Duncan, has a vast amount of business qualifications, and a well regulated system of church management. He has a good cabinet board of official brethren, men of first-class business qualities; he also has a No. 1 board of stewards. On the third Sunday in every month he has a local preachers' union, thus keeping the church in a perpetual blaze of union, peace and brotherhood. He has the church with him, soul and body, on the church extension money, and we pray for his success both spiritually and financially in this special direction."

J. W. Williams, of Thibodeauxville, Lafourche parish, La., writes: "I bade farewell to the A. M. E. Church about six months ago. The only thing that I regret is that I did not leave it sooner. I have enlisted in the Methodist Episcopal Church, which, to me, is the leading church of the globe. I am called to a halt when I look over her past history and see that she has done more for the upbuilding of our race than any other church in the world. Out of all my troubles, I mean to stay on board of this vessel, and go home to glory working as deck-hand on board this great ship that sails all over the world. I am a member and a local preacher of Calvary M. E. Church at this place under the leadership of Rev. G. W. Lacy. He is a fine man and much beloved by the people. He is a noble preacher."

N. N. Sidney, Esq., of Yazoo City, Miss., writes, May 11: "Bro. A. J. Oaks, a citizen of Yazoo City, Miss., while at church listening to the Word of God, an alarm was given, and he looked out of the window and saw his house on fire, and in a few minutes it had burned to ashes, and he arrived too late to save anything. Mr. Oaks has been principal of the public school here for eight or nine years, and has given general satisfaction. He is a perfect gentleman, and loved by every one. He works hard, night and day, trying to educate his race and people. Prof. Oak's loss is greatly regretted by all of his friends, white and colored. Let us pray for his success in this life. I write this letter because Prof. Oaks is a leading man in Yazoo City, among his race. He is our Worthy Master of Rising Sun Lodge No. 33; he is also Worthy Superior in the Sisters society, is our Sunday-school Superintendent and has been for years. He is a gentleman in every respect."

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night sweats and all lingering coughs, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Superior to cod liver oil. By druggists.

Seven hundred thousand acres in India are devoted to the raising of opium. The natives were compelled at first by the Government of India to cultivate the poppy from which it is made, and the government derives an immense revenue from it. The whole Eastern world is suffering terribly from this ourse; inflicted by the foremost nation on the earth. Not only the Eastern but the Western world is feeling the sad effects of the vice of opium using. It is said that twenty thousand people in this country are the victims of the opium habit. From the last annual report of the Bureau of Statistics there were thirty thousand pounds more opium imported than in the previous year, and our Government receives more than a half million dollars duty on it, and we are all partners in this internal revenue business.—Christian Statesman.

Publisher's Agents.

In order to facilitate the transaction of business with our customers we have arranged with Edward Alden & Bro., Fifth and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and 140 Nassau street, New York, making them our Special Publisher's Agents, and giving them charge of the foregin advertising patronage of our paper. All communications in relation to this department should be addressed to them. tf

Our Schools in the South.

BY REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.

A CRISIS

A crisis of very great importance has been reached in our Southern educational work. Year by year the work has advanced in the number and efficiency of its institutions, and each year the receipts in money from the church have also increased.

But the increase in the yearly contributions of the church has not at all kept pace with the constantly growing demand of the work.

The Freedmen's Aid Society, which has this important work in charge, is confronted with facts which awakened the gravest apprehensions. It finds itself expected, by the church, to buy lands, build buildings, and employ teachers for the equipment of institutions of Christian learning, to meet the pressing demands of nearly one-fourth of the entire Methodist Episcopal Church. And the gravity of the situation is increased by the fact that a very large proportion of these multitudes of our Zion in the South, among both white and colored people, are both poor and ignorant themselves, and are surrounded by the results of generations of poverty and ignorance in multitudes of others.

TO WHAT OUR SOUTHERN EDUCATIONAL WORK HAS GROWN.

"I never before realized the importance and magnitude of this work," said a pastor, after listening to an address about it. He had not studied the subject. Too many of our pastors and people have not given proper thought to this matter, either from lack of time or inclination. In no department of church effort have the evidences of God's superintending providence been more manifest than in the organization and growth of this educational work. It began immediately after the war, among the colored people, chiefly by influences from without, and among the white people through their own efforts and liberality, even in the midst of their poverty.

Our schools among the freedmen have grown in number and improved in character until we now have twenty-one of them, with 106 teachers and 3,023 young men and women in attendance, a large proportion of whom are studying to be preachers and teachers. These schools have, of necessity, been almost wholly supported by the Freedmen's Aid Society.

On the other hand, a development no less remarkable has gone forward among our Southern white people. In the midst of their poverty, with but little aid from the general church, they have laid the foundations of what have grown to be eighteen institutions, in which are eighty-six teachers, and over two thousand young men and women. From these young, and as a rule poorly-equipped, institutions, have gone out, during the past fifteen years, more than one thousand to preach and teach, who for longer or shorter periods have been students. The beginning and growth of these schools were so manifestly of God, and the demands of their enlargement were so clearly providential, and the people themselves being greatly in need of help, the General Conference of 1880 and 1884, without changing the name of the Society, directed that this work should be helped as our funds would justify, in addition to meeting the wants of the work already in hand. The action taken was that the "entire educational work in the Southern States should be under the direction of one Society," and that the Freedmen's Aid Society should "have full charge of this work in that section."

Here, then, is a summary of the work this society is expected to maintain and develop, in a section of our country where the great masses of our ignorant and poor people dwell. Thirty-nine institutions, with 193 teachers, and nearly [illegible] men and women as students, nearly all of whom come [illegible] contact with generations of poverty and ignorance, [illegible] struggling by their own efforts to meet the call of God within them, to prepare for lives of usefulness.

ONLY A FEW FOUNDATION STONES.

Remarkable as has been this development and these results, they are only a beginning—a few foundation stones placed here and there on which to build for the future.

The South has now one-third of the nation's population. That proportion will continue, if not increase. The star indicating the centre of the nation's population now rests south of the Ohio River. The forces, intellectual and moral, which educate and elevate the millions of our illiterate and poor in the South, will, in proportion to their numbers and efficiency, do more for the future good of America's millions than those operating anywhere else. To this correct conclusion came one of our noble benefactors after traveling at home and abroad and studying every phase of benevolent Church work. He began by giving $27,000, and will more than double that.

THE RELATION OF THIS WORK TO THE M. E. CHURCH IN THE SOUTH.

Consider how this educational work is related to the M. E. Church in the South. Twenty years ago, on what was slave territory, we had only a small membership along the border, but now in that same section are found nearly one fourth of our entire membership. In that time nearly 4,000 new church edifices have been erected. The increase in membership has been over 350,000. This growth has been about equally divided between the Anglo and Atrico-Americans, showing that our Methodism preaches the Gospel alike to all. Our membership in the South now numbers 420,000, which represents a population of 2,000,000. What will be its numbers in another generation? In the past twenty years the increase has been eight-fold! With less than one-fourth the same rate of increase, another generation will give the M. E. Church 1,000,000 members, and a population of 5,000,000 souls in the sixteen Southern States!

Whence are to come the ministers for the pulpits, the Christian teachers for the schools, the Christian men and women to lead in the home, industrial and professional lives among these masses? They must come largely, and in many parts of the South almost wholly, from our own Christian schools. Not to furnish these leaders is to signally fail in our mission as a division of Christ's army.

FRATERNITY.

One of these problems is the development of an intelligent and lasting fraternity between the sections North and South. A beginning has been made under the lead of Christian men of both sections; but it is only a beginning. Much is said about the "results of the war" passing away. These are nearly all gone. The mistake is in classifying, under the results of the war, questions which that event scarcely touched, and of which it was itself one of the effects. The conflict of arms was indeed only an inevitable incident to a much graeter and more terrific conflict in sentiment and conviction between the sections. To pacify the waves made by a passing storm on the face of the ocean, does not calm the surging currents in the depths below. So the animosities and bitterness caused by the conflict of arms, may be regarded as past, but the surging currents of beliefs and prejudices, of which of that conflict was only an incident, largely remain. to expect that secular statesmanship, business and social life will so modify as to harmonize these, is to forget how helpless they were in preventing the war. It was when the Christian forces of this nation divided, some in anger and some with a friendly grasp of the hand, that national unity ended; and it will only be when these same forces are again one in heart, and purpose, and effort, that the nation will be one again in fact.

How shall this be? God has all these years since Appomattox indicated the place where that unity must be first firmly rooted. That place is the South, where for generations the whole nation consented to slavery and its dreadful results among both white and colored people. He indicates with equal distinctness the work to be done. It is warfare against a common foe—sin and its consequences—that welds Christian hearts and makes them one. Behold the field! Millions of negroes and white people unable to read or write, and in the bonds of prejudice, and superstition, and sin, as heavy as bind millions of other lands for whom we pray and labor. Hear the voice of God, O, cultured millions of the South, and you of the North, and hearing, obey! Let the generations of injustice to the negro and of neglect of other poor and needy ones in the South, be matched by at least as many years of sublime faith and effort to redeem them. Something has been done, but the magnitude of the work and its appalling aspects do not yet burden and alarm the American Church.

When they do, then national fraternity, resting upon an American Church, unified in sublime faith and effort, will be a fact and not before.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM

Glance a moment at the negro problem, every day intensifying in interest and danger. It is a national problem, for the whole nation can solve it, and if not solved, the whole nation must suffer in the awful calamities to follow.

Seven millions of negroes! Every eighth person in the republic a negro! And increasing proportionately more rapidly by births alone than the whites are by births and immigration. In two generations there will be fifty millions of negroes under the flag. But this is more a southern than national question. Six and a half millions, or twelve-thirteenths of these people are in the South. There, where for generations they were slaves, and are yet regarded as an alien menial race, their characters as Christians and citizens must be fixed and their relations to their neighbors established; and to add, if possible, yet greater intensity to the elements of this problem, the millions of negroes in the South are gravitating into certain centres. Already there are three States, and in fifteen years there will be eight States in which the negroes will outnumber the whites. Eight black republics in our commonwealth of States! How poorly these masses are prepared for such responsibility! How tardily the church and nation rise to the magnitude of the work of preparing them for those responsibilities!

But this negro problem has a yet more dificult factor than numbers, or ignorance, or poverty, and that is the factor of race antagonism.

How camly the nation sits over the fires of this volcano! When the negroes outnumber the whites in those eight states, and are more advanced in the elements of agressive manhood, will they be accorded the full rights and fruits of his citizenship without a conflict? What lessons have come to us on that point since the war, and what are the facts to-day in some of the States? Nothing but the speedy appliance of every phase and element of Christian endeavor among both races, together with the best method which can be devised by the States and the nation for general and Christian education, can prevent the most serious conflicts of races in the near future. Happy will we be if they can be prevented at all! Here again in the forefront, more important than all other forces, stands the Christian Church and the Christian school.

OUR NATIONAL STORM CLOUD

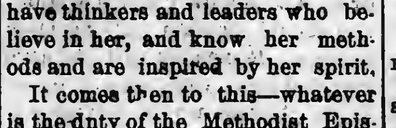
One other great fact must be named, because it complicates and intensifies every part of each problem mentioned, and that is the wide-spread and appalling illiteracy which is met everywhere in the South. The last census has made the facts familliar to the nation. The South has 5,000,000 of illiterates in a population of 18,000,000 That means that thirty-six and one half per cent, of the people cannot read or write. Nineteen per cent, of the whites and seventy-three of the colored people in the South cannot read or write. In the region where the eight black repnblics will soon be, nearly one-half the entire population cannot read, and in the same region twenty-five cent of the whites and seventy-eight of per cent. of the colored are illiterate. If yon take the voters yon have this showing—ont of 1,900,000 male adnlts, white and black, in the South, 867,000, or forty-five per cent., cannot read the ballots they cast. The schoolhouse was the last thing that slavery could tolerate except for the favored few.

Here is our national storm cloud! Only through the force of speedy Christiau culture, we may escape the dangers it threatens.

THE RESPONSIBILLITY OF THE CHURCH.

One may say. "The State must edncate her illiterate masses." Another may add, "The question of the negro's future and his relations to the white man will solve itself if let alone." And others may ask, Why so much responsibility upon the church?" And still again, "If the church has so much responsibility, cannot this be met better by the old Southern denominations on the ground?"

True, the State must educate her masses in common public schools; but the State must first believe that commou schools for the masses are wise and necessary. The South, led by her churchmen of all denominations, did not believe in common schools for the masses, even for the whites, and made it a penal offense to edncate the blacks. Now the South is coming to believe in the education of the masses.



The great responsibility of the church is, then, the correction wherever needed, the awakening and direction of public sentiment touching popular education and the negro. To do this, the church must have her own institutions. If she is to lead or direct the thought of the people, she must have thinkers and leaders who believe in her, and know her methods and are inspired by her spirit.

It comes then to this—whatever is the dnty of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the 2,000,000 of her own population in the South, and through them to the multiplied millions soon to be, that duty can only be met by laying well and strongly the tonndations of her own institutions of Christian learning in that section.

"What we learn we never ferget."—Alfred Mercier. The following is the case in point. "I paid out hnndreds of dollars without receiving anybenefit," says Mrs. Emily Rhoads, of McBrides, Mich. "I had female complaints, especially 'dragging-down,' for over six years. Dr. R. V. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' did me more good than any medicine I ever took. I advise every sick lady to take it." And so do we. It never disappoints its patrons. Druggists sell it.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
July 17-1y.

GEORGE LANDRY,

Undertaker.

292.....Rampart Street.....292
(Between Hospital and Barracks streets)
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Entrepreneur de Pompes Funebres.
All orders promptly and carefully executed a moderate prices.
sept25-tf A. LABAT, Ass't Manager.

P. P. ALBERT,
(Successor to L Bibolet, Manager,)
Produce Merchant,
And Dealer in Groceries,
S ..... Toulouse Street,..... S
P. O. Box 3249. NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Personal attention given to the sale of all produce entrusted to my care, and prompt returns rendered for same. All orders promptly filled at lowest market rates, for cash. Liberal advances made on consignments when received. Correspondence solicited.
☞ No transactions on Sundays. sept25-tf

Plantation Melodies
—AND—
REVIVAL HYMNS.
By MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D.
WITH AN INTRODUCTION
By Rev. F. S. HOYT, D.D., Editor of the Western Christian Advocate.
Second Edition, Enlarged and Improved.
Bound in cloth, gilt, 272 pages, and portrait. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 60 cents.
Address, PHILLIPS & HUNT
32 Natchez street, New Orleans

J. T. Newman, M. D.,
—PRACTICING—
Surgeon and Physician,
315 Felicity Street,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
☞ Makes a specialty of treating colred people. jan15-1y

New Course of Study.

The Bishops, at their meeting held immediately after the adjournment of the General Conference, arranged the following course of study to be pursued by candidates for the Methodist ministry. All examinations made after May 1, 1885, will be upon this new course of study:

For Traveling Preachers.

FOR ADMISSION ON TRIAL.

Common English Branches.
History of the U. S.—Ridpath	$3 00
Scripture History.—Smith. (Abridged edition in one volume.) Net	60
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3) Net	5
History of Methodism.—Stevens. (Abridged edition.)	3 00
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Edition of 1884
Compendium of Methodism.—Porter	1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I) sett	5 00
Books of reference:
Whitney's Hand-book of Bible Geography	2 25
Freeman's Hand-book of Bible Manners and Customs	2 25

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scripture chapters LXXX—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope.) Vol I) sett	7 50
Plain Account of hris tian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Ancient History.—Thalheimer. Net	1 00
Rhetoric.—Hill, Net	1 00
Written Sermons.
To be read:
Wesley's Seemons (Vol II.)
Christian Purity—Foster	1 50
Introduction to the Gospel Records—Nast	1 75
Ecclesiastical Law and Rules of Evidence—Henry and Harris	3 00
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol I.—Reid	3 00

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology.—Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. (chapters XXI-LII)—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology—Compendium of Christian Theology. Vol. II.—Pope	1 75
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 00
Lessons in Logic.—Sevons. Net	40
To be read:
Checks to Antinomianism—Fletcher	5 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged). Stevens	3 00
Defense of our Fathers—Emory	85
History of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Vol. II.—Reid	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters I-XIII.—Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Compendium of Christian Theology.—Pope. Vol. III	7 50
Atonement in hrist.—Miley	1 25
History of the Church.—Blackburn	2 50
Intellectual Science—Porter	3 00
Homiletics.—Kidder	1 50
Written Sermon
To be read:
Theological Encyclopedia and Methodology.—Crooks and Hurst	3 50
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Biblical Theology. Introduction to the Holy Scriptures. New Testament: Chapters XIX-XLIV. Harman	4 00
Systematic Theology. Theological Institutes. Part II.—Watson	6 00
Analogy of Natural and Revealed Theology.—Butler	1 50
Written Exegesis
To be read:
Life and Epistles of St. Paul.—onybeare and Howson. (Abridged Edition)	1 00
Biblical Hermeneutics.—Terry
History of Rationalism.—Hurst	3 00

For Local Preachers.

FIRST YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: History. Outlines of Bible History.—Hurst	$ 50
Catechism of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (No. 3)	05
Christian Theology. Introduction and Book I.—Wakefield	2 50
Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. (Edition of 1884)
Philosophy of the Plan of Salvation.—Walker	1 25
To be read:
Hints to Self-educated Ministers.—Porter	1 25
A Hundred Years of Methodism—Simpson	1 50
Portrait of St. Paul.—Fletcher	75

SECOND YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible: Doctrines
Christian Theology. Books II and III.—Wakefield	2 50
Christian Baptism.—Merrill	1 00
Church History: Outlines of Church History.—Hurst	50
Ancient History.—Thalheimer
To be read:
Lectures on Preaching.—Simpson	1 25
History of the United States.—Ridpath	3 00
History of Methodism. (Abridged Edition).—Stevens	3 00

THIRD YEAR.

To be studied:
The Bible. Sacraments
Christian Theology. Books IV and V.—Wakefield	2 50
Plain Account of hristian Perfection.—Wesley	30
Aspects of Christian Experience.—Merrill	1 00
Rhetoric.—Haven	90
Mediæval and Modern History.—Thalheimer.	1 50
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. (Vol. I.) Introduction to the Gospel Records.—Nast	5 00
Era of the Protestant Revolution.—Seebohn.	1 25
	75

FOURTH YEAR.

To be studied:
Christian Theology. Books VI and VII.—Wakefield	2 50
Logic.—Jevons. (Science Primer Edition.)	45
Elements of Intellectual Science.—Porter	3 00
Review of the course for the three preceding years
To be read:
Wesley's Sermons. Vol. II. hooks to Antinomianism.—Fletcher	5 00
History of the Reformation.—Fisher	2 00
Protestant Foreign Missions.—hristlieb	1 00

Terms, cash with order. Address
PHILLIPS & HUNT.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans.

Berean Lesson Helps.

Sunday-School Journal.
For Teachers and Young People.
To clubs of six or more, one address, 55 cents each. 55 cents a year.
The best help for teachers and older scholars. The questions from all the Question-books will be published regularly in the JOURNAL.

The Study.
For Superintendents, Primary Teachers, and Advanced Workers.
50 Cents a Year.
It contains Plans and Lesson-hints, Black-board Outlines, and a "Bureau of Information."

The Senior Leaf.
For Bible Classes and the Adnl Department.
20 Cents a Year.
The Senior Leaf will contain each quarter the words and music of new songs, besides the words of Church Hymns, and responsive readings.

The Berean Leaf.
For Scholars from 10 to 16 Years of Age.
6 Cents a Year.
The Berean Leaf will contain more matter than ever before. The words and music of a new Song, and the words without music of the Song (with music) in the Senior Leaf.

The Beginner's Leaf.
For the Younger Scholars.
6 Cents a Year.
The beginners will find in this Quarterly the same songs and Hymns as in the other Leaves, and questions adapted to their grade.

Leaf Cluster.
For the Little Folks.
$4 a Year; $1 a Quarter.
The Leaf Cluster has been enlarged and made beautiful by a new process of engraving, and is a valuable help in the teaching of the lessons to the little ones.

Picture Lesson Paper.
For Infant Classes.
25 Cents a Year.
The Pictures Lesson Paper is printed on tinted paper, with beautiful engravings, questions and stories for the little people. The most attractive little children's paper published.

Sunday-school Advocate.
For the Children.
Single copy, 35 Cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 Cents each. The freshest, finest and best paper for children.

Sunday-School Classmate.
For Scholars from 12 to 18 Years of Age.
Single copy, 35 cents a year. To clubs of six or more, one address, 25 cents each.
This beautifully illustrated paper contains the best reading for young people.

N. B.—All orders should be sent two weeks in advance to prevent delays in reprinting, and other unavoidable causes. Orders for periodicals and books should be made separate.
PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

Juvenile Periodicals.

We are now prepared to furnish the following Juvenile Periodicals for 1885 at the regular subscription price:

WIDE AWAKE,
The Great Pictorial Magazine,
$3.00 a Year.
WIDE AWAKE, the best, the most entertaining, the most beautifully illustrated of all magazines for young people.

BABYLAND.
The Only Magazine in the World Exprass for Babies.
Only 50 Cents a Year.
It will have its baby music, its baby stories, and its large, beautiful picture

Our Little Men and Women
For Youngest Readers at Home and at School.
Only $1.00 a Year.
Little men and women just beginning to read, will find this monthly filled with charming stories and poems. It is the aim of the editor to give entirely true stories, or stories based on facts.

THE PANSY,
An Eight page Weekly, for Boys and Girls
Only 75 Cents a Year.
This illustrated paper, edited by "Pansy," is equally suited to week day and Sunday reading.

Subscriptions received by
PHILLIPS & HUNT,
32 Natchez St., New Orleans.

THE SOUTHWESTERN.

MARSHALL W. TAYLOR, D.D., Editor.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1885.

Removal.

Correspondents and other friends will please take notice that we have removed our office from No. 32 to No. 37 Natchez Street, second floor, rear room. PHILLIPS & HUNT.

Notice to Agents.

DEAR BRETHREN—It is usna for us to call upon you at this period of the year to make a special effort for your Church paper. The general prevalence of dull times makes it imperative that we call upon each agent to send a sum of money to this office within the next ten days. Do not hesitate to send small amounts. Every dollar will count. Give the old accounts the preference, and if an agent owes nothing let him secure a cash sub scriber or two and forward the money to

PHILLIPS & HUNT,
37 Natchez St., New Orleans, La.

As is the sting of an angry scorpion, such is also the association of a lewd, but not the companionship of virtuous woman.

Decoration Day and the close of the Exposition both mark an era here. One tells of the perils, privations and estrangements of civil war. The other peace and recovery from all the blights and passions growing out of the deadly strife of the past. The Exposition, as is now thought, can be reopened next Fall. Whatever happens the days of May will again bring loving hands, with fragrant flowers, and memories of our nation's heroic dead.

A rather extensive fire broke out at the corner of St Andrew and Franklin streets, extending toward Dauphine, and consuming several small houses Monday morning June 1st about daylight. The fire department gets around in their annual parade somewhat more effectively, it would seem, from the late arrival made at the scene of the conflagration, than they do at such times as these. The water service is anything but perfect, and the wonder is that this city, with so little preparation to resist it, does not suffer from disastrous fires more frequently.

It is becoming alarmingly common to hear of families being broken up these days, and the alleged cause universally assigned is lewd conduct on the part of husband or wife, or both. This, it seems to us, could be abated by firm enforcement of Church discipline, careful work by grand juries, the same being in part composed of colored men. A rigid enforcement of laws against the crime of bigamy, and divorces for frivolous and unscriptural reasons. We do not believe that there is as much conjugal infidelity as these cases would seem to indicate, but that a low estimate of the marital obligation, and a disposition to avoid responsibilities is too often the real trouble.

On our return from attendance on the Lexington Conference and a subscription canvass in its territory, we find several communications awaiting us relative to an article republished from the Woman's Home Mission, Delaware, O., which was omitted to credit at the time, and thereby occasioned some misunderstanding among friends in Philadelphia. When we say that the article was reprinted by us without changing a word or a sentence, that we then accepted no responsibility as to the merits of the article of Rev. J. C. Eckles; that we were unaware of the statement made by Bro. Eckles that the article consisted of extracts from a private letter to a friend, we have said all that is necessary to be said on our

The Bible of 1611-1885 Now Ready.

The revision of Scriptures is now completed. In the revised version of the Old and New Testament we have a very nsefnl work if it is employed as we would employ an anthoritative commentary. It is not likely that the revision of 1885 will very snddenly come into general use instead of anthorized version of 1611. Our pnblishing house have in stock three styles, which we have examined. They range in price as follows: 16mo., very fine type, $1; 12mo., better type, $2; 8mo., bold, pleasing, restful type, $8, with 20 per cent discount to ministers. All have marginal references, and contain both the Old and New Testaments. The revisers began their work of changes in the reading at the very threshold of the book. For example, we find in Gen. 1, 2, the following:

"And the earth was without form and void," A. V.

"And the earth was waste and void," R. V.

Gen. 1, 5, "And the evening and the morning were the first day," A. V

"And there was evening and there was morning one day," R. V. This form follows at the conclusion of each day's creation thns, "And there was evening a second, a third day," etc., to the end of the days.

Gen. 5, 2, compared reads thns: "I have slain a man to my wonnding, and a young man to my hurt," A. V. "I have slain a man for wonnding me, and a young man for bruising me," R. V.

This, it will be readily seen, is a great improvement on the old form of statement, for it makes the writers intent immediately apparent. So on throngh the book the one object songht has been perspicuity, and this has been attained. In the case of the conception of Esau and Jacob we have this change: "Two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels, and the one people shall be stronger than the other people, and the elder shall serve the younger," A. V. "And two peoples shall be separated even from thy bowels;

And the one people shall be stronger than the other people;

And the elder shall serve the younger," R. V.

In the following passage the added word of the old version is omitted and the force of the entire statement thereby reversed, read: Dent. 30, 6, "Let Renben live, and not die, and let not his men be few,' A. V.

"Let Renben live, and not die; yet let his men be few," R. V.

In the 16th Psalm 10th, we find the following change, "For thon wilt not leave my soul in hell," A. V. "For thon wilt leave my soul to sheol."

There are also changes in the reading of the Decalogne, of which this is an example:

Ex. xx, 4, "Thou shalt not make nnto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water nnder the earth," A. V.

"Thou shalt not make nnto thee a graven image, nor the likeness of any FORM that is in heaven above, etc."

There are many other changes in the reading and form of the text, but these will fairly indicate the line of work done. How far this is useful to any one will depend, of course, npon the extent of his learning and skill in translating for himself. Bnt we deem the new revision a valnable adjunct to a snecessful study of the Bible. Apropos of this we would add that onr Book Concern can furnish any class of Bibles as cheap as they can be had elsewhere, and at the same time relieve purchasers of many embarrassments to be encountered by persons who are not accustomed to trading in books.

Monsieur Victor Hugo Dead.

M. Victor Hugo, France's great scholar, poet and philanthropist, is dead. He died Friday, May 23, in Paris. This distinguished personage has devoted much of his long and useful life to the cause of hnmanity. He was a faiend to the Negroes. He made earnest bnt unsnccessful efforts to secnre a fellowship in the Academy of Paris for M. Alexander Dumas, Sr. His failure was said to be in consequence of Mons. Dumas' blood connection with the Negro race. It was his persistent efforts which finally culminated in the admission of M. Alexander Dumas, Jr., to this great distinction previously denied his father, and M. Hngo was spared not only to witness this signal triumph of merit over prejndice, but enjoy what mnst have been to him an nnbounded pleasure—that of presiding when M. Dumaz received this literary eminence in spite of his African extraction. France has raised no greater civilan than this deceased. His death, thongh natural and to be expected, is nevertheless a great griet to France and to civilization generally. He declined the services of a Roman Catholic priest thongh tendered him in his last hours.

A Word to Correspondents.

Letters written to this office with matter for the paper should be addressed to the editor, and should contain nothing that concerns the business department. We sometimes receive letters which contain orders for books, lists of snbscribers, marriages, deaths and a report of a pastor's work all together. Now, snch a letter as this will go into the hands of our bnsiness agent, and await there until in the order of business he reaches it. Then he will attend to the business and give it to the editor. Then it must be carefully taken to pieces and each subject pnt where it belongs, and by this time the writer is ont of patience waiting to see it in print, and so is the editor. Pnt only what yon want printed in letters to the paper. Write everything on one side of the sheet, and pnt marriages, deaths and reports each by itself. If yon write a private letter mark it personal on the outside of the envelope and address it to the editor. If yon fail to do this do not think it is a long time before, if it ever, appears in print. Letters on business should be addressed to Messrs. Phillips & Hunt, and should contain only business matters. Remember this and save time and save your temper by so doing. Sometimes the envelope is our only clne to the locality we want to find, and this is generally thrown into the waste basket by the party who opens the letter.

The Cincinnati Horror.

One of the many tall, ill contrived and crowded Cincinnati bnsiness houses recently took fire and burned. With it 15 lives have been so far lost and several wounded. The main causes of the disaster seems to be insecure means of speedy egress and the careless handling of explosive oils. A bright spot in this disk of sadness is the action of two colored men who, to save the lives of sufferers in the bnilding, voluntarily pnt their own lives in peril. Not a Negro girl wonld have been given, or allowed to do it if work had been given her in that bnilding with the other girls there. Yet, with the full knowledge of this before their eyes, these Negro men bravely threw their own bodies between the bodies of perishing white girls and danger. Like instances can be multiplied by thousands. Yet this heroic, self forgetting service did not secure for them respectful mention universally. The Cincinnati Enquirer, a powerful daily paper, spoke kindly of them, bnt used a smal "n" before the Negro in discribing them. When it comes to works of hnmanity, forgiving offences wantonly and canselessly committed npon them, going two miles instead of one, and turning the other when one cheek is smitten, or giving the coat when cloak is taken, the Negroes have the call on all other Christian people. Nor is this cowardice, either. It is goodness. They are a good natured, kind-hearted people. They love to do good and be kindly treated in return for it. God has endowed them with this character for divine uses. He will call them into a more gloriously useful state in the future. Nothing can prevent it bnt the loss of this amiable disposition. We pray that it may not be lost; nor do we think that it ever will be. Much that seems contradictory to this is charged npon them, bnt if courts rather than mobs were to decide their cases it wonld be often fonnd that the black color which hid a criminal was artificial color.

Spring.

Winter has lingered long, done its worst and its best, and gone. Spring, tardy bnt long awaited and heartily welcomed, has at last come skipping over the monntains and plains of time with mantle of fragrance and beanty thrown abont her comely form. Verdant fields and blooming forests tell of its revivifying power, while the balmy air and glorious snn warms our winter stupor into merry song and lithesome motion. Birds on wing, beasts on foot, and reptile in the dust are busy all at work for present and fnture joy and the reproduction of their kind. Why shonld man be unmindful at this season of seedtime? It is time to plow and plant that later we may reap and gather into barns. "What a man sows that shall he also reap." If the snn shines on an idle life, the winter snow, winds and rains will fall upon a cold, cheerless and desolate home. Spring is as the morning of the day and as the early manhood of hnman life. The evening of the day and the maturity of the life will develop and matnre the planting of the morning. Who misses the seedtime will donbtless find himself hindered by the early frost of adversity. We must in things temporal as those eternal things, physical as those spiritnal, "work while it is day for the night cometh when no man can work."

Summer is not for planting bnt for ripening. If nothing good or useful was planted in the Spring, nothing of this class can mature in the summer, ex nihilo nihil fit. If nothing has come to maturity in the snmmer of life, because nothing of merit and praise was planted in the Spring, then there can be nothing useful or praiseworthy gathered in barns when the evening or Autnmn of our time shall have come. Hence the winter of life and the chill of death will find ns naked and poor. We shall be crying the "Harvest is past, the snmmer is ended and we are not saved."

God of Elijah and Israel help every reader of this article to begin his ploughing and planting at once. "Set thine house in order for thon must die and not live." As preachers begin the revivals, take all the collections, lay plans for general improvement, clean np the churches, look after the debts, visit the people, take an interest in all that interests them, and sweeten your own homes by sweetening your own habits and temper. As people let us plant sympathy and co-operation for our pastors by the side of love to God and map way deep down in our hearts, and bring them np in constant practice. As teachers let ns plant in the Spring-time of our pnpils lives the very best literary, moral, religious and econonomical seed that the snmmer of manand womanhood may mature for them that which shall be of abiding valne. As Methodists, let us plant the seed of loving reverence for our doctrines, church polity, usages, peculiarities and purpose to keep them "not for wrath bnt conscience sake." Thns will the summer ripen us into holiness, and the end will be everlasting life." With snch a Spring what a summer and Antnmn must follow, and as for winter there will be none to follow snch a Spring.

The following cablegram was received at the Mission Rooms and delivered to General Grant. "Venezia, April 29, 1885—Convey to General Grant expressions of cordial sympathy, gratitnde and best wishes of the Italy Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Signed, John F, Hurst."

Up the Congo.

The deep interest being taken in the Congo country just now apparently looks more to the accnmnlation of wealth in the form of ivory than to civilization. Avarice is a rapidly infections and spreading contagion. It now seems that the Arabs and their Congo allies have taken the disease, and a collision at arms between the occnpants of the Congo country in the name of several European States, and the natural owners of the soil and their confederates is eminent. It may not be now, bnt ultimately a fearful strngge for land and gold will be witnessed in this part of Africa. It will be a long time before any permanent settlement of interior Africa will be accomplished by foreigners by other than snch means as those being employed there by our Church nnder Bishop Taylor. Pray for him.

Moving Southwestward.

There has been organized in New York City a corporation known as the "Missouri Land and Gnaranty Investment Company," with ample capital to purchase and colonize large tracts of land in the Southwest. Germans and Scandinavians will form the principal colonists. The Stetten Lloyd line of steamships, throngh their agent, Mr. H. C. Hamsberger, has contracted to bring from Europe twenty thousand immigrants for the colonization company. Mr. O. T. Southworth is manager of the land department. Emile Lindborg, Commissioner of Swedish Immigration, 77 Medar street, New York.

It would be well for our colored people to identify themselves with every movement looking to the ownership of these southwestern lands.

The United Brethren.

The United Brethren are in General Conference at Dayton, Ohio. The conference has important work on hand. Six Bishops will in all probability be chosen, one of them for Africa and Europe. Dr. Shuey, their pnblishing agent, is prominently mentioned for, and wonld fitly adorn the Episcopal seat. This Church has formerly been strennously anti-masonic in its legislation, bnt the present conference tends to relaxation at that point, and it is likely will decide npon the reception of the members of this craft to their communion hereafter. It is providential that just now each church is moving with increased momentnm toward Africa. Christ can conqner Africa without either sword or cannon. So be it.

The Presbyterian General Assembly.

Hon. William Still of Philadelphia is a prominent member of and delegate in the Presbyterian General Assembly now sitting in Cincinnati. Mr. Still has been frequently referred to in this paper, and his fine parts as a Christian gentleman, scholar and author mentioned. He is wealthy and philanthropic. His reputation for broad views and equally broad deeds of charity stand first among the many names of well-known colored men in this country. The Assembly, like our own General Conference, knows no man by his color. It is giving the foremost place to merit. We notice some strong action is mooted respecting the Roman Catholic Church. Bishop of Walden was formally invited to a seat upon the platform in the Assembly as a mark of esteem no less to the Church than personally to him. This is an important gathering; it represents a large and powerful Church, capable of exerting no small influence for good. The session is a prosperous and harmonious one.

Sabbath Observance.

It might be within the limits of the possible for our colored clergy in New Orleans, in fact in all the large Southern cities, where a considerable and often an influential part of the population is colored, to accomplish a good deal favorable to a better observance of the Christian Sabbath, if they would only make a determined effort to do it. Such a movement originating with them would certainly not remain confined exclusively to them. The white clergy will promptly second every such effort and good is bound to come of it. What says our New Orleans Preachers' Meeting to an early and earnest consideration of this subject?

Personal.

—The post-office address of Rev. W. Hopewell is Cleveland, Ky.

—Rev. Charles Jones is meeting with a cordial reception by the people.

—Mrs. Rev. Henry Steen is a matchless housekeeper and a peerless cook.

—The Harrison revival is increasing in power in Louisville. There seems to be no distinctions on account of color.

—Rev. C. A. Jordan has been changed from Shellmound to Yazoo City, Miss., exchanging pulpits with Rev. A. S. Williams.

—President Barrios received a salary of $12,000 per annum, all of which it is said he donated to educational and other benevolent purposes, applying no part of it to his private uses.

—Rev. W. H Jackson, pastor on the Brenham circnit, of the Texas Conference has been very ill since April 17th and nnable to attend to his dnties, bnt is now recovering.

—Bishop Walden was expected to lay the corner stone of a new Methodist Episcopal church at Cleveland, Tenn., on the 6th of May past. We were invited bnt came np with our mail too late to make the invitation available. Rev. L. M. Moores, of the East Tennessee Conference, is pastor, and he bears the record of being an earnest and snccessful worker. What he undertakes is likely to go throngh, so a handsome new church for our good people at Cleveland is in prospect for the near future.

—By our exchanges we learn that Bishop Mallalieu and Sunday-school Agent Gillett are doing a noble work in the central Southwest holding institutes and rallying the Lord's forces. The Bishop has been formally received by the members of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Shreveport, and the affair has received very favorable comment from the local press. Only grand results are to be expected when such work is done. The Lord attend and bless them and the work.

—SUSPENDED.—By an ecclesiastical court convened in Jackson Street M. E. Church, Louisville, Ky., Lexington Conference, May 12, Rev. George W. Leach and Rev. Levi Mitchell, members of said Conference and Church, were suspended from all ministerial services and church privileges until the ensuing annual session of the conference. Bro. Leach is supposed to be now preaching either in St. Louis or somewhere in Missouri. The credentials were not surrendered in either case.

—Among the most encouraging occurrences of recent date is a congratulatory letter from Prof. Wilbur F. Steele. And also correspondence of a valuable nature, which will doubtless prove useful to many beyond the borders of the region for which he has intended to apply it. We met, and cannot soon forget the agreeable impression made upon us by this gentleman's level-headed, mild-mannered deportment at the last General Conference. We learn that he is concluding a session of earnest and successful work as President of Bennett Seminary; and we are glad of it.

General Irvin McDowell.

The death of this distinguished officer occurred in San Francisco May 5th. He was a native of Ohio, born at Franklinton, near Columbus, October 15, 1810. He was in the West Point class with Beauregard, Hardee and Granger. George Thomas, Sherman, Hooker, Canby, Ord, Sedgwick, Halleck, Bragg, Pemberton and Early were at th academy at the same time. Served with distinction in Mexico, and was aid to General Wool. Was Brevet Major on duty in the War Department when the war broke out; made Brigadier General at the time McClellan was made Major General; commanded the first advance into Virginia and occupation of Arlington Heights; commanded at first Bull Run, and was prominent at second Bull Run, in controversy with Fitz John Porter and in his trial.

Church Polity.

MR. EDITOR—Please answer the following question: In case a local preacher, who has charge of a circuit and has some candidates for baptism, and tries to get some ordained man to come and baptize them for him, and none of them come, and the candidates come according to the time appointed, and he not being ordained, what would be the result if he should go ahead and baptize them according to the law of the M. E. Church?

SUBSCRIBER.

Answer—When a local preacher has charge of a circuit he is under the oversight of the presiding elder, who must in all cases, either in person or by an ordained substitute, administer Discipline and the ordinances of the church for him.

Appointing a local preacher to a charge is not equal to ordaining him, and according to Methodist order and usage an unordained person ought not to administer baptism except under very different circumstances from those you mention.

1. It was improper for you to appoint any time for the baptism of candidates until your presiding elder had been consulted and agreed to it.

2. It was improper for you to invite any one else to baptize candidates without his authority.

3. If you should proceed to baptize people, being unordained and therefore unauthorized by the Church to do so, and should persist in doing so after advice to the contrary, you would be liable to a charge for imprudent conduct.

4. It would be impossible for an unordained preacher acting pastor to baptize any one according to the rules of the Methodist Episcopal Church, because the rules of this Church are against such procedure.

5. An unordained local preacher, acting pastor, can perform all the duties of pastor according to his ministerial office and order, not otherwise. As a deacon, though a pastor, could not consecrate the sacramental elements, so, also, would not an unordained preacher administer baptism, that being the office and function of a deacon, elder or bishop in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In a church as large as ours cases like you refer to might occur every day, and thus the exception become the rule. Don't do it.

[illegible] Members of the White Conference."

Dr. Taylor—Dear Bro: You [illegible] me if you will inform me [illegible] McCabe's whereabouts [illegible] Please find him for [illegible] if you can, and then let me know where he is. I guess you [illegible] the man that I speak of. He [illegible] "Singing Man" of the white [illegible] Please send me the [illegible] I have received three copies [illegible] do without it. F. W. [illegible] you know him. You will [illegible] McCabe at any time [illegible] 805 Broadway, New York. The best way to reach him effectively is to raise an increased collection for missions, and send it to him. Then he will sing. The paper will be sent.

Schools and Colleges.

Now in Progress.

THE NEW ORLEANS UNIVERSITY—CLOSING EXERCISES FOR 1885.

Baccalaureate Sermon, by acting President, A. F. Hoyt, Union Chapel, Sunday, May 31, at 7:30 p. m.

Commencement exercises, Sixth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, [illegible], June 2, at 8 p. m. Annual address, Rev. A. M. Green.

Oratorical contest, Wesley Chapel, Wednesday, June 3, at 7:30 p. m. Admission, 10 cents.

The prizes will be graded as follows: $20, $16 and $10, in books such as will prove useful to the recipients. It is expected that this will be a most pleasing feature of the exercises. Anything over expenses made by the small admittance fee the trustees have felt themselves compelled to charge will be applied in the publishing of catalogue and other incidental expenses in the ensuing term. The judges who will decide as to the merit of contestants for these prizes are Col. C. W. Boothby, Rev. Marcus Dale, J. B. Gaudet.

Reception by trustees and faculty, 1428 St. Charles avenue, on Thursday, June 4, at 7 p. m.

The public are cordially invited to attend these exercises, which are an informal gathering in which it is hoped to cultivate a close acquaintance with all our friends, patrons and the friends of education generally.

The Asbury Memorial.

Ezra Bostwick, Esq., of Union City, Michigan, in addition to his homestead farm, valued at $50,000, has donated the Asbury Centenary fund of Albion College, other property of equal value, making in all $100,000. The college comes into immediate possession of this second $50,000, but the income from it is to go to Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick during their lifetime.

He is also to give $50,000 to Olivet College upon the same terms. As a friend in Christian education this gives him a place in the history of Michigan at the head of the wealthy men of the state. How many men of wealth have died without leaving a dollar to any public institution, and how soon are they forgotten? Their names perish. But this man is rearing a monument of light which shall bless the world and make his name a benediction to the end of time. We trust that our wealthy men will consider this example and ask themselves is it not worthy of imitation.—Albion Recorder.

Ohio Wesleyan University.

The following will be the order of exercises for the Commencement week, commencing with Saturday, June 13th;

Examinations June 11-15.

Saturday, 8 P. M., Annual of Athenian Society, City Opera House.

Sunday, 11 A. M., Baccalaureate, by President Payne, City Opera House; 3 P. M., College Love Feast, Thomson Chapel; 7½ P. M., Missionary Address by Bishop Walden, City Opera House.

Monday, 2 P. M., Meeting of Board of Trustees; 3 P. M., Annual Exhibition of Conservatory of Music, Thomson Chapel; 8 P. M., Lecture by Rev. J. Francis Davies, City Opera House.

Tuesday, 4 P. M., Lecture before the Ohio Methodist Historical Society, by Rev. Benjamin St. James Fry, Thomson Chapel; 8 P. M., Grand Concert by European Musical Union of Ohio Wesleyan University, Thomson Chapel.

Wednesday, Class day exercises morning and afternoon; Annual meeting of Alumni Association and election of Alumni Trustee; Special Art Exhibition at Monnett Hall from 2 o'clock till 8 o'clock P. M., 9 P. M., Promenade Concert.

Thursday, 9 A. M., Commencement Exercises, City Opera House, 12½ P. M., Alumni Dinner, Thomson Chapel; 8 P. M., President's Levee, Monnett Hall.

By the kind remembrance of our young and scholarly friend, the pride of New Orleans, Prof. J. W. E. Bowen, we have before us the card and annual invitation to the commencement of Boston University, Wednesday, June 3d. How it would please us to accept it. Boston is one of the four great Methodist Episcopal institutions, so situated, so constituted, and so inclined as to do a great and good work of education for the young men of our race as well as of other races. The other three are Evanston, near Chicago; DePauw, at Greencastle, Indiana; and the Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, Ohio. Drs. Warren, Cumins, Martin and Payne, like the institutions over which they preside, are great and liberal. There are many good things which might and must yet be said of them. Each year they are greatly adding to the names of men in this country who shall make their high mark of distinction therein.

The fourth annual commencement of the Academic Department of the New Orleans, Louisiana, University begins at 12 m. Thursday, June 14th, in Grunewald Hall. Their beautiful card and polite invitation has been received. Quite a number of young people of our acquaintance have been attending this school the past term. The service rendered them seems to be faithful and enduring. We cannot speak of the teachers by personal acquaintance, but we learn that they are earnest, sincere and competent in their work. As to the building and surroundings it is a good start forward, one of which the city and State by whom it is chiefly maintained need not be in anywise ashamed. After all, the hope of the colored people here lies in the attainment of all privileges granted to other children of the State. Our heartiest good wishes shall attend this institution therefore.

The just published Year Book of Boston University gives the present number of students in all departments as 620. Last year it was 610, two years ago 555, three years ago 505. There has thus been a steady and healthy growth for four years. Of the present total no less than 223 have already received literary, scientific or professional degrees. One hundred and one bachelors of arts are candidates for the degrees of Doctor of Philosophy.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Africa; a Land of Mystery and Marvels.

UNEXPLORED REGIONS.

There is an immense region, comprising the greater part of interior Africa, two thousand miles in length and one thousand in breadth, nearly equal, therefore, to the whole of the United States, which has seldom or never been trodden by the foot of the white man. It spreads out beneath the tropics, and is supposed to be one of the most interesting and fertile regions on the face of the earth. It cannot be a sandy desert, though sometimes put down as such on the maps, because vast rivers come rolling down from it into the surrounding seas. It is the native land of the Negro, and he yet holds it exclusively as his own. From this region, sometimes called "High Africa," the streams of migration have probably radiated to the surrounding coasts, becoming more corrupt where they stagnate upon the plains or come in contact with the foreign settlements along the shores. It has long been a land of mystery, romance and wonder, and of strange and tantalizing rumors. The "blameless Ethiopians" of Homer, the favorites of the gods, and the wonderful Macrobians of Herodotus, are placed by Heeren on the outskirts of this region, where they would be most likely to be offshoots from its parent stock. Speaking of another race in the interior of Africa Dr. Livingstone says, "They are slender in form, having a light olive complexion, the great masses of hair lying upon their shoulders, together with their general features, reminded me of the ancient Egyptians.

CIVILIZATION IN CENTRAL AFRICA.

The account of the races that he met indicates that the inhabitants of Central Africa have a civilization little dreamed of by European anthropologists. And then, the whole country is exceedingly fertile, especially in those resources which repay commercial enterprise. Nowhere in the world does scenery exist more beautiful or soil more fertile, or climate more healthy to the temperate and strong than those vast and diversified highlands of Central Africa which inclose the glorious, sparkling seas of sweet water, and feed the mighty rivers whose course is so far winding that to this day no man has yet traversed them from mouth to fountain. The Niger, one of the noblest of rivers, skirts this unknown country for some hundreds of miles after sweeping away through the central portion of the land, already described. The English expedition, in their exploration of this river, say they have found that this whole tract of country is one of amazing fertility and beauty, abounding in gold, ivory, and all sorts of tropical vegetation. There are hundreds of woods, invaluable for dying and architectural purposes, not found in other portions of the world. Through it, for hundreds of miles, sweeps a river from three to six miles broad, with clean water and of unsurpassable depth, flowing on at the rate of two or three miles an hour, without rock, shoal or snag to intercept its navigation. Other rivers pour into this tributary waters of such volume as must have required hundreds of miles to be collected, yet they seem scarcely to enlarge it. Upon this river are scattered cities, some of which are estimated to contain a million of inhabitants; and the whole country teems with a dense population. Far in the interior, in the very heart of this continent, is a nation in an advanced state of civilization. But all this vast and sublime country, this scene of rich fertility and romantic beauty, has been for centuries thrust out from the rest of the world.

BAYARD TAYLOR'S DESCRIPTION OF THE NILE.

Bayard Taylor, in his interesting book of travels in Africa, gives a full account of the journey up the river Nile. He says about thirty miles south of Aba both banks of the river are cultivated, and thence for upwards of two hundred miles, the villages are crowded so close to each other all along the shores that they almost form two continuous towns fronting each other. This part of the White Nile is the most thickly populated region in Africa, and perhaps in the world, China alone excepted. The number of Shillooks is estimated at between two and three millions, or equal to the population of all Egypt. After fourteen days sailing the expedition passed the islands of the Shillooks and reached that part of the river where the banks are covered with continuous villages. The number of these is estimated at seven thousand. I am confident that when the hidden fountains shall at last be reached, and the problem of twenty centuries solved, the entire length of the Nile will be found to be not less than four thousand miles, and he will then take his rank with the Mississippi and the Amazon—a sublime trinity of streams. The further the vessels went into regions where intercourse with the Egyptian traders is rare, and therefore fewer outrages are perpetrated, the more friendly, confiding and unconcerned was the behavior of the natives. Since Columbus first looked upon San Salvador, the earth has but one emotion of triumph left in her bestowal, and that she reserves for him who shall first drink from the fountains of the White Nile under the snow-fields of Kilimandjaro.

AFRICA ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD.

None interested in the "lost arts," or conversant with the matchless grandeur of the past need be informed that the ancient Grrek and Babylonian historians ever reverted to Africa as the once garden of the world. The Sanscrit language, the pride of ancient India, the most perfect of written languages, was begotten and saw its palmiest days near the fountains of the Nile. Why, then, has the lion so long borne the curse of degradation? Why should the dark stain remain upon one of the fairest portions of God's universe? Why such a long night after such a glorious noonday? After the night cometh the morning. Ethiopia shall yet again stretch forth her hands to God. The baptism of fire is now upon her. After the clangor of war and warfare comes peace and prosperity.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LIBERIA.

A chaplain in the navy gives an impartial picture of the state of the colony of Liberia. He says it is a picture of thrift and industry, of well established schools where all of the children are educated, of churches filled with devout worshippers, of quiet, social order under the influence of a healthy public moral sentiment, of comfortable dwellings neatly furnished, and of pure Christian manners. A later traveler describes the appearance and debates of its legislative assembly, and if it did not exhibit so much intellectual power and dexterity as the American Congress, it exhibited a great deal more of decency and decorum.

WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

But mark, now, the bearing of these facts on the question of the native capacities of the Negro. We are never to forget that the Liberian is a lineal descendant of the Grecian slave, that is to say that he is the expansion and elevation of the lowest type of the Negro race. Look at the descendants of the same ancestry close by on the Guinea coast, or in the dominions of his majesty the king of Dahomey, sitting in his palace with its roof ornamented with jaw-bones and its floors paved with Negro skulls. This picture and then that! And recollect, when contemplating that scene of Christian worship, when on some Sabbath morning the music of the church bell rolls over the tropic gardens and coffee fields, and a population of many thousands wend quietly from their neat and happy homes to their places of prayer, that this dawn of civilization has but just broken on a long night of oppression and wrong; that this condition of social, civil and religious order has been evolved through cruel vassalage and disfranchisement from the most degraded stock of the colored races—and then, if you can, despair of the Negro or of man.

For the SOUTHWESTERN.

Through the Woods.

REV. C. W. CAMPBELL.

The Houston East and West Texas Railroad recently carried us through the ponds and brush that skirt the road for the first thirty miles into the forests of pine, magnolia, sweet-gum, holly and white oak that cover the next twenty-five miles to Shepherd, a prosperous little place said to be not far from the Trinity river. We were in search of the Huntsville District Conference. In company with Bro. Anderson Williams, we started across the intervening ten miles in a wagon, bound for Camilla Hill, the seat of the conference. At a distance of 150 yards from the railroad the dense woods closed around us, and for the first eight miles we saw no sign of human habitation. Ten years hence the writer can not say this. It is the best land we have seen in Texas. Pine trees were often seen that must be ninety feet to the branches. Gigantic white oaks invite the woodman's axe, and mammoth magnolia surprise the traveller by their number and magnificence. The wide bottom is partly covered by canebrake. Many of our people are renting poor land on terms that keep them always poor. Better secure a title to some of this part of the country, and by a little self-denial at first secure their lasting independence. Better act at once, as such land as this cannot long remain on the market.

Reaching the settlement at last, we found the church well attended and Bro. Lee and his fellow-workers earnestly engaged in the literary exercises of the conference. A good religious influence seemed to pervade the assembly, and our impressions were all favorable. The familiar faces of Bros. Culbreath, Gness, Neeley and others were very soon made apparent. After one of the best of suppers, supplied by Sister Green, we returned to church where a sermon from Bro. A. Logan was listened to by a large and attentive congregation. Bro. Winn, of Huntsville, took a collection, and in doing so suggested a few ideas worthy of more than a passing notice. He empasized the relation of the children to Methodism; made a special call to them first for collection. He said he had five children and he made it his "business to stuff them with Methodism." If more of our members felt it their duty to stuff their children in this way our future church would be more permanent and religious. After the sermon and collection we spoke of the needs and work of the Seminary. Our visit was short and we were not able to attend the session of the next day, but we feel sure that our trip will not prove in vain. There is a large congregation here and among their number many who ought and no doubt will prepare themselves for future usefulness by a higher education. The preachers of the district, too, are in sympathy with the work of the school and will let us hear from them at the annual conference.

In company with the presiding elder, Bro. Lee and Bro. J. Smith, of Willis, we were entertained by Bro. Joseph Green, and our short stay with him was both pleasant and profitable. He owns his farm, consisting of fifty-eight acres of the finest land in the country. While others complain that drouth has cut the cotton crop short, his cotton stands as high as the fence and still growing. A spring of the finest water is in a ravine near the house, beautifully shaded by holly and magnolia trees. Bro. Green opened his farm and paid rent on it for some time. As a reward for his industry the owner finally offered to sell it to him for ten dollars per acre, much less than the usual price for such land. He has a fine home now and need have no fears of future poverty.

A horseback ride next morning, in company with and through the kindness of Bro. Jenkins, brought us back to the railroad, upon which we were jolted home by an express train at the deliberate gait of fifteen miles per hour.

TONIC —AND— BITTER.

Prompt in Action.

UNEQUALED —IN— RESULTS.

LADIES TESTIMONY.

Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

"I suffered severely from Rheumatism in my limbs, and Neuralgia in the head, my kidneys were not performing their proper functions. I resorted to Hunt's (Kidney and Liver) Remedy and was completely cured." Mrs. L. G. Tanner, Providence, R. I.

"Prosperity gains friends, adversity tries them."

Another Lady.

Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, of Providence, R. I., says:—"I was confined to my bed. A friend urged me to try Hunt's (Kidney and Liver) Remedy. I had taken less than three bottles, when I was able to resume my household duties."

"Be devoted to one thing at a time."

The Weaker Sex.

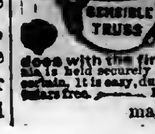
My kidneys became afflicted and weak; Hunt's (Kidney and Liver) Remedy gave me the desired benefit. I consider it a sure cure."—Mrs. Florence L. Wood, Bridgeport, Conn.

"True friendship is eager to give."

Mrs. Rockwell's Heart Disease.

"I have been severely afflicted with heart disease for a number of years; my trouble was caused by inaction of my kidneys. I cheerfully recommend Hunt's (Kidney and Liver) Remedy to all who may be afflicted as I have been."—Mrs. A. O. Rockwell, Pearl street, Providence, R. I.

"Without health all men are poor."



Minus 156 lbs. Water.

"I was tapped eight times. I had 156 pounds of water taken out of me. Was treated by seventeen different doctors, and Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy has cured me."—Mrs David North, Ecores, Wayne county, Mich., May 30, 1883.

$1.25 at Druggists.

Send for Illustrated Pamphlet to HUNT'S REMEDY CO., Providence R. I.

C. N. CRITTENTON, General Agent, New York.

THE ELASTIC TRUSS

Has a pad different from others, is cup shape, and Adjusting Ball fits itself to all positions of the body, while the ball in the passage holds the rupture just as a finger does with the finger. With light pressure it is held securely day and night, and a radical cure is certain. It is easy, durable and cheap. Sent by mail. Illustrated circulars free. ELASTIC TRUSS CO., [illegible]

may21-6t

THE CHILDREN'S OFFERING.

REV. GEO. LANSING TAYLOR, D. D.

To-day for CHRISTIAN LEARNING
The children's offering swells,
To aid young spirits yearning
To drink from Wisdom's wells;
For CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
We toil with heart and hand,
The hope of Church and nation,
The day-star of our land.

Spring up, O fount of knowledge!
A fountain sealed no more;
Throw wide, O school and college
Throw wide your every door!
The children's dimes and dollars
Shall storm your classic gates,
And help the Humblest scholars
Who throng where learning waits.

And Wisdom's sons and daughters,
Who heed her voice in youth,
Shall drink the living waters
Of pure eternal truth;
And science, song and story
Shall build Immanuel's realm,
And help to spread his glory,
And take the world for Gyd.

Domestic Hygiene.

Cholera—Prepare for It.

GEO. L. CURTISS, M. D.

The past few years have developed the great scientific fact that many of the epidemics once sweeping over the country with great devastation may now be wholly prevented or so robbed of their fury as to be comparatively harmless. At present we are threatened with cholera. It has for some two years been making its march slowly, steadily, but surely out of Asia into Europe, to halt only during the winter on the western shores of Europe. It may be looked for soon in this country. How shall it be met? Can it be robbed of its terribly desolating power? Can it be so prepared for as to cause it to assume a harmless and inoffensive character? Cholera should be met with intelligent means adapted to neutralize its deadly power. Past experience shows that it may be, in many instances, wholly prevented. While in all cases it may be rendered so mild as to cause but little harm. Its original character is terrible. Its modified character is changed materially. Intelligent medical science does not dread it. Cholera has its home, its nidus in which to breed, foster and fatten, and from which to start when ripened in its journey of destruction. Filth is the home of cholera. In filth the germs of pestilence grow. In accumulations of filth the germs of cholera, yellow and typhoid fever love to revel and hold high carnival before trampling out to corrupt and destroy the human race. Do away with filth that your destroy the favorable circumstances for cholera. The laws of hygienic science strictly observed will dislodge and so destroy the germs of the disease as to reduce the probabilities of a widespread and serious epidemic will be reduced to a minimum."

Many of the State Boards of Health, as well as the United States officers, are urging the war against cholera prevention. The Kentucky Board of Health says, March 16, 1885: "We believe that quarantine should be established at threatened points if it can be kept up, but we should not deceive ourselves and the people by the fact that there is not reliance to be placed on inspections to keep the disease out. If the disease passes our quarantines, as we earnestly hope it will not, our greatest reliance must rest in the precautions we have taken before-hand to put our cities, towns and every home in such a perfect sanitary condition as that the germs of the disease will fall on good soil. The defences against cholera are the same, in the main, that we recommend against other diseases—cleanliness in person, surroundings, and habits, food and life—and the observance of sanitary laws by all classes of society. Let these laws not be violated by our people." How much more successfully to combat the fear of cholera. The mind has strong influence by knowing that health officials are putting or have put any community in a good sanitary condition to prevent cholera, panics and susceptibility to cholera contamination are greatly impeded. Remove filth, and have faith in the efforts taken to bring about a good sanitary condition, and three-fourths of the battle is won.

The State Board of Health of Illinois has ordered every house in the State excepting in Chicago to be thoroughly inspected by an officer before the close of May, to determine the sanitary conditions and to prevent the incoming and spread of Cholera. Their order clearly states the conditions to be observed. "Defects in plumbing, drainage and sewerage, disclosed during the winter, should be repaired, and the effects of the occupancy of domitories, work shops, wards, cells and other apartments should be remedied by a thorough spring cleansing. To this end the officers in charge of almshouses, jails and all other public buildings under the control of the county board, should be notified to commence at once. Especial attention should be given to the location and condition of privies and water closets at these places, as also at court-houses and elsewhere. Vaults should be emptied before warm weather makes such work dangerous, and then be thoroughly disinfected with sulphate of iron (copperas). When these vaults are within fifty feet of any source of water supply—well, spring, pond, lake or running stream—their further use should be abandoned, and, after being emptied, they should be disinfected and filled up with clean, dry earth. The new vault should not be less than fifty feet from the nearest water supply; should be water-tight, ventilated by a four-inch shaft opening above the roof; the contents should be kept inoffensive by the use of some cheap disinfectant, and the buildings and its surroundings should be kept in the cleanest attainable condition. When practicable the substitution of the earth closet system for the subterranean vault storage is recommended. In either case the frequent removal of the contents, and their safe disposal, by use as fertilizers, are necessary sanitary measures.

"The source of the water supply and its storage and distribution should be carefully inquired into, and all possible causes of pollution should be removed. A pure water supply is of the first importance to health under all circumstances, but among numbers of persons living under the conditions which obtain in county institutions its importance is increased. Epidemics of diarrhœa and dysentery may be caused by impure water, while typhoid fever and Asiatic cholera are spread more commonly through the water supply than in any other way."

In these instances are mingled common sense and science. Sanitation is the carrying out of common sense rules. While it is well that all public institutions should be placed in a thorough and perfect sanitary condition, it is equally needful that all dwelling houses, barns, stables, factories and places where men congregate should be also carefully prepared to resist disease. Railroads may become great sanitary agents. The Pennsylvania Central has already commenced a sanitary survey of its roads, shops, stations, etc., and given instruction to the sanitary officers to use all diligence to clean up, destroy filth, and make matters generally wholesome. The Illinois Board of Health has called the attention of all railroads in the State to the need of railroad sanitation. Of the good accomplished at little expense it says: "1st. In a practical clearing up and abatement of possible nuisances upon your own premises; and, 2d, the furnishing an object-lesson in sanitary work to the various communities along the line of your road," great and lasting good will be accomplished.

The Sanitary Council of the Mississippi Valley state certain conditions which justify a suspicion of cholera," and require sanitary authorities to use the "same preventive treatment as if known to be cholera," viz:

1. Any case of disease resembling cholera and attended with rice-water evacuations, shall be reputed and treated either as cholera or as a suspicious case.

2. Any case respecting which reputable and experienced physicians may disagree as to whether the disease is true Asiatic cholera or not, shall be reported and treated as suspicious.

3. Any case rumored to be cholera, and respecting which efforts are made to conceal its existence, full history, and true nature, shall be reported and treated as suspicious.

4. Any notable and exceptionable increase in the number of cases of, and cases by such bowel disorders as cholera morbus and diarrhœa, shall be promptly reported."

Master and Slave.

A MEETING AFTER TWENTY YEARS OF FREEDOM FOR THE LATTER.

Mr. William H. Oliver, of North Carolina, called at the White House lately with a number of others simply to pay his respects. As he passed by Colonel Lamont's door he recognized Arthur Simmons, the colored messenger who had stood there for twenty years, and who is one of the most popular attaches of the Mansion, as one of his former slaves. The recognition between the ex slave and ex-Master was mutual, and they had a pleasant talk of old times. Arthur is very proud of his position, and he mentioned to Mr. Oliver that he was now the third man in official rank in the country, which was something for a North Carolina ex-slave to be proud of.

"First comes the President," said Arthur; "then comes Colonel Lamont and then Arthur Simmons." Arthur took special pains to have his former master presented to both the President and Colonel Lamont. As Mr. Oliver was going Arthur asked him if was after an office; that possibly he could help him, and that he would be glad to do so. Mr. Oliver replied that he did not want anything.

"If there is anything I can do for you," said Arthur, "order, and your command is law."

"I'll take that up," replied Mr. Oliver. "I want a bouquet from the White House conservatory to take down to North Carolina to the lady folks."

Inside of fifteen minutes he had the bouquet, with a card "To Mrs. Oliver, with the compliments of Arthur Simmons."

So it should be on both sides.

Littell's Living Age. The numbers of The Living Age for May 9th and 16th contain, Samuel Johnson and his Age, Quarterly; The Sun's Corona, Since 1880, by Mr. Goschen, and Gordon at Gravesend, Nineteenth Century; Shakespeare's Portraiture of Women, Contemporary; The German Abroad, 1853 and 1885, Archæological Frauds in Palestine, and An Appeal to Men of Leisure, National; Musings without Method, and Reminiscences of Sir Herbert Stewart, Blackwood; Irish Loyalty, and Talmudic Proverbs, Spectator; Ponds, Saturday Review; The Most Powerful Man in Persia, St. James Gazette; The Action of very Minute Particles on Light, and The Colors of Arctic Animals Nature; At an Eastern Dinner Party, Chambers'; with installments of "A House Divided Against Itself," and "Fortune's Wheel," and poetry. For 52 numbers of 64 large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low, while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

A Beautiful Woman.

A woman with pleasant smile, clear skin, bright eye generous expression, elastic step, hearty-hand shake and courteous welcome. Such a woman is not the victim of debility, languor, or dyspepsia. She has overcome these pests by using Brown's Iron Bitters, the world's great tonic. Miss Mattie Benson, South Parsonfield, Me., says, "After using Brown's Iron Bitters for weakness and lack of appetite and energy, I felt like another person.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS — THE BEST TONIC.

PHYSICIANS AND DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND IT.

This medicine, combining Iron with pure vegetable tonics, quickly and completely Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weakness, Impure Blood, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, and Neuralgia.

It is an unfailing remedy for Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver.

It is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives.

It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.

It enriches and purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, aids the assimilation of food, relieves Heartburn and Belching, and strengthens the muscles and nerves.

For Intermittent Fevers, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, &c., it has no equal.

☞ The genuine has above trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

HEADQUARTERS —FOR— Sunday-school Supplies

Consisting of

GOSPEL HYMNS, single and combined with and without music.

Bibles and Testaments, Teachers' Bibles, Bible Dictionaries.

Union Primers, First and Second Reading Books, Union Spelling Books, Catechisms, Reward Cards, Ticket Sheets and Cards, Tiny Text Books, etc., etc. Also a large assortment of Books suitable for Libraries or presents to children. PULPIT and FAMILY BIBLES from $2 65 to $12 00. Liberal discount made to Sunday-school workers. Call and examine the stock

W. D. SKILLMAN, Agent
94 Camp Street, 94
25tf NEW ORLEANS.

CORPULENCY Recipe and notes how to harmlessly, effectually and rapidly cure obesity without semi starvation dietary, etc. European Oct. 24th, says: "Its effect is not merely to reduce the amount of fat, but by effecting the cause of obesity to induce a radical cure of the disease. Mr. R. makes no charge whatever; any person, rich or poor, can obtain his work gratis, by sending 6 cts. to cover postage to F. C. RUSSELL, Esq., Woburn House, Store street, Bedford sq., London, Eng. may21-13t

A PRIZE Send six cents for postage, and receive free, a costly box of goods which will help you to more money right away than anything else in this world. All, of either sex, succeed from first hour. The broad road to fortune opens before the workers, absolutely sure. At once address, TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine. feb19-26t

CHRISTIAN EDUCATORS IN COUNCIL.

Ocean Grove, N. J., Aug. 9-12, 1883.
Sixty Addresses by American Educators.
Edited by REV. J. C. HARTZELL, D. D.
8vo. 272 pp. Price, stiff paper..$1.25
Cloth..... 1 75

The sixty addresses are arranged topically, as follows:

1. Education and Man's Improvement.
2. Illiteracy in the United States.
3. National Aid to Common Schools.
4. The Negro in America.
5. Illiteracy, Wealth, Pauperism, and Crime.
6. The American Indian Problem.
7. The American Mormon Problem.
8. Education in the South since the War.
9. Christ in American Education.
10. Tabulation of Illiteracy and Educational Facts from Census of 1880—ten tables.

It is a book for all who want information on any of these great practical questions. The addresses are carefully prepared and revised by the authors, and are filled with information and incidents. The authors are nearly all engaged in actual work in the fields of which they speak. The book should be in every public library. A full table of contents is supplemented by a carefully prepared index. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Phillips & Hunt.
32 Natchez St. New Orleans, La.

20 YEARS OF CONGRESS. JAMES G. BLAINE
1,000,000 Copies will soon be sold. The only history of our Government from 1861 to 1881. Hon. John S. Wise, M. C. from Virginia, says: "Whoever takes it up, no matter whether he be Mr. Blaine's friend or enemy, will never put it down until he has read the whole." $200 per month to good responsible agents. Apply at once. The Henry Bill Publishing Company, Norwich, Conn. dec20-52t

The WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Opens Tuesday, December 16, 1884

In the presence of the Presidents of the American Republics, viz: Arthur, of the United States; Diaz, of Mexico; Bardos, of Guatemala; Bogran, of Honduras.

The Colossal Exhibit of all Time!

Sixteen (16) Immense Exhibition Buildings:

One—the largest building ever erected, another—the largest Conservatory in the World.

90 Acres of Space Under Cover!

Low Transportation Rates from all Points.

Ample Accommodations at Reasonable Rates for all Visitors.

During the period of the Exposition, from Dec. 16, 1884, to June 1, 1885 the temperature at New Orleans averages 65 Fahr. The lawn and shrubbery remain green, flowers bloom, fruits ripen, and all kinds of vegetables grow and mature.

Full information promptly furnished. Address,

E. A. BURKE, Director General,
New Orleans, La.

RAILROADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio R. R.
—VIA—
WASHINGTON
—TO—
BALTIMORE, [illegible]
PHILADELPHIA,
and NEW YORK.
THE ONLY LINE WITH
Pullman Sleeping Cars
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington
—TO—
WASHINGTON
WITHOUT CHANGE.
Schedule in effect October 12, 1884.

EASTWARD.	No. 4 Daily.	No. 6 ex Sunday
Leave Cincinnati	8 10 p m	8 30 p m
Leave Louisville	7 15 p m	7 00 a m
Leave Lexington	10 40 p m	11 45 a m
Leave Winchester	11 15 p m	12 25 p m
Due Mt. Sterling	12 08 a m	1 36 p m
Due Ashland	3 26 a m	5 55 p m
Due Huntington	4 00 a m	6 40 p m
Leave Huntington
Due Charleston	6 36 a m	10 00 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 30 p m	6 40 a m
Due Staunton	3 57 p m	9 26 a m
Due Charlottesville	5 30 p m	11 05 a m
Due Richmond	9 15 p m	3 75 p m
Arrive Newport News	10 45 p m	6 30 p m
Due Washington	9 50 p m
Arrive New York	6 30 a m

WESTWARD.	No. 3. Daily.	No. 1. ex Sunday
Leave New York	10 00 a m	12 00 nt
Due Washington	5 10 p m	9 40 a m
Leave Newport News	3 50 p m
Leave Richmond	6 25 p m	9 35 a m
Due Charlottesville	10 06 p m	1 45 p m
Due Staunton	11 42 p m	4 57 p m
Due Clifton Forge	1 45 a m	6 40 p m
Due Charleston	9 00 a m	4 25 a m
Due Huntington
Leave Huntington	9 40 a m	6 20 a m
Due Ashland	10 19 a m	7 02 a m
Due Mt. Sterling	1 57 p m	11 05 a m
Leave Winchester	2 30 p m	11 45 a m
Arrive Lexington	3 30 p m	12 45 p m
Arrive Louisville	7 10 p m	5 20 p m
Arrive Cincinnati	6 05 p m	5 35 p m

Lexington Div. trains run by Central time. Main line trains East of Huntington run by Eastern time, which is one hour faster than Central time.

Nos. 1 and 6 run daily, except Sunday. Sleeping cars between Huntington and Clifton Forge.

Nos 3 and 4 run daily, and do not stop for local business. Pullman Sleeping cars and Solid Train between Louisville and Washington and Cincinnati and Richmond without change.

Nos. 2 and 5 runs daily between Richmond and Clifton Forge. Do not run between Clifton Forge and Richmond.

No. 1 leave Norfolk, except Sunday, 7 40 a m, Old Point 8 15 a m, Newport News 8 45 a m, arrive at Richmond at 11 35 a m.

No. 2 leave Richmond except Sunday, 8 20 a m, arrive Newport News 10 45 a m. Old Point 11 10 a m, Norfolk 11 45 a m

Old Dominion Steamers leave Norfolk on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday at 6 00 p m; arrive in New York next afternoon.

For Rates, Tickets, Baggage Checks apply to any office of C. & O. R'y; or Depot or Ticket Office of connecting lines.

C. W. SMITH, Gen'l Manager.
H. W. FULLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt

Ohio & Mississippi R. R
—The Direct and Fast Line to—
Cincinnati,
Louisville,
Washington,
Baltimore,
New York and the East,
In Connection with the
"Great Jackson Route,"
Makes the following
FAST TIME:

STATIONS.	Daily
Leave New Orleans, C. S. & L. & N. O.	5:30 p m
Jackson, Miss.	12:38 a m
Canton	1:30 a m
Durant	2:52 p m
Grenada	4:50 a m
Coffeeville	5:25 a m
Water Valley	6:00 a m
Oxford	6:43 a m
Holly Springs	7:54 a m
Grand Junction	9:15 a m
Jackson, Tenn., C., St. L & N. O.	11:05 a m
Milan " " "	12:20 p m
Martin " " "	1:32 p m
Fulton " " "	2:00 p m
Cairo, Central Illinois	4:30 p m
Carbondale "	6:58 p m
DuQuoin "	7:45 p m
Ashley "	8:28 p m
Centralia "	9:10 p m
Arrive at Odin at	9:26 p m
Leave Odin, Ohio & Mississippi.	9:39 p m
" Louisville, "	6:50 a m
" Cincinnati "	7:05 a m

SPECIAL INFORMATION.

Passengers living on the line of the C. St. L. & N. O. R. R. will please remember that a Through Sleeping Car is run from New Orleans to Cincinnati, via Odin and the O & M. Railway. Berths can be secured by applying to any of the Agents of the Great Jackson Route.

The reputation of the Ohio & Mississippi for being "ON TIME" is unequaled. If you are pushed for time this is the Line to take.

2 DAILY TRAINS FROM ODIN
To WASHINGTON in 27 Hours,
To BALTIMORE in 28 Hours.

This is 5 Hours quicker than the fastest time by any other line.

The Day Express runs entire train consisting of Day Coaches and Palace Sleeping Cars from St. Louis to Washington and Baltimore without change.

The Night Express has Sleepers through without change. No other line from St. Louis offers a Double Daily Through Train Service to the National Capital.

W. W. PEABODY,
President and General Manager.
W. B. SHATTUC,
General Passenger Agent.
Cincinnati, Ohio. jy31tf

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The old reliable route to all Eastern cities. Through without change to Mobile, Montgomery, Pensacola, Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Savannah, St. Louis, Jacksonville, Fla., Lynchburg and Washington, D. C., in Pullman cars. Entire trains through from New Orleans to Louisville.

	Leaves:	Arrives:
Express	8:00 a m	7:45 a m
Coast Accommodation	3:35 p m	9:10 a m
Fast Mail	8:20 p m	7:30 p m

Only one change of cars to Northern and Eastern cities. Ticket office corner St. Charles and Common streets, where sleeping car accommodations can be secured. O. P. ATMORE, General Passenger Agent.

W. B. Kniskern, Ticket Agent; J. T. Harahan, General Manager; John Kilkeny, Assistant General Passenger Agent, New Orleans; O. M Dunn, Superintendent N. O. and M. Division. a25-1y

RAILROADS.

C. I. St. L. & C. 4
KANKAKEE LINE.

4 PASSENGER TRAINS each way per day between Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

3 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago.

2 PASSENGER TRIANS each way per day, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Kankakee, Seneca and Davenport, Ia.

KANKAKEE LINE.

Entire trains run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Chicago. Pullman Sleepers and elegant Reclining Chair Cars on Night trains. Parlor Cars on Day Trains.

SHELDON ROUTE.

Commodious Reclining Chair Cars run through without change between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Peoria Ills. and Keokuk, Ia. Close connection for Burlington, Ia.

KANKAKEE & SENECA ROUTE.

The ONLY LINE running Elegant coaches through without change, between Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Lafayette and Davenport, Ia.

CONNECTIONS

At Cincinnati, in Central Union Depot, with all trains of the Cincinnati Southern Railway, (Queen & Crescent Route) thus avoiding the tedious omnibus transfer incident to ALL other lines.

At Indianapolis, in Union Depot, with all lines diverging.

Through Tickets and Baggage Checks to all Principal Points,

Can be obtained at any ticket office, C. I. St. L. & C. Ry., also via this line at all Conpon Ticket Offices throughout the country.

☞ See Agents of this Company for Rates, Routes, &c., or write Grant K. Lewry, Trav. Pass. Agt., Wilmore, Ky.
JOHN EGAN,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agent, Cincinnati, O.

BIG
Great Jackson Route.
Illinois Central R. R. Co.

Double Daily Passenger Trains.

LEAVE.	ARRIVE.
Express No. 2..9:15 a. m.	Express No. 1..7:00 a.m
Mail No. 4.....7:00 p. m.	Express No. 3..9:00 a.m
Express No. 6..5:30 p.m	Express No. 5..8:45 p.m

The standard gauge, steel rail route to all points North, East and West, with Pullman Sleepers through WITHOUT CHANGE to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and Cincinnati, and BUT ONE CHANGE TO NEW YORK and other Eastern cities.

Ticket Office Cor. Carondelet and Canal, (Pickwick Club Building.)

WM. MURRAY,
General Southern Passenger Agent.

J. W. COLEMAN, Ass't. Gen'l Pass. Agt. | MATT KENNEDY, Ticket Agent.

C & O

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company have moved their ticket management and business rooms to No: 225 Fourth avenue.

C. O. & S. W. R. R.
THE SOUTHERN TRUNK LINE
—TO—
Louisville, Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore,
And the Short Line to
Cairo, St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest.

The Direct Route to Eastern Seaboard Cities, Texas, Arkansas and the Southwest.

Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern R. R. For Owensboro, Henderson, Paducah and Memphis and all points South and Southwest. Ticket office, 225 Fourth avenue; Depot, corner of Fourteenth and Main streets.

	Express Daily	Accom. Daily ex Sun'y
Leave Louisville	7 50 a m	4 10 p m
Arrive at Cecelia	10 20 a m	6 45 p m
" Elizabethtown	10 10 a m	7 05 p m
" Grayson Springs	11 12 a m	.....
" Litchfield	11 28 a m	.....
" Central City	2 00 a m	.....
" Owensboro	5 05 a m	.....
" Nortonsville	3 27 p m	.....
" Hopkinsville	9 50 p m	.....
" Madisonville	4 37 p m	.....
" Henderson	6 10 p m	.....
" Evansville	8 10 p m	.....
" Tradewater	4 07 p m	.....
" Princeton	4 47 p m	.....
" Paducah	7 00 p m	.....
" Mayfield	8 27 p m	.....
" Fulton	9 29 p m	.....
" Cairo	10 45 p m	.....
" Rives	10 10 p m	.....
" Memphis	3 20 a m	.....
" Louisville	7 00 p m	9 35 a m

Tickets now on sale at depot at lowest rates. Call on or address R. H. TALLEY, Ticket Agent, Memphis, Tenn.
Or B. F. MITCHELL, Gen. Pass. Agt, Louisville, Ky.

ARE YOU GOING TO
KANSAS, MISSOURI, COLORADO, CALIFORNIA OR ANY OF THE WESTERN STATES?

If so you should avail yourself of the advantages that are now offered by the Kansas City Route, the only direct route from the South to the West and Northwest. This line runs its entire trains, with Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars and free Reclining Chair Cars, from Memphis to Kansas City, saving many hours time over any other route. If you are going West you will save money by purchasing your tickets via Memphis and the Kansas City Route. Send for large map of this Short Route; mailed free. Address,

J. E. LOCKWOOD,
Kansas City, Mo.

Or, H. D. ELLIS, Ticket Agent.
31 Madison street, Memphis, Tenn.

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Stamps. Send for samples. TAYLOR BROS., Cleveland, Ohio. ap130-12t

For the SOUTHWESTERN

The Presiding Elder as

REV. G. M. LANDON.

As the new year has come with pleasant weather, and we are now passed through the gloom and sorrow of the past year, we thank God and take courage. I have been reading through the SOUTHWESTERN of the great work done in your district and the Southern conferences. We have heard and read of the wonderful sermons delivered by the presiding elders, and the great good that has been accomplished. Mr. Editor, I am pleased to hear that you have a company of apostles that respect the power of the Church which they have promised to be subjected to. Some of our preachers try to undervalue the presiding elder all the time. There would be preachers that would stay three years, and the church would be like a leafless oak, and there would be God-fearing men that would hardly be able to stay one year. I think the fathers understood just what they were doing; and I would say, let them be laymen or ministers who feel that they cannot be governed by the Discipline, they would show a Christian-like spirit to withdraw, and not try to teach the people faults, because they have not had the chance to be lords of God's heritage; neither to get all the fleece and let the sheep die in starvation. Some one might want to know who is talking. Tell them a widow's son. Then brethren may say, 'what does he mean?' I will tell the selfish preacher who says I think I know more than the Bishop, and you know I know more than the presiding elder. They say he is like the fifth wheel, and is taking the money I ought to get. There is another class of lay members who are constantly finding fault; saying they cannot see the good of a presiding elder, and they do not want him. All such members had better leave the Church and form a church of their own; but do not take our hymnals and a part of our Discipline, and leave the name of Methodism behind.

